Naig stated, "We are honoring Linus for his passion for 4-H and his years of work on behalf of the organization. He has helped 4-Hers by selling them winning pigs and sheep, being a mentor and providing guidance about raising livestock and preparing them for exhibition.'

Linus has served on the PAC Fair Board. During that time, he was instrumental in securing additional funding for the fair. The result was facility improvements, and introducing new events. All of that worked to increase attendance.

He was always volunteering to make sure that the fairground was in top shape for the county

AGP Invests in the Emmetsburg Community By Diane Weiland

Two large donations were distributed to The Shores and The Emmetsburg Fire Department last Wednesday morning. Mark Johnson, Soy Operations Manager at AGP contacted Kim Kibbie, City Administrator and inquired about city projects they should target for their donations. "AGP is proud to partner with the Emmetsburg Community to support improvements, "said Johnson. AGP donated $5,000 to update the AGP Room at The Shores. A large Smart TV/White Board will be installed. The meeting room is often used for business meetings. Kibbie commented, This is a welcomed and important update to the meeting space."

To make sure that the water from a well is safe for human consumption, it is important to have the wvell tested at least once a year. Environmental Technician Ben Huntley at Palo Alto County Environmental Health is encouraging households that rely on well water to have wells tested.

According to the Center for Disease Control, over 15 million U.S. households rely on private household wells for drinking water. All private wells use ground water. If polluted and ground water is consumed, it could cause illness. Ground water pollution can be caused by seepage through landfills, failed septic tanks, underground fuel tanks, fertilizers, pesticides and runoff from urban areas.

Testing Well Water

Palo Alto County's private water well program protects public health by preventing the contamination of groundwawater supplies is extremely important for the residents in Palo Alto County. Grants are made available by the Iowa Department of Public Health to provide financial assistance to Palo Alto County residents for

ter. The protection of ground-private water well services. Palo Alto County Environmental Health offers FREE private well water testing for total coliform bacteria, E. coli bacteria, nitrates, manganese, and arsenic. Huntley offers, "This is for your information to protect your health, and the health of others in your household. There are NO mandatory requirements to correct your well based on your test results." Call Environmental Health at 712-852-3058 about well water testing. Or contact Huntley at 712-209-1535.

In addition to Well Water Quality Testing, Palo Alto County Environmental Health offers grant money for plugging old/abandoned wells and filling in/removing Cisterns.

Book Presentation "When a Dream Dies" Draws Crowd at Schoolhouse

By Diane Weiland

The presentation "When a Dream Dies" by author Pam Riney-Kehrberg drew a standing room only crowd at the Schoolhouse during the Palo Alto County Fair.

The book about the farm crisis of the 1980's not only brought back memories but also explained how the crisis started and its results. The hour-long lecture covered a terrible decade in Iowa's history.

Riney-Kehrberg started with the 1970s. Inflation by 1980 had risen to 14% but the cost of borrowing was very low. Farmers could walk into a bank, ask for a loan and were almost immediately signed up. Farmers wanted to get work done on their property and purchase new machinery. Crop prices were increasing because of the amount of grain sold to the Soviet Union. And the price of land started going up and up.

The federal government wanted the farmers to go, go, go. The phrases, "farm fence row to fence row and get big or get out," came from the government. The one phrase that also caught on pertained to the land. "Well, they aren't going to make anymore of it."

Things pertaining to farming started to change rapidly by the mid-1980s. The cost of inputs increased and machinery prices soared. At the same time land values started falling. There was a sixty to seventy percent decrease in land values. People started putting their money in the bank because the return for a CD was greater than land values. Farmers who had secured debt because of their land were underwater. It put them in a vulnerable position for losing their farms.

By the mid-1980s, one-third of the farmers were in immediate danger of losing their land. The next third were scared. And the last one third wasn't in danger because they were older and did not have a lot of debt.

Extension services surveyed farmers to find out how they were spending their dollars. Over half were cutting expenditures by not purchasing food.

Articles in newspapers were reporting that families such as those in Plymouth County were standing in lines for government commodities such as rice, honey, flour and pork. Most of the time the public could not discern who was in trouble because farmer pride prevented them from standing in the food

Farmers could not get loans. If there was someone sick in the household that prevented a loan. If someone didn't go to town to work that prevented a loan. The interest rate on loans, by the mid-1980s was 24%.

