Lakeside Elementary puts its heart behind fundraising project

By Wesley LeBlanc
 wesley@opcfla.com

ORANGE PARK – Lakeside Elementary put their money – and hearts – into the American Heart Association in honor of two of its popular figures.

Brayden Riddle is a third-grade student who's undergone multiple open-heart surgeries. Jacob Reed's grandfather, collectively referred to as "Pops" by the entire school, recently had a heart attack. The school, which has fewer than 800 students, worked together to help the two by raising money for the AHA.

"We've been doing this for as long as I've been here,

Lakeside Elementary has raised more than $18,000 this year for its annual American Heart Association fundraising drive. Students earn prizes like special AHA capes, chances to slime their principal and more for raising money for the drive.

Orange Park decides

Mastandrea looking for another three years on Town Council

Councilman touts his role in town keeping its Emergency Services departments

(In the first installment of a weekly series, candidates for the Orange Park Town Council will be profiled. This week, Seat 3 incumbent Roland Mastandrea is looking for re-election in his race against John Hauber. Next week, Virginia Hall, the incumbent for Seat 4, will be profiled, in her race against Susana Thompson.)

By Wesley LeBlanc
wesley@opcfla.com

Council member Roland Mastandrea hopes Orange Park residents recognize the work he's done the past three years and vote to give him another three years on the dais.

ORANGE PARK – Roland Mastandrea wants another three years on the town council'

Mastandrea was elected in 2017 and his term is up this April. The past three years of his time on the dais has only convinced him that working for the town is his calling and his list of goals is how he plans to fill another three years. The only thing standing in between him and another three years is newcomer challenger, John Hauber.

"I ran for office three years ago for several reasons with several goals and I have to say that I believe I accomplished every single one of them," Mastandrea said. "What I have found since then is that there is more I can do. I have the ability and I have the time to put into this town and that's what I want to do."

Mastandrea is proud of a lot of things the town has accomplished since 2017. At the top of that list is helping the town's emergency management services gain its independence. A longstanding conflict between the county and the town, Orange Park residents and council members were heavily in favor of bringing ambulance and fire services back under the umbrella of the town.

"The county wanted to take it over and obviously the town wanted to keep it, and we worked to bring it back to the town and here we are," Mastandrea said. "One of my other goals that I believe I accomplished goes hand in hand with this: the relationship between Orange Park and the county. Over the past several years prior to my council, it wasn't a good relationship and it was very adversarial.

"As one of the five elected officials, I had a hand in helping the Town of Orange Park keep its EMS department while also amending the relationship between our body and that of the county."

Mastandrea is also proud of his hand in helping the town acquire a grant writer. He said the town was years behind when it came to securing federal and state dollars for project funding. The grant writer has already brought thousands of dollars back to the town since then, according to Mastandrea.

"We're bringing more tax dollars back to the town than has ever been done before and I'm happy to say that I'm a part of that," he said. "I want to continue to be a part of it."

He's also proud of his involvement in approving the controversial Orange Park Plaza project.

"There was a group of residents... not huge in the grand scheme of Orange Park's population...but a group who were adamant against the development," Mastandrea said. "We took a real beating as a council from them, but we made the right call based on concrete factual evidence."

Mastandrea said approving the development was about taking into mind the concerns of citizens and cross analyzing that with actual evidence. He said those against it would bring up overcrowding Orange Park streets with traffic. He said they weren't traffic experts so they didn't actually know, and he said traffic experts said otherwise. The same goes for schools, according to Mastandrea. He said those against the plaza said it would lead to the schools becoming overcrowded.

"They weren't experts on that either," Mastandrea said. "We actually talked with the school district and they were in support of this."

The controversy is still there, especially his very public dispute with two residents and his failed request the Town's insurance policy pay his legal expenses in the dispute, but the project was passed and Mastandrea said he looks forward to working with the town, town staff and the developers to bring the project to life over the next few years. It's one of the things highest on his list of goals for a potential second term, right beside the town's visioning.

"The vision is going to significantly change the Town of Orange Park financially, visually and residentially, and it's going to help with things like the town's walkability, support of local businesses, and parks and recreation," Mastandrea said. "The council has been very serious about this and it's something we're going to continue to do."

Mastandrea wants to continue work on visioning, attack new revenue sources in light of less sales tax and less gas tax revenue rolling in due to COVID-19 and so much more but all of that will be decided this April by the voters he's served since 2017.

"I love this council that we have now," Mastandrea said. "We are all pro-Orange Park and I just see the possibility for so much more to be accomplished and I'm confident that I can help make it all happen. I love what I do and I want to keep doing it."

BEST OF CLAY nominations begins at midnight, Feb. 17 for local Clay County businesses.

All nominations and voting will be done online at www.claytodayonline.com

We are gearing up to begin the 2021 "Best of Contest" and can't hardly imagine the engagement from the Clay County community through the nomination and voting period as it will be bigger than we experienced last year.

The annual contest is an excellent opportunity for local businesses, charities, clubs and individuals to promote that business, charity or themselves.

This year's nominations start on Wednesday, Feb. 17 at midnight.

A business only needs to be nominated one time to be entered into a specific category. Nominations run through March 18 at 11:59 p.m.

Anyone can register to vote, and you can cast one vote a day for each category.

For this year the 2021 contest businesses will again have the chance to promote on each of our digital products as well as through word of mouth, business associations, the Clay County Chamber of Commerce as well as their own social media, friends and family and employees.

Once the contest ends Clay Today will gather winners from the special online contest and publish a very special listing of the Best of the Best of Clay County.

As your family-owned local media company since 1950 and ownership for more than a century, thank you for being a community to us.

Thank you for spending part of your day with our products, for trusting us and relying on us.

By a wide margin, more people today read the Clay Today and Associated Newspaper Products than ever before, and for that we are grateful.

Plan now to visit our website at www.claytodayonline.com to nominate and cast your vote for the BEST OF CLAY nominee of your choice for BEST OF CLAY contest.

Keep Public Notices in full view

By Jon Cantrell
Clay Today Publisher

A bill approved by a Florida House committee on Feb. 3 will be sent to the floor later this month that would effectively end the practice of placing public notices in newspapers for local governments' most important actions, such as meetings, new ordinances, rezoning, the establishment of new districts and property tax rate changes.

Jon Cantrell

House Bill 35, which also applies to notices of storage unit sales and fictitious name registrations, dubs itself as a cost-saving measure for local governments. It gives them the option to publish legal notices online – on a local government's website or a third-party website – if that costs less than newspaper publication. By moving to an online-only system, local governments would leave millions of people who do not have access to the internet in the dark when it comes to their local governments' dealings.

It would also give government more control over that information.

Each week, 6.8 million Floridians read printed daily and weekly newspapers, according to the Florida Press Association, of which the USA TODAY Network is a member. So, arguments that House Bill 35 makes sense because "no one reads newspapers nowadays" are clearly wrong.

Public and legal notices are also posted at no additional charge on newspapers' websites and a website maintained by the Association, floridapublicnotices.com. Newspapers must also provide email notification of new legal notices when they are printed in the newspaper and added to the website.

Can you think of the last time you visited our counties official URL? Do you even know it? A newspaper's web audience is about 10 times larger than most cities and county websites, according to the Press Association. Unless people go looking for notices, they won't see them. In the paper, they stumble upon them while reading the news.

Of course, public notices do represent a source of revenue for newspapers across Florida, including Clay Today. Some reading this editorial might assume we're trying to protect our bottom line. (That bottom line, by the way, ensures local jobs

Parents need to be more involved with protecting children against internet crimes

By Don Coble
Managing Editor

CLAY COUNTY – Last Tuesday was Safer Internet Day in the United States and another 140 countries around the world. It also was National Cut the Cord Day, National Bagel and Lox Day, National Pizza Day and National Toothache Day.

While other national days are set aside to celebrate things like umbrellas, chopsticks, bubble gum, Ferris wheels, cabbage, vacuums, shower with a friend and crab-stuffed flounder, there is nothing whimsical or amusing about having to place attention on the very real problem of keeping our children safe from the dark dangers of the world wide web.

Too many of our children are being exploited online by predators. What's even more alarming is, parents often are clueless about the abuse.

For the Internet Crimes Against Children and Human Trafficking department at the Clay County Sheriff's Office, it's a very real issue that demands their attention every day of the year, not just Feb. 9.

"It is a challenge," said Det. Ryan Ellis. "It's one of those things, even though technology is not new, if you think about other illicit things or things that have been made illegal, such as drugs or at one point, even alcohol, those things have been around for thousands of years. We have technology that in the big picture of mankind, it's fairly new.

"Even though people know that it's dangerous, it hasn't quick had the time and the attention that's needed like other things have, like firearms and safety and drugs and why certain things are harmful. Drinking and driving has been around way longer than a Smartphone. It is a constant battle. I have a couple sayings that unfortunately end up telling parents where their children are victims or have been involved in something like this, is: 'Smartphones are too smart for kids, sometimes; and kids aren't smart enough for a Smartphone.' The internet is such a mature place."

Ellis' job is daunting. He pours through disgusting and disturbing evidence every day to lock up people who take advantage of our children. Just in the past two weeks, his department arrested two local men who've been charged with multiple counts of possessing illicit photos and videos of children having sex.

And during the pandemic there's been an increase in activity, Ellis said.

"We've seen an uptick and we've been extremely busy, unfortunately," he said. "I joke with people sometimes I could find something else to do or we could go get cats out of trees or help people cross the road, it's shame there's such a need for it."

His office tells parents there are are maintained, not just in journalism but in marketing, circulation, page and graphic design, finance and other sectors).

While House Bill 35 would small weekly newspapers like Clay Today as well as larger newspapers like the Miami Herald financially... it would hurt you, too.

This notion everyone is online is simply not true. We learned that lesson during the COVID-19 vaccine rollout, when many Florida communities required seniors to go online to register for an appointment, causing confusion and frustration for those unable to navigate the web (luckily, the state has rolled out a new system). With more than 4 million Florida residents ages 65 and older, moving important public notices entirely online hurts them – 14% of Florida’s seniors do not have internet access, according to a 2019 Nielsen Scarborough report.

It also baffles us the Legislature would do away with existing private-industry infrastructure to allow government to take over the process with no supervision. If governments decide to re-create the functionality of the existing online system (a system that allows you to search all public notices in the state on the same website instead of hundreds of city and county ones), they will incur significant costs.

If governments decide to do it on the cheap by posting notices on an obscure webpage, the public will lose easy access to crucial information. That should be enough for lawmakers of any party in a state known for its government-in-the-sunshine laws to reject House Bill 35 filed by Rep. Randy Fine of Brevard County.

HB 35 would still require governments to post a notice, at least annually, in a newspaper or other publication to all residents and property owners offering them the alternative to receive legal notices by first-class mail or email after registering with the agency.

The cost of doing that might eat into whatever governments save by not running all notices in the paper, a Florida House staff analysis of HB 35 found.

“The cost associated with this requirement, and with subsequently providing the notices, may offset to an unknown amount the savings realized from online notice publication,” according to the analysis.

Florida lawmakers must answer: Does dismantling a private-industry infrastructure and replacing it with a government operation serve taxpayers when savings might not be as big as promised? How would the public know important notices or controversial actions are not hidden from view?

Let our local lawmakers know your opinion.

COVID-19: A little discomfort now worth not catching deadly virus

By Wesley LeBlanc
wesley@opcfla.com

CLAY COUNTY – More people are getting their second dose of the COVID-19 vaccine and the side effects can be surprising if you aren’t aware of them.

The first dose brings with it side effects that you might expect: soreness in the arm, perhaps a low-grade fever and a touch of drowsiness, but that’s easy-mode compared to what some are feeling after the second dose.

There’s nothing to be alarmed of, though. These effects fade within 24 hours and are a small price to pay in order to receive a vaccine that is not only keeping you safe.

Trials for both the Moderna and Pfizer vaccines shown the chances of contracting COVID-19 are dramatically reduced, especially after a few weeks for the body to build immunity. Research, however, isn’t clear whether those vaccinated can still spread the virus.

I have multiple family members who have received the COVID-19 vaccine. Two of them are frontline workers – one is a doctor and the other is a firefighter – and both experienced similar side effects after the second dose. Both said they would endure it again if they had to because it’s protecting them and those they come into contact with on the job and in their personal lives.

“I got my second dose of the Moderna COVID-19 vaccine at 1 p.m. on Feb. 2,” the firefighter said. “I felt fine until about 12 hours later where I woke up and could hardly sleep from having chills. The next morning, I had a fever, felt achy, had a headache, and no appetite for basically the whole day.”

The following morning after feeling sick on Feb. 3, he felt 100% fine. He’s been fine ever since and even more comforted knowing his body is more prepared than ever to fend off COVID-19, a virus that’s killing thousands every day.

The doctor in my family received her second dose about a week before the firefighter. She felt similar symptoms.

“The second dose vaccine side effects started about six hours after the vaccination,” she said. “I had full-body aches like with the flu, major chills, fatigue and my temperature reached 100.5 Fahrenheit. I was on Tylenol and Advil around the clock and basically slept most of the day.”

