Woody's Pizza Serving Estherville since 1961

Mae and Tony & Jody Condon talk to the Estherville News about the first pizza in the area

oody and Mae Condon tested sauces, flavor combinations and recipes at home for months before deciding on the right taste that would be Woody's Pizza. Woody and Mae started the original Woody's Pizza House in 1961, at 10 South 5th St. in Estherville. Woody delivered pizzas on a three-wheeled Cushman scooter with a cab and enclosed box on the back. The fact that one family business has continued for six decades has its roots in the family's tasting and testing to develop its own recipes. "The secret to making Woody's Pizza a household name in Estherville and the multi-state surrounding area is the use of family-developed recipes for the sauce and dough, not to mention the result of many months of testing and tasting by our friends and family to get the right balance of cheese and toppings," Mae said. The friends and family in this focus group included Woody's cousin, Ray and Kathy Dahna and friends Leo and Lou Domek, and Ken and Fern Mitchell. What about that crispy crust? Mae said, "The dough recipe was developed by my father, George Simpson, who was a baker most of his life. He owned several bakeries in southern Iowa." Woody Condon developed the sauce in his off hours from his sales route for Gus Glaser meats in Fort Dodge. Mae said Woody used small cans of tomato paste, adding various spices and water to create the correct taste and consistency. He tried a different sauce each night and let Mae know which ingredients he wanted for the next night so he could do it all over again. The Condons purchased eight-pound blocks of Wisconsin cheese, directly from the supplier. However, the supplier would only ship to Fairmont. "Woody had to travel to Fairmont every week to meet the bus and pick up the order," Mae said. This also meant that if they ran out before the next order came, there was no way to find additional product. Tony and Jody Condon, Woody and Mae's son and daughter-in-law who owned and operated Woody's from 1980 to 2012, said, "We always wanted to provide our customers with the best product at a reasonable price - a product they couldn't get anywhere else in 1961 or 2012." These original recipes continue, at least through the Condons' sale of the business to the Bates family in 2012. In 2018, the Bates' sold the business to Dave and Tasha Welch. Dave Welch said one of the best things about owning Woody's Pizza is serving the customers. Whether it's families or a group of friends, they come here for the food and the Turn to PIZZA, Page 2A atmosphere," Welch said. The Welches haven't changed much about the food. Dave, who also has a construction company, is working on an addition to the Woody's building at 9 W North 1st Street, just across from the Central Ave. Bridge, which will include a walk[1] in freezer, and generous additional space so service flows better on busy nights. "The servers won't have to walk through the crowd to get to the ice machines. We can store more ingredients. It will free up room in the kitchen so staff isn't bumping into each other as much," Dave said. Dave said the supply chain issues of 2020 and 2021 that impinged upon a lot of restaurants had not affected Woody's much. Employees have been in short supply at times, however, a reality for most businesses. Dave said one solution is to restructure the kitchen to make it easier for fewer employees to make pizza and use the fryers, etc. He said he doesn't want to go to automation of processes (the food would still be handcrafted as always), but he would do so if it became necessary. Dave started the expansion project in 2020 after the Estherville city council approved a variance on commercial building standards that allowed him to enclose the outdoor porch for additional seating during the height of the pandemic. The Welches also expanded the west side and installed exterior siding until a slap-style, real wood siding similar to the original siding can be identified and purchased. Dave said, "When you think about the fact that pizza has really only been available across the country for about 60 years, and now it's the number one food in the U.S., that's pretty big." Dave said pizza brings a sense of community. It's a food that can easily be shared. "People have asked me if I'm going to put in booths here, and I really don't think so. People can move around and visit from the bar and tables, and put tables together if their friends come in and want to eat together. It's easy to order a pizza and adjust for the size of the party, or order another pizza if people keep showing up," Dave said.

