A series 'Reborn': 'The Wheel of Time' returns for Season 2

Within the realm of the fantastic, several novels, movies, video games and series exist to tickle the adventure bone. However, despite the plethora of content, few franchises have the hold that Harry Potter, Game of Thrones and The Lord of the Rings do. One series that has recently re-entered the chat, however, is "The Wheel of Time," which is about to begin its second season on Prime Video.

First written by Robert Jordan beginning in 1990, the 15-book series was expected to comprise just six novels. In 2009, the book series was taken over by fellow fantasy writing powerhouse Brandon Sanderson, following Jordan's death two years earlier. As time progressed and more books emerged, fans of high fantasy craved a TV or film adaptation that would do the then-still-growing book series justice. Finally, in 2018, following nearly two decades of rights disputes, low-budget pilots and controversy, it was announced that Amazon Studios would partner with Sony Pictures Television to make everyone's otherworldly dreams come true.

Now, following further setbacks brought about by the COVID-19 pandemic and more, "The Wheel of Time" Season 2 premieres Friday, Sept. 1, on Prime Video.

Already renewed for a third season ahead of the Season 2 premiere, WOT fans can rest easy knowing that the series' writers did not need to rush to fit several books' worth of content into one (potentially) final set of episodes. Instead, audiences get another eight episodes in the second season, while looking forward to even more come Season 3 (likely to be released 2024-25).

When Season 1 began, viewers met Moiraine (Rosamund Pike, "Gone Girl," 2014) as she began her quest to find the Dragon Reborn in the Two Rivers. As a member of the powerful Aes Sedai, an order of women with the ability to channel a form of elemental magic called the One Power, Moiraine has been called upon to find a kind of "chosen one," the reincarnation of a channeller called the Dragon, who once destroyed the world. After gathering a small group — any of whom could possibly be the Dragon Reborn — Moiraine, her Warder, Lan Mandragoran (Daniel Henney, "Big Hero 6," 2014), and the four new candidates — Perrin Aybara (Marcus Rutherford, "Bulletproof"), Mat Cauthon (played by "Clique's" Barney Harris in Season 1 and replaced by "The Witcher's" Dónal Finn in Season 2), Rand al'Thor (Josha Stradowski, "High Flyers") and Egwene al'Vere (Madeleine Madden, "Dora and the Lost City of Gold," 2019) begin their quest to urney ison 1 by "The onal on 2), r (Josha High Egwene eleine ora City 19) —

defeat a primordial evil known as the Dark One.

For the sake of brevity and avoiding as many spoilers as possible, suffice it to say that the first season did not end on a high note for Moiraine and her tribe of villager the unveiling of the Dragon Reborn, a battle between the reincarnation and a villain presumed to be the Dark One only appeared to awaken a more sinister energy. Needless to say, a war is on the horizon headed into this new instalment.

"In Season [2], threats new and very old seek out the young friends from the Two Rivers, now scattered over the world," the Prime Video description reads. "The woman who found and guided them is now powerless to help, and so they must find other sources of strength. In each other, or themselves. In the Light ... or the Dark."

"The Wheel of Time" was adapted for the screen by creator Rafe Judkins ("Agents of S.H.I.E.L.D.") and the Season 2 premiere is directed by Sanaa Hamri ("Empire") and Thomas Napper ("Jawbone," 2017). Zoë Robins ("Black Christmas," 2019) and Guy Roberts ("Hanna"), who play Nynaeve al'Meara and Uno Nomesta, respectively, are both expected to return to the series for Season 2 as well.

Farm to TV: Chef Molly Yeh shares delicious recipes in 'Girl Meets Farm'

From "Molly on the Range: Recipes and Stories from an Unlikely Life on a Farm," her debut cookbook released in 2016, to its 2018 predecessor, "Yogurt," to her current, farm-fresh-loving television show, Molly Yeh has proven herself to be "the duct tape of food" – a chef with endless creative applications who works connecting cultures and who aims to make her ideas accessible to the masses. Yeh's series, "Girl Meets Farm," does exactly that, with new episodes airing Sundays on Food Network

A biography for the author and chef on Food Network's website describes: "Molly has been featured by the New York Times, Food & Wine, Bon Appetit and New York Magazine, and has contributed to Vanity Fair, Saveur, Condé Nast Traveler, Food52, and The Jewish Daily Forward. She was named to Forbes' 30 under 30 list for 2017 and Apartment Therapy's 10 under 40 list."

