Addiction, mental health are biggest concerns in Clay

By Nick Blank Staff Writer

ORANGE PARK – Like most, Clay County faces the challenges of drug use, obesity, access to healthcare and mental health, according to the Department of Health and Health Planning Council of Northeast Florida's preliminary Community Health Assessment.

For behavioral health, officials found that Clay's percentage of overweight and obese adults was usually 3-4 percent higher than state averages.

Health Planning Council of Northeast Florida Director of Health Planning Emily Suter and Health Planner Kim Millrood, and DOH Chief Health Strategist Courtney Ellis presented the assessment findings.

For behavioral health, officials found that Clay's percentage of overweight and obese adults was usually 3-4 percent higher than state averages. Another statistic measured Clay County residents who have a 10-minute walk to two food sources, healthy and fast food. Though both were at least 15 percent lower than state averages, 12.6 percent of county residents could walk to a healthy food source, while 19.7 percent could walk to a fast food restaurant.

Attendance records make fair resounding success

By Don Coble Managing Editor

GREEN COVE SPRINGS – Two days after this year's Clay County Agriculture Fair was finished, Tasha Hyder already was working the phones looking for new acts for next year.

"We've got 360-something days until 2020, so we have to be ready," the fair general manager said.

Although the carnival rides, exhibition booths and concession stands were on the road to their next festival, Hyder still was brimming with excitement. The 10-day fair at the Clay County Fairgrounds enjoyed a record boost in attendance, including a single-day mark of 26,000 on the next-to-last night.

"That was the best fair in the history of our fair," she said. "Our attendance numbers were up 15 percent over last year, and we beat our overall record by a lot."

The previous busiest fair drew 115,000 patrons, Hyder said. This year's fair attracted more than 130,000 throughout the 10-day event.

"We did a lot of new marketing this year," she said. "We tripled the entertainment and the truck and tractor pull was really big."

What helped the count at the turnstiles was the decision to offer free admission from

Orange Park's ditch cleanup completed on time

By Wesley LeBlanc

ORANGE PARK - Orange Park's dredging process reached a major milestone last week as a portion of the town's ditch cleanup came to an end.

Orange Park Public Works Director Chuck Pavlos used the timeliness of a relatively small council agenda to explain the town's success in its dredging work that was completed by Gator Dredging, which spent weeks cleaning up the town's ditches. He also said the work of the town's partners allowed the town to complete mandated work just in time for a grant

"So then we got to April 12, our last day for the grant, so we had to get the work done in order to bill for it and get reimbursed, and it was April 4, the Thursday before, that I said, 'we're not going to be able to haul that stuff," Pavlos said. "We had three geobags...how were we going to get that stuff moved? We had our contractors working with us and we asked them to give us some pricing."

According to Pavlos, Jacksonvillebased J.B. Coxwell Contracting Inc., who was busy on the River Road project in town already, despite being given five days to move the geobags after taking the job, the company did it in just two days. The company also brought a chipper tool that allowed the town to rid itself of a large amount of vegetative debris.

Park Walmart at 899 Blanding Blvd.

"J.B. Coxwell: they showed up, they performed well, and they got the job done, and they really saved the day for finishing it all," Pavlos said.

Paylos then explained that while all of the contracting efforts were incredible in getting the dredging work done before their grant's deadline, it was the residents that made it all happen. Just a few weeks ago, Orange Park held a community cleanup day where they expected just a handful of people to come and clean up the bottles and pieces of trash the dredgers found within the town's ditches. Instead, over 50 people showed up and the town's ditches saw themselves significantly less full of trash as a result.

"Everybody was focused, and everybody was committed," Pavlos said. "Everyone formed a true partnership to get the job done and every contractor went above and beyond what they were contracted for. Our guys really stepped it up and I think it was a very successful project and we want to declare victory."

Despite $75,000 deficit, GCS's audit comes back with passing grade

By Nick Blank

Staff Writer

GREEN COVE SPRINGS – As the budget season approaches in a few months, Green Cove Springs' independent audit came back clean.

The only blip was a general fund deficit of $75,000 in the unassigned category. The audit was conducted by James Moore & Co.

Two reasons for the deficit is the combined $9 million spent on the new Police EOC building and the Spring Park project.

The other is the estimated $460,000 reimbursement from FEMA due to Hurricane Irma. City Finance Director Marlena Guthrie said FEMA usually reimburses 75 percent, and the state kicks in 12.5 percent. "That still leaves 12.5 percent that the city has to come up with that's not reimbursed by FEMA or the state," Guthrie said. "There's always going to be a gap between what you spent and what you get reimbursed for."

The city was reimbursed about $200,000 for Hurricane Matthew.

"I wish I could guarantee it would be here by the end of the year, but I've lost that battle before," James Moore & Co CPA James Halleran told city council members last month.

Guthrie said a general fund deficit of $75,000 could delay a project. City officials would develop a plan to erase the deficit over five years.

'You basically have to prioritize," Guthrie said. City Manager Steve Kennedy said the goal is limit the deficit's effect on the budget and eventually restore a positive balance. Receiving an audit without a finding doesn't happen all the time, he added.

"Marlena [Guthrie's] desire and mine would be to get that back to positive as soon as we can, just for the way it appears." Kennedy said.

"It's not good necessarily to have that deficit, but a mitigating part of that is if you can identify specifically what caused it, as opposed to spending and lacking control and management of the budgets.

Also noted in the audit was the city's net position increasing by $1.7 million, or 3 percent. Business-type revenues increased by $1.7 million.

The city is currently paying off about $14.9 million in debt service. About $5 million is for government-type activities such as the Spring Park Project and the Police EOC building. The other $9.9 million involves utility funds, leases on vehicles, the new wastewater treatment plant and other infrastructure-related services.

Food Truck Friday trucking along as a big success for GCS

By Nick Blank Staff Writer

GREEN COVE SPRINGS - Food Truck Friday event organizer Ed Gaw expressed his pleasure and shock at how fast the event has grown - 2,500 people at last week's edition and 10 food trucks.

For the May 10 event, when children are out of school and more live entertainment, Gaw expects 5,000. The live music acts include The Curt Towne Band, Doc Moccasin and Four Barrell.

"We are now two events deep into 2019," Gaw said. The two events have so far exceeded what we thought we had planned for, based on the end of 2018."

After each Food Truck Friday, Gaw brings talking points of how to improve the event. Last week, the number of Green Cove Springs Police Department increased its officer presence from five to six at Spring Park.

"Holy cow, the park is such an asset," Gaw said.

GCSPD Lt. E.J. Guzman said there were no incidents at the last event. He said the only issue was signage related to drinking and which areas they could drink.

"Next time, we'll keep that in mind, that the signs are placed in a clear and concise location to make sure no one is getting confused to where the drinking zone ends and begins," Guzman said.

Council members passed an updated ordinance 5-0 clarifying Food Truck Friday alcohol regulations, similar to the ordinance for the CalaVida Arts Festival.

Insurance companies should create bridges, not barriers nsurance companies are actively creating barriers to mental health, and the Florida State Insurance Commission is turning a blind eye.

The majority of licensed mental health workers are either in small group practices or individual private practices. In 2018, two of the largest insurance providers reduced their reimbursement rates by over 30 percent, while therapists' costs to stay in business continue to escalate.

Specifically, Tricare, the provider of insurance to our active duty and retired military families, recently awarded its contract to Humana. Since Jan. 1, 2018, Humana has taken several steps which limit access to care. They issued new contracts to providers which drastically reduced reimbursement. Many providers did not renew their contracts because of the cuts. Fewer providers means fewer choices for new patients. Patients seeing therapists who opted out of the contract are now forced to find one of the few remaining therapists who still accepts their insurance and is accepting new patients, or to self-pay for services when they have insurance coverage.

Florida Blue, which is locally managed by New Directions Behavioral Health, was the other large network that cut reimbursement rates in 2018. Currently, this managing entity is wait-listing new provider applications to be in network because "If there is need in your area in the future, we will contact you."

These are important oversights, since:

Woods' body is being held together by purpose and enough surgeon's thread to weave the white surrender flag. There were many reasons for him to quit: four knee surgeries, four more on his back. And, of course, his highly-public forms of medical and personal sabotage.

His hair is thinning; his legs, back and reputation have been battered and bruised. As fans, we cheered for each of his failed comebacks and prayed for another victory, believing it really wasn't possible to recover again, much less flourish

But few, if any, are Tiger Woods.

And we will always cheer him for that

DOT approves JTA funding for new bus service to Orange Park Mall

WASHINGTON, D.C. - The Department of Transportation has awarded the Jacksonville Transportation Authority $16.6 million in additional federal funding for the First Coast Flyer Bus Rapid Transit project, Congressman John Rutherford (FL-4) said.

The new funding will support expansion of the FCF's Southwest Corridor, known as the Purple Line. Rutherford, who is a member of the powerful House Appropriations Committee, sits on the subcommittee that funds DOT and has used that position to strongly advocate for this project in Washington.

Included in the Purple Line are routes that include neighborhoods around the Orange Park Mall.

"The City of Jacksonville and JTA continue to attract significant federal investments, especially when compared to other peer cities," Rutherford said. "As President [Donald] Trump and Secretary [Elaine] Chao continue to make infrastructure a national priority, I am committed to working with DOT and other agencies to keep Northeast Florida at the top of the list for federal investments. Our region's growth as the logistics hub of the Eastern Seaboard is only possible when federal, state, and local leaders work together on a common vision of improved highways, bridges, ports, and transit access. I thank Secretary Chao for her leadership in bringing another $16.6 million to Jacksonville."

"This grant announcement is significant for our region's transportation infrastructure," said JTA CEO Nathaniel P. Ford Sr. "It completes the funding needed for the fourth and last line of the First Coast Flyer Bus Rapid Transit system, which will provide premium public transportation between downtown Jacksonville at the new Jacksonville Regional Transportation Center and the commuter neighborhoods near Orange Park Mall. CLAY COUNTY – Most students will compete in a science fair during their formal education, but not many will do so on an international stage.

Ridgeview High junior Michael Chen, 16, and Fleming Island High sophomore Gavin Baker, 16, will see their science fair experiments matched up against the top competitors from 81 countries and territories at the 2019 International Science and Engineering Fair in Phoenix next month. GCS gets 'seat at the table' to regulate wireless rights of ways

By Nick Blank Staff Write

GREEN COVE SPRINGS - City officials are wary of state infringement of rights of ways and wireless communications.

Council members and staff questioned Orlando-based attorney Thomas Cloud on two bills in the Legislature seeking to curb municipal regulations. Council members later unanimously passed an ordinance updating their telecommunications language and addressing, "small wireless facilities."

Cloud has helped about 30 cities draft similar ordinances. Updating the city's definitions would give the city a "seat at the table" in the face of 15 years of changes to telecommunications law, Cloud said.