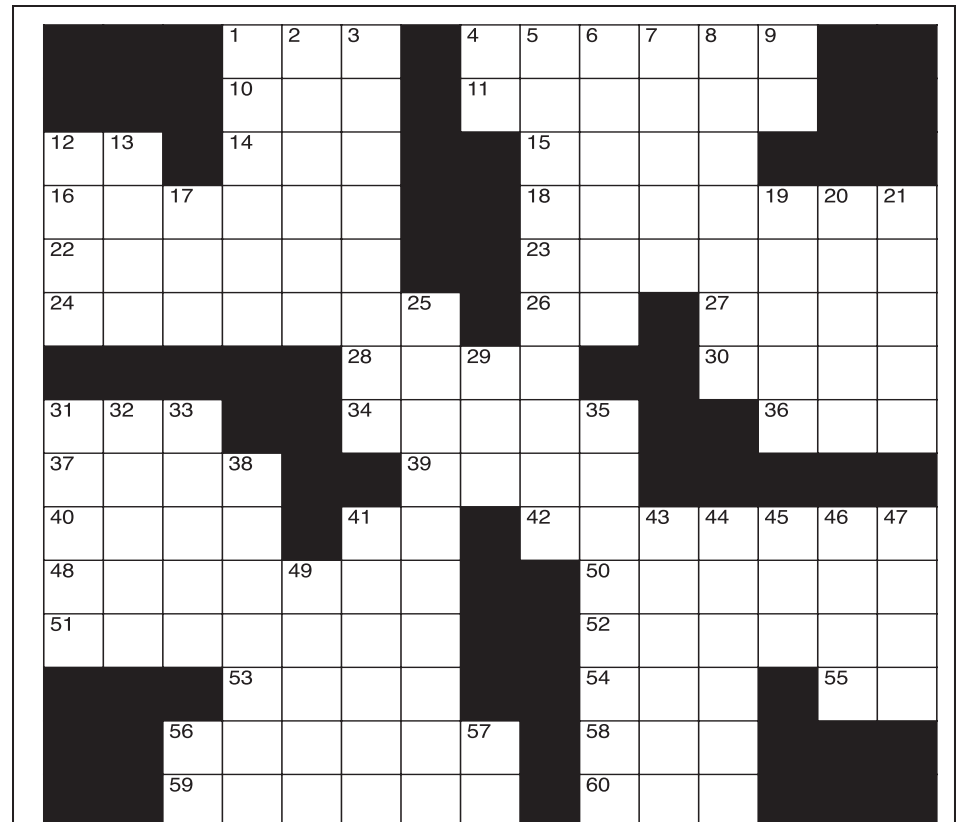

She said the symptoms lasted 24 hours and then promptly disappeared. She felt completely normal the next day except that she felt very tired, likely due to what her body had endured in the previous day.

These side effects are normal and while the person administering the vaccine might warn you about them, and while you might hear about it through hearsay, it’s important to truly understand what you’re going to be dealing with.

It will give you a peace of mind to know that what you’re experiencing is normal, and you won’t need to worry that something has gone wrong. You will likely feel sick for a day and that’s fine.

You’re doing people like me, people who can’t yet get the vaccine and millions of others in the same boat, a great service by getting the vaccine and enduring what both doses might bring to the side effect-table. It is about protecting yourself, but it’s also about protecting the greater good and you should feel good about that, even though you might feel bad for a bit afterwards.

School board sends DeSantis letter to consider teachers as frontline workers in pandemic

Request would allow younger educators, staff to get COVID-19 vaccinations

By Wesley LeBlanc
wesley@opcfla.com

FLEMING ISLAND — The school board is going to send a letter to Governor Ron DeSantis urging him to consider teachers and education employees frontline workers for COVID-19 vaccinations.

People 65 years of age and older, as well as all frontline workers like doctors and firefighters, can get the COVID-19 vaccine now. The school board wants the definition of “frontline workers” to be expanded to teachers and school-related employees because it believes they should have access to the vaccine should they wish.

“Hopefully, as the vaccines become more and more available, we can encourage the governor to realize that teachers are on the frontline and that all education employees are on the frontline,” board chair Mary Bolla said during the Thursday, Feb. 4, school board meeting.

Superintendent David Broskie said this has been the hot topic, and he’s supports the request and has been heavily advocating for younger teachers to be eligible for the vaccine. He said other districts have already sent letters to the governor and that he would be willing to do the same.

“I know other districts have sent letters to the governor...and I’d be agreeable to do that if the board would like me to do that,” Broskie said. “I think the governor has [received] the message and we’ve all attempted to lobby that to occur, but I consider it to be a serious issue and [will] continue to advocate for it and go from there.”

Bolla suggested sending a letter, especially in light of the Florida legislature having two new Clay County-representing members.

“We should be keeping our local legislative delegation aware and two (of them) are brand new and making sure they’re aware of what we’re doing and our frontline workers...is important...,” she said.

The board came to a 5-0 consensus to send a letter to Gov. DeSantis on behalf of the Clay County School District. Board member Ashley Gilhousen added the letter wouldn’t be asking the governor to make vaccines mandatory for teachers and school-related employees. It will only ask the governor consider teachers and school-related employees as frontline workers so that they may have the option to get the vaccine.

The school board came to the consensus during its latest meeting to send a letter to the governor requesting that he include teachers and school-related employees in the definition for “frontline workers” so that they may be eligible for the COVID-19 vaccine.

In other business, the school board voted 5-0 to approve a new board policy establishing the Citizens Oversight Committee for the half-cent sales tax approved by voters in the general election last year.

The committee will be composed of Clay County residents selected by the individual board members and the superintendent to serve as watchdogs for the tax.

This committee won’t have the final say over how that money is spent. That goes to the school board who is only allowed to spend it on things outlined in the resolution voters approved last year. But the committee will be allowed to symbolically put its stamp of approval on items marked for the tax for the board.

TWISTED OAKS RESCUE

Brian D. Sheffield

Brian D. Sheffield, 63, of Orange Park, FL passed away January 15, 2021. Brian was born on April 21, 1957 in Decatur, IL, to Ovelia Mae (Newkirk) and LeeRoy Sheffield.

He married his wife Judith (McEntire) on January 7, 1978 in Decatur. Brian proudly served our country in the United States Marine Corps and as a Navy Spouse. He could always be heard greeting other Marines with 'Semper Fi' and would go out of his way to thank our Veterans for their service. He always said, "Once a Marine, Always a Marine!"

Brian retired from working at the Navy Exchange after 30 years. He was not content to stay home, so he went back to work for NAPA. If anyone ever needed help, Brian would drop everything and run to their rescue whether it was for a dead battery, flat tire, a ride home in the middle of the night or just someone to talk to. Brian enjoyed traveling to see our beautiful country, hiking, camping, working with his hands and was always building something (usually with wood), but he also enjoyed leather work and painting. We will continue to hear his voice boom out and remember his humor, dedication, and great love for all his family and friends. Brian was preceded in death by his parents; brother, Michael Sheffield and nephew, Stephen Rodriguez.

Brian is survived by his wife of 43 years, Judith; children, Luke (Allison) Sheffield, Jennifer (Clovis) Zitkus and Travis (Christina) Sheffield; grandchildren, Kylie, Skyler and Caiden Zitkus, and Rhylin Sheffield; siblings, Shirley (Joe) Tish and Ken (Jackie) Sheffield all of FL, Tom (Penny) Sheffield of AZ, and Penny (Brad) Gagnon of VA; brothers-in-law, Dan (Deb) McEntire of NC, and Dave (Susan) McEntire of WA; sister-in-law, Eiko (Tim) Reilly of AR; many nieces, nephews, cousins, extended family members and friends. Aaron and Burney Bivens Funeral Home, 529 Kingsley Avenue, Orange Park, FL 32073, (904) 264-1233 served the family. Condolences and memories may be shared with the family in care of Aaron and Burney Bivens Funeral Home at www.bivensfuneralhome.com.

Obituaries

Elena Landrito Etter

Elena Landrito Etter, 70, passed away peacefully in Orange Park, Florida, on January 31, 2021, after a 15-month battle with pancreatic cancer.

She was born to Julio and Francisca Miñoza Landrito on August 13, 1950 in Cebu City, Cebu, Republic of the Philippines.

She is preceded in death by her parents and her older sister Normita "Normie" Crystal, and is survived by her loving husband John Etter; her daughters Sarah Etter, Susan Etter, and Rachel Etter Klama (Gary); her brothers Rogelio "Roy" Landrito (Esperanza "Ching") and Rady Landrito (Elizabeth "Beth"), Normie's surviving husband Bernard "Bernie"; and many aunts, uncles, nieces, nephews, cousins, and brothers and sisters in-law.

Elena completed high school in the Philippines and started college before immigrating to the United States in 1968. She continued her education at the Washington Hospital Center School of Nursing in Washington DC, graduating in 1973.

Elena passed the State Board Test Pool Examinations (national standardized exams) and became licensed as a Registered Nurse. She was married to newly-commissioned Ensign John Etter at Saint Sebastian Catholic Church in New York City on June 15, 1974. She moved numerous times supporting her husband during his 22-year career, proud of being a Navy spouse, willingly making many personal sacrifices, living and working as a Registered Nurse in various parts of the United States and abroad.

While living in Iceland she quickly learned the Icelandic language as a prerequisite for the continuation of her nursing career at the Keflavik Hospital in Keflavik, Iceland. Elena finished her nursing career at the Orange Park Medical Center working with her close friends and co-workers in various clinics until retiring in August 2015.

Elena's top priority was always her daughters, whom she loved with all her heart. Her interests and hobbies included spending time with friends and family, traveling, running, exercising, cooking, gardening, out fishing her husband and brother-in-law, international or gourmet foods and hiking. She especially loved visiting her family and childhood friends in the Philippines.

Elena was an avid runner who ran 13 marathons and countless half-marathons, 10K and 5K races. She was a member of the Florida Striders running club where she had many friends, regularly participating with them on weekly training runs and frequent social events.

Elena always looked forward to family reunions, class reunions, "mini" reunions and reunions in Annapolis with her friends and their spouses from the Naval Academy. She grew to love her farm in rural Minnesota, watching the deer and other wildlife frolic in the fields and yard. Elena was living proof that beauty (inside and out), compassion, determination, strength, courage, warmth, empathy, spirit, and much more can come in a small package. Her sense of humor was infectious and it was impossible not to know that she genuinely enjoyed your company. Elena loved so many things in her life, but most of all, she loved her family. Elena was raised in the Catholic faith and was a member of Advent Lutheran Church in Orange Park, Florida. We can take comfort knowing Elena is now wrapped in the arms of her Lord and Savior through his grace and her faith.

Services will be held at 11:00am at Hardage-Giddens Rivermead Funeral Home, 127 Blanding Boulevard, Orange Park, Florida, 32073 on Tuesday, February 16, 2021 followed by inurnment at the Jacksonville National Cemetery in Jacksonville, Florida at 1:30pm. A livestream of the chapel service may be viewed at

In lieu of flowers, please consider a donation to pancan.org, Elena's Church or the charity of your choice.

Fond memories and expressions of sympathy may be shared at www.hardage-giddensrivermead.com for the ETTER family.

Barbara Mae Betker

Barbara Mae Betker, otherwise known as the "Penney Farms Turtle/Fudge Lady," went peacefully to be with Jesus while residing at the Penney Retirement Community Pavilion on Tuesday, January 26, 2021 from congestive heart failure at the age of 89.

She is survived by her brother and sister-in-law, James and Pat MacDougall, her daughter and son-in-law, Leo and Margaret Lundberg, son and daughter-in-law, David and Mary Betker and four grandchildren, Lisa and William M. Brown Jr., Jessica Kitterman, Corey Betker and Jamie Betker, and two great grandchildren, Lauren and Aaron.

Barbara resided at Penney Retirement Community (PRC) for approximately 14 years. She enjoyed volunteering for years as a V.I.P. Sheriff, community pool lifeguard, feeding folks at the nursing facility and entertaining as a Penney Clown.

One incredibly unique thing about Barbara – was her Godly gift of song - she would happily sing any old song with you – she knew them all. But what she was most known for was her scrumptious fudge and chocolate turtles. Barbara also loved her dear friends at the Orange Park Red Hat group, the Red Hot Toppers.

In addition to working 25 years at the Palatine Post Office in Illinois, she was a member of the Middleburg First Baptist Church and Deacon for most of her life at the 1st Presbyterian Church in Palatine before moving to Florida. She loved our Lord and Savior Jesus and is dancing and singing with Him today. There will be a "Celebration of Life" gathering held in Barbara's honor sometime this spring.

which is 35 years, and this year, we've raised more money than ever before," physical education teacher Kim Tracanna-Breault said. "I'm not surprised though because this is a very giving student body. It's a giant family and when we're committed to something, we're all committed."

Principal Dawn Wolfe mentioned the district's seven mindsets, which is a part of the district's social-emotional learning culture push, and how last month's motto was "Live to Give" and that this month's is "Making a Difference." Be it irony or coincidence, those are two statements the school has certainly taken to heart this year.

