Apple TV+ profiles Michael J. Fox in 'STILL'

Michael J. Fox's life has entailed a lot, and as his many fans long have been aware, not all of it has been for the cameras.

The five-time Primetime Emmy Award winner was at the height of his popularity as an actor when he received a diagnosis of Parkinson's disease in 1991, and both his private and public aspects get considerable attention in "STILL: A Michael J. Fox Movie," which Apple TV+ debuts Friday, May 12. Directed by Davis Guggenheim ("An Inconvenient Truth") – whose wife, Elisabeth Shue, worked with Fox in the "Back to the Future" franchise – the film factors dramatic re-creations into Fox-narrated recollections of his experiences.

Though Fox admits he had early difficulty emotionally in dealing with his health assessment, he ultimately channeled the situation into the nonprofit Michael J. Fox Foundation for Parkinson's Research. It has financed more than $1 billion in projects, including a recent breakthrough involving a spinal fluid test. Fox also has traced his life and times in several memoirs: "Lucky Man," "Always Looking Up: The Adventures of an Incurable Optimist" and "No Time Like the Future: An Optimist Considers Mortality."

Last year, the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences gave Fox the Jean Hersholt Humanitarian Award, also an acknowledgment of his significance as a member of the entertainment community. After he moved to Los Angeles from his native Canada, it wasn't long before he was cast as politically minded Alex P. Keaton in the sitcom "Family Ties"; during its seven-season run, he also scored such movie successes as the three "Back to the Future" films, "Teen Wolf" and "The Secret of My Success," plus image departures in "Bright Lights, Big City" (co-starring Fox's wife, Tracy Pollan) and "Casualties of War."

After making such early-1990s comedy films as "Doc Hollywood" and "For Love or Money," Fox returned to weekly sitcom work in "Spin City." Midway through that show's run, he went public with his " ' ' n's news, and Charlie Sheen succeeded him in the series. However, Fox earned later acclaim for recurring guest roles on "Boston Legal," "Rescue Me" and "The Good Wife."

In 2012, Fox made a bid for series work again with "The Michael J. Fox Show," which incorporated aspects of his real life as he played a TV newsman. It lasted less than one season, but afterward, Fox reunited with earlier movie co-star and longtime friend Kiefer Sutherland in a guest arc on the latter's show "Designated Survivor."

Though Fox maintains that he has retired from acting, he notes that could change under the right circumstances. For now, he's back in the limelight by telling his own story in "STILL: A Michael J. Fox Movie," and it's a singular tale that's worth relating – and hearing – firsthand.

Food Network celebrates Mother's Day with recipes for Mom and the family

As she's being served breakfast in bed this Sunday, Mom will have a full morning's worth of Mother's Day-related culinary programming to take in on Food Network.

The May 14 lineup kicks off bright and early with "Girl Meets Farm," which finds host Molly Yeh celebrating Mother's Day with a tea party and a menu of rose cupcake cones, savory hot dog flower buns, ham and cheese sandwiches on sour cream and chive scones and fairy toast with marzipan butter and homemade sprinkles.

Then on "Valerie's Home Cooking," Ms. Bertinelli practices a little self-care for Mother's Day by inviting over friend and actress Angela Kinsey ("The Office") for a decadent meal of roasted cod with cashew coconut lime topping, tangy quick collards and a tomato and cucumber salad with cumin vinaigrette. And for dessert, she serves up a citrus upside-down cake. We're still waiting for our invitation.

A little later on "The Pioneer Woman," Ree Drummond is enjoying a little pampering. While she's out for the afternoon, the boys are in the kitchen preparing filet steaks with shrimp peppercorn sauce, along with ranch-style oven potatoes and roasted asparagus. But she's not out of the kitchen entirely as she makes an Italian chicken soup and some homemade cherry pie. Yum!

Then immediately following, Drummond is back to share some ideas for a special lunch just for Mom. In this case, it starts with grilled chicken lettuce wraps with Italian-style filling, accompanied by a colorful grain salad. For dessert, she makes dark chocolate espresso sundaes, washed down with blood orange and basil wine spritzers.

