Homecoming: A celebration of community

Few events underline the sense of community in Marshall County like high school homecomings, with their related festivities, courts, and parades. Last Friday, thousands lined the streets of Cornersville and Chapel Hill, taking advantage of the cool fall weather and the opportunity to support the youngsters and the schools which form the heart of their communities. Both schools responded with heart on Friday night with Forrest rolling over Summertown 33 to 7 and Cornersville shutting out Collinwood, 21 to 0. Marshall County High School will celebrate homecoming later in the year. Photos from the parades and full coverage of the homecoming games can be found in today's Marshall County Tribune

Tennessee polls public on license plate redesign options

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Tennessee officials are asking the public to pick their favorite of four redesign options for new license plates that will be available starting in January.

Gov. Bill Lee's office says voting began Monday and runs through Sept. 27 at tn.gov/ratetheplates.

The new design will replace the current plate that launched in 2006, with modifications in 2011, 2016 and 2017.

State law includes a redesign every eight years if lawmakers approve funding for it.

Tennessee law also requires the words "Tennessee," "Volunteer State" and "TNvacation.com" to be on the plate, and lets Tennesseans pick an "In God We Trust" option.

The winning design of the primarily white and blue options will he announced in the fall

Five steps to winter annual pasture

Extension Agent

Now is the ideal time of planting winter annual coolseason grasses such as wheat, ryegrass, oats, and cereal rye. These forages are very high quality and can produce excellent gains in young livestock. They are particularly good for providing the nutrition needed for lactation and quick rebreed after calving by beef cows. They provide forage mainly on the back side of winter prior to the spring flush of tall fescue and orchardgrass.

First, determine what kind of winter annual grass is best suited to your location. For our area, the most common winter annuals used are wheat and annual ryegrass.

Wheat is tolerant of heavy, wet soils. Annual ryegrass is tolerant of moderate soil acidity and close, continuous grazing. Both of these species can be planted with clover with good results. They should be planted prior to November 1.

Second, take a soil sample and determine the fertility needs in the field you wish to establish the winter annual grass. To take a good quality soil sample, take at least 15 soil cores in an area no bigger than 40 acres. Soil cores need to be at least four inches deep. Mix the cores well in a bucket and place in a soil box. Phosphorus, potassium and lime requirements can only be determined by a soil test. Nitrogen requirements are made according to production goals. If for just grazing, less nitrogen may be applied than if you are planning to graze and make hay. A basic recommendation would be to apply 30 lbs actual nitrogen per acre at planting, 30-45lbs/acre in early March and another 30 - 45 lbs/acre in late April. Next, prepare a good seedbed. The seedbed could be a conventional planting, minimum till, or no-till. Stand establishment is quicker and production greater with a clean, firm weed-free conventional planting but is the most expensive method. If broadcasting or drilling into warm season grass sods, preparation consists of mowing, haying, or grazing grass short and/or burning down with an herbicide maybe followed by a light disking prior to seeding.

Fourth, select a planting method and use the correct seeding rate. Drilling and broadcasting are the two most common methods for planting. Drilling has the advantage of improved plant spacing, lower seeding rates, better seed contact and proper seeding depth. The disadvantage is the planting time is slower and more investment in equipment. Broadcasting requires that seed is spread over the ground and incorporated either by light disking, culti-packing or a drag. Broadcasting has the advantage of faster planting speed, lower equipment cost, and the ability to spread fertilizer. It will require a higher seeding rate, lack of depth control, and a higher risk of stand failure. For wheat and annual ryegrass, plant seed at 2-3 bushels/acre for wheat and 15 to 25 lbs/acre for annual ryegrass. Use the higher rate for broadcasting.

Plant no deeper than ½ inch. Lastly, select a good variety that is adapted to your area. Try to select one that has produced well over several years and/or locations according to university trials. This information on cool-season winter annuals can be found at utbeef.com. Use good quality certified seed to reduce the risk of stand failure. Following these tips and with a little rain should allow a good chance for productive winter annual grass pasture.