The problem lies with House Bill 693 and Senate Bill 1000, Cloud said, which attempt to strip local governments of their ability to regulate their own rights of ways.

Cloud referred to the telecommunications companies placing poles in rights of ways as a consequence and jokingly called the invasive poles "hurricane projectiles." City Attorney L.J Arnold said the proposed bill would gut the city's authority.

"Let's hope it doesn't pass," Arnold added

Cloud named five state bills since 2001 that chipped away at local government regulations regarding telecommunications. The bills are attempting to undo a 2017 bill, HB 687, which already limited local governments ability to limit "small wireless facilities" in public rights of ways used for wireless 5G service. When City Manager Steve Kennedy asked what facets of the 2017 law would go away if the new legislation were passed, Cloud replied, "Just about all of it."

"There's been a steady erosion of the ability of local governments to regulate their own rights of ways, which is perverse to me." Cloud said. "Nevertheless, it's occurring as we speak."

Cities like Jacksonville and Orlando have numerous abandoned poles from telecommunications companies. Resident Joe Sobotta was concerned with the prospect of abandoned poles. "If they're going to abandon equipment, it has to be removed," Council Member Van Royal said.

Cloud said the Florida League of Cities likely wouldn't back down if the deregulations, potentially filing a lawsuit. He said it was impossible to predict what the Legislature would do. He said compromises with the telecommunication companies for a new system for strategic placement of fewer poles.

"What [solution] that can't take place is the city doesn't take some kind of prophylactic measure now to put in some regulations," Cloud said. "When going into a fight you have to arm yourself."

Jane Patricia Gollmyer

Jane Patricia Gollmyer, 77, on Palm Sunday April 14, 2019 walked with God. She was born on May 2, 1941 in Hockessin, Delaware to August A. Antoine Sr. and his wife Isabella C. (O'Brien).

She was 1 of 12 children: 6 boys and 6 girls. She is preceded in death by all her brothers: Charles, Leon, Joe, Teddy, August Jr., Jimmy and her sisters: Marie, Isabelle and Ann. She leaves behind 2 loving sisters: Camille Clark and Terese Curran.

She married her longtime friend and love, Robert E. Gollmyer. They were married 38 years. Jane was a dedicated homemaker and mother, first and foremost a mother. She treasured her children and embraced every moment with them.

She is the loving and devoted mother to Veronica Szoke (John), Cecelia Haddock (Keith) and Monica Garcia (Robert). She is also survived by her husband's children: Allen Gollmyer (Aurora) and Teresa Dennis (Neil). She especially loved the roll of grandma and great grandmother. Her daughters gave her 6 loving grandchildren: David, Jennifer, Jessica, Brittany, Erica and Hunter. To add to her love: Valliere, Alan Jr., Christine, McKenzie and Dylan. She has 7 great grandchildren.

She enjoyed traveling across the United States and Canada with her camper and boat in tow. She went off the beaten path, a lover of nature. She loved to bass fish even joining the fishing tournaments. She told no fish tales-she simply got them all. She loved life and lived it well. We all needed her here, but God needed her more. She will be greatly missed and loved by all.

A visitation will be held 6-8 PM, Monday, April 22, 2019 at Hardage-Giddens Holly Hill Funeral Home, 3601 Old Jennings Rd, Middleburg, FL.

Funeral Mass will be held 11 AM, Tuesday, April 23, 2019 at St. Catherine's Catholic Church, 1649 Kingsley Avenue, Orange Park, FL. Interment will follow in Holly Hill Memorial Park. Concluding the service the reception will be held.

Students showcase talents at job fair

By Wesley LaBlanc Staff writer

FLEMING ISLAND – Local Clay County students got the chance to showcase their skills to potential employers at a reverse job fair held just for them.

Last week, Clay Today reported that a local reverse job fair was being held in the Fleming Island Public Library for county students who had undergone a year of specialized internship training. Well, on April 15, that reverse job fair happened and while the students aren't sure if they landed a job or not, many are hopeful.

"I've been interviewed and I hope to get a job in retail," Tamara Koren, a student at the reverse job fair said. "I feel like it's a good starting point for where I want to be."

Koren isn't quite sure exactly where she wants to be in the future, but she has a few defining characteristics she hopes that future holds. According to Koren, she wants a role in leadership where she can use American Sign Language to help others. She's currently in college focusing on ASL and she said she could see herself in a counseling or therapist position.

At a reverse job fair, the would-be employees are the ones who set up booths while would-be employers walk from person to person, attempting to learn more about who they are and how they might be a good fit at their company. Dorrinda Swiger of Guidewell, a family of companies with names like Florida Blue in their wheelhouse, said she loves the change of pace reverse job fairs provide.

"This to me is just optimal," Swiger said. "I can just walk around and not say the same speech over and over. Instead, I get an opportunity to personally meet the individuals to really see what they have and offer, and we're a huge advocate for the military and individuals with special abilities so this event is just perfect."

With companies like Florida Blue, it'd be easy to assume that Guidewell attended the reverse job fair with hopes to pick up an employee for a medical-field position, but Guidewell was actually on the look for a number of positions. According to Swiger, Guidewell was looking to fill positions in information technology, in their call center, clerk services, maintenance and even finance.

"We do a lot of things and most of our iobs aren't outsourced so we're always looking for more people to bring onto our campuses," Swiger said.

While Swiger hadn't yet interviewed Katrina Daly, it would seem that Daly would be a great fit for their company. That's because Daly has spent the last year of her life interning at Kindred Hospital in Green Cove Springs. Here, Daily has cleaned the facility, helped patients, helped gardening efforts to spruce up the building.

"I can kind of do it all," Daly said. "I really love cleaning and housekeeping, though, so I hope to get a job doing that

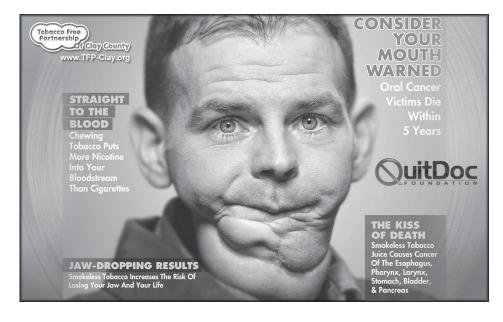

This reverse job fair was staged as a result of the work of the Clay County School District and CareerSource. According to Atheia Inman of CareerSource, this is the first reverse job fair they've held and while it started slow, it had picked up steam by the end of it, hopefully solidifying it as an

"I'm very very excited to have seen this finally happen," Inman said. "This is a great opportunity for everyone involved, I think, and I'm hoping to do this annually. It started slow, but we gained momentum. I'm excited to do this again one day."

Residents impressed with First Coast Expressway's landscaping plans

By Nick Blank

Staff Writer

OAKLEAF - The First Coast Expressway commute is getting greener.

State transportation officials showed residents plans for two $1.5 million landscaping projects for the toll road. The first runs from I-10 to the Clay County line, and the second goes from the county line to north of Blanding Boulevard.

Residents viewed large renderings of the project and examples of the vegetation such as trees, walls and the decorative bushes at a recent workshop at the Oakleaf Baptist Church. The landscaping is expected to begin in the fall. They hope to finish by mid-2020. The projects, which call for the planting of maple, magnolia, pine, cedar, oak and palm trees, are about to go to bid.

FDOT spokeswoman Sarah Pleasants called the work intensive. She said it was important people know what to expect.

"We're going to beautify the roadway and make it a pleasant place for people to drive if they live there or are just passing through the area," Pleasants said. "It's a big landscaping project when you consider most of our landscaping projects are at a single interchange.'

Gene Dickey lives in Oakleaf and was impressed by the presentation. He said he was concerned about the number of retention ponds.

"It looks like it is going to be beautiful," Dickey said.

Middleburg resident Gary Truitt said he was retired and living on a budget, so he wasn't happy the First Coast Expressway was so close to his home. He said the landscaping boosted his idea of the proj-

"The money is used for something positive," Truitt said. "I think the landscaping looks real nice. I didn't expect it. It's a good layout."

The estimated $1.9 billion First Coast Expressway is funded by Florida's Turnpike Enterprise through bonds, and fees collected from the tolls will maintain the

The stretch due for landscaping was the $160 million first phase, from I-10 to Blanding Boulevard. It fully opened this spring. The second phase from Blanding Boulevard to east of County Road 209 has an expected completion date of 2026 and will cost more than $400 million. The final stage involves rebuilding the Shands Bridge.

A major facet of the First Coast Expressway is the impending tolls, which have been delayed. Truitt and Dickey wondered when the tolls were going to open. The tolls flash, but are in "shadow mode," not recording licenses or SunPass stickers

"We'll let people know when it happens," Pleasants added. "It will not be a

Portable classroom burns down at Wilkinson Elementary

MIDDLEBURG – An early-morning fire last Friday destroyed a portable classroom at Wilkinson Elementary, Clay County Fire Rescue reported.

Someone called after smelling smoke and seeing flames behind the school, David Motes, deputy chief said. Crews arrived and found one portable classroom fully involved and three others being threatened. Crews aggressively started suppression operations and the fire was quickly extinguished. Surrounding portables were checked and sustained little damage.

Multiple units responded from Middleburg, Oak Leaf, Clay Hill, Lake Asbury and Kingsley Lake and the first unit arrived six minutes after the initial 911 call. No injuries were reported from the fire crews.

The fire is under the investigation of the Florida State Fire Marshalls Office.

Former Lee Field Naval Air Station Proposed Plan Public Meeting and Comment Period

The US Army Corps of Engineers invites you to review and comment on the Proposed Plan for two areas within the former Lee Field Naval Air Station (now Reynolds Industrial Park). The military used the 1,560-acre site in Clay County between 1940 and the 1960s. The Navy and Marines used it to train pilots during World War II. Later, the Navy used it to deactivate ships.

We recently completed a Remedial Investigation on two areas known as Landfill Areas 1 and 3, and the recommendations are summarized in the Proposed Plan. We will present the plan and explain the preferred alternative on Tuesday, April 23, 2019, at 6:30 pm at the Green Cove Springs Police Department Community Room located at 1001 Idlewild Avenue.

Copies of the Remedial Investigation Report and the Proposed Plan are available for review at the Green Cove Springs Library located at 403 Ferris Street (904.284.6315).

For more information or to comment on the Proposed Plan, please email FUDS.Florida@usace.army.mil or call 800.710.5184. Submit written comments to USACE, ATTN: Andrew Rebman (CESAJ-PM-M), 701 San Marco Blvd., Jacksonville, FL 32207. Mail postmarked by June 4, 2019, will be accepted. Comments received during the public comment period will be considered in the final decision-making process.

