UT President Randy Boyd greets descendants of UT President Harcourt Morgan on June 7, 2021. The family was in Knoxville to mark the centennial of the UT agriculture building named in Morgan's honor. Shaking Boyd's hand is Harcourt Morgan's granddaughter Lucy-Fay Morgan Hinds with her sister, Sarah Lanier Davis, visible to the left. Both are residents of Lewisburg. Standing to Boyd's is Hinds' son and Harcourt Morgan great grandson Jason Hinds of Lynnville.

Jacy Hinds recreates the role of her great grandfather, Harcourt Morgan Jr., as she applies mortar to seal in Morgan Hall's cornerstone, as a member of UT Facilities Services looks on. Jacy is the daughter of Jason and Brandy Hinds of Lynnville.

A celebration of a building, and the family connected to it

A handful of family members in Lewisburg and Lynnville have received some special recognitions at the University of Tennessee Institute of Agriculture in Knoxville, including on Monday this week.

The family members are all descendants of former UT agriculture leader and UT President Harcourt Morgan, who led the university from 1919 to 1934. This year, the building named in his honor, Morgan Hall, is being celebrated for marking 100 years of service as the home and headquarters of UT's statewide programs in agriculture.

On June 7, Lucy-Fay Morgan Hinds and Sarah Lanier Morgan Davis of Lewisburg were guests of honor at the building's Centennial Celebration. The two are granddaughters of Harcourt Morgan. Also in the special party were Morgan's great-grandson, Jason C. Hinds, with wife Brandy, and their daughters (and Morgan's two great- great-granddaughters), Jacy and Kaly Hinds, all of Lynnville. Davis' husband, Phil, also was a member of the party.

Some 120 faculty, staff and students took part in celebration on June 7, with another 1,700 alumni and friends watching a livecast on Facebook. Much excitement at the event surrounded the opening of a time capsule that was installed in 1919, during Morgan Hall's construction. The capsule, the remains of its contents, and duplicates of the contents from UT archives were displayed at the celebration, alongside a new time capsule planned to be installed in 2021. Items in the original time capsule included photographs of Harcourt Morgan and the UT president who preceded him, Brown Ayres. Student agriculture magazines and a listing of university courses were also in the capsule.

On Monday of this week, descendants of Harcourt Morgan returned to Knoxville to be guests of honor again. This time they oversaw the installation of the new time capsule, meant to be opened in 2121. They also joined university leaders, faculty, staff and students in recreating a photograph taken in 1919 when the first time capsule was installed. In that photo, a very young Harcourt Morgan Junior applied mortar to seal the building's cornerstone in place. The time capsule was installed behind that cornerstone.

In Monday's ceremony, Harcourt Morgan Junior's great granddaughters, Jacy and Kaly, did the honors. Three Knoxville television crews were on hand to record them doing so, as was a reporter and photographer from the Knoxville News Sentinel.

Commission handles routine agenda

By Scott Pearson Associate Editor

County Commission worked quickly through the fairly routine issues before it on Monday evening.

Six of the 14 items authorized County Mayor Mike Keny to apply for various grants available through the state on behalf of the Marshall County Office of Emergency Management.

Commissioner Mickey King said that time frames for grants were often very short, making it advisable to preapprove the authorizations without having to wait for a monthly commission meeting.

Commissioners firmed the nominations of Leon Finley to serve as chair of the civil service committee and of Kirk Kelso to the county planning commission.

The commission approved a resolution establishing adult entertainment regulations for the county. In the late 1990s, the commission adopted a general framework for such regulations, following a Despite a sizable state law passed at the agenda, the Marshall time, but had never finisned the process by appointing a committee or adopting regulations.

> In an interview later, Keny explained that the County Technical Assistance Service pointed out that it was better for the county to have regulations in place if such an establishment was proposed than to try and regulate after the fact.

> He emphasized that passing the regulations was not indicative of any such business looking to locate in the county.

Commissioner Dean Delk celebrated several Forrest High School athletes for their accomplishments during the last school year.

The presentation had been delayed more than once, he noted.

The state champion softball team, the nationally competitive cheerleading squad, and two-time wrestling state champion Noah Hill were honored by the commission.

LES honored for excellence

The Lewisburg City Council honored Lewisburg Electric Service at its last monthly meeting with a resolution celebrating the utility for "exceptional electric reliability." For 2019 and 2020, LES was ranked as the top electric utility in the state for reliability by the American Public Power Association. The APPA also designated LES as a Reliable Public Power Provider, based on reliability, safety, workforce development, and system improvement. LES is one of 108 utilities of the more than 2,000 APPA members to receive the designation this year. LES is also within the top six percent of 153 utilities in the Tennessee Valley Authority service area for lowest rates for electrical service. Pictured: Director Brad Medley and LES employees were present at the meeting to receive a copy of the resolution from Mayor Jim Bingham.

Ford elected Jr Vice-Commander at VFW State Convention

Hundley L. Ford, Sr. was elected to the position of Jr. Vice-Commander during the Veterans of Foreign Wars Department of Tennessee convention in Nashville on June 19, 2021.

As Jr. Vice-Commander, Ford is now in the line of succession to become State Commander of the Tenn. VFW in 2023. He will be only the second African-American to do so in Tennessee.

At the time of the elections, he was also serving as Commander of VFW 5th District.

Celebration

The Institute of Agriculture plans to feature the new photo this fall in its alumni and friends' magazine. A copy also will be preserved in the university archives.