"But after that the kindness and love of God our Savior toward man appeared, Not by works of righteousness which we have done, but according to His mercy He saved us..." Titus Lifeguards place themselves in danger while saving others in danger. For that we are thankful, especially if you were the one rescued from drowning. Along with that, have you ever noticed that we never hear a rescued person say, "I let the lifeguard save me" or "I chose to accept the lifeguard?" Such statements would be the height of arrogance, not to mention that it would demean and dishonor the one who risked their life in the waters to save them. Yet so many professing Christians talk like that about how they were saved.

Ask a professing believer, "How did you become a Christian?" Then take notice of the first thing they say. Many times they say, "I"-"I gave my heart to God. I wanted to change my life. I began reading the Bible. I prayed a prayer. I started going to church. I made my decision for Jesus." Have you ever noticed that in the Bible, no disciple, no apostle, no prophet ever used that kind of language about salvation? Someone may ask, "What about our belief and faith?" Modern Christianity, like Israel of old, drifts away from God's word and gets the cart before the horse. Our belief, our faith, and our trust in Christ are responsive to God's Spirit first making us alive in Christ (Ephesians 2:1,5). Once we have been made spiritually alive in Christ, (also called regeneration or born again), then our belief and faith follows. This truth is seen in the creation of Adam. It was God who first breathed into man's nostrils the breath of life (Genesis 2:7). Do you realize that Adam could have never exhaled if it were not for God first breathing into his nostrils the breath of life? That is the same way with our belief, our faith, and our trust in God. God must first come to us and breathe that spiritual life into us - then we exhale belief, faith, and trust as the response that follows. Why is this so important? It is vitally important because in our opening verses Paul makes it very clear that God gets all the glory for our salvation by the statement "He saved us." This is the heart of the gospel message. In those three words you have the core of the Christian faith. Our salvation is all about "Who God is" and not about "who we are." It is clear, we cannot save ourselves, nor do we participate in our salvation. It cannot be overstated, "He saved us." From beginning to end, salvation is totally a work of God in Christ. Christ is the Author and Finisher of our faith (Hebrews 12:2). So let's not dishonor our Heavenly Lifeguard, and may our answer be to the question, "How were we saved?" be, "He saved me!"

Tigers back on track after thumping Hillwood

By Chris Siers sports@t-g.com

NASHVILLE — After falling to Tullahoma in Week 4 of the 2021 season, the Marshall County Tigers (4-1, 2-1) responded in a big way, thumping Hillwood (0-4, 0-1) on the road to bounce back in the win column, 55-0.

Quarterback Devonte Davis was as efficient as possible, completing all nine of his pass attempts for 214 yards and two touchdowns.

He carried the ball three times for 25 yards and a rushing touchdown as well.

His two passing touchdowns both went to Jayden Hart for 48 and 65 yards.

The Tigers wasted no time, with Davis scoring the game's first touchdown on a 12-yard run. Barely three minutes later, Davis connected with Hart for the 48-yard strike, before Demari Braden scored on a four-yard carry in the final minute of the opening frame. The Tigers found pay dirt two more times in the half, once on Davis' 65-yard bomb to Hart and a final first-half score on a 10-yard carry by Trice Gordon.

Kicker Wyatt Joyce connected on 4-of-5 extra point attempts and the Tigers led 34-0 at the half.

With command of the game well in-hand, the Tigers were able to work the reserves on the field in the second half and there was virtually no let down by the Marshall County offense.

Braden scored his second touchdown of the night early in the third frame on a five-yard carry.

The Tigers scored two more times in the fourth quarter, the first of which came on a two-yard pass from Trey Warner to Markese Davis and a final touchdown by Kamariq Perryman.

Jorge Campuzano and Thomas Beech also were perfect on their extra point attempts as well.

Hart was the top producer in the Tiger pass game, hauling in two catches for 113 yards and a pair of Markese Davis added four catches for 49 yards and a score as well.

In total, the Tigers churned out 194 yards on the ground and were led by Trice Gordon's eight carries for 65 yards.

