Sam Garrison:

Clay County must start preparing for future projects now

By Don Coble don@claytodayonline.com

ORANGE PARK – Much like the popular adage in NASCAR, Rep. Sam Garrison knows that if Clay County is caught up with its infrastructure projects, it will be behind in the future.

Keeping pace isn't good enough, especially when Clay is one of the fastest-growing counties in Florida.

Finding the money to patch bumpy roads and fix leaky schoolhouse roofs is tough enough, so how does Clay County find the money to build new roads and schools?

"We're just kind of trying to keep pace at this point," Garrison said. "It's going to take a sustained investment going forward. How do we structure that? That's a big issue for us right now."

Garrison said infrastructure and the preservation of public space were two of his favorite issues during the recent legislative session. He discussed his wish list during last week's Clay County Chamber Legislative Roundup at the Thrasher-Horne Conference Center.

Sam Garrison

"I think this is Ground Zero for this aging infrastructure," he said. "I'm not talking roads, I'm talking schools. We have a lot of old schools in the state that are expensive to maintain. They're unsafe for the school safety standards we expect in the post-Parkland world. They're tough for communities. How do we figure out the financial balance between state and local responsibilities for aging infrastructures for our students to learn?"

Garrison said Orange Park High, Grove Park Elementary, and Lakeside Junior High were three of his district's schools that "had challenges."

"It's not just the schools. It's also the communities, the older homes that were there coming up on 50, 60 years of construction. How do we renew those neighborhoods and make sure that North Orange Park doesn't become the next Arlington? To me, that's what I'm thinking about."

Garrison said the state can leverage resources in the budget and policy to help people who can't afford to live on Fleming Island or at Oakleaf to find a good home to reinvigorate other parts of the county.

"We want an urban core that's vibrant," he said. "We want to do something to bend the curve a little bit."

That's why Garrison said it's important to work ahead. "You know, one of my favorite quotes is, 'We live in the shade of trees other people planted.""

Jennifer Bradley:

Bradley's persistence leads to passage of veterinary telehealth bill

By Don Coble

don@claytodayonline.com

ORANGE PARK – Florida Sen. Jennifer Bradley admitted during last week's Legislative Roundup at the Thrasher-Horne Conference Center that her attempt to create telehealth for animal care was a "challenge." Still, it didn't keep her from pushing for a resolution.

"One, it was in my wheelhouse because it dealt with animals, and I support animal legislation," she said. "I'm always looking for ways to protect animals. One, because I think it's the right thing to do as a compassionate human. Violence against animals is often a precursor to violence against people."

Bradley said there are large swatches of rural Florida where veterinary care may be more than an hour away. She has pushed for veterinary telehealth care for more than one session, and she finally got some concessions to make her vision a reality.

Jennifer Bradley

"It's an issue that has been tried again, and it's been four or five years where it's been filed in Tallahassee," she said. "Both sides are dug in. The vets and the folks who want to open it up want to provide that access to care. For years, the issue was really a stalemate. They came to me this year. They said, please try and do this. I listened to all the data; you know 40% of our pets are abandoned or surrendered a lot of times because there isn't access, either an access issue or an affordability issue, to get medical care. Vet telehealth should be sufficient or available for every ailment your pet has. If you're still going to have to go to the vet, there are a lot of issues that can be treated via telehealth if we do it safely."

Bradley said telehealth doctors can't write prescriptions for controlled substances, so the program can't be used to support drug abuse for humans. Animals can get quicker, essential medical treatment by making a simple phone call.

"We put some guardrails on the prescribing," Bradley said. "No controlled substances are going to be able to be prescribed by that telehealth. You're only going to be able to prescribe animal meds, so you can't have criminal situations for certain medications. We really crafted it as a result of hours and hours of being together. The first veterinary telehealth bill in Florida will really be helpful for everyone who ever had to take half a day off work and get a beautiful dog or an elderly dog to the vet."

Bobby Payne:

Payne to remain charged up about finding new energy sources in Florida

By Don Coble

don@claytodayonline.com

ORANGE PARK – Rep. Bobby Payne has served in the Florida House of Representatives since 2016, and his term limit will end in seven months.

But don't expect the Republican to disappear, especially as he believes the nation's energy policy is in disarray.

Payne said energy was his most passionate project during the last legislative session. He said that until politicians listen to energy experts and engineers, the nation's grid will be constantly at risk.

"I have an electric utility background," he said. "I feel like we need to do more in the state to look at our energy policies. I started probably six, eight months ago working on energy policy in the state, knowing that 76% of our energy in the state provides energy opportunities from natural gas. What happens if one of those five pipelines, or one of those three major pipelines we will all share, goes down? It would not only affect businesses but cost us billions of dollars.

"I started looking at our other alternatives for fuel options and flexibility. We know that solar is very, very vibrant and very, very public. There's a lot of solar opportunities. We see some wind energy opportunities throughout the nation in Florida, but it doesn't work. You need 6.5 mph just to turn a wind turbine and 49 mph sustained wind."

As Florida continues to grow, so will the state's energy grid demands. Clay County, for example, grew by 2½% last year, according to the U.S. Census.

What are the solutions?

"We tasked the Public Service Commission to look into other fuel opportunities to interview companies for the state," Payne said. "It was a passion of mine to start that this year. I developed a spreadsheet with 23 items that we needed to discuss. We narrowed it down to a number of workable small modular reactors and hydrogen fuel technology. We're building technology that we'll use as an alternative fuel."

memorials are, about 250 passed," Bradley said. I had a very busy session this year. It was a really, really busy session. I thought I filed 18 bills out of the Senate, which was probably the highest amount I've passed since I've been there."

All three said the signature legislation dealt with social media. Governor Ron DeSantis signed bills approved by the House and Senate that banned children younger than 14 from having their own social media accounts. Children ages 14 and 15 must have accounts with parental consent.

Garrison said about 3% of children used cell phones 10 years ago; now, it's more than 72%.

"We feel like the parents are being excluded entirely from social media platforms." he said.

Payne, who represents the Keystone Heights area, Garrison and Bradley also talked about challenges to infrastructure, AI pornography, rapid development, shrinking green and agriculture spaces, drug abuse, mental health issues, social media and healthcare.

"It's an all-hands-on-deck situation, and we're putting real money behind it," Garrison said. "Quite frankly, we're just trying to keep pace right now. It's going to take a sustained investment going forward. How do we structure that? That's a big issue for us.

"We've developed a reputation as a county over the last 10 to 12 years, in partnership with the BCC, our municipalities, and our constitutionals. When we show up, and they say this is a need, we start from a position of OK, that makes sense.

"We don't get the luxury of passing the buck. We have to figure it out. It's the stuff that matters to you and your community. It's your school. It's your roads. It's your prisons. It's your water that you drink. It's all that sort of stuff."

Helpful downpayment tips for first-time homebuyers

StatePoint Media For Clay Today

If you think saving for a down payment is your No. 1 barrier to homeownership, it's important to understand how down payments work, how much is necessary, and what programs can help you secure the funds you need.

To get you started, Freddie Mac is answering some frequently asked questions:

• What is a down payment, and how does it affect my mortgage? A down payment is the amount of money you pay upfront when purchasing a home, and it's generally calculated as a percentage of the total home price. When you put more money down at the outset, the amount you need to borrow from your lender decreases, as do your monthly mortgage payments. Although a larger down payment can be beneficial for this reason, it may not be in your best interest if it would leave you in a compromised financial position with no cushion.

However, a smaller down payment can help you become a homeowner faster and begin building equity sooner.

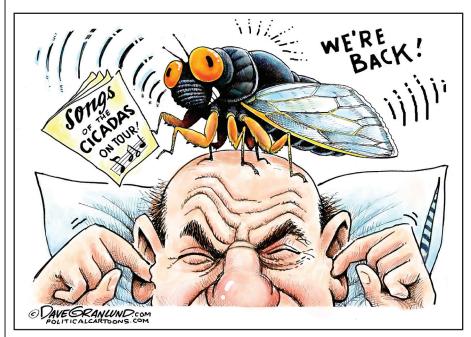

• How large should my down payment be? A Freddie Mac survey found that nearly one-third of prospective homebuyers believe you need to make a down payment of at least 20% to buy a home. This myth remains one of the largest perceived barriers to homeownership.

The truth is that the typical down payment is between 5% and 20%, and some mortgage programs make it possible to put down as little as 3%. Your down payment size will depend on your financial situation, your lender, and your eligibility for different types of mortgages.

Bear in mind that if you put down less than 20% and have a conventional loan, you'll need to budget for private mortgage insurance (PMI), an added insurance policy that protects the lender if you are unable to pay your mortgage. This monthly fee is rolled into your mortgage payment. Expect to pay approximately $30 to $70 a month for every $100,000 you borrow. The

Time to face the facts: Recycling was a lot of trash talk

By Don Coble Managing Editor

I was like the rest of you – albeit an increasingly shrinking number of you – who was disappointed to learn the county will likely do away with recycling plastics and metal cans at the end of September.

Instead of blaming our elected officials for taking the easy way out or trying to save a buck, I did what few, if any, did. I studied the facts. I learned that recycling turned from a noble idea into a financial farce over a decade ago.

Truth: there is reason, a market and profit in recycling clean corrugated cardboard. There is no market or reason to recycle anything else. No matter how many trees you hug, those facts won't change.

Even if the Board of County Commissioners agrees to pay to have cans and plastics collected, they probably will end up in a landfill. Taxpayers will pay an additional surcharge to their regular trash pickup to have cans and plastics thrown in the same garbage pit as their banana peals, chicken bones and coffee grounds. For that to work, my conscience has to be for sale.

It's not.

The problem with plastic is it's often made with a toxic cocktail of chemicals to cut costs. If the choice is doing what's best for the environment or the bottom line, all you have to do is look at a landfill to see which side Corporate America picks.

Plastics contain more than 13,000 different chemicals, and as many as 3,200 are known to be hazardous to humans. When plastic is recycled, toxicity levels increase. And more chemicals are often added during the recycling process.

And yet, we still pay to have companies take them away – only to throw them in a landfill.

More than 2,000 municipalities are paying extra fees in addition to their regular trash to dispose of recyclables. Most, if not all, wind up in landfills.

One city in Volusia County admitted that 55% of recyclables went straight to landfills, and the mayor boasted that wouldn't change no matter how much residents were charged.

Why? Because most recyclables are mixed with contaminated materials. The only acceptable plastics are marked with PETE Code 1 or PETE Code 2. Admit it, you didn't check your plastics, did you? No, you didn't. Even with the best intentions, since there are seven PETE Codes, odds are you've been trying to recycle unapproved plastics anyway.

When non-recyclable materials are mixed with acceptable recyclables, the entire batch is often unusable. That means the whole load winds up in the landfill.

Even the accepted PETE Code 1 and 2 recyclables can sometimes undergo the process only one or two times because they easily downgrade and that limits their usefulness in future use.

Actually, a lot of the United State's plastics ended up in the ocean instead of being repurposed into new containers. Until 2018, the United States exported 16 million tons of plastic, paper, and metals to China, and nearly 30% of these were deemed contaminated and polluted China's countryside and oceans. It is estimated as much as 1.5 metric tons of plastics were dumped into the ocean off China's coast.

The county has had curbside recyclables collection for a while. Residents apparently lost interest in keeping recyclables out of landfills during COVID. Before the pandemic, the county collected 525 tons a month of recyclable materials. Postpandemic, it averages about 262 tons, and 45% of that is unusable.

