Exhibit celebrates Van Zants' musical legacy

By Don Coble Managing Editor

ORANGE PARK – Johnny Van Zant was at home – literally – signing autographs and posing for pictures last week.

The private opening of Sweet Homegrown Traditions at the Thrasher-Horne Center was a rare opportunity for the Lynyrd Skynyrd front man to reflect on his family's life of music. Far away from the blinding stage lights and ear-shattering, heart-pounding riffs of "Free Bird," Van Zant was surrounded by friends and family who came together to honor a family whose roots run deep in Clay County.

"I fit here," Van Zant said. "I feel at home. This is why I love Clay County."

The exhibit, which highlights the Van Zant family legacy in the county, is at the Thrasher-Horne box office. There are several rooms of displays and photos that tells an amazing story of three boys – Ronnie, Donnie and Johnny – who carved a path away from Jacksonville's Westside with their unapologetic and wildly-popular blue-collar music.

The display is a treasure map of a journey that's continued for more than 50 years after Ronnie finally surrounded himself with friends from his Little League team and his Shantytown neighborhood to create Lynyrd Skynyrd. The music had attitude and was unlike anything else being played.

Jim Tucker documentary wins Emmy Award

NBA great's career with Syracuse Nationals chronicled

By Randy Lefko Sports Editor

SYRACUSE, N.Y. – Eagle Harbor resident Jim Tucker may not know he has become a bit more famous these days after a short documentary film made about his NBA basketball career was recently awarded an Emmy Award from the Mid-Atlantic Emmy Chapter.

"The film team was extremely nice with Jim, and he loved telling them his stories," said Tucker's wife of 35 years, Jan. "When I told Jim, he smiled."

The Onondaga Historical Association in Syracuse produced the film with OHA director Gregg Tripoli using the film to tell the story of Tucker's NBA pioneer days with the 1955 Syracuse Nationals. Tucker and teammate Earl Lloyd were the first African-Americans to win an NBA

Clay addresses veteran suicides

BCC may join NE Florida group to fight crisis

By Wesley LeBlanc Staff Writer

CLAY COUNTY – The Board of County Commissioners are looking to team up with Duval, Baker, Nassau and St. Johns counties in an effort to curb veteran suicide rates in northeast Florida and get veterans the services they need.

Commissioner Gavin Rollins said he believes this consortium will be especially helpful in light of a field that's either focused on an individual or doesn't target specific communities at the federal level.

That focused targeting is what Rollins said the veterans in Clay County need right now.

"The goal of this is to do two things. One, to take data of what is happening in terms of suicide rates in our community and then track the progress after some of these programs are implemented," he said.

Rollins said the alliance would consist of a number of programs including crisis hotlines, peer-to-peer mentoring, accountability groups and more to engage veterans publicly and privately however they see fit. The goal, according to Rollins, is to use the data to apply for Veterans Administration grants to curb veteran suicides.

"If we can use a pilot program like this and show it works, then there's potential that it could spread across the nation," Rollins said.

This consortium would include a veteran or representative of the community from each county, as well as a veteran liaison who would work with other veterans.

The financial cost has not been determined, but Duval County has already committed $75,000. Rollins said the BCC shouldn't commit its money until it knows how and where it will be spent.

Brig. Gen. Michael P. Fleming helping the project get off the ground.

"This is a cross-county effort and we're very fortunate in northeast Florida in that we work very cohesively together but one of the challenges is how do we attack it collectively and over the long term," Fleming said. "There are a lot of people doing a lot of hard work on behalf of veterans for a lot of issues including this suicide prevention, but what this fire watch council will do is put it all together and help us move forward."

County gives green light to reinstate licenses

Payment plans, no collection fees to help get drivers back on the road

By Don Coble

Managing Editor

ORANGE PARK – The Clay County Clerk of the Circuit Court's office will offer drivers a chance to close the gap between the burden of a suspended license and a reasonable ability to pay the fine with its Operation Green Light program on Oct. 12.

The one-day-only event will allow drivers who've had their suspended licenses for unpaid tickets a chance to have it reinstated by setting up a payment schedule. As an added incentive, many late and collection fees will be waved that day, according to county clerk Tara Green and county compliance supervisor Stephanie Wright.

"We are reaching out to people who are stuck in a vicious cycle," Wright said. "Those are the big ones. We want to get people back on the road. That way we can get them on a payment plan and back to work without any worries. We truly want to get it cleared up. We want to reach out to people who think they are too far in the hole (to pay)."

The statewide program was created by the state's clerks in 2015, and it quickly was implemented in Clay County. During the first year, 314 cases were paid in full in the county, while 26 suspended licenses were reinstated and another 154 were set up to be reinstated, Green said.

"In certain circumstances, the flexibility of removing the debt, especially by the collectors, is a big relief," Green said. "Hopefully we'll have a lot of people walk out of here with a valid driver's license."

Collection fees can be as much as 25% of an outstanding judgment, Green said.

Drivers whose licenses have been suspended for non-payment of child support aren't eligible for the program. Also, Operation Green Light is only available at the clerk's Orange Park Branch at 1478 Park Ave. from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Oct. 12. Sixty of the state's 67 counties are participating, so Clay County may be able to help a driver work out a plan with another county.

Driving with a suspended license is a serious offense. There were 48 arrests in September by the Clay County Sheriff's Office for residents driving without a valid license. Florida law allows for a maximum penalty of a 60-day jail sentence and a $500 fine for a first offense. A third offense can be charged as a felony with up to five years in prison.

According to FreeAdvice Legal, there are as many as 4.6 million people currently with a suspended license in Florida.

What makes suspended licenses so complex is the need by a driver to earn money by working. That often means driving – illegally – to a job.

"Our goal is to get it paid off and have everyone with a current license," Green said. "While our goal is to not suspend a license, we have a statutory responsibility to collect the fines. If they're willing to do their part by setting up a plan and sticking Seven clerks and a couple supervisors are scheduled to work on Saturday, and the office doesn't accept appointments.

Blue-Green Algae Task Force: Climate change increases risk of blooms

By Jacob Ogleson

On FloridaPolitics.com

Data on climate change and global warming, words reportedly barred from use during Rick Scott's tenure as governor, will inform recommendations from the Blue-Green Algae Task Force.

"Cyanobacteria over 3.5 billion years have adapted to just about everything," said Dr. Valerie Paul, a task force member. "But warmer winters allow them to persist into our season."

The observations should end up in a preamble to recommendations for Gov. Ron DeSantis and Florida lawmakers regarding response to algal blooms that devastated parts of Florida over several recent years.

Scientific leaders want the state to invest more into water research, enact environmental oversight on septic tanks and build a greater understanding of how the algae poison the air.

All those desires will be included in early recommendations of the task force appointed by DeSantis to tackle problems around blooms. The toxic sludge has especially hurt parts of the state around Lake Okeechobee and the poisonous bacteria exploded on the Caloosahatchee and St. Johns rivers.

The task force met Wednesday in Naples to approve language on an initial report. But officials made clear this won't be the last word from task force members, who soon will continue to drill down on more specific recommendations.

"These are high-level recommendations to help us move forward," stressed Florida Chief Science Officer Thomas Frazer.

That explanation came after criticism the task force was pressing ahead with recommendations despite a draft only becoming available hours before the meeting.

Officials stressed there will be more data collected and more detailed direction issued before the task force completes its work

For now, there seems a definite focus on stormwater, septic tanks and toxicology

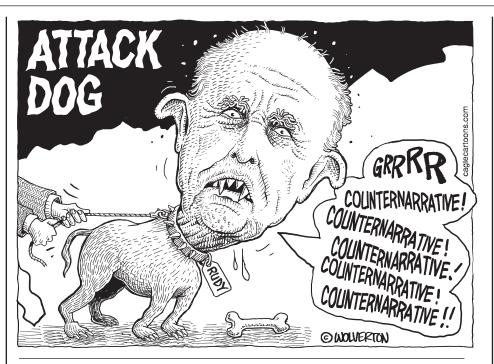

While scientists around the globe have studied outbreaks of blue-green algae, the long-term impacts of exposure on humans and animals remain mysterious.

Task force members were careful not to criticize a body of existing research.

"The toxicology is well known but how it gets exposed is not," said Dr. James Sullivan, one of the task force's members.

Often, long-term damage has been surmised based on damage seen in reallife conditions over time. But that's often

It's really a small world ... if you slow down to notice

by Don Coble Managing Editor

Don Newton called me a couple weeks ago. He had an interesting story about a 100-year-old woman who went to school with Mickey Rooney, was a blackjack dealer in Lake Tahoe and Reno and was a dancer.

After we arranged to put her picture and brief biography of her tale in the newspaper, the conversation suddenly became more profound.

"My name is Don Newton, and what's your name?"

"Don Coble."

"I went to school with a Don Coble."

It took me a moment to realize he was talking about my father, not me. When I mentioned Bamberg, South Carolina, and the call suddenly went silent for a few moments.

"Carlisle Military School?," he asked in a surprised tone.

Newton, a retired insurance agent from Orange Park, went to school with my father. They both left Carlisle and wound up in the Air Force. Newton was a recruiter; my father was a navigator.