The most compelling part of the book was what did people feel like who were living through this crisis. There were many, many letters written to then Governor Branstad. Teachers would have students write letters. Farmers wrote letters and housewives were the most proficient at writing letters. Branstad released 1300 boxes of letters he received from the public. Riney-Kehrberg was given permission to sort through those time thousands of letters from children, wives and angry farm men. One young boy was concerned if his father would be able to pay for repairs on machinery. One girl asked, "Why are farmers so poor?" The young writers wanted to know if the president was going to do anything. Marjorie began her letter by saying, "We didn't do anything wrong. I've cut corners and we have done with-

of farms were lost in the upper Midwest. All across the US 15% were lost.

There were specific numbers for Palo Alto County. In 1950 the farms numbered 1,848. 1978 – 1,096, 1987-987, 1992-841. The county lost 24% of the farms. At the beginning She shared that there were of 1980 Emmetsburg's population was 4,621. In 1990 it was Riney-Kehrberg ended her presentation by describing one of the good things that happened in Iowa to help the farm families in crisis. Governor Branstad, Senator Tom Harkin and Representative Grassley together went on radio to get this message across to families. "You are Iowans. We care about you. Go get food stamps.'

RADAR SPEED SIGN HELPS MOTORISTS - Driver Safety is the reason for another Radar Speed Sign in Emmetsburg. Standing by the newly installed sign for drivers headed east on Hwy 18 are L-R Abby Burns, Mayor Pat Degen, City Administrator Kim Kibbie, Marketing and Retail Coordinator Gretchen Reichter, Council Member Pat Martini and policeman Adam

City of Emmetsburg Improves Speed Safety

By Diane Weiland

The City of Emmetsburg's Police Department have had another radar speed sign installed. The new one is near the Farm Credit Services building for drivers headed east on Hwy 18. These devices display a vehicle's speed as a motorist approaches. The signs make drivers aware of their speed.

Police Chief Ryan Veldboom stated, "Since these have been installed there has been a big improvement in the speed of drivers. That means safety for everyone." He also pointed out that the device provides feedback for his department. It provides a vehicle count, the speeds and the amount of traffic at various times during the day.

That helps the Department determine where officers need to be located or patrolling. "It is a very effective piece of equipment," said Veldboom.

Cost for the speed sign was covered by the Palo Alto Gaming Development Corporation Grant that the Police Department received last March. The grant was for $3,527,00.

Board of Supervisors Heard from County Assessor, County Engineer, State Representative Dave Rowley and Aletha King

By Diane Weiland

Jodi Jergens, County Assessor came before the Board to have them approve the Homestead and Military Applications for 2023. Residents make application at the County Assessors office. These are checked regarding qualifications and then presented to the Supervisors for approval.

There were 139 new Homestead Credit applications for a total of 2,522. Military credits totaled 1,168 with 25 of those added this year. Supervisor Solberg moved and Supervisor Wirtz seconded a motion to approve the Homestead and Military applications. It passed unanimously.

Auditor Carmen Moser pointed out to the Board that when HF 718 was passed in the legislative session, it was no longer the state that would reimburse the counties for the credits and exemptions. For FY24, the Palo Alto County value will be $2million. In the second year of the legislation the value will be $4,362,000.

Engineer Walter Davis-Oeth asked approval to purchase three new pickups. He will acquire three Ford F150s at $49,500 each from the Ford dealership in Emmetsburg. He reminded the Board that his equipment budget for the year was $690,000. Craig Merrill made a motion to proceed with the purchase of 3 pickups for Secondary Roads in the amount of $148,500. It was seconded by Keith Wirtz and the vote was unanimous. He updated the Board about the dump trucks. The chassis should be delivered sometime in the fourth quarter of this year. When delivered it will be another 2-3 months for fabrication.

Iowa State Senator Dave Rowley visited with the Board about HF 718. He claimed that the intent of the bill was to provide more transparency regarding property tax values. Auditor Moser said that the mandatory letter to every property owner each year was going to confuse the public about what their property tax would actually be. "This penalizes some people and unfortunately the bill puts all 99 counties in the same bucket," said Moser.

Rowley did offer that some changes will be made. To date he did not have a list of all of the items that were being considered. Supervisor Faulstick voiced his opinion by stating, "The state is dumping on the counties and leaving us to raise taxes." Supervisor Graettinger offered, "We try to be conservative but it might come back to Kayla Hagen, Emergency Management Coordinator updated the Board about her work. She explained that the Hazardous Mitigation Plan was outdated as of 2018. These plans need to be current every five years. She will apply for a grant to help pay for the cost of a new Plan. It may also cover the purchase of such items as generators, safe rooms in schools and flood mitigation. She will continue to keep the Board apprised of her work.