Am I going to give up? No. I'm not going to buy single plastic bottles of water. I have a metal jug that I rinse out and refill every day. That's my way to protect the environment.

Cuban refugee, U.S. Navy Petty Officer reunite 30 years after Guantanamo Bay

'Running away' from the emotional challenges at The Pink Palace

By Jack Randall

jack@claytodayonline.com

On Friday, Feb. 5, 1993, Tanya Lee went by the name of Petty Officer Tanya Thompson. She was a cryptologic technical operator stationed at the Atlantic Intelligence Command

That night, she left her evening shift early. She entered her bedroom only to realize she was not alone. A man was waiting for her with a gun drawn. She was beaten, raped and left for dead.

She started drinking as a way to selfmedicate, along with other unhealthy coping mechanisms, as she became consumed by dark clouds of negative thoughts. She closed up and turned inward.

Post-traumatic stress disorder is a mental illness commonly associated with the military, especially regarding frontline combat. It's understood PTSD manifests from a variety of terrifying, life-threatening events. More than 90% of rape victims develop PTSD following an assault.

Lea was diagnosed with PTSD, OCD and other diagnoses years later.

According to the DSM-5, a diagnostic tool for mental health disorders, symptoms of PTSD include intrusive memories, avoidance, negative changes in thinking or mood and changes in emotional reactions.

"I was afraid to go in through the door. My mom would be on the phone with me anytime I entered through the front door," she said.

Living in the apartment was a source of constant psychological stress. Lea requested a transfer as soon as she was able. She wanted to be transferred anywhere away from Norfolk, preferably somewhere international.

Her request was granted, and she left later that year.

The "North End Rapist," identified later as Kerri Charity, was apprehended on Christmas Eve, 1993. His trial began in early 1995, running in tandem during Lea's subsequent deployment when she was stationed at "Gitmo," the nickname for the U.S. Guantanamo Naval Base.

Lea's job at Gitmo was 9-to-5. To her, it was just another naval base in the Caribbean, where she lived and worked from 1994 to 1995.

"It feels like a lifetime ago as much as it feels like it happened yesterday," she said.

Specifically, she worked at the "Pink Palace," an on-base facility referred to that way for its size and hue.

She began each day by waking up at 6 a.m., before dawn, getting in her daily PT (physical training), and then getting to work

She was responsible for installing a JDISS (Joint Deployable Intelligence Support System), which allowed communication between the Atlantic Intelligence Command and Naval Station Guantanamo Bay.

As a junior officer, she was assigned collateral responsibilities as well. Most notably, she helped feed the refugees – thousands of men, women and children. The refugees held out their plates as they moved through the cafeteria line.

One scoop of rice. One scoop of red beans. A spoonful of peanut butter, if they were lucky

Lea and the others on the kitchen crew couldn't talk or take photos of the refugees. Most spoke Spanish, anyway.

Lea was a server during one of the "food riots" that Celia mentions in her memoir. The refugees would throw the food back at the servers, and Lea honestly couldn't blame them.

Refugees, military personnel and contractors put tabs in their water to make it potable. Still, many refugees contracted tapeworms and other parasites. Celia and Lea both empathized with the refugees.

"They ate the same (stuff) every day. While also drinking water that was unsanitary. The guards had to break up a riot where refugees were throwing food. I don't blame them. They really did eat the same (stuff) every day for every," she said.

Her deployment at The Pink Palace was briefly interrupted by the rape trial. Charity was sentenced to seven life sentences plus 80 years.

It was a moment of celebration for Lea and the other four women. It was a moment of relief knowing that another woman would not be victimized by him again. However, healing took longer. And forgiveness came even harder.

"Tragedy changes people. Forgiveness was the hardest thing. I knew I needed to forgive, but it was so hard for me," Lea said.

While Celia experienced physical confinement at Guantanamo Bay, Lea's shackles were mental. Feelings of guilt, shame and anger followed her around the world. She still felt responsible for what happened to her, and she experienced imposter syndrome at her new job. She threw herself into her work. She was frequently photographed staring somberly out along the fences by the cliffs.

Celia's pain came from another kind of shame. She was being punished in her homeland by a country she thought would embrace her. Her hope for freedom was replaced by barbed wire, a steady diet of beans and rice, dysentery and humiliation.

"I was running away. We (Lea and Celia) were both running away."

Next week, Cuban refugee Celia E. Ochoa realized she and former Navy Petty Officer Tanya Lea were both at Guantanamo Bay in 1994 at the same time — Ochoa as a detainee; Lea as a Naval guard. Both reconnected to share memories, and more importantly, they used their experiences to become entrepreneurs and advocates.

Law enforcement, community to honor fallen from Clay on May 9

Other Northeast Florida agencies to join solemn ceremony at Moosehaven

Clay Today staff

ORANGE PARK – Law enforcement agencies from Northeast Florida will be at Moosehaven on Thursday, May 9, for a single purpose – to never forget the 12 who died in the line of duty in Clay County.

The Clay County Sheriff's Office honored the memories of 11 of its deputies and sheriffs who died in the line of duty, while the Green Cove Springs will remember Police Chief Asdot during the annual ceremony.

National Police Week started in 1962.

There are now 23,229 names engraved on the National Law Enforcement Officers Memorial Wall. The first recorded death of a deputy who died in the line of duty was in 1786.

The first death in Clay County was on May 10, 1894, when Sheriff Peeler was shot while trying to break up an argument between two men at a train station.

Three of the fallen – CCSO Sgt. Eric Twisdale and Dep. Clint Seagle and Green Cove Springs Police Chief Derek Asdot – died of complications from COVID-19.

The ceremony will include the presen-

Dave married Janet Norton-Taylor on January 25, 1964. The couple had just celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary.

Dave retired from the US Navy after 23 years of service with the rank of Chief Petty Officer. He traveled all over the world with the Navy, and Dave and Janet were even sent to Newfoundland. Canada and lived there in their early years of marriage. The Navy brought the Britten Family to Orange Park, 50 years ago, where they planted their roots. Dave said the Navy treated him well; he loved flying, being a part of anti-submarine missions, and enjoyed seeing the world wherever his Navy travels took him. After retirement from serving our country, he went on to work for the Florida Department of Revenue. He liked numbers which is evident by the numerous filled-up sudoku books, a favorite pastime.

After retiring from the state, Dave spent years volunteering at The Orange Park Clothes Closet & Food Pantry. He loved to garden and at one point had nine vegetables and three fruits in rotation in his backyard. Dave & Janet traveled the world in their later years going to Hawai'i, Alaska, and National Parks throughout the Continental US, the Caribbean, and the Baltic Sea and Eastern Europe. Dave & Janet spent almost 3 decades active in the square dance community of both Michigan and Florida. They danced with The Silver Fox Club of Jacksonville.

Dave leaves behind a legacy he and Janet created. Daughters Nancy, Debbie (Jim) Lineberry, & Shari (Simon) Robb. Granddaughter Sandy (Tom) Deniz and grandsons Drew (Kayleigh) Petry, Jacob (Tori) Robb. Austin Robb. and Trevor Robb. Step-granddaughters Shannon (Mark) Schmidt & Heather (Jason) Hunnicutt. The generations grew with the addition of 6 Great-Grandchildren; Bailey, Brie, & Bennett Deniz and Grace & Eleanor Petry and Avery Hunnicutt. He is also survived by his brothers Bill (Sarah) Britten & Mark (Paula) Britten. He is preceded in death by his parents and sister, Anne Emme.

Memorial services will be held at Highpoint Community Church led by Pastor Mike Hailey on Saturday, May 18th at 11:00. The family requests that non-perishable food items be brought to the service for donation to The Orange Park Clothes Closet & Food Pantry in Dave's honor.

In lieu of flowers, monetary donations may be made in Dave's honor to High Point Community Church of Orange

Taking care of your teeth the best way to smile at your health, wellness

By Don Coble don@claytodayonline.com

The most common chronic disease in the world today is tooth decay. And it's the most preventable.

Moreover, a mouth full of cavities can affect your overall health, according to Christine Eason, Director of the Dental Assistant Program at Fortis College in Orange Park.

"Bad oral hygiene affects the rest of your body because the bacteria that are found in your mouth has been found in your heart," she said. "That specific type of bacteria is found only in your mouth, so to find it in the heart means it had to travel through the bloodstream. So, periodontal disease and all of that can definitely affect and contribute to other issues with your heart specifically."

Once the bacteria is in your bloodstream, Eason said, it can also affect other parts of your body.

"If you have knee replacements and things like that, where that bacteria can travel to your knee replacement, or like artificial heart valves, it could cause them to fail," Eason said. "Periodontal disease affects more than just your mouth.'

Without proper brushing and flossing, bacteria can break down the soft tissues in the gums and teeth, leading to decay and gum disease. There's a correlation between an unhealthy mouth and systemic diseases, including heart problems, certain types of cancers and kidney diseases.

According to the Mayo Clinic, other diseases associated with poor oral hygiene include endocarditis, pregnancy and birth complications, cardiovascular disease and pneumonia.

Also, if your mouth hurts, the rest of you won't feel well, either.

Proper oral hygiene is one of the important parts of being healthy since the mouth produces bacteria that can travel through your bloodstream and affect your heart and other tissues.

So, how do you stay ahead of cavities?

"Brush your teeth twice a day, if you can," Eason said. "The most important time to brush and floss is at night. Most people worry about it in the morning because they don't want their breath to smell. But it's really important to brush and floss at night because bacteria is the food you eat, and all that bacteria sit on your teeth for 10-to-12 hours, however long you're sleeping. It can cause cavities and other things. Brushing and flossing at home is the best thing – and seeing your provider every six months at least for cleaning."

Eason said making fluoride a part of your daily care is essential.

"Flouride strengthens your teeth," she said. "It doesn't prevent cavities but makes them least likely to have cavities. So use fluoride toothpaste and fluoride mouthwash."

Making oral health a priority will significantly affect their overall health and well-being.

Scouts earn $37,967 while honoring Nancy Keating, Mike Cella

ORANGE PARK – The 12-Points Dinner for the North Florida Council for the Boys Scouts of America is one of the organization's most important fundraisers of the year.

But the ask for money came without any reservations on Thursday, April 25, at St. Catherine's Catholic Church as nearly 100 gathered to honor two of the county's most respected longtime servants – retired Challenge Enterprises CEO Nancy Keating and outgoing County Commissioner Mike Gella.

"These two individuals have provided exemplary service to our community, they are people with character and integrity," said Honorary Dinner Chair, former Clay County Fire Rescue Chief Richard Knoff.

The dinner's purpose, however, was to raise money to provide safe and quality programs for as many as 10,000 children to join Scouting, provide books and uniforms, and send them to camp.

And with the help of Keating and Cella, this year's dinner raised $37,967.

Supervisor of Elections Chris Chambless introduced Keating. Before he started reading from his prepared script, many of his words seemed personal.

"The secret to success for Nancy and Challenge Enterprise is to try. And if you should fail, dust yourself off, learn from your mistakes and try again," he said. "As Nancy says, it's the power of people and the possibility.

"Nancy, I don't know how you do it — to be able to stand the weight of the jewels that are in your crown. Well done, my good and faithful servant."

Keating started Challenge Enterprises and worked 50 years for the organization that provides adult day training, residential services and employment opportunities for adults with different abilities. She retired on Dec. 31.

