Commission approves study in rare December meeting

By Scott Pearson Associate Editor

www.marshalltribune.com

The Marshall County Commission met last Thursday in a rare December meeting.

The commission generally closes their year in November, as the 4th Monday of December generally conflicts with the date of Christ-

This year the commission had too many items that could not wait until the end of January for consideration, necessitating a special called meeting.

A proposal to conduct a county employee salary study was the only item to generate discussion and disagreement among commis-

Several commissioners spoke in favor of the study, while others wondered if county department heads or human resources could not do the same work in house.

Several of the same arguments were made at the November meeting, while the county's budget committee was working out details of the proposal.

The belief that a qualified third-party study would return more benefit to the county while also avoiding the possibility of friction or bias between departments ultimately won out.

The resolution moving forward with the study passed on a 12 to 4 vote.

Commissioners Blackwell, Cuevas, Nichols, and Poarch voting against.

Over the last few years the county has seen increased pressure on hiring and retaining employees as middle Tennessee booms and as fewer candidates enter public service, especially in law enforcement and emergency medical careers.

The comprehensive review is designed to make the county more competitive and attractive with other counties hiring from the same pool of candidates.

The county had a consultant conduct a similar study two years ago, with particular emphasis on jail and EMS employees.

Commissioner Debbie Hill added that the county should "delve deeper" into the issue and determine additional factors in employee retention. In other agenda items, commissioners renewed the mutual aid agreement between the Marshall County Sheriff's Office and the rangers at Henry Horton State Park and agreed to participate in the settlement of opioid lawsuits in which the county is a part.

Commissioners also reappointed Jessica Moore to the county's Zoning Appeals Board and appointed May Bennett to the same body to fill the unexpired term of Clinton Edmon-

In His Image PRC presents their fall benefit

In His Image Pregnancy Resource Center held their fall fundraiser at the Drive-in Theater on Fayetteville Highway. As registered guests entered the area, they were greeted by volunteers, Fred Lowe, Audrey Ann Laster, and Virginia Knox. The guests were given a gift packet that contained several items inluding a pin in the shape of a ten week old pre-born's feet. This pin set the stage for what was to occur later.

Guests then received a boxed barbeque dinner served by Sub Deb members. After finding a parking spot, they were able to eat in their car, mingle with family and friends, and shop the Silent Auction.

As the sun set, the program began and emcee Paster Matt Judd from Mt. Moriah Baptist Church welcomed the guests and introduced Pastor Tom Gabbard, chaplin of the PRC Board, who blessed the event. Melody Spence, board member, sang "His Eye is on the Sparrow."

Next, Executive Director Shirley Lowe gave an update on the center's activities and introduced the featured client, Jenna, who shared her experience and told how the PRC helped when she truly needed someone to talk with. Jenna was very appreciative of the classes that taught her how to take care of herself and her baby before and after birth. Taking the classes gave her points that she could use to purchase items her baby needed. These items shopped in the beautiful Baby Boutique which is located in the PRC.

Mary McDaniel, owner of McDaniel Pest Control, has established a fund making available three $500 scholarships for students. Jenna, a full time, online student, as well as a full, time employee. She was the first client to receive one of these scholarships. As she accepted this scholarship with tears in her eyes, she never imagined receiving such a gift that would help to continue her education.

Mary McDaniel challenges other business owners to contribute to this fund.

It was a wonderful evening and all the PRC Board, staff, and volunteers are thankful for the support of the community.

MERRY CHRISTMAS

Does Baby New Year give you the creeps?

By Danny Tyree

Perhaps one reason I never get invited to New Year's Eve parties is that I tend to overanalyze things.

Take Baby New Year (a.k.a. "Bundle of White Male Joy"), for instance. Society's reliance on this iconic tyke in editorial cartoons, greeting cards and advertising campaigns causes me lose more sleep than the ball drop in Times Square.

Most people blithely accept a half-naked, curfew-deprived newborn galivanting about the countryside unchaperoned; but I see it as one more troubling repercussion of the "Defund Child Protective Services" movement. For the kid's sake, it's a good thing no one has revoked the self-defense "crawl your ground" laws yet. From mid-December through mid-January, images of Baby New Year are ubiquitous; but we still possess only a maddeningly sketchy picture of his agenda. Every autumn as the jack-o'-lanterns make way for turkeys, folks inevitably ask, "Where did the year go?"

That's an excellent question.

We almost never see Baby New Year again until late December when he has deteriorated into osteoporosisplagued Old Year. What is he doing in other seasons, at other life stages? Is he using his sash to hide his zits? Does his noisemaker drown out his mother-in-law? Is he using his trusty hourglass to keep track of his Viagra?

There's something creepy about the way the kid invariably becomes decrepit in a mere 12 months. I don't care if he can say "Mama" or "Dada." My question to him is "Can you say, 'more research funds for extreme glandular conditions, please'?"