The school is officially done with its fundraising after a strong six weeks and its grand total collected was $18,417.92, which is the most in school history and currently first place in the district. Tracanna-Breault said other schools will probably top them – she mentioned Oakleaf, whose schools have populations reaching more than 1,000 – but she'd be happy to see Lakeside finish second or third.

"It's really not about the placement or winning though," Tracanna-Breault said. "I want those titles for our kids here, but at the end of the day, it's about raising this money in the name of being good and doing good and doing right by [Riddle and Pops]."

The teacher stressed AHA fundraising isn't just a Lakeside thing. It's a county-wide drive and it's not about who is raising the most. It's about raising money for a good cause and she's proud Lakeside contributed a fraction of the more than $100,000 raised by the district.

Brayden Riddle is a third-grader at Lakeside Elementary who has undergone multiple open-heart surgeries in his life. He raised $1,040 for the American Heart Association drive this year.

The project coincides with February being American Heart Month.

Tracanna-Breault loves the fundraiser because not only does it raise money for a good cause, it teaches the children how to contribute without realizing it. She said they complete heart-related quizzes and brain-related games to obtain prizes associated with the fundraising and without realizing it, they're learning so much about those organs and keeping them active and healthy.

She said the goal this year was to raise $6,000, which has been achieved in the past. The students, faculty and parents quickly broke through that ceiling and have broken through eight goals beyond that to reach $18,000.

"I don't push the students to really hit these high numbers, especially in a year like this where money is tight due to the pandemic and all that," Tracanna-Breault said. "This was the students and their parents. I talked on Facebook about it and parents would message me and say 'let's raise even more' and it just went from there."

"It's a testament, really, to this school. The people here are good and they want to help and raise this money. If I hadn't put an end date to the fundraising, I'm sure they would have kept going."

Riddle raised $1,040 and Pops' grandson, Reed, was the top student with $1,500. Other students have raised as much as $830, which is how much Camryn Hiscox raised. Thirty-eight students have raised more than $250. About 60 students raised at least $25 last year, which earned them an invite to an on-campus AHA party with games, food and celebration and more than 130 have raised that much this year. Students that raise $50 got to slime Wolfe and at different fundraising levels above that, the students get to slime other faculty members.

"The P.E. teachers kind of coordinate the event, but I won't take credit for any of this," Tracanna-Breault said. "This is a school-wide event and we have the best students, parents and faculty out there.

They make this happen."

Wolfe said Tracanna-Breault is far too humble to mention how much of a role she played in the fundraising. She said the students at the school love and adore their P.E. teacher and for them, fundraising is one part raising enough money to go to the party, slime their teachers and earn prizes, but another part of it is making Tracanna-Breault happy.

"They love her," Wolfe said. "We're all family here and she's been here for 35 years. She's taught kids, those kids' kids, and now the grandkids."

This is Tracanna-Breault's last full year before she retires in November. The school has raised more money for AHA during her last year than any year before. While she would likely never notice it due to how humble she is in the role, it's easy to see that her Lakeside family worked hard this year to let her go out with a bang.

"You know, for some students, this school and the people here...that is their family," Tracanna-Breault said. "That's what Lakeside Elementary is about too: we're family. This job, these kids, this faculty...this is my life. I don't even know what I'm going to do when I retire to be honest. I know this though: I get so much back from these kids and that's what I've loved most about this."

One of the Oakleaf schools with a population of nearly twice of Lakeside might come back and take first place, but one thing is clear: to everyone at this school, Lakeside Elementary is the winner in their hearts.

Mary Kathleen DeWitt

Mary Kathleen DeWitt of Fleming Island, Florida, passed peacefully to Heaven on February 4, 2021.

Mary was born August 24, 1920 in Arkansas City, Kansas to Clyde and Hazel (Bowsher) McKimson. Her family moved to Springfield, Illinois.

Mary loved singing, writing and piano, and graduated from Springfield H.S. During WWII, she located special rare wood needed to ship ammunition to the troops.

She met her Army/Air Corps husband, E. Judson DeWitt, in Springfield, and they married June 21, 1945 in Chicopee Falls, Massachusetts.

After the war, Judd completed his degree at Shurtleff College, in Alton, Illinois, and she worked as a secretary.

Mary Kathleen DeWitt

After moving with their two children, Sharon and Deborah to Mt. Vernon, her son, Don Judson (Jay) was born.

Mary worked as executive secretary for Liberty Oil. She was a Girl Scout leader, President of Federated Civic Club, and member of Central Christian Church, singing in the choir. Judd became a guidance counselor for the Army schools in Germany, and Mary loved traveling all over Europe for eight years.

She was district manager of Germany with World Book Encyclopedia, winning high recognition.

After Judd retired as psychology professor at Rend Lake College, to Florida, Mary became a member of P.E.O. and the DAR, and Laos Sunday School class of Orange Park Methodist Church.

Mary is survived by her daughters, Sharon Starr (Lee), Debbie Wilkins (Trey), and her niece Karen Vosmik (Joe), granddaughters Leeann Starr (Vince Brandys), Jennifer Starr, Tammy Sluis (Jay), Laurel Yearwood (Jay) and 10 great-grandchildren.

Mary was predeceased by her parents, her brother, Herbert, her husband of 63 years, Judd, her son Jay, and her granddaughter Lori Rice (Bret). She will rest beside her husband at Oakwood Cemetery in Mt. Vernon, Illinois. Life celebration plans are incomplete.

Scotty McCreery, Mitchell Tenpenny replace Gretchen Wilson on Clay County Fair lineup

Grammy-winning country music star has health concerns ahead of this year's show

GREEN COVE SPRINGS – For the second consecutive year, Gretchen Wilson was forced to cancel her appearance at the Clay County Agriculture Fair.

The Grammy Award-winning country music star cited health reasons for missing her scheduled show on April 3.

American Idol winner Scotty McCreery and Mitchell Tenpenny already have been booked as her replacement, according to fair general manager Tasha Hyder.

“One of the things we say here every day is ‘flexibility is sustainability.’ We moved quickly when we got the news about Gretchen and we were able to line up Scotty. We were also able to get Mitchell Tenpenny to open for him. Although, we are extremely saddened for Gretchen cancelling her show, our thoughts and prayers are sent to her to feel better soon. We are happy to have a top country artist like

Scotty McCreery

Scotty McCreery joining us at our upcoming fair.

“It seems like everything is a work in progress these days. One thing's for sure: the show will go on.”

Mitchell Tenpenny

Anyone with tickets to Gretchen Wilson's show has the option for a refund or use them for McCreery/Tenpenny. Current ticket holders should check their email that they used to purchase their tickets for further details or contact our fair office at info@claycountyfair.org.

Floor seats start at $20 and VIP options are available. Show starts at 7 p.m. in the Cattlemen's Arena.

This year's fair runs from April 1-11.

McCreery won American Idol's 10th season. Months later, he released his first album, “Clear as Day,” and it quickly was certified as platinum.

In 2017, McCreery became the only country music artists to chart a song, “Five More Minutes,” without benefit of a record label.

Tenpenny's “Drunk Me” and “If the Boot Fits” both made it to the country music charts.

Other key acts still scheduled to perform include: 30 Special, Duval County Line and The Curt Towne Band on April 2; Pam Tillis and John Michael Montgomery on April 4; D.J. BG, Sir Mix-A-Lot and Vanilla Ice on April 5; Filmore, Miko Moon and Tenille Townes on April 7 and the Belamy Brothers on April 8.

Clamour

on Zoom from Thursday, Feb. 18., through Sunday, Feb. 21. A different play will be read each session.

All readings are free and open to the public.

The schedule includes:

Thursday, Feb. 18, 7 pm EST

• “Familiar Kill” Barbara Lindsay, on Thursday, Feb. 18, at 7 p.m. Middle-aged couple Ruby and Earl are happy in their new marriage, but the rest of life is bleak and looking bleaker. Earl has lost his job, Ruby hates hers, and they both hate their new apartment. When Ruby makes a homicidal fundraising suggestion, Earl plays along with the joke. But then, their new and very attractive neighbor shows up, and maybe it's not such a joke?

With Robert Baumgardner, Cher Davis, Debbie Pascoe and Erica Villanueva.

• “Leviathan” by Bethany Dickens As-saf, on Friday, Feb. 19, at 7 p.m. Heather and Greer are taking a trip to a lake house so Heather can ‘get sober’ before they start trying for a baby. But Heather might just be a fully in-denial alcoholic – and her inner demons are about to have some company. Not to mention there's something strange going on in the lake... With Max Arnaud, Jeffrey Brackett, Danielle Dobies, Karen Konzen and Blythe Scott.

• “When We Breathe” by Jaisey Bates on Saturday, Feb. 20, at 2 p.m. Zee tries to write. Tee tries to keep Zee awake. Tee and She are four days gone. Lightning: a predatory white Coyote with a bard ruff and sharp teeth in the window. Thunder: an otherworldly howl and pounding at the door. Bee storms in, setting off a dangerous dance of blood memories, grief, horror and hope as History—written with black ink in red blood by white hands on white pages—opens its eyes. And its mouth. With Sarahjeen François, Sage Hemstreet, Sophia Hill and Dawn Lura.

• “Affinity Lunch Minutes” by Nick Malakhov on Saturday, Feb. 20, at 7 p.m. Ben and Jasmine are the only two Black teachers at Penn Valley, a private Quaker school. Jasmine is passionate and boundary pushing, while Ben has worked his way up the ranks at the school to be Diversity Dean thanks to his “agreeable” nature. A racially charged discipline decision ignites a divide at the school and in Jasmine and Ben's collegial relationship. With Daniel Bair, Paris Crayton III, Deltoiya Goodman, Brian Johnson and Meganne Johnson.

• “Atlas, the Lonely Gibbon” by Deborah Yarchun on Sunday, Feb. 21, at 3 p.m. A dark comedic thriller set in the future. Irene, a former journalist, struggles to find autonomy in a now mindless job editing AI-generated articles, an increasingly challenging marriage, and in an apartment potentially being targeted by hackers. With Daniel Bair, Danielle Dobies, Meganne Johnson, Emily Ramsey and Mitchell Wohl.

Reservations are required and patrons are limited to 100 devices for each reading. To register, visit <https://www.clamourtheatre.org/events/>.

Penney Farms' iconic volunteer, 'Turtle Fudge Lady' passes away

For Clay Today

PENNEY FARMS – To some, she was Penney Clown who entertained residents and visitors to the Penney Farms Retirement Center.

To others, she was a lifeguard at the community pool or a Volunteer in Police Service for the Clay County Sheriff's Office or at the nursing facility.

But to everyone, she simply was the Turtle Fudge Lady.

Barbara Mae Betker, 89, an icon at the retirement community for nearly 14 years, died from congestive heart failure on Jan. 26.

Not only did she leave behind a legacy of volunteering and service, she left a community who will miss her candy-making skills.

“She was most known for was her scrumptious fudge and chocolate turtles,” said her grandson, William M. Brown Jr. “She would spend countless hours making huge platters of fudge [with four different kinds of chocolate] for everyone's family gatherings, community parties and maintenance men, or she would surprise you with tins filled with delicious caramel turtles with macadamia or pecan nuts. People would order them weeks in advance for their special functions – which she gave away generously for no cost. She loved to hear the delight in their voices as they would share with her how happy it made them and their family and friends.”

There will be a “Celebration of Life”

gathering held in Barbara's honor sometime this spring.

“Her favorite annual event is well known in Clay County – the Annual Penney Farms Arts and Crafts Fair – which is held the first weekend of every November and brings hundreds of shoppers in from the county. She would get ready months in advance making hundreds of turtles to sell at this popular event that would benefit Penney Farms or other area charities like Quigley House.

“Her turtles were so popular they had to put a sign on the door a few years to notify the crowd when her turtles would be placed on the baking sale tables.”

See her complete obituary on page 8.

Ferris committed to keeping Camp Chowenwaw a pristine nature preserve

By Bruce Hope
bruce@opclfa.com

GREEN COVE SPRINGS – Randy Ferris now spends his days running Camp Chowenwaw as the Clay County Park Resource Manager.

“I started my parks career in Florida many, many years ago, and been bouncing around out west between that and now in Texas, California and New Mexico,” Ferris said. “Parks and theme parks for the last 42 years.”

The 150-acre, former Girl Scout campground sits on Black Creek and allows visitors a chance to get away from everything, to spend time alone or with family, and to enjoy nature.

Camp Chowenwaw offers everything someone looking for to enjoy the outdoors could possibly want. From people who want to enjoy a day in nature, there are many options to those who want to camp out.

“We have a fishing pier, and we’ve got trails that go all around the park,” said Ferris. “When people come out here, they’re looking to just get away from everything. We don’t have Wi-Fi, we don’t have TVs in the cabins or in the dining halls. People come out here and relax. They get their paddleboats and their kayaks out, and they take off from their kayak launch.”

