

Honoring and remembering

By Scott Pearson

The Lewisburg square was full for a holiday Monday as a crowd turned out to honor the reason for Memorial Day.

The veterans, family members, and local residents turned out as they do every year to honor the servicemen and women who have given their lives in defense of the nation.

Gathering under the shade of the trees on a bright and warm early summer morning, the crowd paid their respects and listened to keynote speaker David Baker, who served as an Army paratrooper before turning to ministry and pastoring a church in Columbia.

Hosted annually by the local American Legion post and traditionally followed by a barbecue fundraiser at the Veterans of Foreign Wars post, the somber ceremony offers a chance to reflect on the meaning of service and sacrifice.

Home to a significant number of veterans, Marshall County offers a wide range of services and opportunities for those who have served.

In addition to the veteran's organizations, a veteran's outreach meeting is held weekly on Wednesdays at Church Street Church of Christ.

County residents and veterans honored those who have given their life in military service on Monday for the annual Memorial Day ceremony on the square.

Columbia State recognizes students at Convocation

More than 150 Columbia State Community College students were recently honored for excellence in academics, leadership and service at the 56th Annual Student Honors Convocation, including several from Marshall County.

Pictured (left to right): Faith D. Kennedy was honored for serving as Student Government Association senator for the Columbia Campus; Jaeden D. Kennedy was honored for serving as the Student Government Association secretary/treasurer; Anna Grace Rothrock received the English Academic Discipline Award; and X'Zavier D. Garrett received the Leadership Award for the Lewisburg Campus. Not Pictured: Meagan Jessica Gilley received the Accounting Academic Discipline Award and an Academic Excellence Award for maintaining a 3.9-4.0 GPA; Blake Garrett Jones received an Academic Excellence Award for maintaining a 3.9-4.0 GPA; Paula Mendoza was honored for serving as the Student Government Association senator for the Lewisburg Campus; Jessie Robison was honored as a TRIO Student Support Services graduate; Preston Wayne Shelton received a TCCAA All-Academic Athletics Baseball Award; Adam Michael Shoemake received the Engineering Systems Technology Award; and Stefanie Faye Teague received the Accelerated Advanced Emergency Medical Technician Academic Discipline Award.

Lee signs campaign finance and ethics bill

By Kimberlee Kruesi
Associated Press

Tennessee Gov. Bill Lee has signed off on a new campaign finance and ethics face-lift, bucking objections from some of the state's most influential advocacy groups who opposed the measure.

"I think that transparency is a good idea," Lee told reporters earlier this month. "I think that whenever we have transparency into organizations that politically lobby, that's a good thing."

The Republican governor signed the measure Friday. The move comes as a federal investigation has hovered over the GOP-controlled General Assembly for over a year that has so far led to one Republican lawmaker pleading guilty to a federal wire fraud charge over allegations she helped carry out a political consulting kickback scheme.

However, even as the statehouse's top legislative leaders called for campaign ethics reform amid the ongoing investigation scandals, so-called dark money groups have remained fiercely opposed to the new changes. Many argued that the law will result in them disclosing donors. Opponents include Americans for Prosperity, Tennessee Right to Life and the National Rifle Association.

Supporters counter that the new law will shine a light on expenditures, not donors. Specifically, certain politically active nonprofits must disclose spending totaling at least $5,000 within 60 days of an election on communications that contain a state candidate's name or likeness.

The measure also states that political committee leadership must provide identification.

"To the life of me, I still can't figure out why all these groups think that they'd have to disclose donors," House Speaker Cameron Sexton told The Associated Press earlier this month.

Sexton said lawmakers tweaked the bill multiple times to appease concerns from politically active groups, but they kept coming back with more suggested changes. Some suggestions would have been a "poison pill on the whole bill," Sexton said.

"We kept making the changes, and the thing is, what you really find out is some of these groups just didn't want anything," he said.

Senate Speaker Randy McNally previously said the bill was aimed at weeding out "bad actors," like shell companies and "shadowy PACs used by certain legislators to line their own pockets."

Independent groups have become increasingly more influential ever since the U.S. Supreme Court's 2010 Citizens United ruling, which removed caps on how much corporations, unions and interest groups can spend on advocacy communications that do not specifically call for the election or defeat of candidates.