The family brought a large portrait of Harcourt Morgan to donate to the university. The painting was gratefully received and plans are to display it in a prominent place in Morgan Hall's main cor-

While Lucy-Fay Morgan Hinds and her sister, Sarah Lanier Morgan Davis, were unable to attend Monday's ceremony, the family was well-represented. There to take part in the festivities were:

· Jason C. Hinds and wife Brandy and daughters Jacy and Kaly, all of Lynnville, Tennessee.

· Another Harcourt Morgan great-grandson: Morgan Davis, son of Sarah and Phil Davis, of Charlotte, North Caro-

· And Harcourt Morgan great-granddaughter, Beth Boles, daughter

Davis and Phil Davis, with husband Brian Boles of Nashville, Tennessee.

When the Institute of Agriculture began preparations for the centennial observances, organizers were unaware there were living Harcourt Morgan descendants. A nephew of one of the granddaughters saw a mention of the upcoming Centennial Celebration in a newspaper and alerted the two granddaughers. Lucy-Fay called the Institute's leader, Tim Cross, UT senior vice president and senior vice chancellor. She asked if it would be OK for the family to attend.

"Not only did I tell her it would be OK for the family to attend," Cross says. "I told her it would not be OK for them not to attend!'

Having the Harcourt descendants Morgan present for both the Centennial Celebration and then this Monday's time capsule installation and photo recreation made the event more exciting and far more special for everyone concerned. Members of the family say they've made new friends at UT, and many members of the Institute of Agriculture feel the same about the Hinds, Davis and Boles family members they've had the good fortune to

DREMC membership elects Zone 5 board member

Duck River Electric Membership Corporation (DREMC) announces the re-election of incumbent board director Lyn Stacey to serve another three-year term a representative of Marshall and Giles counties.

Stacey, a Marshall County native, was first elected to the DREMC Board of Directors in 2018. He was confirmed as the winner of the 2021 election with 124 votes, over candidate R.L. Williams who received 49 votes, following five days of voting held at the DREMC Lewisburg and Chapel Hill offices. "Congratulations to the candidates on their campaigns," said Barry Cooper, DREMC Chairman of the Board. "We welcome Lyn back and look forward to serving with him again. On behalf of the board, I would like to thank both candidates for the time and effort they invested in running for this seat—it is a true testament to their commitment to serving their community."

Stacey is currently the Technology Education Director at Spot Lowe Technology Center within the Marshall County school system and has previously served as a teacher and administrator in Marshall and Maury counties. His family also raises soybeans, corn and wheat on their 950-acre farm in Marshall County. The DREMC Board of Directors is comprised of 13 directors, who have fiduciary responsibility for the cooperative.

"And of His fullness have all we received, and grace for grace." - John

All believers have a relationship with God based upon grace. The world has redefined grace suggesting that it's ignoring our wrongs. But the Bible speaks of grace as the free gift of God's love and favor given to the unworthy (Romans 3:24; 5:15). In short, grace is God giving the sinner what he or she does not deserve. We experienced grace when we were first drawn to the Lord Jesus Christ as our Savior. However, grace extends beyond our salvation experience. Notice that John emphasized "grace for grace." Simply put, God has given the believer a super-abundance of grace. So much so, that grace impacts our entire life whereby we walk in grace everyday. Yet religion puts us in bondage and smothers out grace by controlling our conscience and giving us a "works in order to please God" mentality.

A lady came to her pastor and confessed that she knew that she is supposed to read her Bible but she didn't want to. The pastor asked, "Does this happen often?" She replied, "All the time." The pastor said, "Okay, for the next two days don't read your Bible, and after that if you still don't want to read your Bible - don't!" She looked at him puzzled. Then he said, "I tell you what, your Heavenly Father loves you so much that He doesn't want to put an extra burden on you. So right now let's pray and tell God that you don't want to read the Bible and you're not going to. He will understand." So the pastor bowed his head and said, "Go ahead, pray and tell God." Silence! Then he looked up and said again, "Go on, tell God." Then she cried, "No! I want to read my Bible!" What the lady didn't realize was that her "want to" was always in her heart but religious obligations upon her conscience squashed her desire to be free to read God's word. It has been said that, "Obligation kills inspiration." When we approach our Christian life as "ought to" or "supposed to" then we have abandoned the joy of Christ and have embraced the bondage of religious duties. Jesus Christ Himself was not a fan of religion. In fact it was the religious people who crucified Him. Religion controls the believer's conscience by saying, "Since you're a Christian you are supposed to read your Bible, you're supposed to go to church, and you're supposed to pray!" Obviously, that is manipulation by guilt - the opposite of "grace for grace." When we realize that we are free in Christ we see our responsibilities as a privilege and not as an obligation.

Walking in grace!

Dear child of God, do you look at your Christian life through the lens of obligations to God, or through the lens of grace - loving God back? Walking in God's grace frees us up to love and be love, as well as to serve and be served.

Forrest Alumni Association holds annual banquet

Chapel Hill!

On Saturday evening, friends gathered to

What a great night in July 31, 2021, over 150 reminisce, enjoy a great Forrest alumni and meal, honor the classes graduating 25 (1996) and 50 (1971) years ago, recognize our 2021 scholarship winners, and remember those members of the Forrest family that had passed away since our previous meeting in 2019!

Because we were unable to meet last year due to Covid restrictions, the Classes of 1995 and 1970 were also honored.