We're supposed to feel comforted by the annual ritual of Old Year "passing the torch" to Baby New Year, but there's always the risk of Old Year setting his stereotypical beard on fire in the process! Why can't years aspire to being The Year World Peace Was Achieved instead of The Year I Became ZZ

Time after time, Old Year lets the naïve, effervescent Baby New Year take the reins, without any warning of the "nothing new under the sun" mixture of earthquakes, pestilences, economic hiccups and celebrity scandals that will inevitably ensue. Occasionally, an Old Year will try to blink out a warning in Morse Code, but the cataracts cause miscommunication. ("Put the kibosh on term limits? Thanks,

I am deeply frustrated by the inconsistency of the mythology. Sometimes Baby New Year starts as an infant, sometimes as a toddler. He bears a suspicious resemblance to Valentine's Day mascot Cupid. Old Year sometimes is and sometimes isn't conflated with Father Time. (Father Time is reportedly not keen on the title, musing, "I'm going to beat the snot out of the Old Year in which paternity tests were introduced.")

As my son Gideon reminded me, the animated holiday special "Rudolph's Shiny New Year" contains helpful backstory on one particular New Year ("Happy") and the Archipelago of Last Years, where the Old Years go to retire. But I'm not sure I accept that cartoon as canonical. It has the distinct aroma of a Chinese disinformation campaign, especially the uncut version with the Island of Non-existent Lab Leaks.

On a brighter note, you could make a billion dollars if you could write a book on "What to Expect When You're Expecting Baby New Year."

Of course, your fortune might still meet a curve ball. ("Alec Baldwin just accidentally nuked the computer servers holding your money! Oh, the cryptocurrency...!")

"And without controversy great is the mystery of godliness: God was manifest in the flesh, justified in the Spirit, seen of angels, preached unto the Gentiles, believed on in the world, received up into glory." - 1 Timothy

The world in every age, religions of all kind, and much of what passes for Christianity today denies the Godhood of Jesus Christ. This has been an age-old controversy. Yet, all of the scriptures testify to the fact that Jesus of Nazareth was God taking unto Himself human flesh in the virgin's womb. "Behold, a virgin shall be with child, and shall bring forth a son, and they shall call His name Emmanuel, which being interpreted is, God with us" (Matthew 1:23). Now, this scripture does not say God helping us, nor does it say God for us. The reason is that God doesn't want you to get the wrong idea that He is way up there in heaven giving you a little help here and a little help there as you try and try to do your best. God is not far up into heaven rooting for you to do your best to make into heaven. No, Emmanuel clearly means "God with us."

The reason Jesus is God "manifest in the flesh" as "God with us" is because mankind by nature is so far separated from God because of sin. Therefore, the only way humanity can be delivered from the condemnation of sin and be brought back into a relationship with God. Is for God

Without controversy!

Himself to come down and take on humanity so as to do for us what we could not do for ourselves. Jesus, "God with us," came to live the perfect life that we were supposed to live. Jesus, "God with us," was born to die and pay our sin debt. Jesus, "God with us," came to reconcile and restore peace between God Himself and sinful humanity. God "manifest in the flesh" means that He has two natures, a Divine nature and a Human nature. Therefore Jesus can both represent God and represent mankind in order to bring them together and so make peace. "For there is one God, and one mediator between God and men, the man Christ Jesus" (1 Timothy 2:5).

The evidence is undeniable. God

Almighty came to live with us in the flesh so He could die for us in order to take away our sin, shame, guilt, and give us a place in heaven. Think of it! Find me another God in any other world religion who loves at such an extreme as to take on human flesh and die for sinners? You can't.

The Son of God became the Son of Man so that we who are sons and daughters of men may become the sons and daughters of God by faith in Him. There is more to it than a babe lying in a manger. We are talking about God in human flesh, "the mystery of godliness" and this is "without controversy."

2 stars of 'It's a Wonderful Life' look back at a classic

By Mark Kennedy

AP Entertainment Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — It was just another job for child actor Karolyn Grimes. She was 6 and had already done four movies by the summer of 1946 when filming began on "It's a Wonderful Life." The only thing she recalls about the biggest movie of her career was being delighted to play in snow on the set.

That single job would become very memorable to a lot of other people. "It's a Wonderful Life," which marks its 75th anniversary this year, is now a beloved holiday tradition across the globe.

"It's a once-a-vear pick-me-up for the humanity of America and the world," Grimes told The Associated Press. "It's a good impetus to really keep us going in a positive direction."

"It's a Wonderful Life" was released in late 1946, produced and directed by Frank Capra and starring Jimmy Stewart and Donna Reed. It takes place on Christmas Eve in a small town.

The film centers on the character of George Bailey, played by Stewart, who considers suicide until his guardian angel intervenes and shows him all the people whose lives he has touched and the difference he has made in the community.

One memorable character is Zuzu, played by Grimes. She gets to say, Every time a bell rings, an angel gets his wings. And the petals from Zuzu's rose — stuffed into a pants pocket by Stewart's Bailey as he comforts his sickly daughter - become a symbol of life.

