'Fear' the undead: 'Fear the Walking Dead' returns with final episodes

It's the beginning of the end of the trail for some apocalypse survivors in the return of the final season of "Fear the Walking Dead." The "Walking Dead" spinoff series' midseason premiere airs on AMC Sunday, Oct. 22, just in time for an early celebration of the eeriest holiday of the year. Kim Dickens ("Friday Night Lights") stars as Madison Clark, a high school guidance counsellor before the outbreak who now oversees the reconstruction of a survivors' island colony.

"Fear the Walking Dead" closes out an impressive eight-season run with six episodes to go before the big, two-part series finale set to air Sunday, Nov. 19. The first of now six spinoffs of the original series, "Fear the Walking Dead" premiered in 2015 and followed an extended family as they tried to survive in post-apocalyptic Los Angeles. The series detailed the survivors' journey as they travelled and settled in California, Mexico and now an island off the Georgia coast.

The island, known as PADRE, was constructed after the walker outbreak as a military operation intended to distribute supplies to new communities of survivors. A tragic walker invasion decimated PADRE, and since then, desperate survivors have used the island's resources that once represented a more hopeful future.

In the first half of the final season of "Fear the Walking Dead," Madison landed on PADRE after a hard-fought journey to find the island with Morgan Jones (Lennie James, "Save Me"). The pair reunited Morgan with his daughter, Mo (Zoey Merchant, "The Price of Fame"), by force at PADRE before the show leaps seven years into the future. Madison is imprisoned on PADRE while Morgan spends most of the first six episodes of the season on his own mission, trying to save Grace Mukherjee (Karen David, "Legacies") from radiation sickness before sadly losing her and setting off to Alexandria.

With the dangerous former co-leaders of PADRE no longer a problem, Madison attempts to reinvigorate the spirit of PA-DRE and the island with the remaining resources available to them. While the final episodes of "Fear the Walking Dead" could certainly detail the establishment of a post-apocalyptic paradise, this is the Walking Dead universe after all, so there will undoubtedly be danger lurking in the shadows of PA-

This season also stars Rubén Blades ("The Counselor," 2013) as resistance leader Daniel Salazar; Colman Domingo ("Sing Sing," 2023) as antihero Victor Strand; Danay Garcia ("Prison Break") as survivor Luciana Galvez; Austin Amelio ("Hit Man," 2023) as PADRE member Dwight; Christine Evangelista ("Mrs. Fletcher") as Dwight's wife, Sherry; Jenna Elfman ("The Twilight Zone") as nurse June Dorie, who is on the run from PADRE; and one former cast member whose appearance in a trailer for the upcoming return of the series may have come as a surprise to "Fear the Walking

Daniel Sharman ("A Town Called Malice") returns as Troy Otto, a member of the Broke Jaw Ranch community who last appeared in the third season of "Fear the Walking Dead." It seemed unlikely that Troy would make any sort of comeback after he was bludgeoned, but leave it to the Walking Dead universe to bring someone back from the dead. In an official trailer for the upcoming season, Troy spits, "Madison, been a while," before removing his sunglasses, revealing his chilling new appearance. Though one icy-white iris doesn't seem too bad for having survived a hammer attack.

The trailer also teases, in addition to some gruesome walker kills, a sword-wielding Victor teaming up with Madison to "save PADRE"; Daniel, Luciana and June all preparing for battle; nearly everyone staring down the barrel of a gun; explosions, car flips and muddy battles.

Chef Mary Berg teaches aspiring chefs in how-to show

Calling all aspiring chefs! It's time to sharpen your knives and prepare your mise-en-scène, as "Mary Makes it Easy" airs an all-new episode, Sunday, Oct. 22, on Food Network.

Hosted by Canadian television host, cookbook author and chef Mary Berg (winner of "MasterChef Canada" Season 3), this how-to series follows as Berg gives step-by-step instructions to follow recipes that are guaranteed to impress even the pickiest of eaters, as the chef hopes to teach culinary novices and cooks alike how to expand their recipe book without any of the stress.