Ricky Daughrity ('70), Phil Comstock ('71) and Jason Spitzley ('96) shared with the group their favorite memories from their respective classes.

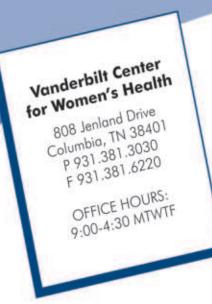

Jennifer Lynch, scholarship chair, introduced our scholarship winners and presented them with their checks. The winners shared with the group where they planned to attend college and what they planned to study. Congratulations to this great group of young people!

The names of our 65 deceased members were read and a carnation was placed in each person's memory. The evening concluded with the singing of our Alma Mater.

Thank you to our president, Nicole Lowe, and our alumni officers for their dedication and hard work in preparation for this memorable evening!

Gabriele B. Grossl, M.D., a specialist in obstetrics and gynecology, has joined the medical staff at Maury associated with Vanderbilt Center for Women's Health in Columbia. The employees, medical staff and volunteers welcome Dr. Grossl to our

Are you ready for some (gambling ads during) football?

By Danny Tyree

According to the Wall Street Journal, the fledgling online gambling industry is poised to explode in popularity. This season, the NFL for the first time is permit-t i n g sportscompa-nies to advertise during games.

I don't envy the precarious position the league has placed itself in. Their balancing act involves delicately rationing the number of wagering commercials per game so they can rake in big bucks -- while stopping just short of alienating the fuddy-duddy ŇON-GAMBLERS in their fanbase. If this exercise in fence-straddling succeeds, there will undoubtedly be more compromises by the NFL, NBA, MLB, NHL and the rest. ("Yes, we stand behind our decision to ban the offensive mascot – BUT there will be a permanent surcharge on tickets so he can live out his life happy and free on a farm up-

I won't lose any sleep over the reception of the ads, because I am such a tightwad and "get high on life" person that betting on sports is a nonissue for me.

I know, I know. I'm "missing out." Brain scans show all the "pleasure centers" in the brain lighting up when a gambler takes a risk (win or lose). I'm more concerned about my brain's YBD centers. ("You Big Dummy! You could have renewed a magazine subscription with what you blew on that fantasy sports league!")

I suppose I'm just wired differently than most people. Yes, I have the standard "fight or flight" instinct common to mankind, but I don't add the "or flush your Roth IRA down the toilet" instinct.

I realize I'm obligated to PROVE something to myself or my compatriots by making expert wagers, but all I've proved is that I can't cram all those sports statistics into my head AND retain the ability to walk and chew gum at the same time.

Normal people have tried talking some sense into me. ("Hey, you gamble when you eat a sausage you could choke on. You gamble when you pull out of the driveway. You gamble when you show up at a workplace where someone could go postal.") Surprisingly, this "pep talk" does not make me feel like a reborn toxic male who should lay $20 down on the Bengals. It makes me feel more like a blue-haired little old lady tugging the slot machine handle.

I try to empathize with people who are adrenaline junkies, but it's not easy. Look at in-person gambling. You can have a bounty hunter, a decorated Vietnam veteran, a sex-reassignment surgeon and a fellow who claims to have died and spent 12 hours in heaven, all sitting around a poker table – but things don't "get interesting" until someone adds a little more money to the pot! Forest for the trees,

One article I studied said the quiet part out loud: many sports "enthusiasts" aren't particularly interested in the games UNLESS they have money on the line. Forget millionaires giving each other concussions and coaches improvising strategy. Forget supporting the home team. It's the wager.

Oooo-KAY. But if I lose interest in watching paint dry, I daresay I'll move on to more promising entertainment, instead of dreaming up some bells and whistles to add to the paint! But that's just me.

Remember: watch gambling ads responsibly. And if you drink, don't drive over bluehaired little old ladies.

Or I'm going upside your brain's pleasure

County GOP essay contest winners

The Marshall County Republican Party (MCRP) would like to congratulate the 2021 recipients of the Marshall County Republican Party Scholarship. This year's essay contest winners are Layne Bowman of Forrest High School, Lily Smith of Marshall County High School, and Cooper Wright of Cornersville High School.

Mr. Bowman aspires to a career as an electrical engineer after earning his degree from Tennessee Technical University. Miss Smith will attend Rhodes College in Memphis with plans to pursue a career as an Optometrist. Mr. Wright is looking forward to earning his degree in Marine Biology at the University of North Alabama.

Craig Blackwell, Vice Chairman of the MCRP, chaired the Scholarship Committee. He says that he enjoys serving on this committee as "one often wonders what our young people are thinking and these essays reassure us about our country's future. These essays encourage our seniors to keep up with current events, to research the issues and to be informed about what is going on.'

Also serving on the Scholarship Committee were Lee Ann Duval, Robin Minor, Patty Parsons and Walt Redding. When thanked for volunteering her time on the committee, Patty Parsons said it was her pleasure, and that "serving on the committee had been an eye opening experience as I saw how hard our seniors had worked, not just on the context essay but also the impressive volunteer hours and their academic dedication to achieve their high ACT scores. They are ready for their next step in

The Marshall County Republican Party is honored to be able to help three seniors with their next step in life through this scholarship program. MCRP awards one $500 scholarship for each of the three high school districts in Marshall County. The scholarship program is available to all college or technical school bound public, private, and home school senior students. Recipients are chosen via an essay contest.