If Grimes is sort of fuzzy on the filming details, Jimmy Hawkins, another former child actor who played Tommy in the film, is the opposite. He recalls as a 4-year-old getting up while it was dark and taking buses and streetcars to Culver City to film his scenes.

"I have vivid memories of doing that film," he says. "On the set, Capra would squat down, eveto-eye, tell me what he wanted me to do and did I understand it. I said, 'Oh, yes, sir."

Grimes and Hawkins are among the last surviving members of the cast and have chosen to represent the film's legacy and spread its lesson of doing good.

"We feel we're lucky to have played those parts and carry Frank Capra's message. He's not around to do it, and he gave us a great part and a lot of wonderful memories, so we just naturally do it, says Hawkins.

"We want to carry on that message, whether it's to inmates at Attica or ringing the bell at the Stock Exchange. We talk to everybody to keep it going."

Paramount Home Entertainment has released a limited-edition two-disc Blu-ray set with a colorized version of the film in high definition as well as the original, digitally remastered blackand-white movie in high definition. The set includes over 45 minutes of bonus content.

The movie was nominated for five Oscars and has been recognized by the American Film Institute as one of the 100 best American films ever made. The movie also earned first place for most inspirational American Film of All Time by the AFI.

"It gives us such an optimistic view of what our lives can be. And we have the power to make that. We can make a difference and we can make things happen," said Grimes.

Hawkins recalls Capra with a strong vision for the film — faith, hope and life renewed. The movie he made might be sentimental, but on the set, the director was not at all.

"It was his movie," he says. "People fell by the wayside because it was his vision. If you didn't have his vision, you weren't making his move. He was very precise, very nice to everybody on the set. But now it's a job."

The film — now closely associated with Christmas — wasn't initially intended to be released over the holidays. But RKO's scheduled Christmas movie in 1946 -"Sinbad the Sailor" - wasn't ready so the studio asked Capra to rush production of "It's a Wonderful Life." It was released Dec. 20 at the Globe Theatre in New York, a little late for a traditional Christmas rollout.

"They did a beautiful job of getting it out there and then it bombed more or less. It was not a hit," says Grimes. "But then in the early '70s, it became public domain and it was on every channel every year."

Grimes still gets letters from all over the globe and from generations of viewers. "I get a lot of fan mail from Great Britain and even the Mideast and all kinds of places," she says. "It's reaching a lot of people, and I think people will want to make a difference.'

New Miss America first Alaskan, Korean American title holder

By Mark Thiesssen Associated Press

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — The newly crowned Miss America has made history, becoming both the first Korean American and the first Alaskan to hold the title in the competition's 100-year history.

"I never could have imagined in a million years that I would be Miss America, let alone that I would be Miss Alaska," a beaming Emma Broyles told The Associated Press on Friday in a Zoom call from Connecticut, where she won the competition about 12 hours earlier.

In fact, she was sure they had it wrong. The final two contestants were Broyles and Lauren Bradford, Miss Alabama, and Broyles said she was thinking Bradford was going to make an amazing Miss America.

"And then they said Alaska, and I said, 'No way. Are you sure? Do you want to check that card again?" she said before the emotion overtook her and she began crying tears of joy.

"I could not believe it," Broyles said. "I am so, so grateful to everybody back at home who's been supporting me for so long, and I'm so glad that I'm able to bring home the title of Miss America to the state of Alaska for the first time in history."

The very first Miss America program began in 1921 as a beauty pageant in Atlantic City, New Jersey. However, Broyles is only the 94th Miss America.

The pageant, which has evolved away from the emphasis on looks to focusing on leadership, talent and communication skills, was not held last year because of the pandemic and it wasn't held for several years in the late 1920s and early 1930s.

Broyles, 20, said her grandparents immigrated from Korea to Anchorage about 50 years ago, before her mother was born.

"Although my mom is full Korean, she was born and raised right in Anchorage, Alaska," Broyles said. The Miss America Organization "believes Emma is the first Korean-American to win the crown," spokesperson Matt Ciesluk said in a text message to the AP.

Her mother is a special education teacher at Service High School in Anchorage, the same school Broyles attended.

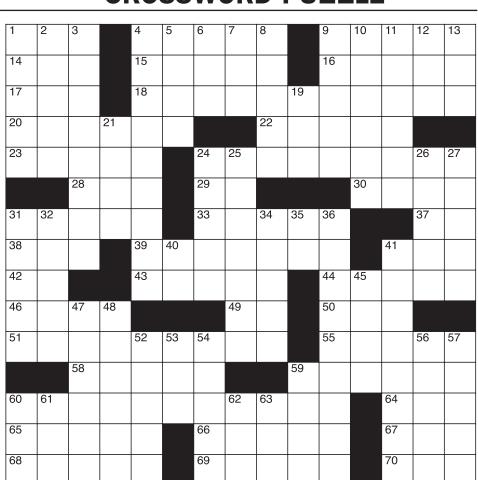

Broyles has chosen the Special Olympics for her social impact initiative. Besides her mother's position, her older brother, Brendan, has Down syndrome and competes in athletic events with Special Olympics Alaska.