The camp features different areas which have cabins, some of which have climate control, some of which do not. They also have tree house cabins, which are mounted about 25 feet off the ground and are very popular rentals. The cabin and tent areas all feature kitchen and shower buildings. The tent areas are raised flat rectangular portions of ground about 20-by-10 feet, where tents can be pitched. All of the cabin and tent areas also have firepits and grills for outdoor cooking.

There are many animal species in the park, many of which are protected.

Different species of reptile and birds also make their homes in the park. Tortises have been seen, along with skinks – a snake/lizard hybrid – and snakes. Bird species vary, which attracts many bird watchers. Owls, hawks and bald eagles also make their homes in the park.

There are also mammal species which in the park, however those are more transitory in nature, passing through rather than making permanent homes. Coyotes, wild pigs and bears have been seen in the park.

Ferris loves his job. He loves seeing and interacting with the people who come into the park, as well as taking care of it. He hopes that people will continue to come to the park, enjoy nature, and he will do everything he can to make sure that Camp Chowenwaw is a place where it happens.

Romance scams: The lonely should think with their heads, not heart

By Wesley LeBlanc
wesley@opcfra.com

CLAY COUNTY – More money has been lost to romance scams than any other type of fraud reported to the Federal Trade Commission.

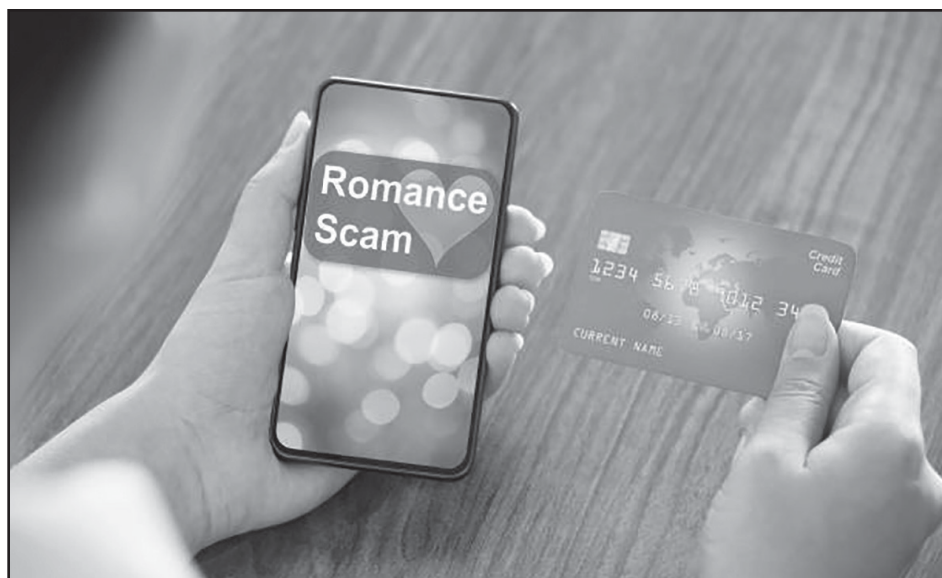

Nobody wants to be lonely and being lonely, especially during the holiday seasons, but it can lead people to making some otherwise unintelligent decisions.

The decisions usually end in financial fraud for the population of adults 60 and older.

“It’s mostly older women in their 50s, 60s or even 70s,” Jax Federal Credit Union fraud manager Marianne Hubbell said. “They’re lonely, they go online, and these people on the other side of the screen promise them the world. Within a short amount of time, these scammers are promising their love and asking for money.”

Here are some troubling stats related to fraud like this, straight from the FTC: people reported $201 million in financial losses to these scams in 2019 and the average amount lost by a single person was $18,000. The number of people reporting a monetary loss during the first and second quarter of 2020 jumped up 19% from the same time in 2019, likely as a result of targeted scamming at those unemployed due to COVID-19.

Hubbell said catching these scams before the monetary loss happens is important and there are some things to look out for in the beginning.

Romance scams accounted for the highest aggregate dollar losses for adults 60 years of age or older, with people reportedly losing $201 million to the scams in 2019 according to the Federal Trade Commission.

“If they profess their love right away, that’s a big red flag,” Hubbell said. “Something else to note is that you really shouldn’t just send someone you’ve never met a lot of money. Go online. See if you can find the pictures they’re using elsewhere, because they usually use someone else’s pictures. Ask them what their job is and search for that online.”

She said if someone tries to move things off of a website like Facebook or a dating app and into text messages and phone calls, that can be a red flag. These things move fast, Hubbell said, and it’s often hard to tell when it’s happening to you so it’s important for others around you to recognize this and help you.

She said the person on the other end being overseas is another big red flag as are requests for electronic and wire transfers.

“Sometimes, it’s obvious but these people are lonely and desperate for a connection that they don’t see it happening,” Hubbell said.

She recalls a case where the person said they needed to transfer money to their romantic partner because their bank accounts were frozen and they couldn’t buy anything. That scammer requested the money be sent to a bank account. Hubbell asked the person if they recognized how weird it was that someone was requesting thousands of dollars.

“A lot of people just get in too deep and then they’re embarrassed to have been someone that was scammed,” Hubbell said. “The person on the other side is saying exactly what they want to hear and that makes it tougher to recognize what is usually a scam.”

Hubbell said her bankers will notify her when someone is making odd wire transfers and the like and then she and her team will begin to monitor the situation. It’s her job to try and catch it before the big financial scam actually happens and she also works with those already scammed to help them move forward.

She said money often can’t be returned unfortunately but that it’s important to report any fraud or scam like this to the FTC, the FBI and local police. The scammers are often hitting multiple people at once and by reporting it when it happens, you’re helping the FTC and FBI piece together the puzzle.

“We’re just trying to help you and it’s hard to get across to these people because they’re so into this relationship and their hearts are involved at that point,” Hubbell said. “You’re not thinking clearly at that point because you’re thinking with your heart, not your head.”

Quigley House gets CDC grant for additional rape prevention services

ORANGE PARK – The Florida Council Against Sexual Violence and Centers for Disease Control and Prevention Rape Prevention Education-Expanding Community Capacity to End Sexual Violence grant has been awarded to Quigley House.

The grant will fund prevention activities that prevent the first-time occurrence of sexual violence and reduce risk factors and enhance protective factors linked to sexual violence perpetration and victimization.

Quigley House will address the following strategies: promoting social norms that protect against violence, teaching skills to prevent sexual violence, providing opportunities to empower and support girls and women, creating protective environments and supporting victims/survivors to lessen harm. Clay County’s Quigley House, the only dual certified Domestic Violence and Sexual Assault Center has been approved for a new Florida Council Against Sexual Violence grant.

The new program will address the prevention of sexual violence, especially as it affects area youth. Quigley House provides the following services free to survivors of domestic and/or sexual violence: emergency shelter, 24-hour hotline, individual and group counseling, victim advocacy, Injunction for Protection legal assistance, court advocacy, case management, information and referrals, pet shelter (one of a few in the state), economic justice, and child advocacy.

For more information on Quigley House and their services, visit their website www.quigleyhouse.org.

Faith Walk

A Settled Faith

C. S. Lewis was a great writer declaring Christian truth. His influence lives on in his writings supporting the truth of the Christian faith.

When he was fifteen years old, he became an atheist. About this time, he developed an interest in the occult. There were other strong influences that led him away from God.

However, in later writings he described himself as being paradoxically “very angry with God for not existing.”

He had friends who engaged him in serious discussion and debate about the Christian faith. Finally, through a convergence of influences, He became a Christian.

He fought greatly up to the moment of his conversion, noting that he was brought into Christianity like a prodigal, “kicking, struggling, resentful, and darting his eyes in every direction for a chance to escape.” So, finally, at age 33 he committed himself to Christ and became one of the Lord’s greatest spokesmen.

As a young man, C. S. Lewis embraced atheism and the occult. He then reviewed the claims of Christ and understood that Jesus was his Savior. He was much like the Roman centurion of the Scriptures who looked upon the man on the cross that he had helped crucify and declared, “Truly He was the son of God.”

No matter where you started in your search for truth, God can bring you to a place of absolute faith and make you a spokesman for Him. Wherever you stand right now, God is striving with you to come to Him.

Many people have faced their doubts and questions and have come to the realization that Jesus is Christ. Open your heart to the Lord and he will settle with you all your doubts.

As it was with C. S. Lewis, it may be that you are in an arduous struggle to come to the place of settled faith. You will arrive at that place, however, if your heart is sincerely open to His truth. You will come to the understanding by faith that Jesus Christ is the Son of God.

No dud spud: Mr. Potato Spread wows customers at OP Mall

By Don Coble
don@opcfla.com

ORANGE PARK – You can certainly get butter, sour cream and chives at Mr. Potato Spread, but that's not why customers were eager to stand in line for a half-hour last Saturday to celebrate a grand opening at the Orange Park Mall.

Hundreds came to the Food Court for a variety of unique baked potato toppings like shrimp or chicken fajitas, vegetable medleys, child bacon ranch, cheesesteak and slow-roasted pulled pork.

But the overwhelming favorite topping that took Aaron and Lakita Spann from their catering business, to a food truck and now their second restaurant is the Crab Pot Potato that comes with shrimp, blue crab meat, smoked sausage, corn, Old Bay seasoning, boiled egg and homemade garlic butter.

"We love low country boils," Aaron said.

"We played around with a lot of ideas and we decided to put a low country boil on top of a potato," Lakita said.

The potato is so popular, it's generated a loyal following who came from the Northside of Jacksonville who are willing to drive for 30 minutes and stand in line for another 30 minutes.

"We used to have them delivered to our office," said Orange Park's Sydney Wittschen. "When I saw they were opening a store at the mall, we had to come up. We loved them when they had their food truck. This is better because it's close."

The Spanns still run their food truck

Hungry customers stood in line on Mr. Potato Spread's first day at the OP Mall's Food Court.

and still offer corporate catering. Their schedules are posted weekly on the company's Facebook and Twitter pages.

Make no mistake: this is no ordinary baked potato.

Each potato weighs about one-and-a-half pounds, Aaron said. With all the additional toppings "we bump it up to about two-and-a-half pounds."

The Spanns spent months deciding on a theme for their food truck in 2014. They decided on potatoes since they were "extremely underrated and underutilized."

"Actually, there's nothing you can't put on a potato," Aaron said.

Alpha Melo made her first visit to Mr. Potato Spread on Saturday. She ordered two Crab Pot Potatoes and a Cheesesteak and Chicken Bacon Ranch potato. She opened the container to see one of the Crab Pot Potatoes and muttered, "Wow" as she shook her head.

Impressed, Melo will likely be a repeat customer. And when she does, there probably will be a line.

Orange Park's Alpha Melo shows off her first Crab Pot Potato during Mr. Potato Spread's grand opening on Saturday, Feb. 6.

Sydney Wittschen of Orange Park used to order potatoes when the company delivered to businesses. Now that there's a restaurant inside the Orange Park Mall, she can enjoy her favorite - the Crab Pot Potato - anytime she wants.

Customers wait for their orders to be filled while others stand in line to make their orders. Aaron and Lakita Spann started with a catering service. They still have their catering service, as well as a food truck and two stores located in local malls.

CCSO's Challenge Explorer Youth Program provides law enforcement skills

Young members learn quickly of the discipline, hard work it takes to be in law enforcement

By Bruce Hope
bruce@opcfla.com

ORANGE PARK – The Clay County Sheriff's Office Challenge Explorer Youth Program, run by deputy Matthew Brown, allows local youth to develop basic law enforcement skills, discipline, time management and planning, allowing them to compete in statewide competitions to test their skills.

Brown has been in charge of the program for about two years, but it has been a part of the CCSO for decades.

"I did some research trying to find how long the program has been established here at the sheriff's office," said Brown. "I could only go back as far as somewhere in the '80s."

The program looks for a particular type of youth to be a participant.

"The easiest way to describe it," said Brown, "[is] it's kind of like it's the ROTC [Reserve Officer's Training Corps]; similar program, but the law enforcement version of that. There's certain requirements. Age 14, and age 21 is the cutoff."

Interested young people must apply, have no criminal background, and pass a background check, like any other CCSO applicant. There is also an academic component to the application process. Candidates must have a 2.0 grade-point-average or better. To be placed in any leadership position, they must have a 3.0 average.

Car crashes into apartment bedroom on Fleming Island

FLEMING ISLAND – Tenants from three apartment units were forced to find alternative housing after a car crashed into a downstairs bedroom wall on Friday, Feb. 5, at the Lighthouse at Fleming Island.

According to Clay County Fire Rescue, a woman said she hit the accelerator instead of the brakes. She drove her Toyota over a curb, through bushes, over an air conditioning unit and into the bedroom.

Nobody was injured.

The accident happened at Building 15.

The units must be inspected by a structural engineer before it's allowed to be occupied.

Bond set at $750,030 for man charged with several counts of child pornography

MIDDLEBURG – Bond was set at $750,030 for a Middleburg man accused of having 10 images of children having sex.

Michael Ralph Peiffer, 49, was arrested on Feb. 5 after a detective assigned to the Internet Crimes Against Children Unit at the Clay County Sheriff's Office served a search warrant on Jan. 12 for one of his electronic devices. They found images or video of children, including one who was described as 5 or younger.