With multiple seasons now under her belt, Berg has focused episodes on a myriad of topics, including: how to make multiple recipes all utilizing the same base ingredients — like coleslaw used both in golden brown Japanese Okonomiyaki-inspired pancakes and store-bought rotisserie chicken, turned into a nearly unrecognizable, quick and easy Coq au Vin; upgrading store-bought cookie doughs and pie crusts to make impressive desserts; using your kitchen tools — cast iron included — to their fullest potential; and even making the correct wine and alcohol pairings, in an episode in which Berg "shakes things up with Wine Can Chicken that's cooked with a cocktail of dry white wine, lemon and herbs" (Food Network).

In episodes to come, Food Network shares that Berg shares her love for cooking outside, detailing recipes that "take grill night to the next level."

"Brie and Pancetta Burgers are topped with chunky grilled red onion and gooey Brie cheese," they describe. "For a vegetarian grill-friendly main, Mary's Grilled Soy Maple Mushrooms caramelize beautifully, and on the lighter side, Grilled Scallops with Minty Pea Salad are flavored with garlic, lemon and herbs on a peppery arugula base. Finally, Mary does some barbecue baking with decadent Cheese Stuffed Grilled Garlic Flatbreads."

And — taking her creative approach, as always — Berg even shares her own, unique "mash-up" recipes throughout the series, melding common dishes like Caesar Salad and Roast Chicken, even crafting a Taco Meatball skillet.

Delving into the best tips, tricks and tools necessary for any cook, Mary Berg impresses in every episode of "Mary Makes it Easy," airing Sundays on Food Network.

On your marks, get set, it's the Dixie Vodka 500

The NASCAR Cup Series shifts to Homestead-Miami Speedway as the playoffs continue with Round 8, kicking off Sunday, Oct. 22, live on NBC.

The 2023 NASCAR playoffs have been electrifying, with one particular driver slowly becoming a household name: 25-year-old William Byron of Charlotte, N.C.

Putting on a spectacular performance, the North Carolina native is in the midst of his best season yet. Coming off a breakout year in 2022, Byron won twice, including five top-five finishes, 11 top 10s and one pole, improving his overall ranking and finishing sixth place on the year — a career best.

Steadily improving, this season Byron has six wins on the year (as of Oct. 2) with four of those victories coming on a pass for the lead in the final six laps of the race — including breaking double digits by reaching career win No. 10. Adding to an already impressive year, Hendrick Motorsport reached its 300th victory, marking a major team milestone and becoming the first organization to achieve this feat.

Going into Miami, Byron will be aiming to make his first Championship Four appearance, a milestone that will surely etch him and the iconic No. 24 car into the history books.

The NASCAR Cup Series playoffs continue this Sunday, Oct. 22, live on NBC at Homestead-Miami Speedway as William Byron continues to defy the odds, proving he is a force to be reckoned with.

Bruce Willis

OF MOONLIGHTING ON ABC

Q: Did Bruce Willlis ever do another series after "Moonlighting"?

A: Not in terms of being a regular cast member, but he did have another significant TV role afterward ... and it's on display often, given how frequently the series in question is still shown. He guest-starred on "Friends" for three episodes in 2000 as Paul, the disapproving father of Ross's (David Schwimmer) considerably younger girlfriend Elizabeth (Alexandra Holden), and the two men eventually came to a meeting of the minds thanks to certain information Ross had about Paul (which the latter man didn't want revealed).

Willis earned a Primetime Emmy Award for the portrayal, marking the second one he won, his first having come for his work as wisecracking sleuth David Addison on "Moonlighting." He also did guest shots on such shows as "Ally McBeal" and "Mad About You," but movies had the bulk of his creative attention after he scored an enormous hit with the original "Die Hard" in 1988. That being said, the actor also hosted "Saturday Night Live" a couple of times, and he was the good-natured target of a "Comedy Central Roast" in 2018, with his ex-wife Demi Moore and "Moonlighting" leading lady Cybill Shepherd among those who took humorous shots at him. As is traditional for such events, though, Willis got to even the score with his own remarks at the end of that show. Joseph Gordon-Levitt, who played Willis' younger self in the 2012 movie "Looper," was the host of the "Roast."

