Early voting open now

By Scott Pearson
Associate Editor

The early voting period for the November 8 election opened in Marshall County, and the state, yesterday.

The early vote continues through Thursday, Nov. 3, at the Marshall County Election Office in the Hardison Annex at 230 College Street in Lewisburg.

The office will be open on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Friday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

On Thursdays, the office will be open from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Additionally, votes can be cast on the two Saturdays during this period from 8 a.m. until noon.

For early voters in the north of the county, a voting location will set up at Chapel Hill United Methodist Church, 316 N. Horton Pkwy., between Friday, Oct. 21 and Wednesday, Oct. 26.

Chapel Hill hours are Friday Oct. 21, Monday Oct. 24, Tuesday Oct. 25, and Wednesday Oct. 26, from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m.

On Saturday Oct. 22, the Chapel Hill location will be open 8 a.m. to noon.

Votes on Tuesday, Nov. 8, must be cast at assigned polling stations, not at the election office.

Over the last few elections, early voters have begun to outnumber those casting ballots on election days.

The race at the top of the ticket is for the governor's office, as Bill Lee seeks a second term, challenged by Dr. Jason Martin.

The newly drawn 5th Congressional District, which ties Marshall County into the southern parts of Davidson County, pits Andy Ogles against State Senator Heidi Campbell.

Recent releases show Campbell with a fundraising edge over Ogles for the campaign, as Ogles has been largely quiet on the campaign trail.

In the state house, incumbent Todd Warner defends his 92nd District seat after a three way Republican primary, against Democratic candidate Angela Hughes.

Tara Ewing and James Hopkins are running for the vacant seat from the 8th District on the Marshall County Commission.

Lynn Stocstill could not be seated after finishing second in the August election after not completing a move into the district

Council wrestles with rezoning requests

By Scott Pearson
Associate Editor

The Lewisburg City Council moved some development proposals forward while downvoting others at last Tuesday's monthly meeting.

The council approved, on first reading, a request to rezone 72 acres on Holly Grove Road, proposed as the Holly Grove Meadows subdivision, from the R-1 low density residential zoning with which it was annexed into the city to a low density planned urban development.

Councilman Joe Bradford was the only dissenting vote.

An 83 acre expansion of an already approved subdivision on Highway 431 did not fare as well.

Developer Thomas Adkins was seeking to have the parcel annexed and rezoned to a low density PUD to match the adjoining 103 acre parcel already approved for the Savannah Lakes subdivision with a low density PUD in place.

The council balked at the additional 200 homes that the expansion would place north of Oak Grove Elementary School, as did the planning commission who did not give the proposal a favorable rating.

Councilwoman Patty Parsons was the lone vote in favor of the resolution.

The seven other rezoning requests or tweaks to the city guidelines passed unanimously.

The citizen comment period was once again lively, a recent departure from standard monthly meetings.

Concerns were again expressed about the current pace of development in the city.

The group asking for pool heaters to be repaired at the Rec Center returned to further make their point.

Parks Director Cary Whitesell later stated that her department did have the funds to replace one of the heaters, due to American Rescue Plan funds.

One resident asked the council to vote to censure one of its members, mentioning Councilman Joe Bradford, before cautioned against personal attacks by Mayor Jim Bingham.

The allegation centered on deliberate misinformation spread through social media which harmed the city and was based allegedly on sour grapes at the August election results.

The council took no action on the request.

Council also approved on final reading an ordinance requiring dog owners to clean up after their dogs on public and private property.

Goats, Music, & More Fair- October 21st & 22nd

Marshall County will celebrate the iconic goat and the county's rich heritage October 21st & 22nd during the Goats, Music, & More Fair.

The event that began in honor of those famous fainting goats of Marshall County returns for its 18th year at Rock Creek Park in Lewisburg, TN. This year's lineup of animal activities, musical entertainment, vendors, food trucks, and events for the whole family promises to draw crowds from across the state and beyond. The festival begins each day at 9:00 AM.