They continue: "Outside the kitchen, Molly is a Juilliard-trained percussionist and has performed with orchestras around the world, in off-Broadway theater, and as the glockenspielist for the pop band San Fermin. She lives on a farm on the North Dakota-Minnesota border with her fifth-generation farmer husband and their little flock of chickens."

It is there, on the couple's border-town farm, that Yeh hosts her Food Network series, "Girl Meets Farm." The series has been running since June 2018, now boasting 13 seasons of Molly's most delicious Midwestern meals – dishes often influenced by her Chinese and Jewish heritage.

In its recent seasons, "Girl Meets Farm" has shared recipes such as Mini Strawberry Princess Cakes; Tomato Basil Soup with Parmesan; Beet Ricotta Dip with Vegetables; Blueberry Muffin Smoothies; Hammy Breakfast Hotdish; Pretzel Crusted Chicken Nuggets Salad; Churro Pancakes; Harissa-Braised Chickpeas with Feta; Yogurt Marinated Chicken Skewers and more, inviting viewers to try the dishes themselves, with in-depth, follow-along recipes shared on the Food Network website.

Aside from her TV hits, Yeh also shares more of her favorite creations on the site, some straight from her bestselling cookbooks. Hungry chefs and kitchen-dwellers of all skill levels are welcome to try their hand at Yeh's Scalloped Potatoes; Orecchiette with Broccolini and Sausage; Sugared Pork Buns; Baked Challah French Toast; Chicken Pot Hotdish; Pastrami Egg Rolls; Miso Ramen with Fried Pork Cutlet; Shawarma Stuffed Peppers and more creative eats.

With endless (and delicious) talent to share, Molly Yeh invites us into her world with "Girl Meets Farm," airing Sundays on Food Network.

Ferrari and Leclerc look to keep consistency going in Italy

It's another exciting weekend for Formula One fans as the Italian Grand Prix kicks into gear Sept. 1-3, at the Autodromo Nazionale Monza in Italy. Practices, qualifying runs and race-day coverage air live on ESPN.

As the Formula One season travels to Italy, naturally, Charles Leclerc and Team Scuderia Ferrari quickly come to mind. Looking to avoid reliving subpar performances from last season, this year Ferrari has remained in the hunt for a World Championship, in large part thanks to Leclerc.

Prior to the summer break, the Monégasque driveronly had two retirements with a couple of minor accidents in Baku and Miami during qualifying, including two podium appearances in four races. And while teammate Carlos Sainz has performed well himself, Leclerc remains Ferrari's most reliable driver to get the job done, beating Sainz 8-4 in qualifiers and losing to him three times while beating him six times in races.

As points become tougher to attain, individual and overall team performances are paramount down the stretch, and for Leclerc and Ferrari to remain in the hunt, they'll need to get past Lewis Hamilton and Fernando Alonso, with Red Bull's Max Verstappen and Sergio Perez seemingly running away with the World Championship

Going into this weekend, Leclerc has gone over 12 months without a Formula One victory. Look for Leclerc and Team Ferrari to put together a good strategy and avoid taking any further steps back on the grid.

Milo Ventimiglia

OF FORMERLY "THE COMPANY YOU KEEP" ON ABO

Q: Now that "The Company You Keep" is over, what's next for Milo Ventimiglia?

A: That remains to be seen. The actor put a lot into that ABC series, since his production company was heavily involved in it, in addition to his being the show's star. It also came pretty much on the heels of the end of his run on NBC's "This Is Us," so he had been busy for quite some time.

The much-acclaimed family drama, on which Ventimiglia played Jack Pearson, followed a string of other regular roles for him on series ("Mob City," "Chosen," "The Whispers") ... so if he should take a break from weekly television work for a while, it's understandable. It's also mandated, at least for the time being, given the work stoppage that has been prompted by the actors' and writers' strikes.

Other shows on which Ventimiglia has appeared have included "Gilmore Girls," "American Dreams," "The Bedford Diaries" and "Heroes." He's also not opposed to guest shots, as he proved on "The Marvelous Mrs. Maisel" as it was nearing its finale.

Even if TV isn't the route Ventimiglia takes when show business gets back to business, he's done a sufficient amount of movie work that might inspire him to go down that path again instead. "The Art of Racing in the Rain" and "Second Act" are among his more recent films, as is "Creed II," in which he reprised the role of Rocky Balboa Jr. that he first played in (aptly enough) "Rocky Balboa." The relationship he developed with Sylvester Stallone on the latter picture led to Stallone's guest stint on "This Is Us."