"Your dad was a musician, wasn't he?"

"Yes, a drummer. In fact, he was Don Gibson's first drummer. He used to tell me stories about working on 'I Can't Stop Loving You" and "Oh, Lonesome Me' with him when they were teenagers in Shelby (N.C.)"

"I remember everyone liked him. He was funny. He liked to have a good time. Wow, what a small world."

Indeed

My father died 12 years ago in the Veteran's Administration nursing home in Daytona Beach after suffering a stroke. I'm constantly reminded of the man who not only was my best friend but was my hero.

The unlikely call from Newton wasn't the first time I've been reminded of my father. Last Veteran's Day, I saw a man sitting at the bar wearing a Vietnam War veteran's hat. When he ordered a beer, I offered to pay for it to thank him for his service.

When he said he was stationed at Nha Trang in South Vietnam, my curiosity became more pointed.

Zeke said he loaded and unloaded C-130s at the airstrip outside of town. I sudden ly got chills.

"How many planes were in the squadron?"

"Three. And they were all painted black with no numbers."

"The Stray Goose?"

Zeke set his beer on the counter and stared in amazement.

"How did you know that?"

"My father was a navigator on one of those planes."

Two of the three planes were shot down while flying nighttime missions. Fortunately, my father's plane was the one that survived mortar and surface-to-air studied after effects have already been seen. Florida could lead the way on frontend research into long-term exposure to algae. More importantly, the data could show whether residents around water bodies infected by the algae, such as Lake Okeechobee and the Caloosahatchee and St. Lucie estuaries, sit on the "front lines" of risk caused by toxins released in the air.

The risk also drove desires for greater oversight on contributions to algal blooms.

The task force wants to see the Department of Environmental Protection involved with approvals and potential inspections of septic tanks. Right now, 12 percent of septic tanks installed in the nation are in Florida soil, and officials believe many of those systems are faulty and leaking nutrients into the water supply.

and treatment of algal blooms. The state needs to provide better direction on the clean-up and storage of algae slurries and must monitor the impacts of wastewater spills on systems.

Members discussed briefly what feeds cyanobacteria in some coastal areas, such as around Miami, but acknowledged much of that work will overlap with efforts of the Red Tide Task Force, also appointed by DeSantis this year.

I can never thank Don Newton and Zeke enough for being important to me. All I had to do was slow down long enough to see it.

Sixth annual event attracts thousands of fans to GCS

By Nick Blank Staff Writer

GREEN COVE SPRINGS – Thousands will descend to Spring Park for the sixth Cala-Vida Music & Arts Festival during a week of celebration of arts and culture.

The festival runs from Oct. 7-12. The five-day run up consists of music, dancing and readings spread out across Green Cove. The main event at Spring Park has live music, vendors, authors and artists on Oct. 12, from 10 a.m. to 9:30 p.m.

Organizer Sandra Royal said the slate of events were meant to be educating and entertaining. The second event is a staging of "Zona, The Ghost of Greenbrier" in the Historic Courtroom, on Oct. 7 at 7 p.m.

"(The play) is based on a real court case," Royal said. "We thought it would be kind of cool and an interesting take on it if we put it in the Historic Courtroom. The courtroom is just marvelous."

Two days later is "Square Dancing with the Stars" at the Spring Park Pavilion. On Oct. 10 former Thrasher-Horne Center for the Arts Director Tony Walsh will read Edgar Allan Poe's "The Tell-Tale Heart" at the Green Cove library branch. A tour of the Historic Jail will follow

Royal said there was seven months of preparation. She called this year's offering an interesting mix. This year's gala is at the Clay Theatre Oct. 11, from 6-9 p.m.

"We're trying to make sure a lot of organizations and everybody is a part of it," she said

Authors have reading times in pavilion, such as Wanda Duncan, who wrote "Cracker Gothic: A Florida Woman's Memoir." The book chronicles Duncan's adolescence in Green Cove Springs, why she left and the allure that brought her back.

Duncan said she was pleased the city had a way to showcase a broad spectrum of the arts.

"I'm so happy there's an arts festival in Green Cove Springs. That means a lot to me having grown up here," Duncan said. "It's exciting to know in the community there's people putting this together."

The live music portion consists of blues act Kim Reteguiz & The Black Cat Bones, soul singer Mama Blue and several other acts. Blue sang at Gov. Ron DeSantis' inauguration.

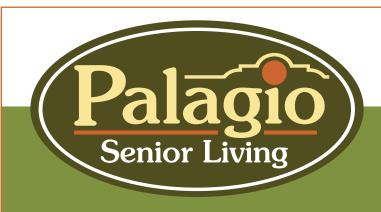

"(Mama Blue) is phenomenal," Royal said. "The best part about her is, she not only has a great voice, but she's a great entertainer. She draws her audience in."

The Curt Towne Band will close festivities. Towne's band has played CalaVida each year since its inception. Towne, who has opened for Lynyrd Skynyrd, said Cala-Vida wasn't just another gig for the group. CalaVida was starting to build a reputation, he said.

"More people are getting used to it coming around in October," Towne said. "A lot of people are asking me, 'Hey, are you guys doing that thing in the park this year?"

nity," Mosley said.

Ronna Smith, the county's Special

Olympics director, said the event promotes inclusion and acceptance. The Special Olympics is constantly fundraising, Smith said, providing training, uniforms, food and lodging and transportation for athletes.

"(The Special Olympics) shows what they can do and accentuates the positives in their life," Smith said. "It teaches them how to have a social life."

Smith said Clay's Special Olympics used to only have bowling and track. Now it has 12 to 13 sports and looks to add more. She called the design humbling and said the maze represented the brand well.

"It's just a great opportunity, not only to get the community involved with our mission, but the mission of the crop maze as well," Smith said.

The fall festival is at 2899 Wisteria Farm Road in Green Cove Springs.

Drought-tolerant sorghum is planted in July, Mosley said. The maze is cut by Utahbased The Maze Company in early August. Then it grows into the maze you see.

The maze is actually two mazes, one is longer and more difficult, then there's a "kiddie maze."

Previous designs include the Tim

Tebow Foundation's W15H Program, and former Clay High and NFL defensive end Cliff Avril's foundation. The maze honored the Dave White Memorial Foundation last year.

Other events at the fall festival include farm animals, a pumpkin patch, wagon rides, jump pads, duck races and cornhole competitions.

"We want people to enjoy spending time together as a family when they come to the farm. You'll see a whole family do tugo-war together," Mosley said. "In a time where a lot of us spend time on screens, it's really great to see families spending time together. That's one of the best things about it."

Amazing Grace Family Farms' Fall Festival lasts until Oct. 26. Hours are 5-10 p.m. on Fridays and 10 a.m.-10 p.m. on Saturdays.

Hibernia Pub new spot to enjoy history

Fleming Island Golf Club honors Flemings legacy with new restaurant

By Nick Blank Staff Writer

FLEMING ISLAND – References to the island's most prominent historical family and namesake, the Flemings, cover the walls and tables of the Hibernia Pub, the revamped Irish bar and restaurant at The Fleming Island Golf Club.

The club owner and professional golfer Charles Raulerson had some free time when he was in Seattle for a tournament qualifier. He researched the concept of an Irish pub at the course based around the family. "I stumbled across George Fleming and him coming here in 1781 and kept exploring," Raulerson said.

Raulerson laughed when he recalled how his business partner and restaurant consultant Mike Dravo wasn't keen on the idea at first

He was motivated to compile information at the Clay County Archives — with the help of archives specialist Vishi Garig — and he made a PowerPoint presentation. Raulerson said Dravo was impressed and agreed to come on board.

The tables and logo are fashioned after a half-penny from 1805, emblazoned with King George's crown and a harp. Fleming, an Irishman, fought against Indians and the British with the Spanish and was granted land by the Spanish governor of Florida.

Hibernia is the Latin name for Ireland. The golf course sits on what was the Flemings property.

To create an Irish pub ambiance, the inside and outside were painted and the flooring was redone. The pub added an Irish menu and seven televisions. The renovations cost between $75,000-$100,000, Raulerson said, and took about 90 days.

Raulerson even asked the current Fleming family members if he could use photos of their descendants. Francis Fleming, the 15th governor of Florida, is the first portrait near the entry.

"They said, 'Absolutely,'" Raulerson said. "That was a nice blessing."

There was a lack of similar restaurants the further you went past County Road 220, he said. The Hibernia Pub was a place specific to Fleming Island.

"We sit in the middle of 5,000 rooftops and there's no restaurants down here. Everything is on County Road 220," Raulerson said. "This was just a home run to me. It truly represents this island. It truly represents the Fleming family."

Orange Park High gets Community Partnership grant

Clay Today

ORLANDO – Orange Park High was one of 10 schools from seven school districts across Florida to receive state grant funds to become a Community Partnership School.

State leaders allocated $7.1 million in this year's budget – more than four times the funding available in previous years – to bolster Florida's existing Community Partnership Schools and create new ones across the state. Funding is administered by UCF's Center for Community Schools.