While the ruling encour-

Heckle awarded inaugural GOP service award

The Marshall County Republican Party (MCRP) held their annual dinner on April 28, 2022, at the Lewisburg Recreation Center. The evening featured currently elected politicians as well as aspiring politicians who spoke to a sold out crowd. State Senator Shane Reeves shared how much he has enjoyed having Marshall County as part of his District 14 and will miss representing Marshall Countians now that the county will be part of District 28. He then introduced State Senator Joey Hensley who will be Marshall County's new State Senator after the new districts take effect. Senator Hensley gave a bit about his background and his legislative stances. Attendees heard from Matthew Fitterer, Jeff Ford, and incumbent Todd Warner, the three candidates running in the Republican primary for State Representative in District 92 which includes all of Marshall County and the southeast portion of Williamson County, including Spring Hill. The largest group of speakers for the evening were Republicans aspiring to be the next US Congressman from Tennessee's newly redrawn 5th District. They included Geni Batchelor, Natisha Brooks, Jeff Beierlein, Beth Harwell, Timothy Lee, Andy Ogles, Stewart Parks, Robby Starbuck, Kurt Winstead, and Tres Wittum. A highlight of the evening came when MCRP Chaplain and former Chairman, Scottie Poarch, presented long time Marshall County Republican leader, Janet Heckle, with the inaugural "Outstanding Service Award" which will be presented every four years from now onward. She has been an active member of the Marshall County Republican Party for over 15 years and is the President of the Republican Women of Marshall County. Mrs. Heckle also heads the MCRP Annual Dinner Committee and so much more. Thank you Mrs. Heckle for all that you do! MCRP Chairwoman Julie Quan expressed appreciation to all attendees and to the event sponsors for their support of the MCRP as the annual dinner is the key fundraising event for the year. She highlighted some of the things their support allows MCRP to do: such as support the In His Image Pregnancy Resource Center, provide three $500 scholarships to graduation Marshall County high school students, donate pocket US Constitutions to county 8th grade students, and hold monthly events to connect Marshall Countians with issue speakers, elected politicians and political candidates.

Mrs. Quan recognized Craig Blackwell, Vice Chairman of the MCRP, for his important efforts in ensuring the dinner was a sold out and successful fundraising event. She then expressed appreciation to all of the MCRP officers for their dedication to the MCRP, including: Beverly Denton (Secretary), Sharrin Lusco Peter (Vice Secretary), Chuck Peter (Treasurer), Curtis Denton (Vice Treasurer), and Sam Smith (Parliamentarian).

aged transparency, the federal government doesn't require such disclosure and most states don't either.

In March, ex-Rep. Robin Smith resigned from her legislative post and pleaded guilty in federal court under an agreement with prosecutors. The charging document said Smith, former House Speaker Glen Casada and his then-chief of staff, Cade Cothren, used a political consulting firm to illegally funnel money to themselves through both campaign and taxpayer-funded work, while concealing their involvement in it.

The charge came nearly a year after FBI agents raided the homes and offices of several state lawmakers and staffers, including Casada, Smith and Cothren.

Are you wild about bookazines?

By Danny Tyree

Did you get your copy of "Queen Elizabeth II: Reign in Pictures" in time for Her Majesty's Platinum Jubilee ceremonies?

As a bookazine fanatic, I certainly did. Beg pardon? What's a bookazine, you ask? (I promise I am merely making educated guesses about your inquiries. I do not have the ability to read your mind. And neither does that new co-worker you've been undressing with your eyes. But I digress.)

Bookazines combine the permanence of a book with the vivid images, pithy text and exciting layouts of a magazine. (If you grew up reading "Classics Illustrated" comics, you can probably appreciate the blend of formats. You may also appreciate how paper cuts from bookazines distract you from the trauma of your parents having THROWN OUT your comic books.)

The glossy paper and factoid-infused sidebars of bookazines make for compelling reading. (I'd still love to see the historical sidebar "10 People Who Were Hideously Inbred, Yet Aren't in Line for the Throne Anywhere. Go Figure.")

Perhaps you've seen bookazines in a bookstore magazine rack or on a website offering digital downloads. Surely, you've encountered them vying for your attention in grocery checkout lines. ("Hmmm... 'Shakespeare: His Chaotic Career' OR three extra Slim Jims. Whether 'tis nobler to suffer the slings and arrows of outrageous indigestion or...")

Periodicals such as "Time," "Life," "All About History" and "All About Space" have created a cottage industry for these collectible one-shot special editions. Sometimes quite literally a cottage industry. ("Elvis Has Left the Cottage: Candid Photos of Smaller Venues the King Got Hornswoggled into Playing.")

Some bookazines spotlight iconic perennial celebrities such as John Wayne, Marilyn Monroe or The Beatles. Others rush to capitalize on trendy celebrities of less lasting impact. These are the "notables" who will someday wind up in the "Where are they now - and by all that's holy, how can we keep them confined there?" section of the newspaper.

I know that snootier bibliophiles look down on bookazine aficionados, but they should be tickled that people are reading at all. Readers shouldn't have to prove themselves by making a lifetime commitment to a single long-winded paragraph that (unlike the Great Wall of China) CAN be seen from outer space.

Reading doesn't have to be drudgery. Curling up with a good book should be enjoyable, not the equivalent of eating your veggies while climbing the gym rope.

I admit it. Life coming at me fast has given me an abbreviated attention span. So sue me! (Brought to you by the publishers of "All About Ambulance Chasing.") Longer attention spans aren't all they're cracked up to be, anyway. They just give you more time to savor the atomic wedgie you received for being a judgmental bookworm.