At midday, Kardea Brown hosts a Mother's Day lunch for some childhood best friends on "Delicious Miss Brown." On the menu is a scalloped potato-stuffed chicken with a sugar snap pea Salad with roasted grapes. Then for dessert, there is a lemon meringue pie with shortbread cookie crust, tart lemon filling and pillowy meringue. And let's not forget the strawberry rose daiquiri, a frozen cocktail made from sparkling rose, rum and strawberries.

And in the afternoon, head to "The Kitchen," where the chefs are celebrating their mothers with recipes inspired by them. So for Geoffrey Zakarian, that means making savory lamb sliders with a rose elderflower sangria. Meanwhile, Jeff Mauro prepares a shrimp and pea pasta, Alex Guarnaschelli skews up her fresh griddled flatbread and Katie Lee Biegel shares her grandmother's award-winning angel food cake recipe.

Gorman a star on the rise in St. Louis

In the category of young players to watch out for in 2023, we present for your consideration Nolan Gorman.

Indeed, in their 23-year-old second baseman/designated hitter, the St. Louis Cardinals look like they have a bona fide power bat to serve as a lefty-swinging complement to their slugging righty superstars Paul Goldschmidt and Nolan Arenado.

Through 19 April games, the Phoenix native was hitting .316 with five home runs, 16 RBIs, an on-base percentage of .403 and an OPS of 1.052. His season highlight so far came on April 19, when he came off the bench to pinch-hit a grand slam homer at Busch Stadium in the Cards' 14-5 rout of the Arizona Diamond-

At 6 feet 1 inch and 210 pounds, Gorman has the size and powerful lefty swing that any team would love in a young slugger. And this season, he's improved on his tendencies to chase balls out of the strike zone, resulting in an increase in his walk rate (13.4 percent in 2023 versus 9 percent in his rookie campaign last year) and a decrease in his strikeout rate (23.9 percent versus 32.9 percent).

Of course, all this comes with the caveat that "it's still early" and his numbers will certainly come back to earth. But at this point, Gorman appears to be a player with a bright future ahead of him.

Gorman and the Cardinals can be seen on national TV Sunday May 14, when they close out a three-game series against the Boston Red Sox at Fenway Park in a contest airing on ESPN.

Full name: Nolan Brian Birth date: May 10, 2000 Birthplace: Phoenix Height/weight: 6 feet,

1 inch/210 pounds Teams: St. Louis Cardinalss (2022-present)

Position: Second base, designated hitter Bats/throws: Left/right No.: 16 Honors and achievements: Won a gold medal with Team USA in 2017 at the Under-18 Baseball World Cup; career stats

(106 games) - .241 average with 19 homers, 53 RBIs, 50 runs, an on-base percentage of .318 and OPS of .777

Did you know: Gorman was the first player born in the year 2000 to be drafted by an MLB team.

May 14 "Movie: Ticket to Paradise"

George Clooney and Julia Roberts bring their considerable onscreen charisma to this otherwise lightweight 2022 romantic comedy in which they star as David and Georgia Cotton, a bickering divorced couple who travel to Bali to keep their soon-to-wed daughter Lily (Kaitlyn Dever, "Dopesick") from making the same mistake they made 25 years earlier. Billie Lourd ("American Horror Story") also stars.

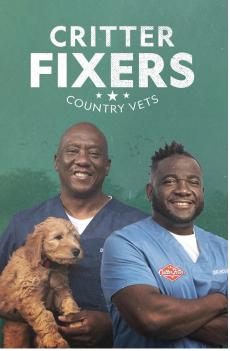

May 15 "Movie: Point Break"

Young FBI recruit Johnny Utah (Luke Bracey) goes under cover to infiltrate a gang of extreme athletes — including surfer and eco-warrior Bodhi (Edgar Ramirez) — who performs daredevil heists in this 2015 makeover of a 1991 action movie blockbuster that featured iconic performances by Patrick Swayze (as Bodhi) and Keanu Reeves (as Johnny).