Mr. Bowman and Mr. Wright read their winning essays and received their scholarship check during the MCRP meeting on June 15. State Senator Shane Reeves and State Representative Todd Warner, both supporters of the MCRP Scholarship program, were on hand to present the scholarships. Miss Smith presented her essay and received her scholarship during the MCRP meeting on July 20,

Tigers outlast Columbia's comeback bid

By Chris Siers sports@t-g.com

COLUMBIA — Starting the season off with the win is every coach and team's goal, but for the Marshall County Tigers, the cost might have been high in Friday night's 30-23 win at Columbia.

"Winning is so tough. Any time you can start the year off with the win you're tickled to death. The only way to say it is we gutted out a win," Tigers' coach Thomas Osteen

In a bizarre second half, the Tigers saw not one, but two quarterbacks go down with injuries.

After Columbia tied the game at 23 apiece with less than seven minute to go, the Tigers recovered a fumble on the Lions' 39-yard line with just 4:25 left in regulation.

From there, Marshall County settled into its offense and was able to move the ball down field with chunk plays.

On a third and short, senior quarterback Bryson Hammons scrambled for 15 yards and picked up the first down, but was tackled along the sideline and went down with an injury.

He did not return to the

With Hammons' injury, Osteen turned to Devonte' Davis to lead the Tiger offense.

He did just that and promptly marched the ball deep into Columbia territory, highlighted by a 34-yard pass completion to Lamarion Pierce.

After pushing the ball down to the Columbia one-yard line, Davis was tackled in the backfield and went down with an injury.

He also did not return to

"Two of our best players, Bryson Hammons and Devonte' (Davis) banged up. It's a long season and they're some of the best players in Middle Tennessee. We'll know more about them next week,"

Tiger quarterback Bryson Hammons drops back for a pass and delivers a strike to Devonte' Davis.

Osteen said.

Even with two of the top Tiger playmakers sidelined, Marshall County kept its composure and with 1:04 left on the clock, Pierce was able to bounce to the outside and hit the corner pylon for the game-winning touchdown.

Wyatt Joyce connected on his fourth point after to secure the seven-point lead.

"We played three quarterbacks in a series of about four plays. Hats off to those kids for being ready to go when their time was called. We had enough composure there to put it in," Osteen said. Prior to the second-half ter Joyce's successful kick.

drama, Marshall County looked to be in cruise control through much of the game.

Three plays into regulation, Davis picked off Lion quarterback Luke Uselton and returned it 25 yards for the first score of the night.

The Lions evened the score with a Christian Biggers twoyard run with one minute left in the first quarter, which capped off a nine-play drive.

Marshall County retook the lead at the 9:41 mark of the second quarter when Hammons connected with Davis for a 35-yard touchdown pass to put the Tigers up 14-7 af-

The Tigers added a third touchdown of the night after a botched Lions' snap on fourth down set Marshall County up on the Columbia 11-yard line.

Marshall County pushed the ball to the one-yard line but after back-to-back goal line stands, Davis took a direct snap and was able to slice his way to the end zone to put the Tigers up 21-7 with 5:56 left in the third.

And that's when things began to go awry.

After forcing a Lion punt with 4:16 left in the third, Marshall County once again established some rhythm in the offense and appeared to be in cruise control until Columbia came up with an interception on the Marshall County two-yard line.

The very next play, a bad snap allowed the Tigers to swarm Uselton in the end zone and come up with the safety, stretching the lead to 23-7 by the end of the third quarter. That following drive, however, stalled out and Marshall County was forced to punt the ball back to Columbia. The Lions took that possession 80 yards in less than two minutes to the end zone, ▶ See Tigers Page B2

Bulldogs outmuscle rival Richland in opener

By Chris Siers sports@t-g.com

CORNERSVILLE — It became clear to Cornersville coach Gerard Randolph early on in Thursday night's Battle of Buford Station that Richland had sold out on stopping senior fullback Cason Warner.

With the Raiders keying on Warner, that opened up the playbook for Ben Franklin to have a breakout night—and did he ever.

The sophomore bulldozer rushed for 199 yards and three touchdowns in the Bulldogs' 31-7 romp over Rich-

"I'm very proud of that kid and the way he ran the ball tonight. He works hard in practice every day. I'm just glad he (Franklin) got the opportunity to showcase his talents tonight. We knew he could be a force and he stepped up big when we needed him tonight," Randolph said.

With torrential drowning the greater Cornersville area earlier in the afternoon, the field became a sloppy mud pit, creating all the more opportunities for miscues by both teams.

Having deteriorating field conditions, it took a while for the Bulldogs to gain momentum on the offensive side of the ball. Cornersville's first drive of the night ended in a three and out punt barely 1:15 into the game. The second drive, however, ended a 15-play drive with a 31-yard field goal by Mason Calahan with 11:40 left in the first half.

the Rockets up 14-0 in the third quarter.

The Forrest Rockets used a stingy defense, a power running game, and some great special teams' work that resulted in a hard fought 14-0 win in Friday night's season opener at Eagleville.

It was the fourth straight win for the Rockets over the Eagles and only the second shutout in the series, dating back to 2003.

"It was not pretty, but our kids kept fighting and got the job done at the end and got a big win over one of our rivals," Forrest coach Eli Stephenson said. "It wasn't pretty and we have a lot of work to do on both sides of the Forrest also notched a road blanking over the Eagles by the same score in 2007.