"Scouting has always been a part of Challenge Enterprise's interests," Keating said. "I have thousands of stories that I can probably tell you during my career, but the foundation of Scouting and church and what my parents taught me continued to cross lines. It's all about all those 12 points of trustworthiness, kindness, obedience and reverence.

"I am grateful I have been given all the opportunities I've been given as a resident in Clay County to assist people and serve. I will be forever grateful to my family for guiding me down the right path. (I had) a few slips here and there, but I had powerful opportunities to live the dream of service to others."

Scotty Taylor introduced his old friend, the man Cella dubbed "Mayor of Middleburg" years ago. He laughed that Cella offered to be his campaign manager for a position that didn't exist and that residents still ask to meet with him at City Hall to discuss issues in the town. There is no City Hall, and the area is unincorporated.

Cella has served on the BCC since 2016, serving two terms as Chairman, and has been the Chairman of the Tourism Development Council for the past two years. He's also an Eagle Scout.

"I'm reminded of the countless lessons learned from the earliest days of Cub Scouts to the pinnacle of achieving the rank of Eagle Scout," Cella said. "Believe it or not, I didn't realize what Eagle Scout meant until I was an adult, much longer after I was awarded the badge. Boy Scouts instilled the values that have carried me through adult life. I discovered the importance of leading by example, inspiring others and fostering teamwork. Scouting told me the value of self-sufficiency and the power of collaboration in achieving common goals.

So, as we celebrate tonight, let us recommit ourselves to the principles of Scouting and the mission of building character and instilling values in the leaders of tomorrow. Together, we can continue to inspire and empower young people to reach their full potential and make a meaningful impact on the world around them."

Previous winners include Judge William Wilkes, Wendell Davis, Florida Sen. Rob Bradley, Stephanie Kopelouses, Virginia Hall Russ Medonegal, Gayward Hendry, Jimmy Weeks, Sheriff Michelle Cook and Florida Rep. Travis Cummings.

Outgoing County Commission Mike Cella said Scouting taught him "self-sufficiency and the power of collaboration in achieving common goals."

Retired Challenge Enterprises CEO Nancy Keating said she "had powerful opportunities to live the dream of service to others."

Ascension St. Vincent's earns 'A' grade from watchdog group

MIDDLEBURG – St. Vincent's Clay County earned an 'A' spring 2024 Hospital Safety Grade from The Leapfrog Group, an independent national watchdog organization that grades nearly 3,000 general hospitals throughout the United States.

The Safety Grade assigns an 'A,' 'B,' 'C,' 'D,' or 'F' grade to all general acute care hospitals nationwide. The Leapfrog Hospital Safety Grade is the only hospital ratings program exclusively based on hospital prevention of medical errors, infections and injuries. St. Vincent's Clay County is among 29% of hospitals nationwide to achieve a spring 2024 'A.'

In Florida, the hospital is one of only 75 to achieve an 'A.'

"This 'A' grade is the result of the hard work and attentiveness of everyone at St. Vincent's Clay County," said Bryan Walrath, St. Vincent's Clay County President and CEO. "We are honored that the quality of care that every single patient receives when they walk through our doors is being recognized."

The grading system is peer-reviewed and open to public scrutiny. Hospital Safety Grade results are based on more than 30 national performance measures and are updated each fall and spring.

"Everyone who works at St. Vincent's Clay County should be proud of this 'A' Hospital Safety Grade," said Leah Binder, president and CEO of The Leapfrog Group. "It takes complete dedication at every level and an ironclad commitment to putting patients first. I thank St. Vincent's Clay County, its leadership, clinicians, staff, and volunteers for caring so deeply for its patients and their safety."

The three-day fundraiser involving law enforcement from the sheriff's office and Orange Park raised $13,492 for the county's Special Olympic team.

County Special Olympics Team cashes in during 'Tip-A-Cop'

Annual event at Texas Roadhouse earns $13,492 for Clay County team ahead of Florida State Games on May 17-18

By Don Coble don@claytodayonline.com

ORANGE PARK — Although Special Olympics Unified Partner and coach Elizabeth Taylor said she's never given a server a difficult time, she said she has more respect for their duties after volunteering two days with "Tip-A-Cop" at Texas Roadhouse.

"This is crazy," she said. "You go, go, go all the time."

While Taylor, and members of the Clay County Sheriff's Office, Orange Park Police Department and the Clay County Special Olympics team weren't working a full-time shift, they were assisting the staff by delivering food, refilling water and iced tea and greeting customers during its annual three-day "Tip-A-Cop" fundraiser.

The mission was to raise money to send the team to the Florida State Games at Walt Disney World on May 17-18. Customers dug deep and donated a record $13,492, which was separate from what they tipped their servers.

"Thank you to everyone who came out and supported Clay County Special Olympics during our annual "Tip-A-Cop" fundraiser at Texas Roadhouse," said CCSO coordinator Sgt. Zach Cox. "Thanks to the generosity of our great community, we set a Clay County Special Olympics fundraising record. This year's fundraiser beat the 2023 "Tip-A-Cop" record by $733.87!

"On behalf of our Clay County Special Olympics Athletes, some of whom you met during our fundraiser, thank you!"

Law Enforcement and Special Olympics athletes will have a quick turnaround. The Law Enforcement Torch Run for Clay County Special Olympics will be on Friday, May 3, at 10 a.m. All participants will be running, walking and cycling from the Hibernia Publix at 865 Hibernia Road off U.S. Highway 17 on Fleming Island. The finish line is 2.3 miles away at the Plantation Sports Complex at 321 Old Hard Road.

The community can cheer on the participants and Special Olympics athletes as they arrive at the Plantation Sports Complex

The purpose of "Tip-A-Cop" is to raise money for the trip. The Law Enforcement Torch Run is to raise awareness ahead of the state games.

Kindness rocks in Clay County

By Payton Woods For Clay Today

GREEN COVE SPRINGS – I believe that one kid can make a difference. I think this is because I am a kid and have started to make a difference in my community.

This year, I started a new community service project, allowing me to leave a permanent mark in my community. If you take a trip to the UF/IFAS Clay County Extension Office, you will find a rock garden filled with inspirational quotes and happy messages. This rock garden is open to community members who want to leave a rock to spread kindness or take a rock if they need a little pick-me-up.

With the help of other 4-H members, we could paint nearly 100 rocks to be placed in the garden. I worked with County Extension Director Annie Wallau and Clay County Master Gardeners to set up my rock garden in my hometown.

Throughout my years in 4-H, I have been able to volunteer with organizations like Vintage Market Days of Jacksonville, the Clay County Agricultural Fair, Florida Farm Bureau and the Food Pantry of Green Cove Springs. Volunteering has taught me about the importance of giving back to my community.

I enjoy working with others and learning new skills that I will be able to use throughout my life. My opportunities to speak publicly and talk with community members have helped me to build confidence and reach my personal goals.

Payton created her Kindness Rock Garden at the Extension Office at 2463 State Road 16 in Green Cove Springs for anyone who needs to find inspiration - or for anyone to leave their own inspirational rock.

There are more than 100 kindness rocks at Payton's kindness garden.

I hope to establish more rock gardens throughout Clay County to spread kindness, inspiration and beauty. These rock gardens can make a difference in someone's life by helping their attitude and overall mental health. I hope that doing these things in my community will inspire other kids to make a difference.

Homesteading in rural Clay County

By Vishi Garig

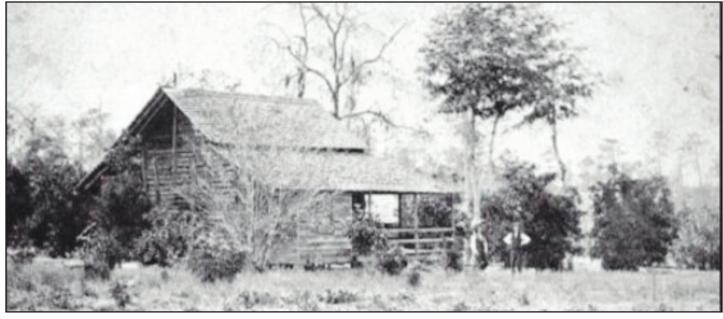

Historical Archives Supervisor, A Service of Tara S. Green, Clerk of Court and Comptroller

The events of 1862 included the passing of a meaningful piece of legislation – the Homestead Act of 1862. This act was the catalyst for the expansion of not only the West but also of Florida.

In an 1861 speech, President Abraham Lincoln reminded citizens that the true purpose of government was to "elevate the condition of men, to lift artificial burdens from all shoulders, and to give everyone an unfettered start and a fair chance in the race of life." He kept his promise with the passage of the Homestead Act.

After the Civil War, the South was left destitute. The economy was in ruins. and thousands of soldiers lay in graves. Florida represented a second chance for Southerners. Leaving Alabama, Georgia and South Carolina, these pioneers came to Clay County to start over. The Homestead Act made it all possible. Granting 160 acres of free land to applicants, the act gave them a fair shot at success. By the time it was all said and done with the repeal of the act, in 1976, 270 million acres 10% of the area of the United States – were claimed and settled under this act. According to the National Park Service, 28.096 homesteaders were "proved up" in Florida. The total acreage of homesteaded land here was 3,326,712.

The requirements to be a homesteader were simple: the applicant had to be at least 21 and be the head of the household to receive 160 acres of free federal land. The applicant had to be a citizen of the United States or someone who legally de-become a citizen. They must not have fought against the United States or aided an enemy of the United States. One wonders how many Civil War veterans from the South fudged that part of the application.

A small filing fee was the only money needed. The real work began when "proving up" the claim. During five years of continuous residence on the land, the claimant was required to build a home, farm the land and make improvements. Two references were needed from folks who could affirm the applicant had fulfilled all the requirements to receive the land patent. Union soldiers caught a break, as they could use their Civil War service to avoid the five-year residency rule.

One such Clay County homesteader was Hiram Burroughs, a native Floridian. With his wife, Elizabeth Wiggins Raulerson, he had five children. These children worked the land side-by-side with their parents as soon as possible. Hiram's 164 acres would have been due north of Penney Farms in Section 28, Range 25 East, Township 5 South. Hiram was a farmer by profession. Once his children were adults, several moved to Duval County to pursue "big city jobs." After years of hard work and perseverance, Hiram fulfilled the requirements for his homestead and was awarded the land patent in 1914.

Keystone Heights High's Prom is May 11.

Keystone Women's Club, Kiwanis successfully outfit 98 girls ahead of Prom

KEYSTONE HEIGHTS — In a tremendously successful community program, 98 girls said Yes! to the Dress last week ahead of the sixth-grade dance, prom, spring flings and graduation during a free give-away at the Women's Club.

The Lake Region Kiwanis Club and the Keystone Heights High Community Partnership coordinated the program. In the past year, the organizations collected gently used dresses, accessories, shoes and men's clothing and offered them to students at no charge. The high school prom is May 11 at 6 p.m.

Ridgeview's NJROTC Cadet Walker attends Basic Leadership Academy

ORANGE PARK - Raelynn Walker recently was one of only four girls chosen to be cadres

sen to be cadres at the U.S. Naval Academy's Inspire Program.

At the three-day program, Walker was handpicked to represent Aaron Bean's Fourth Congressional District, which includes Clay,

Raelynn Walker

Duval and Nassau counties. She will return as a Commanding Officer at the Basic Leadership Academy this summer. At Inspire, she shadowed freshman midshipmen throughout their day. She attended classes and regimen formation and met with distinguished staff members who were invited to participate in dinner with the candidates and answer any questions or concerns about the Academy. The Navy is her first choice, and she aspires to become a Naval Officer after high school. Walker is a straight-A student in International Baccalaureate Education, a program similar to Advanced Placement.