Originally built for the Paris World Fair in 1889, this 1,000 foot monument was built in an impressive two years, two months and five days. Investigators dive into the untold story behind Paris' most famous landmark — the Eiffel Tower — and the race to build a wrought iron giant, in a brand-new episode of "Secrets of the Dead," premiering Wednesday, Oct. 25, on PBS. Previews, clips and more from the series can be found by visiting pbs.org/show/secrets-of-the-dead/extras/

After learning her son requires in-depth medical treatment, a mother facing financial hardship takes on a difficult job that lands her face-to-face with some particularly haunted clientele. When a ghost begins stalking her, however, she must uncover the man's identity and save herself from becoming his next victim. Inspired by tales collected by paranormal investigator Zak Bagans' ("Ghost Adventures"), "The Haunted Museum" airs a spine-chilling new episode, Thursday, Oct. 26, on The Travel Channel. Looking for spooks? More episodes from the anthology series can be found at travelchannel.com/shows/the-haunted-museum/episodes

Bippity boppity Burke! After Season 9 bid farewell to longtime host Alyson Hannigan, Season 10 sees the emergence of Hannigan's replacement, Brooke Burke. "Penn & Teller: Fool Us" returns Friday, Oct. 27, on the CW. For endless "oohs" and "ahhs," interested viewers can watch more episodes of the series at cwtv.com/shows/penn-teller-fool-us/

'Godzilla' roars again in a high-tech, big-budget update

Bryan Cranston, David Strathairn and Godzilla ... all notable performers with many screen credits. Put them together, though, and you're likely to get reaffirmation that size does matter.

That's just the way the 2014 version of "Godzilla" plays out, as TNT shows it Sunday, Oct. 22 (followed immediately by the clearly cut-from-the-same-cloth "Godzilla: King of the Monsters" and "Godzilla vs. Kong," making that quite a roaring day). alarm for the nuclear engineer played by Cranston. They're about to give birth to many little MU-TOs, and if that happens, goodbye, Earth.

The problem is how mankind can destroy them without destroying itself in the process. Enter Godzilla, and that's where the movie really kicks into high gear, with the special-effects maestros taking over ... and letting the battling behemoths pretty much level San Francisco as their fight rages

It's inevitable that's how this "Godzilla" story will wind up, and director Gareth Edwards delivers the goods on that count. What's disappointing is how many good actors are left on the sidelines in service of letting the monsters take center stage.

Not only are there Cranston and Strathairn, but also Elizabeth Olsen, Juliette Binoche (yes, that is correct, Juliette Binoche was in a "Godzilla" movie), Sally Hawkins and Ken Watanabe. They all do enough to justify their paychecks, but it's actually co-star Aaron Taylor-Johnson who gets the most sustained opportunity to show his stuff.

Well, as far as the human cast members are concerned, that is. Needless to say, Godzilla is the ultimate star here, and he didn't even need an agent to ensure that. If his antics are enough, you'll be satisfied by this latest trek with him. If you also need a "people story" to fulfill your viewing desires, keep looking – and the two other "Godzilla" movies that run right afterward might help in that way.

Artistry abounds: new documentary shines light on the life of Michael Chow

With boundless creativity and a taste for experience, artist and restaurateur Michael Chow has left his impression far and wide. Now, director Nick Hooker ("Everything is Copy," 2015) tells his story from start to finish, as the feature-length documentary, "AKA Mr. Chow," premieres Sunday, Oct. 22, on HB()

"Born Zhou Yinghua, he triumphed over trauma, loss and prejudice through acting and art before crafting a new identity as restaurateur Mr. Chow," HBO describes. "After decades as a successful businessman and celebrated host to artists, actors, musicians, designers and models, Mr. Chow has turned to painting and once again redefined himself this time, as the artist M."

Mr. Chow now has locations worldwide, serving authentic Beijing cuisine alongside creative original recipes, such as their infamous Chicken Satay and Ma Mignon. While offering a unique dining experience, Mr. Chow is also, according to the website, "A social event meant to be experienced with others." They go on to explain: "Food is shared in a communal setting. Dishes are served 'family style' to ensure all guests get a taste of everything. The principles of Chinese cuisine are entrenched in a theory of harmony, dictating that all facets of the senses are stimulated equally. A balance of tastes, textures, fragrances and colors is presented to enhance and accentuate the other.