"I've seen firsthand the impact that Special Olympics has on the families of people with intellectual disabilities. And I know how important Special Olympics is to our community here in Anchorage and here in Alaska, as well as the communities all over the country and all over the world," she said.

Broyles said she looks forward to working with Special Olympics to promote inclusion, compassion and open-mindedness through sports.

"Getting to have this platform to speak about why inclusion is important during a time like this when our country is so divided, and to speak about why it's important to be compassionate, why it's important to be empathetic, why it's important to keep an open mind and to be willing to listen to those who aren't like you or maybe have different opinions than you, I think that this is a time where we need that more than ever," she said.

Milligan makes history, inks with UT-Southern

By Chris Siers sports@t-g.com

Forrest High School swimmer Hayden Milligan has been hard at work within the Marshall County swimming community for several years.

After years of continual improvements and countless hours in the pool, his swim career eventually led him to sign with UT-Southern, formerly Martin Methodist.

"It's been a long ride. I've been swimming for almost nine years now. I didn't really try to swim in college until the last year or two. It took going to Brentwood and Spring Hill every day. It took a lot of time and a lot of driving, for sure," he said.

Milligan's signing was a milestone for a few reasons, as he is the first swimmer from Chapel Hill to sign a letter of intent to swim in

He is also the first male swimmer in Marshall County to ink his letter of intent as

The recruiting process began when UT-Southern coach Drew Peterson reached out and after a visit to Pulaski, the rest was history.

"Coach Peterson messaged me a couple months back. I had actually been looking there because it's close, fairly cheap and seemed like a good option. He messaged me and it was a big thing getting the first message from the coach," Milligan said.

While primarily a freestyle sprinter, Milligan also competes in the backstroke and hopes to be a cornerstone in the foundation at UT-Southern, as the program is still in its infancy.

"With UT-Southern and it being I think two years old now, so most of the swimmers are young in general. It's going to be cool getting to be one of the first swimmers there. It should be a situation where I'm coming in to help improve the team and get it started," he said.

The positive culture within swimming has been one of the highlights in Milligan's career.

While swimming is primarily an individual sport, continually pushing yourself for better times and participating in a highly-supportive swim culture has been among the highlights of Milligan's

"It's always good dropping time, but one big thing about swim is, it's almost like you're not swimming against other people. It's like you're always going against yourself. Then again, there's the other people you are swimming with and they're always very supportive. A lot of people who I've raced against, they've always been very supportive, asked how your times are, how you did and just very supportive," he said. While he's still several months from officially arriving on campus, Milligan doesn't have a major picked out just yet.

"As of right now, no. I have a few ideas, but I guess I'm going to get there and take some general education classes and see what I want to go into," he said.

LEWISBURG — In the Marshall County Christmas Classic, the Cornersville Lady Bulldogs saw three players hit double figures and lead the way past Culleoka in the opening night of round robin play with a 58-46 victory over the Lady Warriors.

Corners villeout of the gates with a 22-point effort, highlighted by the sharpshooting of Anna Wood, who knocked down four of her five 3-pointers in the game in the opening frame.

By the end of the first period, Cornersville built a 13-point lead.

But as hot of a start as the Lady Bulldogs saw, the offense slowed considerably in the second quarter and Culleoka seized the opportunity to cut the Cornersville advantage to 10 points by halftime.

While the first half saw the Lady Bulldogs able to find their shots from the floor, Cornersville executed its ability to get to the free throw line in the second half, which proved to be a major factor in the final outcome.

In the third period, Cornersville made good on 8-of-9 free throw attempts, which carried the Lady Bulldogs to a 17-11 run through the quarter.

Tigerettes take control in 3rd, hold on vs. Mt. Pleasant

By Chris Siers sports@t-g.com

LEWISBURG — After a Titanic struggle to start the game on the offensive end of the court, the Marshall County Tigerettes overcame an early deficit against Mt. Pleasant and outlasted a late push by the Lady Tigers for a 31-25 win in the Marshall County Christmas Classic.

Offenses were slow out of the gate for both schools as shots simply wouldn't fall.

Following a five-minute offensive drought to start the game, Erianna Greer was fouled with 2:47 left in the opening quarter, but couldn't connect on either attempt.

On the following Mt. Pleasant possession, Kenzie Gray broke the scoreless stalemate with a 3-pointer from the top of the key at the 2:04 mark of the first quarter.

Lady Rockets cruise past Lady Bobcats

By Anthony S. Puca Sports Writer

CHAPEL HILL -The Forrest Lady Rockets came into Friday night's game at Chapel Hill versus Giles County mired in a six-game losing streak and had lost two in-a-row to the Lady Bobcats.

Firing from all cylinders, the Lady Rockets roared off the launch pad with a huge 23-2 first quarter and never looked back in a 55-37 coast-to-coast win.

Forrest had four players score in double figures with senior Ryann Lewis leading the way with a career high 14 points, five blocked shots, and a stellar 4-for-7 effort from the free throw line.