The Rockets' defense gave up a measly 80 yards to an Eagleville offense that was without its best weapon in senior quarterback Marcus Collins, who was out due to illness.

On the gas

What they did do was score on their first offensive play of the game as junior tailback Brenton Burchell waited all spring and summer for his moment and when it happened he took full advantage, taking the handoff and sprinting to the outside where he outran the entire Eagleville secondary down the visitor's sideline for a 75-yard touchdown. "That was pretty good, that was really sweet,"

The Eagleville defense was stout as well and held the Rockets in check with two first half fumble recoveries and a big offensive pass interference call down in the red zone that killed the Rockets' final drive of the first half.

Columbia needed just two plays to find paydirt again, this time coming on a 38-yard pass reception by Kayden McCoy.

Uselton's successful two-point conversion knotted the game at 23-apiece with 6:53 left.

In addition to battling injuries among some of the Tigers' top players, Marshall County and Columbia were both plagued with cramps throughout the entire game.

"I feel like we're playing in a sauna tonight. We had a multitude of guys out for various reasons tonight. So we had a bunch of guys that played both ways with no backups. Hats off to them for finding a way to gut it out," Osteen said.

Both teams were also plagued with penalties, combining for 30 flags and over 230 penalty yards.

After punting, Cornersville's defense forced a turnover on downs after Richland attempted a fake punt that set the Bulldog offense up on the Richland 35-yard line.

Warner finished off the following drive, finally breaking into the end zone on a sixyard outside run with 9:33 left in the game.

He successfully ran in his second two-point conversion, putting Cornersville up 25-7.

From there, it became a feast of riches as the Bulldog secondary recorded its third interception of the night, courtesy of Blaine Woodard.

That following drive needed just three plays for Franklin to cap his hat trick with a 21-yard strike for the final touchdown of the night.

In total, Franklin was the spark plug for the offense and recorded 199 yards on 15

Warner added 27 yards on Quarterback Caden White attempted just four passes, but connected with Rhett Woodard on a 34-yard gain in the first half. As a team, Cornersville piled up 292 yards of offense, with 258 coming on the Defensively, Richland managed just 95 yards of total offense against the stingy Bulldog defense.

That effort on the defensive side of the ball, according to Randolph, came from a perhaps overlooked secondary, which has been fuel to the fire.

"We've been talking about the secondary all year. People throw on us because they think we can't defend. We've taken it personally. We want to defend and get turnovers in the secondary. I'm very proud of how the secondary played tonight," he said.

Miller completed just 5-of-19 tries for 49 yards with three interceptions.

In addition to the three interceptions by the Bulldog defense, Warner recorded six solo tackles, including a tackle for loss, while Hunter Fitzgerald chipped in four.

Logan Springer added the team's lone sack of the night.

While there was plenty of positives to take away from Thursday night's opener, Randolph says there's still plenty to clean up before a Week 2 meeting against archrival Forrest.

Cornersville was flagged eight times for 80 yards in the opener and had to work around several botched snaps

"Those are things we can fix and we will definitely work on those this week. We can't keep going through the season and keep doing things like that," he said.

Rivalry victory

While any win is a good win, Thursday night's rivalry win over Richland meant just a little more to Randolph and his team.

"This is a big win for us. Richland—it's a rivalry game. No love lost here. They came to play and we came to play. You never know what you're going to get out of a rivalry game like this. I'm definitely thrilled to come out with a win tonight," he said.

With one rivalry game in the books, the Bulldogs now turn their attention to the north end of the county against arch-rival Forrest.

"I know they're coached up well. We'll have to bring our A-game, cut out a bunch of penalties we had tonight and do what Cornersville football does and that's play fast, physical and aggressive," Randolph said.

The Bulldogs will kick off Friday night at Forrest.

college football's biggest prizes in '21?

By RALPH D. RUSSO

AP College Football Writer

The last three Heisman Trophy winners include the first receiver to win the award in nearly three decades, a quarterback who was the 52nd-rated passer in the country the season before and a first-year starting QB.

The days of the Heisman winner being a well-established star and/or preseason favorite are long gone. Heisman voters embrace the breakout player more than ever before, and in 2021 there is a good chance the winner will again be someone who enters the season without much of track record.

the top 10 of last season's Heisman voting to return to college football in '21 is Iowa State's Breece Hall. Considering recent Heisman trends, the seventhranked Cyclones' running back isn't even the favorite on his team. That would be quarterback

Even with that, some Heisman predictions have those three among the top seven favorites, led by Oklahoma's returning starter, Spencer Rattler. Makes sense. The last three starting

Eagleville had the ball two more times in the fourth quarter and managed just one first down while the Rockets pounded the rock the rest of the game with Bell doing most of the dirty work in running out the clock for the win. "We knew they were wore down and we went right at them in the second half with straight dive iso and some sweeps and it turned out well for us," Stephenson said. "Our kids blocked up right on both sides and got the job done."

Burchell led the rushing attack with seven carries for 84 yards, Bell toted the rock 15 times for 80 yards, Swift had 46 yards on 14 carries, Chris Davis ran the ball five times for 30 yards, McCalister Wilson had two carries for five yards, and quarterback Hunter Bennett had four yards on two touches. Bennett had two completions in the game, throwing for 11 yards Christian Hammond and two yards to Burchell out of the backfield.

Hammond had a huge punting night with three kicks for 126 yards and nice 42-yard average.

Brody McLemore led the Eagles with 36 yards on 12 carries.