OF FATAL ATTRACTION ON PARAMOUNT+

Q: In the series version of "Fatal Attraction," it's incumbent on you and Joshua Jackson to portray a marriage that infidelity could disrupt deeply. Did you know his work previously?

A: I had tried to work with Josh many times. The two of us had tried to do a romantic comedy, and wouldn't you know this is this thing where we finally got to work together? I think he's brilliant, so I was really excited to do this with him.

I also knew his stage work. I think he's been underrated because he's done so nicely for himself, but I definitely feel like he's a force acting-wise.

Q: You've generated some of your own work in recent years, such as co-creating and co-writing the Netflix series "The Chair." Can you describe the appeal for you in doing that?

A: It's a great joy to be able to sit down and work without waiting for my agent to call me and say, "We have an audition!" As many people have said before me, there's a whole aspect of being an actor that's a little bit like having a terrible boyfriend.

For most of us, there's a fair amount of waiting ... but not if you're Cate Blanchett or Julia Roberts. With writing, I can just go ahead and do that anytime and anywhere. And in my sweatpants.

Q: Being married to former "Game of Thrones" show-runner David Benioff, do you bounce your own creative ideas off of him?

A: Yes, and I hope this doesn't sound too corny, but I consider him a mentor. I had thought about going back to school, to get the kind of critiques in class when you're a writer – but instead, I had my husband, and also D.B. Weiss (also of "Game of Thrones") and D.B.'s wife, Andrea Troyer (also of "The Chair"). We have a little writers' group, and that's not always pleasant, but it's necessary.

Community starts with neighbors who care.

That's what our town is made of.

State Farm® has a long heritage of helping out in the community. That's why I'm proud to support Green Cove Springs.

Get to a better State

"Nancy Drew" (The CW — season premiere, May 31)

Last season we found out that things aren't going to be so rosy for Nancy (Kennedy McMann) and Ace (Alex Saxon). And in this Season 4 premiere things pick up right where they left off with simmering love and youthful yearning. But showrunners also plan to put Nancy back into familiar territory — the graveyard. So expect a return to the mysteries the series is famous for. Scott Wolf. Leah Lewis Tunji Kasim, Riley Smith and Maddison Jaizani also star.

'Kingsman' plays successfully with the spy genre

"Spy Kids" or "Agent Cody Banks," it's not – but that's not necessarily a bad thing in the case of "Kingsman: The Secret Service."

Whenever moviemakers tackle the idea of a younger James Bond, the result usually is too child-targeted for its own good. Leave it to director Matthew Vaughn to change up that concept, though, as he did with young superheroes in his two "Kick-Ass" films.

His franchise-launching 2014 release "Kingsman: The Secret Service" – which HBO shows Sunday, May 14, and which prompted both a sequel and a prequel – keeps many of the Bond trappings while aiming for audiences of all ages. Vaughn (who also guided, before the actor's James Bond tenure, Daniel Craig in "Layer Cake") really ramps up the violence in the home stretch; to those familiar with Vaughn's work, though, that shouldn't be a shock.

Inspired by a comic book, the original "Kingsman" casts Taron Egerton (later acclaimed for his portrayal of Elton John in "Rocketman") as Eggsy ... only a nickname, luckily for him). He's a young ruffian chosen to succeed his late father in the service of Her Majesty the Queen. As the newcomer's bosses, Colin Firth and Michael Caine add acting heft, yet a fun spirit at the same time.

So does Samuel L. Jackson as the piece's villain, a fabulously wealthy man who wants to launch a high-tech scheme to turn much of the world homicidal and rule those who remain. It's a Bond-worthy plot, and it's also tantalizing to think what an actual 007 adventure would be like with much of this cast.

Add clever gadgets and lethal cohorts (including Jackson's henchwoman, whose legs essentially are swords), and Bond fans will feel right at home with "Kingsman." It would be the perfect vehicle to introduce younger viewers to that world, if not for that major spurt of mayhem toward the end – perfectly in keeping with Vaughn's modus operandi, but not necessarily that of the parents of pre-teen viewers.