While the City of Lewisburg has operated the festival until this year, a non-profit group of community leaders was recently formed to continue the event. Through generous sponsorships from across Marshall County, the group has managed to pull together an event for all to enjoy.

On Friday the festival kicks into gear with livestock exhibits, kids' games and rides, arts and crafts, vendors, food, and musical entertainment.

Friday night features live entertainment with Scott Southworth and the Honky Tonk Anonymous Band (5:00 PM), Shelby Lee Lowe (6:45 PM), and Gary Nichols (8:30 PM) as they take the Rock Creek Park Stage.

Saturday features a repeat of Friday's activities along with the Fairest of the Fair Pageant in the afternoon and another great lineup of local entertainment.

Saturday night's live entertainment includes The Wentzel Brothers (5:00 PM), Full Circle (6:45 PM), and The Midnight Riders (8:30 PM).

The Goats, Music and More Festival has three times been named as one of the Top 20 Events to see by the Southeast Tourism Society. People from all fifty states, 5 countries and 80 counties in Tennessee have come each year to enjoy everything this festival has to offer in beautiful Lewisburg, TN - just 50 miles south of Nashville.

So, mark your calendar now for the 18th Annual Goats, Music and More Festival taking place October 21-22, 2022, at Rock Creek Park in Lewisburg, TN. To find out more, visit www.goats-musicandmore.com in time to be considered a resident.

Cornersville will see familiar faces on the Board of Aldermen.

Incumbents Doris Arthur, Mary Johnson, and Sheryl McClintock are running for another term in the three open seats.

Beth Vick appears on the ballot to be elected to the term to which she was appointed.

Vick, however, has taken a position with the town, and will not serve in the seat to avoid a conflict of interest.

The Board of Mayor and Aldermen will instead appoint to fill the seat from among any interested candidates.

Despite relatively few races compared to the August election, the November ballot is bulked up with the addition of four proposed amendments to the Tennessee Constitution.

Amendment 1 is the most controversial. If approved, it would enshrine "right to work" language in the constitution, which allows employees not to join unions or other organizations as part of their employment.

Some criticize the language as being very pro-business, at the cost of the workers rights and benefits.

Amendment 2 established a succession plan if the sitting governor becomes unable to discharge their duties.

Amendment 3 would add "slavery and involuntary servitude are forever prohibited" to the state constitution, with the exception for convicted inmates.

Amendment 4 removes an article prohibiting ministers or priests from serving in the legislature. Said prohibition has not been enforced for several decades.

Producers will also have the opportunity to listen to a presentation from Green Point Ag

Does Halloween candy trivia drive you crazy?

By Danny Tyree

Perhaps it's partly because my mother owns a huge antique desk from Milky Way Farm (the former estate of Franklin C. Mars, founder of Mars Candies), but I pay keen attention to the annual flurry of "filler" news items about Halloween candy.

"Prices up or down? What's hot and what's not? Should I call my manual laborer cousin and rub this sweet gig in his face or not?"

(Think of the perennial stories as being like the swallows returning to San Juan Capistrano, except with cavities, tummy aches and hyperactivity.)

According to a survey by the oral care platform Byte ("Rinse, spit, blurt out the name of a favorite candy before cussing and slamming the phone down..."), candy corn is this year's favorite treat in Ohio and five other states — although a plurality of Americans are ambivalent about the confection and 34 percent actively detest it. ("Let's drag it to the town square and string it up by its neck with... black licorice! No — stone it with circus peanuts!")

I happen to like candy corn (although my consumption of it resembles the frustration of trying to eat just one Lay's potato chip). It gets a bum rap because it's like a wide-open target in a game of dodgeball. Some candy mogul got cold feet and abandoned all the OTHER candies designed to remind you of the school cafeteria. You know, the Grape Greasy Ladle, Chocolate Hairnets and Sweet-and-Sour Popular Kids' Table.