Community Partnership Schools are designed to maximize success both inside and outside the classroom, help reduce crime and enhance the overall quality of life for underserved communities. The schools deliver holistic services such as tutoring and mentoring, medical and dental care, and workshops on resume building and financial literacy. Resources are available to students, their families and area residents

School districts interested in establishing a new Community Partnership School applied for grant awards to support their first-year costs, and each of the selected schools will receive $80,000. Districts are required to provide a 25% match, either from public or private funds, or from inkind donations.

A second opportunity for additional schools to apply began on Sept. 23. The total number of Community Partnership Schools in Florida is expected to reach 27 by the end of the year. Full implementation of a Community Partnership School is typically a five-year process.

The 15 Community Partnership Schools already in place in Florida have seen gains such as increased graduation rates, improved teacher retention and fewer out-of-school suspensions. Schools last year reported 193,000 hours of student tutoring, 2,300 primary healthcare visits, and 37,200 volunteer hours donated, among other deliverables.

UCF's Center for Community Schools serves as the statewide grant administrator and provides training and technical assistance to Florida school districts. Florida's Community Partnership Schools model requires four partners – the school district, a healthcare provider, a nonprofit organization and a college or university – all of which commit long-term support, often for at least 25 years.

Veterans honored during Moosehaven celebration

Staff Writer

ORANGE PARK – A 100-year-old veteran was celebrated alongside hundreds of others Saturday, Sept. 28, at the third annual Veteran's Appreciation celebration at Moosehaven.

Veterans are celebrated in a special way each year at the annual celebration. This year, Winton Carter, 100, was brought on stage to be thanked for his numerous years of service. Carter, who was just one celebration, was honored to live in an area that takes such good care of its veterans.

"It's a wonderful honor to be here and it means a lot." Carter said.

Carter joined the military as a marine in 1939 and quickly found himself in the Pacific Theater of World War II. It was here that he received a purple heart on June 15, 1944. That wound didn't stop him though because Carter would continue to serve on various boats, submarine bases and more for another 17 years to bring his service total to 22 years.

Veteran's Appreciation Day at Moosehaven saw hundreds of veterans and county residents gather to learn about veteran services, watch live entertainment and enjoy local food proclamation to solidify Carter's service into Clay County history. Carter has stories upon stories to tell but the one that tickles Carter most is about how he witnessed the flag go up at Iwo Jima.

"I was helping unload cigarette cartons to make sure that I got mine," Carter said. "Somebody pointed out that they were lifting the flag up on the island and I said, 'so what? They put flags up on every island."

Little did Carter know that this flag would represent the Battle of Iwo Jima and the greater war efforts of the U.S. military.

"It was a wonderful thing to see anyway though," Carter said.

Carter's life continued long after his service as he recently celebrated his 100th birthday on Sept. 23. He said his secret to a long life is to trust in the Lord above. Carter remembers turning 100 and asking the Lord, "I've reached this goal. Now what?

"You just have to trust in him. You know, how much longer is he going to put up with NAS JAX Commanding Officer Michael P. Connor spoke to the crowd of hundreds full of veterans and their supporters alike and used his time to thank them for their "Events like this are important," Connor said. "This event lets them know that they are not forgotten. There's a time in our history where men and women... were forgotten and that is not the case anymore. Their sacrifices are valued and respected and Clay County has a rich history of serving our nation."

Connor explained how important Clay County and northeast Florida are to the U.S. military as it is a part of an extremely important military triangle. Between NAS JAX, the Mayport Base and the submarine base of King's Bay, Connor said this trifecta covers the air, the ocean and under the sea like no other.

Veterans and guests were greeted with food, activities, live entertainment and vendors at the Moosehaven celebration who were there to not only make them feel special, but to let them know that their service is appreciated and that Clay County is here to help.

"This is about thanking them for their service and celebrating their contribution to the community and I'm excited Clay County is able to do something like this for them each year," Cella said.

Kennedy earns high marks in first GCS review

City manager earns overall grade of 4.6 out of 5 from council members

By Nick Blank Staff Writer

GREEN COVE SPRINGS – City council members reviewed city manager Steve Kennedy's performance in a 45-minute meeting and gave him plaudits following his first year.

Kennedy was scored in 10 categories such as policy execution, supervision, fiscal management and relations with the elected body. His average score was 4.6 out of five

Council members Mitch Timberlake and Pam Lewis gave Kennedy full marks in every category. Council member Van Royal's averages totaled 4.9 and Connie Butler's reached 4.3. Mayor Steven Kelley scores led to a 3.8 average.

Timberlake said he was impressed by Kennedy's first year. He approved of Kennedy's approach of staffing, data gathering and not making knee-jerk reactions.

"It's been a very good first year. I've seen an improvement in employee morale," Timberlake said. The honeymoon's over and you know we're down to the execution phase (now)."

Lewis said the job was a heavy lift because Green Cove manages almost every service a city of a similar size can provide except a fire department.

"It's been a lot to learn," Lewis said.

Kelley said Kennedy's first year was phenomenal and his scores reflected that.

"Doing many of these evaluations, I don't give out many fives even if I think you navigated this past year as well someone stepping into this role at this time can do..." Kelley said. "I do think going forward you'll be able to operate more efficiently and effectively with the first year behind you. I hear nothing but great things from staff and I think we'll do great things going forward.

Kennedy replaced long-time city manager Danielle Judd Oct. 1 of last year. He was city manager of Americus, Georgia, for two years and city manager of Kennesaw, Georgia, for a decade. He had about 25 years of experience in finance and administration in other Georgia municipalities prior to his city manager positions.

At the 90-minute general meeting, council members signaled interest in purchasing a property at the corner of Magnolia Avenue and Spring Street called "The Rivers House." The council liked the house because of its history and short distance from Spring Park.

Council members with a unanimous vote tasked staff with sending the seller a first right of refusal document, which would allow the city 30 or 45 days to match or exceed another bid. Royal, a realtor, motioned to ask for 45 days, but accept 30 days if necessary.

"We've got to have a little bit of time,"

Roval said

City code requires the city to get an appraisal of the property and the council members needed a supermajority, four votes, to purchase at a price higher than the appraisal, city attorney L.J. Arnold said.

Arnold said the seller seemed amicable to signing a first right of refusal. Arnold said the city should expect to pay more than the appraisal.

Timberlake said staff needed to continue conversations with the seller and gauge his flexibility. He said he saw both sides of the issue.

"I am concerned we may not have the money in next year's budget," Timberlake said. "The other side of it is, there are citizens that say it's something we should do. I'm not convinced of that myself right now, but we need to be cognizant of that. I'd like to see us have the opportunity to move forward."

Clay Habitat for Humanity, Clay Behavioral Health join forces to build wheelchair ramp, covered roof

MIDDLEBURG – Clay County Habitat for Humanity and Clay Behavioral Health Center recently collaborated on two building projects at CBHC's Knight Boxx campus. A much-needed wheelchair ramp and a covered structure for protection from inclement weather were completed. Donations from community members, assistance from Home Depot Fleming Island and a volunteer work crew helped make the projects a reality. Nonprofit agencies know the value of collaboration to maximize resources and these projects are evidence of how much we can accomplish by working together.

VyStar opens students-operated branch at Clay High

By Wesley LeBlanc Staff Writer

GREEN COVE SPRINGS – Clay High became the latest high school to open a student-run VyStar Credit Union branch on Sept. 27.

VyStar executives, community leaders, district staff and of course, students, gathered in the school library to celebrate the opening of their in-school VyStar, and it was met with universal praise. Students will be able to easily access their accounts and learn fiscal responsibility, something Principal Cary Dicks said is essential at this age in education.

"This is the fourth VyStar Credit Union in the county so we are top-notch and we're excited about that," Dicks said. "Our intent is to push our students the furthest that they can go and for them to learn fiscal responsibility at this stage in their life, that is so important."

The branch will be run by students in collaboration with the Green Cove Springs branch that serves as the school's mentor branch. Students have already started to learn from VyStar bankers, and the school branch will serve as link to a job right out of high school.

The branch is open to all students and staff at Clay. Much like the Criminal Justice Academy at the school, which was recognized as a model program nationwide, the banking academy will give students specialized education that can lead them directly to a job after graduation.

The branch's student manager, Matthew Mitchell, is one of 21 students in the program. He said the new branch will help in many ways.

"Because we aren't necessarily taught things like interview skills, this program allows us to learn new skills," Mitchell said. "The academy has already come a long way even though we've only been here for a short amount of time and I feel like we have helped many students with financial literacy.

"In addition, we provide students with not only the ability to deposit and withdraw money, but also council them on things like what credit card to use and whether they should buy a used car or not. VyStar's goals for the high school branches are to spread financial literacy, help out the community and they've been amazing partners in all of this so far."

If you didn't walk through school hall-ways, you'd be hard-pressed to know VyS-tar was operated by students.

Exhibits open at 8:30am:

Program begins at 9am

Superintendent Addison Davis is excited about the branch because it's another avenue to prepare students for the workforce.

"When we talk about opportunities for children and how to get them ready to compete outside the four walls we call a classroom, this is the example," Davis said. "One of the prongs of our work is to ensure these children are ready for the workforce and this is a beautiful set up and gives this school another awesome opportunity to be successful."