One neat touch is how getting to know Egerton here parallels how the public got to know Sean Connery as Bond in "Dr. No." He seemed to become more refined as that picture went along, and the same applies here, as the initially rough-around-the-edges novice spy settles into his new career.

OF LOVE IN ZION NATIONAL: A
NATIONAL PARK ROMANCE ON HALLMARK CHANNEL

Q: How was it to film "Love in Zion National: A National Park Romance" on location?

A: All of these parks are magnificent, and they all are so different in their own ways. I haven't done all of them yet, but I'm on a good roll here! (Busby made "Marry Me in Yosemite" on location for Hallmark Channel last year.)

Zion National was beautiful, but it was pretty chilly still. They'd been getting a little bit of snow, so we were working with Mother Nature, if you will. But the sky was clear, and we were just lucky to be shooting outdoors. Every day out there is a good day.

Q: With "Meet Me in Yosemite," you had to start your work days early, before the tourist crowd began filling the park. Was it the same at Zion National?

A: It wasn't the same as far as that goes. There weren't any 4 a.m. calls – which I was super-grateful for – plus we were shooting earlier in the year than we shot "Meet Me in Yosemite," so the sun came up at a different time as well.

(Zion National) is very vast, and most of the time, we had no cell-phone reception ... which kind of told you where you were at. You knew you were kind of in the middle of nowhere, which I frankly loved. It's nice just to be in the moment, and it really makes a difference. And it makes for a more tightly knit crew, because everyone is just there together. Most of the crew on "Yosemite" was part of this one, too, which was really cool.

reality†\ Ali Stroker helps give Shakespeare's

BY JAY BOBBIN

A very inclusive rendering of "Richard III"

offers a unique "winter of our discontent." Being televised on PBS' "Great Performances" Friday, May 19 (check local listings), the "Shakespeare in the Park" production – taped last summer in New York's Central Park casts female Danai Gurira ("Black Panther") in the male title role and "Oklahoma!" Tony honoree Ali Stroker, who uses a wheelchair, as power-hungry monarch Richard's put-upon wife Lady Anne. Sharon Washington, who was Lady Anne in a three-decades-earlier staging, appears as Queen Margaret.

'It was a very special opportunity," the pleasant Stroker recalls. "It was always on my bucket list to do Shakespeare. It was funny, because I'd kind of started working on Shakespeare in a class and with my husband during the pandemic, when we had so much time. Then, this came along and I thought, 'Wow! This is perfect timing.

Stroker enjoyed playing what she deems Lady Anne's "many sides. In this story, she's desperate, and Richard is so cunning ... 'evil,' some people might label him. Casting Richard with a woman added really cool layers, and Danai is just fabulous. We had a great time. It was a blast every night."

It also was a challenge, Stroker admits, since she was expecting her first child at the time.

'To do a show while you're pregnant is really special," she reflects, "because it's like you're doing it with your baby."

Though she might not be in that condition if she tackled any more works by the Bard, Stroker would like to have such acting chances: "It's its own genre. I love musical theater, which is so heightened, and it's the same way with Shakespeare. The language is so different from what we're used to."

As a relatively new mom, Stroker is spending 2023 performing her one-night "An Evening With Ali Stroker" concert and doing speaking engagements, so she can continue working without being away very long. "He's still really little," she says of her son, "and I'm needed at home. I also have an animation studio at home, so these are the things that work well."

Why Ryan Seacrest left 'Live' on tape

Q: Why did it say that Ryan Seacrest's last "Live With Kelly and Ryan" episode was recorded earlier, when the show is supposed to be live? - Judy Marks, Reading, Pa.

A: Given the occasion that Seacrest's sign-off was, the show's staff likely wanted extra time to get things right and as gaffe-free as possible. It also was a way to ensure that everything got in without the show running over its allotted hour, which couldn't occur with a syndicated program being sent to many local stations across the country.

That overrun would have been easy to happen, given all the clips shown from Seacrest's tenure on the program ... plus his wanting to address family members who were in that day's audience, plus the presence of First Lady Dr. Jill Biden as a guest, plus the presentation of a celebratory cake to Seacrest by his successor Mark Consuelos (co-host Kelly Ripa's husband).