"Movie: Love at First Sight" (Sept. 15, Premiere)

After missing her flight from New York to London, Hadley (Haley Lu Richardson) meets Oliver (Ben Hardy) in a chance encounter at the airport that sparks an instant connection. A long night on the plane together passes in the blink of an eye but upon landing at Heathrow, the pair are separated and finding each other in the chaos seems impossible. Will fate intervene to transform these seat mates into soul mates? Based on the novel "The Statistical Probability of Love at First Sight" by Jennifer E. Smith, the film is written for the screen by Katie Lovejoy and directed by Vanessa Caswill.

"Notting Hill" is a place. and a movie, of charm

For a while, two people seemed essential to a successful British romantic comedy: star Hugh Grant and writer Richard Curtis.

After the huge international hit they scored with "Four Weddings and a Funeral" in 1994, the duo was much in demand, and they next merged their talents on "Notting Hill." The 1999 film, streaming currently on Hulu, has retained its charm in telling the tale of the romance between a modest London bookstore owner (Grant) and the movie superstar - appropriately played by a real superstar, Julia Roberts - who happens to pop into his shop one day.

Though he recognizes her, he's low-key enough to try not to let on that he does. They're fated to meet again soon when they literally run into each other on the street, and after some initial tension, things start to warm up considerably between them. However, romancing a world-famous actress is a complicated proposition for someone who's much more comfortable keeping his head down  $\dots$  so whether the couple has a future is a real question. (A well-known actor has a cameo as her soon-to-exit boyfriend.)

Within the boundaries of a love story, "Notting Hill" does some other things extremely well. Curtis gets in some very clever and amusing jabs at the entertainment industry, particularly when Grant's William Thacker is mistaken for a journalist as he tries to connect with Roberts' Ánna Scott again during a press junket for her latest film. Though he intends to speak only to her, he's roped into interviewing her co-stars, which only reveals that he can't distinguish Leonardo DiCaprio from Leonardo da Vinci.

"Notting Hill" also gives Curtis an opportunity to revisit the close bonds of friendship, since Grant is part of another engaging group again. His character's sister (Emma Chambers) nearly loses her mind when she sees who he's brought to her birthday party as his date, while nonchalant pal Bernie (Hugh Bonneville, well before "Downton Abbey" was even a faint glint within his eyesight) is quite nonplussed by celebrity Anna, not really realizing who she is initially. When he casually asks how much money she makes, her factual and impressive reply changes that.

celebrityUpdate BY ADAM THOMLISON Shawn Ashmore

OF THE ROOKIE ON ABC

Q: What has Shawn Ashmore been doing since the X-Men movies? I thought he was on the cusp of movie stardom, but haven't seen him much since.

A: That's because you're looking for movies. After making a name for himself as Bobby Drake (also known as Iceman) in the 2000s X-Men movies, Canadian actor Shawn Ashmore pivoted to TV. And he's been doing pretty well for himself.

He actually started the shift before he was even done with the Iceman role. When his final X-Men movie, "Days of Future Past," was released in 2014, Ashmore was already starring on a high-profile TV series, Fox's "The Following."

When that ended in 2015, he wasted little time jumping to another network drama, ABC's "Conviction."

That only lasted a season, though, which freed him up to join his biggest series yet, ABC's smash-hit cop drama, "The Rookie."

He's been playing attorney Wesley Evers on the show since its launch in 2018, also appearing in a crossover episode of its spinoff, "The Rookie: Feds."

Ashmore's still dabbling in movies — mostly low-budget indie dramas and thrillers such as 2020's "Darkness Falls" — but it's clear that his focus is on TV. Between the starring roles I listed, he's shown up on other big shows, such as Prime's "The Boys" and CBS's "S.W.A.T.," and starred in Microsoft's experimental half-show half-game, "Quantum Break."

Go forward ... Fabulously: Whitney finds joy amidst big life changes in Season 11

The ever-fabulous Whitney Way Thore, 39, returns for the 11th year of "My Big Fat Fabulous Life" – this time, however, it's life like never before, as Whitney must adjust to a difficult new reality in this upcoming season, premiering Tuesday, Sept. 5, on TLC.

While the reality star's bright and positive personality shines through each episode, Season 11 begins with a shock for Thore, who is seen in a recent trailer for the season reuniting with her family after the devastating loss of her mother – Barbara "Babs" Thore – who tragically died in December 2022 after battling cerebral amyloid angiopathy. Babs was 76 years old.

At the time, Thore shared information regarding her mother's death on Instagram, describing the disease as "an untreatable progressive condition caused by proteins in the blood vessels of the brain that can cause dementia, seizures, or like in my mom's case, brain bleeding (hemorrhagic strokes)."