Things don't get any easier for the Rockets this week as the host the Cornersville Bulldogs at the Murrey E. Holton Memorial Field in Chapel Hill for the latest installment of the Battle of the North and South. "I'm glad we are 1-0

"I know they are looking forward to it and I know we are looking forward to it too, so I'm just ready for a big crowd when we renew the rivalry in the Battle of the North and South."

The Bulldogs blasted Richland 31-7 in its season opener Thursday night at a soggy Frog Bottom.

"It going to be awesome, it's going to be fun, it's going to be electric playing a home game at The Rock," Burchell said.

ACC, Big Ten, Pac-12 ally to 'protect the collegiate model'

AP College Football Writer

Facing a rapidly shifting landscape in college sports, the Atlantic Coast Conference, Big Ten and Pac-12 have agreed to work together to create stability during volatile times. Less than a month after the Southeastern Conference made an expansion power play by inviting Texas and Oklahoma to the league, three of the SEC's Power Five peers countered with an alliance of 41 schools that span from Miami to Seattle.

The commissioners of the ACC, Big Ten and Pac-12 on Tuesday pledged broad collaboration on myriad issues and committed to league members playing more football and basketball games against each other.

They also suggested they wouldn't be poaching each other's

"The history of college athletics, one expansion of a conference has usually led to another to another and to another," ACC Commissioner Jim Phillips said during a video conference. "There's no contract. There's no signed document," Pac-12 Commissioner George Kliavkoff said. "There's an agreement among three gentlemen and a commitment from 41 presidents and chancellors and 41 athletic directors to do what we say we're going to do.'

The SEC sent shockwaves through college athletics in July when it was revealed that Texas and Oklahoma would be leaving the Big 12 to join the nation's most powerful football conference no later than 2025.

"I wouldn't say this is a reaction to Texas and Oklahoma joining the SEC, but to be totally candid you have to evaluate what's going on in the landscape of college athletics," Big Ten Commissioner Kevin Warren said.

In a statement, SEC Commissioner Greg Sankey said: "We have respect for each of our conference colleagues and look forward to our future collaborations. I believe we remain unified by our shared beliefs around the positive impact college sports has on the lives of student-athletes throughout our communities."

could lead the Power Five to shrink to four.

"We want and need the Big 12 to do well," Phillips said. "The Big 12 matters in college athletics."

But it will not be part of the alliance.

The alliance also is being formed as the NCAA shakes off a Supreme Court loss and considers handing off more responsibility to conferences and schools to run college sports. The NCAA Board of Governors has called a special constitutional convention in November, the first step toward what could be sweeping reform and a decentralized governance model.

"We did the alliance to protect the collegiate model," said Kliavkoff, who is only in his second month on the job of leading the Pac-12 after serving as president of sports and entertainment for MGM Resorts International in Las

There is also a proposal to expand the College Football Playoff from four to 12 teams currently in the pipeline. The proposal was crafted by Sankey, Big 12 Commissioner Bob Bowlsby, Mountain West Commissioner Craig Thompson and Notre Dame athletic director Jack Swarbrick, and unveiled publicly in June.

Kliavkoff and Warren both said their conferences support playoff expansion, while Phillips said the ACC had not landed on a final

The commissioners and university presidents are scheduled to meet in late September in Chicago to discuss what comes next for the expansion proposal.

This is not a voting bloc," Kliavkoff said of the alliance in a brief interview with AP. "We've not committed to voting together on anything. We've committed to discuss all of these issues, and to try to come up with solutions that are in the best interest of long-term college ath-

"I'd be surprised if we come to different conclusions with respect to how we think about CFP expansion, but it's not a voting bloc."

The scheduling piece could lead to numerous nonconference football games each season and multiple team events in basketball involving ACC, Big Ten and Pac-12 teams, potentially creating new and valuable television inven-

But that could take time to come together, especially in football.

Nonconference football schedules are typically made years in advance and many schools already have mostly full slates in the coming seasons. The commissioners said they did not expect their schools to break contracts to accommodate new agreements within the alliance nor would they prohibit members from scheduling schools from other leagues.

LSU to require vaccine, recent test to enter stadium

By The Associated Press

LSU has become the third Power 5 school to announce that it will require fans attending games who are 12 or older to provide proof of vaccination from COVID-19 or a recent negative test. The university said the decision, announced Tuesday, came after consultation with Gov. John Bel Edwards, LSU President William F. Tate IV, LSU's Board of Supervisors, the Tiger Athletic Foundation and Athletic director Scott Woodward. "While we are aware of the diverse perspectives across the nation regarding masks and vaccinations, we must take all reasonable measures to protect our campus and community," Tate said. "The current threat to our lives, our health, and to our medical systems due to COVID-19 is overburdening our hospitals, and we must do our part to stop the spread."

Last week, Oregon and Oregon State became the first Power Five schools to announce those restrictions for fans attending football

LSU's policy, the first such announced by a Southeastern Conference school, will be in effect when the Tigers play their home opener on Sept. 11 against Mc-Neese State.

Specifically, it requires proof of at least one dose of a vaccine that has received full or emergency use approval from the U.S. Food and Drug Administration, or a negative COVID-19 PCR test within 72 hours of arrival at the stadium.

Masks will be required for children ages has a daughter who is 5 to 11 and encouraged immunocompromised.