The tried, true and tasty. Where did some of the names of Woody's classic original pizzas come from? The names come mostly from people in the original and chosen Woody's family who ordered their favorite combinations. Woody's Special - Woody's favorite combination Mae's Special -Mae's favorite combination The World - Mae said, "In the early years, Woody had a customer that would come in and order a pizza with everything on it. He always said, 'give me one of those pizzas from around the world." Others started doing the same and the name stuck. The Knutson named after Kerry "Norton"

Knutson. Mae said, "He was a neighbor of ours and always ordered the same thing. Many of his friends and other customers caught on and would say, 'give me the same as Knutson gets."" The Ferger - named after Jeff Quastad for the same reason as others - once other customers knew what he ordered, they would order it for themselves until it eventually made it to the menu. When Woody's began in 1961, pizza had not expanded far in the U.S. beyond cities with a large Italian-American population. Service members coming back from World War II made pizza popular, but it really caught on when pizza makers started changing the Italian recipes to better suit American tastes. Not surprisingly, the secret is in the sauce. In the U.S., a slow-cooked totangy recipes to give their pizzas a unique taste you can't find anywhere else. In Italy, olive oil, pureed fresh tomatoes, fresh garlic and oregano create an herby taste that runs through mato sauce is used. Restaurants to the crust. Americans are like Woody's create their own more meaty with nearly every pizzeria having a meat lovers' option. Italians are unlikely to mix their meats. Crusts in Italy vary by region. In some places, the crust is thin and cracker like - not unlike the Woody's crust. Deep dish pizza is a wholly American creation, as is the addition of nearly every conceivable topping from ham to veggie to barbecue chicken to shrimp and Cajun seasoning.

Mae said in the early days, Woody's would purchase pork shoulders to grind and mix with their seasonings to make the sausage, and similarly with tubes of ground beef, make hamburger with that extra spice. Tony said the number of pizzas delivered on any given Friday night has varied over the years. "Our biggest nights were when Spirit Lake or Emmetsburg would come to town to play football or basketball. We would be busy before and after the games for eat-in business and during the games for delivery," Tony said. How far has a Woody's Pizza traveled? Tony said Woody's has had many former customers. who came back to visit after moving away, who commented that they cannot get anything close to Woody's Pizza where they currently lived. "On one occasion, we shipped eight of our largest pizzas to Washington State for the 60th birthday of a former Estherville resident," Tony said.

Dave said when former residents come into town for an event or to visit family, Woody's Pizza is always a required stop. Woody's Pizza opens at 5 p.m. Tuesday-Friday, 11 a.m. Saturday and Sunday, and Dave said has no official closing time but it's often around 10:45 p.m. Woody's started closing on Mondays in September due to understaffing and to give exist-

Christmas is over for another year. How did you feel about this Christmas? Was it all you hoped it would be? Have you been asked the question? "What did you get for Christmas?"

Now back to the question "what did you give for Christmas?" What is the best ers is especially poorly timed because the number of reporters covering the Legislature fulltime, in Iowa and in many other states, has been dwindling as newspapers merge and as their employment shrinks.

In my role as the executive director of the Iowa Freedom of Information Council, I issued a statement Friday on the Senate decision. And on Saturday, the Washington Post called to ask about the decision.

Here's what I said: "All Iowans should be troubled, as we are, by the decision of Iowa Senate leaders. ... Barring journalists from access to the floor of the Senate chamber does not continue Iowa's long and proud tradition of transparency that is a foundation of our democracy."

I said the decision is a blow to transparency because it makes it more difficult for journalists to help the public understand the many issues lawmakers are dealing with and how those issues will affect the people of our state.

I explained how reporters could catch the eye of a senator and with a nod arrange a quick conversation off the Senator floor to get clarification of how a bill is evolving. Reporters could notice a couple of key adversaries off to the side in the chamber having a whispered conversation and could then ask if an important compromise was in the works.

The decision by Senate lead-One of the comments I made to the Washington Post reporter was that government transparency is even more important when one political party controls the House, the Senate and the governor's office, regardless of which party that is.

With one party having what is called a "trifecta," it is easier to set aside rules and norms so decisions can be made with less scrutiny by the public or by journalists, who serve as the eyes and ears of the public by gathering information, providing important context and background, and by asking government officials questions citizens themselves are not in a position to ask. The decision to boot journalists from the Senate floor did not occur in isolation.

