Dixon days: Daryl dominates new 'Walking Dead' series

Premiering Sunday, Sept. 10, on AMC and AMC+, "The Walking Dead: Daryl Dixon" sees the return of Norman Reedus ("The Boondock Saints," 1999) as on-screen anti-hero Daryl Dixon.

Created by David Zabel ("ER"), "The Walking Dead: Daryl Dixon" is the fifth spinoff from the flagship series, hereafter referred to as TWD, and takes place after TWD's 11 seasons of horror. And while viewers have already gathered their fair share of Daryl details since his first appearance in TWD's Season 1 episode "Tell It to the Frogs," audiences have never seen the troubled "walker"-fighting hero quite like this.

"Daryl Dixon" follows the titular character as he "washes ashore in France and struggles to piece together how he got there and why" (per AMC). According to the official synopsis, "[T]he series tracks his journey across a broken but resilient France as he hopes to find a way back home," noting that as "he makes the journey ... the connections he forms along the way complicate his ultimate plan."

The title of this latest TWD spinoff was announced in October 2022, which is also when filming began in Paris. Despite AMC's initial desire to produce a series that followed another TWD character, Carol Peletier (Melissa McBride, "The Mist," 2007), the network eventually landed on "Daryl Dixon" as a result of scheduling conflicts with McBride. That said, McBride is expected to reprise her role as Carol in at least one of the premiere season's six episodes.

In fact, as mentioned by Vanity Fair writer Derek Lawrence in his November 2022 article titled "Norman Reedus Unpacks the Walking Dead Finale and His 'F—ing Great' Spin-Off," Daryl himself made a nod toward his own future series in the final episodes of the flagship series' finale.

"It's not like we're never gonna see each other again," Daryl tells Carol in an intimate scene toward the end of 'Rest in Peace," Lawrence writes, noting Carol's response: "I'm allowed to be a little sad. You're my best friend."

And while we have no idea what may be in store for Carol, fans can certainly expect more "Daryl Dixon" beyond the first six episodes. Just last month, AMC announced that the series had already been renewed for a second season. Also joining the cast for Season 1 is French actress Clémence Poésy, known for her roles in films such as the Harry Potter franchise (beginning in 2005), "In Bruges" (2008) and "Tenet" (2020), among others. Poésy plays Isabelle, a French woman with a dark Parisian past and a connection to a "progressive religious group." She joins forces with Daryl on his journey.

Scored by an ethereal rendition of Claude Debussy's "Clair de Lune," the trailer juxtaposes the violence TWD fans have come to expect with the peace and serce that accompanies a French monastery garden. It just so happens that in unis very monastery is where Daryl learns of his next adventure. And without giving anything away, suffice it to say that "The Last of Us" fans may wish to tune in.

When discussing the dawn of "Daryl Dixon" with Lawrence during an interview that occurred pre-WGA/SAG-AFTRA strike, Reedus shared some of his excitement for the spinoff.

"It's so beautiful, it's so moving," Reedus began, "but it's like [Daryl] got swept away in a tornado and woke up in this foreign land and doesn't understand anything. There's French people speaking French, obviously, and part of the story is being confused with what's around him, trying to figure out what they're saying, is this going to be a fight, are we going to get along?"

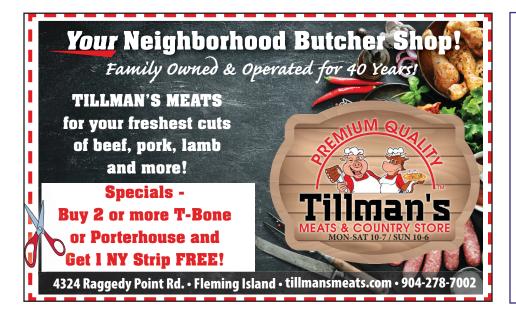

Despite the "epic" nature of the new series (and, of course, the Walkers), Reedus insists that the entire experience will feel very different from "The Walking Dead."

tasty[†]/> BY CAROLINE COLLACUTT Henson's horrors: 'Halloween Baking Championship' returns for spooky season

Kids are in school, "PSLs" are back, and that can only mean one thing: "Spooky Season" is right around the corner. Pumpkin-flavored everything, apple pies galore, cinnamon practically hanging in the air — no one does Autumn like Food Network, delighting with more tricks and treats in a new season of "Halloween Baking Championship," premiering Monday, Sept. 11.

Season 9 of the competition sees the return of John Henson ("Wipeout") as host, alongside the all-star panel of celebrity judges who reigned supreme in Season 8: chef Carla Hall ("The Chew") and patissiers Stephanie Boswell ("Bake Or Break") and Zac Young ("Top Chef: Just Desserts").