Woman finds missing dog after 8 years

By Wesley LeBland Staff Writer

 $\mbox{MIDDLEBURG} - \mbox{A Middleburg woman and her Yorkshire}$ Terrier were reunited after the dig went missing for eight years.

Michaela Harris grew up around dogs. She and her mom fostered dogs for local shelters and rescues.

Every one of them left a paw print in her life she won't forget.

But no dog's print was bigger than Buddy, a Yorkshire Terrier that Harris adopted for herself.

A Middleburg man shot his daughter's boyfriend and best friend before shooting himself almost 10 years ago. The wife of the shooter ran a puppy mill with more than 30 Yorkies and Maltese dogs, Harris said.

After the shootings, the wife began to find new homes for the dogs, and Harris took in three Yorkies and a Maltese

"I found homes for all of them but Buddy," Harris said.
"Buddy had some health and anxiety issues that I knew would make it hard to adopt him out."

Buddy has double canine teeth on each side of his upper jaw. He also only had one testicle, a genetic fault often seen in poorly-bred dogs.

The Yorkie also had kennel syndrome from living a life in a cage. As a result, would constantly spin his body in circles to relieve anxiety and pass time, a side effect of an under-socialized upbringing.

"After about a year, Buddy was comfortable with me and would hardly ever spin anymore unless he was really anxious about something, but I could always distract him and calm him down," Harris said.

Buddy and Harris grew to be best friends. He followed her everywhere and when she was away at school, Buddy would play with Harris' Pomeranian. Punkin, all day.

"We were all best friends and Buddy forgot about his horrible life before me," Harris said.

When Harris was 14 years old - eight years ago - she went to school at Wilkinson Junior High. Later that day, her brother sent a text to her saying that Punkin and Buddy went outside. Punkin came back. Buddy didn't.

As soon as Harris was out of school, she walked up and down every street for miles calling his name and squeaking his favorite toy, but Buddy never came. She printed dozens of pictures and fliers out, placing them all around Middleburg.

"Weeks went by and I kept walking every day calling him, hanging up fliers, asking neighbors if they had seen him," Harris said. "I would get a few calls every now and then, but it was never Buddy."

Harris noticed that about a month later, all of her fliers had been removed.

"Whoever found my Buddy didn't want people knowing he was missing," Harris said.

Harris moved to a new school and eventually gave up hope of finding her pet.

"I hoped whoever found him took care of him even though they weren't his rightful owners," she said.

Years passed and Harris moved to Gainesville, Orange Park, the west side of Jacksonville, then the north side and back to the westside.

She grew up, had a baby, moved out of her mom's house and into her own apartment.

A day didn't pass when she didn't think about Buddy.

She took in four dogs in the eight years without Buddy – a Husky and three Great Pyrenees. She still had Punkin, who is now 12 years old.

Still hoping for word of Buddy, Harris followed all kinds of lost pet pages on Facebook.

On Sept. 19, she saw a post that caught her by surprise.

"I saw a post in the lost and found pages by a lady named Amy who had a senior Yorkie in Jacksonville near the airport and she posted about him having a weird tendency to spin in circles when he was anxious," Harris said. "It's not a common issue for an average lap dog to have so I messaged and asked if the dog had double canine teeth on his upper jaw and to my amazement, she said he did.

"And then I asked if he only had one descended testicle and she said he did. I thought it was the strangest thing, too strange to be a coincidence."

Harris asked Amy if she could come see the dog, just to see if maybe, by chance, the dog was Buddy. Amy had already given the dog to a friend though, but she helped Harris get in touch.

"When I got there and saw his little body, I knew it was him," Harris said. "His ears and bowed out legs and his coloring and his eyes and little nose, everything was just a perfect match for my Buddy."

Buddy's new owners allowed Harris to take him home and after a few weeks, he's back to normal, according to Harris. He's more frightened than before, something Harris said likely has to do with the 150-pound dogs he's surrounded by, but Harris said her other dogs have been as sweet as can be to Buddy.

"We're a family," Harris said.

Harris said her life feels normal again after recovering such a vital part of her childhood eight years later. She wants people to hear her story and never give up, no matter the odds.

"I don't know who stole my buddy," Harris said. "I don't know why they took it upon themselves to keep a dog they knew had an owner looking for him. I don't know why they robbed me of eight years with my dogs that I was supposed to rescue and show a better life, but I do know that the universe tends to work itself out, no matter how long it takes, and because of that, I have my dog back.

"Not only do I want people to never give up on finding their lost dogs, but I also want to point out the importance of taking proper steps to locate an animal's owners if you find it. People don't get to play finders-keepers with someone's pet. That pet is their family."

Wednesday was National Walk to School Day and the Clay County School District celebrated the day at Fleming Island Elementary. This day is a movement to create safer routes for students that walk and bicycle to school and to stress the importance of physical activity among children. The day also serves to make areas more aware of pedestrian safety, traffic congestion and its effects on students and to bring attention to the environment and building connections between schools and the communities they inhabit.

Southern roots with pop and rock to form 38 Special.

The walls inside Thrasher-Horne are covered with gold and platinum albums from both bands, as well as childhood photos of the entire family.

There's also a copy of a newspaper that reports the tragic story of Lynyrd Skynyrd's plane crash into the Mississippi woods on Oct. 20, 1977. Ronnie died with five other people in a plane crash in 1977.

Johnny revived the band 10 years later and continues to tour.

Donnie is retired from 38 Special, but he still works on projects with the band and his brother. Their collaborations are made easy by the fact they are next-door neighbors in Middleburg.

"This is amazing," Johnny said. "I've seen a lot of old stuff I haven't seen in a long time. Heck, there's stuff in here I've never seen. When you're involved with it (touring), you don't have time to think about it. We're just simple guys from Mid-

Larry Junstrom made a rare public appearance. He was a founding member of Lynyrd Skynyrd, but he's best known for playing bass with 38 Special from 1977 until 2014. He's now retired and living in Sweet Homegrown Tradition is open to the public during box office hours. It will remain at the Thrasher-Horne Center until the Help Somebody 3 concert on Nov. 9 to benefit St. Michael's Soldiers. The show will feature sets from 38 Special with Brett Myers, the Curt Towne Band and Pinto Graham.

championship.

The film, titled "Let 'Em Know You're There: The Story of Big Jim and the Triple Double" is a 30-minute film, reminding fans of how Syracuse changed the game of basketball as we knew it, creating the 24-second shot clock, while telling the story of Tucker, who held the record for the fastest triple-double in NBA history for 63 vears.

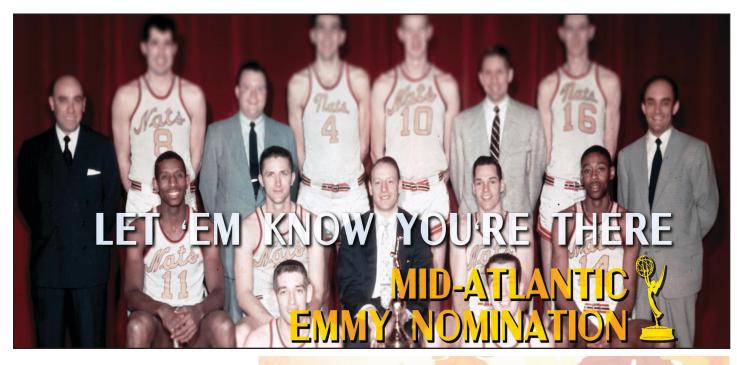

Syracuse Mayor Ben Walsh credited Tripoli for using film to tell Tucker's story and the 1955 Syracuse Nationals.

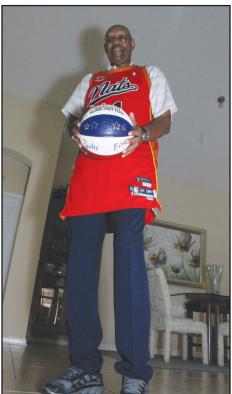

"Gregg and his team at the OHA have not been content just letting history sit in the museum," said Walsh, in a radio interview on WAER in Syracuse. "They're tireless in finding new and creative ways to bring Syracuse's history to the rest of the community and even the rest of the world.

Tripoli commented that it took years of research and interviews to make the 25-minute documentary called "Let 'Em Know You're There: The Story of Big Jim and the Triple Double."

"It's important that people learn and recognize that Syracuse changed the game of basketball forever with the 24 second shot clock," said Tripoli. "That we helped integrate the National Basketball Association with the first two black men on an NBA championship team. That one of those players, Earl Lloyd, was the very first black man to set foot on an NBA court. And that the other, the protagonist in this film, Jim Tucker, set an NBA record for a triple double ... that's double digits in points, rebounds and assists in that championship season that lasted an incredible 63 years until it was finally broken last year."

The film was produced by Readily Apparent Media was chosen over two other documentaries for the award.

Tucker held the record for the quickest triple-doube in a game for 63 years. His Syracuse Nationals team also was instrumental in developing the 24-second clock for the NBA.

New CEO stays grounded while keeping an eye on OPMC's growth

Lisa Valentine manages expansion, healthcare, challenges of keeping pace with area's growth

By Don Coble Managing Editor

ORANGE PARK – Despite the challenges that await Lisa Valentine as Orange Park Medical Center's new CEO, she's determined to keep her feet on the ground.