Serving famous clientele such as The Beatles ("Abbey Road," 1969), Federico Fellini ("La Dolce Vita," 1960), Frank Sinatra ("My Way," 1969) and Jeanne Moreau ("Jules and Jim," 1962), Mr. Chow is certainly one of Chow's crowning achievements — but not

"AKA Mr. Chow" is also set to dive into the visionary's latest endeavor: his art — a talent the man is returning to after a 50-year hiatus. Currently, Chow — now 'M' — dabbles in painting, sculpture, poetry and installation pieces, like his immersive experience, "The Blind Room, Global Warming for all Seasons." His next exhibition — "Bridges" — is scheduled to run from November to January of this year, at the Waddington Custot in London, England.

Paul Schneider

OF PARKS AND RECREATION ON NBC

Q: Is the guy who played Mark on "Parks and Recreation" still working? Why did he leave the show?

A: City planner Mark Brendanawicz on the late-2000s NBC sitcom "Parks and Recreation" is Paul Schneider's best-known role. But according to both him and series creator Michael Schur ("The Office," "The Good Place"), he left to try to change that. Shortly before leaving the show, Schneider appeared in the hit indie film "Bright Star" (2009). To hear Schur tell it in a 2010 interview with the L.A. Times, Schneider wanted to pursue those sorts of meatier, big-screen roles. So his character was written off "Parks and Recreation."

Meanwhile, Schneider, in a different interview (with ScreenCrush.com), said he left because he didn't like the direction Schur was taking the character, but also said he wanted to instead pursue "more interesting" roles.

Both arguments amount to the same thing for Schneider's career, though, and he did indeed find further success on the art-film circuit. For example, he appeared in the smash-hit 2011 film "Water for Elephants," and a few years later did a Woody Allen movie (2016's "Cafe Society"), seemingly a must for any indie star.

He's continued on in that vein ever since — mostly doing indies, while occasionally popping up on TV.

Most recently, he had a supporting role in the Netflix comedy series "Florida Man," which debuted on the streamer last April. And a year earlier, he popped up in the low-budget crime drama "American Murderer" (2022).

Schneider's currently filming the family-themed, sci-fi adventure movie "Xeno," about a young girl who befriends and protects an alien who crash-lands near her home.

John M. Jackson

Q: Is the guy who played Admiral Chegwidden on "JAG" doing anything these days?

A: The short answer is no, but it looks like he's always at least open to putting on the admiral's uniform again.

John M. Jackson played Adm. Chegwidden on the first nine seasons of "JAG," checking out in 2004 before the final season. But he hasn't done a whole lot since.

His most notable non-Chegwidden role was a six-episode arc on "Bones" from 2005 to 2006, playing FBI Deputy Director Sam Cullen. Other than that, it's just been a few movies and a lot of one-off TV guest

Well, that and regularly reprising his "JAG" role.

For those who don't know, the mega-franchise series "NCIS" actually spun off from "JAG" in 2003. And so Jackson's Chegwidden role is part of that sprawling TV universe (four spinoffs and counting).

Jackson has appeared in two of the NCIS shows. He reprised his role once in the original-flavour "NCIS" in 2013, and did a six-episode arc in "NCIS: Los Angeles" from 2017 to 2018. As of now, that's his most recent screen role.

But the NCIS shows are going strong, so there's always a chance we'll see Jackson (and Adm. Chegwidden) again.

Penn and Teller search for luminary illusionists in new show

Say "abracadabra" and "alakazam" as the curtain lifts for an all-new season of magic when Season 10 of "Penn & Teller: Fool Us" premieres Friday, Oct. 27, on the CW, welcoming an all-new face to the famed Penn and Teller stage.

While Alyson Hannigan ("How I Met Your Mother") bid farewell to the series at the end of its ninth season, she also set the stage for her enchanting replacement: Brooke Burke ("Melissa & Joey"), who is slated to take on the role of host, offering fans just the same flourish of excitement and insight as she joins the magicians on their journey to find the best in the biz.

The series — filmed at the Rio All-Suite Hotel & Casino in Las Vegas — follows as the famed illusionist/comedian duo, Penn and Teller, welcomes hopeful magicians and illusionists to the hotel's stage. Asked to perform their best stunts, the illusionists will ideally (and hopefully) fool even greats like Penn and Teller.