CERISE AND KIBA

I am Cerise, and my brother is Kiba. We are 7 years old and extremely bonded to each other. We easily fall in love with anyone who touches us or looks lovingly into our eyes. If you come and see us you will be able to hear our beautiful singing voices, because we love to sing for each other. We were well loved by our owners, who have had me since I was a puppy and Kiba since he was one year old. Due to unfortunate circumstances and with heavy hearts they sent us to SAFE to find a home where we would continue to be cherished. I am okay on my own, but Kiba is dependent upon me for love and nurturing and I just could not leave him behind! We would love to be in a permanent home, but are not opposed to being "foster kids" for a while so that YOU can find us a furrever home. We promise to love you and be the best pair or dogs you ever had.

students in grades 6-12, showed Clay County's youth's on par with state levels of drinking and drug use in the past 30 days. Cigarette use was higher for Clay County, 16.9 percent of youth reporting compared the state's average of 13.7 percent.

The 30-day youth drug use reported has decreased for all abuses since 2008, the report said.

Clay County has about 212,000 residents. For health outcomes, the cancer mortality rate per 100,000 residents was 175.8 for Clay County, though it has decreased since 2013. The state average was 151.9. Clay found itself marginally higher than state averages for heart disease, unintentional injury and suicides per 100,000 people.

About 88.1 percent of the county's residents had health insurance coverage according to the report. However, the county's health providers per 100,000 for licensed providers fell short of state averages for fields such as physicians, pediatricians and dentists.

In the County Health rankings released last month, Clay County ranked 16th in health outcomes, 13th for health factors, 20th in clinical care and sixth for social and economic factors, but middle of the pack for health behaviors. The county was ranked 16th overall.

Residents were asked their top-five health problems in Clay County. Addiction, mental health/suicides, obesity, child abuse/neglect and domestic violence received the highest vote totals. Participants voted for substance abuse services, mental health counseling and alternative therapy when asked, "What health care services are difficult to obtain in your community?"

From numerous interviews, surveys, focus groups and other data, Clay County DOH Administrator and Health Officer Heather Huffman said the purpose of the assessment was identifying significant health needs, prioritizing improvements and collaborating with community partners to remove barriers.

"If we don't do that [analysis] then we may do things that aren't needed in our community and missing the things that are needed," Huffman said.

Rep. Ted Yoho, (R-3) told the audience the country's needs to combat the opiate epidemic and address mental health. He asked the crowd who had been affected by opiates or other drug use in their family.

After mentioning the enormous burden on the health care system and to first responders, Yoho said the country must address the need to consume drugs on a societal level and curb the flow of drugs from America' largest heroin supplier, Mexico.

"We're dealing with it now," Yoho said. "It's robbing people of their future."

When audience members were asked similar questions about the pressing health issues in the county, the answers were similar. The report and survey results showed there was a long way to go, Suter said. Officials said the final report would be released near the end of the month.

"Sometimes when we think of health, we only think of what happens in a doctor's office or in a hospital. We must think of health with a wider scope," Suter said. "Not just when people are sick, but also ways to prevent illness and healthy lifestyles."

With surgery complete, Alstatt continues her fight against breast cancer

Clay Today

GREEN COVE SPRINGS – Clay County Sheriff deputy Cortney Alstatt underwent successful double-mastectomy surgery last week as she continued her fight against Stage 3 breast cancer.

Cortney went home a day after the surgery and was "healing and doing well, considering her circumstances," the sheriff's office reported.

The deputy now will start several rounds of radiation – or the next phase of her "adventure," as she calls it – to make sure there aren't any lingering problems.

So far, there have been more than 250,000 interactions on social media following her journey, CCSO said. Thousands have posted comments, including many of her former inmates where she worked in the jail.

Although the family hasn't asked for support, a GoFundMe account was es-

Rotary's Gourmet Night feeds the needs of Clay County charities

By Don Coble Managing Editor

ORANGE PARK - The 25th annual Gourmet Night extravaganza hosted by the Rotary Club of Orange Park will have at least 30 local restaurants offering samples of their best dishes. And while the club hopes to as many as 600 people go home will full stomachs next Tuesday night, the real purpose is to fill the coffers of several local charities.

"It's a great time to socialize, to eat some great good and to hear some great entertainment," said Rotary's Larry Klaybor. "And it's all for a good cause."

The popular event will be from 7 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. at The Club Continental on the shores of the St. Johns River.

Some of the restaurants that will be offering food include: Bonefish Grill, Whiteys Fish Camp, Santioni's, The Hilltop, Your Pie, Anthony's Catering and the Club Con-

The Chris Thomas Band will provide the entertainment, and there will be live and silent auctions.

"This has become the biggest social event in Clay County," said event chairwoman Pam Wolbert. "There are so many people who come to this on the third Tuesday of every April to talk with old friends they only see once a year."

Some of the items in the live auction include: a Lynyrd Skynyrd guitar, week stays on the beaches of Kiawah Island, S.C., and Destin, An African safari and a handcrafted replica of Prince's Signature Love Symbol guitar. Some of the offerings from the silent auction include: an autographed guitar from Molly Hatchet, a firepit for smores, a basket filled with Italian delicacies and wine and a pizza made entirely of money and lottery tickets.

Klaybor said the Rotary Club hopes to clear $30,000 to benefit local charities like: Mercy Support Services, The Salvation Army, Police Athletic League, National Association of Veterans & Family, Quigley House, Orange Park High NJROTC, Clay Humane Society, Boy Scouts of America, Food Pantry, BASCA, Orange Park Athletic Association and The Believe Foundation.

"We generally average about $30,000 every year, but we think it will be more this year," Klaybor said. "The best thing is it's a great time and you don't always realize how much you're helping. That's what makes it so much fun."

Tickets to Gourmet Night are $50, and they are available at the door or at Clay Today, 3513 U.S. 17 on Fleming Island.

The Rotary Club of Orange Park took over Gourmet Night eight years ago. The organization provides a unique opportunity to make a difference in the local and global community through inspired action and specific projects for doing good.

March rainfall below average in Clay, but 12-month totals still ahead of 2018

CLAY COUNTY – Data collected by the St. Johns River Water Management District shows that March rainfall was below average districtwide, with a zone of very low rainfall in Lake, Marion and portions of Volusia County.

March's low rainfall followed a period of prolonged wet conditions in many areas of the district, with surface water and groundwater conditions staying in the high or normal range for this time of year.

Abnormally dry conditions in Brevard and Indian River counties remain but are less extensive. Indian River County had the lowest 12-month rainfall total, with 46 inches of rain.

Clay County was down by 1.59 total inches from its monthly average of 3.15 inches of rain in March. For the past 12 months, Clay received 54.72 inches of rain.

Marion, Putnam and Alachua counties had the highest 12-month rainfall totals, each receiving between 61 and 63 inches of Tourism & Film Development Kimberley Morgan gave city leaders a tourism update. The tourism industry provides 3,000 jobs and brings in about $169 million a year to the county. From surveys, most visitors to Clay County were from Orlando, Tampa, Jacksonville, Gainesville and Atlanta.

Overall, rainfall totals from the previous 12 months remain more than four inches above average for the 18 counties that are included in the SJRWMD.

"We now know who that visitor is, and we can target our marketing efforts a lot more," Morgan said.

Morgan said the tourism department was looking forward for further promoting Clay County through a standalone tourism website, conducting a Google Audit to streamline county-related search results for businesses and finding an agency of record for advertising spots.

younger, which led to the single-day attendance mark.

While Hyder already has shifted her attention to next year's fair – which is from April 2-11 – she doesn't want to change the promotions that worked.

"Joe Diffie was a big success. Our new seating for the concerts was a big success. And the truck and tractor pulls, I imagine they will be back, too."

Other highlights included shows by the Marshall Tucker Band, Big and Rich, Shenandoah, Jordan Davis and Jimmie Allen, as well as the E-Zone for children, Redneck Romper Fashion Show and gourmet grilled cheese sandwiches at a new stand called Giddy Piggy.

"We're ready for 2020," Hyder said. "We already have new ideas to make it even better."

Teens, young people rally around Brock's long journey for WWP

By Don Coble Managing Editor

AUBURN, Neb. – Just as Ken Brock trooped into town, a man in his 20s stopped the U.S. Army Veteran to ask why he was pushing a cart with his service dog along the highway.

Brock told the man of his battle with post-traumatic stress disorder and the help he got from Wounded Warrior Project. He told him how he finally felt empowered to walk from Amvets Post 86 in Keystone Heights to Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, to raise awareness for the veteran's organization.

The young man, who currently serves in the U.S. National Guard, then did what so many other young people have done on Brock's grueling journey by giving him a hug.

"He told me to keep doing what I'm doing," Brock said.

So he marches on.

Brock put another 109 miles behind him last week, which leaves at 1,398 to go before his self-imposed deadline of July 4. Since leaving Keystone Heights on Feb. 1, Brock already has logged more than 1,252 miles of walking.

He's also made hundreds of friends

When Ken Brock left Keystone Heights on Feb. 1, he had no idea that many young people would be interested in his story. Students from West Platte High in Weston, Mo., invited him to talk about WWP. Afterwards, many briefly walked with him before returning to class.

As word of his 2,650-mile walk to Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, spreds, Keystone Heights' Ken Brock is stopped several times a day from people who are inspired by his commitment to bring attention to Wounded Warrior Program's work with post-traumatic stress disorder.

along the way.

When he got to Weston, Mo., on April 12, he was met by deputy sheriff Jeff Wilson, who escorted Brock to the town's high school. Waiting on the baseball field were school children and a television crew. Everyone wanted to hear his story.

After that, he rounded up his guide dog, Pam, and the students suddenly started walking with him. If for only a few hundred yards in a 2,650-mile journey, they wanted to be part of Brock's voyage.

"It was an honor to have the entire town rally around me," he said. "I told them how this 53-year-old came up with the crazy idea to walk."

Sheriff deputies and state patrolmen seem to be waiting for Brock at every state, county and city line. Apparently, they've created their own message hotline to make sure everyone's keeping an eye on Brock and he pushes along back roads and busy highways.

"When I got to the Nebraska state line, there was a deputy [Sgt. Jonathan Kirkendall of the Richardson County Sheriff's Office] waiting there to welcome me to the state," Brock said. "It's like that everywhere I go."

However, Brock said the admiration and interest of teen-aged children and young adults wasn't expected.

When he got to Sabetha, Neb., early Sunday, he stopped at the Country Mart for a few groceries. The five people working inside – four of them teens – refused to let him pay.

"There is no rhyme or reason for me to be where I'm at right now," Brock said. "I was so out of shape when I started this. Now I feel good, and I haven't even had a blister."

There are more hugs planned in the next three months. He has six grandchildren living in Coeur d'Alene.

"I picked a place where I knew there'd be plenty of hugs and kisses waiting more me," Brock said.