A few years ago, Republican leaders in the Legislature shortened the length of the advance notice required before subcommittee meetings occur. This was an important change because it is now more difficult for Iowans to know what bills are being taken up and to reach out with their opinions before lawmakers vote on these issues. Lawmakers like to talk about how they are elected to go to Des Moines and represent the people. Last week's troubling decision by Iowa Senate leaders shows that some lawmakers have forgotten whom they work for.

Recipe Corner White sauce pizza

BY AMY H. PETERSON AND FAMILY

The Peterson family welcomed 2022 with snacks, games, and homemade pizza. It took just a little more effort than sliding a frozen pizza into the oven and tasted delicious with just the right amount of spice.

White sauce:

Ingredients: ½ cup butter 1 ½ cups heavy whipping cream

a few shakes of black pepper 2 cups grated parmesan cheese

Instructions: mix butter and cream in a large skillet Simmer over low heat for two minutes

Whisk in garlic, seasonings, salt & peper for one minute Whisk in the parmesan cheese until melted.

Inspirational Insight: Do you know what love is?

"The greatest of these is love." I Corinthians 13:13b

The problem I see, in this world, is that most people do not love, and I really believe they do not know what real love is. Do YOU know what love is? How do you measure love? I would like to try to explain it as I see it. You may think I am all wet and that I do not have a clue, but it works for me and my wonderful wife. Check list:

1. How many times a day do you tell your spouse "I Love YOU"?

(0-1, 2-5, 6-10, 10 or more) 2. How many times a day do you tell your spouse "You are the most beautiful (handsome) person in the world"?

5. How many times a day do you say Thank YOU to your spouse? (0-1, 2-5, 6-10, 10 or more)

I know many Christians believe they need a quiet intimate time with Jesus every day, some call it their devotions. If you believe you need to spend that time every day with Jesus, doesn't your spouse require the same kind of devotion or attention each day?

I know I am writing this to some who do not have a spouse. This does not mean you cannot apply the check list in many ways to those you love. We feel the best gift we ever gave our children was to demonstrate the love we have for each other and the love we

Longtime volunteer Ann Goebel seeks mayor position

BY AMY H. PETERSON

City council member Ann Goebel is seeking the position of mayor of Estherville. Goebel said she calls Estherville home.

"My family and I have always felt welcome and in return, I've done a great deal of volunteer work in the community," Goebel said.

Goebel and her husband, Bob, moved to Estherville in 1985 with their three children. In 1986, youngest child, Marty, was born. Goebel is in her 29th year of employment with Estherville Central Lincoln School District, starting in 1994 and working in all grade levels. "My vision for Estherville is a positive one, moving toward growth and prosperity," Goebel said.

Despite the challenges of the pandemic. Goebel pointed out the construction of the "new aquatic center," Deer Creek Apartments, the USDA Building, and Scooters - all new construction.

"Keeping in touch with Lyle (Hevern) will make me more aware of new possibilities. Of course, I am always open to suggestions," Goebel said.

Goebel and former mayor Kenny Billings are the two candidates on the ballot for the Jan. 25 special election. Both Goebel and Billings told the Estherville News whatever happens with the election, they will remain friends and work together to continually improve Estherville.

Billings back again

Retired mayor willing to serve community again

BY AMY H. PETERSON STAFF WRITER

Kenny Billings sat down with the Estherville News to touch on his plans should he become Estherville's mayor again.

Billings and Ann Goebel are on the ballot for the Jan. 25 special election to finish the remaining two years of Joseph May's term. May moved to Virginia in December to pursue a new career opportunity. He was on the ballot for the general election in November, and won the election, and his departure meant a full term beginning Jan. 1, 2022 is vacant. Council member Julie Clark is serving a mayor pro-tem until after the special election.

Billings grew up on a farm north of Estherville, attending the Emmet Consolidated School until the ninth grade when he started at Estherville High School. "Coming to town was another big step in life. Back in the 1960s, Estherville was a very busy place," Billings said. For his entire life, he's enjoyed the community, and he feels part of his duty to Estherville is to never let up on trying to make it better.