Aletha King, representing the Zoning Commission told the Board that they approved the request for two animal confinements. One was for Clear Creek Layers LLC in Section 25 of Fern Valley Township. The South Dakota company passed the matrix with 460 points. The two existing buildings and another building to be added would hold 600,000 three pounds or more chickens. Supervisor Solberg moved to approve the confinement and supervisor Wirtz seconded the motion. There was unanimous consent.

The request from William Brown Jr. to construct a hog confinement in Section 1 of Walnut Township was considered. When built it would hold 2,499 hogs. Supervisor Solberg moved to approve. Supervisor Wirtz seconded the motion and all voted in favor.

Aletha asked the Board for approval to order the compactor for the new Transfer Station along with the hydraulic attachment. Supervisor Solberg made the motion to approve the purchase and Supervisor Faulstick seconded it. All voted in favor.

Attorney Gary Armstrong met with the Board via phone They discussed a proposed resolution concerning the carbon pipeline. He stated that the ordinance should not go before the Board of Adjustment. It needed to be reviewed by the Zoning Commission. He expressed concern for the explosive capacity of these pipelines Armstrong also inquired about the status of the Shelby County ordinance. The Board informed him that it went to the Supreme Court and the preliminary judgement was against the ordinance. The discussion concerning the resolution will continue

The Board voted to change the Jt63 Completion Hearing Date from August 15 to August 22 at 1p.m.

During the public comment segment, Carla Larson asked if any of the Supervisors have talked with constituents about the wind turbines, the carbon pipeline or solar panels. She told them that the group that is working against the wind turbines receive thanks from people for the work they are doing

Feenstra Helps Introduce Legislation to Construct More Affordable Housing

Last month, U.S. Rep. Randy Feenstra (R-Hull) helped introduce – alongside Rep. Mike Kelly (R-PA) – the *Neighbor*hood Homes Investment Act, which will mobilize private investment in rural communities to construct new, affordable homes and revitalize existing homes to attract and keep families and businesses in rural America. This legislation would support the construction or rehabilitation of 500,000 homes for middle- and low-income families.

"Between labor shortages and record inflation to depressed inventory and budgetary restrictions, the cost of building a home has skyrocketed and the price tag of buying a home is out of reach for too many Americans – especially young families in rural communities. This is a serious problem that requires thoughtful solutions to ensure that families who want to buy a home in rural areas can do so," said Rep. Feenstra. "To keep our families and businesses in rural Iowa, we need to incentivize the construction of new homes and the rehabilitation of older structures, which in turn promotes population growth, gen-

and supports our thriving main streets. I'm glad to work with my colleagues on the House Ways and Means Committee to introduce the Neighborhood Homes Investment Act to lower the cost of building new homes, support housing revitalization, and make the dream of homeownership attainable and affordable for our families in rural America."

More specifically, the *Neigh*borhood Homes Investment Act establishes a federal tax credit that developers can claim to construct new housing or substantially rehabilitate existing homes in rural communities. This tax credit seeks to close the "value gap" – which occurs when the cost to build a home exceeds the price at which it is expected to sell – by covering up to 35% of development expenses for new construction.

The Neighborhood Homes Coalition estimates that this legislation would spur $125 billion in total construction and development activity, support 861,000 jobs in construction and adjacent industries, generate $56 billion in wages, and produce $26 billion in federal and $12 billion in state and local tax revenues.

Treasurer Smith Announces $235 Million Earned for the State

State Treasurer Roby Smith reports over $235 million in interest was earned on the Pooled Money Fund for the State's 2023 fiscal year, which runs from July to June. "The State of Iowa earned a striking amount of interest in the last year, mainly due to the Pool's high balance and the increase in interest rates," said Smith. "This is not only a win for the state, but also for Iowans.'

As Treasurer, Smith is the State's banker and chief financial officer. One of his responsibilities is to invest funds in a combined short-term investment pool, known as the Pooled Money Fund. The Pool includes the State's general fund, the road use tax fund, the State's two reserve funds and a number of smaller State funds. Any funds not currently in use are invested until needed for

"Any income reduces the burden on Iowa taxpayers, but one of this magnitude is impressive," said Smith. "Each dollar earned is one less we need to collect from additional sources, and ultimately helps keep Iowans' hard-earned money in their pockets."