He just didn't expect so many along the way.

thank Congressman John Rutherford, Senator Marco Rubio, our entire congressional delegation, DOT, the Federal Transit Administration and the Florida Department of Transportation for their strong support on these community projects."

The FCF Purple Line will include 24 Transit Signal Priority devices, construction of 22 platforms at 13 stations, and 15 buses. With a distance of 12.9 miles, the FCF Purple Line will provide service from the JRTC to the Orange Park Mall.

On its way, it will have stops at Blanding Boulevard and at Florida State College at Jacksonville's Kent Campus. The FCF Purple Line is expected to launch service in December 2020.

Once the FCF network is fully built, the JTA will have completed and be operating the largest Bus Rapid Transit Corridor in the southeast. At an overall cost of $137.6 million, the JTA has received grants totaling $88.6 million from DOT.

Time finally right for The Hall Closet

ORANGE PARK – Joyce Hall always has wanted to open her own consignment shop. After being a district manager with Avon and visiting numerous shops throughout her district, she had many ideas she would like to put into place.

Even when writing down her business plan, time kept slipping away and just couldn't come into existence. Then, with the closing of a consignment shop in her area, it began to take shape. She finally decided now was the time to Open The Hall Closet at 1871 Wells Rd., Orange Park.

What makes her shop unique is the size, the friendliness, the quality and the variety of the merchandise

It's all about building community through connections and events held at the shop once a month. Starting with a painting class and next a tea party and future events. The customers and consignors want to be involved and enjoy the friendships being made.

Hall is involved in local organizations such as the Chamber of Commerce, Pink Ribbon Symposium, the Orange Park Women's Connection and her church.

Clay will get share of $16.2 million grant for St. Johns River

For Clay Today

CLAY COUNTY – Twenty-one projects in 10 counties will share in nearly $16.2 million for construction of water supply and water conservation, water quality improvement and flood protection projects. The St. Johns River Water Management District Governing Board on Tuesday approved the project ranking for the fiscal year 2019–2020 Annual Districtwide Cost-share Program.

"Cost-share programs are a great way to ensure worthy projects get done and taxpayers get the best return on their tax dollars," said St. Johns River Water Management District Executive Director Dr. Ann Shortelle. "These cost-share projects will help develop approximately 3 million gallons per day of alternative water supplies, reduce nutrient loading to our water-

District cost-share funding for water resource protection and restoration projects helps local governments make progress in preserving, restoring and enhancing the Floridan aguifer system, the St. Johns River, Indian River Lagoon and other waterways and Outstanding Florida

Highlights of the approved project list include:

Nineteen projects comply with the goals of Gov. Ron DeSantis's Executive Order 19-12 promoting environmental protection, including addressing algal blooms and nutrient reduction, investing in green infrastructure and developing alternative water supply sources.

Sixteen water quality protection projects are estimated to reduce nutrient loads by 20,700 pounds of total nitrogen per year and 14,280 pounds of total phosphorus per year. These include:

Wastewater treatment improvements and/or expansion in Volusia, Clay, Marion and St. Johns counties.

Septic-to-sewer conversion in the city of Longwood and Brevard and Indian River Muck removal in Cocoa Beach.

Three water supply projects are estimated to provide approximately 3 million gallons a day of alternative water supply and to conserve 0.012 MGD, including:

Clay County Utility Authority's reclaimed water storage and expanded distribution project, which will deliver reclaimed water to more than 2,000 new customers.

- JEA's low-income toilet exchange conservation program.
- Two flood protection projects in St. Augustine and Jacksonville are estimated to protect 56 acres.

The approved list includes seven springs restoration projects benefitting Outstanding Florida Springs, including Silver, Volusia Blue and Wekiwa-Rock Projects are located in Brevard, Clay, Duval, Indian River, Lake, Marion, Putnam, Seminole, St. Johns and Volusia counties.

Forty-eight applications totaling $31.6 million in requested district funding were ranked and scored based on core mission benefits, cost effectiveness, likelihood of successful and timely completion, and application quality and completeness. Extra points were awarded if an applicant provided evidence of an ordinance adopting the district's water conservation rule. Projects must begin during fiscal year 2019-2020 and be completed within two years.

The board also approved a list of 15 projects that provide water quantity and/or water quality improvements to Outstanding Florida Springs within the district, including Volusia Blue, Silver and Wekiwa-Rock springs. These springs protection projects will be sent to the Florida Department of Environmental Protection (FDEP) and the Florida Legislature for funding consideration.

Between 2014 and 2019, more than 160 district cost-share projects have reduced total nitrogen entering Florida's springs by more than 1 million pounds per year and have provided over 70 MGD of alternative water supplies. During this same time, cost-share programs have provided approximately $89 million in funding for springs restoration projects.

Visit the district online at www.sjrwmd.com/localgovernments/funding/ for more information about cost-share opportunities and the rankings.

Clay Humane reminds families to be careful with pets at Easter

Clay Today

ORANGE PARK - Clay Humane, a nonprofit veterinary clinic serving the county, is offering tips for pet owners to keep dogs and cats safe during Easter.

"While many people celebrate Easter with baskets of treats and special dinners, it is important to remember to keep our pets safe as we celebrate," said Dr. Christian Broadhurst, senior staff veterinarian at Clay Humane. "Taking a few simple precautions can help keep your beloved pets safe during Easter."

Dr. Broadhurst offers the following tips to protect pets:

Watch the treats: Chocolate and other candies containing xylitol, raisins or macadamia nuts are poisonous to pets. They can cause gastrointestinal upset, pancreatitis, seizures or even death. Give pets a treat designed for them.

Avoid Easter grass: The grass often used to line Easter baskets can become lodged in an animal's intestines, causing vomiting, diarrhea or other issues. If you suspect your dog or cat has ingested Easter grass, contact your veterinarian imme-

Avoid some human foods: Many of the ingredients we use to cook Easter dinner such as onions or garlic are poisonous for pets. Do not give your dogs or cats scraps from the dinner table to ensure they don't get sick. Even small scraps of food pets are not accustomed to eating can lead to stom-

Monitor drinks: Alcohol is also poisonous to pets. Make sure to keep beer, wine and other alcoholic drinks away from curious dogs and cats.

Research before adopting a rabbit: Many people adopt bunnies at Easter but tire of them after realizing they require a lot of care. Prior to bringing home a rabbit, understand bunnies need daily exercise, litter box cleaning each day and special diets. If you decide a rabbit matches your lifestyle, visit a local shelter to find your perfect match.

"Holidays are a great opportunity to spend quality time with your furry friends," Dr. Broadhurst said. "If your pet does ingest something poisonous or experiences vomiting, diarrhea or lethargy, contact your veterinarian immediately.'

Brother of former NASCAR star charged after deputies find red marks around girlfriend's neck

MIDDLEBURG - The brother of a former NASCAR star was arrested last week and charged with trying to strangle his girlfriend.

Lovd "Eldon" Yarbrough, 76, was booked in the Clay County Jail after deputies noticed red marks around the girlfriend's neck and slight swelling on her right cheek.

Loyd "Eldon" Yarbrough

girlfriend said Yarbrough smacked her "approximately three times and grabbed her by the throat with both hands." Deputies also said it appeared both had been drink-

Yarbrough is the younger brother of former NASCAR driver LeeRoy Yarbrough. The older brother won 14 times in an abbreviated career, including the 1969 sweep of the Daytona 500, World 600 and Southern Eldon Yarbrough made three NASCAR starts, with a career-best finish of fifth at Columbia, S.C., in 1969.

LeeRoy Yarbrough was found not guilty by reason of insanity for trying to strangle his mother in 1980. The family, including Eldon, didn't believe LeeRoy would hurt their mother.

LeeRov eventually was committed to Northeast Florida State Hospital in Macclenny. He died in 1984 after suffering a seizure and falling, the hospital said.

Eldon Yarbrough was being held on a $10,003 bond.

Putman man in Clay County jail for violating injunctions for domestic violence, stalking

GREEN COVE SPRINGS - A Putnam County man already in jail in Graceville was brought back to Clay County last week to face several charges, including stalking and repeatedly violating injunctions for domestic violence.

Danny Scott Mc-Guirt, 34, remained in the Clay County Jail Danny McGuirt with bonds totaling $187,511.

McGuirt originally was charged with aggravated stalking and violating an injunction for protection against domestic violence on May 18, 2018. He was charged up again on June 14, 2018, for violating another injunction for protection. And on Sept. 26, 2018, he was charged with another injunction for protection violation, as well as criminal mischief.

His next court appearance is on April 22.

Middleburg man arrested for domestic battery against his pregnant girlfriend

MIDDLEBURG – a local man was jailed last Sunday after Clay County Sheriff deputies said he got violent with his pregnant girlfriend.

Anthony Michael Madei, 25, was booked on charges of aggravated domestic battery on a pregnant woman. The woman is three months pregnant with the boyfriend's baby, she told deputies.

According to the arrest report, deputies noticed a cut on the girlfriend's lip and blood on her chin.

Keystone Heights woman arrested for grand theft, using fraudulent ID

KEYSTONE HEIGHTS – A woman was arrested with an outstanding warrant from Bradford County for using someone else's identity to commit grand theft.

Teresa Diane Lipsey, 53, was charged with the fraudulent use of personal identification information with the victim being at least 60 years old.

Filling shortage as simple as putting the 'U' in volunteer

By Matthew Olson

UF/IFAS 4-H Youth Development Agent

GREEN COVER SPRINGS – April is National Volunteer Month, a time to recognize those individuals who give their time, effort, and resources to help community organizations achieve their mission. Many organizations doing outstanding work in our communities are facing a shortage of volunteers. As a 4-H Youth Development professional who relies on volunteers, I'd like you to consider volunteering with an organization.

Now, you may have a couple questions when it comes to volunteering such as: "my time is valuable to me, why should I volunteer?" or "I want to volunteer, where do I start?" All are valid questions and I hope to give you some guidance and get you volunteering today.

It's important to remember there are benefits for everyone, including YOU! As a volunteer you'll gain confidence, self-esteem, new skills, knowledge and experience. Adding to that, you'll get to meet new people, make new friends, be valued as a part of the team, and most importantly get to know our community and the challenges we face together. You'll have the opportunity to make a difference and help others who may be less fortunate, or who find themselves without a voice in local issues.

The first decision you'll need to make is how much time can you spend volunteering? The great news about volunteering is that you can be as involved as you'd like to be. In our communities, there is a wide-ranging need for volunteers, from an hour a month, to a couple hours a week.

The second decision you'll need to make is what kind of an organization you'd like to volunteer with, think about a cause that you feel passionately about. This may be helping a child learn, aiding the elderly, helping at a blood drive, or even helping at the library. A great tool that you may not know about is the United Way of Northeast Florida 2-1-1 helpline which hosts a volunteer portal on their website with over 200 volunteer needs: uwnefl.galaxydigital.com.

