The 'Continental' experience: John Wick franchise gets three-night TV stay

For many of us, when we book a stay in a hotel (particularly a luxury one), comfort ranks above all else. Though the meaning of the word "comfort" varies from one person to the next and could encompass anything from the thread count of the bedsheets to one's proximity to the bar, "comfort" in the world of John Wick is most closely associated with personal safety.

Those familiar with the John Wick franchise will already be aware of The Continental's most important rule: the assassins seeking refuge within the hotel shall not conduct any "business" on the grounds. Put simply, no hits will be tolerated on the premises.

That said, NBC/Peacock is certainly hoping for a hit of its own (granted, a "hit" of a different kind) when the new miniseries "The Continental: From the World of John Wick" begins streaming Friday, Sept. 22, on Peacock.

John Wick (Keanu Reeves, "The Matrix," 1999), the trained assassin who lends his name to the franchise supported by The Continental Hotel, first made audiences fall in love with him in the 2014 film, simply titled "John Wick." Despite his former career as a hitman, Wick exhibits a soft side while taking care of a new beagle puppy in the wake of his wife's death. However, when a group of gangsters breaks into Wick's home and the puppy is targeted, Wick loses all sensitivity and comes out of retirement to avenge his furry friend. And while Wick's situation may change from film to film, one thing that remains a constant throughout the franchise is The Continental; and this is where Peacock's newest series comes in.

Created by Greg Coolidge ("Ride Along," 2014), Shawn Simmons ("Wayne") and Kirk Ward ("The Turkey Bowl," 2019), "The Continental: From the World of John Wick" is a three-part noir-action miniseries that focuses on the history of the mysterious hotel chain that operates as "neutral territory for members of the criminal underworld" (per IMDb).

Colin Woodell ("The Flight Attendant") stars as a young Winston Scott, the manager of The Continental's New York division and a character already known to franchise fans thanks to the work of "Deadwood" actor Ian McShane. The role of Winston is a meaty one for Woodell, filled with lots of backstory for both character and setting as the series' events dive deep into real-life New York crime history.

While the specifics of the miniseries are being kept a secret for obvious reasons, there has been word that the events take place over three nights at The Continental in the 1970s and that there is a correlation to both the Winter of Discontent and the rise of the American Mafia.

Additionally, audiences can expect to see a few familiar faces along the way; most notably that of controversial actor Mel Gibson ("Braveheart," 1995). Joining Gibson and Woodell on the small screen are Nhung Kate ("The Housemaid," 2016) as Yen, Katie McGrath ("Supergirl") as the Adjudicator, Jessica Allain ("The Laundromat," 2019) as Lou, Adam Shapiro ("Never Have I Ever") as Lemmy, Jeremy Bobb ("The Knick") as Mayhew, Dan Li ("Luther: The Fallen Sun," 2023) as Orphan Master, Sallay Garnett ("Conversations with Friends") as the Concierge, Peter Greene ("Pulp Fiction," 1994) as young Uncle Charlie (portrayed later in life by "Twin Peaks" reboot actor David Patrick Kelly), and new talent Ayomide Adegun as Charon, a role made famous by beloved actor and TV personality Lance Reddick ("White House Down," 2013), who died earlier this year.

Ramsay reclaims fall: 'Kitchen Nightmares' returns for Season 8

Superstar chef Gordon Ramsay is adding an old-favorite dish to Fox's fall menu as "Kitchen Nightmares" returns with its highly anticipated eighth season after a decade-long hiatus. New episodes premiere Monday, Sept. 25, on Fox.

The network is no stranger to Ramsay's distinct – now practically trademarked – in-your-face, abrupt and (sometimes) devastatingly honest critiques, as Fox is currently home to four other shows hosted by the celebrity chef: "Next Level Chef," "MasterChef," "MasterChef Jr." and "Hell's Kitchen," which is slated to return with its 22nd season – dubbed "Hell's Kitchen: American Dream" – on Thursday, Sept. 28 (also on Fox).

His most popular (and perhaps most quoted) series – "Kitchen Nightmares" – first aired in the U.K. as "Ramsay's Kitchen Nightmares" before making its debut on Fox in 2007. The series ran for nearly 100 episodes before concluding in 2014, much to viewers' dismay.

Later, in 2017, Ramsay told the Daily News: "Yes, it was wrong to pull my own show off air. ... The biggest demand over the last four years is for 'Kitchen Nightmares' (to come back)." Hungry fans have been waiting since then for word of the show's potential return.