Literally.

She's already declined an offer to climb the 75-foot crane at the hospital entrance to get a bird's eye view of the $62 million renovation project to focus more on what's happening inside the doors.

"They said the view is incredible," Valentine said. "I'll take their word"

Lisa Valentine

The beeping sounds of construction vehicles and the constant rumble of heavy equipment serves as a backdrop as Valentine takes the reigns of one of the area's busiest hospitals. The work outside is loud and hot. The hallways are busy. There's a lot going on at OPMC and Valentine said she's eager to get started.

"This is a very fast-paced environment," she said. "What was really impressive is the culture here. You see everyone here caring for the patients and their families. If you get lost, you won't be lost for long. Someone will swoop in and ask you

Valentine said she wants OPMC to stay ahead of Clay County's rapid growth. The hospital has a top-tiered trauma center, and more than 116,000 patients came through the emergency room last year.

"You get a little bit of everything here," Valentine said. "My goal is to support the team here and serve the needs of the community. With all the construction and expansion, it can feel a little bit disruptive, but projects like this means we're growing. The crane and the noise are signs of progress. It means we're busy."

Valentine has been with HCA Healthcare since 1992, most recently as CEO for HCA's Summerville Medical Center located near Charleston, South Carolina. Valentine is returning home to Florida. She was raised in Live Oak and completed her bachelor's degree in Physical Therapy from the University of Florida.

"There were several things that attracted me to Orange Park Medical Center. This team is known for caring like family and clinical excellence. They really want to be the best and I love the fact that I get a chance to be a part of that," said Valentine. "Orange Park Medical Center has been here for 45 years. It's part of the fabric of this community and really integral to all the things that make it a great place to live, work and receive healthcare."

The $62 million patient bed tower set to open in the fall of 2020. The first floor will be used as a outpatient clinic, while two floors will create 48 additional beds to increase the facility to 365 licensed beds.

The hospital also recently opened a second freestanding emergency room Normandy Park ER and a $12 million hospital expansion housing cardiovascular labs and recovery rooms that are used to treat patients with irregular heart rhythm conditions.

"I'm really excited about the expansion project that's underway right now," Valentine said. "This hospital is going through incredible growth. It's a sign of progress and the community's confidence in the work we do here."

According to the Clay County Chamber, Clay County is on track to be the fastest growing county in the state. The county anticipates 12,000 homes to be built in the next decade.

Prior to her role as Chief Executive Officer at Summerville Medical Center, Valentine served in multiple HCA Healthcare roles including Chief Operating Officer of Henrico Doctors' Hospital. In addition, she served as Associate Administrator, Rehabilitation Service Line Administrator in the HCA Healthcare Richmond Market, and Rehabilitation Services Clinical Manager for Henrico Doctors' Hospital. Valentine is a Fellow of the American College of Healthcare Executives and earned her Master's Degree in Health Services Administration with honors from Virginia Commonwealth University and Bachelor of Science in Physical Therapy with honors from the University of Florida.

Valentine said she also will continue to emphasize the expansion of sub-specialty services like cardiovascular and pediatrics.

Hands-free law now in effect for school, work zones

CLAY COUNTY – Drivers now must be hands-free while driving through a construction or school zone.

The Wireless Communications While Driving Law went into effect on July 1 and it prohibits drivers from texting. A second part of the new law prohibits a driver from holding a wireless device in a designated school crossing and school or work zones.

The Clay County Sheriff's Office will be focused on catching offenders.

"The safety of our county's children doesn't have a price," the agency said. "Distracted driving does take lives, and school zones are an area where drivers especially, more than ever, need to be driving with undivided attention. We will enforce the law to its full scope, with warnings and then tickets when the educational period expires "

While it's illegal to text while driving, it's proven to be a difficult law to enforce since without cell phone records, it's not easy to prove a driver was texting.

The new law, however, doesn't have any wiggle-room, law enforcement said, since a driver can be cited for merely holding a phone in the restricted areas.

National 4-H Week highlights 110 years of inspiring youth

By Matthew Olson

UF/IFAS Extension 4-H Youth Development Agent

CLAY COUNTY – As you read the head-line for this article, I venture to guess that you thought "4-H, those kids are great at raising cows and growing corn." I don't blame you for thinking this as 4-H has a strong history in agriculture related programs. In fact, Florida 4-H was founded in 1909 with the purpose to educate boys on growing corn. From that beginning, 4-H has grown to become the nation's largest afterschool youth development organization in the United States.

With National 4-H week coming up October 6-12th, there are a few things I'd like you to know about the Florida 4-H Youth Development Program. The first, and most important detail is that Florida 4-H is a child's first class from the University of Florida. Yes. that's right. GO GATORS! Florida 4-H is a program of UF/IFAS Extension, which is a tripartite partnership involving The United States Department of Agriculture, The University of Florida, and County Governments. This unique partnership exists not only in Florida, but in every state, meaning 4-H can be found in every state, every county, and is available to every child age 5-18 in the United States.

Next up I'd like vou to know is that while 4-H has its humble beginnings growing corn, that's not all we do. During the past 110 years, Florida 4-H has grown to focus on helping a child to develop skills that will help them throughout their life. Through 4-H clubs, overnight camps, workshops, and other programs, we strive to help youth find their "spark," a passion or idea that everyone carries with them which brings them joy and hope. This can be anything from computer sciences, art, oceanography, agriculture, leadership... the possibilities are endless. If you have a child in Clay County Schools, you may have heard of them hatching chickens in their classroom, or the 4-H Tropicana public speaking contest. Both of those are 4-H programs and helped us to reach more than 13,000 youth last year in Clay County.

The last thing about 4-H that I'd like you to keep in mind is that our mission is nearly impossible without the fantastic volunteers who work with 4-H members.

An essential element of our 4-H youth development programs is a positive relationship with a caring adult. Most often this happens through our trained 4-H volunteers who work with 4-H members to facilitate the club meetings and learning. Our volunteers are passionate in sharing their knowledge about their own "sparks" whether is healthy lifestyles, beekeeping, raising a steer, or a whole host of possibilities. Last year, our 249 Clay County 4-H volunteers gave 7,787 volunteer hours which equates to over $187,000 of economic value.

My hope is that through this article, you have a better idea about what 4-H is and how we work with fantastic volunteers to help youth grow and find their "sparks." If you have a child that you'd like to get involved in 4-H, or are an adult who would like to share your knowledge with 4-H members, please feel free to give us a call. For more information about 4-H you can contact Matthew Olson at (904) 284-6355 or m.olson@ufl.edu.

JACKSONVILLE – In his post game speech, Oakleaf High football coach Frank Garis exclaimed to his team "welcome to 8A football!" after his Knights went into one of the most intimidating football environments in Duval county and earned a hard fought 37-22 district 1-8A win at Sanalwood.

"Our defensive goal was to contain number 10 (Sims)," said Garis. "They have guys all over the field that can score from anywhere. I thought we did a great job of allowing him not to hurt us in the passing game. Although our guys were gassed by the fourth quarter in fact both teams were gassed because it was that type of intense game."

Though, it was the first taste of 8A football for an Oakleaf team that has likely played one of the most difficult schedules in the state of Florida, defending 8A state champion Mandarin is next in just two weeks.

"We have to have depth to compete in 8A in order to survive all these great teams," said Garis. "Along with that,

Eagles's defense stumps Creekside

ST. JOHNS - The Fleming Island High football team flew into the Kingdom of the Creekside High Knights and built a defensive brick wall in the first half that the Knights could not break through on their first six possessions as the Golden Eagles stayed perfect with a 37-21 district win Friday night in St. Johns County.

"It was a huge motivator facing the number one ranked offense in northeast Florida," said Golden Eagle Head Coach Damenyum Springs, now 5-0. "We really had to step up in the passing defense with our defensive backs. They have one of the top ranked quarterbacks (Quinn Sieger) who likes to scramble. We worked all week on containing with our D-line and Linebackers. They stayed in their rush lanes and staved focused all night."

Offensively, Fleming Island amassed a 24-0 point lead heading into the half, then kept their foot smashed deep on the floor, never letting off as the Golden Eagles shut down the Knights with a 37-21 district win as the team heads into a much looked forward to BYE week before the team makes a three week run with the rest of their district opponents.

Broncos miscues lead to quick game gap

By Mike Zima Correspondent

JACKSONVILLE – Four first half turnovers doomed Middleburg at Jacksonville Lee as the Broncos dropped their District 2-6A opener 38-6 on Fri., Sept. 27 at Robert E. Lee High School.

The giveaways came at a most inopportune time for the Broncos, who were facing a Generals squad that had beaten defending state champions Raines and Mandarin in their previous two contests. Lee improved to 4-1, while Middleburg fell to 1-4.

"If we turn the ball over, we are not very good," said Broncos head coach Karl Smeltzer. "If we don't turn the ball over, we are pretty good."

It has been the story of the season so far for the Broncos, who have turned the ball over 10 times in their four losses, while winning by 35 points in their only turnover-free game.