Four magicians perform their routines each episode, and following, Penn and Teller put their heads together and see if they can solve the trick behind the magic, then recreate the act for its original performers. If the duo can replicate the illusion, the game is over. Alternately, if they find themselves fooled, the magician in question will earn themselves a "Fool Us" trophy, alongside a five-star trip back to Las Vegas to perform as the opening act in Penn and Teller's highly popular show, also held at the hotel.

AS Adult situations

Seeing as a magician never tells their secrets, however, when the time comes to guess whether the duo has figured out the trick correctly, the answer must be presented without revealing any illuminating details to the audience, meaning Penn and Teller make their guesses via cryptic clues and descriptions, or through super-secret notes, shared only with their fellow magicians.

After all is said and done, Penn and Teller then go on to perform their own illusions, wowing not only their competitors but also viewers at home, as they bend reality into something more magical.

Filled with awe, wonder and delight, "Penn & Teller: Fool Us" premieres its 10th season, Friday, Oct. 27, on the CW.

'All Rise' is making its last stand

PALEYF

Q: It's good to see "All Rise" back on the air, but is this going to be the end of the show? – Mike Lang, via e-mail

A: From all appearances, it is. That wasn't completely unexpected, given that it took roughly a year for OWN to bring the show back for the second half of its third (and, ultimately, final) season – and that third year came as a reprieve for the law drama after CBS cancelled it following its first two rounds.

The series' budget wasn't the same at OWN as it was at CBS, and especially given the large ensemble cast (which has included Simone Missick, Wilson Bethel, Jessica Camacho and Mar Helgenberger), that had to be a factor in whether it would win another renewal.

One hesitates to say "never," but given the situation of "All Rise" itself plus the larger issues related to production and money matters in the age of the entertainment-industry strikes, it's likely that "All Rise" has risen for the last time.

Q: All of the repeats of "The Golden Girls" that I see have Beatrice Arthur in them, but I thought she left the show early. Is that true? – Rachel Matthews, Charlotte, N.C.

A: No, but that impression might have been created by the fact that her fellow stars – Betty White, Rue McClanahan and Estelle Getty – elected to continue their roles in the sequel series "The Golden Palace," which CBS aired for one year right after the original sitcom ended on NBC.

The final episode of "The Golden Girls" married off Arthur's character Dorothy, and though she probably would have been factored in had Arthur decided to return, the follow-up went in a slightly different direction by making the remaining ladies the owners of a financially challenged Miami hotel. Also notable in the regular cast were Don Cheadle, prior to his movie stardom, as the manager of the hotel and Cheech Marin as one of the site's chefs who also stayed with the place.

"MEG 2: THE TRENCH"

Coming five years after the original thriller "The Meg," this sequel returns action staple Jason Statham to the role of the heroic environmentalist who finds more supposedly extinct Megalodon sharks to fight. A mining operation that ruptures a danger-harboring undersea trench plays a part in forcing others to struggle to survive, and the special-effects-enhanced mayhem remains of the sort that made the first film a considerable hit. Ironically, one of the settings in the tale is called Fun Island ... and many of the characters surely would call that a misnomer, given what they face there and in the surrounding area. The human cast of the American-Chinese co-production also includes Wu Jing, Cliff Curtis, Shuya Sophia Kai, Page Kennedy, Skyler Samuels and Sienna Guillory.  (PG-13: AS, P, V) (Also on Blu-ray, 4K Ultra HD, Digital and On Demand)

Star Zahn McClarnon has won particular raves for this AMC and AMC+ series, which adapts Tony Hillerman's "Leaphorn & Chee" novels ("People of Darkness" being the main source of this sophomore round), and which recently earned a renewal for a third year. McClarnon and Kiowa Gordon play Navajo law-enforcement partners in the American Southwest of the 1970s, but they're pursuing different investigations initially here. Those eventually merge, leading the sleuths to probe a possibly dangerous cult. Jeri Ryan ("Star Trek: Voyager"), A Martinez ("Santa Barbara") and Jacqueline Byers ("Salvation") also are featured in this season. George R.R. Martin ("Game of Thrones"), Robert Redford and Hillerman's daughter Anne are among the executive producers of the show, which has been praised for integrating a hefty dose of cultural background into its mysteries.  (Not rated: AS, P, V) (Also on Blu-ray)