There is still much room for growth in the bookazine field, but it's getting harder and harder to find new angles on well-covered topics such as Waterloo, the Titanic or black holes. ("Did Napoleon escape Elba via a rip in the time-space continuum? Nah, probably not. Oookay.... just 95 more pages to fill...")

Right now, I'm accumulating bookazines more than actually reading them; but someday I'll play catch-up and be the life of the party, sharing scintillating tidbits.

Unless someone steals the show by inventing "podillies" - the cross between a podcast and a wet willie.

Stop undressing that co-worker with your ears! The law should throw the bookazine at you!

Columbia State celebrates Pre-Apprentice Lineworker cohort with mini-rodeo

The Columbia State Community College Office of Workforce and Continuing Education recently hosted a Pre-Apprentice Lineworker Academy Mini-Rodeo that allowed students to demonstrate the skills they learned during the seven-week program.

"I am thrilled that we have such a wonderful program to offer our community, and it is a program that has received national recognition from the American Association of Community Colleges as a finalist for their best college/corporate partnership award," said Melody Murphy, Columbia State Workforce and Continuing Education director. "Previous participants have found employment with local utility companies and with contractors throughout the southeast region."

Upon completion of the program, the students received a Tennessee Valley Public Power Association climbing certification, first aid and CPR certifications, 10-hour safety card and flagging certification. In addition, the students are prepared to sit for a commercial driver's license.

During the mini-rodeo, students competed in different activities including the 80-foot pole climb, bell change, and switch transfer.

In the first activity, students climb up and down an 80-foot pole, which is a necessary part of the TVPPA Climbing Lab Certification. In this activity, Jackson Farler from Lewisburg came in first place.

The bell change and switch transfer are activities linemen would do in the field as a result of lightning, loose connections or replacement of aging materials to maintain electricity for those in the service area.

In the bell change, students climb a 40-foot pole and change out the bell that holds the line to the pole.

In the switch transfer, students climb a 40-foot pole to change out the switch attached to the cross-arm of the pole. In this activity, Jackson Farler came in second place.

In the overall rodeo, Braydon King came in first place, Jackson Farler came in second place and Kaleb Blackwood came in third place. The Pre-Apprentice Lineworker program is a result of communities from across Middle Tennessee coming together to fill a need in the workforce.

For more information about the program, please visit www.ColumbiaState.edu/Lineworker. Upcoming cohorts are scheduled for July 2022, September 2022 and March 2023. All individuals interested in the program should register through the link and it will place them on a waitlist for future classes.

Real rest

“Come unto Me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest...rest unto your soul.” Matthew 11:28,29

Notice that the word “Come,” is an amazingly kind word from the Lord Jesus showing the attitude and intent of God’s heart of grace and love found in the New Covenant. In the Old Covenant, God was to be approached by animal sacrifices, but that only appeased His holiness. There was still a separation between God and His people. We see this example in Exodus 19, where the LORD told Moses that He would come down in the sight of all the people, and that Moses was to set a boundary around the mountain so that no one touches it, and whoever does, whether it be man or beast shall be put to death. Understand, there was distance between God and man in the Old Covenant.

Jesus Christ, the Son of God, is called the Mediator of the New Covenant (Hebrews 9:15), and so He announces this gracious invitation here in Matthew 11 for people to come close. This invitation is not to come close to a mountain, to a temple, or any other place, but rather the invitation is to a Person. That is why the Lord Jesus said, “Come unto Me.” This invitation shouts out that God is now approachable, and that the New Covenant is calling people to come near, come close, and become one with God and His Son, Jesus Christ.

The reason that man is now called to come near to the Holy God is because God took the initiative in the New Covenant by giving us His Son. The Son of God condescend to our low estate by way of the virgin womb, to live as a perfect man, and so as to be the perfect human sacrifice for sin. We know God in the flesh, as the Lord Jesus Christ, and because of His perfect and final sacrifice He fulfilled all the Old Covenant laws and rules that separated us from God our Father. By His death, resurrection, and ascension He did away with a long distant relationship with God. As a result He took distant sinners and changed them into redeemed saints, which allowed them to come near to God as their Heavenly Father.

Regardless of age, education, or social status, “Come unto Me” is simple language that all can understand. You don’t need a theological degree or to be a preacher to understand this gracious invitation in order to have intimacy with God. Not only is this invitation to intimacy simple, but these words from God our Savior have a great and wonderful promise – “I will give your rest.” This invitation is for the lost to be saved and enter into eternal rest, and it is also an invitation for the saint to continue in the daily rest God has given them. God is the Lover of our souls and He is inviting us to be intimate with Him – and rest.

Mediterranean-inspired dinner parties made easy

(Family Features)

Over the past two years, home chefs have had time to explore new recipes, ingredients and cooking techniques, which is why it is no surprise dinner parties are, at long last, a way to celebrate together in 2022. Now is the perfect time to share your newfound skills with family and friends.