"I do love Estherville. My friends are here. I considered the local business owners friends then and now. You go in and they say, 'Hi, Kenny. What can I get you?' There are so many gifts of a small town, and it's a great place to be," Billings said. Billings is a 1965 graduate of Estherville

High School, and served as a marine in Vietnam. He left shortly after marrying Evy, his wife of nearly 54 years, and said when he came back, unlike the experiences of his fellow servicemen returning to other places, Estherville welcomed him.

"It was a matter of, 'it's good to have you back, Kenny,' and I went to work three days after I got back to Estherville and have been working ever since," Billings said. Billings said he had a strong sense of identity with Estherville.

"If this is your town, you ride for the brand. It's important to get in there and do all you can.'

Billings said it was his friends and neighbors who wrote him in and persuaded him to run in all of his elections, whether it was as mayor of Superior, where he and Evy lived for two decades, or Estherville.

In 2019, when Billings announced he would not run for an additional term as Estherville's mayor, it was in part because Evy was ready for him to retire.

"My wife is a very moral person. She always asks for what she wants or needs, and she doesn't like people who aren't straightforward. When I told her what I wanted to do to fill out these two years, she said I should do it," Billings said. He can't do it alone. Billings said Estherville should return to a state of neighbors helping neighbors.

"I don't know if we even know our neighbors anymore. We have to get out and talk to our neighbors, because the pandemic has shown us if nothing else has, that we need to rely on each other, show up for each other. Show up for your neighbors, because the day may come that you'll really need them," Billings said.

Billings said he has a realistic view of what can be done in Estherville.

Billings said he was part of a number of negotiations with large manufacturing plants and other employers who passed over Estherville for another community, because they did not see that it was possible to bring in 70 or 100 workers. Billings said it is important to see the surrounding communities as potentially one unified place for purposes of recruiting workers, opening job opportunities, and collaborating.

"Small towns will never get back to the status they once had. We have to take care of what we have. Any local store or local business we can keep is a blessing. All these new shops and services that are popping up - that's what we have to nurture and take care of," Billings said.

It's in the small local businesses, entrepreneurs, and ideas that Estherville has room to grow.

Last year, postal officials said adjusting First-Class Mail service standards by one to two days for certain mail will allow them to move First-Class mail from air transportation to ground transportation, which Inglett said will add to reliability and predictability for postal customers, while cutting costs.

According to its own data, the USPS has not met its First-Class service targets in eight years, due to both unattainable service standards and a lack of operational precision. The adjustment would not affect most of the First-Class mail traveling in and out of Emmet County, Inglett said.

What about the ever-rising postage prices?

The USPS is among the most affordable postal services in the developed world. The next lowest price is Japan's at $0.77. Australia charges $0.86, Canada $0.89, Germany $0.97, the UK $1.20, France $1.90 and Italy $3.40 in U.S. dollars

By Amy H. Peterson Stafe Writer

Monday evening, the Estherville Parks & Recreation board talked chiefly about the new municipal pool and plans for the old pool site. May 28, 2022 is the opening day for the new pool.