Now, with Season 8 around the corner, Fox has shared an updated synopsis for the series: "Chef Gordon Ramsay hits the road to help struggling restaurants all over the United States turn their luck around. Ramsay examines the problems each establishment faces, from unsanitary refrigerators to lazy or inexperienced staff, and searches for resolutions. With help from his team, Ramsay redecorates each eatery to give it a fresh new look and updates the menu as needed. Ramsay's ultimate goal is to make the restaurants he visits popular and profitable, but it's up to the restaurateurs to take his advice and turn their business nightmare into the American dream."

In each episode, Ramsay gives himself, restaurant owners and the rest of their team one week to turn their failing restaurant into spick-and-span, neatly operating (and with any luck, delicious) businesses.

Originally produced by ITV Studios (now known as ITV America), the series will now be produced by Gordon's very own Studio Ramsay Global – and the more Gordon Ramsay, the better. With more insults, code violations and stomach-churning dishes, "Kitchen Nightmares" returns to Fox, Monday, Sept. 25.

Hovland looks to bring youthful spark at 2023 Ryder Cup

The 44th edition of the Ryder Cup returns as players tee off in Rome beginning Sept. 30 and finishing on Oct. 1, at the Marco Simone Golf and Country Club. USA Network and NBC will feature live coverage.

As the 2023 Ryder Cup gets underway, Team Europe aims to return to its winning ways after what was a dominant victory for Team U.S. in 2021 (19-9). While the Americans on paper look to have more talent, the Europeans have gone 7-3 in the past 10 Ryder Cups prior to the less-than-par performance at Whistling Straits.

But Team Europe, now led by four-time Ryder Cup winner Luke Donald, is going into this tournament having put together a team with a good balance of youth, talent and experience. With the likes of Rory McIlroy, Jon Rham, U.S. Open champion Matt Fitzpatrick, Shane Lowry and the world No. 4-ranked Viktor Hovland of Norway, who is participating in his second Ryder Cup tournament.

Having burst onto the scene making his Ryder Cup debut in 2021, Hovland has been excellent all season, having earned three top-five finishes, including defending his title at the Hero World Challenge. His proven ability to perform in big moments and against the world's top golfers is proven in his performances. The Norwegian has placed in the Top 20 at The Masters, U.S. Open and The Open, and was a runner-up at the PGA Championship.

Proving to be one of the best golfers all year, he's earned his spot at the Ryder Cup, and Team Europe will surely look to absorb some of that momentum.

As the European side boasts elite talent, look for Team U.S. to come out with a strong game looking to defend its title for the first time and hoping to snap a decades-long losing streak.

Catch all your 2023 Ryder Cup action live Sept. 30 and Oct. 1 on USA Network and NBC, as Team Europe tees off against the U.S. team at the Marco Simone Golf and Country Club in Rome, Italy

During her CNN tenure, Brown also has been a senior Washington correspondent and senior White House cor-

Q: With all the changes to the CNN lineup lately, it's good to see Pamela Brown get a new show of her own. I thought I read that she is related to someone famous. Is that true?

A: It is, and on two counts, given who her parents were. Her mother, Phyllis George – a former Miss America - is widely remembered as a trailblazer among national television sportscasters, and she gave birth to Pamela in 1983 while serving as one of the regulars on the CBS pregame show "The NFL . Today." Brown's father, John Y. Brown Jr., was the governor of Kentucky from 1979 to 1983 ... and he also was a pro-basketball-team owner and an owner of Kentucky Fried Chicken who bought the latter company from Colonel Harland Sanders.

Brown now has a week-

The Marx Brothers run wild in "A Night at the Opera"

Numerous admirers of movie comedy know that some of the genre's best moments came early, thanks in sizable part to the Marx Brothers.

Groucho, Harpo and Chico (minus sibling Zeppo, who had just left the act) refined their material to perfection, and "A Night at the Opera" – a Turner Classic Movies staple that the channel shows again Thursday, Oct. 28, to start an evening of attractions chosen by guest-programmer filmmaker Rebecca Miller – shows just how well they honed their work. The 1935 laughfest does turn an operatic performance into something of a circus, and the siblings are up for every humorous turn of the plot. And there are plenty of those.