Macyn Kirby had 12 points, knocked down a 3-pointer, and made the only free throw she attempted in the game.

Megan Mealer and

Cadence Chapman had 10 points apiece with Mealer banging home a 3-pointer and going 1-for-2 from the charity stripe while Chapman blocked three Giles County shots.

Kinslee Inlow had five points and a 3-pointer and Addison Bunty and Karli Warner haď two points apiece.

Bunty stole the ball on Giles County's first offensive possession of the game and fed Inlow for a bucket and Forrest was off and running as they scored 15 unanswered points before Kiya Gibson scored for Giles County with 58.8 seconds remaining in the first quarter.

Kirby answered with a 3-pointer and after a Lady Bobcats' missed field goal, Inlow drained a long bomb at the buzzer and the Lady Rockets led by 21 points.

Giles County scored the first six points in the second quarter and went to outscore the Lady Rockets, 17-9 behind all 10 of Ari Howard's points in the game to trail 32-19 at the half.

Chapman scored on a low post bucket to start the second half and after a Giles County miss, Kirby found Mealer to make it a 36-19 contest.

The Lady Bobcats scored and on their next offensive possession, Lewis came up with a blocked shot and was rewarded with a bucket at the other end as Forrest doubled up the score at 38-19.

Once again, the Lady Bobcats put together a nice run and outscored Forrest 10-2 for the remainder of the third quarter and trailed by 12 points at 41-29, entering the fourth peri-

Bobcats put Rockets away with big fourth quarter

By Anthony S. Puca

CHAPEL HILL The Forrest Rockets had a six-game win streak snapped last week by Moore County and wanted to get back to their winning ways on Friday night as they hosted the Giles County Bobcats.

The Bobcats were also not in a happy mood as they came to Chapel Hill mired in a sevengame losing streak and the two teams played a tight contest with Giles County coming out on top 59-49.

Jake Cardin came up huge for the Bobcats with a game-high 17 points, including a pair of 3-pointers and a 6-for-8 performance from the free throw line. Jack Harper had 16 for the Bobcats and three 3-pointers while Kamari Turner was also in double figures with 12 points.

The Rockets were led by senior Hunter Bennett with 15 points while Brennan Mealer was also in double figures with 10 points.

Bennett and Mealer made the only two 3-pointers in the game for Forrest while Bobcats threw down seven long bombs.

Josh Rumley had eight points for Forrest, Ben Villazon and Hunter Bennett (14) looks up as his scope and score attempt goes through the hoop for two of his team-high 15 points versus the Bobcats.

Deason Jones had six points apiece, and Preston Gentry and Andrew Timmons both had a deuce.

Villazon opened the game with a field goal for the Rockets before the Bobcats got the upper hand and built an eight-point lead twice in the first quarter until Bennett made a late basket to make it 18-12 after the first eight minutes.

Villazon and Mealer teamed up for four straight points to make it a two-point game at the outset of the second quarter, but the Bobcats held on and surged ahead again to lead 30-22 on a Cardin 3-pointer with 2:38 remaining in the stanza.

Bennett scored for Forrest and then the Bobcats went downtown on back-to-back possessions, opening up a 12-point lead at 36-24 before Mealer canned two free throws and drilled a 3-pointer to cut the Giles County to 36-29 at the half.

The Bobcats outscored Forrest 9-6 to open the second half to lead 45-36, but the Rockets came back again, beginning with a Bennett Rumley scored on a dime from Jones with 1:31 remaining in the period and Bennet followed with a field goal to cut the lead to three points, but one free throw by Turner ended the stanza with Giles County in the lead at 46-43.

The Rockets went ice cold from the field in the final stanza as the Bobcats scored eight points and held Forrest scoreless until Bennett finally got a basket with one minute left in the game.

One possession later, Cardin cashed in on two successful free throws on a Forrest technical foul and the Bobcats (2-7) cruised to the win

Forrest (5-5) lost 69-59 at Huntland (2-9) on Saturday and will be back on the hardcourt next Tuesday when they take on the Richland Raiders (6-3) in their annual Christmas Tournament at Lynnville.

NFL could become trend-setter for COVID-19 testing policies

By ROB MAADDI AP Pro Football Writer

The NFL's decision to reduce COVID-19 testing for asymptomatic, vaccinated players could signal a trend for pro sports leagues and provide an example for society to follow heading into 2022.

Despite a rising number of positive cases that forced three games to be rescheduled over the weekend, the NFL, in cooperation with the players' union, agreed on Saturday to scale back testing for vaccinated players. The move aligns with guidance from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention. The CDC recommends "diagnostic testing" only for symptomatic or close-contact vaccinated people, and "screening tests" only for unvaccinated people. The NFL previously required vaccinated players to get tested weekly before amending the protocols. The daily testing for vaccinated players but eventually agreed to "target" testing.

The NBA didn't require vaccinated players to get tested during the season but revised its policy to increase testing for a two-week period starting Dec. 26.