According to the arrest report, the images were obtained between Nov. 6 and Dec. 15, 2020.

Couple linked to Clay charged with killing witness

OCALA – U.S. Attorney Maria Chapa Lopez announces the return of an 11-count superseding indictment charging David Chappell Fey, 56, of Belleview, and Shari Lynn Gunter, 57, of Ocklawaha, with the murder of a government witness and conspiracy to murder a government witness. Fey and Gunter are also charged with conspiracy to distribute methamphetamine and fentanyl causing the death of their victim. Fey faces an additional eight counts of distributing methamphetamine and Gunter faces one count of distributing methamphetamine.

The statutory penalties for these offenses include up to life imprisonment and death.

According to the superseding indictment and other court records, Fey and Gunter conspired together and murdered "K.B." to prevent her from communicating information to law enforcement regarding the distribution of methamphetamine by Gunter and Fey. On April 6, 2016, K.B. was found deceased in her parked vehicle near a cemetery in Oxford, Florida, the victim of an apparent drug overdose. Upon further investigation by local, state, and federal agencies, it was determined that K.B.'s death was not accidental, but that she died from homicide caused by the intentional injection of fentanyl and methamphetamine. K.B. was 31 years old at the time of her death.

In addition to intentionally murdering and conspiring to kill K.B., the superseding indictment alleges that Fey and Gunter conspired to distribute methamphetamine and fentanyl, the use of which resulted in the death of K.B. Fey is separately charged with distribution and possession with intent to distribute methamphetamine on eight different occasions between Jan. 19, 2016, and Oct. 17, 2019. Gunter is charged jointly with Fey in one of the distribution counts, occurring on Jan. 19, 2016.

An indictment is merely a formal charge that a defendant has committed one or more violations of federal criminal law, and every defendant is presumed innocent unless, and until, proven guilty.

Fey was arrested in Middleburg on Oct. 17, 2019, for selling, manufacturing, delivering and trafficking methamphetamine after the Clay County Sheriff's Office stopped him for having illegally-tinted windows. They recovered 114.5 grams – a quarter-pound – of methamphetamine in his car after K9 Konan with the Florida Highway Patrol alerted deputies of the presence of the drugs. They found four bags of meth on the front passenger seat.

Those charges were dismissed Tuesday, Feb. 9.

This case was being investigated by the Drug Enforcement Administration, with support from the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms and Explosives, the Florida Department of Law Enforcement, the Marion County Sheriff's Office, the Unified Drug Enforcement Strike Team, the Sumter County Sheriff's Office and CCSO. It is being prosecuted by Assistant U.S. Attorneys Michael P. Felicetta and Tyrie K. Boyer.

Man arrested for drugs while sitting in car at convenience store

MIDDLEBURG – A man was arrested three weeks after Clay County Sheriff's Office deputies found him sitting in his car at a convenience store on County Road 218.

When they approached the car on Jan. 18, deputies said they saw two syringes in the door. After a search of the car, Michael Eugene Haun, 39, of Middleburg, was charged with possession of cocaine, methamphetamine, a controlled substance and drug paraphernalia. A warrant was issued on Feb. 5 and he was arrested on the same day.

His bond was set at $62,511.

Crimes

several ways to identify and prevent posting sexual content. As impossible as it seems, parents need to tell their children it's never all right to be asked or to share nude photos. Once they're sent, the child can never get them back. According to JAMA Pediatrics, 14.8% of teenagers have sent and 27.4% have received a "sext" – and 12% of them forwarded them without consent.

Such behavior is a cybercrime that can follow a child well into adulthood.

Much like teaching children against the dangers of firearms and alcohol and drug abuse, parents need to be involved with their children's online safety.

"I tell parents don't ever take the approach of 'not my kid or my kid would never do that.' That's not to say every child that gets on a Smartphone is going to get involved in things they shouldn't or make mistakes," Ellis said. "Just because your kid does something, it doesn't make your kid a bad kid. Sometimes, people are fearful of what they don't know or understand. We have to break that barrier and get parents to have those real conversations, to get involved in their children's internet activity.

"We expect children, and that's in the simplest term, we expect children to be mature beyond any other expectation of what we have on them on the internet. We wouldn't expect a child that's 10 years old to be able to get on the highway and drive. We wouldn't expect a smaller child to be responsible around a firearm. We shouldn't expect that of a child on the internet. That's the thing we're trying to get across is even though the internet has a lot of great things and it is needed and it is resourceful and we do have to embrace it because that's the route we're going whether we like it or not, but we've got to have those real talks."

A child also has to know how to respond to sexts. Violations should be reported to a CyberTipline, reported to a school police officer, a school counselor, police officer or a parent.

"You can't be blind to the fact your child could be exploited," Ellis said. "Your child could make a mistake. We have to be involved."

And remain vigilant until the threats – and the need for a Safer Internet Day – goes away.

Brides-to-be get help planning their big days at Clay Bridal Spectacular

By Bruce Hope
bruce@opcfla.com

ORANGE PARK – Dozens of vendors were at the Clay Bridal Spectacular last Sunday at the Thrasher-Horne Center to show off their products and services to brides planning their big days.

“This is the third annual,” said Bob Olson, Director at the Thrasher-Horne. “Three years ago, we came up with the idea of trying to do an expo for Clay County.

There’s never been a bridal expo in Clay County. We kind of felt like, Jacksonville can have ‘em, why can’t we?”

The expo featured a variety of vendors, set up boutique-style so that visitors could visit them and socially distance for safety.

Brielle Horner is a 20-year-old future bride who was scheduled to marry last December but moved her wedding back because of the COVID-19 pandemic. She modeled her wedding dress at the expo for Pink Bouquet Bridal, the shop where she purchased it. She also wore a mask that matched her dress design.

“When I went in, it just felt very warm, and I felt like I was loved,” Horner said. “I felt like I was just able to pick out whatever dress I wanted. Being here at this event, I’m able to show off that it doesn’t matter what you look like; you’re able to pick out the dress that you want for your special day.”

Horner also said COVID has pushed

Adams to represent Middleburg at Florida Hometown, U.S.A for third year

By Bruce Hope
bruce@opcfla.com

MIDDLEBURG – Sheridan Adams, a sixth-grader that attends Tynes Elementary school, is a long-time participant in the Florida Hometown, U.S.A. program. Chosen to represent her home of Middleburg, she exemplifies the values espoused in the program.

“We are a non-profit, educational youth program,” said Linda Watts, founder of the program. “This is our 35th year. We were organized in 1986. It’s a program to stress and encourage young people to volunteer and give back to their hometown.”

Every year, the non-profit chooses five Florida towns and gets recommendations from schools and other sources about children who are doing good things in their communities. They then take these children and give them the opportunity to partner with volunteer opportunities. These opportunities continue to demonstrate the importance of giving back to other young people.

“This is actually Sheridan’s third year as a hometown representative,” said her mother, Deidra Adams. “Her first time she was six. She had so much fun traveling all over Florida volunteering. Every time she is old enough for the next age group, she wants to go back and do it again. She’s done tiny miss at six, eight years old she was little miss, now she’s 11, and she is the Junior Miss representative.”

Sheridan initially got involved by helping her mother clip coupons to get food items for donations to different food pantries. She and her mother were unaware of the program at the time. She had already gotten onto Watt’s radar, however.

“Miss Linda [Watts] kind of noticed her community service involvement and requested that we come and interview for Hometown U.S.A.,” said Adams.

“We have a fundraiser in November. Each year in November in Orlando, and we do have a fundraiser event where we do select the five girls,” Watts said.

Sheridan Adams

The selection includes an interview process to ensure that the program is something in which the girls are really interested in being involved.

There is also a competitive aspect involved in the program. The winner was selected from three separate vents. There is the interview portion. There is an on-stage portion where the girls dress up similar to a pageant. There is also a reception, and then the winner is chosen. Three judges come together to select the winner. The winner receives $500 and is recognized by state officials. They also take a trip to Tallahassee, where they tour the state capitol, the state supreme court and the governor’s mansion. They also receive the Presidential Student’s volunteer award.

In addition to her service, Sheridan is an active ballet dancer, having practiced it for the past two years.

“I love the organization because you also get to meet new people who can become long-time friends,” she said. “I love volunteering because I get to meet people at nursing homes and children’s hospitals.”

Sheridan’s love of ballet has influenced her future. One day she hopes to teach ballet to children whose families can not afford for them to learn the art.

They’re traveling and doing destination weddings.”

Other vendors present included photographers and caterers.

Our Story Productions provides photography and videography for its clients. This is the first year that they have attended the Bridal Spectacular.

“We’re happy to be here in this expo to meet brides,” said Aida Varas, photographer for Our Story. “It [COVID-19] has affected us and the families that are trying to get married. Very surprised [at the turnout for the expo]; we’re very fortunate.”

Based on ticket sales, Olson projected that visitors’ volume to the expo would be roughly the same as last year’s attendance of about 200.

Before the inception of school resource officers and school safety officers, CCSO officers were in Clay County schools with more direct access to students. That helped them to identify candidates and generate interest in the Explorer Program.

“Kids would come up and say ‘Hey I want to go into law enforcement,’ or they heard about the explorer program, so we were able to give them that information,” said CCSO spokesman Andrew Ford. “And so, typically what happened, now that we have a school police department in the schools, that kind of took us out of the schools where we could share that information to those kids. So now you have to find another way to get that message out to kids in schools and in the community that we do have an explorer program, and we want kids to come and sign up.”

According to Ford, many children in the schools show interest in a future law enforcement career but are unaware of the program.

Being a member of the program teaches many law enforcement skills and helps prepare the participant for a successful future.

“We have our meetings on Monday nights,” Brown said. “They attend the meetings, and they learn law enforcement things. They learn how to do traffic stops. They learn how to use a radio; how to communicate. Rank structure, how to be organized, take notes, things like that. They learn different parts on how to become a law enforcement officer, and they learn what a law enforcement officer does.”

It’s not just about policing for the children, though, stressed Brown. There is also the critical aspect of community engagement. Members volunteer in the community, help with special events, or assist the disabled in doing good things in their community.

“They give back to the community,”

“Kids would come up and say ‘Hey I want to go into law enforcement,’ or they heard about the explorer program, so we were able to give them that information. And so, typically what happened, now that we have a school police department in the schools, that kind of took us out of the schools where we could share that information to those kids.

– Andrew Ford
CCSO, spokesman

Brown said. “And it goes towards their community service hours.”

Ford referenced the program’s importance to help create well-rounded young people, which colleges are looking for as much as they look for academic achievement.

One former member is currently at Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri, completing his U.S. Army Advanced Individual Training in his occupational specialty before returning home to serve in the Army Reserve. He has already reached out to Brown to express interest in attending training to become an officer in the CCSO.

Both Ford and Brown feel that the Explorer program has great value to the community.

“Number one, I think you have to have a person who is overseeing it show the same type of commitment and dedication that he shows to his job as he shows to the youth,” said Ford. “Matt Brown has been extraordinary in doing that. A SWAT operator, so he knows tactics. But also, with that comes discipline. Matt couldn’t be successful today if he didn’t have that type of discipline and work ethic. So, anyone that joins that program, you know they’ll be held accountable in the values that the explorer program has.”

In a time when many young people want to affect change in their daily lives and communities, the Explorer program helps members to gain the necessary leadership and organizational skills to thrive in the future.

many weddings back, according to what she heard from brides with whom she spoke.

Tammy Martin, manager of Pink Bouquet in Orange Park, had a different take on the situation.

“This is the third year,” she said. “We were surprised that, you know, 200 brides, between 200-and-250, actually registered. Brides are getting creative, and no one’s really letting the coronavirus stop them from getting married.

“And as much as you think couples wouldn’t be traveling, they are traveling.

NOTICE OF EXTENSION AND RE-CERTIFICATION OF TAX ROLLS

Tracy S. Drake, Property Appraiser, pursuant of Florida Statute 193.122(2), hereby serves notice that on February 9, 2021, all required extensions to, and the second certification of the 2020 tax rolls in Clay County, were completed.

Unlike the previous 38 annual celebrations, this year's event was subdued by the COVID-19 pandemic. Instead of a dinner with Scouts, family and guests, attendance was limited to a Scout and their parents. Seats were positioned at least six feet apart, and after receiving the honorary neckerchief, acknowledgments and plaque from Clay County Commission Chairman and Eagle Scout Mike Cella, Scouts were asked to leave Sullivan Hall at Sacred Heart Catholic Church to comply with safety protocols.

This year's Eagle Scout class contributed more than 8,000 service hours on projects to improve the community. To earn the rank of Eagle, Scouts were required to earn at least 21 merit badges.

Included in the group were Olivia Pottenburgh and Courtney Laird. They are two of five girls in Troup 9892 who signed up on the first day girls were eligible to join Scouts BSA.

Ethan Flynn earned his Eagle badge by landscaping around several of the portables at Tynes Elementary.

The two also are part of just eight girls in North Florida to achieve the rank of Eagle Scout this year.