LSU has not yet decided whether older fans who meet vaccination or testing requirements for admission to Tiger Stadium will be required to wear masks at the 102,000-seat, outdoor venue. The university plans to release COVID-19 protocol updates for athletic events starting Friday on its sports website, lsus-

The policy is subject to change as circumstances in Louisiana change during the season. As of Tuesday afternoon, 3,814 new COVID-19 cases were being reported in Louisiana, while 2,856 people in the state were hospitalized with the virus, according to the Louisiana Department of Health.

Those not fully vaccinated accounted for 80% of COVID-19 deaths from Aug. 5-11, the department said.

"Our football team has reached 99.1% vaccination, and we are incredibly proud of them for doing their part to protect their team and their community," Woodward said. "We are confident our fans will do the same."

At Auburn, defensive coordinator Derek Mason said he has tested positive for COVID-19, like head coach Bryan Harsin. Mason said in a Twitter post that he is fully vaccinated and has recovered. He is urging others to get the shots.

Harsin has declined to reveal whether he has been vaccinated. Mason says he has lost two family members to COVID-19 and that he

Falcons sign Rosen to bolster QB roster

FLOWERY BRANCH, Ga. (AP) — Former Arizona Cardinals firstround pick Josh Rosen has signed with the Atlanta Falcons and will compete to open the season as the backup quarterback.

Rosen replaces AJ McCarron, who was placed on injured reserve on Tuesday. The Falcons said Sunday an MRI showed McCarron suffered an ACL injury to his right knee in Saturday night's 37-17 preseason loss to the Miami Dolphins.

Rosen, 24, was the No. 10 overall pick by Arizona in the 2018 (backslash)draft. Rosen lasted only one season with the Cardinals, starting 13 games in 2018 and throwing 11 touchdowns with 14 interceptions.

Rosen was traded to Miami, where he started three games in 2019, throwing five interceptions and one touchdown pass. He was waived by the San Francisco 49ers on Aug. 17 and also spent time with Tampa Bay, making the Falcons his fifth team in four seasons.

Rosen completed a of his passes for 2,845 yards with 12 touchdowns and 19 interceptions in his two seasons with Arizona and Mi-

McCarron shared time with rookie Feleipe Franks in the Falcons' first two preseason games. Starter Matt Ryan has not played.

The Falcons were off Tuesday. Rosen is expected to join practice on Wednesday and play in Sunday's final preseason game against Cleveland.

"Depending on who we sign, they'll be ready to go, depending on what we want to do," coach Arthur Smith said on Monday of plans for the quarterbacks against the Browns.

Smith said he could add another quarterback next week, when teams will be making their final roster cuts. The Falcons on Tuesday also cut running back Javian Hawkins, outside linebacker Shareef Miller, defensive lineman Olive Sagapolu, wide receiver Austin Trammell and offensive lineman Willie Wright. The moves left the roster at 80 players.

Etienne out for season following foot injury give him plenty of time on him to have similar

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. — Travis Etienne was supposed to be a game-changer for the Jacksonville Jaguars

He might not have had the same impact as rookie quarterback Trevor Lawrence, but Clemson's other offensive star and the Atlantic Coast Conference's all-time leading rusher looked like he would be a prominent figure maybe even the go-to guy — in coach Urban Meyer's offense. Matchup nightmare? Versatile weapon? Bigplay threat? Etienne was expected to provide all those and more after Jacksonville chose him with the 25th overall pick in April's NFL Now, though, Meyer and the Jaguars will have to wait a year to see what Etienne can do in the NFL. The team placed the running back on injured reserve Tuesday, one day after he suffered a Lisfranc injury to his left foot. Etienne sprained his foot during Monday night's loss at New Orleans.

Tests revealed the extent of the injury Tuesday. He is expected to have surgery as soon as possible. He may have been able to return late in the year, but the Jaguars opted to take a cautious approach and to recover before the 2022 season. Since Etienne landed on IR before 53-man rosters get set next Tuesday, he can not return this season. Losing Etienne is a significant setback for the Jaguars, who planned to use him to create mismatches as a receiver in the slot and as a change-of-pace back.

Etienne tallied 4,952 vards in four seasons at Clemson. He also set ACC records for rushing touchdowns (70), total touchdowns (78) and points scored (468). He scored at least one touchdown in 46 of 55 career games, and the Jaguars were counting success as a rookie. He was essentially uncoverable out of the backfield in training camp and one of Lawrence's favorite targets near the goal line. Etienne also had been part of a three-back rushing attack for Jacksonville, sharing carries with starter James Robinson and backup Carlos Hyde. But Etienne has more speed and elusiveness than either of the other two and would have played a major role.

Replacing Etienne won't be easy, if even with his skillset.

7 must-have pantry items that will elevate your baking recipes

(StatePoint) If your casual baking hobby has turned into an obsession, you're in good company. Baking swept the nation as a way to pass the time in 2020, with an overwhelming 84% of respondents identifying as bakers in an endof-year Packaged Facts survey of Americans.

However, there's a difference between good and great baking, and it all starts with what's in your pantry. According to the Baking at Home experts, here are seven must-have items you need to take your athome recipes for breads, cobblers, cakes and more to the next level, as well as tips for using these pantry essentials to their fullest potential.

1. A flour-based baking spray: As every home baker knows, one of the trickiest steps of any recipe is the final one – releasing your treat from the pan without damaging it. If you've had a few failed attempts, you may have seen your creations go from masterpieces to flops in just a few short, heartbreaking seconds. To stick the landing every time, (and never see your efforts go to waste again) try using a flour-based baking spray like Baker's Joy for an easy release from the pan, and faster, more successful baking overall.