Moving Forward by Katie Nelson

As some of you may know, my name is Katie Nelson. For the last seven months, I have been working at the Emmetsburg Reporter-Democrat. During this time, I wrote articles, took pictures and wrote short stories for the newspaper. My time here has been wonderful, and I love the experiences I've had during my time in the newsroom. All things eventually come to an end, though. This is my final week working for the Emmetsburg Reporter-Democrat before I go to college this fall.

While I worked here, I learned a lot about the different things the newspaper staff does to get the paper out for readers. Everyone has a specific role to fulfill, and they're all equally essential for getting quality news and advertising out for readers every week Some weeks, the paper needs more news, and some weeks, there is too much news for the paper. Usually, the newspaper isn't the only thing the news staff is working on during the week. Supplemental material about specific things in the area, like the Palo Alto County Fair, have to be done while working on the main paper for each week. The workload changes, but the deadline never does. I had low expectations for myself when I applied to work at the newspaper. I was here for job experience, and everything I had heard about being an intern meant I wouldn't be doing too much actual writing for the paper until later. I certainly didn't anticipate my sample writing being published in the paper later that week. It was an exhilarating experience, and as a matter of fact, it still is Every time someone compliments my writing, it continues to catch Maybe that's a result of keeping my writing to myself for so long, convincing myself that I could do far better. I still can, but I've since learned that having room for improvement does not mean the writing is poor. That doesn't mean I won't stress over my writing, but it does serve as a reassurance before I submit it Every time I feared that I had done terribly, I was proved wrong by the support from the rest of the newsroom. I avoided sharing many of the things I didn't like about my work because I wanted honest feedback, but I have been completely blown away by the response both in and out of the newspaper office. I know I'll miss this job, and I'll treasure my time here, but I also know I still have

I may be leaving for college, but that doesn't mean I intend to put my pencil down. I hope to continue providing stories for the Reporter-Democrat when I have the opportunity to write them.

I sincerely hope you continue to enjoy my stories when they appear every so often. I cannot promise to write for the Reporter-Democrat forever. I don't fully know where my life will lead after this, but I do know I want to keep writing. It is hard saying goodbye. I knew this was coming way back in January, when I first got my job here. I'm still not prepared to do so. Instead, I'll just say thanks. Thank you all for taking the time to be my first readers. Thank you for all the support you've given me these last seven months Thank you for giving me the chance to share my thoughts with the world. And thank you for showing me what a supportive audience looks like.

I'm going to miss you.

Todey stated, "The changes impacting agriculture are complex and difficult to fully grasp, yet we are already making changes and must continue to adapt to a changing climate." # Sustainable Intensification – Five Years Later

Mark Licht | Iowa State University Associate Profes-

> and Extension Cropping Systems Specialist

In November of 2018 I wrote an article about sustainable intensification. Sustainable intensification is a systems approach to improving yields without expanding land in production or increasing negative environmental effects. Historically, intensification often led to more marginal land in production, or caused losses of soil and nutrients resulting in the degradation of soil health at the expense of wildlife and future fertility. My intent is not to place blame, but rather provide information and research to help farmers make sound agronomic decisions that balance productivity and profitability with environmental impacts.

In 2018 I made the argument for taking the 4R approach to nitrogen management, reducing tillage intensity, and implementing cover crops as ways to protect soil and reduce nutrient losses. I still believe these are the effective strategies to redesign and reinvigorate our corn and soybean centric production systems. I applaud the increasing number of innovative farmers who are adopting these practices and continue to push the conservation needle on their farms and talk to other farmers about what they are doing and how they found success.

Continue reading on our blog for the next steps toward sustainable intensification through innovative projects exploring the redesigning our production systems and growing different crops.

If interested in building a culture of conservation, several events are planned. The event titles are as follows: Saturated Buffer and Cover Crops, Prairie and RForestry Field Day, Establishing and Managing Perennial Vegetation and CRP, Honoring Leopold's Legacy, Grazing Field Day and Conservation on Tap. # Know the Truth

He said, "For this reason I was born, and for this I came into the world, to testify to the truth. Everyone on the side of truth listens to me." And then Pilate ask a question that many people have been asking since, "What is truth?" People have asked, "what is truth?" and "can a person know the truth?" and "is truth absolute?"

It is said that for something to be declared true it must be discoverable, transcultural, unchanging, unaffected by attitude, absolute and knowable. A simple example of this is 1+1=2.