As a former geography whiz, I am aware that different states have different ethnic mixes, industries and traditions; but I must confess it bugs me that there is such a wild variation of favorite and least-favorite candies between the states. Are taste buds so sensitive to state borders?

State nicknames must figure in there somewhere. It's like the Tar Heel State, Wolverine State and Garden State are joined by the "Nougat Is the Spawn of Satan" State or "Almonds Can Bite ME" state.

Okay, maybe it is better to have a little diversity rather than allowing one or two populous states dictate what everyone else likes. ("Kids, don't fret about messy candy wrappers. Tickle your tonsils with the new delivery system: discarded syringes!")

I'm not the first person to mock the "fun-size" designation for candy bars and I won't be the last (unless those new hate-crime laws go into effect, incarcerating people who persist in heinous acts such as referring to Butterfinger bars instead of Digital Coordination-Challenged bars).

To me, "fun-size" candy would be Lifesavers you can use as a hula hoop or Twix bars you could wield as a light saber. Razor blades? A fun-size Snickers should be able to accommodate a machete!

According to Byte, a whopping 52 percent of Americans are going to tick off trick-or-treaters by not dispensing treats this Halloween. Official excuses include inflation, "don't celebrate Halloween" and lingering pandemic fears. Digging deeper brings confessions of "I really need the eggs and toilet paper."

I hope next year's filler stories are tame. Alas, the signs are not good, with politics and social trends intruding. "How many licks to get to the center of a Tootsie Pop? You and your Western European math!"

"REESE'S Pieces? How capitalistic! This piece is your piece, this piece is my piece, from California to the New York Island..."

"Because you demanded it...one musketeer and two self-service musketeers!"

Sigh

POLICE BLOTTER

An alleged attempt to take his 7-month-old daughter from his ex-girlfriend's home without her permission landed a Lewisburg man in jail Sunday.

Bobby Ridgeway allegedly arrived at an Anes Station Road home Sunday after the ex-girlfriend didn't answer a text asking to see his daughter.

Witnesses told a Marshall County deputy that Ridgeway sped to the home, walked inside with a handgun on his hip and told the ex, "You're dead to me."

Ridgeway allegedly grabbed the little girl and pushed and choked the ex-girlfriend, who fought him off and called 911.

The report said Ridgeway handed the girl back to her mother, left the home, and was outside with hands raised when deputies arrived.

The loaded and chambered Glock 21 handgun was stolen from Webster County, Mississippi, according to the report.

Ridgeway is charged with aggravated kidnapping, aggravated burglary, child abuse, child endangerment, aggravated domestic assault and theft of property. Bond was set at $30,000.

RAPE CHARGES

A man identified as Jonathon Lipscomb of Lewisburg faces two charges of rape after allegedly forcing himself on two young women.

Officers were initially called to a report of an unwanted visitor at a Lewisburg residence. Two women at the home told Lewisburg police that Lipscomb had threatened to kill them and their families if they didn't have sex with him.

Both women said they did so out of fear.

Lipscomb allegedly took nude photos of one of the women and sent them to her cellphone. She told police she didn't want him to have those photos.

That woman was also given money and ordered to purchase a gun for him because he allegedly wasn't able to himself, without giving a specific reason why. He was with her at the time of purchase and had the guns put in her name, police were told.

Officers confiscated a pistol, revolver and shotgun loaded with one shell from the residence.

Lipscomb was arrested Friday, Oct. 6. He allegedly told investigators one of the women had voluntarily agreed to some, but not all, of the sexual activity.

A $60,000 bond was set for Lipscomb. He will appear in Lewisburg City Court on Nov. 14.

DRUG CHARGES

Methamphetamine and marijuana were found in a vehicle during a traffic stop early Thursday.

A Lewisburg police officer stopped William Denton Turner, 46, of Columbia around 3 a.m. after discovering his SUV's plate was registered to another vehicle. The location of the stop was not listed in the report.

Turner was driving on a suspended license and the SUV was not registered or insured, police said.