It can be easy to get caught up in hosting duties, but few hosts want to spend all their time in the kitchen when they could be enjoying a great meal. Gail Simmons, food expert and TV personality, has tips and tricks you can bookmark to help turn your dinner party from good to great.

Reach for Trusted, High-Quality Shortcuts: When entertaining, always use the best ingredients you can find that don't require a lot of fuss, but still feel special. Made with premium cuts of hand-filletted, wild caught yellowfin and albacore tuna, a time-saving ingredient like Genova Premium Tuna is high in protein, a great source of omega-3s and has a uniquely rich and savory flavor that offers a taste of the Mediterranean in every bite.

Host a Themed Party: To host a fun and fresh Mediterranean-themed party this summer, decorate your table with blue and white patterned plates, delicate olive oil and vinegar bottles, cutting boards and fresh ingredients such as lemons and greenery instead of traditional centerpieces. When paired with a flavorful seafood recipe, like this Tuna Romesco Salad Board, your guests will feel like they're enjoying the Mediterranean all summer long.

Tuna Romesco Salad Board

- Recipe courtesy of Gail Simmons on behalf of Genova Tuna
 Servings: 4-6
Romesco:
 3 large Roma tomatoes
 1 roasted red pepper, skin removed and seeded (or from jar), coarsely chopped
 1/3 cup roasted salted almonds
 1 garlic clove, chopped
 2 tablespoons sherry vinegar
 1/4 teaspoon sweet smoked paprika
 1/4 teaspoon red pepper flakes (optional)
 1 teaspoon kosher

- salt
 1/4 teaspoon freshly ground black pepper

- 1/4 cup extra-virgin olive oil

Tuna Board:

- 2 cans Genova Yellowfin Tuna in Olive Oil
 1 tablespoon extra-virgin olive oil, divided 1 bunch scallions kosher salt, divided freshly ground black pepper, divided
 1 zucchini, sliced 1/2-inch thick on bias
 1 red bell pepper, sliced lengthwise into 1-inch pieces
 1/2 cup roasted salted almonds
 1/2 cup marinated artichokes, drained, patted dry and halved
 1 bunch radishes, halved
 1/2 cup green olives
 1/2 cup black olives
 4 ounces manchego cheese, sliced into triangles
 2 tablespoons flat

leaf parsley, chopped

To make romesco: Preheat broiler. Cover sheet pan with parchment paper or foil. Place tomatoes on sheet pan and broil until well charred on both sides, 2-4 minutes per side. Transfer tomatoes to bowl; cool slightly then remove skin, core, seed and coarsely chop.

In blender, combine tomatoes; roasted red pepper; almonds; garlic; vinegar; paprika; red pepper flakes, if using; salt; and pepper until chunky paste forms. With blender on high speed, slowly drizzle in oil, scraping down sides of blender as needed until mixture creates rustic texture. Transfer romesco to bowl and taste for seasoning. Let romesco sit covered at room temperature 1 hour.

To prepare board: In bowl, drain tuna; set aside. Set grill on medium-high heat and brush grates with 1 teaspoon olive oil. Grill scallions until charred and tender, about 4 minutes per side. Remove to large plate and season with salt and pepper. Toss zucchini and red pepper in olive oil then season with salt and pepper. Grill until charred and tender, about 3 minutes per side. Remove to same plate to cool slightly.

To assemble: With large spoon, scoop generous amount of romesco into center of board. Using back of spoon, spread romesco into circle with well in center. Gently pile tuna into well. Arrange zucchini, pepper, roasted almonds, artichokes, radishes, olives and cheese around romesco and tuna. Sprinkle tuna with chopped parsley before serving.

The 2022 Class 2A state runner-up Forrest Lady Rockets finished the season with a 30-12 record, an undefeated district record and captured both the District 7AA Tournament and Region 4AA titles.

Alcoa edges Forrest for first state title

By Anthony S. Puca
Sports Writer

The four-time state champion Forrest Lady Rockets exemplified the never give up, never give up legacy on Saturday at the Spring Fling XIX in Murfreesboro, playing three games in one day after falling in to the loser's bracket on Thursday.

Forrest came up with a win over Loretto in the morning loser's bracket final and handed Alcoa its first tournament loss, setting up a rubber match game between the Lady Rockets and the Tornados for the Class 2A state title.

Defending back-to-back state champions Forrest was appearing in its ninth state championship game while Alcoa was in new territory, playing in its first state title game in school history and it was the Tornados who came out on top 6-1.

"We made it this far and we came home with something, yeah our goal is to win it, but that just doesn't always happen so we are still successful in our eyes, we still put in the work and I am still super proud of them whether you come home with it or you don't," Forrest coach Shelby Lightfoot said. "That first time there is nothing like it out of all of them that you have and that is the one you remember. Hats off to them, they have a good ballclub and they could have easily shut down after we had that first game and they didn't; they keep it close, close enough until they got their bats going, so it worked out for them."