Now I may be a little biased, but I hope you'll consider volunteering for the Clay County 4-H Youth Development Program. We work with young people across the county to help them gain confidence, build leadership skills, and help them find their passion in life. We have opportunities for you to volunteer short term, such as judging speeches and giving valuable feedback, or long term, such as serving as a mentor for youth.

The best part is, you get to share what you're interested in with youth. Have a knack for computer coding? We'd love to have you as a volunteer, and I know that there are youth who would be excited to learn from you. Whatever you're passionate about, we have youth who would love to learn.

If you have an interest in helping youth reach their fullest potential, please consider being a volunteer with 4-H. You don't need to be the expert, just willing to learn alongside a child. For more information about volunteering, STEM or 4-H you can contact Matthew Olson at (904) 284-6355 or m.olson@ufl.edu.

11 Clay students earn degrees from WGU

SALT LAKE CITY – Eleven students from Clay County recently earned their degrees from Western Governors University

The include: Michele Bear of Fleming Island (Bachelor of Science, Business - Healthcare Management); Alison Watson of Middleburg (Bachelor of Science, Nursing); Garrett Norman of Middleburg (Bachelor of Science, Nursing); Jeffery Adams of Middleburg (Master of Science, Cybersecurity and Information Assurance); Kyle Lane of Middleburg (Bachelor of Science, Business Management); Nophie Severns of Middleburg (Bachelor of Science, Nursing); Ali Fares of Orange Park (Bachelor of Science, Nursing); Melissa Jarman of Orange Park (MBA, Healthcare Management); Caitlyn Hayes of Orange Park (Master of Education, Learning and Technology); Keisha Anderson of Orange Park (Master of Science, Nursing - Leadership and Management); and, Vanessa Marbry of Orange Park (Bachelor of Science, Nursing).

WGU has recognized 12,920 undergraduate and 8,885 graduate degree recipients, who have completed their degrees since June 1, 2018. Their areas of study include business, K-12 education, information technology, and health professions, including nursing. The average time to graduation for those earning a bachelor's degree was 2 years, 5 months, while the average time to degree for graduate programs was 1 year, 7 months. The average age for those who graduated is 38 years old.

WGU pioneered competency-based education, which measures learning rather than time spent in class. Designed to meet the needs of working adults, competency-based education enables students to study and learn on their own schedules with individualized, one-to-one faculty support. They complete courses as soon as they demonstrate that they have mastered the subject matter, allowing them to move quickly through material they already know so they can allocate time for what they still need to learn. As a result, many WGU students are able to accelerate their studies, saving both time and — under WGU's flat-rate tuition model — money.

Camp Chowenwaw event to show oranges aren't the only edible plant in Florida

By Wesley LeBlanc Staff Writer

GREEN COVE SPRINGS – Everyone knows Florida for its oranges, but there are dozens of other edible plants, including the only native plant in America that has caffeine.

It's easy to forget Florida is home to plants that aren't orange trees. After all, the state's license plates prominently feature oranges.

Amy Morie, principal of a small landscape, architecture and educational firm who specializes in adorning parks and trails with educational signage, is holding an event on April 20 at Camp Chowenwaw to educate people on what else exactly there is to eat natively in Florida.

While nothing might be tastier than a Florida orange, she's excited to let people try some unfamiliar Florida resources.

"There's quite a bit in Florida that I think people will be surprised about," Morie said. "We have root crops, radish-like plants, wild onions, wild fruits other than oranges and quite a few grains. We'll be looking at those during our walking tour and some other plants, too."

Starting at 11 a.m., Morie and anyone that attends will embark on a trail to discover what's likely already growing in everyone's backyards. Because Camp Chowenwaw is a fresh-water area with plant regions known as Uplands, she expects to find great diversity in vegetation during these field activities.

After that, Morie will hold an indoor presentation where she'll talk more indepth about taking advantage of what's growing all around us.

"We all buy the same 10 or 20 produce items without realizing that there's so much in our yards already that we can incorporate into our favorite meals," she Morie has been doing that for as long as she can remember. That's because she grew up regularly embracing nature.

"I used to camp all the time and we'd forage for food," Morie said. "I also garden and I'm always looking for another source of food to grow."

Morie's indoor presentation will teach those who attend how they too can eat what they grow. All the while, they'll be sipping on holly tea. While you can get tea with caffeine in it at any grocery store or coffee shop, this tea will be made using Yaupon Holly, the only plant with caffeine in it native to America.

And it's native only to Florida.

On a first-come first-serve basis, people can get some wild mint clippings that they can then take home to grow themselves, too.

Beyond edible plants, Morie will also be discussing ways that Florida vegetation can be used beyond what most might think. For example, Spanish Moss once was used to be used as mattress stuffing. Morie is excited for people to learn about the history of other Florida plants.

Anyone interested in attending won't have to register. Simply show up to Camp Chowenwaw.

"Come have fun and come learn something," Morie said.

Thank you

temperatures more than 200 degrees. As a result, transpiration would occur which would allow the plants release their stored water. The still catches this water and it's this water that could then be drinkable.

"I read about the [Ugandan] water crisis and was trying to come up with ideas to solve it," Chen said last February. "In Uganda, they've been trying to fix this problem for a very long time but because the long-term solutions for things like this are related to government, problem solvers are often up against corruption. This [corruption] has been holding back development in these areas...and it leads to a cycle that they can't escape. I want this to be a solution that can empower the people of Uganda to give them the ability and access to water using the plants they already have"

Like Chen's project, Baker also aims to solve a real-world problem: the energy crisis.

"My project is a continuation of a past project," Baker said. "I came up with a way to control air flow in each individual room of a home to eliminate hot spots and cold spots which is essentially just an unbalanced system. What this [balance fix] does is cut down costs of having to operate an air conditioning system while being more energy efficient."

This May will be Baker's first international science fair, and Chen's second. He attended last year and he's taking everything he learned from that experience to excel even further in 2019. According to Chen, last year, he learned about what a project can do beyond the International Science Fair. Specifically, he learned that the data collected from his project can be sent to institutions like NASA or the UN.

"I plan to do that as well so that I can really show them that my project can have a positive impact on the world," Chen said. While this science fair can land Baker and Chen prize money and scholarships, it also lands them a great reference point on college applications and future resumes. Despite how focused their projects are, neither are quite sure of where their career lies just yet. Baker said he wants to do everything – he's especially fond of science and engineering – but music as well. Chen wants to be in a leadership position, with a focus on science or politics, or perhaps, a melding of the two.

Fleming Island High sophomore Gavin Baker is one of two Clay County students who will compete for prizes at the 2019 International Science and Engineering Fair in Phoenix. Baker's project controls air flows in rooms to eliminate hot and cold spots, which will reduce costs for air conditioners. Baker and Michael Chen will leave in May.

For now, though, Baker and Chen are focusing on the coming weeks as they prepare to head to Phoenix, where both expect to make new friends with fellow researchers around the world.

"I remember after last year, I kept telling myself, 'I really want to come back here,' because it's so much fun," Chen said. "I met so many amazing people. I made some friends from around the world that I'm literally still talking to right now...I remember talking to some really cool people and we made a pact to try our best and get back to international to hang out again."

While Chen has reunions with friends from around the world, Baker will be taking in as much of the experience as he can.

It's been a years-long dream to do so.

"Starting in sixth grade, I knew a dream of mine would be me being able to compete [internationally] one day and I'm just really glad that I can do that this year," Baker said.

Despite the fun and excitement of the international competition, it will be a nervous time for Science Fair Director and Secondary Science Curriculum Specialist for the Clay County School District, Chris Okamoto. That's because this is the final stage in the competition featuring the best of the best.

"International is the culmination of the whole yearly science fair cycle and it's the best of the best from each country and each state competing," Okamoto said. "Students have opportunities for full-ride scholarships to colleges, cash scholarships from various organizations and to place in their category."

While Okamoto is hopeful Baker and Chen won't come home empty-handed, he believes that even if they did, they'd be richer in experience as a result.

"This is such a great opportunity and with something like the international science fair, even if you don't come home with thousands of dollars in prize money or an award, you come back richer for the experience and better equipped to compete next year in return," Okamoto said.

Beyond the prize money, the scholarships and the awards, Chen sees the science fair as altruistic for students around the world

"I think that doing things like the International Science Fair, you get a lot of attention towards science and I think that's really important because one of the things I really care about is spreading an interest in science," he said. "I really feel like a lot of students don't believe they can make an impact in the world, but I feel like doing things...like science fair projects can make ideas come to reality. Spreading what we're doing is really important because it's inspiring to other kids."

Keystone Heights' Nadler finishes 22nd at Boston Marathon

By Randy Lefko Sports Editor

BOSTON – Keystone Heights High graduate (2004) and track standout Enoch Nadler, now a coach in Gainesville of the Florida Track Club elite racing team, showed off some 'street cred' to his disciples with a 22nd place finish in two hours, 17 minutes and 6 seconds finish at the Boston Marathon on a cold, damp morning in Boston on Monday.

"I remember growing up in Keystone Heights and we had an old beat up track and running wasn't a thing," said Nadler, PANAMA CITY BEACH – Orange Park High weightlifters Zykeim Sermons and Davis Araujo traveled to Panama City not for a Spring Break vacation, but for business and the duo took care of business bringing back two gold medals in the FHSAA Class 1A weightlifting championships held Saturday at Arnold High School.

With the two titles; one of five teams to get two individual titles in the 72 team field. Citrus High won with 34 points with Baker County second with 20. Orange Park finished third with 14 tied with Arnold and Sneads. Also from the area, Ridgeview earned two points and Keystone Heights earned one team point. Clay had zero points.

"I'm proud as heck of these two guys to set goals before the season, work hard and then achieve," said Orange Park weightlift coach Tom Macpherson. "In my 20 years of coaching, these two are my first state champions in the many sports I've coached. It's important to know that it happened at Orange Park High School."

Sermons and Araujo join an elite team of weightlift champions from Orange Park High School with Roger French winning in 1984, Carlos Jefferson winning in 2008, Andrew Ratica and Jacob Abdel both in

Knights' comeback short on Florida No. 1

Sports Editor

GAINESVILLE – Oakleaf High softball coach Christina Thompson loads up her schedule each year for that battle testing part of the Knights season.

On Saturday, in a three-team slugfest of sorts featuring 8A-No. 1 Lakewood Ranch (16-0, Lost 1-0 to Oakleaf in 2018 state semifinal), 8A-No. 3 Oakleaf (18-2, 2018 8A champs) and 7A-No. 6 Gainesville (15-6, 2016 7A champs), Oakleaf got to watch a 14 inning pitcher's duel between Lakewood Ranch and Gainesville that ended with a 2-0 win for Lakewood Ranch.