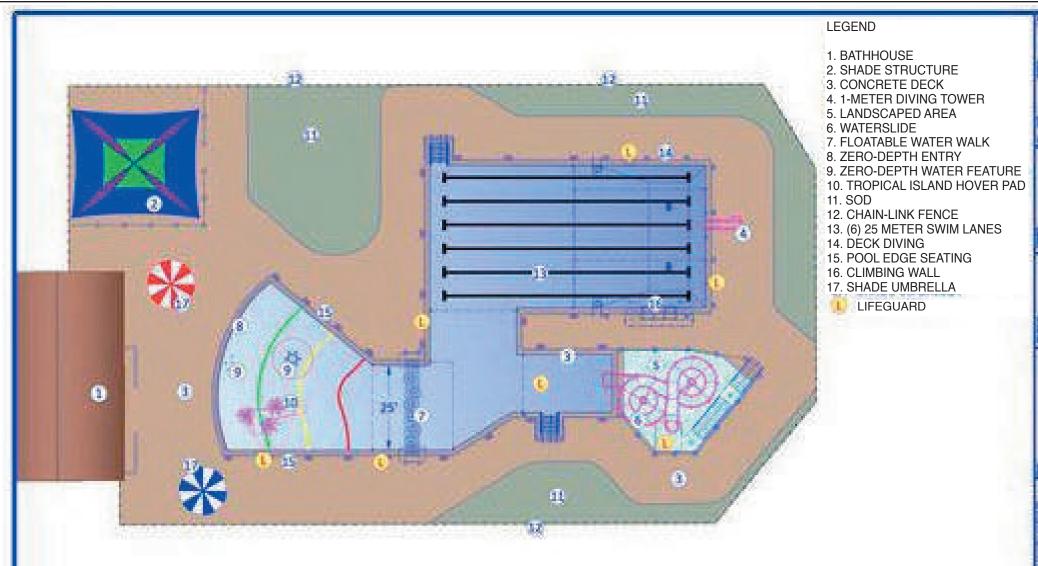

City administrator Penny Clayton said the city has added to the high school announcements the fact that they are taking applications for lifeguards and non-certified staff for the new pool. The city's plan is to train and certify lifeguards this winter through a class Tony Nath will offer at the Regional Wellness Center. Clayton said the city has received nine applications. Non-certified staff openings include the concession stand, the admission desk, and monitoring the top of the water slide. The city also continues looking for a pool manager for the summer.

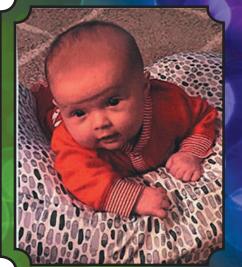

The board also considered imagery to recognize donors to the pool project. While most of the project costs were met by a $4 million municipal bond approved two to one by city voters, additional costs were met in a capital campaign. The city will recognize donors at levels that correspond with various local animals: bear, beaver, walleye, etc. A large sign recognizing pool donors will be installed for the pool dedication. The board also considered half doors in a caf^[] style to set off the front desk from the hallway leading to the restrooms and locker rooms.

On the former pool's bathhouse renovation, Clayton said she met with CMB Architects of Spencer about the concept of having indoor and open shelters in the building on the river, with a heating source to make the indoor space available for rent over three seasons and not only the summer months. Like the new shelter at Spurgin Park, grounded outlets on the counter space will make it possible to plug in roasters, crockpots and other gadgets to prepare meals.

Parks Maintenance supervisor Roger Hash reported that park work had slowed down for the winter. The city ice rink has had use when the weather has been hospitable, and the parks crew has added water to level the edges of the rink as some of the ice has melted and re-frozen.

The next meeting of the Estherville Parks & Recreation board will be Monday, Feb. 14 at 5:30 p.m. in the council chambers of city hall.

Efforts underway to endow Steve Reighard Memorial Scholarship

A life-long lakes area resident and conservation officer, Steve Reighard, was honored with a memorial scholarship at Iowa Lakes Community College following his passing a year ago. Family, friends, and community members provided numerous donations to help fund the 2021 memorial scholarship. Now, efforts are underway to create an endowed scholarship in Reighard's name, which requires a funding threshold of $10,000 or more. This level of funding will allow fund earn-

Puzzles/Advice

Spleen Screens Bacteria and Spent Blood Cells From Body

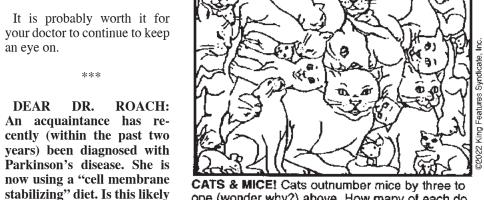

DEAR DR. ROACH: I had an abdominal X-ray to check on my gallstones, and was surprised to find an enlarged spleen. I was told it might be leukemia or lymphoma! I was sent to an oncologist, who reassured me that I did not have cancer and recommended I get checked again in six months. My doctor checked it after three, and my spleen had gone back down!