Fortis College to host open house for National Nurses Week

ORANGE PARK – In honor of National Nurses Week, Fortis College in Orange Park is celebrating its nursing students by hosting an open house on Tuesday, May 7, at 11 a.m. This event offers a fantastic opportunity for students, instructors, and community members to come together, learn more about the nursing program, and acknowledge these students' dedication and hard work.

Nursing consistently ranks as one of America's most in-demand professions. Fortunately, institutions like Fortis College in Orange Park provide a hands-on learning experience with a mix of traditional classroom instruction to prepare its students for entry-level positions in the nursing profession.

Women's Excursion Day at Silver Needle & Thread on May 9

ORANGE PARK – Everyone is invited to Women's Excursion Day on May 9 from 2-7 p.m. at the Silver Needle and Thread at 1580 Wells Road, Suite 31.

Photography work by Kakki Fant will be on display. Healthy Wave will serve collagen tea; Crafting At the Nest will offer the chance to win homemade specialty cards; homemade sewn fashion will be on display; The Lab Bakery and Coffee B will serve treats; The Dance Studio will perform; Kingsley Chiropractic will provide its services; and, Michael Gant will suggest ways to fight hunger.

Garden Club of Orange Park to host open house tours

ORANGE PARK – The Garden Club invites the public to Open House tours held on Thursday afternoons throughout May at 4 p.m. at 1820 Smith St. The building will be open until 6 p.m. each day.

Members will be available to discuss the club's community service and educational programs. Information will also be available about renting the facilities for family gatherings, business meetings, showers and other events.

The venue makes hosting your next event a pleasure. More information is available at (904)654-2016.

Orange Park Rotary kindly donates to SJR State College

For Clay Today

PALATKA – Fulfilling its mission to serve the community, the Rotary Club of Orange Park presented a check to St. Johns River State College Foundation and President Joe Pickens to support college students in need through the Foundation's Random Acts of Kindness and emergency stipends programs.

Each year, Orange Park Rotary raises funds to aid community organizations. The SJR State Foundation was one of this year's recipients. In addition to offering scholarships to students of merit, single parents and first-generation college students, the SJR State Foundation provides emergency stipends to students who may need help making ends meet while in college by paying an electric bill or rent or providing gift cards for food, gas and basic necessities not covered by scholarships or grants.

Surprising to some, many students are homeless and endure food insecurity while in college. According to a December 2022 article, Florida was first in the nation for students facing housing insecurity. In this study, 29% of students reported they don't have a place to stay. With the current state of the economy and inflation, the SJR State Foundation is receiving more student assistance requests.

The Foundation assists students at all three campuses, including Orange Park.

Recently, a student whose home burned down received assistance.

She lost her computer and books, which were replaced by a stipend from the Foundation. Another Allied Health student needed appropriate shoes for his clinicals in a medical setting.

He received two pairs of new shoes and a gas card to assist with transportation to and from clinicals. A third student was unable to pay his rent and was facing eviction. His grant paid the balance to the landlord and provided gift cards for food and gas to help him through a challenging time.

"With the SJR State Foundation and community partners, the College has forged pathways to empower students by addressing their basic needs and dismantling barriers to success," said Dr. Iana Harris, Student Support Ombuds. "With community support, we can weave a safety net of programs, ensuring no student navigates their journey alone."

Assistance provided during crucial times in a college student's life can determine whether a student stays in college and reaches goals.

The ability to continue on the educational path impacts the student and the generations that follow this student.

"Without community leaders like those representing the Rotary of Orange Park, many students would not reach their potential," SJR State President Joe Pickens said. "I hope more community members will join the college, the SJR State Foundation, and Rotary of Orange Park to invest in student potential. This is how we create a community that flourishes."

If you are interested in learning more about or giving to support the SJR State Foundation Random Acts of Kindness and emergency needs stipends, contact the SJR State Foundation at (386) 312-4100 or visit the Foundation webpage. If you want to join the Rotary of Orange Park, contact the organization on Facebook.

Clay firefighter to be honored at national tribute May 4-5

Jeremy McKay

Jeremy McKay part of National Fallen Firefighters Memorial Weekend

For Clay Today

EMMITSBURG, Md.

- The National Fallen
Firefighters Foundation will host the 43rd
National Fallen Firefighters Memorial
Weekend on May 4-5.

This year's national tribute will honor 89 firefighters who died in the line of duty in 2023, and 137 firefighters who died in previous years. The honorees will include seven from Florida, including Clay County Fire Rescue Engineer/Paramedic Jeremy J. McKay.

He died on Nov. 27, 2019, of complications of Adenocarcinoma, deemed by the State of Florida to be a line-of-duty death.

After several years as a technician with the Clay County District Schools, he completed schooling to become an important member of Fire Rescue. McKay was with CCFR for 14 years before losing his battle following a brave 14-month battle with cancer

McKay was a husband and father. He used his story to help effect changes in the laws for future Florida firefighters. He was a vital member of a dedicated team that got 21 cancers to be recognized by the state as being associated with firefighting.

Intercession

We continue to explore The Lord's Prayer as we look at "Intercession." Jesus taught in Matthew 6:12, "And forgive us our debts, as we also have forgiven our debtors." This verse highlights the significance of intercession—standing in the gap between God and our needs, as well as the needs of others.

Daniel, a great intercessor in the Bible, exemplifies the power of prayer in interceding for his people. In Daniel 9, he fervently prayed for God to forgive and redeem Israel, acknowledging their sins and pleading for mercy. Daniel said in verse 20 "I went on praying and confessing my sin and the sin of my people, pleading with the Lord my God for Jerusalem, his holy mountain." Daniel's example reminds us of the transformative impact of intercession in bringing about God's grace and redemption.

Intercession involves presenting the needs of others before God with sincerity and compassion. It's about lifting up prayers on behalf of those who are facing challenges, whether it's health issues, conflicts, family struggles, or the need for forgiveness.

When we intercede, we step into the gap between God and humanity, asking for His mercy and grace to be poured out in abundance. It's a selfless act of love, putting the needs of others above our own and trusting in God's faithfulness to answer prayers according to His will.

Intercession is not limited by time or space. Through prayer, we can intercede for people across the globe, knowing that God hears and responds to our petitions. It's a privilege and a responsibility to partner with God in His redemptive work, bringing hope and healing to those in need

As we engage in intercession, we should do so with faith and perseverance, trusting that God is at work even when we cannot see the immediate results. Let us stand in the gap with boldness and compassion, believing that our prayers have the power to bring about transformation and renewal in the lives of others.

Members of the Fleming Island Garden Club spent a day cleaning up the grounds around the Fleming Island Library.

Crafting social, butterfly release highlight April for Fleming Island Garden Club

By Rhona Scoville For Clay Today

FLEMING ISLAND — The Garden Club started April with a crafting social at the library. Members brought in crafts and other items already completed to see what they had done so far; then, we worked on some more.

They assembled bath salts, hand-sewed tiaras onto baseball caps, created beaded swings for our birds in the gardens, and so much more. You can see and buy all this fun stuff at Art in the Garden on May 21 at Club Continental, an event held in cooperation with the Art Guild of Orange Park.

Butterflies were the theme of our April general meeting. Secretary Margaret Mc-Dowell gave an interesting presentation all about butterflies, and we were tested at the end to see how much we learned. At the same time, a large portion of the membership was painting decorative garden stones that were sold at the butterfly release on April 27.

Fleming Island Garden Club members will celebrate the end of our year at the May meeting with an end-of-the-year potluck luncheon and a brief business meeting. We will discuss the upcoming garden party at Club Continental from 5:30-7:30 p.m. Tickets are $10.

If you love art and gardens and would love to spend a few hours at the beautiful Club Continental along the St. Johns River, please join us for an evening of Art in the Garden.

The club had a fabulous food drive at the end of March, collecting 200 pounds of food and $150 in cash, plus toys for Easter and another collection at the end of April with $116 donated and 142 pounds of food. Our food drive members are truly dedicated to the mission of feeding the community and bringing them other necessities. Food

The Fleming Island Garden Club recently hosted a crafting social and their wares will be on display at the May 21 Art in the Garden at Club Continental.

Drive Day is also the day we clean up the Fleming Island Library gardens. April gave us one last push to spruce it up before the big Butterfly Release, so garden club members were planting unique plants to attract those pollinators.

Middleburg man indicted for molesting 9-year-old girl

 $\mbox{MIDDLEBURG}-\mbox{A}$ grand jury indicted a Middleburg man April 23 on one count of sexual battery, two counts of lewd and lascivious molestation and showing obscene material to a 9-year-old girl during 13 months while the girl and her mother were frequently staying with him.

Damon Eric Bynum

Damon Eric Bynum, now 57, will return to court on May

14. Until then, he will remain at the Clay County Jail with a $300,009 bond.

According to the original arrest report on Jan. 6, the girl's mother said she caught

Bynum with her daughter on Jan 5. Investigators interviewed Bynum, and he was arrested a day later.

According to the arrest report, the molestation could have spanned from Dec. 1, 2023, to Jan. 4.

Expired tag leads to short chase, methamphetamine charge

ORANGE PARK – According to the Clay County Sheriff's Office, a couple led a deputy on a short high-speed chase after he noticed a man and a woman get into a car with an expired license tag at a convenience store.

After he stopped them, Jacob Levi Carter, 28, of Maxville, wound up being charged on April 24 with possession of methamphetamine and drug paraphernalia, attempting to flee law enforcement with lights and siren active and running a stop sign after the chase ended in a driveway on Norton Avenue

According to the arrest report, deputies found cut straws, burned foil, a plastic bag with a small amount of fentanyl, a clear pipe, methamphetamine rocks and a silver spoon with fentanyl residue.

Jacob Levi Carter

Carter's bond was set at $67,508. He was also issued a warning for the expired tag

Man charged with trafficking fentanyl, methamphetamine

MIDDLEBURG – A man driving erratically on Blanding Boulevard was arrested after deputies found drugs in his car during a traffic stop.

Shawn Scott Lipscomb, 19, of Jacksonville, was charged with trafficking fentanyl and methamphetamine and possession of a controlled substance and drug paraphernalia on April 27 after a deputy noticed Lipscomb swerving on the roadway. According to the arrest report, the deputy was driving home when he saw Lipscomb "making erratic corrections in an attempt to maintain its lane and struck the median curb multiple times." He pulled Lipscomb over in a parking lot. During his driving under the influence field sobriety test, another deputy noticed drug paraphernalia in the driver's side door that was left open. A subsequent search uncovered the drugs.

Under Florida law, trafficking charges apply to 14 or more grams of methamphetamine and four grams of fentanyl.

Lipscomb is at the Clay County Jail without bond.

Family secrets: Sisters learn about their mother's life in 'MaryLand'

"Outer Range" - Season 2 (Prime Video — May 16, Season Premiere)

This series centers on Royal Abbott (Josh Brolin), a rancher fighting for his land and family, who discovers an unfathomable phenomenon at the edge of Wyoming's wilderness. The mystery surrounding the enigmatic dark void on the west pasture of the Abbott family ranch deepens in Season 2, as Royal and his wife Cecelia (Lili Taylor) struggle to keep their family together in the aftermath of their granddaughter's sudden disappearance. The stakes have never been higher for the Abbotts, who now face threats on multiple fronts.