"All of my older brothers were in the Scouts, so I've been part of it for a long time," Pottenburgh said. "I've been to a couple of these dinners before because all three of my brothers are Eagles."

Pottenburgh renovated a 20-foot-by-80-foot area outside the Jacksonville Humane Society to give prospective pet owners an opportunity to visit with available animals. Pet owners are restricted from the Humane Society by COVID-19, so Pottenburgh built a shaded area with new sod. She also collected dog food.

Her father, Matt Pottenburgh, was the Scout Master at 9892 when his daughter was joined by four other girls in the troop.

"All of the girls have worked very hard," he said. "The other three will probably will be Eagles next year."

The Boy Scouts changed its name – and admission policies – a year ago. The organization now is known as Scouts BSA.

Pottenburgh and Laird achieved their Eagle status in one year.

Laird also is a member of the Girl Scouts.

She built shelves and stock them with books and games to create an adult library at the Quigley House for her project. Quigley House is Clay County's only dual certified domestic violence and sexual assault center.

Other Eagles made significant contributions as well. Timothy Denney pressure-washed 1,000 feet of concrete at his Orange Park High; Mitchell Harlamor built an outside classroom with seven benches, three flowerbeds, four shade trees and tree stump seating at Fleming Island Elementary; Wyatt Johnson built a mounting rack and block with a set of stairs and a bench to assist disabled veterans mount horses at Hope Therapy; Justin Cooler repaired fencing of the pens at the Safe Animal Shelter; and, William Hughes built two accessibility ramps, two picnic tables and landscaped around the house at Building Abilities for Special Children and Adults.

In addition to the white neckerchief, each Eagle also received a five-year membership to the National Eagle Scout Association, A NESA certificate, lapel pen, letters of certificate from Florida Sen. Jennifer Bradley, Florida Rep. Sam Garrison, U.S. Rep. Kat Cammack, Cella, Clay County Sheriff Michelle Cook and letters from various civic groups.

Clay High 160 pound wrestler Cale Hoskinson survived a rugged Clay Rotary final against state runnerup to win in overtime.

Hoskinson's 'war' leads to Blue Devil win

By Randy Lefko

GREEN COVE SPRINGS - A bloody nose, a fat lip and a bruised eye were not enough to stop Clay High 160 pound wrestler Cale Hoskinson who won an overtime championship match against a state runnerup in one of the more grueling matches of the weekend at the Clay Rotary Invitational at Clay High School.

"I just wanted to keep the match going every time they stopped it for blood," said Hoskinson, who executed a single leg takedown in overtime to defeat Ahmahd Denmark of Robert E. Lee 4-1 in their championship match at the Clay Rotary. "I knew he was big, strong and athletic and our plan was to try and wear him out, but the stops gave him time to recover."

Denmark finished at 40-4 last year losing in the Class 2A final 9-3 to Andy Mar-

FLEMING ISLAND - With a strategy that looked more like the full court press that Fleming Island High basketball coach Traavis Chandler employs on the hardwood floors of the gym, the Fleming Island High girls soccer team went baseline to baseline with Creekside High to a 3-0 district 3-6A championship win Friday night for the first first of first year coach Joy Rosano's tenure at the helm.

"Oh yeah, we were going to use that full court press the whole game," said Rosano. "I knew it was going to be a fast, physical game. We couldn't get the smooth transitions on them early so we went with keeping the ball on the ground and moving downfield quickly."

Greyhound Open: Girls Wrestling

Blackburn stays undefeated

By Randy Lefko
Sports Editor

KISSIMMEE - Clay High junior wrestler Madyson Blackburn kept her unbeaten season in tact with a championship pin at the Greyhound Open on January 23 at Osceola High School. Girls high school wrestling becomes a state sanctioned championship event in the 2021-2022 season.

Blackburn, 10-0 at 128 and third at 128 at last year's Florida Girls State championships, beat Paris Martinez of Osceola High after three prior pins got her to the final.

"I think those numbers are correct, but I don't keep track of that," said Blackburn, third last year at 128 at the state championships. "I try to stay in the moment. There is one wrestler I am chasing; the number one ranked girl at 128, Carolyn Bellon of Mater Lakes."

On December 29, Blackburn, ranked number one at 134 by the Orlando Sentinel, was 131 champion at the Southern Belle Invitational in Kissimmee's Silver Spurs Arena.

"I train with the boys here; Luke Boree is the primary guy," said Blackburn. "I like sweep moves and the half nelsons. I got a little more speed and strength from running cross country also."

At Clay High, Blackburn's prowess as a Blue Devil wrestler has given her her own persona.

"No one really talks to me in the hallways, but I don't know if it's because of wrestling," said Blackburn. "Luke and Cale Hoskinson are good training partners and they keep me focussed. They just tell me to be aggressive or to not lose; be a bad dude on the mat."

For Clay coach Jim Reape, the development of the girls team has been a matter of time on the mat.

"They are all raising their games and they work out a bunch with us," said Reape. "At this point in the season (states in a week), they are joining us and taking on the boys."

At Orange Park High, returning state medalist Andrea Smith is also ranked number; at 197 pounds. Also ranked for the Lady Raiders are Aubreanna Apple, seventh in 134; Jasmine Hecht, sixth at 154 and Tayana Labday at 222.

Middleburg had Gracy Bradshawn compete at 99 with an opening round pin before losing by pin to South Dade's Natlaie Duran.

Oakleaf High's Jazzmine Moore placed third with a pin over Dr. Phillips' Francheska Robles at 184.

Clay High's Madyson Blackburn will be heavy favorite to avenge a third place state finish last with unbeaten record thus far.

Northeast Florida Athletic Conference championships

Lake Asbury Junior High's wrestling team doubled down with a team trophy at the Clay County Championships and a trophy at the Middle School North Florida Wrestling Championships held at Suwannee High School on February 7.

Lake Asbury takes fifth title

LIVE OAK - Lake Asbury Junior High School wrestling had a familiar team chasing them for a team title as the Green Cove Springs Junior High team and Wilkinson Junior High took the top three spots at the Middle School North Florida Wrestling Championships held February 7 at Suwannee High School.

Coached by former Ridgeview High standout Coll Robertons, Lake Asbury put up 307 points with Green Cove chasing with 245.5 and Wilkinson third at 201.0 in the annual grapplefest.

Lake Asbury had four individual titles; Liam Cooper at 77 over Oakleaf's Connor Barners; Michael Micelli at 82 over Bayleigh Girgis of Wilkinson, Jackson Hornback at 92 over Vasheer Burk of Green Cove and Jordan Hernandez at 197 over Wilkinson's Noah Montoro. Lake Asbury's depth, 13 in the championship matches proved to be enough again as Green Cove Springs had six champions; Brady Glavin at 97 over Kylie Gerger of Wilkinson; Shayne Duhaylungsod at 102 over Justin Contreras of Suwannee; Vonte Burke at 108 over Sebastian Bonachea of Oakleaf; Cooper Beck at 115 over Parker Richards of Lake Asbury; Laird Duhaylungsod at 122 over Rylan Herrera of Lake Asbury and Dylan Beck at 140 over Mason Phillips of Lake Asbury. Ironically, Green Cove had nine champions at the Clay County Championships, but still finished second to Lake Asbury.

Oakleaf had three champions; Jacob McLintick at 154 with a major decision over Green Cove's Tayshaum Tate; Bryant Taylor at 162 with a pin over Jarius Rodgers of Lake Asbury and Jeremiah Baker at 172 with a major decision over Walter Poe of Green Cove Springs.

Wilkinson had two champions; Porter Loveland at 184 with a pin over Lukas Graham of Lake Asbury and Kendric Oneal at 222 with a pin over Keiston Riley of Suwannee.

Clay High got the team trophy at the Clay Rotary led by titles to Cale Hoskinson, Maverick Rainwater and Luke Boree.

tinez of Golden Gate High. Hoskinson (51-7 last year) was third in Class 1A at 152 with an overtime win over Gavin Miller of Bishop Moore.

Clay coach Jim Reape liked the mental battle going in the Hoskinson match between the referees who were wary of the bloody nose, Denmark's athletic ability and Hoskinson's durability to get past the bumps and bruises.

"Cale had a tough customer out there; got a little beat up and came through," said Reape. "He was bleeding hard from his nose and we had a tough time stopping it and a 2-1 lead so we knew in overtime we would have to wrap Cale up to finish the match. He got after it in the overtime with two good shots including the winner."

Hoskinson, 36-2, had never matched up against Denmark, but had seen some film of his athleticism.

"This was a good, tough match to get us going into the state meet run," said Hoskinson, third in Class 1A last year. "The biggest thing for the young guys on the team is that we are wrestling the upper class teams; Class 2A, Class 3A and competing."

On the day, Clay won the team title with 248.5 points with 2A-Fletcher second at 181.5 and 3A-Buchholz third at 168.5.

Locally, 3A-Oakleaf finished fourth with three finalists; two champions and 2A-Middleburg took eighth.

"We had a good meet with two champions here; Kevin Gilley with a pin at 120, Marcus McGee who was down most of the match and had a near fall at the buzzer to win 3-2 and Logan Gilbert getting second at 132," said Oakleaf coach Marcus Miller. "Isaiah Shevchok had a tough overtime win for third place and our heavyweight, Jordan Mitchell, got to the semis on Friday, but then got sick overnight and had to drop out. Getting fourth here is a good sign for our program."

Clay finished with championships from Maverick Rainwater at 113 over Bishop Kenny state qualifier Ryan Mayer, Luke Boree at 138 and Hoskinson. Dominic Martin, at 152, lost in the final to Fletcher state qualifier Joel Rodriguez (29-1) by a 7-4 decision. At 220, Garrett Tyre lost in his semifinal to Key West state qualifier Max Ryan 9-2.

Oakleaf earned titles from Kevin Gilley at 120 with a late third period pin and Marcus McGee (20-8) with a tough 3-2 win over Buchholz' state qualifier Venumadhava Mirel (32-11). Middleburg got a third from Eliyah Cole at 170 with two fourths; Tucker Cody at 182 and Shane Jordan at 106. Cole lost in his semifinal to Ponte Vedra state qualifier Jarret Maritato 7-4.

For Clay coach Jim Reape, the annual wrestlefest was a good barometer for his Blue Devils, who recently took third at the Flagler Rotary, another tournament with Class 2A, 3A opponents, who have molded a young team with just three seniors into a possible medal contender team into the state championships.

"I'm thankful for the state officials to allow us to compete and that we live in a community that embraces that," said Reape, who now gears up for a February 10 clash; Tussle of Muscle, with 3A-Fleming Island. "We're getting better and gaining confidence each; anytime we put on a Clay singlet, we take that as a chance to compete against other kids; Fleming Island, districts, regions, state. It's all part of the goals we set. I think we're getting sharp each week."

Clay High's Dominic Martin had tough battle for second in 152 with loss to Fletcher High state qualifier Joel Rodriguez.

For the Golden Eagles, who finished regular season play with just two losses (to the pesky Bartram Trail High Lady Bears, the Class 7A defending champions), the win marks Rosano's first playoff win although her high school days saw her part of a few deep playoff runs under then-coach Darrell Ivey.

"I try to bring that experience to them when I got here and the talent that was here was very capable of championship play," said Rosano. "I wanted to win the balls in the air, get it on the ground, then run in down the field."

In the first few minutes of the contest, Creekside maintained possession in front of Fleming Island goalie Mackenzie Kirk, but could not make solid shots on goal while Gianni Gardner broke for her first hard shot of the night near the six minute mark.

At 32:06, Creekside got inside the goal box, but Avery McNelis shot sailed over Kirk's head.

Just after the shot on goal, Rosano redirected her strategy to the full court defense with defenders Claudia McGough and Maya Dawson harassing Creekside's ballhandlers at midfield and Rosano's trying to free up either Gardner or Kennedy Johnson on the Creekside end of the pitch.

"We wanted to make them make mistakes and maybe get a breakaway," said Rosano. The strategy seemed fruitful with Fleming Island getting throw-ins from midfield and about 10 yards off the Creekside goal pressing the Knights' goalie, Anna Laughlin.

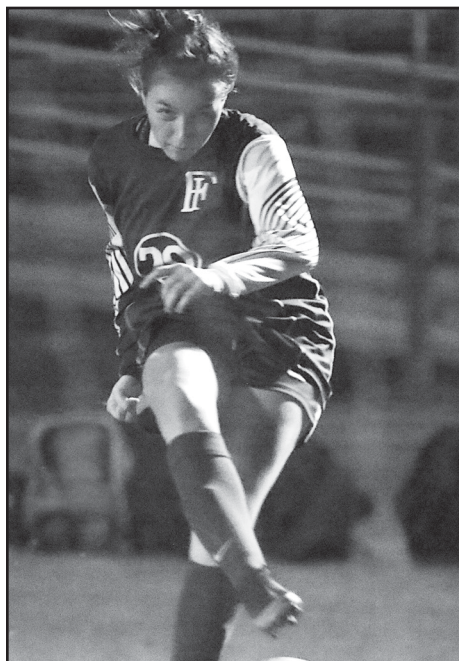

Still at 0-0 at the first half waterbreak; 19:08 to the half, Fleming Island still maintained possession inside the Creekside side of the pitch with Johnson and Dawson both penetrating the Creekside defense for attacks on goal. Under the direction of Kirk from her goalie vantage point, Fleming Island started issuing close quarters attacks at midfield that proved frustrating to Creekside.