"All of their points were points that we helped them with," lamented Smeltzer

The Broncos started strongly, forcing a punt on Lee's opening possession. But on Middleburg's first play from scrimmage, cornerback Isaiah Jones stepped in front of a quick hitch pass intended for Taj Gonsalves, intercepting it before stumbling to the turf at the Middleburg 26 yard line.

It took only two plays for the Generals to take advantage. Sophomore running back Alvin Gibson ran right for eight yards, then took an option pitch wide left, cut back inside and outran the Middleburg safeties to the end zone. Middleburg's Brody Senn blocked the extra point attempt.

A 43 yard punt return by Lee's Larry Smith gave the Generals another short field on their next possession. Again, Lee needed only two plays to score. Quarterback Cale Zarah ran for eight yards and then found Terry McKinney streaking open up the right sideline for an easy score and a 12-0 lead.

The Broncos fought gamely, marching into Lee's end of the field on each of their next three possessions. Each time, a turnover ended the threat, none more critical than quarterback Joe Justino's fumble inside the five yard line. With a first and goal at the six, Justino dropped back as if to pass, then charged up the middle. Simultaneous hits by Ralph Mincey from the right and Ahmahd Denmark from the left jarred the ball loose,

Golden Eagles XC puts four in Top 10

By Randy LefkoSports Editor

PONTE VEDRA – In a district eye-opening cross country clash, the Fleming Island High boys team said "Hello" at the St. Johns County-strong Craig Speziale Invitationl featuring the likes of Creekside, Ponte Vedra and Bartram Trail with a scintillating four top 10 runners and the team title Saturday afternoon at Ponte Vedra High School.

"Maybe not quite a scorched Earth approach for us, but a good effort," said Fleming Island's newest cross country coach Dave Allen. "We challenged our 3-4-5 guys to run together as a pack and they executed. John Brinkman (out last week with SAT testing) returning as the fifth finisher is a stong group for us."

Top finisher was Kameron Wallizada in second at 16 minutes, 26 seconds with teammate Will Livesay just three seconds behind him as the Golden Eagles stormed the field right from the start.

"We ran hard all week, a 12 miler on Monday, and a little off on Friday; only one thing matters, districts," said Allen. "Keeping Kameron healthy is a big shot in the arm for us."

In their new district 1-4 lineup, Fleming Island now clashes with former 3A powers Creekside (3rd), Ponte Vedra (9th) and Bartram Trail (5th) as well as Nease (7th).

For Livesay and Wallizada, who were a big part of the Fleming Island boys team getting a much-sought after state meet berth last year, the goal is to go big in the new district.

"Kam and I started strong and wanted to keep contact with the Creekside guys," said Livesay. "I turned an ankle about two miles in and my foot went numb. I tried to just run through it and finish strong."

Wallizada stayed up front to battle with the Creekside front runner, eventual winner Owen Taylor in 16:14, while Creekside's second finisher, Mac Williams, fifth at 16:43, tried to hang on to the lead pack.

"I took the lead at the two mile mark in 10:25 and just kept pushing," said Wallizada. "I saw Will like 15 meters behind me and knew I had to go. I opened at 5:08. That first guy hit the first mile in 4:55."

Fleming Island dominated the top 10 places with Landon Opp in at 16:40 for fourth and Jayden Scherer sixth at 16:49. Brinkman would finish at 19th in 17:25.

"We get that fifth guy in, maybe Brinkman, then we get the perfect race," said Livesay.

Livesay noted that running against Creekside, Bartram Trail and Ponte Vedra has its own rivalry set up.

"Last year, the big challenge was Buch-holz and us, but now that everyone is together, it makes it more challenging," said Livesay. "It makes us work harder."

Also getting top finishes were Oakleaf High senior Ajani Stokes, who was the Knights top entrant with senior Dylan Nelson nursing an ankle injury, and Middleburg High senior John Scholz.

Stokes, in at 11th in 17:05, has the confidence of coach James Henderson to create a strong duo, with Nelson, in the district championship race.

"He runs right with Dylan all day in practice and just had to keep that confidence when the races come up," said Henderson. "He needed this race as a breakout race to do that."

Scholz, a fast starter for coach Paul Grybb, blasted with Wallizada at the start then battled to a 21st place finish in 17:28.

"I keep attacking from the gun and I keep getting better times," said Scholz, who bettered his 17:40 from the Florida Horse Farm race two weeks ago. "If I can hold on a little longer each race, I should be under 17 by districts."

In the girls varsity race, Middleburg High, led by Emma Mussante's 21:16 for 19th finished 10th with Oakleaf, led by Kylie Loving at 49th in 22:40 finished 12th.

2018, faced off with 5A Final Four Episcopal (9-9 overall with a schedule that included recent losses to No. 2 7A-Riverview Sarasota (16-5), 4A-Lake Highland Prep (15-2), No. 9 6A-Fort Myers (12-3, region semis 2018), 5A-Ponte Vedra (12-4, region semis 2018) and 4A-Santa Fe (11-3, 6A runnerup 2018 No. 2 4A 2019) with the Golden Eagles falling 3-2 in a grinder in a hot Fleming Island High School gym. With game scores of 22-25, 27-25 in the first two, then 29-27 and 25-22 in the next two, the two teams entered into a hotly contested overtime set to determine a winner.

In the final set, Episcopal stormed to an 11-9 lead, but Fleming Island shut down the Episcopal offense behind Emma Richard spikes at the net to take a 14-11 lead. Episcopal regrouped and got the game to 15-15 before a questionable call on a hit off the net gave Episcopal the 17-15 final and match point.

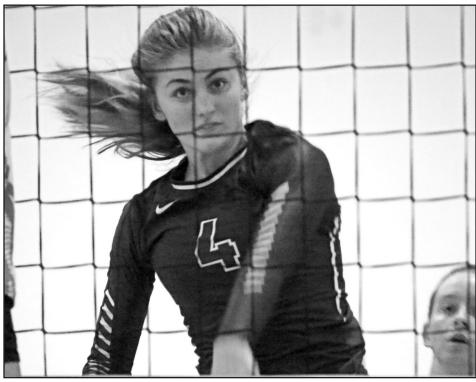

"I hate that this game (Episcopal) came down to a blatant missed called at the net," said Walker. "It was a good match. We hadn't had a game in a week with the hurricane and then trying to reschedule games."

Fleming Island did have a scheduled match with Tallahassee Leon for Mon., Sept. 30, but the match was cancelled.

After Episcopal, Fleming Island took out Fletcher, 3-1, behind a front line attack of 12 kills from Maya Walker and Jasmine Robinson and 11 from Richards, in a key district game before entertaining Ponte Vedra and Santa Fe on a unique Saturday tri-meet. Fletcher opened with a 27-25 win before the Golden Eagles stormed to game wins of 25-13, 25-20 and 25-22.

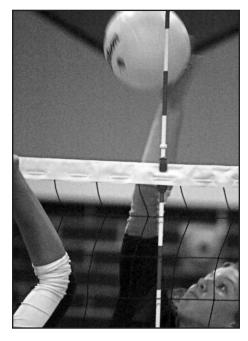

Against Ponte Vedra in a morning match at Fleming Island High, the Golden Eagles won game one 25-23 in the best of three format, but had to fight back after losing game two, 25-22, to win in three 21-19. Richards was the lone hitter in double figures with 10 kills as the height advantage at Ponte Vedra held Walker and Robinson to just five kills apiece.

"Emma has become kind of a counter puncher for us with Maya and Jasmine both right handers," said Walker. "Being a left handed hitter, Emma gets some high percentage shots as blockers tend to lean right."

In the third game of the afternoon, with Santa Fe beating Ponte Vedra in game two, Fleming Island lost 24-26, 25-23 and 12-15 with Richards at nine kills leading the team.

Also throwing a little three-time district champion weight around, the Ridgeview High volleyball girls ended September with a flurry with six straight wins starting with Father Lopez in the JJVA tournament and continuing with wins over Middleburg, Fletcher (9-2), Keystone Heights, Yulee (15-4) and Baker County to push their record to 13-4 overall to top their district 3-5A lineup. Middleburg and Orange Park are both chasing with seven wins with Stanton at six wins.

For October, Ridgeview has Stanton, Fleming Island, Orange Park and Robert E. Lee to finish with coach Destiny Brightman highly anticipating a throwdown with her former Orange Park High mentor Amy Walker at Fleming Island on October 3.

"I think we are finally finding our identity on the court and realizing that we all have skills to win games," said Brightman. "The Fletcher win was big for us and the Middleburg win was a first time win for Ridgeview over Middleburg in a long time."

The Panthers are getting stellar scoring play from returning senior Shaniece Steer with 155 kills leading the team with sophomore Elaina Reynolds adding a strong 122 scores.

"We had to find her sweet spot on the court," said Brightman. "She's a great jumper."

Returning to bolster her blocking skills from last year is senior Devinn Nickson, who leads the team with 26 snuffs at the net. In the same district 3-5A, Middleburg has been taking some lumps with play against the likes of Bartram Trail, Tampa Catholic in tournament play with a Mon., Sept. 30 match at Bishop Kenny.

In district 3-4A, the Keystone Heights High Lady Indians (7-9) are pushing to stay with district leaders Yulee (15-4) and Fernandina Beach (14-8) as playoffs loom.

our best players have to make great plays which they did tonight."

