May Is Hepatitis Awareness Month

Hepatitis is an inflammation of the liver that can cause health problems, such as liver cancer and liver failure.

Learn the ABCs of this serious virus.

Hepatitis A

- Spread through contaminated food and drink.
- It's very contagious and you can spread the virus even if you don't have symptoms.

Hepatitis B

- Spread through contact with an infected person's blood or other bodily fluids.
- There's no cure for hepatitis B, but treatment can delay or reduce the risk of developing liver cancer.

Hepatitis C

- There isn't a vaccine to prevent hepatitis C, but treatment is available.
- Most people with hepatitis C can be cured with just 8-12 weeks of treatment.

Help Protect Your Liver From Hepatitis

Ask your healthcare provider about hepatitis vaccines and testing.

 I am open to connecting with women between the ages of 60 and 79.

The Bottom Line

Here's an important fact. Each year, colon cancer claims more lives than either breast cancer or prostate cancer, making it the second leading cause of cancer death in the United States.

But there's good news! If detected early, colon cancer is preventable and treatable. In fact, it is estimated that 60% of colorectal cancer deaths could be prevented if appropriate screenings were performed on a regular basis. Palo Alto County Health System offers a variety of screening options, including colonoscopies, and encourages patients over 50 or with higher risk factors to schedule a consultation.

Take the time to take a closer look. Bottom line—it could add years to your life!

Let PACHS help you with the prevention of colorectal cancer. Visit us at www.pachs.com for more information about screenings or call 712-852-5500 to schedule an appointment today!