"PARAMOUNT SCARES VOL. 1"

In time for Halloween, the Paramount Home Entertainment label issues a 4K Ultra HD set combining several of its more popular horror titles. "Rosemary's Baby" is director Roman Polanski's 1968 chiller about a young wife (Mia Farrow) whose elderly neighbors (including one played by Oscar winner Ruth Gordon) take a particular interest in her forthcoming child; the original 1989 version of "Pet Sematary," featuring Fred Gwynne (alias TV's "Herman Munster"), adapts Stephen King's novel set largely in a particularly terrifying graveyard; "Smile" (2022) and "Crawl" (2019) are inclusions of relatively recent vintage; and a fifth disc, cleverly meant to whet consumers' appetites, is a "Mystery Title" said to be a favorite among horror fans. A special edition of the genre magazine Fangoria also is included. *  (R or unrated, varying by title: AS, P, V)

BEST ALFRED HITCHCOCK MOVIES

"Saboteur" (1942): Basically a spy story, this fast-paced effort culminates in one of director Hitchcock's most memorable endings, putting heroic Robert Cummings and not-so-heroic Norman Lloyd atop the Statue of Liberty.

"Shadow of a Doubt" (1943):
Joseph Cotten is wonderfully creepy as an apparent bon vivant suspected of murder by a young relative (Teresa Wright).

"Lifeboat" (1944): Co-written by novelist John Steinbeck, Hitchcock's excellent melodrama loads the title craft with survivors of a ship that was targeted and sunk by a U-boat ... with one of the U-boat's crew members also on the lifeboat.

"Strangers on a Train" (1951): Two travelers (Farley Granger, Robert Walker) make a pact to get rid of someone for the other person in a tale that's been retold in numerous variations.

"Rear Window" (1954): The production design is a star of this great thriller that keeps a light touch, as an apartment dweller (James Stewart) waylaid by a broken leg thinks he spies a neighbor (Raymond Burr) committing murder.

"The Trouble With Harry" (1955): Shirley MacLaine started her movie career with Hitchcock, who had tongue firmly in cheek in telling of the trouble posed to several Vermont residents by Harry, a corpse.

"To Catch a Thief" (1955): Romantic sparks between Cary Grant and Grace Kelly, lovely French Riviera locales, and a fanciful cat-burglar story add up to viewing enjoyment.

"The Man Who Knew Too Much" (1956): Doris Day's musical trademark, "Que Sera Sera," was a byproduct of her starring with Hitchcock returnee Stewart as a couple forced into foreign espionage in a remake of Hitchcock's own two-decades-earlier thriller. Turner Classic Movies shows both this version and Hitchcock's 1934 original on Saturday, Oct. 28.

"Vertigo" (1958): Obsession rarely has gotten as haunting a screen treatment as in this visually striking melodrama, with Stewart again the star as an acrophobic detective who falls under the spell of a friend's wife (Kim Novak) he's tailing.

"North by Northwest" (1959): A sensationally entertaining mix of adventure, humor and romance, this prolonged chase takes a businessman (Cary Grant again) from New York to Mount Rushmore, with James Mason the main villain and Eva Marie Saint a deceptive beauty.

"Psycho" (1960): Hitchcock's achievement with the chiller that made people wary of taking a shower - thanks to the fate of Norman Bates' (Anthony Perkins) motel guest (Janet Leigh) - is even more impressive in its capping of a three-year run of Hitchcock classics that couldn't be more different stylistically. Television's "Bates Motel" recently expanded on the specific premise here.

"The Birds" (1963): Rarely have electronic sounds been used more chillingly than in Hitchcock's take on a Daphne Du Maurier story that puts a town under siege from our feathered, supposed friends.

"Marnie" (1964): In and around his James Bond work, Sean Connery diversified by working with Hitchcock on this melodrama about a businessman with a strong interest in a troubled employee (Tippi Hedren).

"Torn Curtain" (1966): This Alfred Hitchcock-directed spy story involves Paul Newman in a brutal kitchen scene. Trust us, you'll know it when you see it.

"Frenzy" (1972): Hitchcock's next-to-last film shows him in fine form, again using one of his favorite themes with an innocent man (Jon Finch) suspected of crimes – in this case, serial killings in London.