The Oakleaf offense sputtered early on their first possession; perhaps adjusting to the intense sunlight and heat due to the early 6pm kickoff for Duval county schools. The defense struggled also on their first appearance as Sandlewood quarterback and Florida State commit Jeff Sims ran for 26 yards on a third down to set up the Saints at the Oakleaf 37 yard line. Two plays later Sims would find Bowling Green commit Javonte Robinson for a 28 yard touchdown pass and a 7-0 lead five minutes into the game and bringing the capacity crowd to their feet on homecoming night.

Oakleaf quarterback Walter Simmons III would quickly find his mojo converting a third down run 12 yards to the 43 yard line. Simmons III would find his favorite target, wide receiver Sean Washington, on a 26 yard pass to the Saints 17 yard line. Simmons would later find Washington on a 14 yard touchdown pass to tie the game at seven with 3:23 left in the first quarter.

Sandlewood would quickly drive down the field on a 32 yard pass to Robinson to the Oakleaf 38 yard line. The drive would stall when Miami commit Chantz Williams chased down Sims for a sack and 14 yard loss Simmons III would a seven yard touchdown pass to Terrance Anthony for a 14-7 lead early in the second quarter.

"Based on their defense, we knew we would have opportunities to run the quarterback. Walter did a great job of finding chunks of yards and making smart decisions" said Garis.

A 29 yard field goal by Damian Rogers got a 17-7 Oakleaf lead with just under five minutes until halftime.

over one minute until halftime. The Saints would score on the next play with a 20 yard touchdown pass to Robinson with 1:01 left in the half.

Most teams would run one or two plays up the middle and be happy with a halftime lead considering the team just turned the ball over on their last possession, but most teams don't have the firepower the Knights possess. They came out throwing and a great one handed catch by Washington that netted 23 yards to the Sandlewood 33 yard line put the Saints on their heels. Simmons III then scrambled to the 16 yard line with :15 left and added a pass to Anthony to the three yard line with eight seconds left. Chantz Williams powered his way in for the touchdown at the buzzer for a 24-14 commanding halftime lead.

"I was really impressed with our offense and their decision making on that last drive before half. Taking the clock all the way down to zero and scoring a touchdown was huge," said Garis. In the third quarter, a Sandalwood drive drive would stall after a pass was caught but the ball was lost after a vicious Oakleaf hit allowed the ball to pop into the air. Knights defensive lineman GerJuan Brown sprinted and stretched out like a nimble safety for an interception at the Knights 39 yard line. Oakleaf would then go to the "ground and pound" with Williams again lining up at quarterback and bull his way up the middle for his second touchdown of the game and a 30-14 lead one minute into the fourth quarter. Rogers would miss the extra point to keep the Saints within two possessions of tying the game.

Williams again made a huge play with a third down sack to force a Saints punt that Omahr Toliver would return 40 yards to the Saints 27 yard line. However, a missed fourth down and one yard to go gave Sandalwood one more shot. However, the Saints would again turn the ball over on downs after a key second down sack by Knights defensive end Josh Murrell forced a long fourth down conversion attempt that failed

Simmons III would fumble on the next possession with 3:46 left trying to run out the clock on the ground and fatigue started to set in on both teams in this battle of heavyweight programs.

Sandlewood would complete a 36 yard pass to Robinson to the Oakleaf 43 yard line then Sims would find Kinsey for a another 36 yard completion to the Oakleaf seven yard line before scoring and suddenly the Saints were within one score and needing one defensive stop to get the ball back.

Simmons III would close the door on any comeback with a 53 yard touchdown run with 2:15 left in the game to up the lead to 37-22. Defensive back Jordan Randall would close the door completely with an interception on the first Saints play to seal the all important opening district game road win.

three and out punt. Fleming Island had their jitters as well as quarterback Dean Hyams was picked off on a third down with four yards to go. On the counter, the defense again came through as Fleming Island defensive end Jeremiah "the Bus" Jackson came up with a fumble recovery that put the Golden Eagles right back in the driver's seat.

Fleming Island fullback T. K. Kocak had his number called early with the Wild Cat offense that pushed in the last 23 yards in five plays to put Fleming Island up 7-0 when Kocak used his offensive line to open a gaping hole behind tackle Evan Sheets for an 11 yard score.

"The O-line did amazing tonight. I have to give them all the credit," said a humble Kocak as he evaluated his performance. "Our defense really stuck in there and our D-backs were absolutely amazing. We practiced all week on the scramble drills, knowing this Quarterback moves out of the pocket. It really paid off."

After another Creekside three downs and out, it was kicker Garrett Godfrey with the nod for a 33 yard field goal, 10-0.

Another Knights three and out, and another Golden Eagle drive, this time highlighted with a Broden Domenico 25 yard reception, a Timmy Thomas 16 yard run, and a four vard Thomas touchdown at 8:31 of the second quarter, 17-0.

Another Knights three and out punt, and another Golden Eagle drive with back to back one-two punches with Domenico catches, and Thomas runs that had Creekside on their heels. As the Knights tried to shut down the one-two combination. Kaleb Seybolt was open on a third and 13 situation, taking it to the house to go up 24-0 at the half, stunning the Knights.

"Our coaches warned us this is one of the best second half teams we'll see," said Thomas. "The three games they won, were all comeback wins. At Nease, they were down like 30 points. We were not going to let up either."

Asked to grade his performance, Thomas was extremely hard on himself.

"B+. I did okay," said Thomas. "I demand perfection out of myself. When I transferred from Middleburg. I wasn't that good with my vision of the field. Coach Anderson helped me to see all of the field and opened my eyes a little more."

Knowing the Knights were a second half team, Fleming Island came out of the half break on fire. Taking the kickoff from deep in their own end due to a penalty, the Golden Eagles drove deep until they faced a fourth down and called on Godfrey once again. From 31 yards, Godfrey stayed perfect on the night for a 27-0 lead.

On the counter drive, Creekside saw their first points with a deep pass to the right corner, 27-7.

After the kickoff, Fleming Island started on their six yard line, and went back to Thomas for a 56 yard run, backed up with a 19 varder that threw ice on any hopes Creekside started to build.

As the game moved to the fourth quarter, the Fleming Drive was capped with another Kocak Wildcat look that faked out Creekside as the ball was handed off to freshman tailback Sam Singleton who went around the left corner to put Fleming Island up 34-7. "He is an absolute stud,!" said Kocak of Singleton. "He's only a freshman and is super-fast. Just an awesome running back." Creekside came back, facing a fourth down and little time left for any comeback, went for it, and turned the ball over on downs. The next drive was a Singleton highlight reel as Fleming Island drove and faced fourth down again. Godfrey would come in and nail a career long 39 yarder that had a good 5-7 yards behind the crossbar, putting the Golden Eagles up 37-7.

"I was ready to hit it from wherever the coaches asked" said Godfrey. "It's up to the coaches in the end. I'm not perfect but my goal is to make every kick and get points on the board for my team.'

Creekside, going for it on another fourth down, found an open receiver in the endzone to move to 37-14 with 3:37 to play.

Fleming Island would make their only punt of the game on their last drive with 1:00 to play. Creekside took advantage of the non-starters in the game and drove for a no-time on the clock touchdown for the 37-21 final that will move Fleming Island up, and Creekside down in the district.

The only sore spot on the night was Golden Eagle holding penalties.

"We minimized our offensive line holds" said Springs. "Now we have to step up on our receivers more and help them (with holding penalties).

Asked for his highlight, Springs was proud of his defensive backs. "We were not tested like this yet in the beginning of the year. Last week against Ridgeview they were tested, and tonight we matched up real good because Creekside is the number one passing team. I'm real proud of these guvs

Dreadnaughts pound St. Augustine

By Randy Lefko Sports Editor

FLEMING ISLAND - On a blistery hot Saturday morning, the Fleming Island Dreadnaughts Mighty Mites football team opened with a 78 yard scoring run from tailback Tristan Stevenson en route to a 31-0 win at Fleming Island High School.

After defensive stop at their own 10 yard line after St. Augustine went 60 yards on their opening play, the Dreadnaughts got tackles for losses from Wyatt Raposa, Jonathan Riley and Jaidyn Gomez to set up Stevenson's house call on the Dreadnaughts ensuing series.

Fleming Island locked down St. Augustine in their next series with Ryan Siliac breaking through for a tackle for loss on third and five.

After the punt, with Rapoza dancing for 15 yards on the return, the Dreadnaughts offense went right to work with Reese Miller pounding for a 36 yard scoring run and a 13-0 lead. Brody Arnett took a sideline pass from quarterback Raposa and dove in for the PAT points.

A massive sack by defensive end Isaiah Hrabal put St. Augustine at fourth and 15 on the next series with a punt putting the Dreadnaughts back on offense.

On a third and 14 play that included a bad center snap, Stevenson rumbled through the center of the St. Augustine defense to a 38 yard scoring scamper and a 19-0 lead that last to the half.

Fleming Island would add 12 points in the second half for the 31-0 win.