"My job is to watch the ball flow and direct our guys to the attack point," said Kirk. "I can see the whole field as their push comes toward me."

Kaitlyn Scherer finally hit paydirt off a corner kick at 14:36 to put Fleming Island on the scoreboard with Scherer hitting an almost identical header off a corner kick a few minutes later that got engulfed in the Creekside defense. "That second one was a beauty," said Rosano. "We had good play on our set pieces."

Creekside's first moment of frustration at the Rosano defensive pressure was a yellow card to midfielder Lauren Snyder that got a yellow card.

Creekside got their best shot at a freebie with a 40 yard free kick with about two minutes to the half, but the ball sailed right of the Kirk. Creekside also got two late shots before the halftime break only to have Kirk snag the blasts. Fleming Island got two corner kicks inside the 19 minute mark, but could not finish the set piece.

Just inside the second half, Scherer scored off a goalie rebound of a Dawson free kick from just left of Creekside's goal about 20 yards away just two minutes into the stanza to put a quick jolt to the Creekside defense.

At 17 minutes, just after the second half water break, again, Fleming Island was opportunistic in front of the goal when Gardner broke down the left side of the Creekside goal and sent a service pass inside the box that Sophia Dawson attempted a twisting shot, but, fortunately, missed only to have Johnson on point to power the goal in for a quick second half blast and a 3-0 lead.

Bronco soccer

Middleburg High girls soccer got beat 6-0 by Stanton Prep in Monday's district championship game with forward Brooke Cassada handling a high ball and goalie Sophia Parish making a slew of outstanding saves on the hard-shooting Stanton team.

Ridgeview and Clay highs place second at state cheer

By Mike Zima
Correspondent

LAKELAND – History repeated itself at the FHSAA State Cheerleading Championships January 22-23 at the RP Funding Center in Lakeland, as Bishop Snyder won a title for a second consecutive year after failing to win its regional. Ridgeview was the runner-up to the Cardinals in the Class 1A Small Non-Tumbling Division, while Clay finished second in the Class 2A Large Co-Ed Division. Four Clay County schools participated.

After a third place finish at the Region

1 competition January 9 at Oakleaf High School, Bishop Snyder easily qualified for the finals in Lakeland with a score of 84.8 in the semifinals, a marked improvement from the 79.9 the Cardinals had received in the regional. In the finals, Snyder pulled out all the stops and executed a difficult routine to win the division with an eye-popping 89.5. The Cardinals' path to the championship was very similar to the road they took in 2020, when they finished fourth at the Region 1 competition before winning the state title two weeks later.

Ridgeview could not quite recapture the form that had earned the regional title and an automatic berth in the Lakeland finals. The Panthers' 83.2 was a little off from the 85.1 they had received at the regional, but still far outpaced Lakeland Christian, which finished third with a 79.4. The Panthers' routine featured flyers that did roundoffs into their stunts, and hand-in-hands (stunts where flyers are flipped from handstands in the hands of their bases to upright positions).

"We had two drops," said Ridgeview coach Aimee Stutz, who was pleased that her squad perfectly executed a difficult pyramid. "However, that was at the beginning of the routine and after that, the kids really came together and finished the rest of it strong."

In the Class 2A Large Co-Ed Division, Clay scrambled from mid-week adversity to score an 85.95, claiming second place behind Bartow. The Blue Devils lost two athletes the week before the competition to injury, forcing freshman alternate Lilliana Jordan into action. Coach Lori Davis had increased the difficulty of the pyramid from the regional routine and had to make further changes due to the injuries. Clay got off to a rough start when senior Kylee Griffin turned her ankle on the landing of the opening tumbling pass. But Griffin, who will see an orthopedic specialist to determine the extent of the damage, tolerated severe pain to execute the remainder of the routine.

"Coaches and cheerleaders from other teams all called her [Griffin] a beast because they were amazed that she finished," said Davis, who noted that Griffin had to perform multiple jumps after her injury.

K-Man's Raiders win Clyburn challenge

By Ray DiMonda
Correspondent

ORANGE PARK - Ridgeview High basketball coach Jerome Clyburn had plenty of his own great basketball performances in the Orange Park High RaiderDome and Monday's night's district opener in Orange Park High's RaiderDome felt a little like it might be approaching that same level.

"It was good but our guys got a little tired" said Clyburn, who played under then-coach Darryl Lauderdale and made a few deep region runs as a Raider. "They worked hard. They stayed together."

Orange Park staved off a furious first and third quarter by the streak-shooting Panthers, but, in the end, it was Orange Park coach Derek Kurnitsky with the big smile, maybe in appreciation of the historical nature of the Clyburn connection. Orange Park won 75-46 in a game full of excitement despite the lopsided score.

"We looked like a different team," said Kurnitsky, who will faceoff with top seed Robert E. Lee in Wednesday semifinal. "Big game Wednesday, but things are clicking. We have synergy."

With several overtime victories under their belts, they knew how to pull out a win. But tonight, the Raiders said not so fast as the cross-town rivals went toe-to-toe through the first quarter as Clyburn shot his team out of a cannon and pulled out all the stops from tipoff.

Like a well-trained prize fighter, the Raiders took a few good shots and even lagged behind momentarily as the Panthers sprinted the court, trying to tire the Raiders. But Orange Park came out swinging hard, nailing eight three-pointers with Deandre Dickerson banking three 3-pointers on his way to an 11 point night, and Corey Thomas leading the Raiders with 20 as the Raiders showed their dominance in their conditioning.

"I think we had a hell of a season through my eyes," said Clyburn. "No matter what, up 20, down 20, they stayed together. They continued to work hard. Next season, we'll get the guys in much better shape before the season and I have to continue teaching them how to win. They didn't know how to win. Now they are winning. Every year, we've been making a jump. They competed."

The game was furious from tip-off as the Panthers went to rifling the ball around the court, finding the open man and taking the shot. Quickly the game was tied at 7-7, then the Panthers had a lead, 9-7.

The Raiders were unphased by the tempo and kept up whatever pace the Panthers set. After several minutes of playing at speed, the Panther shots began missing, and the Raiders played the boards with perfection, cleared, and took it to the house over and over. At the end of the first, The Raiders pulled out by 10, 19-9.

CORRESPONDENT PHOTOS BY RAY DIMONDA

Orange Park's leading scorer, Corey Thomas is among Ridgeview defenders attempting a jump shot for two of his 20 points in Raiders district tournament win.

"There's no more warm-ups. It's play-off time," said Kurnitsky. "There's no more warm ups."

In the second quarter, the Panthers improved to 11, but the Raider rebounds and boards were too much as the teams hit the lockers 34-20 at the half. At the half, the Raiders already nailed four 3-pointers and were lethal from all over the court.

Out of the break, they may have served some energy drinks as the pace nearly doubled for both teams.

The frantic back-and-forth was relentless as the Panthers piled on 19 points for the quarter. The Raiders too put on a show with two more 3-pointers and Corey Thomas hitting for 12 points alone in the quarter as the Raiders doled out a 25 point third quarter pummeling.

Ridgeview High coach Jerome Clyburn has plenty of outstanding history in the Orange Park High Raiderdome and Monday's game was a step for the Panthers in becoming a better program next year.

Kyle Busch wins exhibition race after friends clash in final turn

Speedweeks off to a fast start at Daytona International Speedway

By Don Coble
don@opcfla.com

DAYTONA BEACH – Kyle Busch couldn't catch a break during most of the 2020 racing season. Things are already better in 2021.

Busch drove through a last-corner accident to go from third to Victory Lane in the Busch Clash exhibition race Tuesday night at the Daytona International Speedway. The wreck between Ryan Blaney and Chase Elliott was nothing more than friendly fire, it allowed Busch to lead the final 125 yards – the only time he was out front on the 3.61-mile, 14-turn, road course – but they were the only ones that mattered.

"Yeah, I kind of felt like there was an interesting opportunity there that was presenting itself. I was kind of catching those guys and running them down for a couple laps there towards the end. I think they were pushing each other a little bit, kind of messing each other up more so than being able to run clean laps," Busch said. "I was gaining. I wasn't going to get there. But obviously they got together there in that final corner. I wasn't sure if Chase was going to push the issue and push back on Blaney and knock him through the turn and make him miss the exit or what was going to happen. The both of them had to make the turtles [speed bump curbing], if you will. They just got together and started crashing.

"When that started happening, I was hoping they were going to wreck long enough that I could get up in there and get by them, we could win the thing. It's never over till it's over at these types of places, especially when you have those last-corner, last-ditch-effort chicanes like here and the [Charlotte] Roval."

Elliott recovered to finish second, followed by Joey Logano in third, Tyler Reddick in fourth and William Byron in fifth. Blaney limped home in 13th place.

"I certainly don't want to wreck him out of anybody," said Elliott, who's won the last four points-paying road course races on the Cup Series schedule. "And more than anything, hate neither one of us won. Hate to hand it to somebody else like that."

Blaney agreed.

"But I told him if you're going to make a move like that, make sure you at least win the race," he said. "Don't hand it to the third-place guy."

The Clash was an invitation-only 35-lap race among 21 drivers. The regular season is scheduled to start Sunday with the Daytona 500. The Cup Series then will return to the Daytona road course for 70-lap main event on Nov. 21.

Other races this week include the Duels qualifying races that determine the Daytona 500 starting lineup on Thursday, the NextEra 250 for the Camping World Truck Series on Friday and the Beef, It's What's For Dinner 300 for the Xfinity Series on Saturday.

The starting lineup for Tuesday's Clash was determined in a blind drawing. Blaney started on the pole, but Denny Hamlin passed him on the first lap and he stayed ahead for 21 laps. Blaney finally got to the front with five laps remaining, only to lose the opportunity to win after being turned coming out of the final chicane.

For Busch, it was a lucky turn of events. He won a single race last year, and that didn't come until the 34th race of the 36-race season.

"We just did our job, executed as well as we could execute," he said. "It all kind of came together there at the end."

Despite the injuries, Clay's routine went well, with the only hiccups being Griffin's touchdown and a fall during the opening stunt sequence. Davis was thrilled.

"Having all new guys this season, with injuries within the week, with last minute changes, with a new freshman added at the last minute and an athlete twisting her ankle and pushing through, we are so proud of this team," she said.

Fleming Island made drastic improvement from a 62.85 received in the regional, scoring an 82.2 in Lakeland to snare third place behind the Blue Devils. The Golden Eagles routine features multiple stunts using just a single base for each flyer.

"We are right on track," said Fleming Island coach Ryan Andrews. "Every year, we want to be as clean as we can be at States [the FHSAA state competition], but we want to make sure we are peaking for the [United Cheerleaders Association, or UCA] nationals and finish in the top five there."

Middleburg improved on its score of 61.1 at the regional with a 61.9 in Lakeland, but did not advance to the finals in the Class 1A Small Varsity Division. The Broncos had only one fall despite some last-minute adversity. Kyla Sawdo, Middleburg's best tumbler and middle flyer, was forced to miss the competition due to Covid-19 protocols. Senior Brittney Horton was brought in from the sideline cheerleading squad and learned Swado's role in a two-hour emergency practice the day before the competition. Horton then hit all her stunts and tumbling passes in Lakeland, impressing head coach Rhianon Weiskopf. "This team rallied together and did a great job, considering," said Weiskopf. "Overall, the routine went great."

After qualifying for the state semifinals at the regional on January 9, Oakleaf was unable to compete in Lakeland due to Covid-19 contact tracing protocols. According to head coach Daniel Richardson, the Knights will not compete again this season.

Next up for Bishop Snyder and all the Clay County schools except Oakleaf will be the UCA Cheer National Championship competition at the Walt Disney World Resort in Orlando on April 23-25, 2021.

Guess Who?

I am an athlete born in New York on February 17, 1963. Due to my moderate height, I didn't make the varsity squad in high school. But that didn't stop me from going on to be one of the greatest basketball players of all time.

Answer: Michael Jordan

REQUEST FOR QUALIFICATIONS ("RFQ") FOR ENGINEERING SERVICES FOR THE SANDRIDGE COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT DISTRICT RFQ for Engineering Services

The Sandridge Community Development District ("District"), located entirely within Clay County, Florida, announces that professional engineering services related to the construction of Sandridge Road and other infrastructure related to public improvements, which may include transportation facilities, utility facilities and recreational facilities, and all other public improvements authorized by Chapter 190, Florida Statutes, will be required on a continuing basis for the District in accordance with Section 287.055, Florida Statutes. The firm selected will provide the District such services on an as-needed basis.