Life's tide brings two estranged sisters ashore the Isle of Man to look into their mother's sudden death in "MaryLand." The new three-part drama miniseries premieres Sunday, May 5, on PBS. Suranne Jones ("Gentleman Jack") and Eve Best ("Nurse Jackie") star as sisters Becca and Rosaline, whose paths have diverged in adulthood only to cross again as they delve into their mother's hidden life away from home.

Mary, portrayed by Judy Clifton ("Endeavour"), is found dead on a beach on the Isle of Man. Supposedly away to Wales for a vacation with a friend, it soon becomes clear to Becca and Rosaline that their mother was much more comfortable there than the average tourist. The sisters go to the island to settle matters, while their father, Richard (George Costigan, "Happy Valley"), stays behind in England.

The sisters land on the island expecting to learn about the circumstances of the unexpected death of their mother while they wait for her to be repatriated to England to be laid to rest. What they aren't expecting is to learn about the double life

Mary was living just across the water.

Starting with the house Mary was living in, Becca and Rosaline piece together a side of their mother that they never knew. The home, left to them by Mary, is filled with framed photos of her closest friends like a trail of crumbs leading to the answers Becca and Rosaline seek. These people are complete strangers to the sisters, but they must know something about Mary's life that explains her death.

It seems that everywhere they turn, the sisters walk into someone with a connection with their mother. That includes Cathy, portrayed by the legendary Stockard Channing ("Grease," 1978), who has stories to tell them about what brought their mother to the Isle of Man.

Becca and Rosaline also meet Pete, portrayed by Hugh Quarshie ("Book Club: The Next Chapter," 2023), a man with whom their mother was having an affair while away from home. Further complicating matters, Pete shares with the sisters that their mother planned to remain on the island after her death, wishing to be buried on the island. The reason behind that decision and what kept her secretly returning to this place is a generational family secret, passed on to the sisters along with the house.

"MaryLand" is not exactly the murder mystery it looks like at first glance — a woman leading a double life is found dead far from home — but rather a complex drama about sisters repairing the frayed bond between them. Becca, a wife to Jim (Andrew Knott, "Tom Jones") and mother to two teenagers, couldn't be more different than her career-focused sister Rosaline on the surface.

In a trailer for the miniseries, their differences are crystal clear in each sister's reaction to the revelation of their mother's secret life. While Rosaline appears to immediately, calmly accept that Mary had a secret life of her own, Becca lashes out at her sister's plain observation that they'd been lied to, insisting that it was more personal for her.

Whether the two chose to follow such different paths by circumstance or with intention, the sisters find themselves learning to lean on each other now that they have the truth of their mother's life laid out in front of them. The process of healing their relationship while on the island takes two steps back for every one step forward as they really get to know each other again as adults.

"MaryLand" was created by Jones and American writer and producer Anne Marie O'Connor ("Trollied"). The miniseries explores the raw feelings we all experience after losing a loved one, exacerbated by the mystery of Mary's double life. Furthermore, in an interview with The Sun ahead of the series U.K. debut on ITV last May, Jones shared that the series was inspired by her own experience with grief, having lost both of her parents. About grief, Jones said, "There's humor in it and it's not an easy, straightforward ride. You don't get a blueprint of how you're going to feel."

About creating "MaryLand" with O'Connor, Jones added, "Knowing sickness, knowing illness, knowing grief, knowing death was a huge part of it, and I think we're both really proud of how that turned out."

Jones, who was known for her work on the long-running daytime soap staple "Coronation Street" before appearing in prime-time dramas such as "Doctor Foster: A Woman Scorned" and "Vigil," brought along another former soap talent to work behind the scenes on "Mary-Land." Susan Tully, who directs all three installments of the miniseries, not only starred in over 900 episodes of "East-Enders," she directed 12 episodes after she left the show.

Don't miss the premiere of "MaryLand" Sunday, May 5, on PBS.

Croissant kings: American bakers take on French pastries in new competition series

Kicking off with a mouth-watering, 90-minute premiere episode, the new series "Next Baking Master: Paris" premieres Monday, May 6, on Food Net-

Hosted by talented and acclaimed pastry chef Stephanie Boswell, alongside French chef-slash-restaurateur Ludo Lefebvre ("Ludo Bites America"), this brandnew series — shot on location in Paris, France — offers 10 ambitious, highly skilled bakers from across America the opportunity to travel to one of the pastry capitals in the world, where they can visit iconic pastry shops and gain mentorship from renowned French baking experts.

As they travel, train and try their hand at some complicated recipes, the bakers will be asked to "prove their mettle in the pillars of great baking and pastry: technique, artistry, flavor, innovation and inspiration" (per Food Network) with each and every skill, from sifting flour to laminating dough, tested throughout this competitive gauntlet. Any who can't perform will be eliminated from the game, leaving one winner standing.

Whoever proves their talent best (and proves their croissants the fluffiest) will not only earn bragging rights but a full suite of France's top-of-the-line professional kitchen appliances and baking equipment, valued at $25,000.

Excited for his next chapter, Ludo Lefebvre shared: "Though my culinary career and restaurants brought me to the United States more than 20 years ago, I was born, raised and grew up as a chef in France. It's so cool to now welcome these competitors to Paris to live and breathe the amazing baking and pastry culture the city offers — it's the best in the world."

His co-host, Stephanie Boswell, chipped in, adding: "This Paris experience is a once-in-a-lifetime dream for the chefs. ... I know the inspiration they received by visiting the city's most renowned patisseries and meeting the supremely talented experts was life-changing for these up-and-comers."

In the series description, Food Network also shared a bit of what's to come in the season's premiere episode, promising that:

"Stephanie and Ludo welcome the bakers to Paris for their first challenge: make a dessert that represents their culinary point of view while demonstrating their knowledge of French techniques. The bakers are then whisked away on a field trip to the luxurious Royal Monceau Hotel to meet pastry chef

Quentin Lechat, sample his delicacies and learn about a fundamental French ingredi-

From basic ingredients to brilliant finishing touches, the bakers will put their best bites to the test in "Next Baking Master: Paris," premiering Monday, May 6, on Food Network.

Reality TV rodeo: "The GOAT" asks which reality TV star shines the brightest

They may be the best in their own right, but to be the Greatest of All Time, it takes something special. Putting familiar faces from reality TV through a gauntlet unlike any other, this all-new series — "The GOAT" – premieres its first three episodes Monday, May 6, on Prime Video and Freevee.

From the islands of Fiji to the dating pods of "Love is Blind," this reality series asks 14 television superstars — "from Bachelorettes to Housewives to Survivors to Drag Racers and everyone in between" (per Amazon MGM Studios) — to live within the gilded walls of "GOAT Manor," where they will reside alongside their competition, building relationships that could make or break their game.

All the while, the competitors will be "hosted and roasted" by comedian Daniel Tosh ("Tosh 2.0"), who presides over the house and the game itself, leading his guests in endlessly grueling challenges - over 20 of them, to be exact. As they earn and break one another's trust, battling it out in games that activate their wit, grit and spirit, the stars compete to be the audience's new favorite, with one winner eventually earning $200,000 and the coveted title of "Greatest of All Time" (aka: The

First to be put through this series' physical, social and emotional roller coaster will be some of today's most popular reality stars from across all networks, including the likes of Tayshia Adams ("The Bachelor"), Joe Amabile ("Dancing with the Stars"), Kristen Doute ("Vanderpump Rules"), Reza Farahan ("Shahs of Sunset"), CJ Franco ("FBoy Island"), Wendell Holland ("Survivor"), Teck Holmes ("The Real World"), Justin Johnson/Alyssa Edwards ("RuPaul's Drag Race"), Paola Mayfield ("90 Day Fiancé"), Da'Vonne Rogers ("Big Brother"), Joey Sasso ("The Circle"), Jason Smith ("Holiday Baking Championship"), Lauren Speed-Hamilton ("Love Is Blind") and Jill Zarin ("The Real Housewives of New York City").

Plucked from the minds behind mega-hits such as "The Bachelor," "FBoy Island" and "The Office," "The GOAT" is produced by Elan Gale ("The Bachelor"), Bill Dixon ("FBoy Island"), Anthony Anderson ("Black-ish"), Lee Eisenberg ("Jury Duty") and Howard T. Owens ("Running Wild with Bear Grylls"), and premieres Monday, May 6, on Prime Video and Freevee.

As the town prepares to vote for its Mother of the Year, a visitor arrives, surprising Miss Higgins (Georgie Glen). Meanwhile, Sister Monica (Judy Parfitt) ruffles a few feathers around the abbey and Trixie (Helen George) reaches out for some much needed advice. The sisters keep London's East End in tip-top shape, welcoming new lives as they balance their own, as Season 13 of "Call the Midwife" concludes with this brand-new episode, airing Sunday, May 5, on PBS. Need to catch up? Episodes are available to stream online, at pbs.org/call-the-midwife/#watch-season-13

"Bridgerton" (Netflix — May 16, Season Premiere)

Lady Whistledown (voiced by Julie Andrews) has proclaimed that it's time for a new season to begin, complete with extravagant dresses, extraordinary parties and romances unmatched in the modern day. This time, we follow the unexpected relationship developing between Colin Bridgerton (Luke Newton) and the Bridgerton family's close friend, Penelope Featherington (Nicola Coughlan), as they explore their feelings — and attempt a courtship — throughout the third season of this series. Based on the novels by Julia Quinn, Season 3 also stars Golda Rosheuvel as Queen Charlotte.

Lawrence and Pratt are intergalactic "Passengers"

Movies that are set aboard big spaceships for long journeys, such as "2001: A Space Odyssey" and "Silent Running," can make you wonder how the folks onboard spend their time. Yes, it's a lot of space, but it is still confined space.

"Passengers" — which Starz airs Thursday, May 9, and Friday, May 10 — addresses that issue, with Jennifer Lawrence and Chris Pratt as the major characters awakened from a deep slumber after an asteroid hits their vessel that's destined for a colonized planet.

Actually, Pratt is the one who's actually revived by the collision. His character is an engineer alone in being conscious, and he decides he needs company, so he wakes up the journalist played by Lawrence. More than 5,000 other passengers remain dozing, so these two pretty much have the run of the intergalactic place, for better and for state of sleep, they probably won't live to tell others about it. They bond — closely — over their shared situation, with an android played by Michael Sheen on hand for some comic relief. However, he also knows some things that make for a tense race to the finish line.

Their trek is supposed to span 120 years, and since they can't go back to their previous

Even more emotionally than visually, though the visuals are stunning at times, "Passengers" succeeds in merging the basics of sci-fi with the roots of a romance. And Lawrence and Pratt work well together, which is a good thing, since this movie would be doomed instantly were that not the case.

While there also are a few other actors on hand (Laurence Fishburne and Andy Garcia also turn up), Pratt and Lawrence certainly are the focus of the two hours. They have a tightly interlocked arc to go through, demanding lightness as well as tougher stuff, and they make that trip together quite successfully.

Also, the film gives director Morten Tyldum the opportunity to try something that seems vastly different from the picture he was best-known for at that point, "The Imitation Game." At the same time, this still is a relationship story principally, so he's on familiar territory there — just with a lot more technology to handle, and clearly with a more sizable budget that reportedly netted Lawrence and Pratt very big paydays that were much-discussed in the media then.

rk Harmon, executive produce

"NCIS: Origins"

Is Mark Harmon headed back to "NCIS"?