Raiders chase Nease, Bartram Trail at SJRAC swim meet

Districts: Oct. 21-28

Wallace-to-Hampton fuels win

By Randy Lefko Sports Editor

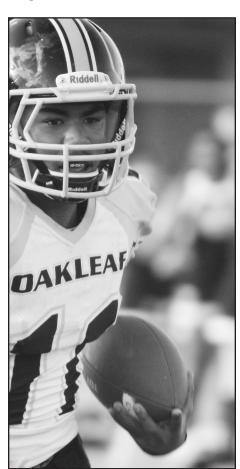

ORANGE PARK – Just before halftime. the Oakleaf Junior High football tandem of guarterback Brandon Wallace and D.J. Hampton scorched the secondary of the Orange Park Junior High defense for a 13 yard quick slant and a 64 yard bomb for scores as the Yellow Jackets cruised to a 34-12 win Thursday night at Orange Park High School.

A scoreless first quarter left both teams looking for offense as Wallace was unable to click with his passing game.

As the halftime break loomed, with 4:57 to go, Wallace struck first with Hampton on a quick slant in the end zone from 13 yards out. That touchdown was set up from a fumble recovery from defensive tackle Javaughn Rollins of a massive sack attack from teammate Elijah "Pork Chop" Schevchook put Oakleaf's offense back on

On the next Oakleaf series, Hampton lofted a pass in front of the Yellow Jacket sideline with coach Merlin Smith looking skyward to the long ball as it landed in the grasp of Hampton again for the 64 yard score that ended the half.

Wallace and Hampton would hit for another pass score in the second half to end the game at 34-12.

Ridgeview High cheerleader coach Aimee Stutz invited a cadre of young cheerers to join the Panthers sideline cheerleaders in Friday's county clash with Orange Park High School.

Monroe on fourth and two at the Raider 40 in the first quarter. On that first offensive series that started at the Panther four yard line after Tuisano's stuff of Raider tailback Alex Collier on fourth down, Monroe was able to move the ball equally with running back Ray Gonzalez slicing through the Raider defense, scatback Rolando Gray taking a quick outside pass for 16 yards and wide out Spencer Calise snaring an 18 yard pass to the Raider 40.

In the second half, with both teams looking to curb the turnovers, Monroe set up the first score of the night despite a near interception by Udell on first down at the Panther seven.

Monroe would misfire twice on passes before scampering 15 yards on third down to keep the drive alive with Gray snatching a 15 yarder to the Panther 43.

From there, Monroe found Calise down the Panther sideline with defensive back Parris Taylor lagging behind about two steps. Calise caught the pass at the Raider 30 and outran Taylor to the Raider four yard line. Monroe would dive in for the score with Austin Leonard's kick giving Ridgeview a 7-0 lead with 6:01 left in the third period.

Orange Park again moved the ball downfield with Udell catching a 20 yard pass on the Raider 40 that got 10 more yards for an helmet-to-helmet tackle by Panther safety Glenn Miller that put Orange Park at the 50. Orange Park got nine yard runs from Walker and Collier to the Panther 30 in what looked like a response to the Panther score, but Walker missed Udell on third down and Soto on fourth down in the end zone.

Three incompletes by Monroe set up a punt that Raider defensive back Cameron Broughton got a piece of to put Orange Park at the Panther 26. Walker made quick work of the opportunity; hitting Collier for a 22 yard scoring pass just a minute later to tie the score at 7-7. Kendy Charles knocked in the PAT kick as well as the ensuing kickoff.

Forced out of the pocket, Monroe was intercepted by Dixon on the next series to put the Raiders offense back on the field at midfield. Charles would miss wide left on a 15 yard field goal attempt.

After a fourth quarter opening series dominated by Raider linebacker Jordan McCray, the Raiders started from the Ridgeview 23 after a punt.

From the 23, Walker made quick work with an 18 vard pass to Udell to the Panther 20 and a successful fourth and two plunge by Collier to the Panther 13. Handoffs to Collier and Terrance Johnson would put Orange Park on the one where Walker hit Dixon on a quick slant in the end zone with Panther defensive back Matthew Dve battling for the ball as the pair hit the turf. Panther linebacker Dillon Torrefranca blocked the extra point with 7:44 left in the game to put the game at 13-7.

A late hit on Monroe on first down moved the Panthers up to the 25 yard line after a sack by Lashun Arnold put Ridgeview at their own 10. A defensive hold gave Ridgeview 10 yards back to the Panther 35, but Ji'Ovanni Fowlin tripped up Monroe to lose four. A handoff to Gray got 10, but Monroe missed on a jump pass to end the series.

Orange Park looked like they were heading to another score with a four first down drive behind a Udell pass of 11 yards and eight yard pass to Soto got the Raiders to midfield.

Collier would pop off a 44 yard scoring run in front of the Panther sideline, but a hold penalty negated the score with a minute to go.

Udell nearly snagged a second interception on first down on the Panthers' final series, but the game ended with Ridgeview on their own 30.

Orange Park travels to Bishop Kenny for their next game with Ridgeview taking on Middleburg at Middleburg High School.

By Randy Lefko Sports Editor

OCALA - In a preview of the upcoming district 2-3A boys golf tournament, set for October 15 at Golf Club of Fleming Island, the Fleming Island High boys team battled to a sixth place finish in a tough field at the Wildcat Invitational in Ocala after finishing second to Bartram Trail in the St. Johns River Athletic Conference championships in Palatka.

Freshman Colton Swartz continued his red-hot play with a 3-over par 75 for 18 holes in Ocala for ninth overall to give the Golden Eagles 311 strokes; just 14 strokes away from team champion Winter Park, the defending 3A champions. The sixth place finish was Fleming Island highest in the three year history of the tournament which featured area powerhouses Bartram Trail (328, 7th in 3A 2018), Ponte Vedra (329, 2A champ 2018), Creekside (337) and Oakleaf (381). Top five were Winter Park, Ocala Forest, Windermere (5th in 3A 2018), Lake Mary and Bishop Moore (5th in 2A 2018).

Fleming Island finished second with 300 strokes to Bartram Trail's 296 in the SJRAC championships. Andrew Lonsdale's 74 led the scoring for the Golden Eagles Fleming Island freshman Colton Swartz has had the hot hand with five first place finishes including a Tuesday win over Fletcher, 160-169 in a district 2-3A clash. The win raises the team record to 9-2-1. The Golden Eagles were to face District 3-3A champion, 1-3A region runnerup Bartram Trail on Wed., Oct. 2. and it was recovered by the Generals' Jai Robinson at the two yard line.

"We were going in to make it 12-6 or 12-8, and that could have made it a different ball game," said Smeltzer.

The Broncos defense held firm, though, and Middleburg had a second chance to pull within one score. Taking possession at their own 45, the Broncos secured a first down at the Lee 40 yard line. After an illegal motion penalty nullified a 12 yard gain, a Justino throw was tipped by Generals linebacker Devin Smith and corralled by Jones, who returned his second theft 27 yards to the Middleburg 33 yard line. On the next play, Zarah, who finished with three touchdowns passing and one rushing score, hit McKinney in stride streaking up the seam for a touchdown. A slant pass for a two-point conversion stretched the Generals' lead to 20-0 with 4:27 remaining in the second quarter.

A juggling catch by the Generals' Jeremy Robinson after Smith's theft gained 37 yards, putting Lee in position for a Hail Mary. An apparent touchdown on the next play was nullified by a penalty, but the referees gave the hosts one more untimed down. Zarah, under heavy pressure from both edges, circled to his left and threw a high spiral that was caught in the end zone by Gibson. A slant pass to Robinson made the score 28-0 at the intermission.

The Broncos began the second half with a drive that finally resulted in points, Aided by three personal fouls against Lee, Middleburg's Justino crashed through a pile at the goal line on a quarterback draw for the final six yards. Lee's McKinney blocked the extra point attempt.

Both offenses had difficulty in the final 12 minutes with Lee scoring a safety on a botched punt snap.

"I expected the whole game to be like the second half," said Smeltzer, whose Broncos were outscored in the final two periods only 10-6. "Our entire team plays extremely hard, but you have got to play your best against teams like this.'

New breast imaging technique makes breast cancer easier to see and reduces false positives.

3D mammography (digital breast tomosynthesis) is approved by the FDA and is quickly becoming the standard of care for breast cancer screening. Because it's a newer technology, 3D screening mammography is not available at all screening facilities – but it's now available at Baptist Clay Medical Campus.

3D screening mammography is different from a 2D mammogram:

- 3D mammography makes it easier to see the layers of breast tissue, allowing for better cancer detection.
- 2D mammograms take one picture across the entire breast, in two directions: top to bottom and side to side. Unclear or suspicious findings from 2D views can increase the need for additional imaging and also lead to more false positives.

Ask your doctor to recommend a facility that offers 3D mammograms. Or simply contact Baptist Clay, now offering easy-to-schedule appointments for 3D screening mammograms.

3D mammography is designed to overcome these limitations. 3D imaging technology moves in an arc around the breast to take X-ray pictures from many angles in seconds. A computer quickly assembles the pictures to produce clear, highly focused 3D images.

This allows the radiologist to view the entire breast, layer by layer, for a more accurate screening — especially important for anyone with dense breast tissue or patients with an increased risk of breast