Though the picture works best by just taking the fast-paced chuckles as they come, there is a linear plot with Groucho as shyster lawyer Otis B. Driftwood, who's overseeing a client's (frequent Marx foil Margaret Dumont) investment in an opera company. A celebrated, pompous tenor (Walter Woolf King) has his eye on the same role as an earnest aspiring singer (Allan Iones), and both men have a romantic interest in the show's soprano (later game-show panelist and socialite Kitty Carlisle).

Driftwood tries to see to it that the right man gets the role; that would be Jones, who stows away on a voyage from Italy to New York along with two other hidden passengers (Harpo, Chico). Everyone's presence pretty much becomes known in the film's legendary scene that crowds countless characters into a relatively small stateroom, with waiters basically reduced to body-surfing above others' heads as they try to deliver food.

One can try to define or explain the hilarity of "A Night at the Opera," but it's best just being experienced firsthand. Groucho's fast-talking manner adds much of the humor to a given moment, another example being the so-called "contract scene" that sees him and Chico go over the terms of a performer's deal ("It says here that the party of the first part ... ") and eventually jettisoning most of the intended agreement.

There's also room for great moments that have no dialogue, though, as when Harpo entertains a group of children by playing – what else? – the harp. His antics are among the highlights here, too, encompassing what he does during the tale's climactic opera. Big hint: The orchestra departs from the expected score and breaks into "Take Me Out to the Ballgame."

OF SHERLOCK HOLMES ON WARNER BROS. PICTU

Q: Did Robert Downey Jr. do a third "Sherlock Holmes"? Or will he? At the end of the second movie, it said "The End?" (with a question mark).

A: Is there already a third film with Robert Downey Jr. ("Iron Man," 2008) playing the legendary detective Sherlock Holmes? No. Will there be? Probably.

That's the best answer available right now. I say probably because a lot of work has been put into it already, and because the previous two were basically cash machines for Warner Bros. studios — the sequel, 2011's "Sherlock Holmes: A Game of Shadows," earned more than half a million dollars at the box office. It was originally supposed to come out in 2020, but it's been cursed — by script rewrites, by director changes, and later by the pandemic. But everyone involved insists it's still going to happen.

The latest assurance came in April of this year, from Susan Downey, one of the previous films' producers (and also Robert's wife), who told UnWrapped podcast that it's "in the hopper." "We're going to do it when it's right with the right people. But it is a priority for the company and a priority for Robert."

Previously, Jude Law, who plays Dr. Watson in the movies, said the new script would acknowledge all the time that's passed between films by making it pass for the characters as well. "We're going to play up the fact that they haven't seen each other for a long time, either," he told Entertainment Weekly in 2018.

Bye-bye Blake: 'The Voice' returns minus one country superstar

NBC's "The Voice" returns for its 24th season, premiering Monday, Sept. 25. One familiar face, however, won't be returning with the rest, as long-running "Voice" coach Blake Shelton ("Body Language," 2021) announced he won't be returning to the series for the first time in its 12-year history.

According to NBC, the star has left the show in order to spend more time with family on his Oklahoma ranch, with Shelton having previously been quoted as saying: "I've been wrestling with this for a while, and I've decided that it's time for me to step away from The Voice after Season 23."

This show has changed my life in every way for the better," he continued, "and it will always feel like home to me. It's been a hell of a ride over these 12 years of chair turns, and I want to thank everyone at 'The Voice' from NBC, every producer, the writers, musicians, crew and catering people; you are the best.

[...] I've made lifelong bonds with [host] Carson [Daly] and every single one of my fellow coaches over the years, including my wife, Gwen Stefani! I have to give a huge shout-out to the singers, the 'Voices,' who come on this stage season after season and amaze us with their talent, and a special thanks to those who chose me to be their coach. Lastly, it's about y'all, the fans, who watch and support these artists, us coaches, and

Season 23's mega mentor Reba McEntire ("Reba," 1988) is set to fill the country star's mighty big boots (and his chair) during Season 24, joining veteran coaches Niall Horan ("The Show," 2023), John Legend ("BIgger Love," 2020) and Gwen Stefani ("The Sweet Escape," 2006)

This will be Stefani's first season on "The Voice" without her husband (Shelton) coaching alongside her. While appearing on a talk show earlier this year, Stefani commented on the upcoming absence, joking: "Hopefully, it'll give me a chance to win, so there's that."

Damian Lewis gets his "Billions" payoff

Q: Damian Lewis's return to "Billions" is very welcome. Why did he leave the show in the first place? - Steve Dayton, Orlando, Fla.