Junior Julie Williams was in the circle for Forrest and Gabby Burkhart took the ball for the Tornados.

Both pitchers threw scoreless ball through the first four innings before Alcoa broke the deadlock on an Olivia Emert two-run double in the top of the fifth inning.

It could have been 3-0 if not for an incredible diving catch in left field by Forrest senior Addison Bunty for the third out.

Bunty slashed a two-out triple in to right field corner and scored on a Briley Burnham base hit to cut the Alcoa lead in half in the home half of the fifth inning.

In the top of the sixth inning, the Tornados played small ball as Kara Pitts led off with a single to left field and Dylan Jablonski followed with a successful

Junior Julie Williams was solid in the circle for Forrest, going the distance while giving up five earned runs in the title game.

A passed ball sent Pitts to third base and she scored on sacrifice fly RBI by Addrianna King to make it 3-1.

Burkhart set down Forrest 1-2-3 in the bottom of the sixth and in the top of the seventh, Alcoa went long ball when Jaylin Halliburton broke the game open with a three-run homerun to make it 6-1.

Burkhart got the first two outs in the bottom of the seventh inning, but Forrest was not going to go away just yet as Carli Warner and Addison Bunty came up with back-to-back base hits.

A fly ball to Trinity Hodge in left field ended Forrest's season as state runner-ups and the Tornados captured the elusive first-ever state championship.

"The big thing about this week we have been hitting good, this game we just didn't get going," Lightfoot said. "I would say we left some stranded, but in reality we just didn't get anybody on and didn't make adjustments like we had been doing, so today they are better than us."

Forrest (30-12) only loses one senior in Bunty while they bring back five juniors (Julie Williams, Hadley Frazier, Parker Wales, Carli Warner, Macyn Kirby), seven sophomores (Briley Burnham, Sarah King, Christa Warren, Abby Ferguson, Maggie Daugherty, Leslie Bartoli, Jenna Goodman), five freshmen (Ella Chilton, Emory Hall, Haddie Patton, Miranda Stout, Karson Mihalek) and several eighth-graders (Marley Chilton, Megan Dunn, Haylee Webb, Lindsey Lee) for the 2023 campaign.

"We just hope we can attract some more girls," Lightfoot said. "We try to do the right thing, not just on the field but we preach to them about just being good people outside, being good students, and trying to do the right thing, so hopefully that karma goes our way on the field."

Lady Rockets beat Alcoa, force second title game

By Anthony S. Puca
Sports Writer

After disposing of Loretto in the Class 2A loser's bracket final Saturday morning in the Spring Fling XIX at Murfreesboro, the Forrest Lady Rockets got their re-match with tournament unbeaten Alcoa in the first championship game.

It was win and survive to play the if necessary second title game and Forrest responded as four-time state champions do, coming up with some clutch pitching and explosive offense in an 11-5 win.

A pair of freshmen pitchers completed a very successful season in the circle for the Lady Rockets' youngsters as Emory Hall took the ball and tossed five solid innings, giving up three runs (two earned) on eight hits while striking out one and walking zero Tornado batters.

"We were taking it one game at a time and for Hall, who hadn't had a lot of pitching time even before district tournament came out and threw an amazing game," Forrest coach Shelby Lightfoot said. "Hats off to her because for her to come in and not getting a lot of pitching time to come in and shut it down was huge to get us to the championship game."

Ella Chilton came on to pitch the final two innings and the talented freshman gave up two runs (zero earned) on three hits while striking one and walking none.

Forrest banged out 12 hits in the contest with Abby Ferguson, Macyn Kirby, Addison Bunty, and Parker Wales all coming up with two hits apiece.

Ferguson bashed a three-run homerun in the top of the third inning to give Forrest a rare early lead, but the Tornados came back quickly on a two-run homerun by Olivia Emert in the home half of the frame to make it 3-2.

Hall was in control for most of the next two innings before Alcoa tied the game at 3-3 on a two-out RBI Single by Dylan Jablonski, but the go-ahead run was cut down at the plate on a great throw from Ferguson in center to Wales at home plate.

Hall got the final out that ended her stint in the circle and her teammates picked her up in a big way, exploding for five runs in the top of the sixth inning.

Burnham led off with a double, Wales singled to left field, and Maggie Daugherty walked to load the bases before two runs scored via an Alcoa error on a ground ball by Kirby, making it 5-3.

Ferguson and Christa Warren also reached on Loretto errors as three more runs came to plate with Forrest opening up a five-run lead at 8-3.

The Tornados came up with two runs in the home half of the inning before Forrest added a trio of insurance runs in the top of the seventh inning with Bunty leading off with a bunt single and taking second base on a throwing error.

Burnham followed with another bunt that was misplayed by Alcoa and Wales drove in Bun-ty with a fielder's choice RBI and reached first base when the throw to the plate to try to force Bunty was late.