BEST TV MOMS By, girls."

June Cleaver (Barbara Billingsley, "Leave It to Beaver"): This mother commendably kept her cool in the face of the frequently precocious antics of youngest son Theodore ... or "Beaver" (Jerry Mathers).

Margaret Anderson (Jane Wyatt, "Father Knows Best"): One of the prototypes of the American family woman on 1950s television, this character actually originated on radio.

Wilma Flintstone (voice of Jean Vander Pyl, "The Flintstones"): This Stone Age woman's dryly humorous outlook helped her stay focused in the prehistoric era.

Julia Baker (Diahann Carroll, "Julia"): This nurse, widow and single parent was groundbreaking for TV in many ways at the time (1968-71).

Carol Brady (Florence Henderson, "The Brady Bunch"): Well, of course. Through many years and many variations on the original show, this was the "lovely lady who was bringing up three very lovely girls."

Shirley Partridge (Shirley Jones, "The Partridge Family"): It took a tuneful and spirited matriarch, and a colorfully decorated bus, to keep this clan on the road to sustained musical success.

Edith Bunker (Jean Stapleton, "All in the Family"): As daffy as she might have seemed much of the time, this doting housewife had nothing but pure love for her daughter Gloria (Sally Struthers)

Caroline Ingalls (Karen Grassle,

Caroline Ingalls (Karen Grassle, "Little House on the Prairie"): Here's another superb example of a home-screen mom who did her duty in much simpler times

Eleanor Southworth "Miss Ellie" Ewing (Barbara Bel Geddes, "Dallas"): A backbone of steel, which she needed to keep her oil-rich family in line, made this character a unique staple of Elyse Keaton (Meredith Baxter, "Family Ties"): Though staunchly liberal, the mother of the highly conservative Alex P.

Keaton (Michael J. Fox) maintained peace – eventually – on the home front.

Clair Huxtable (Phylicia Rashad, "The Cosby Show"): The modern wife, mother and career woman was embodied perfectly by this attorney.

Marge Simpson (voice of Julie Kavner, "The Simpsons"): Her animated presence and towering hairstyle make Homer's wife a hugely distinctive TV mom.

Homer's wife a hugely distinctive TV mom.

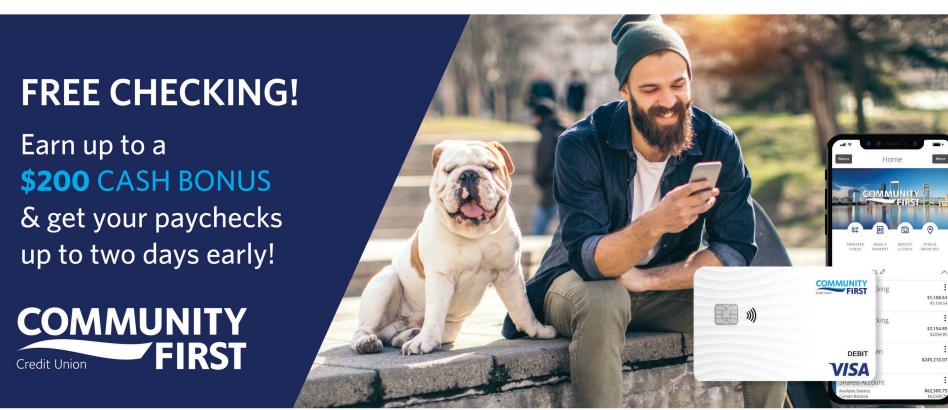

Peg Bundy (Katey Sagal, "Married
... With Children"): As unconventional as she was, this bawdy lady would lay everything on the line – and often did – for the wellbeing of her family.

Claire Dunphy (Julie Bowen, "Modern Family"): Youthful in her approach to being both friend and mom, this woman also believed in the traditions of family.

Lorelai Gilmore (Lauren Graham, "Gilmore Girls"): The relationship between this demonstrably hip mom and her very wise daughter Rory (Alexis Bledel) will keep their shoes a favorite for generations to come.