An officer-requested search revealed 19.2 grams of crystal meth, 2.54 grams of marijuana, a glass pipe, scale, measuring scoop, bags containing meth residue, and $573 in Turner's vehicle.

Turner was charged with manufacture/distribution/sale of a schedule 2 substance, simple possession of a schedule 6 substance, possession of drug paraphernalia, driving on a suspended license, and several vehicle-related offenses. Bond was set at $23,000 bond.

A man found sleeping in his truck at Rock Creek Park Tuesday night, Nov. 11, had 90.45 grams of marijuana and 10 Adderall pills in his possession, LPD Officer Elijah Steward's report said.

Ian Penn, 35, of Ed Watson Road, was cited for simple possession of schedule 2 and 6 drugs and paraphernalia.

A bag containing 1.92 grams of crack cocaine was confiscated Sunday from a man who allegedly had just claimed he possessed no narcotics.

Lyttle Paul Hurt, 28, of Heil Quaker Avenue, had been arrested by Cpl. Cody Schramm. Hurt was told if he tried to sneak drugs into Marshall County Jail it would be considered a felony offense.

The cocaine was discovered on a final search before entry into the jail, Schramm's report said.

Hurt was charged with felony possession of a schedule 1 drug (felony amount). Bond was set at $15,000.

A small amount of crystal methamphetamine was found on a woman allegedly trespassing under the bridge at L&N Avenue and West Commerce Street last Wednesday.

Lara J. Dailey, 34, of Finley Beech Road, had a small bag of meth and two grinders in her possession, Detective Sgt. Shaun Crawford's report said.

Dailey was cited for simple possession and possession of drug paraphernalia.

UNEXPECTED FIND

A woman visiting her husband's grave at Lone Oak Cemetery last week was startled to find a gun lying nearby.

An unloaded FIE Titan .25 automatic pistol had been wrapped in a rubber glove, a Lewisburg police report said. The weapon had not been reported stolen.

Breast cancer: Facts, myths and where to find support

COLUMBIA, Tenn. — Breast cancer is the most common cancer among women worldwide and the second most common in women in the U.S. behind only skin cancer, according to the American Cancer Society, affecting one in eight American women.

Since it's so prevalent, Maury Regional Health recommends all women ages 40 and older receive a mammogram annually.

"The best defense is early detection," said Dana Salters, administrative director of oncology at Maury Regional Health. "Mammograms are our best tool to discover early signs of breast cancer. If we can find and treat it early, survival rates increase exponentially."

Fact vs. Myth

Did you know that 65% of breast cancer cases are diagnosed at a localized stage (meaning the cancer hasn't spread outside the breast)? For localized breast cancer, the five-year survival rate is 99%. That's why it's important to schedule annual mammograms if you're 40 or older. The earlier breast cancer is detected, the sooner treatment can begin.

Here are some more facts and myths about breast cancer:

Fact: A woman is diagnosed with breast cancer in the United States every two minutes, on average. In 2022, the American Cancer Society estimates 287,500 new cases of invasive breast cancer will be diagnosed in women in the U.S., as well as 51,400 new cases of non-invasive breast cancer.

Myth: Men can't get breast cancer. In 2022, an estimated 2,710 men will be diagnosed with breast cancer in the U.S., and approximately 530 men will die from breast cancer. Breast cancer in men usually has the same symptoms as in women, including a hard lump underneath the nipple and areola.

Fact: There are risk factors that could increase your chances of getting breast cancer. Some of these risk factors include gender, age, race, obesity, a family history of breast cancer, personal history of breast cancer, certain menstrual and reproductive history, genome changes and having dense breast tissue. (To learn more about these risk factors, visit nationalbreastcancer.org.) It is also true, however, that some people have no risk factors and still develop breast cancer. That's why annual screenings play such an important role in helping detect breast cancer in its early stages.