Daugherty drove home Burnham and Kirby knocked in Wales to make it an 11-5 contest.

Chilton was in control in the circle and induced three consecutive ground ball outs to finish the stellar relief job to cap Forrest's 30th win of the season and send the Lady Rockets to their ninth state title game since 2002.

Mustangs down, two more to go for Lady Rockets

By Anthony S. Puca
Sports Writer

After corraling a Mustang in the morning, the Forrest Lady Rockets face the daunting task of taming a tornado twice in the afternoon.

Forrest handled Loretto 4-3 in a morning loser's bracket final at the Spring Fling XIX in Murfreesboro and will get a re-match with Alcoa, who is unbeaten in the tournament entering the championship game.

Forrest junior Julie Williams turned in a gutty performance in the circle, tossing a complete game, giving up three runs on 11 hits while striking out three and walking three Lady Mustang batters.

Williams worked her way out several tight jams in the contest as Loretto had 11 hits, but also left 11 runners on base, including two-on, two out nerve wreckers in first, third, fourth, fifth, and sixth innings.

"She gave up a solo home run and that was the best hitter on their team and we knew that and it really didn't hurt us there," Forrest coach Shelby Lightfoot said. "She kept them under fire and gave us a shot."

The Forrest defense, which committed six errors in yesterday's winner's bracket final, made just one miscue versus Loretto, but it did not cost them.

Christa Warren slammed a go-ahead two-run home run in the bottom of the fifth inning for Forrest.

"It was better today, we still feel like we were ahead in the count and gave up some big hits and still a few errors here and there," Lightfoot said. "I think our errors today was offensively when we got runners on and just not score them. We did what we had to, but we still feel like we could have done better at the plate."

On offense, Christa Warren came up with a huge long knock, hammering a two-run, go-ahead homerun in the bottom of the fifth inning.

"She has been having great BP's, we changed her stance a little to see if that could help her," Lightfoot said. "She has kind of just miss-hitting, I could tell on her first at bat when she had that hard ground ball that she was feeling it, her attitude has been great today and she came up big."

Loretto loaded the bases with no outs in the top of the first inning and only came away with one run with Williams notching an inning ending strikeout.

Forrest got on the board, going ahead in the bottom of the second inning as Leslie Bartoli drew a one out base on balls and went to second on a Carli Warner sacrifice bunt before scoring on a Loretto error as they misplayed an Addison Bunty bunt.

Briley Burnham knocked in Bunty from third with a fielder's choice RBI.

With two outs in the top of the third inning, Briley Dover smashed a solo homerun over the center field fence, tying the game at 2-2.

In the home half of the frame, Forrest loaded the sacks with two out but could not get a run across.

Williams escaped a jam in the top of the fourth inning and the Lady Rockets went down 1-2-3 in the home half of the stanza.

Dover drilled a ground-rule double, leading off the fifth inning and came around to score the go-ahead run on a Shelby Fisher infield single.

After a fly out, Emily Cozart doubled to put Loretto runners on second and third before Warren Grabbed a ground ball at the third base and threw to Carli Warner at first for the third out.

Macyn Kirby, who went 3-for-3 in the game, laced a one-out single up the middle and Warren followed with a moonshot over the center field fence, making it a 4-3 ballgame.

Williams managed two fly ball outs to start the sixth inning before Loretto got two-on with two-outs, but a pop-up to Burnham at second base ended the threat.

A run was taken away from Forrest in the bottom of the sixth inning on a questionable call on a tag play at third base and the game went to the top of the seventh where Williams took care of business to hold down the Mustangs and secure the win.

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Rain delay no problem for red-hot Lady Rockets

By Anthony S. Puca
Sports Writer

A lengthy rain delay did not dampen the spirits of the defending back-to-back state champion Forrest Lady Rockets, who easily handled Adamsville 8-1 in a second round Spring Fling XIX Class 2A winner's bracket contest at McKnight Field in Murfreesboro Wednesday afternoon.

"I think the rain delay actually gave them some time to decompress," Forrest coach Shelby Lightfoot said. "I was really proud of them, when we said it was time to go they just went out and played ball, so they did great with it."

Forrest (28-10) is on a nine-game winning streak and has won 14 out of its last 15 ballgames with the only loss coming in a close 5-4 setback at intra-county rival Marshall County on May 3.

Julie Williams came back from a rough start on Tuesday, turning in a complete game three-hit, four strikeout, and one walk gem in the circle versus the Lady Cardinals.

"Julie had a great game today," Lightfoot said. "That was big, she gave us a chance to win and a chance for our offense to get going."

Adamsville's only score was unearned in the fourth inning.

The only time Williams was really in any trouble was the bottom of the first inning as Adamsville had two runners on with one out, but the junior hurler came up with a strikeout and a grounder to first base to squash the threat.

Williams also had three 1-2-3 innings, including the last inning.