We try to keep the schedule as tough as possible throughout the entire season," said Thompson. "It's important to chase the best competition."

Note: Oakleaf's schedule gets no easier with 8A-No. 4 Bartow (18-2) visiting Oakleaf on Wed., April 17 in the championship game of the Kissimmee Klassic tournament held two weeks ago, but hampered by rain.

Taking on Lakewood Ranch, last year's state semifinal opponent, a 1-0 win for Oakleaf, Oakleaf opened with Jaeda Mc-Farland smashing a sharp single to left field that set a tone, but Mustang pitcher Claire Davidson got two flyouts that left McFarland at third.

Lakewood Ranch struck back with a run in the ensuing at-bat coming off a walk and an RBI-double off Oakleaf pitcher Cambria

In the third, Oakleaf would tie the game with Jazmine Lamug singling and Kaylee Lambrecht getting on with a fielder's choice grounder. Lamug would score off a Baylee Goddard chopper single with Lambrecht in on a chopped hit back to Davidson that elicited no throw.

Cambria locked down the Mustang counterattack until the fifth inning where Lakewood Ranch got four runs and chased Cambria for Mady Davis on the mound.

Davis gave up two runs on the entrance with passed balls and two walks.

In the seventh, with both sidelines sensing yet another Oakleaf flurry, Oakleaf got another single from Lamug to set the stage. McFarland hit a monstrous double to the centerfield fence to push one run with Lambrecht blasting a second double to centerfield that put the score at 5-4.

"Lakewood Ranch is an exceptional team, and I'm sure that there are many teams that would guit once they fall to a three run deficit to the No. 2 team in the nation... but not us," said Thompson. "Quit is not in our vocabulary.'

Oakleaf High baserunner Baylee Goddard is a cloud of dust with safe steal of second base in Lady Knights 5-4 loss to 8A-Lakewood Ranch, the top ranked team in Florida.

Rain hampered play in the late innings of the Oakleaf versus Lakewood Ranch showdown, but play continued as the Lady Knights orchestrated a seventh inning comeback that fell a run short against the top-ranked Mustangs.

Oakleaf High baserunner Jazmine Lamug heads to home plate for a Knights run. Lamug had key hits against the vaunted Lakewood Ranch defense to set up a seventh inning surge in the 5-4 loss Saturday at Gainesville High. Oakleaf beats 7A-Gainesville 12-1 in the second game.

Goddard hit a flyball to give Jaycie Brookshire the final shot at giving the Mustangs their first loss of the season. Brookshire would tag four fouls ball deep downfield to show off her power at the plate, but the effort ended with a swinging

"Jaycie has been incredible for us all season, and proud of the at bat she gave;

that's tough to be the kid at the plate with two outs," said Thompson. "But she's a warrior, and happy with the way she produced Saturday.

In the ensuing game against Gainesville, Oakleaf crushed the host Hurricanes 12-1 with a six run fourth inning behind a 15 hit, 12 RBI batting day. Davis whiffed eight batters in just four innings.

Panthers blitz Ponte Vedra, await Clay showdown II

Casey keeping Roger aura alive

By Randy LefkoSports Editor

ORANGE PARK — Ridgeview High softball coach Casey Thompson had the unenviable task of replacing a coach that got a championship attitude along with a district title and playoff spot into the Lady Panthers dugout.

"Roger Harvey (former Ridgeview coach who passed away unexpectedly last year) is a big reason why I even made the transition from baseball to softball," said Thompson. "I grew up around him and know just how much of an impact he made on this community. The girls and I miss him dearly."

Earlier in the season, a district win over Clay after a 2-1 loss to Orange Park put the Tues., April 16 game against Clay as a deciding game in district 4-6A.

In 2018, Ridgeview, under Harvey, upset Clay for the district 4-6A title with Clay reversing the outcome with a win in the region semifinal en route to a Final Four finish.

"Roger built an amazing program and through their hard work and dedication, they have engaged in the competitive nature of the sports," said Thompson. "In regard to putting my own "twist" on the coaches style this year, I would say that is accurate. I am envious of how Roger guided these girls with love and rightfully earned all of their respect/loyalty. I've implicated three plus hours of practice times and even had mandatory "optional" days in hopes of working out a few things. Whereas Roger, being the lovable man he was, could simply smile.... crack a joke about a parrot (inside joke) and have the girls fired up for the next big game.

Thompson, with an 11-hit blast, got a boost with a 6-0 win over Ponte Vedra on Fri., April 11 that avenged an earlier 9-3 blowout loss to the Sharks.

"Like any other team, we have had our ups and downs but they have persevered to keep their/his drive alive," said Thompson. "I cannot say that there is a single player that has made the team transition from Roger to me easier because they have simply all done it as a family."

The Ponte Vedra win set up the Clay showdown as for the district top seed with Clay having just the lone loss in district play to Ridgeview.

Clay High responded to the Ridgeview loss on April 3, a 5-2 game, with 15-0 and 17-0 blowouts of district foes Orange Park and Menendez and a 5-1 Saturday win over Episcopal to set up the April 16 Ridgeview clash. Clay pitcher Morgan Crutcher pounded out six strikeouts against Episcopal.

Against Ponte Vedra, Ridgeview got went 0-0 for three innings with Brittany Michael throwing heat against the Sharks batters with 13 strikeouts on the night.

In the fourth, Ridgeview struck for two runs with Brooke Michael and Alyssa Adams getting singles and a run with Brittany Michael pushing Ashlyn Halford across for the second run.

Two more strikeouts kept the Sharks at bay with an error leaving one baserunner at third

In the bottom of the fifth, Ridgeview got a single to open from Natalie Frost before a double from Brooke Michael scored the game 3-0.

Ponte Vedra again got to third base with an error, but Michael locked down and got two strikeouts to squash the threat.

In the sixth, Ridgeview stayed with singles and smart baserunning to add the final three runs with Reghan Boyd and Hannah Foster moving baserunners with a single and a fielder's choice bunt.

team in district 2-4A with Trinity Christian, the Blue Devils scored first off a walk to Ali Sarman and a sharp double down the third base line from Morgan Silvis in the first inning.

A diving snag by Clay second baseman Ali Sarman kept an Episcopal single from scoring in the second inning.

In the third, Clay got their second run off a walk to Madison Alexander and a single from Dakota Worley to go up 2-0.

A single and two stolen bases scored a run for Episcopal in the fifth, but the Blue Devils responded to coach Matt Lewis' "dugout chat" with three runs off singles from Sarman, Silvis and Crutcher to go up 5-1.

The pitcher-catcher combination of sisters Brooke, left, and Brittany Michael has been strong defensive front for Panther defense. Also with pair is Rayen Little, No. 8.

Ridgeview High senior Joel Nesi had a banner final district track championship afternoon with a second place anchor in the 4×800 , a best-run for third in the 1600 and a just-miss fifth in the 3200 in the Bolles-strong district 4-2A track championships.

Area distance runners highlight track districts

Rodgers rocks, Guy grabs two titles, Chiang wins two bigs

By Randy LefkoSports Editor

JACKSONVILLE – With the track district-to-region-to-state runs now upon us, area distance runners are making their mark on district championships meets with the 1600s and 3200s being populated with area high schoolers looking to storm region meets in two weeks and, ultimately, the state championships at University of North Florida on May 3-4.

Region meets are set for Sat., April 27; region 1-4A at Showalter Field in Winter Park; region 1-3A at Washington High in Pensacola; region 1-2A and region 1-1A both at Bishop Snyder.

One of the top performances of the week came from Ridgeview High senior Joel Nesi who smacked down in the ever-tough district 4-2A championships at Bolles with a four minutes, 22.44 personal best in the 1600 to take third against Bolles seniors Charles Hicks and Chase Rivera, who clocked in at 4:20.78 and 4:22.38, respectively.

For the girls, Fleming Island High freshman Mei Chiang continued her domination of the both the 1600 and 3200 with district 1-4A titles in both with her teammates; Lauren Schaudel and Emma Millson making waves to join the top four party to state

At last year's district 1600, Nesi ran a fifth place fairly pedestrian 4:45.63 with Hicks second at 4:23.56 and Rivera fourth at 4:23.88. Bishop Kenny's Nathan Jubran, now a freshman at UNF, won in 4:18.69. Hicks would go fourth at state in 4:18.53 with Rivera fifth in 4:19.54.

On Friday, Nesi returned to the track two hours later and continued his ascent into a possible state meet berth in a third event; Nesi also anchored the second place 4 x 800 relay, with a fifth place 9:45.59 that was just one spot off the top four spots that advance to regions. Hicks won in 9:34.34

Other highlights of district 4-2A was a shot put title to Grier Burrows for Ridgeview with coach Al Nesi also getting a second place finish in the 110 hurdles from Joaquin Castro, a third place in high jump from Jaden Roy and a second place team finishes from both the girls and boys teams. Also in district 4-2A, Clay got a second from Austin Anderson in triple jump and thirds from Alyssa Huggins in shot put and discus.

At the district 4-1A championships held at Bishop Snyder, St. Johns Country Day School's dynamic duo of freshman Matthew Stratton and senior Benjamin Kailes stayed tethered with Stratton taking third in the 1600 in 4:36.94 and Kailes fourth in 4:39.61 to both move to regions. Later, in the 3200, the duo kept their table for two reservations with a second by Stratton in 9:47.51 with Kailes in third at 10:27.61. Stratton and Providence freshman Steven Cartwright, who won the 1600 in 4:34.95, broke from the pack early in the 3200 with both very familiar with each through cross country season and early track meets. Cartwright won the 3200 in 9:47.28 holding off a surging Stratton with a 9:47.51

Other highlights for St. Johns included a first in the 300 hurdles from Courtney Sage, a 1-2 finish in the 400 from Jett Isley and Corey McDaniels with McDaniels third in the 200 and Kendall Sage's third in the 100.

Also for St. Johns, Seventh grader Sofia Conde battled with the likes of stateranked veterans Laci Watford of University Christian, Gianna Forte of Bishop Snyder and Providence senior Audrey Woods, all returning state meet athletes to finished fifth in 5:49.49 in the 1600. Watford, fifth in the 1600 and 10th in the 800 last year, won in 5:15.3. The same four took the top four spots in the 3200 with Watford winning in 11:44.99.

St. Johns Country Day School distance duo of Matthew Stratton, left, and Benjamin Kailes, right, both advanced to regions in the 1600 and 3200 with top four finishes in both events at the district 4-1A track championships at Bishop Snyder High School.

At district 5-2A, with Keystone Heights High senior Alex Guy, a recent school record breaker in the 1600 with a recent 4:23 clocking at the Pepsi Relays, dropped to the 800 to blast the field with a 2:02.11 split to win by four seconds. Guy doubled down with a jog-like 4:42.70 split to win the 1600 before watching teammate Tyler Shaw, a freshman, take fourth in the 10:56.88. Guy also anchored the third place 4 x 400 relay to a 3:44.37 split with Jerry and Jay Payne and Tyler Cumbus.