The NHL tested players every third day but returned to daily testing through at least "I think the NFL is actually going to be a really interesting and I think really safe real-world experiment on what our new normal is likely going to look like," Dr. Vin Gupta, a pulmonologist and professor at the University of Washington, said in an interview with the AP. "And, it's safe to say that the NFL is obviously a large vaccine bubble, sans a few high-profile exceptions. "We can't continue the status quo, ad infinitum, where we are testing regularly people that are otherwise healthy, asymptomatic, triple-vaccinated, just to detect the asymptomatic individual who might be positive ... because then you're going to quarantine that individual who might be asymptomatic or having mild symptoms, who is triple-vaccinated, who might for a small period of time, be infectious to others who presumably are also vaccinated." Almost 95% of NFL players and nearly all coaching staffs

Hightower gives back to community

Tribune Staff Report

New England Patriot linebacker and Marshall County native, Dont'a Hightower will be holding a holiday coat drive throughout Marshall County through January 10.

For every item collected in the drive, Hightower will match each donation. New or gently used items are accepted.

There are five locations in Marshall County that will accept donations through January 10, including First National Bank, First Commerce Bank, Amigo's Mexican Grill, Express RX and

Hightower will award a signed jersey to the location that collects the most number of items

Hightower attended Marshall County High School from 2004-2007 and earned the Class 3A Mr. Football Award in 2007.

He followed his career with the Tigers and attended the University of Alabama where he was a member of two national championship

He was drafted by the New England Patriots in the first round of the 2012 NFL Draft and has won three Super Bowls with the Patriots.

are vaccinated.

Gupta, an informal consultant for the Seattle Seahawks on COVID-19 issues and an adviser for baseball's Seattle Mariners, says the NFL is "ahead of the curve" with target and voluntary testing.

"I think they're able to do things that the rest of the country is unable to do because they have a vaccine bubble, and they can control things to a certain degree that we can't control across the public at large, and so it's an interesting experiment," Gupta said. "We have to build policies and procedures and case management protocols around positive tests that make sense, given our reality.'

On Monday, the first day under the NFL's revised protocols, 47 players were placed on the the most in a single day since the pandemic began. Several players were asymptomatic and vaccinated, a person familiar with the results told The Associated The league says Monday's results are evidence its new "smarter" and more "strategic" testing policy is working. Positive cases were identified and the players were isolated. Players who test positive must quarantine until they're cleared to return. Under the new procedures, vaccinated players can return in fewer than 10

"We want someone to return after they are no longer a risk for themselves or a risk to others," said Dr. Allen Sills, the NFL's chief medical officer. "We've looked at our data very carefully there. We have obviously continued to evolve that definition over time and we believe we can bring a further degree of precision to that process on how people can return by fine-tuning that in a way that fits into the protocols."

But many people have questioned the leagues motives for changing testing protocols at a time when the number of positive cases have increased rapidly due to the Omicron variant.

NIL impacts signing day, full extent unknown yet

By Eric Olson

AP College Football Writer

The three-day signing period last week put name, image and likeness in the spotlight, especially with No. 1 national recruit Travis Hunter de-committing from Florida State to sign with second-tier Jackson State.

Neither Hunter nor other top recruits said whether NIL compensation had anything to do with their school choices. But coaches say NIL came up in the recruiting cycle, the first since the NCAA cleared the way July 1 for college athletes to cash in on their celebrity.

"It's very much discussed and talked about, not necessarily in inducements or anything like that or quid pro quo," Missouri coach Eli Drinkwitz said. "You've got to educate (recruits) on what the opportunities could potentially be or what you're going to do to help somebody increase their personal brands and how are you going to educate them on what their opportunities of NIL could be and would be, should they choose the University of Missouri."

The options to be paid for endorsements and personal branding probably was a major factor in the decisions of some recruits who signed letters of intent last week. Athliance CEO Peter Schoenthal, whose company works with schools and athletes on NIL details, said he doubts it was an overriding one

"I think I would be naïve to say it didn't play a role at all," Schoenthal said. "I think I would be over-speaking if I said it was the end all, be all of kids' decisions. I think it was a factor. I think it was a bigger factor than it's going to be in the future, once we're able to show the kids the data."

Schoenthal predicted the breadth of a school's NIL programming ranging from educating athletes on NIL to boosters and businesses offering opportunities eventually will become just another thing recruits consider.

Cornersville notches 1st win over MCHS since '14

By Dennis Holley For the Tribune

CORNERSVILLE -The Marshall County High School Tigerettes took the short trip down Highway 31A to take on the Cornersville Lady Bulldogs on last Friday night in a battle of inter-county girls' basketball.

The Lady Bulldogs, using a stingy defense, rebounding efficiency and balanced scoring from its starting five, downed the Tigerettes 47-31. The Lady Bulldogs were led in scoring by the 16 points of Alicia Polk and the Tigerettes were led by Mashawna Ridley and Kayla Keiler, who both scored 10 points. The tip-off went to the Tigerettes and Keiler, with a 12-foot jumper put the Tigerettes on the board first. Cornersville's Grayson Riner, with a soft jumper from down low countered to tie the game at 2-2. Hollingsworth drained a 3-pointer from the right-hand corner, then popped in a 15-foot jumper to push Marshall County out in front, 7-2.

responded again from down low to make the score 7-4.