Food Network has released descriptions for the series' first two episodes. According to the network, the season begins as "host John Henson welcomes a dozen bakers to the Henson & Sons Carnival, where they're ready for the ride of their lives. First, they must layer a 'tarot-misu' depicting the carnival's untimely demise. Then, the bakers scare up a new carnival mascot by designing creepy clown cakes."

Those lucky enough to make it to the second episode will face a frightfully gory night, with the Food Network promising a particularly "bloody" competition. "Do-nut try to steal John Henson's dream job," they say, "or things might get bloody. The remaining bakers make bloody filled doughnuts to commemorate an unfortunate accident. Then it's a joyful bake for some and doomed one for others as the competitors take judges [Hall, Boswell and Young] round and round on the creepiest carousel ever."

Each episode will see two rounds of spine-chilling competition. The bakers begin with the "Preliminary Heat," where they receive a bitesized, Halloween-themed challenge that must be completed within a tight time frame. The patissier who presents the spookiest (and most delicious) treat will gain a mystery advantage — a trick to play against their fellow bakers, perhaps — heading into the "Main Heat."

This second round sees some intense frights and delights, as competitors are given a new theme and a longer time period to create whatever creepy-crawly confection they'd like. The bakers must present something larger than life, as the winner of the "Main Heat" immediately advances to the next round while one baker is eliminated from the game. The final three (or four) then compete in a winner-take-all finale, with one monstrous baker winning $25,000.

Sharpen your teeth and prepare to dine. Season 9 of "Halloween Baking Championship" begins Monday, Sept. 11, on Food Network.

playerprofile BY ROBERTO JOZEF Aaron Rodgers makes Jets season debut on Monday Night Football

The NFL is back in action, as the new-look New York Jets kick off their season Monday, Sept. 11, at Metlife Stadium, facing the Buffalo Bills, last season's AFC East winners and division foes. The game airs on ESPN and ABC, with kick-off at 8:15 p.m.

It was all New York Jets this off-season as the acquisition of likely Hall of Fame-bound quarterback, now former Green Bay Packer, Aaron Rodgers took the NFL headlines by storm. The 39-year-old enters his 19th season, joining a Jets team coming off a disappointing 2022 campaign, having missed the playoffs for a 12th straight year.

With Rodgers now manning the ship, he brings a new sense of optimism as the Jets officially enter an era of raised expectations and excitement the team hasn't felt in years. Speaking with reporters following the first official day of Jets training camp, Rodgers said he welcomes the added hype and pressure.

"We want everyone to jump on the wagon now," Rodgers told reporters. "High expectations are a good thing."

Set to face an elite Buffalo squad that has won the AFC East three years in a row, Rodgers and the Jets will have to be sharp right out of the gate. The Bills have gone 5-1 since 2020 in head-to-head clashes and are 68-57 overall (since 1960).

Last season the Jets came out victorious in Week 9 as they defeated the Bills 20-17 in the Big Apple. The Jets played an excellent defensive game sacking Bills quarterback Josh Allen eight times and forcing him to throw for two interceptions

While still playing for Green Bay, Rodgers and the Packers were defeated in their Week 8 matchup against the Bills, but despite the loss, Rodgers put up significantly better numbers (63% completion rating, two touchdowns, and 91.4% passer rating).

"Movie: Kelce" (Sept. 12) This intimate and emotional feature-length documentary chronicles Philadelphia Eagles team captain and All-Pro center Jason Kelce's 2022-23 season, which began with him confronting one of the most challenging decisions any professional athlete will ever face — is now the time to hang it up? After deciding to return for his 12th NFL season, Kelce embarks on a remarkable journey, highlighted by the arrival of his third daughter; the debut of his podcast "New Heights," co-hosted with his brother, Kansas City Chiefs All-Pro tight end Travis; and a history-making Super Bowl appearance.

"Movie: Corsage" (Sept. 10) Faced with a future of strict ceremony and roy-al duties, Empress Elisabeth of Austria (Vicky Krieps) rebels against her public image and comes up with a plan to protect her legacy.

"Wrestlers" - Season 1 (Sept. 13) Ohio Valley Wrestling of Louisville, Kentucky is a regional wrestling gym whose alumni include Brock Lesnar, The Miz, John Cena, Dave Bau-tista and Randy Orton. Once a proud finishing school for aspiring pro wrestlers, the gym has since hit hard times. With new partners helping to revitalize the business, acclaimed wrestler Al Snow has the summer to turn things around. The series chronicles the efforts Al and his band of aspiring wrestlers make as they struggle with their personal ambitions and each other while they attempt to come together to save this historic gym.