Myth: Breast cancer is caused by wearing underwire bras, implants, deodorants, antiperspirants, mammograms, caffeine, plastic food serving items, microwaves and cell phones. None of these things cause breast cancer. Cancer grows when a cell's DNA is damaged, but why or how that DNA becomes damaged is still unknown. It could be genetic or environmental, or in most cases, a combination of the two. But most patients will never know exactly what caused their cancer. Developing breast cancer is certainly not your fault.

Fact: There are more than 3.8 million breast cancer survivors in the United States. Those who are diagnosed with breast cancer aren't in their fight alone. The following are just a few of the local support groups there to help.

Support
"It's important that those diagnosed with breast cancer know of the many support groups both at Maury Regional Health and elsewhere that are there to help," Salters said. "There are people here to help you in your fight."

At Maury Regional Medical Center, the Breast Cancer Support Group meets on the third Monday of each month in the Women's Center in the Pavilion (no meetings in July, August or December). Survivors, trained professionals and guest speakers come together to help provide support and solutions. For more details, call 931.540.4166 or visit the Classes & Events Calendar at MauryRegional.com.

Reach to Recovery is a volunteer visitation program for breast surgery patients. The Reach to Recovery volunteer, a woman who has been diagnosed with breast cancer, provides emotional support and an educational kit containing a temporary prosthesis and information. For more details, call 931.388.6525 or 1.800.ACS.2345.

In addition, there are countless people in your life — including loved ones and your medical care team — who are there to support and lift you up at each stage during your journey with breast cancer. Hallowed

"After this manner therefore pray ye: Our Father which art in heaven, Hallowed be Thy name." – Matthew 6:9

In the Model Prayer that Jesus Christ taught His disciples, He instructed them to hallow the name of the Father – "Hallowed be Thy name." To hallow means to be sanctified, holy, or set apart. Set apart from all that is evil and wicked, and just as important, set apart from all that is common and ordinary. Why does Christ instruct His disciples to hallow the Father's name? The reason is that because God has come down to us as Father, through

His Son, there is a tendency to lose the special and uniqueness of His Person. If we are honest, the longer we live the "Christian life" we can make God our Father too common. However, as we grow in grace we should hallow the holy name of God our Father that much more. That is the reason Christ first directs His disciples to hallow the name of the Father. A name describes the kind of person one is. We would say that a name describes our personality, our character, and our reputation. Our name says a lot about us, and so it is with God.

Throughout the Bible,

God's reputation or name is on display. One example is found in Isaiah, "...there is no God else beside Me; a Just God and a Savior; there is none beside Me" (Isaiah 54:21). Here God declares that He alone is God, describing Himself as a "Just God." A judicial God who is all about justice and that He alone is the Judge. His reputation is that He will justly pronounce righteousness and execute punishment against all sin no matter how great or small. However, we also read that God is a Savior. Which means that His reputation is also that of being gracious and merciful (Exodus 33:19).

So we see that sin will not go unpunished, either the punishment of justice will fall upon the unrepentant sinner, or the sinner, looking unto God alone as one's own Savior, in repentance satisfies justice.

The name, the reputation, of God is something to be in awe about. The reason we hear little of hallowing God's name in our day is that we (even us Christians) make ourselves too big and make God too small. To hallow the Father's magnificent name and great reputation is to be so captivated by Him that one's heart bows down before our Abba-Father in reverential fear, acknowledging His greatness and acknowledging our smallness - just by the presence of His holy name.

Lastly, consider, if we do not hallow the name of our Father then the opposite is taking God's name in vain. We have limited taking the name of God in vain as just slang curse words, but when we read Proverbs 30:7-9 notice that taking the name of God in vain is connected to an action and not words. May our heart-action be that of "Hallowed be Thy name."

Henry Hearnberger judges chicken carcasses at the recent Central Region 4-H Poultry Judging Contest.

4-H'ers prove to be egg-cellent at Central Region Poultry Judging Contest

By Kaylee Layton
UT Extension

You walk through the grocery store aisles, filling your cart with the necessities for the week. You reach the eggs and grab a dozen off the shelf then walk over to the meat section and grab some chicken thighs and chicken tenderloins. It seems thoughtless and easy, but do you really know what you are getting when you purchase those items? Do you know what it means when an egg carton has the words

Ashlynn Davidson tests her knowledge of egg grading.