God certainly fits this requirement. He has made Himself discoverable through His creation, throughout history, and in His written revelation, the Bible. He has made Himself known in every culture, and His word transcends culture in its relevant truth and princi-

When Jesus was on trial before Pontius Pilate ples. His existence is never affected by the feelings of people or their attitudes. He is as unchanging as the faithful sunrise that occurs each day.

> Truth is certainly knowable or Jesus would not have declared that the reason He came into the world was to testify to it. The ultimate revelation of God, and truth, is Jesus Christ. "He is the image of the invisible God." (Colossians 1:15) Jesus said, "anyone who has seen me has seen the Father." (John 14:9)

> In John 14:6, Jesus, the Son of God, exclaimed that truth is an essential element of his being – "I am the way and the truth and the life. No one comes to the Father except through me." So, if you want to know the truth, find it in Jesus!

He was born December 18, 1930, married his high school sweetheart Peggy Lou Parish on May 14, 1951. After serving in the Air Force as a radio communications specialist, Gordon and Peggy started a family in the small town of Markleeville, California and had 2 boys.

After attending the Chicago Institute of Technology, they relocated to Renton Washington to work for Boing, made many lifelong friends, and were blessed with a 3rd boy. Although having a busy work and homelife, Gordon still had time to show the family how to enjoy life to the fullest with boating, fishing, hunting, shooting, sports, camping, skiing, R/C airplanes, SCUBA diving, golfing, car repair, and even a short stint with motorcycles. In the 1976 he took flying lessons with his 3rd son, and both earned pilot's licenses. Households ma	ay be eligib	le for free	or reduce	d-price me	al benefits	one of for	ır ways	γ

1. Households whose income is at or below the levels shown are eligible for reduced price meals or free meals,

- if they complete an application for free and reduced price school meals/milk. Households may complete one application listing all children and return it to your student's school. When completing an application, only the last four digits of the social security number of the household's primary wage earner or another adult household member is needed.
- Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP) households, students receiving benefits under the Family Investment Program (FIP) and students in a few specific Medicaid programs are eligible for free or reduced price meals. Most students from SNAP and FIP households will be qualified for free meals automatically. These households will receive a letter from their student's schools notifying them of their benefits. Households that receive a letter from the school need to do nothing more for their student(s) to receive free or reduced price meals. No further application is necessary. If any students were not listed on the notice of eligibility, the household should contact the school to have free or reduced price meal benefits extended to them. If you feel you would qualify for free meal benefits and received notification qualifying for reduced price benefits, complete an application for free and reduced price meals. Households must contact the school if they choose to decline meal benefits.
- Some SNAP and FIP households will receive a letter from the Iowa Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS) which will qualify the children listed on the letter for free meals. Parents must take this letter to the student's school to receive free meals.
- SNAP or FIP households receiving benefits that do not receive a letter from DHHS must complete an application with the abbreviated information as indicated on the application and instructions, for their students to receive free meals. When the application lists an assistance program's case number for any household member, eligibility for free benefits is extended to all students in a household.

Eligibility from the previous year will continue within the same school for up to 30 operating days into the new school year. When the carryover period ends, unless the household is notified that their students are directly certified or the household submits an application that is approved, the students must pay full price for school meals and the school will not send a reminder or a notice of expired eligibility. An application cannot be approved unless complete eligibility information is submitted. Applications may be submitted at any time during the year. If a family member becomes unemployed the family should contact the school to complete an application. Households notified of their student's eligibility must contact the school if the household chooses to decline the free meal benefits.

Foster children are eligible for free meal benefits. Some foster students will be qualified for free meals automatically through the state direct certification process. Their host family will receive notification of these benefits. Families that receive this notification from the school need to do nothing more for their foster students to receive free meals. If a family has foster students living with them and does not receive notification and wishes to apply for such meals, instructions for making application for such students are contained on the application form. A foster student may be included as a member of the foster family if the foster family chooses to also apply for benefits for other students. Including students in foster care as household members may help other students in the household qualify for benefits. If the foster family is not eligible for free or reduced price meal benefits, it does not prevent a foster student from receiving benefits. Special Supplement Nutrition Program for Women, Infants, and Children (WIC) participants may be eligible for free or reduced price meals based on a completed application.

When known by the school, households will be notified of any child eligible for free meals if the children are enrolled in the Head Start/Even Start program or are considered homeless, migrant or runaway. If any children are not listed on the notice of eligibility, contact the school for assistance in receiving benefits. If households are dissatisfied with the application approval done by the officials, they may make a formal appeal either orally or in writing to the school's designated hearing official. The policy statement on file at the school contains an outline of the hearing procedure. School officials may verify the information in the application, and that deliberate misrepresentation of information may subject the applicant to prosecution under applicable state and federal criminal statutes. Households should contact their local school for additional information.