Q: I've heard that Mark Harmon is coming back to "NCIS." Is that true? - Jim George, Macon, Ga.

A: In a certain sense, though as of now, it's not intended to be in an on-camera capacity. The actor who had a long run on the original series as Leroy Jethro Gibbs will be an executive producer — along with his son Sean — of "NCIS: Origins," a prequel series that CBS has ordered for next season. Austin Stowell ("Whiplash," 2014) will play the younger Gibbs, whose early phase as a special agent will be traced, with Kyle Schmid ("Six") as his mentor Mike Franks (portrayed on the first show by recurring guest star Muse Watson).

Gibbs, no plans for that have been announced as of now. Even behind the scenes, though, having Harmon's imprint on an "NCIS" venture is quite significant given his well-known ties to the overall franchise. That doesn't have meaning only in terms of an American sale, but around the world, given the international popularity of the show (which only has been enhanced during the current TV season by the addition of "NCIS: Sydney").

Q: Was the season premiere of "9-1-1" set aboard an overturned cruise ship, supposed to be a remake of "The Poseidon Adventure"? – Bill Robertson, via e-mail

A: It wasn't meant as a literal remake of the film, especially since the show moved from Fox to ABC by working its newlywed characters Athena (Angela Bassett, "Black Panther," 2018) and Bobby (Peter Krause, "Six Feet Under") into that plot, but stars and producers of the series acknowledged that it was done as an homage to producer Irwin Allen's 1972 disaster-movie

It was close enough to the extent that the makers of "9-1-1" sought approval from the late Allen's estate in staging the story, and they received that approval. In fact, some actual "Poseidon" scenes were worked into the "9-1-1" premise — and it wasn't hard for any fan of the movie to recognize which moments were restaged by the series in tribute to what was done 50-plus years ago, resulting in a box-office blockbuster that effectively launched the disaster genre that spanned much of the 1970s.

Q: I'll miss seeing Cecily Strong on "Schmigadoon!" now that it's over. What else has she been doing since she left "Saturday Night Live"? - Joy Price, Dayton, Ohio

A: She recently ended the New York world-premiere stage run of "Brooklyn Laundry," written and directed by John Patrick Shanley ("Moonstruck"). Strong played one of several sisters who all have problems with members of the opposite gender. (The male lead of the show was David Zayas, known for his co-starring role on "Dexter" among many other credits.)

Strong got some happy news of a personal nature during her start in the play, since she got engaged, information she shared while appearing with one of her closest "Saturday Night Live" pals on his current NBC show "Late Night With Seth Meyers." Soon, she'll be heard voicing two characters in "The Garfield Movie," alongside such other cast members as Chris Pratt (in the title role) and Samuel L. Jackson ("Pulp Fiction," 1994).

Popular KHHS class making profound impact on students, musical landscape

By Don Coble

don@claytodayonline.com

KEYSTONE HEIGHTS – If the walls of the chorus room are shaking, everything's all right at Keystone Heights High.

The muffled sound of loud music makes Principal Laurie Burke smile, even as early as the first period.

"It's great to hear them when I'm on that end of campus," she said. "Any time a student finds something that they're interested in and start becoming good at it, those students end up liking school and doing well because of that.

"Not everybody likes school just because of math and English. Sometimes, you have to have something that connects you with school. For a lot of our kids, it's guitar class."

And to stay in the class, the students must pass their other classes.

David Golden's Guitar 1, 2 and 3 classes have become three of the most popular classes on campus. Students who fail a class will return to pass a year later just to get a seat in the guitar class. Others admit the classes are the main reason they haven't dropped out.

Henry Carter is the lead guitarist and songwriter for Shopping Mall Guerrillas.

"Sometimes I think, 'Oh, I gotta go to school today, but I get to play guitar, so I think it all works," said junior Henry Carter. "It makes it a lot easier to get through the day. It makes it a little less aggravating, and I can get some music out of it."

STAFF PHOTOS BY DON COBLE

Some of the students join Keystone Heights High teacher David Golden before a rehearsal in the cafeteria.

Henry and three classmates from Keystone Heights created a band called Shopping Mall Guerillas. The others are bassist Matthew Hallowell, drummer Austin Girouard and guitarist Dylan Miller. The band opened in front of thousands for Duval County Line Friday night at Food Truck Friday at Spring Park in Green Cove Springs.

"There's nothing like that feeling when you step on stage," Hallowell said. "Music is a great way to express your emotions. There's something about that energy that you can't describe to anybody until you're on stage with your friends and you're playing music you enjoy. It really touches your soul."

Golden said musicians, especially talented musicians, are eccentric by nature. Their ability to think outside the norm separates them from others with ordinary talent.

"We have a lot of bad days; some days are good," he said. "We have artistic differences. Different people want to do different things. They all have to buy into it. And that's what I appreciate: they all buy into it. This is a group process. We take turns being the stars. There are 20 people in the class who want to have their music played. Everybody has different musical tastes, so they have to buy into it. And they do a good job of that. I have an ego, too. At the end of the day, I get to win. Sometimes, they can convince me to change my mind. I have to be the one that makes the final decision about what we're doing or what song we're playing."

Music is the common bond that ties the teacher and students.

Another band spawned from Golden's classes is Bad Decision, which features A.J. Gouldrup on lead guitar.

"Music brings people together," Gouldrup said. "It's what brings us together. I haven't always thought of school, but I've always focused on my music. So when I

Clay County Schools Art Show draws 4,000 at Thrasher-Horne

More than two dozen pieces to be displayed at Clay County Courthouse

By Don Coble

don@claytodayonline.com

ORANGE PARK – The Thrasher-Horne Conference Center was awash in vivid colors and astonished looks Friday and Saturday as hundreds of young artists put their works on display at the 35th Annual Clay County District Schools Art Show.

More than 4,000 attended the two-day event. All ribbon winners will have their pieces, including a Best of Show and an Award of Excellence submissions in Ceramics by Orange Park High Senior Hope Koestens, on display again at the Clay County Courthouse in June as part of the Art in the Courthouse program.

Best of Show winners were Clay High freshman Alissa Mihalik, Asbury Lake eighth-grader Teagan Montesano, Lakeside Junior High eighth-grader Vera Irby and Koestens. Clay High Senior Audrey Milligan, Clay Junior High ninth-grader Olivia Moran and Haley Nalepa, Fleming Island High Junior Abbey Paul and Senior Emily Brown, Lake Asbury Junior High eighthgrader Hailey Nalepa, Lakeside Junior High seventh-grader Katie Moffitt and eighthgrader Reece Ratliff, Middleburg High Senior Savanna Lafontaine, Oakleaf Junior High eighth-grader Jeniya Boggan and Koestens were given Awards of Excellence.

come to school, I can't wait for my guitar class. That makes me so happy. Music has a big touch on my heart."

The program's success prompted Paul Wane to donate a sound studio through his Rising Star Give a Kid a Guitar foundation. The gift included guitars, bass, drums, keyboards and lights.

Burke said the guitar classes have profoundly affected the entire school. Attendance has improved, and the school earned an 'A' rating and a "School of Excellence" designation from the Florida Department of Education.

"Does it have an impact on some of our students? Looking at the data with it, I would say yes, 100%," she said. "Do kids stay in school because of that? I'm sure they do. We've got some very big success stories with students here."

Sarah Coleman is a senior who only needs three credits to graduate. She can complete her studies online but chose to be on campus for chorus and guitar classes.

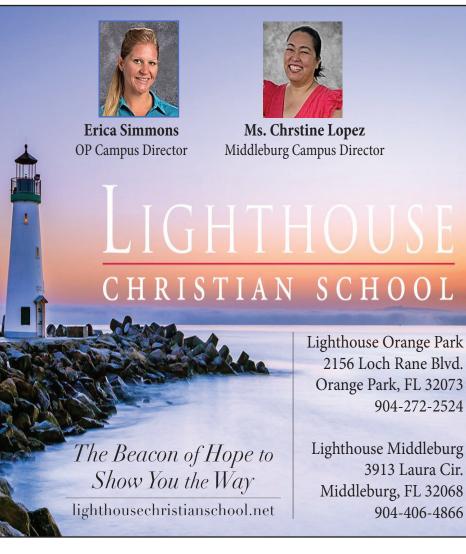

"I only have three classes here, and two of them are with Mr. Golden," she said. "That's pretty good motivation to come to school.'

Clay flags head to the Final Four

By Randy Lefko randy@claytodayonline.com

GREEN COVE SPRINGS - Clay High's girls flag football team stamped their ticket to the Class 1A Final Four with a rain-soaked and dramatic 13-0 win against Ed White Tuesday night behind a sterling game performance from sophomore Cora Parker and tough-guy senior Shelby McClain while, around the county, the excitement and thrills came in buckets (just like the rain)

With softball and baseball districts just starting with semifinals for both sports highlighting the Tuesday bonanzas, Middleburg softball, in a tizzy after a quick 3-0 lead by visiting Ridgeview High, flexed some eighth inning muscle; Kerri Clarida and KK Hagen with homers, for a walkoff 4-3 win over a game and tenacious Ridgeview High team that blew up the final week of their season in championship fashion only to succumb to the former state champion Broncos' aura.

Down about six miles at Ridgeview, the Middleburg High Broncos baseball team, as has been history for the always tournament-ready Middleburg program, took Clay High to 12 innings of scoreless play before a loaded base passed ball shocked the standing-room-only baseball fans on both sides of the field for a 1-0 Clay win.

For the Clay flag football girls, a slim 6-0 lead was all the Blue Devils could muster with an interception from Cora Parker, her 16th of the season and a scoring pass from quarterback Teaghan Moses to Shelby McClain

"We were glad to have scored our points before the rain and the defense held," said Clay coach Jared Moses, who had his long-time defensive guru sidekick from about a decade ago, Jay Stilianou, on the sideline offering some Blue Devil football mystique to the drama. "Cora has been our best defender out there and Tatum has gotten into the interceptions on the sideline. We knew they were going to try and pass to get

PHILADELPHIA — Temple Women's Basketball Head Coach Diane Richardson announced that Alabama A&M guard Kaylah Turner has signed with Temple University ahead of the 2024-25 season. The rising sophomore is the reigning Southwest Athletic Conference (SWAC) Freshman of the Year.

"Kaylah has proven that she is an allconference caliber player as she stepped into a starting role as a freshman," Richardson said. "Her ability to create space and get her shot off is extraordinary."

During her first year of collegiate basketball at Alabama A&M, Turner averaged 11.2 points. 2.4 assists, and 3.4 rebounds per game. She started in 29 of 31 games played as a freshman, averaging 31.6 minutes per game. Turner scored in double figures 18 times this season and set a careerhigh at Auburn, scoring 21 points. She scored 20 or more points in three different games last season. The Orange Park, Florida native also hauled in a career-high eight rebounds in games against Alabama State and Arkansas-Pine Bluff.

Former Oakleaf High basketball point guard Kaylah Turner, left, used an astounding freshman season at Alabama A & M University to earn a scholarship to NCAA Div. I Temple University next fall.

In March, Turner was selected as the selected Southwestern Athletic Conference (SWAC) Women's Basketball Freshman of the Year, the conference announced during its awards ceremony at Bartow Arena.