In district 5-2A, Keystone Heights High sophomore Camryn Williams dominated her 1600 with a 5:38.47 winning time by 22 seconds. The Lady Indians also got a fourth in the 800 from sophomore Shelby Phillips in 2:51.77.

In district 1-4A, at Flagler Palm Coast High, with the Fleming Island High distance coach Karen Moritz having the uneviably task of choosing from a stable of at least 8-10 possible athletes for the distance events; led by senior Will Livesay and sophomore Kameron Wallizada, it was junior Landon Opp who emerged with a scintillating 4:35.89 second place finish in the 1600 to Buchholz senior Cade Monk, seventhin 4A last year in 4:23.19, that caught the wide-eyed Moritz on the sideline.

Monk had already won the 3200 in 9:55.74, but three area athletes; Oakleaf High junior Dylan Nelson, Livesay and Wallizada finished out the top four with Nelson surging to take second in 9:59.198. Livesay and Wallizada have both been under 10 minutes and will be needing that at the region meet.

2014 and Ratica again in 2015.

"I think Orange Park is the only school in the county to have two state champions the same year twice in the last five years," said Macpherson. "That says a lot about the program."

Clay won titles in 1983 with Bob Sweat and Kenneth White.

Sermons and Araujo went in as hardfought region 3-1A champions and also district champions, but would be faced with challenges from around the state as well as familiar region faces to get the final title.

Both responded.

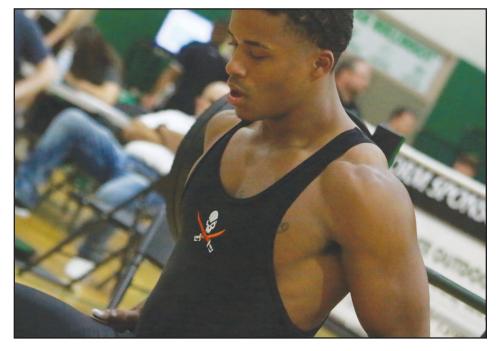

"It's a great feeling to get through the districts and regions with strong lifts and then execute at state," said Araujo, who was fifth in 2018. "It was a lot tenser being in the position of having to measure each lift to counter what the other guys are doing. We knew the Baker County kid was going to be right with me."

Araujo, who ovewhelmingly won his two pre-state titles; with a 675 total at regions behind a 30 pound win over his closest challenger; Baker County's Brandon Combs, knew that the state meet would bring the best of his competition despite the state list.

"I can only advise them based on numbers from districts, regions and season records," said Macpherson. "But, we saw the Baker County kid at districts and regions and knew about where he was capable."

Araujo would again battle with Combs for the state title and the deficit would be just five pounds as Araujo bench pressed at 345 to Combs' 340. Both would tap out at 325 on the clean and jerk.

"My clean and jerk was a little more than his at region and I knew I had that as my ace in the hole," said Araujo. "With a small advantage on the bench press, I just had to watch and wait. Coach Mac wanted me to go to 340."

Orange Park High senior Zykeim Sermons had his best bench press lift at the Class 1A championships then delivered a title-winning clean and jerk to team up with Raider teammate David Araujo to bring home two gold medals from Saturday's state championships.

At regions, Araujo finished with a 335 clean and jerk to beat Combs.

"We knew we had more in the tank for the clean and jerk if needed," said Macpherson.

Sermons, seeded with the second best lift total in the state after regions, was five pounds off the top seed total of 605.

"Our strategy, because he had been sick all week prior to the state meet, was to get on the podium (top six) early, then compete," said Macpherson. "He needed to go big on the bench and let the other guys try to catch him."

For Sermons, the difference came with a 325 bench press that bested his region total of 310 after a failed final lift attempt at 320. Two other lifters; James Eddings of Jay High and Tim Maxwell of Eastside also lifted 325 with Mason Manning, a region 3-1A foe from Fort White, besting the field at 335 to challenge the field. The state qualifying field had 11 lifters in the 300-plus pound bench press range.

"Our strategy was to go big and make the other guys think about their lifts," said Sermons. "The clean and jerk would decide the title."

Sermons and Macpherson strategized on the best move to grab the title after Sermons cleared 265 on his first lift.

"I had my gut instint to try 300 for a personal best, but coach Mac wanted to get a clean lift to be safe," said Sermons, who was good at 265, then faulted at 275 before clearing 285. "I'm glad I listened to him." In the clean and jerk, where Sermons' 290 at region was just third best in the state field, the challenge would be to lift enough to make his strong bench press hold. Sermons' 285 held court despite two lifters over 300 pounds and three equalling his 285. Manning's strong bench was nullified as he was only able to lift 245 in the clean and jerk with a final miss at 265.

Sermons had been injured last year after finishing third at the district meet.

Also in the 183 weight class, Ridgeview High's Wesley Moore finished fourth with a 570 total; 300 on bench, 270 on clean and jerk.

At 119, Keystone Heights had Zach Glover with no lifts.

At 129, Keystone Heights had Holden Cummings-Knapp finish last with a 330 total: winner at 470

At 139, Ridgeview's Ralando Grey took seventh at 440 with Keystone Heights' Ulysses Freed 12th at 425 and Jesse Donohue finishing 17th with no clean and jerk total. Winning total was 560.

At 154; won by Baker County's Marcus Dialo at 595, Keystone Heights' Colton Tibbets finished 12th at 470 and Ridgeview's Jaiden Turner finished 15th at 460.

At 169, won by Baker County's John Green at 610, Keystone Heights' Mike Kirtley finished eighth at 530 with Clay's Wilguens Dorvilus not starting despite qualifying from region.

At 219, won by Citrus' Carson Fluegel at 665, Keystone Heights' Colby Townsend finished seventh at 610 with teammate Josh Hughes also at 610.

At 238, won by Father Lopez' Ryan Waddell at 690, Keystone Heights' Carter Semione finished sixth at 640 with Orange Park's Kendy Charles ninth at 625.

"Kendy got personal bests in both the bench and the clean and jerk at the state meet," said Macpherson. "He is the ultimate teammate to continue to work hard despite being 20-30 pounds off the podium."

In the heavyweight, won by Union County's Agelu Nunu at 825 with a state record 525 bench press, Keystone Heights' Dan Dodd finished seventh at 695.

Thomas, Williams get seconds in 2A lifts

By Randy Lefko Sports Editor

PANAMA CITY BEACH - Oakleaf High's Mike Williams and Fleming Island High's Andrew Thomas were the top two area finishers at Friday's Class 2A weightlifting championships held at Arnold High School in Panama City Beach.

Navarre High eeked out the team title with 25 points to Spruce Creek's 24. Oakleaf finished sixth with nine points with Fleming Island landing five points.

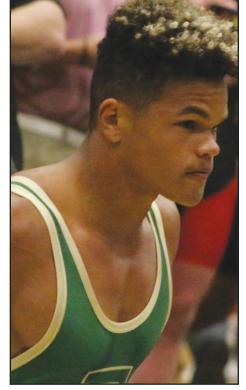

Williams, the 119 pound region 2-2A champion over Fleming Island's Ian Ali, took the silver medal in Panama City with a 420 total behind Sunlake High's Caleb Huff who bested the field witha 480 total. Williams was 10 pounds up on his region winning title with Huff dominating the bench press with a 255 best lift setting the field up to chase him. Williams benched just

Also in 119, Fleming Island's Charlie Callahan finished 12th at 345. Ali did not get a clean and jerk lift.

At 169, Thomas also had to chase a big bench press with Matanzas' Will Lam besting the field with a 360 bench press ahead of Thomas' 335. Lam kept his distance with a 295 clean and jerk lift to Thomas' 285 for the win, 655 to 620. Thomas' 620 total was 10 pounds better than his region win-

Also in 169, Fleming Island's Broden Domenico, region runnerup to Thomas, finished 11th at 515.

At 183, Oakleaf High's Tayari Otis medaled at fifth place with a 580 total to winner Josh Bozzacco of Oviedo besting the

Two goal line stops, INT not enough to stop Blue Devils

GREEN COVE SPRINGS - Fleming Island High got two fourth down goal line stands and a goal line interception, but Clay High got the scores; a safety off an errant center snap and a fourth down 30 yard touchdown by Alexis Stilianou with the halftime buzzer sounding, to win 9-0 in flag football action Monday night at Clay High School. Clay remains unbeaten while Fleming Island suffered their second loss of the season.

In the closely competitive first quarter, the Fleming Island defense got a quick quarterback sack from rusher Ky-anna Montoya who snagged Clay quarterback Ciena Zino on the first snap to set the tone for the Golden Eagle defense.

Fleming Island moved the ball behind quarterback Ashlyn Byrd scrambles and passes to wideout Aubrey Burke, but their first drive stalled behind a sack by Clay's Katie Dziwulski.

Clay started to click on offense on their second possession with Zino hitting Stilianou and speedster Skye Paradise at the corners of the Golden Eagle defense, but a pass breakup from Madison Mas and Byrd on a fourth down pass at the goal line prevented Clay's first scoring Keystone Heights senior Alex Guy continued a banner year after setting a school record in the 1600 a week ago with district wins in the 800 and 1600.

Track

For the girls, Chiang chunked out wins of 16 seconds in the 3200 with an 11:37.73 winning time with Millson third at 11:54.95 while coming back to win the 1600 in 5:16.05 with Schaudel seven seconds off that mark in second. Both girls are just freshmen.

Also at district 1-4A, Glenn Rodgers won in the 110 hurdles with another sub-15 second split and Ezra McCollum got second in the high jump for Fleming Island.

For the Fleming Island girls, Audrey Millican was second in the 400, Marisa Kortright was fourth in the 800 and Lily Amsden was third in the 100.

Oakleaf got a first in shot put from Jalen Rivers with the girls 4 x 400 getting a tremendous anchor leg from Hadassah Davis, also third in 200, to win that event. Takayla Edwards got second in the 300 hurdles and third in the 100 hurdles with defending state triple jump champion Loren Johnson fouling out of that event, but winning the long jump. Tamira Briley was fourth in the triple jump. Sydeny Brown won the high jump at 4'-11.75 with less misses at the same height from teammate Tahja Peoples.

For district 4-3A, scheduled for Tues., April 15 at Nease High School, Orange Park High senior John Bear, injured through most of 2019 has slowly and methodically made his way back to contention with a recent 10:04 at the St. Johns River Athletic Conference and a 4:41 at the Don Hall Invite 1600. Bear was last year's district champion in 4:27.85 and looks to be targeting a defense of that title plus his 3200 title. Bear finished a disappointing fifth at regions, but went to regions in the 3200 at 9:52.55. At state, Bear finished ninth in the 1600 in 4:25.08 and finished 14th in the 3200.