There will be no discrimination against individuals with Limited English Proficiency (LEP) in the school meal programs.

Sheriff's Report

Saturday, July 15, 2023

At 1:30 PM, the Palo Alto County Sheriff's Office arrested Ethan Hall (19) of Emmetsburg on a valid Palo Alto County arrest warrant for failure to appear on an original charge of failure to stop in assured clear distance. Following his arrest, Hall was able to post the $350.00 cash only bond and was released to appear before a magistrate at a later date.

Sunday, July 16, 2023

At 1:57 PM, the Palo Alto County Sheriff's Office responded to a report of a two vehicle accident at the intersection of Des Moines Street and North Walnut Avenue in Graettinger. Jack Ringlaben (20) of Graettinger was driving a 2005 Dodge Magnum eastbound on Des Moines Stree. As Ringlaben reached the intersection of Des Moines Street and North Walnut Avenue, Ringlaben failed to yield the right of way at the intersection to a northbound 2004 Chevrolet Silverado 2500 driven by Kason Guinn (24) of Graettinger. Ringlaben's front passenger side collided with Guinn's front driver side as both vehicles enterred the intersection. Following the collision, Guinn's vehicle was pushed into a street signed owned by the city of Graettinger as well as a utility pole owned by the Graettinger Municipal Light Plant. There were no injuries reported in the accident. There was an estimated $2,000 damage to Ringlaben's vehicle, $1,500 damage to Guinn's vehicle, $250 damage to the street sign and $10,000 damage to the utility pole. Jack Ringlaben was issued a citation for failure to yield upon entering a through roadway, which is a simple misdemeanor. The Palo Alto County Sheriff's Office also cited Kason Guinn for failure to provide proof of financial liability, which is a simple mis-

A criminal charge is merely an accusation and the defendant is presumed innocent unless and until proven guilty in a court of law.

Thin skin plagues some officials in lowa

By Randy Evans, Freedom of Information Council

Around the time the famous movie 'The Bridges of Madison County' premiered in 1995, author Robert James Waller was at a book-signing in West Des Moines. Between scribbling his signature for fans on copies of his novel, Waller answered questions from a Des Moines Register re-

At one point, the persnickety Iowan became peeved by the nature of the reporter's questions. He yanked the notebook from her hand and flipped it aside

That led to a letter to the editor a few days later in the Register in which a reader observed that Waller should use some of his millions in book and movie royalties to buy himself a thicker skin.

Some local government officials in Iowa show signs of needing thicker skins, too, because they have tried to silence critics at meetings of city councils and school boards for making comments they did not like.

Earlier this month, Davenport Mayor Mike Matson threatened to adjourn any city council meeting if a member of the public makes comments that he or the city attorney believe are defamatory toward city employees or officials.

Controversy has bubbled in Cherokee over plans to arm up to 40 school employees with guns. Last month, the school board president read a statement in which the school's attorney suggested legal action could be taken against a Cherokee mother for calling school officials inept. And in the Bettendorf school district, as in some other Iowa districts, the school board president reads a statement before the "public forum" portion of each meeting. That statement claims, inaccurately, that Iowa law prohibits discussing specific employees or their job performance. The Cherokee school board has a similar prohibition on naming individuals, although it cites school policies and Robert's Rules of Order as the legal basis for preventing speakers from mentioning employees by name. Do such policies violate the First Amendment's right to freedom of speech? If people cannot criticize government employees by name during meetings, does that mean they cannot praise an employee, either? It would not be a reasonable viewpoint-neutral position for a city council or school board to take if officials permitted praise but not criticism. These are not hypothetical questions. Noah Petersen can tell you that. The Newton man was arrested at successive meetings of the Newton City Council last October for refusing to comply with a city council policy that bars derogatory statements or comments about any individual. Petersen was charged with disorderly conduct for harshly criticizing Newton police officials and Mayor Michael Hansen.

Jasper County Magistrate Peter Lahn found Petersen not guilty. His written verdict should be read by government officials from Ackley to

The Newton City Council meetings include a specific time for citizens to share their input on city services and policies, the magistrate said. Petersen remained at the podium and did not use abusive language or gestures when he addressed the council, the magistrate said. Nothing in Petersen's actions substantially impaired the conduct of the council's meetings, the magistrate added.