2. Shortening: While many view shortening and butter as interchangeable, they're not the same. Be sure to reach for shortening any time you want your recipe to rise high and retain its shape or to attain that perfect flaky pastry or crust. Making plant-based swaps? An all-vegetable shortening like Crisco can be successfully used in place of butter for an all-vegetable twist on classic recipes.

3. Baking powder: The workhorse of many recipes, one can't overstate the importance of a dependable, doubleacting baking powder. To that end, stick with tried-and-true brands like Clabber Girl, which has been making pastry perfection for over 100 years. Pro tip: quickly test baking powder's efficacy by mixing a teaspoon with hot water. No fizzing reaction? Time to toss it.

4. Baking soda: Baking soda is the wild and more potent cousin of baking powder, so it's important not to get them mixed up, especially as baking soda is often specifically called for in recipes containing an acid (think buttermilk and citrus.) While there are many liberties you can take in the kitchen, guessing how much baking soda to use is not one of them. Always measure the exact amount listed to avoid a bitter taste in your finished product.

5. Premium spices, seasonings and herbs: Any serious baker worth their salt will have a "go big or go home" mentality when it comes to spices. Give dishes extra depth by culling your collection to include only high-quality selections that pack a punch, like Spice Islands. Remember, keeping spices dry prolongs flavor, so place your rack in a cool, dry place away from oven heat.

6. Molasses: When mixed with white sugar, molasses can make a great substitute for brown sugar, but that's just one of its many uses. A pantry staple and American tradition, it's vital in dishes where moist consistency and depth of flavor are essential, such as pecan pie or gingerbread. Molasses from iconic brands like Grandma's Molasses can also be the oohsand-aahs-provoking secret ingredient that has friends and family reaching for seconds.

reaching for seconds.
7. Vanilla extract:
Whether you're cutting back on added sugars or you're simply low on the sweet stuff, you can use vanilla extract as a flavorful, better-for-you sugar substitute.

With a well-stocked pantry and a good understanding of your ingredients, your creations will come out just the way you want them, every time.

Top tips for homeowners to prep financially for natural disasters

(StatePoint) Climate change is making natural disasters more extreme, from extending the duration of disaster seasons to increasing the intensity of fires, storms and floods. Indeed, the U.S. Geological Survey notes that with increasing global surface temperatures, the intensity of storms will likely increase. The agency also predicts coastal flooding to double in the coming decades.

Health and safety are first priorities after a disaster, but financial resilience is critical too. If you're a homeowner -- or a prospective homeowner -- here's how you can get

• Compile documents: Assemble important financial documents. Store paper copies of all files in a fireproof and waterproof box or safe, or in a bank safe deposit box. Consider making digital copies for easy accessibility. Store these in a password-protected format on a removable flash or external hard drive, in your fireproof and waterproof box or safe, in a bank safe deposit box, or with a secure cloud-based service.

• Understand your insurance coverage: Having adequate insurance will ensure protection in times of need. The extent of your coverage will depend on where you live and what types of disasters your location may be at risk for. Review your policy annually and make changes or additions as needed.

• Update documents: Regularly revisit and update documents, particularly if you have significant changes in your life, such as marriage, death or the birth of a child.

• Start saving: If you're able, start saving today. Having an emergency budget allows you to react quickly if you're affected by a disaster. Plus, households that have an emergency savings account tend to fare better overall.

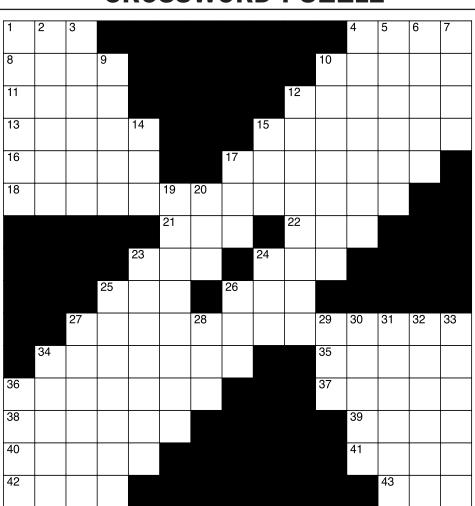

• Go electronic: If you depend on regular benefits such as Social Security, consider switching to electronic benefits to protect yourself should mail service be disrupted during a disaster.

• Know the plans: Stay up-to-date with the emergency plans in your community, children's schools and place of work. Make a communications plan for your own household and share it with all the members of your family.

• Seek disaster relief: If your home has been impacted by a natural disaster, contact your loan servicer right away. Your loan servicer may be able to extend a full range of relief options, including: suspending foreclosures by providing forbearance on your mortgage payments for up to 12 months, waiving assessments of penalties or late fees, and not reporting delinquencies to the nation's credit bureaus. About one month before the end of your forbearance period, contact your mortgage company to determine the most appropriate option for re-establishing your mortgage payments.

• Become a savvy homeowner: Familiarize yourself with how to prepare your home for natural disasters and extreme weather, as well as where to find resources to help recover if disaster strikes. Freddie Mac's My Home website has a comprehensive suite of tools and resources about homeownership, including details on support options if you are struggling to make your mortgage payments, at myhome. freddiemac.com/getting-help.

Natural disasters can strike at any time and with little warning. However, proper preparation can help you weather the storm. CROSSWORD PUZZLE