On offense, Forrest pounded out 13 hits with Macyn Kirby leading the way with a 4-for-5 performance at the plate with three runs scored.

Abby Ferguson also swung a lethal bat, going 3-for-5 with five RBIs and Maggie Daugherty went 2-for-3 with an RBI, a run scored, and a stolen base.

"We really need that middle and that top part of our lineup to get going, honestly I felt it's been a little bit late," Lightfoot said. "Briley's been hot, Maggie's been hot, and we have been doing some things down there, so when I say successful for them I'm thinking 2-for-3 and 3-for-4. That's kind of the numbers I expect and they expect, so when they bring up those numbers we run the score up and do well."

Addie Bunty, Leslie

Bartoli, Carli Warner, and Briley Burnham all had one hit apiece for Forrest with Burnham scoring twice and driving in a run.

In the top of the second inning, Burnham drove home the game's first run on a squeeze bunt RBI and Daugherty made it 2-0 with a run scoring single.

Ferguson knocked in two runs in the top of the fourth inning to make it 4-0 before a pair of Forrest fielding errors led to an RBI double by Morgan Palmer in the home half of the frame to make it 4-1.

Christa Warren walked with the bases loaded and Ferguson knocked in two more runs in the fifth inning as Forrest stretched the lead to 7-1.

Ferguson sent Daugherty to the plate with run number eight in the top of the seventh before Williams set down the Lady Cardinals 1-2-3 in the home half of the frame to secure the win and send the Lady Rockets to the winner's bracket final.

"We don't know much about Alcoa, we have been all playing at the same time so there has been no scouting," Lightfoot said. "I saw a few pitches from their pitcher the other day and it looks like she throws pretty hard, so we just have to come out and play ball."

The winner of that game will be in the driver's seat and will have to be beaten in two championship games.

"We are going to keep the same mindset, keep it day by day, pitch by pitch and breath by breath at this point," Lightfoot said. "Of course you want to win so you have to get beat twice. Three games in a row on any pitching is a lot, so just finding a way to win and it doesn't have to be pretty. Not everybody has to have their best night, if we can just have a few people have a good night and get a few runs across I think we will be in good shape."

Warner, Chilton spark Forrest comeback over Meigs County

By Anthony S. Puca
Sports Writer

The Forrest Lady Rockets entered the big stage as the back-to-back state champions and they showed why in Tuesday night's opening round of Spring Fling XIX with a come from behind 5-2 win over Meigs County.

"I feel like this was the most important win, because you don't want to play out of the loser's bracket" Forrest coach Shelby Lightfoot said. "Just getting through and getting the nerves out. This is a group that is very compassionate, whether people know it or not they don't want to let people down. It has nothing to do about them, they just feel like they will let the school or the community down, so for them to get through this game was a big confidence booster."

Forrest freshman Ella Chilton turned in a masterpiece relief job in the circle, tossing five innings of no-hit ball to pick up the win and junior Carli Warner's game tying two-run homerun in the bottom of the fourth inning sparked the Lady Rockets' bats.

"Carli came through with a huge hit, I just don't know how else to say that," Lightfoot said. "She has always been clutch in the big moments and that was a big moment and it gave us confidence to move forward with our hitting."

Chilton came to the circle in relief of starting pitcher Julie Williams in the top of the third inning with two runners on base and no-outs, trailing 2-0 and hit the first batter she faced to load the bases.

Sierra Howard hit a grounder back to the circle and Chilton fired home to catcher Parker Wales for the first out and Wales gunned to first for a huge double play.

Chilton walked the next batter before getting out of the jam on a groundball to Macyn Kirby at shortstop.

After that, Chilton only allowed two Meigs County batters to reach base the remainder of the contest and they both came on walks.

"Ella has done an excellent job closing for us all year," Lightfoot said. "She has been hungry for it, she has asked for the ball a few times and she came through. She came in and commanded the zone and she pounded it, so it was great."

Chilton tossed a 1-2-3 fourth inning and had little trouble in the top of the fifth.

Madylin Johnson drew a leadoff walk for Meigs County in the top of the sixth inning before the Lady Rockets threw some leather at the Lady Tigers as Forrest third baseman Christa Warren took over.

Warren grabbed a hot shot and threw to second for a force out for out number one and then gobbled up another ground ball and turned an around the horn double play to end the inning.

"We have talked to them and preached to them all year that defense will win championships," Lightfoot said. "Defense and pitching will keep us in the game and if we do those two things our bats will come alive."

Meigs County starting pitcher Lainey Fitzgerald mowed down Forrest over the first three innings, giving up no hits while striking out five.

"It's the same broken record, we have to let a few runs score, it's definitely not the inning we want at the beginning," Lightfoot said. "The first time through, she (Fitzgerald) was spinning the ball very well and throwing it the zone well and we were chasing a lot of pitches. It was a little bit of nerves and a little bit of excitement and we had to find a way to settle down."