The unexpected loss took a toll on all, as during the trailer, Whitney can be seen interacting with her father, Glenn, who is struggling to cope with the loss of his wife. "When I stand around this kitchen table, it just brings back all these memories with your mom," he says.

Later on, Whitney confides in her brother Hunter, sharing her concerns. "He's just lost," Whitney explains. "He said: 'I don't wanna do anything without your mother." Hunter goes on to reply: "We just have to change that attitude."

And so begins a season of change, exploration and adventure for the Thores, who together embark on a bucket list of activities meant to invigorate, recharge and challenge any limiting beliefs they held for themselves in this new chapter of life. Throughout the trailer, the audience is allowed a glimpse at what's to come, joining Whitney, Hunter and Glenn as they tackle everything from tattoos to indoor skydiving, to reaching new heights while spotting glaciers in Switzerland.

Not only that — Whitney takes on some more personal adventures of her own, diving into the world of dating now that her ex, Lennie, has entered a relationship with someone new. Whitney takes to the apps and hopes for the best, joining her family in a year of taking chances and moving forward, prioritizing happiness above all else.

Mariska Hargitay: Calling the shots again?

Q: Will Mariska Hargitay direct more episodes of "Law & Order: Special Victims Unit"? – Gary Muller, via e-mail

A: It seems likely, since it's a job she clearly enjoys doing, She has directed eight episodes of her long-running NBC crime drama, two of which were in Season 17 ... quite a task, since it's often enough for a star of a show to direct only one during a season, given how much else has to be done acting-wise.

The real question for Hargitay now is time, since the actors' and writers' strikes probably will lead to a reduction of episodes ordered for the upcoming Season 25 by the time production on the series is able to resume. It takes quite a bit of advance preparation to direct a show, and since Hargitay also will need to focus on her role as Olivia Benson in other episodes, it would appear to be a matter of whether she feels she has enough time to get another directing job done to her satisfaction.

BEST FOOTBALL MOVIES

"Knute Rockne, All American"

(1940): In this unabashedly sentimental but potent biography, Pat O'Brien plays the Notre Dame legend who facilitates the wish of one of his star players (Ronald Reagan) to "win one for the Gipper."

"Brian's Song" (1971): A landmark television drama, this true story made stars of James Caan and Billy Dee Williams as football-playing peers Brian Piccolo and Gale Sayers, whose bond didn't waver in the face of serious illness.

"The Longest Yard" (1974): The remake went for broader laughs, but director Robert Aldrich's original is a perfect blend of humor and brawn, with Burt Reynolds as a former player who coaches fellow inmates against guards.

"North Dallas Forty" (1979): The screen version of Peter Gent's novel has an authenticity that lets you feel every ache of Nick Nolte's character. As a player who challenges his team's owners, he's superb, as is singer Mac Davis as the charismatic quarterback who knows how the game is played ...

in every sense. Turner Classic Movies shows the picture as part of a night of football films Tuesday, Sept. 5, just before the NFL season starts

"All the Right Moves" (1983): This gritty but earnest high-school-football drama helped Tom Cruise along his road to stardom. "Rudy" (1993): Sean Astin is affecting in the title role of this true drama about an unlikely player for the University of Notre Dame. "Jerry Maguire" (1996): Actual football action is sparse in Cameron Crowe's superb character study until the final stretch, but once Rod Tidwell (Cuba Gooding Jr.) takes the field, it's clear to see how much his performance in the game impacts sports agent Maguire (Tom Cruise).

"Any Given Sunday" (1999): Director Oliver Stone captures every crunch on the field and every maneuver in the boardroom with his saga of a pro team facing big changes, as the coach (Al Pacino) and the team's new president (Cameron Diaz) clash over everything including the latest quarterback (Jamie Foxx).

"The Replacements" (2000): An extremely good-humored tone informs this comedy, featuring Gene Hackman as a coach brought back to a team to guide (you guessed it) replacements - including Keanu Reeves - during a players' strike.

"Remember the Titans" (2000): The Disney studio got on a trail of inspirational sports dramas with this true story of a new high-school coach (Denzel Washington) who unites his racially divided team in early-1970s Virginia.

"Friday Night Lights" (2004): A darker side of small-town high-school football comes to the fore in director Peter Berg's fine, frank drama, with Billy Bob Thornton as the coach and country-music star Tim McGraw in an impressive acting turn as a player's father.

"We Are Marshall" (2006): The deeply emotional story of Marshall University's tootball team, which had to rebuild after a plane crash claimed many of its members, stars Matthew McConaughey and Matthew Fox.