Ridley then score a 3-point play, the old fashion way with a basket and a free-throw, to push the Tigerette lead to six points.

Back-to-back 3-pointers by Anna Wood and Polk tied the game at 10-10 with 2:28 left in the first quarter. Polk, with a short jump shot, a free-throw by Katie Powers, and a basket and a freethrow by Ady Gentry increased the Cornersville lead to six points as the quarter wound down, 16-10. The second quarter began with Polk swishing a 3-pointer and Gentry on a put-back extending the Cornersville lead to 11 points with 5:23 left in the half. The Lady Bulldogs maintained the lead through the rest of the second quarter as Gracie Spray lofted a 3-pointer and Powers added a put-back.

Marshall County countered with four points by Ridley, and a 3-pointer and freethrow from Keiler to trail by eight points at the end of the first

The Lady Bulldogs began the second half on a six-point run as baskets by Riner, Polk and Jayli Childress had the Lady 'Dogs on top, Keiler dropped in a basket, and Ridley and Hollingsworth free-throws before Cornersville responded with Wood and Childress adding scores on jump shots to maintain the Lady Bulldog lead at 36-22 with 2:44 left in the third quarter. Adrianna Greer sank a basket but Cornersville countered with a trey by Gracie Spray and a put-back by Powers, once again establishing her territory underneath the basket to lead 41-24 at the end of the third quarter.

Marshall County started the fourth quarter and fought back with a free-throw by Maggie Steely and a basket by Ridley but a basket by Polk staved off the rally and Cornersville kept the double-digit lead for a 47-31 victory, the first over the Tigerettes since November of 2014.

"I'm happy for the girls. It's not about me, it's about the girls.

They have been working hard and everybody has been working together. It is good to get a county win. We're getting better every game," Coach Hayden McMahon said.

Point guard Jayli Childress said when asked about what she felt that her team did well in the win simply said, "We rebounded." Tigerette coach David Steely, whose team has been battered with injuries suffered another as junior Caraline Hollingworth was carted off with a lower leg injury.

"She (Hollingsworth), we will have to wait and see about her injury. It is always disappointing to lose. We got beat on the boards (rebounding). That is a recipe to lose. We will work to get better," Steely said.

Tigers' defense wilts Bulldogs in county clash

By Dennis Holley

For the Tribune

CORNERSVILLE -The Cornersville Bulldogs are enjoying a fine start for the 2021-2022 season hosted the Marshall County High School Tigers (6-5), themselves owning a three-game win streak, in front of a loud and near capacity crowd in the nightcap last Friday night at Cornersville Gymnasium.

The Tigers using a smothering, trapping press defense to start the third quarter pulled away from the Bulldogs to post a 70-50 win.

Eli Welch led the Bulldogs with 17 points, while the Tigers countered with the one-two punch of Omarion Allred and Devonte Davis, who scored 17 and 16 points. The Tigers also displayed the talent of their freshman class along with veterans Davis, Allred, and Jaden Hart as they raced around the court forcing turnovers of every type and converting points out of theses turnovers.

"I believe that this is the best freshman class that has ever come through Marshall County High School," Davis said.

A 14-point run at the start of the third quarter went a long way toward securing the victory for the Tigers. The Tigers controlled the opening tip and cashed in right away as Davis from the top of the key sank a 3-pointer, then added a 12-foot jumper to put the Tigers ahead, 5-0.

Two free-throws by Bryce Woodard put Cornersville on the board but a 3-pointer by Blake Hardison and an inside basket by Jayden Hart put the Tigers' lead at eight points, 10-2 with quarter.

Foul trouble began to hamper the Tigers when with two minutes left in the first quarter Cornersville began to shoot one-and-one free throws.

Welch scored inside and on another attempt was fouled and made 1-of-2 to draw the Bulldogs closer, 10-5.

Gage Lovell, Cornersville's freshman point guard, on a good move inside, penetrated and scored to make the score, 10-7.

Another free throw by Welch drew the Bulldogs closer, 10-8, but Marshall County's Marcus O'Neal closed out the first quarter with a 3-pointer and a basket to put the Tigers in front, 15-8.

The second quarter began with Blaine Woodard making one of two free throws and Welch scoring down low to make the score 15-11.

Marshall County's Aja Jones and Cornersville's Welch traded baskets and Cornersville free-throw shooting brought the Bulldogs back then a nice baseline-move by Davis upped the MCHS lead to nine points 26-17 with three minutes left until halftime.

Cornersville fought back and continued to use the free-throw line to score as Marshall County had now committed 10 fouls in the half and Cornersville was in the double-bo-

A 3-point bomb by Mason Calahan with one minute left in the half cut the Tigers' lead to two points.

Free-throws by Jamahl Gentry and Calahan finished the scoring for both teams as Cornersville had closed to within two points, 28-26 at the buzzer to end the first half.