Orange Park and Middleburg both have top sprinters in Alex Collier and Marcus Floyd who have tangoed all season with Collier, third in 3A last year in the 400, one of the top junior runners in the USA.

Orange Park has shot putter and discus thrower Destiny Basden as a top area thrower. Middleburg high jumper Bryce Quiett looks to return to the state meet after a third last year.

Eagles continue push for top spot in district

By Ray DiMonda Correspondent

JACKSONVILLE- Fleming Island High baseball got up 2-0 in the second inning, but would leave the bases loaded several times before eventually pulling out a 6-1 district win over First Coast High.

"It's always funky when we come out here. The gnats, the low lighting. The kids can make all the excuses they can, but it's still a ballfield and we still have to play our game" said Fleming Island Head Coach Grant Bigilin. "We were able to scrap and claw for a couple early, or it would have been very interesting toward the end of the game."

In their last at bat, the issues finally worked themselves out to put four more on the board to lock on second place district 2-8A behind the Oakleaf High Knights.

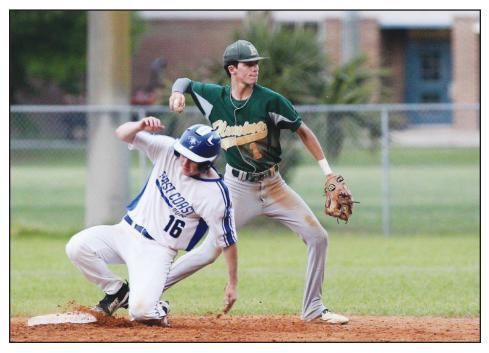

"We didn't have school today, the routine is thrown off, they are looking ahead to Oakleaf," said Bigilin.

Fleming Island would put 21 runners on base, but only pull six around to score, leaving 15 on base.

In the second inning, Adam Peck came up to tattoo a shot to right field that scored Scott Kondroik and Justin Hawkins for the early 2-0 score.

Pitcher Aiden Mastantuno held the shutout through four innings when he was replaced by Jason Asdot. The pair racked up eight strikeouts.

At bat, The Golden Eagles loaded the bases in the top of the third, top of the fourth, top of the fifth, and left one on top of the sixth, all to come away empty handed. Top of the seventh, it was a new

Panthers drop two to Sharks

Clay vs. Ridgeview April 17-18

ORANGE PARK - Ponte Vedra High exacted two district losses to the Ridgeview High baseball team; 4-1 and 1-0, with Panther coach John Sgromolo put a positive spin on the second game.

"I was just telling the team the baseball Gods have a way of evening things out" said Sgromolo. "Evan's (Wickeri) been like that all season. Tonight, he had the eye of the tiger, he put the team on his back."

Despite the Panthers throwing a twohitter, picking off runners three times, and Pitcher Evan Wickeri going all seven innings in a defensive clinic put on by Ridgeview, the team succumbed to a Ponte Vedra single run in the second inning scored off an error.

That one mistake would be enough to carry the Sharks to a 1-0 defeat of the Pan-

"Tonight, the dice didn't come up our way," said Sgromolo. The win tightened the Shark's bite of first place in District 4-6A over Clay and Ridgeview who now sit in second and third place.

The Ponte Vedra losses sets up a gauntlet of sorts for the Clay High baseball team that has put out blowout wins over Menendez; 9-0 (Justin Mosley 13Ks) and 11-0 (Dylan Faulker 11Ks, Nick Barrie, Justin Mosley RBI triples), also a district 4-6A attempt as the second quarter ended.

In the second quarter, Byrd was distracted on center Katie Richard's snap and let the ball sail into the end zone for a two-point safety and possession back to Clay.

Zino and company generated a long, 10-play drive highlighted by an 18 yard end run by Zino and a 12 yard pass play to Paradise that kept the chains moving.

Zino threaded the needle with a pass to Stilianou in between Byrd and safety Hope Rozier on third down to keep the ball moving before Rozier answered on the goal line with a pass breakup of a fourth down pass to Abby Hawkins in the end zone.

After a Fleming Island punt, Zino took over again and put together a quick-hitting drive to the goal line that seemed destined to stalling with a penalty flag and a sack by Mary Schaudel sack of Zino inside the 20 ayrd line. Another pass breakup by Rozier gave the Blue Devils a fourth down with just 11 seconds to the break and offensive coordinator Jared Moses dialing up a last-chance play for a score.

With Zino rolling left and hitting Hawkins on a swing, Hawkins set up for a pass and found Stilianou alone in the end zone for the score. Zino's PAT gave the Blue Devils a 9-0 halftime lead.

In the third period, Fleming Island's offense backfired with a missed lateral and a sack by Clay's Hannah Agee to force a punt.

A penalry and sack by Montoya halted a Clay drive on the next possession with Fleming Island responding with their best offensive series of the night. Unfortunately, Rozier's pass downfield to Burke was overthrown on a fourth down play.

Clay again moved efficiently downfield behind a pass play to Paola Jorge-Silva that reversed another Montoya sack of Zino. Three plays later, at the goal line, Fleming Island nearly got a pick-six interception from Madison Mas.

Down 9-0 with six minutes to go, Fleming Island moved downfield quickly and got a scoring strike to Meghan Rodriguez, but officials called her out with one foot.

Spartans move up with UC win

By Dennis Bergin

Correspondent

JACKSONVILLE - St. Johns Country Day School senior left-handed Brad Hodges pitched a complete game two-hitter striking out nine and walked two while Luke Shannahan added three hits and two RBI's to power St. John's Country Day to a 5-0 victory over host University Christian in a key district 2-3A game. Both teams were in the district final last year with University winning 5-0. University Christian was the 2017 Class 3A runnerup and a region semifinalist last year.

The Spartans (12-6) are now undefeated in the district while the Fighting Christian (7-8) now are 5-1 in District play.

"We still have work to do," said Spartan head coach Tom Lucas. "We pitched well and played defense tonight. We missed some opportunities at the plate as well."

The Spartans pushed two runs across in the top of the third inning when with one out Shannahan reached on an infield single, Finn Howell drew a walk and both scored on Connor Moore's double to left. The rallied stalled on consecutive strike-

St. John's Country Day moved out to a 3-0 lead in the top of the fourth inning when Brad Hodges laced a two out single to center and pinch runner Gavin Russell advanced to second when Jack Tolbert was hit by pitch and Russell scored on Shannahan's single to right.

Hodges was dominant facing two batters over the minimum on the night. He struck out the side in the fifth and seventh innings. Hodges gave up a bunt single in the third and an infield single in the seventh. He picked off two runners as well.

"He has been solid all year, " said Lucas. "He has four pitches he can throw for strikes and he throws to both sides of the Shannahan added an RBI single in the sixth inning plating pinch runner Russell and Mason Davis added a safety squeeze RBI bunt to score Jordan Taylor who laced a one out double to left in the seventh to close out the scoring for the Spartans.

"We showed that we can be a very good team, " said Lucas, who has led the Spartans to back to back regional semifinal games. "We still have areas we need to improve."

in a big moment. We used just about everybody off the bench because nobody who started was getting the job done. I gave a couple guys a few chances to hit with runners on base, so the third time they came up, I pinch hit for them. One kid had a good knock, a couple guys came through in the clutch and luckily, we won the game. It would have been unfortunate if we didn't maximize that potential we had with all the runners on base the whole game."

With two outs, First Coast caught a break with a batter hit by a pitch, then a single to have two runners on. A misplayed fielder's choice loaded the bases. With an attempted pick off, First Coast got on the board, 6-1, but it was all for nothing as the batter was struck out by reliever Jason Asdot to end the game on a high note and allow Fleming Island to finally lock in and concentrate of the upcoming matchup with Oakleaf for first place bragging rights in District 2.

We just flush this and move on." Tuesday evening, 6 pm at Oakleaf, we'll know who has the secret sauce.

team with Ridgeview set for April 17 and April 18 followed by two dates with Ponte Vedra the following week (April 23-24) to set up the final surge into the district tournament.

In the Ridgeview and Ponte Vedra clash, the defensive action started quickly as the Sharks had two runners on in their first at-bat. The effort was quashed by the Panther defense and it was on to offense. After three up, three outs, the Panthers needed a spark to get the bats awakened.

'We don't have a power hitting team and everyone knows this," said Sgromolo. "We have a bunch of young guys and we're a small ball kind of team."

But the needed spark came from the wrong direction as the Sharks went on attack again. The first batter up to the plate got on as Wickeri made one of his few miscues on the evening, hitting the batter with a two balls, one strike count, then gave up a single putting runners on first and third and only one out. As the Sharks runner on first took a huge lead, Wickeri missed on a pickoff move and first baseman Richard Long overthrew the second baseman with the errors allowing the lone run. To add insult to injury, the batter struck out for the second out. With the next at bat, Wickeri picked off the runner at second base to close the inning.

"I'm preaching to them; Baseball is a game of failure," said Sgromolo. "If you get it right three out of 10 times, you're a hero. Come the end of the season we're going to be battle tested and we're going to be ready."

NOTICE OF INTENT TO ISSUE PERMIT STATE OF FLORIDA

DEPARTMENT OF ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION

The Department of Environmental Protection gives notice of its intent to issue a permit to the Clay County Utility Authority, Mr. Mr. Tom Morris, Executive Director, 3176 Old Jennings Road, Middleburg, Florida 32068, applied on January 16, 2019, to the Department of Environmental Protection for a permit renewal for authorization to aggregate Total Nitrogen (TN) allocation and Total Phosphorus (TP) load from the above listed domestic wastewater to issue a permit to the Clay County listed domestic wastewater treatment facilities (WWTF) which discharge to waters of the state under the National Pollutant Discharge Elimination System (NPDES). This permit includes specific conditions to implement a combined TN waste load allocation for the above listed domestic WWTF in accordance with the Lower St. Johns River (LSJR) Basin Management Action Plan (BMAP) adopted on October 10, 2008. The LSJR BMAP has been developed as part of the Department's Total discharge to waters of the state under the National Pollutant part of the Department's Total Maximum Daily Load. All other permit requirements and limitations permit requirements and limitations remain in effect and are specified in the individual permits: Miller Street WWTF (FL0025151), Fleming Island WWTF (FL0043834), and Fleming Oaks WWTF (FL0032875) for these facilities located in Clay County. The Department has assigned this project number as FL0629006-006-DWI-SW/NR.

The intent to issue and application file are available for public inspection during normal business hours, 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., Monday hours, 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday, except legal holidays, at the Department's Northeast District Office, 8800 Baymeadows Way West, Suite 100, Jacksonville, Florida 32256, at phone number (904) 256-1700.

The Department will issue the permit with the attached conditions unless a timely petition for an