“Grade A” printed on it? Do you know what classifies a tenderloin versus a thigh? We have some 4-H'ers who just might be able to answer those questions for you.

Starting in August a group of 4-H'ers started poultry judging practice where they learned about USDA criteria for grading different kinds of poultry products. They learned how to identify all parts of a chicken carcass and how to identify a good past production live hen. They learned about the inside and outside of eggs and different defects some eggs may have. They also learned about further processed poultry products such as chicken patties, nuggets, and tenders and what defects may cause that product to be discarded during the packaging process. Most importantly, while learning all these things, the 4-H'ers learned why it is important to understand the grading process and why there are standards in place to ensure the consumer gets quality products.

On September 28,

these 4-H'ers put their knowledge and practice to the test and competed in the Central Region 4-H Poultry Judging Contest. Team members of the Marshall County 4-H Poultry Judging team were, Savannah Davidson, Aryana King, Henry Hearnberger, Courtney Judd, and Ashlynn Davidson. It was a long day, but they all walked away with a greater understanding of the poultry industry and the Junior team took 2nd place in their division!

Through participation in 4-H judging teams, youth learn valuable lessons such as decision making and critical thinking. It builds confidence and provides an opportunity to build friendships with other youth. These judging teams are open to all youth and no prior knowledge is needed.

If you would like more information about 4-H or the current judging teams in Marshall County, call 931-359-1929 or email Kaylee Layton at klayton2@utk.edu

Tigers bounce back with monster win at Glencliff

By Chris Siers
sports@t-g.com

NASHVILLE — A week after a gut-wrenching loss to Pearl-Cohn, the Marshall County Tigers (7-1, 5-1) bounced back in a big way, drubbing Glencliff 69-0.

While the final Thursday night showdown of the season was never in doubt for the Tigers, the win not only put Marshall County back in the win column, but also officially secured a postseason berth in the upcoming Class 4A state playoffs.

“Really proud of our kids commitment to the program and each other this past week having a great week of practice on fall break. We emphasized playing to our standard for the week and using the opportunity to get better as a team. I feel for the most part we did a really good job of that,” Tiger head coach Thomas Osteen said.

The Tigers got off to a white-hot start against the Colts (0-8, 0-6), piling up 35 points in the first quarter alone.

Senior Demari Braden scored on touchdown runs of six and four yards, while junior quarterback Silas Teat tossed three touchdowns in the first frame as well.

Jayden Randolph hauled in a 33-yard score, while Aja Jones scored on 45-yard and three-yard receptions.

Jones caught one more touchdown pass from Teat early in the second frame—a 30-yard grab—and ran in one more from 18-yards out.

Antomme Cowthorn and Jakavan Curry added to the lead, scoring from 16 and 15 yards out, respectively.

At the break, Marshall County led 63-0.

“We were really efficient on both sides of the ball. Silas had a great night leading our offense. I was proud of all the explosive plays we hit in the run and pass games,” Osteen said.

While the offense was able to impose its will on Glencliff, defensively, the Tigers won the turnover battle, scooping up a pair of Colt fumbles which led to Tiger touchdowns.

On the defensive front, Darian Crenshaw led the way with seven tackles, including 4.5 tackles for loss.

With the depth of players able to find the end zone, and the stout defense that allowed just eight offensive yards, the efficiency showcased in the bounceback win has the Tigers primed for a strong finish to the regular season with the hopes of securing a homefield advantage in Week 1 of the post-season.

“We were really efficient on both sides of the ball. Silas had a great night leading our offense. I was proud of all the explosive plays we hit in the run and pass games,” Osteen said.

Teat completed 7-of-9 attempts for 162 yards and four touchdowns, while six different ball carriers scored on the ground.