The beginning of the third quarter saw the game turn as the Tigers applied a pressure trapping defense that the Bulldogs found hard to manage.

Inbound passes, errant passes and trapped players with the ball caused numerous turnovers the Tigers converted to points and with three minutes left in the quarter, Marshall County now led 44-30.

Despite a crowdpleasing dunk by Welch, the Bulldogs could only score by free-throws and at the end of the third quarter the Tigers enjoyed a 15-point lead, 48-33.

The fourth quarter saw the Bulldogs valiantly fighting back but the third quarter run was too much for the Bulldogs to overcome.

The final eight points were scored by the Tigers as Kenteris Morris, Allred and Ronnie Lyttle, who score nine points in the quarter, made the last baskets for either team as the Tigers rolled to a 70-50 victory over the Cornersville Bulldogs.

"The first half was kind of slow, they (Corrnersville) got us into foul trouble but the second half by trapping and execution in the third quarter turned the game. It shows we can do that. We've got to build and get better," Tiger head coach Lavon

"We played more like a team tonight and that made it easier to score. We used our quickness and athleticism," Davis

"They (MCHS) are a talented team. We want to play against teams like that. It will help us know and handle pressure. The run (14 point run by MCHS)at the start of the third quarter was the difference maker," Bulldogs coach Peyton Newton.

Helping you go from hospital to home

TRANSITIONAL REHABILITATION SERVICES

Individuals may sometimes need additional care in order to return home after a hospital stay. Marshall Medical Center offers transitional care to help patients regain strength and mobility as they recover from surgery or illness.

Transitional rehabilitation — also known as swing bed care — is a hospital-based program that includes nursing care, physical therapy and occupational therapy. Benefits include:

In Re: The Adoption of a Male Petitioners Danielle Jean Wakham John Steve Wakham Savannah Morgan Haley

Jonathan Jones and Cameron Preslev Respondent

Case # 19545 In this cause, it appearing to the Court's satisfaction from the Verified Petition for Adoption of a Related Child and Termination of Parental Rights, and the Affidavit of the Mother, that the whereabouts of the Respondent Father, both biological and legal, are unknown and cannot be ascertained upon diligent inquiry, so that the ordinary process of law cannot be served and it further appearing that the only location where Petitioners or the mother have ever known Respondent Father, both biological and legal, to be is in Marshall County, Tennessee such that the best possible notice under the circumstances and notice reasonably calculated to give Respondent Father, both biological and legal, actual notice is publication in the Marshall County Tribune, Lewisburg, Tennessee, as provided by law; It is therefore, ORDERED, ADJUDGED AND DECREED that publication be made in the Marshall County Tribune, a weekly newspaper published in Lewisburg, Tennessee serving Marshall County, for four (4) consecutive weeks, notifying Respondent FATHER, both biological and legal, to file an answer to the Petition with the Chancery Court of Marshall County office of the Clerk and Master at 201 Marshall County Courthouse, Lewisburg, Tennessee 37091, and to serve upon, Petitioners' Attorney, Quinn B. Stewart whose address is 215 W. Commerce Street, P.O. Box 1143 Lewisburg, TN 37091, a copy of Answer to the Petition within 30 days after the 4th publication of this Notice or a judgment by default may be entered and the cause set for hearing ex parte. If there is no Answer, a hearing on Petitioners' motion for default judgment shall be heard on the 7th day of February, 2022. Failure to answer or appear may result in terminations of Respondent's parental rights individual and ROWDY LIVE-STOCK, LLC. Defendants.

Case No. CJ-2021-366 ORDER PERMITTING

ALTERNATIVE SERVICE

Before the Court is the Application for Order Permitting Alternative Service of Plaintiff. Northwest Crane Service. L.L.C. After reviewing the application and for good cause shown, the Court hereby finds and concludes that:

1. Sufficient grounds exist for an Order pursuant to 12 O.S. § 2004 (C)(6) permitting service by other methods.

Alternative service of the Summons and Petition (the "Service Papers") on Defendants in this case by permitting it to serve Defendants by (i) mailing by first class mail this Order along with the Service Papers to Defendants, (ii) posting this Order and the Service Papers on the front door of the Smith's residence, and (iii) publishing this Order and the Orders to Appear in The Jour-Record and Marshall County Tribune (newspapers authorized by law to publish legal notices in Oklahoma County, Oklahoma and in Lewisburg, Marshall County, Tennessee), for two (2) consecutive weeks is reasonably calculated to give the Defendants actual notice of these proceedings and an opportunity to be heard.

IT IS THEREFORE ORDERED that Plaintiff may serve the Defendants by (i) mailing by first class mail this Order along with the Service Papers to Defendants, (ii) posting this Order and the Service Papers on the front door of the Smith's residence, and (iii) publishing this Order allowing alternative service and the Orders to appear in The Journal Record and Tribune Marshall County (newspapers authorized by law to publish legal notices in Oklahoma County, Oklahoma and in Lewisburg, Marshall County, Tennessee), for two (2) consecutive weeks.