Even after issuing a leadoff walk to Warren in the bottom of the fourth, Fitzgerald seemed in control as she retired the next two Forrest batters, but Warner changed the entire tone of the game with a long two-run bomb over the center field fence.

"My first at bat I just got a little under it and I knew the second time up I had her number," Warner said. "I had a runner on and I was fixin to hit it, she pitched it right inside and then whatever, there it was.

It was a motivator, after that we knew we were back in this and all we had to do is score one or two more."

Chilton held the Lady Tigers in check and in the bottom of the fifth inning, Briley Burnham lined a leadoff single.

After a pop-up out, Maggie Daugherty came up and slashed a rope in to the left field corner and Burnham scored all the way from first base to put the Lady Rockets in front to stay.

Forrest added a pair of big insurance runs in the bottom of the sixth inning on an error and an RBI single by Burnham.

Chilton took the three-run lead to the top of the seventh inning and the freshman closed the game out quickly on a strikeout, a groundout back to the circle, and the game-ending fly out to Daugherty in right field.

"Props to her (Chilton), she came in there with a gun show and shut them down," Warner said. "Our defense was really good tonight too, we turned two double plays for her and I think it was just an all-around really great game."

Sports Editor Chris Siers joins his family and friends after taking off the South Branch of the Potomac River in Moorefield, W.Va. over his annual Memorial Day floating trip.

Good times, memories and great fishing

You can give a man a fish and he eats for the day. If you teach a man to fish, he disappears in the woods of West Virginia for a weekend and disconnects from reality for a few days. My favorite weekend of the year is one I'll never miss — Memorial Day fishing trip. Beginning way back in 2003, my grandpa, cousin and family friends started what would become one of the greatest guy weekends one can have. We make the trip none of us miss it. We've been doing this trip for 19 years and while the catching isn't always great, the fishing is absolutely spectacular. The area of the river we float is just above one of the most gorgeous stretches of river I've ever laid eyes on. There's an area called "the Trough," which looks like a giant feed trough cut out of the mountains. It's absolutely spectacular to just relax and disconnect. There's something about the first time you get a view of that valley on the trip—it's refreshing for the soul. In several recent years, we've not been able to actually get on the river for a full trip's worth of floating because weather had made the water too high or muddy to fish. This year, we got three days on the water and each day was fantastic. Eleven of us made the trip this year and from the breakfasts shared at McDonalds (a daily tradition before putting on the water) to finding one of the local eateries in town to have dinner at after a day of floating. This year, the fishing was pretty good all three days we got to float, even though we took a scare on Friday with rains and a muddy uptick in the river. But, all turned well and three fantastic days were had on the water. One of my grandpa's favorite things about this trip is the camaraderie, with guys sitting around, being guys and swapping stories of yesterday. That's arguably the bigger point that nearly 15 of us make this trip each and every year. But for me, maybe something a little bit more than the camaraderie is the memories made each and every year. The 2022 chapter in the book of our trip was pretty spectacular.

Vols' dominance earns them No. 1 seed in NCAA baseball

By ERIC OLSON
AP Sports Writer

OMAHA, Neb. — After finishing one of the most dominant runs in Southeastern Conference history, Tennessee was selected the No. 1 overall seed in the NCAA baseball tournament Monday. The Volunteers (53-7) won 31 of their first 32 games, swept the SEC regular-season and tournament titles and have the best pitching and batting statistics in the nation. They've been the consensus No. 1 team in the polls all but one week since March 28 and enter regionals having won eight straight and 12 of 13.

"It's really cool to win the SEC Tournament," Vols slugger Drew Gilbert said, "but we have bigger goals in mind and know we still have a lot of baseball in front of us." The 64-team tournament opens Friday in 16 regionals. Winners advance to eight best-of-three super regionals. Those winners move on to the College World Series in Omaha.

The top eight national seeds are assured of hosting super regionals if they win their regionals. The national seeds following Tennessee: Stanford (41-14), Oregon State (44-15), Virginia Tech (41-12), Texas A&M (37-18), Miami (39-18), Oklahoma State (39-20) and East Carolina (42-18).

Stanford, which won the Pac-12 regular-season and tournament titles, is a national seed for the first time since it was No. 2 in 2018. Oregon State gives the Pac-12 two of the top three seeds for the first time. Virginia Tech, which was picked second to last in the Atlantic Coast Conference's Coastal Division, has its highest seed in program history and will be playing in a regional for the first time since 2013. Texas A&M won its last seven SEC series under first-year coach Jim Schlossnagle to lock up a national seed after not making the tournament last year. East Carolina will play in the tournament for a 32nd time. The Pirates hold the distinction of having made the most appearances without reaching a CWS. Seeds nine through 16: Texas (42-19), North Carolina (38-19), Southern Mississippi (43-16), Louisville (38-18), Florida (39-22), Auburn (37-19), Maryland (45-12) and Georgia Southern (40-18).