What is all this with the spleen? People have it removed after injuries, like accidents. It seems to be insignificant, but can it be an omen for cancer? -- M.K.

ANSWER: The spleen is an underappreciated abdominal organ. Its major job is to filter and remove old or damaged red blood cells, but it also removes bacteria. In addition, the spleen acts as a very large lymph node, allowing infection-fighting white blood cells to gather and activate. Removal of the spleen leaves people at a higher risk of some kinds of bacterial infections.

Enlargement of the spleen has many potential causes. Both liver and heart disease can cause passive congestion of the spleen with blood. Cancer, especially lymphoma, is a common cause, but infection is one cause to consider in a person in whom the spleen enlarges and then returns to normal. There are many less-common causes as well.

If the spleen is removed or is nonfunctional (this is almost universal in adults with sickle cell disease, for example), then infections are common, and vaccinations have a different and more intensive schedule, Estherville Lincoln The Central boys defended Iowa from the Jackson County Central team from Minnesota, but it wasn't easy on Monday. The Midgets had a double-digit lead, 64-52, entering the fourth quarter and the Huskies rallied to trim the deficit to four, 74-70, with just under 2 minutes remaining in the game.

25 Years Ago

A fatal crash near Sibley Saturday afternoon and a mot stranded for nearly 24 hours in an unheated car appear to be only serious incidents that occurred on area roadways over the last few days despite severe weather conditions that brought travel to a standstill in many parts of Northwest Iowa. Law enforcement authorities in Emmet, Clay, Dickinson and Palo Alto counties reported Sunday evening that motorists heeded warnings for the most part, keeping travel to a minimum at the height of the storm that blanketed the area for nearly 3 hours.

After spotting Storm Lake a substantial lead to open the game, Estherville-Lincoln Central battled back. The Midgets rallied and emerged with a 67-65 victory over the Tornadoes Monday evening." I was pleased with the character the team showed throughout the game," E-LC coach Mike Hilmer said. "Brandon Jensen played the best game of his career that I've ever seen."

As with each near year, changes are seen in administration locally and nationally whether small or large. With the beginning of 2002, Iowa Lakes Community College administration saw a large change as Jim Billings retired after seven years as president, and Dr. A. Michael Hupfer became the new and friendly face as college president.

Estherville Lincoln Central two-time state qualifier Nate Evans was the only Midget to make it through the ELC Dual Team Wrestling Tournament unscathed Saturday. The senior recorded one pin and two decisions and received two forfeits to help ELC to a tie for fourth place with Ames.

15 Years Ago

At 4:25 a.m., Wednesday, Jan. 10, Tatyana Taha Sheikh made her appearance into the world. She was the first baby born at Avera Holy Family Hospital in Estherville in the New Year. The daughter of Melissa Albrant and Taha Sheikh of Emmetsburg, Tatyana Taha was a full 9 pounds and 23 inches long.

Time – that's all Estherville Lincoln Central needed to best Western Christian on Friday. Even if it was only about three and a half minutes. The Midgettes won 48-47 over the Wolfpack on a Ricca Soper field goal with 4 seconds to go in the game. It was a good team win and we found a way to get it done," said ELC coach Brad Leonard. Down the stretch, we got some big ones when they counted."

■ Just as one life leaves this world, another enters. Estherville Rotarians saw how eloquently that can happen when they toured the nearly-remodeled hospice and OB areas at Avera Holy Family Hospital Thursday. Fellow Rotarians who are Avera employees and other Avera staff offered a window into two relatively unknown to much of the community - until those services are needed, of course. Carol Hagedorn told how the hospice helps manage patient symptoms as well as offering assistance for families for up to a year after a hospice patient passes on.

After tough games against Bishop Heelan and Jackson County Central, the Class 2A second-ranked Estherville Lincoln Central girls learned a couple lessons or perhaps just refocused as Newell-Fonda came to town. The Mustangs were coming off a 47-43 victory over previously unbeaten Sioux Central on Tuesday. The Midgets brought the visitors back down to earth with a 66-35 victory on Thursday.