"Animals Up Close With Bertie Gregory" (Sept. 13) Bertie Gregory is back, and this time, the adventures are even more epic! Bertie takes viewers to the most spectacular corners of our planet — from Antarctica to Africa and South America to Asia – tracking down extraordinary animals to capture their daily lives like never before. Armed with drones, state-of-the-art cameras, and underwater tech, he and his team brave subzero seas, climb snow-capped mountains, and sleep suspended 120 feet in the air to reveal the challenges these animals endure, their fierce rivalries, and the threats they face on our changing planet.

Lea Thompson

OF "SPENCER SISTERS": (COMING IN OCTOBER) ON CW

Q: I see that Lea Thompson is returning in a new series. What was the last one she did?

A: As a series regular, that would have been "Switched at Birth," on which she played one of the mothers whose daughters were ... well, check the title of the show again. She also had recurring roles on "Scorpion" (as the Katharine McPhee character's mom) and "The Goldbergs," and she had a guest part last year on "Star Trek: Picard." It's worth noting that Thompson also was a director on the latter two programs, and she's been spending a lot of time in that job – which she shares with her husband, Howard Deutch ("Pretty in Pink") - in recent times. She also has guided episodes of "Will Trent" (on which Deutch is an executive producer and occasional director), "Resident Alien" and "Young Sheldon" among other shows. Earlier, Thompson directed four "Switched at Birth" stories as well as two of the "Jane Doe" mystery movies in which she starred.

Thompson's other major series credit as a star is the 1990s sitcom "Caroline in the City," which ran almost as long as "Switched at Birth," ending just short of 100 episodes.

She'll have another shot at longevity on weekly TV when she returns in "The Spencer Sisters," a Canadian import premiering Oct. 4 on The CW. She and Stacey Farber play a mystery-writer mother and police-officer daughter (despite the "Sisters" in the title) who decide to open a private-detective agency. Thompson isn't credited with directing any of that show yet, but that's likely to change if it continues for additional seasons. P12 Friday, September 8, 2023 | ENTERTAINMENT GUIDE | Clay Today

"Sex Education" - Season 4 (Netflix – Sept. 21, Season Premiere)

Following the closure of Moordale Secondary, Otis (Asa Butterfield) and Eric (Ncuti Gatwa) now face a new frontier - their first day at Cavendish Sixth Form College. Otis is nervous about setting up his new clinic, whilst Eric is praying they won't be losers again. But Cavendish is a culture shock for all the Moordale students — they thought they were progressive, but this new college is another level. With daily yoga, a strong sustainability vibe and kindness reigning king, the new year and new school is an adjustment for all. Gillian Anderson, Emma Mackey, Connor Swindells and Chinenye Ezeudu also star.

"The Continental: From the World of John Wick" (Peacock — Sept. 22, Miniseries Premiere)

Set in mid-1970s New York, this three-part, "John Wick" (2014) prequel centers on Winston Scott (Colin Woodell) and how he became the owner of the Continental Hotel, a neutral territory and home away from home for international assassins and members of the criminal underworld. Mel Gibson, Mishel Prada, Ayomide Adegun, Nhung Kate, Katie McGrath, Peter Greene, Jessica Allain and Adam Shapiro also star.

BY JAY BOBBIN

"The Devil Wears Prada" still wears its humor well

Much like many of the outfits it features, "The Devil Wears Prada" remains fashionable.

The hit 2006 comedy - which Freeform shows Wednesday, Sept. 13, and Thursday, Sept. 14 – is one of the most popular mentor-employee tales yet told on the screen. Adapted from Lauren Weisberger's best seller by "Crazy Ex-Girlfriend" writer-producer Aline Brosh McKenna, the film boasts two of the most memorable performances to date in the careers of Meryl Streep and Anne Hathaway, who get very strong backing from an expert supporting cast.

Hathaway plays Andy, an aspiring journalist who manages (despite her lack of knowledge of haute couture) to land a position as an assistant to New York-based fashion-magazine titan Miranda Priestly (Streep), who redefines "no-nonsense" as she displays zero patience with anyone she feels is wasting her time or attention. Still, she's somewhat amused by Andy, who displays plenty of ambition while being on turf that others would be better-suited to.