Rockets run wild past Summertown on Homecoming

By Anthony S. Puca Sports Writer

CHAPEL HILL — The margin of victory was unexpected, but welcomed as the Forrest Rockets easily handled Summertown 33-7 in a Region 5-AA matchup at the Murrey E. Holton Memorial Field in Chapel Hill in Friday night's homecoming game.

"Summertown is a good team, but our kids just came out ready to play," Forrest coach Eli Stephenson said. "They came ready to play in all three phases of the game, we got a score in all three phases of the game and that got us the momentum and we didn't let up." The Rockets ran roughshod over the Eagles in the ground game, rushing the rock 39 times for 268 yards and three touchdowns.

"All of our running backs played great tonight. We were wearing down in the beginning of the game and in the second half we hit some big plays and scored and that was huge for us," Stephenson said.

Senior McCalister Wilson opened the scoring with a 53-yard touchdown jaunt three plays into the contest and Tayton Swift scored on a one-yard run in the third quarter before Liam Bell closed the scoring with a 31-yard touchdown with just over five minutes to play in the third period.

The Rockets won the turnover battle 3-1 with Swift coming up with a first quarter interception. The junior recovered a Summertown fumble on the second half kickoff and then ran the ball into the end zone three plays later.

"We definitely didn't have all the confidence in the world to come out and beat them by 26 points. It's been a close game the last few years now," Swift said. "I have to give it up to our defensive coordinator, coach (Ryan) Bridges. He really did an amazing job of game planning this one." Wilson also came up with two big defensive plays that turned into nine points, a forced fumble that was scooped up by Davis for a second quarter touchdown and a blocked punt in the third quarter that resulted in a safety, giving

Homecoming sweet for FMS Rockets

By Anthony S. Puca Sports Writer

The Forrest Middle School Rockets (4-0) have been like a screaming locomotive with no brakes all season and they continued to roll on Thursday, demolishing Cannon County 66-6 on homecoming night at the Murrey E. Holton Field in Chapel Hill.

"This group, they amaze me every week," FMS coach Tony Johnson said. "I feel like when we win big one week, I'm always nervous we will come in the next week and not live up to the week before, but every single week this season they have raised the bar. It's just simply amazing."

The Rockets scored the first eight times they had the ball on offense and they never threw a pass except on two point conversion tries

"That's our mentality. We want to step on the gas, get on them early and then just keep on hammering it down and break their will, no matter who the opponent is," Johnson said.

FMS rushed the rock 16 times for 332 yards for a gaudy 20.8 yards per carry with seventh-grader Jacob Tincher leading the way with two touches for 92 yards.

Tincher busted two long second half touchdown runs of 49 and 43 yards. Eli Bell had three carries for 72 yards and a touchdown, Antonio Marable rushed five times for 59 yards and a score, while Cohen Grissom had two rushes for 49 yards (scoring both times). Fletcher Fields had three carries for 43 and a touchdown, and Maddox Puca had one carry for 17 yards

"Every running back that touched the ball tonight did an amazing job," Johnson said. "From our first-string guys who have been getting a lot of reps all year, to the guys who have gotten little to no reps at all."

"We have got a lot of speed and we hit the hole hard, so I can't ask any more out of that group. They are a great group to coach."

The Forrest defense completely shut down the Lions' offense, especially in the first half as the Rockets did not allow a first down or a gain of more than six yards.

The Lions ended up with just 84 total yards and their only touchdown came on a Brayden Smithson threeyard run with 7:46 remaining in the contest. "Our offense is impressive, but our defense a lot of times is even more impressive," Johnson said. "We get after it. We attack. We don't let them have any breathing room and we don't let them get their blocks because we are on them right away."

FMS won the opening coin toss and Clayson Jones covered a short kickoff at midfield.

Two snaps in to the game, Bell took it to the house from 41 yards out and Ryan Hill passed to Grissom for the two-point conversion.

Grissom boomed the ensuing kickoff and the Lions started at their own nine-yard line where a first down pass lost four yards.