Turner had a breakout season during his freshman campaign, averaging 33.1 minutes, 11.3 points, 3.7 rebounds, 2.6 assists and 1.7 steals in 30 games this season. The Orange Park, Fla. native posted double figures in scoring 18 times, including a career-high 21 points at Auburn on Nov. 26. She also pulled down a career-best eight rebounds twice (at Alabama State and vs. Arkansas-Pine Bluff).

Florida A&M's Ahriahna Grizzle was selected the SWAC's Player of the Year, while Jackson State's Angel Jackson was named the SWAC's Defensive Player of the Year. Ryann Payne, of Prairie View A&M, earned newcomer of the year honors and Jackson State's Tomekia Reed was named the SWAC Coach of the Year after leading the Tigers to a perfect 18-0 mark in conference play.

Auburn adds SEC All-Freshman guard Taliah Scott to roster

One of the SEC's top scorers will be joining Auburn women's basketball for 2024-25 as Taliah Scott has signed with the Tigers, head coach Johnnie Harris announced Monday.

Scott, a rising sophomore from Orange Park and St. Johns Country Day School, led Arkansas with 22.1 points per game in 2023-24, earning a selection to the SEC All-Freshman Team. She also averaged 3.3 rebounds and 1.5 assists while shooting 40.7 percent from the field and 83.8 percent at the free-throw line.

"Taliah Scott is one of the most complete players in the game today," Harris said. "She is an ELITE player who can score at all three levels and create for herself and her teammates without sacrificing the defensive side of the ball. Playing championship-level defense is the foundation of what we do as a program, and Taliah is committed to helping us elevate that culture. Her speed, skill and basketball IQ make her a rare and unique addition to our program."

In 20 games played for the Razorbacks this season, she topped the 20-point mark 13 times, including three games in the 30s. Her season high came on Nov. 17 with 34 points in a win over Arkansas State. She was named SEC Freshman of the Week four times.

"I chose Auburn not only because of the coaching staff's ability to help develop me and get me to where I want to be but also because of the family environment within the team and the entire community," Scott said. "I wanted to be surrounded by winners, and that's what Auburn has from the administration to the coaches and staff to the players. Auburn has everything I need to thrive and be the best version of myself!"

A product of St. John's Country Day School, she was the Florida Gatorade Player of the Year, Florida Dairy Farmers Miss Basketball and a McDonald's All-American as a senior in 2023. She was ranked the nation's No. 11 prospect by ESPN Hoop-Gurlz. She finished her high school career with 2,735 points and averaged 36.2 points along with 9.2 rebounds, 4.8 assists and 3.0 steals as a senior.

Scott also led Oakleaf High School to a Final Four finish in her junior season.

In March, Scott was selected for the 2024 SEC All-Freshman Team, as announced by the league. This marks the third straight year head coach Mike Neighbors has landed a player on the All-Freshman Team, as well as the fourth selection in the Neighbors era at Arkansas.

Scott, who was one of eight tabbed to the SEC All-Freshman Team, started in 19 of 20 contests for the Hogs. She led the SEC for most of the season with 22.1 points per game, being the only one in the league to average 20.0+ points per game, as well as averaging 3.3 rebounds and 1.5 assists per game. In the NCAA, she stood top 10 in scoring average for most of the season, logging 442 points in 20 contests. Scott tallied 19 double-digit scoring games while leading the Hogs in scoring in 15 of those games, as well as 13 20+ point games and three 30-point contests.

She was a five-time SEC Freshman of the Week, which tied a school record. Scott scored 29 points in her collegiate debut vs. ULM, which became the most points scored by a freshman in their collegiate debut in school history. She registered 24 points in Arkansas' 71-58 win in the Hogs' win over No. 15 Florida State in the SEC/ACC Challenge, as well as recorded a career-high 34 points at Arkansas State. Scott was named to the West Palm Beach Classic All-Tournament Team after averaging 21.5 points per game in Arkansas' wins over Illinois and UIC. In her most recent three appearances in SEC play, she averaged 25.3 points per game across those contests. Including 33 points against Auburn, in which she tallied 17 of her points in the third quarter alone.

Ed White jammed Moses on a fourth and one at the goal line just before the half, but defensive back Tatum Waugh stole an ED White pass near midfield and romped to the 10-yard line where Parker snagged a Moses pass in the corner of the end zone for the Blue Devils final score.

As a torrential downpour soaked the field and limited any passing potential, ED White was determined to get the ball over the Blue Devils' secondary and nearly punched in a score, but the Blue Devil defense held behind quarterback sacks and hurries from rushers Lily Kalil and Hayleigh Griffin. Clay made a Red Zone stop late in the fourth with four minutes left for ED White with defensive back Kirra Dodson breaking up a pass near the goal line on fourth down.

Clay's lone loss was to Class 2A Fleming Island.

At Ridgeview, with Clay and Middleburg amping up their rivalry with a playoff run at stake, pitching and defensive plays were at a premium with Clay's Easton McMahan striking out eight while Middleburg's Mason Lee kept the Clay bats on the ground and only capable of singles and a McMahan double in the third inning and Hunter Gammons double for Middleburg in the fifth the big hits of the night.

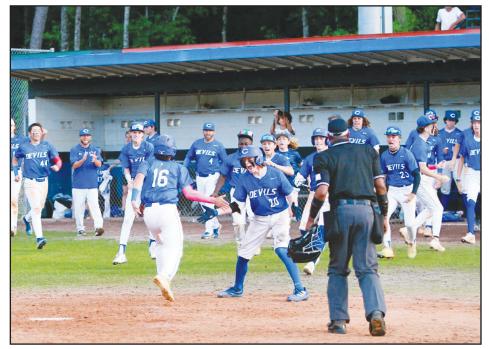

"This was our fifth or sixth extra-inning game this season including a 14-inning game against First Coast," said Clay coach Josh Persinger. "The season with all that was kind of a dress rehearsal for all this."

In the top of the eighth, Middleburg had their shot with Clay pitcher Parker Lowrance hitting Hunter Smith and Logan Wehrmeyer reaching on a ground ball error to put the Broncos in an upset position, but a fly ball ended the threat.

Lee walked McMahan in the bottom of the eighth with Lowrance moving McMahan to second with a bunt, but LJ Martin grounded out to end the inning.

"We obviously missed opportunities offensively, but pitching and defense, which has, knock on wood, been our backbone all year, stayed true," said Persinger. "Our MO is just tap, tap on the glass."

Lee kept the pressure on from the mound for the Broncos with three grounders in the 11th and the Broncos left another runner on base in the 12th.

In the fateful bottom of the 12th, a walk to Andrews, an error on an M Gunson bunt and a single from R McMahan loaded the bases with J Rosette at bat forcing a passed ball by Lee to score the lone run.

Clay advances to the district final against a resurgent Orange Park team that beat Ridgeview 7-2 to reach the championship game behind a three-hit night from Devon Moore; 11 total for the Raiders, and strong pitching from Robert Barnett.

In district 3-6A, Fleming Island, fresh off back-to-back comeback wins over Bartram Trail and Fletcher last week in their district opener, defeated No. 1 seed Tocoi Creek 5-3 with the Golden Eagles grabbing a quick 3-0 first inning lead off a Ben Abram single and a Josh Turner double. Tito Guerrero got the win from the mound with three strikeouts, but no walks.

Fleming Island advances to take on Buchholz, a 7-3 winner over Oakleaf. Oakleaf finishes at 17-9 with two major wins; over St. Johns Country Day School and also Trinity Christian Academy as highlights for the season.

Out in district 4-3A, Keystone Heights kept trucking with their second 12-0 win in the district playoff; the first over Taylor, the second in the semifinal against P.K. Yonge to move to 20-7 and a championship game on Thurs., May 2 against No. 1 seed Trinity Catholic (11-11).

St. Johns Country Day School (20-5) handled Harvest Community to the tune of a 15-0 rout to advance their final against St. Joseph Academy (18-8) on Thurs., May.

In softball action, Ridgeview chased Middleburg senior pitcher Morgan Beckham in the third inning but got fiery junior Lily Bennett on the mound (eight strikeouts) as the Broncos used their late-inning firepower to erase Ridgeview six inning inning-long lead with a barrage of hits and a two-run homer from Clarida to tie the game at 3-3 before Hagan broke the game with a solo blast in the eighth for the win.

No. 1 Middleburg (21-3) hosts No. 2 Gainesville (19-4) on Thur., May 2 for the district title. Ridgeview finishes at 9-13.

In district 3-6A, Oakleaf will host Nease in the final on Wed., May 1 with the Knights beating Buchholz in a 13-3 blowout.

In district 3-5A, Fleming Island, the top seed, blasted Beachside 12-0 to advance and play Clay, a 9-4 upset winner over No. 2 Ponte Vedra on Wed., May 1 at Fleming Island High School. Clay trailed Ponte Vedra 4-0 into the fourth inning, but turned up the heat with freshman dragster phenom Savannah Highhouse blasting away for five runs on two hits; two doubles to turn the tables on the Sharks.

In District 3-3A, Keystone Heights opened tournament play with a BYE as top seed then beat Taylor 7-1 to get to the final against Palatka, an 11-6 winner over Bradford County.

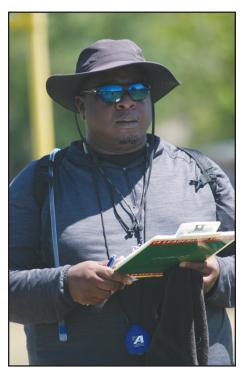

In district 2-2A, St. Johns Country Day School (11-4) beat Bishop Snyder 11-8 to host St. Joseph Academy on Thurs., May 2 in that final.

Agurkis girls win; MHS next

ORANGE PARK - Ridgeview High softball coach Angela Agurkis, a region final finisher last year for the Panthers in her rookie season, finally got the game that she had been hoping that her team would have after a dismal regular season as the Panthers used late-inning hits and nifty baserunning to take a 3-0 district 2-5A win Monday night at Orange Park High School.

The Panthers, 11-12 for their regular season schedule, came to the district tournament as a fifth seed with Orange Park four

"We had a come to Jesus meeting among ourselves and decided to play for each other," said Agurkis. "They are playing for each other not just themselves anymore. We got some big hits and some big plays tonight."

For Agurkis, the exuberance of the playoff win comes with a price as in the stands observing the morphing of the Panthers back to a possible region powerhouse like last year was the Middleburg High softball team; top seed at 20-3, awaiting the Tuesday semifinal game. Gainesville, No. 2, hosts No. 3 Columbia in the other semifinal with a Fri., May 2 championship game.

When asked if two playoff wins in a row are in the cards, Agurkis was succinct.

"We are going to make it happen," said Agurkis, in a non-brash, but confident moment endorsed by her resume of a state title with Oakleaf, her success at NCAA Div. II powerhouse University of West Florida, and her rookie season explosion last season; 19-7, region final. "It's coming at the right time."

Ridgeview scored two runs in the fourth inning off a Hannah Crosby double to the center field fence then added another run in the fifth off a well-placed bunt that got fumbled by the Orange Park defense with pinch baserunner Taryn Canik at second base after a single by Morgan Money.

On the mound, Saige Bialek finished with eight strikeouts.

In the other quarterfinal, Gainesville advanced on a BYE while Columbia beat No. 8 Lincoln 8-0.

In district 3-5A, No. 3 Clay beat No. 6 St. Augustine 12-3 behind 11 strikeouts from pitcher Mckinsey Bardroff and three hits from Hailie Miera; a double and two singles.

Clay had a five-run fourth inning and four more in the fifth.

