GRAIN MANAGEMENT SOLUTIONS

Recently GSI announced that they are retiring some products. The AD Link platform and remote monitoring will no longer be supported after December 15th, 2024.

2 options for replacing your BULLSEYE system are:

- 1 AgroLog is a complete automation system which will control aeration fans for you. The system monitors temperature, moisture, CO2, Grain Level and puts this information where you need it most, on your laptop and smartphone.
- 2 Grain Trac utilizes either existing or new temperature cables. Grain Trac allows the user to interact with his grain system remotely on his laptop or smartphone and sends alerts if the grain goes out of condition. A typical Grain Trac system would cost around $2,900.