The next snap went over the quarterback's head and he scrambled for the ball in the end zone where Houston Matlock got there first and then many more Rocket defenders followed for the safety.

The ensuing kick back to the Rockets following the safety was a bad one, giving the ball to FMS at the 33-yard lin.

Two plays later, Fields scored and the Hill threw to Fields for two more points and FMS led 18-0.

The Lions went three-and-out again and the punt was popped up, coming down at the Cannon County 17-yard line where Grissom scored on the next play and Hill followed with the two-resulted in a Forrest safety, making it 52-0 at the half.

FMS played its second string in the second half and Tincher added his two long touchdown runs for the Rockets, while the Lions finally got on the board.

With the win, the Rockets clinched the regular season Duck River Valley Conference title and will host the DRVC title game on September 30.

FMS hosts the Community Vikings on Thursday in the regular season finale.

"Next week at practice we will be practicing for Community, but we will also be preparing for whoever we are going to see in that championship," Johnson said. "We want to make sure we secure that win this week and finish out the regular season undefeated and then be ready to have a big home crowd here for the championship."

tained the ball before giving it back on downs with just under two and half minutes to play in the game.

"We came out phenomenal tonight. We knew what we were doing and despite homecoming this week, we came out focused and ready to play," senior linebacker Layne Strasser said. "We smacked them in the mouth the first play of the game. We had that safety on defense and those things crush them to where they get tired and they get worn down and they don't want to fight anymore eventually."

"I think we will prepare well for them. They run a simple offense and a simple defense and I think our defensive coordinator will give us a really good look," Swift said. "We are really stepping it up each week and I think we can go out and beat them."

The sixth-ranked Warriors (3-0, 1-0) came off a two-week layoff last Friday night and traveled to Bledsoe County where they came away with an easy 31-10 win.

Friday night's game will be the fourth matchup between the two schools with the Warriors winning all three previous games in season ending playoff wins at Forrest in 2009 (20-17), 2015 (38-10),and 2016 (55-14).

"They (Marion County) have great tradition. They are some big guys and they want to run the ball and play physical," Stephenson said. "We want to do the same thing, so it will be a great test for us."

How creativity and crafting can bring families together

(StatePoint)

The benefits of family quality time, which include positive impacts on mental health, reduced stress, promoting adaptability and more, are well understood. But the importance of creativity in families is less common knowledge.

According to a recent online study conducted by Ipsos, adults who participate in creative activities are more likely to describe themselves as optimistic, happy, passionate and joyful. But though art and creativity are vital for child development -- helping develop fine and gross motor skills, problem-solving abilities and even improving emotional wellness, according to education experts -- they're not always a focus in schools. According to the Ipsos study, seven in 10 parents feel as though standardized test scores are prioritized more than creative thinking in school.

In a world where families juggle work, school and other responsibilities, it's important to find ways to unwind and to create joyful moments that get children and adults off the couch, away from screens and developing habits of lifelong learning. The Ipsos study found that 75% of parents want their child(ren) to have more opportunities to be creative than they did when they were young, and two-thirds of adults admitted they wish they got to use their creativity more in life.

The good news is families can get creative right at home by seeking out opportunities for cross-generational learning. Grandparents can pass down their hobbies and crafts. Parents can teach children the traditions that make up their heritage. Whether it's knitting, crocheting, cooking or woodworking, such hobbies are often specific to a family's culture and are precious to keep in practice.

If this is not an option, no worries. Online services can help your family get creative. For example, Craftsy, the premiere digital destination for creatives, is revolutionizing the way people tap into their potential and engage with lifestyle passions. The site can guide and encourage your family to create meaningful, creative experiences together, allowing you to set up ongoing craft projects to do with your kids, such as decorating cupcakes, sewing a cozy pillow or learning to draw something new. Even families and friends who live apart can spark creativity and learn together from the comfort of their homes. Families and friends will soon be able to share their membership with loved ones to unlock unlimited access to over 1,500 courses, many of which are now also available in Spanish. From beginner to advanced, the site offers content and community for families and individuals of all ages in more than 20 categories. Services like Craftsy offer expert instruction, a passionate virtual community and plenty of opportunities for families to say, "We did it!" from participating in classes such as painting, gardening and cooking. To learn more or get started, visit craftsy.com.