Any firm or individual ("Applicant") desiring to provide professional services to the District must: 1) hold applicable federal, state and local licenses; 2) be authorized to do business in Florida in accordance with Florida law; and 3) furnish a statement ("Qualification Statement") of its qualifications and past experience on U.S. General Service Administration's "Architect-Engineer Qualifications, Standard Form No. 330," with pertinent supporting data. Among other things, Applicants must submit information relating to: a) the ability and adequacy of the Applicant's professional personnel; b) whether the Applicant is a certified minority business enterprise; c) the Applicant's willingness to meet time and budget requirements; d) the Applicant's past experience and performance, including but not limited to past experience providing professional services for any community development districts and past experience with Pasco County; e) the geographic location of the Applicant's headquarters and offices; f) the current and projected workloads of the Applicant; and g) the volume of work previously awarded to the Applicant by the District, if any. Further, each Applicant must identify the specific individual affiliated with the Applicant who would be handling District Engineer services.

The District will review all Applicants and will comply with Florida law, including the Consultant's Competitive Negotiation Act, Chapter 287, Florida Statutes ("CCNA"). All Applicants must submit one (1) original hard copy and one (1) electronic copy on a flash drive of Standard Form No. 330 and Qualification Statement by 5:00 p.m., on February 25, 2021 to the attention of Craig Wrathell, c/o Wrathell, Hunt and Associates, LLC, located at 2300 Glades Road, Suite 410W, Boca Raton, FL 33431 ("District Manager's Office").

The Board shall select and rank the Applicants using the requirements set forth in the CCNA and the evaluation criteria on file with the District Manager, and the highest ranked Applicant will be requested to enter into contract negotiations. If an agreement cannot be reached between the District and the highest ranked Applicant, negotiations will cease and begin with the next highest ranked Applicant, and if these negotiations are unsuccessful, will continue to the third highest ranked Applicant and so on. The District reserves the right to reject any and all Qualification Statements and to retain multiple engineering firms to perform work as needed. Additionally, there is no express or implied obligation for the District to reimburse Applicants for any expenses associated with the preparation and submittal of the Qualification Statements in response to this request.

Any protest regarding the terms of this Notice, or the evaluation criteria on file with the District Manager's Office, must be filed in writing with the District Manager's Office, within seventy-two (72) hours (excluding weekends) after the publication of this Notice. The formal protest setting forth with particularity the facts and law upon which the protest is based shall be filed within seven (7) calendar days after the initial notice of protest was filed. Failure to timely file a notice of protest or failure to timely file a formal written protest shall constitute a waiver of any right to object or protest with respect to aforesaid Notice or evaluation criteria provisions. Any person who files a notice of protest shall provide to the District, simultaneous with the filing of the notice, a protest bond with a responsible surety to be approved by the District and in the amount of Ten Thousand Dollars ($10,000.00). Additional information and requirements regarding protests are set forth in the District's Rules of Procedure, which are available from the District Manager's Office. Any and all questions relative to this RFQ shall be directed in writing by e-mail only to Craig A. Wrathell (wrathelle@whassociates.com) with an e-mail copy to Jennifer Kilinski at jenk@hgsllaw.com.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

The Board of County Commissioners (the "Board") of Clay County, Florida (the "County") will hold a public hearing pursuant to Section 147(f) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"), on Tuesday, February 23, 2021, at 5:00 p.m. local time, or as soon thereafter as can be heard, in the Board of County Commissioners Meeting Room on the Fourth Floor of the Clay County Administration Building, 477 Houston Street, Green Cove Springs, Florida.

The public hearing will be held for the purpose of considering a resolution approving, among other things, the proposed issuance by the City of Jacksonville, Florida (the "Issuer") of its City of Jacksonville, Florida Health Care Facilities Revenue Bonds (Baptist Health), Series 2021, in an aggregate principal amount not to exceed $150,000,000, in one or more series (the "Bonds"), for the purpose of providing funds to be loaned by the Issuer to Southern Baptist Hospital of Florida, Inc., d/b/a Baptist Medical Center South, Baptist Medical Center Jacksonville and Wolfson Children's Hospital, a Florida not for profit corporation (the "Borrower"), for the purposes of financing, refinancing or reimbursing all or a portion of (a) the costs of certain capital expenditures at the health care facilities of the Borrower and its affiliates and related parties, including without limitation the acquisition, planning, development, construction, renovation, improvement, equipping and installation of certain facilities, and other capital improvements and upgrades, at (i) Baptist Medical Center Jacksonville, located at or about 800 Prudential Drive, Jacksonville, Florida 32207, 836 Prudential Drive, Jacksonville, Florida 32207, 841 Prudential Drive, Jacksonville, Florida 32207, 1325 San Marco Boulevard, Jacksonville, Florida 32207, 1650 Prudential Drive, Jacksonville, Florida 32207, 1660 Prudential Drive, Jacksonville, Florida 32207 and 3451 Beach Boulevard, Jacksonville, Florida 32207, including without limitation (A) the acquisition, construction, planning, development, renovation, improvement and equipping of a new approximately seven-story health care facility, including without limitation an approximately 75-bed Neonatal Intensive Care Unit and an approximately 26-bed Pediatric Intensive Care Unit, (B) the acquisition, expansion, renovation, installation and equipping of labor and delivery facilities, laboratories, testing and procedure rooms, office space and common areas and (C) other necessary and useful acquisitions, improvements, renovations, equipment purchases and other capital expenditures, (ii) Baptist Medical Center Beaches, located at or about 1350 13th Avenue South, Jacksonville Beach, Florida 32250, 1361 13th Avenue South, Jacksonville Beach, Florida 32250, 1370 13th Avenue South, Jacksonville Beach, Florida 32250, 1320 Roberts Drive, Jacksonville Beach, Florida 32250, 1375 Roberts Drive, Jacksonville Beach, Florida 32250 and 1127 South 16th Avenue, Jacksonville Beach, Florida 32250, including without limitation (A) the acquisition, expansion, renovation, installation and equipping of laboratories, testing and procedure rooms, office space and common areas and (B) other necessary and useful acquisitions, improvements, renovations, equipment purchases and other capital expenditures, (iii) Baptist Medical Center South, located at or about 14550 Old St. Augustine Road, Jacksonville, Florida 32258, 14540 Old St. Augustine Road, Jacksonville, Florida 32258 and 14546 Old St. Augustine Road, Jacksonville, Florida 32258, including without limitation (A) the acquisition, construction, expansion, renovation, installation and equipping of the seventh floor of Tower C and other diagnostic and acute care facilities and (B) other necessary and useful acquisitions, improvements, renovations, equipment purchases and other capital expenditures and (iv) Baptist Clay Medical Campus, located at or about 1771 Baptist Clay Drive, Fleming Island, Florida 32003, including without limitation (A) the acquisition, construction, planning, development, improvement and equipping of a new approximately 300,000 square foot inpatient hospital facility with approximately 100 beds and (B) other necessary and useful acquisitions, improvements, renovations, equipment purchases and other capital expenditures, (b) capitalized interest on the Bonds and (c) costs of issuing the Bonds (collectively, the "Project").

The Project is and will be owned and operated by the Borrower and/or one or more of its affiliates and related parties. Neither the County nor the Issuer will be obligated to pay the Bonds or have any obligation or liability pecuniary or otherwise with respect to the Bonds or the Project. Neither the County nor the Issuer will be obligated to pay the Bonds except from the proceeds derived from the repayment of the related loan or loans to the Borrower or from the security pledged therefor by the Borrower and/or one or more of its affiliates and related parties, and neither the faith and credit of the County or the Issuer, nor the taxing power of the Issuer, of the County or of the State, or of any political subdivision thereof, will be pledged to the payment of the principal of, premium, if any, or the interest on the Bonds.

The public hearing is required by Section 147(f) of the Code. Any person interested in the proposed issuance of the Bonds or the location or nature of the Project may appear and be heard. Subsequent to the public hearing, the Board will consider whether to approve the Bonds, as required by Section 147(f) of the Code.

The public hearing will be conducted in a manner that provides a reasonable opportunity to be heard for persons with differing views to express such views, both orally and in writing, on the nature of the Project and the issuance of the Bonds by the Issuer. Any person desiring to be heard on this matter is requested to attend the public hearing or send a representative. Pursuant to Section 286.0105, Florida Statutes, a person deciding to appeal any decision made by the Board with respect to any matter considered at the meeting or at any subsequent meeting at which the Board has continued its deliberations is advised that such person will need a record of all proceedings and may need to ensure that a verbatim record of all proceedings is made, which must include the testimony and evidence upon which the appeal is to be based.

A copy of the proposed resolution may be inspected by members of the public at the County Commission Offices, Fourth Floor of the Clay County Administration Building, 477 Houston Street, Green Cove Springs, Florida, between the hours of 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, with the exception of legal holidays.

In accordance with the Americans With Disabilities Act, any person needing a special accommodation to participate in this matter should contact the Clay County ADA Coordinator by mail at Post Office Box 1366, Green Cove Springs,

Bid Notices

There will be a MANDATORY Pre-bid Meeting at the site on Friday, March 5, 2021 @ 10:00 AM per Section 002113, Part 9.2. Bidders not attending the pre-bid meeting will not be permitted to submit a bid.

Only Contractors having been pre-qualified by the School District of Clay County are eligible to submit bids for this project. Only pre-qualified Contractors should submit bids for this project (Florida Statutes).

Florida Statutes require that all contractual personnel who are permitted access on school grounds when students are present must meet Level 2 screening requirements as described in S1012.32, Florida Statutes.

DISCRIMINATION: An entity or affiliate who has been placed on the discriminatory vendor list may not submit a bid on a contract to provide goods or services to a public entity, may not submit a bid on a contract with a public entity for the construction or repair of a public building or public work, may not submit bids on leases of real property to public entity, may not award or perform work as a contractor, supplier, subcontractor, or consultant under contract with any public entity, and may not transact business with any public entity.

The Owner reserves the right to waive any irregularities and minor technicalities or to reject any and all bids. Each bidder must deposit with his bid, a Bid Bond or Cashier's Check in the amount of five percent (5%) of the Base Bid price, payable to the Owner.

The successful bidder will be required to provide a Performance, Labor, and Material Bond in the amount of 100% of the accepted Bid amount.

No bidder may withdraw his bid within (60) days after the actual date of the opening thereof.

Any actual or prospective bidder who disputes the reasonableness or competitiveness of the terms and conditions of the Invitation To Bid, Contract Award, or Recommendation for Contract Award, shall file a Notice of Protest with the Superintendent of Schools within 72 hours of receipt of the bid solicitation, posting of the bid tabulations, or posting of the bid award, and must file a formal written protest within ten (10) days following the filing of the Notice to Protest. Failure to observe such timelines will constitute a waiver of proceedings and of right to protest as stipulated in Chapter 120 of the Florida Statutes. The School Board requires a protestor to post bond in accordance with Florida Statutes, Section 255.0516 F.S.

Bond Requirement:

Should a contractor wish to protest the bid recommendation, the protestor shall be required to post a bond as follows:

1. Five percent (5%) of the recommended award for all projects valued less than $500,000.00; and
2. Twenty-five thousand ($25,000.00) for all projects in excess of $500,000.00

Conditioned upon payment of all costs and fees, which may be adjusted against the protestor in the Administrative Hearing. If at the Hearing the School Board prevails, it may recover all costs and attorney's fees from the protestor; if the protestor prevails, the protestor shall recover from the School Board all costs and attorney's fees.

Bid Tabulations shall be posted in the Operations Reception area at 925 Center Street, Green Cove Springs, FL 32043 after the intended recommendation is announced on or about four (4) days after the bid opening. The Bid Tabulation will remain posted for a minimum period of 96 hours.

Suffering from sinus pressure or chronic sinus infections?

Don't Suffer in Sinus

Baptist Health now offers innovative treatment options that can provide relief and improve your quality of life.

If you suffer with frequent sinus pain and pressure, it could be a sign that your sinuses are obstructed – and over-the-counter medications such as nasal decongestants and antihistamines may not be enough to help them function normally.

If you have:

- Pain in the front of your face or behind your eyes
- A headache that gets worse when you bend over
- Pressure or fullness in the ear
- Sinus pain that is worse in the morning or in damp weather...or
- Persistent fatigue or an inability to concentrate

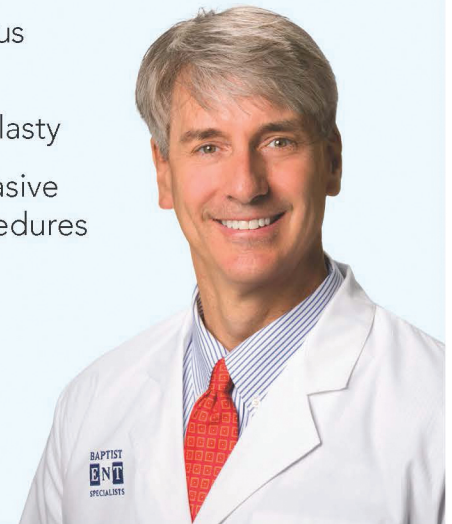

Don't wait! There are new, less invasive options that can reopen your sinuses and restore proper airflow and drainage. The ear nose and throat specialists at Baptist can evaluate and treat the underlying cause of your sinus issues and provide you with innovative and effective treatment options that can clear your head and help you feel like yourself again.