Back to the Future ★★★ (1985) Teen (Michael J. Fox) goes to 1955 in crackpot's (Christopher Lloyd) DeLo-rean time machine. TBS Sat. 12 p.m., Sat. 7:30 p.m. Back to the Future Part II ★★★ (1989) Young man (Michael J. Fox) and an inventor (Christopher Lloyd)

Not entertained at all by the situation is highstrung Emily (Emily Blunt), Miranda's main deputy, who is obsessed with keeping things running smoothly for the demanding boss. She can't quite get over that Andy has been brought on board, and her determination to keep a tight rein on everything that happens in the office eventually suffers a big setback that puts Andy in even more of a position to show what she can do.

That opportunity comes to involve a trip to Paris for a prestigious fashion show, where behindthe-scenes intrigue about staffing gives Andy considerable insight to the darker side of the business she's gotten into. Her main counsel through it is Nigel (a superb Stanley Tucci), Miranda's righthand man who has hopes of being recognized for his loyalty with a big promotion. Also playing a role in the proceedings is Christian (Simon Baker), another fashion-industry figure who has designs on Andy, despite her relationship with boyfriend Nate ("Entourage's" Adrian Grenier) that starts to erode over her devotion to her job.

Smoothly directed by David Frankel, "The Devil Wears Prada" is as glossy as one would expect a story about its subject to be, and it makes points about love vs. career effectively without being too heavy-handed. The actors certainly help with that, and Streep's marvelously icy work is a particular asset, offsetting Hathaway's vulnerable warmth in a way that's virtually demanded for the movie to work as well as it does.

SAMMY KERSHAW

celebrityupdate Jeffrey Donovan of LAW & ORDER ON NBC

BY ADAM THOMLISON

Q: What has Jeffrey Donovan been doing since "Burn Notice"?

A: He's been coming full circle, in a way. The popularity of USA Network's dramedy "Burn Notice," which ran from 2007 to 2013, caught many by surprise and turned star Jeffrey Donovan into a leading man.

Rather than pursue hunky-hero stardom, though, he soon switched to supporting roles in weightier projects. That included playing morally complex characters who flirted with outright villainy in major films such as "Sicario" (2015) and "Wrath of Man" (2021).

But he recently turned back toward straightforward heroism, and leading-man status, on "Law & Order." He joined the revival of NBC's flagship cop drama in 2021, playing Det. Frank Cosgrove, the latest in a long line of detectives who anchor the "Order" aspect of the show. (For anyone who, somehow, has never seen an episode of "Law & Order," the episodes are generally divided into two halves, one following cops and one following lawyers.)

Donovan wrapped his second season in the role earlier this year, and we have every reason to believe he'll be back next season - the show's 23rd.

Joining the "Law & Order" cast was a full-circle moment for him in another way as well: One of his very first acting roles was as a corpse in a 1995 episode. The guest-hungry series brought him back again 12 years later to play a murder suspect, just a few months before he debuted in his life-changing role on "Burn Notice."

realitytv BY CAROLINE COLLACUTT i frenzy: McElhenney and Reynolds urn to Wales for a new A.F.C. season

Football frenzy: The boys are back in town and this time, they might even know what they're doing. Season 2 of "Welcome to Wrexham" premieres Tuesday, Sept. 12, on FX, and will be available to stream the following day on Hulu.

When actors Rob McElhenney ("It's Always Sunny in Philadelphia") and Ryan Reynolds ("Deadpool," 2016) announced their intentions to buy the Wrexham football club - a Welsh professional association club located in Wrexham, North East Wales, operating as the third-oldest club in the world — in 2020, the North American duo was met with many curious glances from football fans across the U.K. and soccer fans back home.

At the time, Wrexham AFC was operating in the National League (the fifth tier of English football, ranked below the Premier League and all three tiers of the English football system), previously described as a mismanaged team barrelling towards the brink of collapse. McElhenney and Reynolds, however, saw nothing but opportunity. With no prior experience, the duo packed their bags and, joined by a crew of cameras, made off to help the team succeed.

A description from FX shares: "Welcome to Wrexham' is a docuseries tracking the dreams and worries of Wrexham, a working-class town in North Wales, U.K., as two Hollywood stars take ownership of the town's historic yet struggling football club.

"From Hollywood to Wales, from the pitch to the locker room, the front office to the pub, Welcome to Wrexham' will track Rob and Ryan's crash course in football club ownership and the inextricably connected fates of a team and a town counting on two actors to bring some serious hope and change to a community that could use it."