Lifelong learning is a powerful form of personal development, helping individuals tap into their human nature of wanting to grow and explore, and when families find new hobbies and develop new skills together, they can collectively reap the benefits of creativity.

Piggly Wiggly, Sole Owner Stores and the Green Bay Packers

By Bill Carey

Tennessee History for Kids

The rise and fall of Memphis businessman Clarence Saunders involves Piggly Wiggly, the Pink Palace, the New York Stock Exchange, Sole Owner Stores and (as a footnote) the Green Bay Packers. It's hard to tell fact from fiction.

Saunders learned the grocery business as a young man in Clarksville in the early twentieth century. He moved to Memphis and, in 1916, opened his first Piggly Wiggly store, changing the face of grocery stores in the process.

At the time most grocery stores were owner operated. Customers would walk in the door and give their lists to a clerk, who would retrieve their items. If the clerk had six people waiting, the customer had to wait for those ahead of them in line to be served. Additionally, most grocery stores extended credit to their customers.

Saunders set up his store to be completely different. Each store was identical, with each product in the same location in each store. The stores had one-way aisles to expedite traffic. Piggly Wiggly advertised heavily, much more so than any mom-and-pop grocer could possibly do. And the stores operated on a "cash only" basis. "Your dollar at Piggly Wiggly will not help pay the BAD DEBTS of others," one Tennessean ad said.

And from where did Saunders get the name? "It took me two hours to find a name that was ridiculous enough," he later said.

As his chain and wealth grew, Saunders developed a reputation of flamboyancy in Memphis. He built a massive mansion of pink Georgian marble, appropriately named the Pink Palace.

Customers flocked to Saunders' stores, and he took his company public within a couple of years after its founding. By 1922 there were 1,200 Piggly Wiggly locations in the U.S., about half owned by the company and the other half by franchisees. However, in 1923 Saunders lost control over Piggly Wiggly after a complicated series of events involving ownership of the company's stock. Although the explanation of what occurred is very complicated, here is a brief summary: Saunders borrowed millions of dollars in an attempt to buy control of his own stock. But on Wall Street, his plot backfired, and Saunders went from wealthy to destitute overnight. In a final effort to retain control over his company, Saunders and Tennessee Governor Austin Peay went to Detroit to ask Ford Motor Co. founder Henry Ford to intercede. Ford refused to meet with the two men from Tennessee (which gives you some idea of how important Henry Ford was at that time).

Piggly Wiggly stores remained open, but no longer under Saunders' management. For a while, the grocery store chain was led by a Nashville man named James Bradford (who later started a Nashville brokerage house called J. C. Bradford & Co.)

Saunders did not quit, and later started another grocery store chain called (oddly enough) Clarence Saunders: Sole Owner of My Name. (Saunders apparently got the name because a bankruptcy judge once admonished him by saying "You, sir, own nothing. You are only the sole owner of your name.") Sanders ran his Sole Owner stores—as they were known—quite aggressively. In fact, he had a tendency to build them right across the street from Piggly Wiggly stores.

To promote his grocery store chain, Saunders even organized a professional football team known as the Sole Owner Tigers. On December 15, 1929, a week afternwinning the NFL championship, the Green Bay Packers lost to the Sole Owner Tigers, 20-6.

The Sole Owner chain closed during the Great Depression. Today there are still Piggly Wiggly stores throughout the South, franchised to independent owner-operators under a myriad of arrangements. Meanwhile Saunders' former mansion, the Pink Palace, is a museum. Among its many exhibits is a replica of a Piggly Wiggly store.

A host of Bulldogs, led by Tyler Brockman (48) converge to make a tackle against the Trojans.