Clay, 9-16, advances to play No. 2 Ponte Vedra (13-11) with No. 1 Fleming Island (17-7) advancing on a BYE to face No. 4 Beachside (8-15) on Tues., April 30 with a Wed., May 1 championship game.

In district 3-6A, Oakleaf (15-8), after a BYE as the No. 1 seed, will host No. 4 Bucholz while No. 2 Nease hosts No. 6 Tocoi Creek on Tues., April 30 with a Thurs., May 1 championship game.

Oakleaf (No. 10 in 6A) finished their regular season with a 3-0 loss to Middleburg (16th in FL, No. 1 in 5A), then a 4-2 win over Baldwin (23-1, No. 3 in 3A), then a 5-4 loss to Columbia (12-10, No. 16 5A), then a 3-2 win over Nease (14-7, 23rd in 6A)

In district 3-3A, Keystone Heights, the No. 1 seed hosts Taylor on Tues., April 30; Taylor a 13-12 win over Interlachen on Monday.

Keystone Heights ended their season with a 15-0 loss to Baldwin and a 7-2 loss to West Nassau (16-7). Keystone Heights beat Taylor 4-1 on April 18.

Back-to-back comebacks, Eagles advance in district thriller

By Ray Dimonda Correspondent

FLEMING ISLAND - Down 3-0 and without head coach Mike Martino in the dugout, the Fleming Island High baseball team dug down in the dugout to find four late runs and defeat Fletcher in their district 3-6A quarterfinal Monday night to advance to a semifinal on Tues., April 30.

"My team has my back when I'm on the mound," said starting pitcher Aaron Hawkins. "No one on the team ever gave up. That's our thing."

With coach Mike Martino sitting out a self-imposed suspension for an accusation of overpitching in a recent regular season game, the Golden Eagles allowed Fletcher to get a 3-0 lead into the fifth inning.

With a three-base bunt from Caden Swartz off errors by Fletcher and a dropped infield fly, the Golden Eagles responded in the sixth and seventh innings with baserunner Declan Dunleavy scoring the game-tying run with a dive ahead of an outfield throw, then Swartz jogging in for the game-winner.

Hawkins controlled the game into the seventh with reliever Jonah Friedman finishing off the Fletcher lineup.

The Monday night game was a second comeback game for the Golden Eagles who used an error-free defense all night, a two-out, two-run late-game rally to catch the visiting Bartram Trail Bears hibernating in left field. Down 1-0, Chris Reali knocked an RBI double to the fence in the bottom of the fifth, followed by Ryan Kiley also going to left field for another RBI double to give the Golden Eagles all they needed with the 2-1 regular season-closing win.

"This week we won a game 5-4, we lost a game 5-4, we won tonight 2-1. Looking at the playoffs, we're ready," said Fleming Island Head Coach Mike Martino. "Three tight games against really good teams are what we needed. Fletcher (district round

"I've been away from the triple jump a little this season to improve my speed with the coaches putting me in the 100 now and then," said Shavers, who ripped off a first jump of 12.15 meters; 39 feet, 10.5 inches, in the triple jump to clear her best jump of the season and then leaped 18'-7" in long jump to set another personal best for the day. "My long jump was a little bit of a family thing as my grandmother; Linda Jackson 1976, 18'-6", was a long jumper and that jump was better than hers. It was kind of a family joke that I couldn't beat Grandma. All good motivation."

Shavers, now a repeat district champion with a region title of 39'-3.75" a week later, was second last year in Class 3A with a 39'-6.5" leap that was half an inch less than Leon senior's Alexandria Kennedy at 39'-7"

"Right now, I'm first in 3A, about 2-3 in all of Florida," said Shavers, listed number three as of April 25 behind jumps of 12.18 (39'-11.5") by Chelsi Williams of George Jenkins and 12.16 (39'-10.75") by Sanaa Geter of Lehind; both jumpers in Class 4A.

At number five in Florida, though, is Miami Northwestern senior Shakynah Tresvant, who has a best of 11.94 meters this season, but finished third last year to Shavers by just 1.25 inches.

"I know she is out there," said Shavers.
"I just do what my coaches say and I am seeing good jumps at the right time."

In the long jump, Shaverss topped the district field with her leap with Ponte Vedra's Adrienne Edwards second at 17'-8" and Fleming Island teammate Kennedy Berkley this at 16'-9.75". Berkley is one of Fleming Island's top sprinters with a fourth in the 100 behind high jumper Gabrielle Flores in second, 12.43 to 12.68. Former Oakleaf High basketball standout Jonathan Bryant II has taken the long road to stay on the hardwoods and the gamble has paid off with the sharpshooting dunk machine making his path through Europe with a championship trophy and a rookie of the year selection.

According to Eurobasket News, Bryant, 25, is a power forward for the KK SusanJ professional basketball team in the Montenegrin Prva. B league, Bryant averaged under 20 points per game, 8.5 rebounds per game and was ninth in league scoring in the 15-team league in Serbia.

The one thing I learned very quickly is that European basketball is very physical." said Bryant. "I found out that unless you have a bloody lip, then don't call it a foul.

For Bryant, who had a stellar career at Oakleaf, then college stints at the University of Tennessee-Chattanooga, Tyler Junior College and, finally, four years at the University of Tampa before two Serbian teammates at Tampa got him in the loop to play in Europe.

They were here and asked if I would be interested, an agent talks to an agent, then things start to roll," said Bryant. "There is a website that catalogs college players in America and teams in Europe make contact to see if they want to come over. It's mainly a lot of social media

Bryant showed As for his next few years as a basketup with much fanball journeyman, Bryant already has a fare as a highflying scoring been accommodating some offers elsemachine from where; Asia, as one. In his league championship game, Bryant exploded with a 28-point, eight rebounds, and four blocked shots day to push the team to the title.

Jon Bryant Sr., though, had some concerns about his son being so far away and him not being able to attend his games.

"As a father, I was confident that he was mature enough and strong enough to do what he needed to do to succeed,' said Bryant, Sr., "I was more remiss about not being able to see him play. I attended all his college games in Tennessee, Texas and Florida. He had to put his foot down a couple of times for them to take him seriously, pay him as they said and take care of his needs like living space, food and travel. He did that all on his own and I am very proud of that."

Bryant reiterated his dad's concern and was thankful for the support of his family and friends while so far away.

"To all the next generations that may think of this, having a strong support team behind you is very important," said Bryant. "I knew my family would be watching out for me and if I needed anything, they would find a way.'

Elias Martin earns all-conference recognition

For Clay Today

Florida Tech men's basketball graduate student David McCullough and senior Elias Martin earned all-conference recognition, as announced by the Sunshine State Conference on Thursday morning.

McCullough was named to the All-SSC Second Team while Martin earned All-SSC Defensive Team honors. This is the first All-SSC award for both scholarathletes. Martin is a graduate of Fleming Island High School.

Transferring from Morgan State in Maryland, McCullough made an immediate impact for the Panthers in his only Fleming Island got a Final Four ticket with Elias Martin's inside game.

Former Fleming Island power forward Elias Martin is strong paint player for Florida Tech

Martin earned the All-SSC Defensive Team nod after leading a Panthers defense that led the league in defensive field goal percentage (40.6 percent) and scoring defense (69.5) and finished second in total blocks (170) and blocks per game (6.1). Martin himself led the team and the SSC in total blocks (78) and finished second in the league in blocks per game (2.8). His total blocks and blocks per game also both rank fourth nationally across Division II.

The Panthers concluded the 2023-24 season with a 16-12 overall record and a 9-11 record in the SSC.

Headed to ABAC

Former Ridgeview High baseball standout Billy Girgis, a freshman now at FSCJ-Jacksonville, recently committed to play at Abraham Baldwin Agriculture College in Tifton, Ga., after outstanding season with Blue Wave baseball. Girgis hit .319 with 18 runs batted in for FSCJ with 13 stolen bases and 20 runs scored.

Mussante sets another school track record

Courtesy of Florida Southern Athletics

The Florida Southern College women's track team opened up the East Coast Relays at the University of North Florida Friday evening as the Moccasins competed in both the 1.500m and 5.000m. Junior Emma Mussante posted the eighth fastest time in program history in the 5,000m to lead the way.

Mussante is a graduate of Middleburg High School.

Mussante, a junior, led the way Friday night as she competed in the 5,000m invite which featured the top competitors in the event. The Middleburg, Fla. native took 11th overall while completing the distance in 17:37.80. The time ranked third on the season and eighth all-time for the FSC pro-

Senior Ellie Fluman led a group of six Moccasins in the 1,500m as she ran her season-best time in the event at 4:51.72, a time which ranks fourth best this season for FSC. Fluman took 32nd overall. Freshman Emma Nales-Torchio was the next FSC runner to cross the finish as she took 47th overall with the eighth-best time this

Also on the track action, Keystone Heights High graduate Alex Guy, a graduate student at Florida Southern, finished 18th in the 800 meters with a 1:55.18 split. Guy also was 16th in the 1500 in 3:55.10.

From Fleming Island, Lauren Schaudel, a freshman at Daytona State College, finished 15th in the 1500 in 5:02.51.

In the elite 5,000 meters, Fleming Island High's Kameron Wallizada, running for the University of North Florida, finished third in 14:20.01. Also in the open 5,000, Clay High graduate Carlton Waiguru, a sophomore for UNF, was 10th in 15:37.09.

Clay High's Alex Weiss got six of the Blue Devils' points with a third in the 400 at 51.18. In the field events also, shotputter Braden Cunningham hammered away all season with a tender ankle and got a firsttime district title at 45'-1.5" with Ladarius Jackson third in the discus at 124'-8".

Pole vaulter Gideon Gillaspy finished second at 13'-1.5".

Fleming Island also took the top spot in the 4 x 800 and 4 x 400 boys relays with a third in the 4 x 800.

In the 800, Fleming Island senior Roman Mollicone tacked on another sub-1:55 finish with a winning 1:54.05 split to win that event over a Ponte Vedra trio all under

In 1600, Fleming Island's senior duo Graham Myers and John Keester IV were shoulder to shoulder with Ponte Vedra's Tanner Andrade Brinsko for the final lap with Andrade Brinsko getting the lean at the tap with a 4:18.09 finish; Myers at 4:19.27 and Keester at 4:21.36.

For the girls, Fleming Island's distance duo of Brooke Reynolds and Allie

Knotts battled with the top-ranked Ponte Vedra cadre of runners with Lindy White, top-ranked in 3A in the 3200; third in the 1600, and Daisy Ross third in the 3200 and fifth in the 1600.

Reynolds stayed in a lead pack of Ponte Vedra runners to the final lap where White surged decisively to win in 5:08.17 with Reynolds fourth in 5:18.31, one of her fastest times of the season.

In the 800, Reynolds was fourth in 2.24.06

In the 3200, White again surged away from teammate Ross to win in 10:59.97 with Knotts in sixth at 12:02.07.

For Middleburg, discus thrower Madison Underwood hit her best toss of the season with a 140'-8" winning throw to win by

"Everything hit right and we had a good windy day," said Underwood, sixth last year in Class 3A and ranked fifth in Florida now with a 158'-9" toss by Lauren Kirby of Somerset Academy tops in 3A. Underwood is third-ranked in Class 3A.

Also for Middleburg, javelin thrower Anthony Pasquale took third in the district meet with a 146'-1" throw on his first attempt. Vincent Jackson of Ponte Vedra, top-ranked in 3A, won at 164'-1".