Throughout the course of the first season, viewers watched as McElhenney and Reynolds took over the team (the Red Dragons), first attempting to qualify for the playoffs before playing towards promotion and eventually taking on Wembley Stadium. The team — and the duo's knowledge of the game - improved throughout the year, eventually landing them in second place. Despite a successful season, the Red Dragons failed to advance to the fourth tier of the EFL League Two after being knocked out in the semifinals of the promotion playoffs.

celebritypipeline Lifetime movies dawned at just the right time for Brec Bassinger

Q: I was impressed by Brec Bassinger in the "V.C. Andrews' Dawn" movies. Did she make those while she was still doing "DC's Stargirl"? April Kay, via e-mail A: She landed the "Dawn" job shortly after

"Stargirl" wrapped filming, and she told us that she felt fortunate to be available for the Lifetime set of four films, with her reporting to the set within days of having her first conversation about the opportunity.

She also said that she appreciated the timing

Brec Bassinger, Emma Oliver and Khobe Clarke in "V.C. Andrews' Dawn" of that production, since she felt that diving right into it right after parting company with her "Stargirl" colleagues gave her something else to focus on ... rather than only experiencing sadness over the end of her three seasons of work on that show. Q: Is "The Equalizer" coming back for another season? - Mel Whitney, via e-mail

A: Yes, but exactly when Season 4 of Queen Latifah's CBS drama will begin is anyone's guess at this point. As with so many series, production has been delayed by the actors' and writers' strikes ... so it's a matter of those work stoppages ending and the writing of scripts resuming before the performers can go back in front of the cameras.

Once it does return, "The Equalizer" will remain on Sundays, but it will be seen an hour later than it has been. Its traditional slot immediately following "60 Minutes" will go to a reboot of "Matlock," starring Oscar and Primetime Emmy winner Kathy Bates as the title lawyer. The network's Sunday lineup will wrap up with "CSI: Vegas," moving over from Thursdays.

"The Slender Thread" (1965): In his feature directing debut, episodic television veteran Pollack keeps tension high as a crisis-line volunteer (Sidney Poitier) counsels a suicidal woman (Anne Bancroft) via telephone.

"They Shoot Horses, Don't They?" (1969): Gig Young earned an Academy Award for the Pollack-directed 1930s dance-marathon drama.

"Jeremiah Johnson" (1972): Frequent Pollack colleague Robert Redford is a believable mountain man under the filmmaker's direction. Turner Classic Movies shows the film Saturday, Sept. 16.

"The Way We Were" (1973): "Streisand! Redford! Together!" So said the ads, and with Pollack directing them, the recipe was perfect.

"The Yakuza" (1974): Robert Mitchum is terrific in Pollack's melodrama about a detective's infiltration of the title Japanese crime syndicate.

"Three Days of the Condor" (1975): For all the government-paranoia thrillers of the mid-1970s, this Redford-starring CIA saga stands out. The excellent cast also includes Faye Dunaway, Cliff Robertson, Max von Sydow and John Houseman.

BEST SYDNEY POLLACK MOVIES

"Bobby Deerfield" (1977): This moody, underrated drama draws fine work from Al Pacino as a troubled race-car driver.

"The Electric Horseman" (1979): A fun reunion of Redford and Jane Fonda revolves around a reporter who sees a story in a washed-up rodeo star.

"Absence of Malice" (1981): In a superb journalism drama, Pollack directs Sally Field as a reporter who bends rules to get the goods on a businessman and supposed criminal (Paul Newman).

"Tootsie" (1982): Leave it to someone steeped in directing dramas to come up with one of the best comedies ever. Pollack doubles as a co-star here, as the flummoxed agent of an actor (Dustin Hoffman) who dresses as a woman to get work.

"Out of Africa" (1985): Pairing Redford with Meryl Streep, Pollack won an Oscar for directing this scenic, true tale. "The Firm" (1993): Pollack confidently directs Tom Cruise and a sterling supporting cast — ranging from Gene Hackman, Holly Hunter and Paul Sorvino to Hal Holbrook, Wilford Brimley and Steven Hill — through the long but compelling John Grisham law drama.

"Sabrina" (1995): While this remake doesn't stand up to the original romantic comedy overall, it's still notable for the excellent performance Pollack draws from Greg Kinnear in his first major acting role.

"Random Hearts" (1999): Critics were lukewarm about the movie overall, but Pollack (also the director here) gives a terrific performance as a political-campaign adviser who has his hands full with a candidate (Kristin Scott Thomas) whose plane-crash-victim husband was caught cheating on her.

"Michael Clayton" (2007): As an actor, Pollack hit one of his career highs as the head of the law firm for which Clayton (George Clooney) fixes troublesome situations.