Bulldogs back on track with Homecoming victory

By Dennis Holley For the Tribune

CORNERSVILLE — The Cornersville Bulldogs (4-1, 1-0), needing to get back on track after the loss to Clay County last Friday night, welcomed the Collinwood Trojans (0-4, 0-1) for a Region 5-1A contest on a cloudy, humid evening with brief showers to celebrate Homecoming

The Bulldogs, despite a lackluster and penaltyplagued game on the offensive side of the ball, turned back the Trojans 21-0 as the Cornersville defense stood their ground.

Coach Gerard Randolph said, "We put (defensive) pressure on the (Collinwood) quarterback, made him scramble. Our defense stood up to the call and we put some points on the board which allowed us to be even more aggressive on defense. We have some things to fix on offense and if we do, we can play Cornersville football and be successful."

Quarterback Caden White added, "Our offense did not execute like we should have. I and the team have some work to do to get Bulldog offensive/defensive lineman Blake Jones said, "Defensively we stood up and played good. We had the young guys like, (Jonathan) Zuniga and (Wesley) Pigg step up for Cornersville's defense, led by Rhett Woodard and the emergence of linebacker Wesley Pigg, punished the Trojan runners and harassed the quarterback into hurried throws.

The defense also had a hand in all three scores for the Bulldogs - an interception by Tyler Brockman at mid-field, a fumble recovery at the Trojans 27-yard line by Pigg and a bad snap to the Collinwood quarterback that was recovered by Barret Powers at the

in all three cases scored. For the rest of the game, the Bulldog defense kept the Trojans pinned down and, with hard hits, sprawled on

The Bulldogs won the coin toss but deferred to the second half.

Cornersville's defense. showing toughness early on, made the Trojans go three and out, taking over after the punt at their own 48-yard line. The Bulldog offense began a pattern that held true the entire game - penalties destroying continuity needed for the possession to be successful. Running back Cason

Warner said, "On offense we should have started out a little bit faster. We picked it up in the second half. If we can get our offense going like our defense, we will be all right." The Bulldogs, for the by Ben Franklin. The Bulldogs got on the board after Brockman's interception at midfield with the punishing running of Warner. Quarterback Blaine Woodard found Mason Calahan open down the right side for a 16-yard TD and with Warner running the two-point conversion into the end zone, at the 10:20 mark of the second quarter the Bulldogs led 8-0. This score would hold up until the halftime horn sounded and raindrops began to bring out raincoats and umbrellas in the

The Bulldogs received the second half kick-off with Warner taking the ball to the Bulldog 35-yard line.

From there, courtesy of a holding call against Cornersville, the Bulldogs faced a third and 17, which netted a five-yard gain and a Brockman punt on fourth Brockman's punt went to the Trojan 31-yard line, but an unsportsmanlike conduct penalty pushed Collinwood back to its 16-yard line.

Seven plays later Pigg recovered a Trojan fumble and the Bulldogs were in business at the Collinwood 36-yard line.

Six plays later on fourth down at the Collinwood five-yard line, Warner rumbled in for the score but a block in the back negated the score.

Then, White found wideout Eli Welch between the cornerback and safety, zipped the ball in and Welch snatched it out of the air and raced untouched into the end zone and even though the kick after missed, the Bulldogs led 14-0.

The Bulldogs, with Pigg making plays and his teammates hammering Collinwood, were ready when, on second and nine, a bad snap to the Trojan quarterback resulted in a fumble recovered by Powers.

Franklin, on first down, ran around the left side for a 13-yard touchdown. Logan Springer drilled the PAT and with 1:13 left in the third quarter the Bulldogs led 21-0.

The Bulldogs defense, for the rest of the game, kept hammering the Trojan offense, highlighted by a last defensive stand.

After a Trojan interception at the Bulldogs 25-yard line, Cornersville was deemed guilty of a block in the back penalty that moved the ball to the Bulldog 10-yard line.

But the Bulldog defense continued to apply pressure, highlighted by a first-down tackle by Welch that went for a two-yard loss.

With the pass rush by Woodard and Pigg harassing the Trojan quarterback, the Bulldogs forced Collinwood to make hurried throws that fell incomplete on second and third