A: When the actor signed off as Bobby "Axe" Axelrod after the first five seasons of the Showtime and Paramount+ With Showtime drama, his wife - actress Helen McCrory ("Peaky Blinders," "Skyfall") - had recently passed. He hasn't addressed that as the specific reason for his leaving, but it undoubtedly had a contributing impact. In terms of his coming back to "Billions," it likely was appealing to Lewis to know that he would have a limited run, since this is the final season of the show. It also lets Axe get back to being Axe, since this round will do much to determine the character's enduring legacy, which could continue (though it hasn't been guaranteed) if he resurfaces in one of the "Billions" spinoffs that are being planned.

Q: It's nice to see Molly McCollum back on The Weather Channel. It seems like she was off for a long time. Where was she? – Donna Crain, via e-mail

A: She was on maternity leave. She and her husband welcomed their first child, a son, in May. If she had been missing her career, McCollum – who previously worked at stations in Atlanta, Ga. (which also happens to be The Weather Channel's home base), Tulsa, Okla., and Wichita, Kan. - came back to plenty of activity, since she spent the early days of her return covering the aftermath of the wildfires in Maui and the then-approach of Hurricane Hilary in Southern California.
The first week, McCollum did some fill-in work for Alex Wilson on the weekday program "Weather Underground," then she was back the following weekend for Hilary coverage as that storm was reaching its peak. Now that she has returned, expect to continue seeing her in various places around the channel's

BEST FRANK SINATRA MOVIES

"On the Town" (1949): Sinatra, Gene Kelly and Jules Munshin live it up energetically as sailors who pack in all the fun they can while on a 24-hour leave in New York.

"From Here to Eternity" (1953):
Sinatra's fight to land the role of Maggio in this military drama about the Pearl Harbor attack paid off big, since he won a supporting Oscar (as did co-star Donna Reed).

"Suddenly" (1954): In this intense melodrama, Sinatra plays a captor of a family as he invades their home and waits to assassinate the U.S. president.

"Guys and Dolls" (1955): Sinatra is gambler Nathan Detroit in the screen version of the famously sassy hit musical. "The Tender Trap" (1955): A major highlight of this romantic comedy is the opening, in which Sinatra shows off the wide screen by walking toward the camera singing the title song.

"The Man With the Golden Arm" (1955): A stunning Sinatra plays a recovered heroin addict struggling to keep from resuming the habit in Otto Preminger's drama.

"High Society" (1956): "What a swell party this is," indeed, as Sinatra teams with Bing Crosby and Grace Kelly in this musical take on "The Philadelphia Story."

"Pal Joey" (1957): Sinatra has the title role in the Rodgers and Hart musical about a singing womanizer whose deepening affection for a chorus member (Kim Novak) doesn't keep him from trying to use a former flame (Rita Hayworth).

"The Joker Is Wild" (1957): Sinatra is terrific in the true story of comedian Joe E. Lewis, who incurred the wrath of mobsters in a drastic way.

"Ocean's Eleven" (1960): This popular casino-heist caper, the first of Sinatra's "Rat Pack" movies with such pals as Dean Martin and Sammy Davis Jr., was reborn as a franchise for George Clooney and company four decades later

"The Manchurian Candidate" (1962): A Korean War veteran's (Sinatra) hunch that a former comrade (Laurence Harvey) is being prepped to commit an assassination fuels this controversial thriller, which Sinatra also produced.

"Robin and the 7 Hoods"

(1964): Sinatra introduced his song standard "My Kind of Town" in this highly entertaining gangster spoof featuring much of the "Rat Pack," plus Bing Crosby and Peter Falk.

"Von Ryan's Express" (1965): This excellent military drama casts Sinatra as a prisoner of war who engineers an escape for many of his fellow captives. Turner Classic Movies shows the film Monday. Sept. 25.

the film Monday, Sept. 25.

"Assault on a Queen" (1966):
Rod Serling wrote the screenplay for this crime caper, with Sinatra playing the leader of a gang planning to rob the Queen Mary ocean liner.

Queen Mary ocean liner.

"Tony Rome" (1967): Sinatra is suited ideally to the title role of a laid-back Miami private eye who becomes entangled with a wealthy, troubled family. A sequel, "Lady in Cement," was released a year later.

"The Detective" (1968): In this very adult police drama, Sinatra plays a veteran investigator whose murder probe hints at corruption within his department.