As a team, the Tigers piled up 139 rushing yards against the Colts.

“It was great to get the bad taste out of our mouth from last week. We had a bunch of guys touch them ball and get into the scoring column. I think it shows the current depth of our team and shows just how exciting the future of our program is as well,” Osteen said.

Marshall County’s last game at Preston Hopkins Field came on Homecoming Night back on September 16.

Since then, the Tigers had an off week, followed by three-straight Thursday night games, including trips to Lawrence County, Pearl-Cohn and Glencliff.

“We are really excited to be back home after a month on the road. We are definitely happy anoint punching our ticket to the playoffs,” Osteen said.

With two games left on the regular season slate against Montgomery Central and Greenbrier, the focus is on a strong finish to secure the No. 2 seed from Region 5-AAAA.

“We certainly try to be process oriented each day and each week, but we will definitely lay out what we are playing for the last two regular season games and that’s the right to host a hole playoff game,” Osteen said.

The Tigers return to action on Friday night, hosting Montgomery Central at 7 p.m.

Rockets drop nailbiter in home finale

By Kacy Kincaid
Sports Writer

CHAPEL HILL — The Forrest Rockets (3-5, 1-3) took a tough loss in their last home game of the season on Friday in a region match-up against the Richland Raiders (6-2, 3-1), the nail biter ending in a score of 42-41.

Forrest started off hot, forcing the punt on Richland's first possession.

Ryan Hill, Tayton Swift, and Liam Bell all pitched in on first-down runs, Hill ultimately crossing the goal line from the one to score the Rockets' first touchdown of the game only three minutes in.

Like Groundhog Day, the Raiders were forced to punt on their next possession, allowing the Rockets to find the end zone for their second score of the night.

Eli Bell carried for 25 yards on the drive, while Swift, who led the Rockets with 111 yards, added 16.

It was Swift who dipped into the end zone from the four yard line with 4:51 left in the first quarter.

Gavin Grissom's kick was good on both possessions, giving Forrest the 14-0 lead.

Within three minutes, the Raiders responded, scoring on a nine-play drive covering 80 yards.

The extra point attempt was no good.

After a failed field goal attempt for the Rockets and a punt by the Raiders, Forrest regained possession on their own 41-yard line.

With 5:45 left in the half, Hill connected with Chris Davis on a 34-yard touchdown pass. Grissom kept up the momentum and the Rockets held a sturdy lead, 21-6.

The Rockets defense tried to hold steady, but the Raiders kept trudging down the field, digging themselves out of third down holes. Ethan Workman, who was hard to handle all evening with a total of 194 yards, finally made it to the one yard line, where his second attempt of the drive to cross the goal line was successful. The Raiders came up short on the two-point conversion.

Going into halftime, Forrest held the lead at 21-12.

Swift started the third quarter for the Rockets with a kickoff return to the Raiders 49 yard line. Three plays in from the 41, Richland intercepted, but were unable to take advantage thanks to a big third down stop by Riley Durbin and Landon Groeneveld.

The Raiders did not remain silent. With 3:12 left in the third, Richland found the end zone again, edging closer to the lead, only down by two, 21-19.

In another unlucky turn of events for the Rockets, a fumble was recovered by the Raiders, which they expounded on in the form of another touchdown, taking the lead 26-21.

But the Rockets weren't finished. With three seconds left to play in the third quarter, Hill launched a 40-yard touchdown pass to Swift, regaining the lead 28-26 heading into the fourth quarter.

And what a fourth quarter it was. Forty seconds in, Raiders quarterback Bryce Miller went on a 59-yard touchdown sprint, also tacking on the extra two, putting Richland up 34-28.

After Eli Bell's touchdown kickoff return was called back due to a penalty on the Rockets, Forrest started at their own 45 yard line. Swift moved the ball into Raiders territory, with Davis going on a 27-yard dash to put the Rockets on the nine yard line. Again, it was Swift who scampered across the goal line to even up the score 34-34. Grissom's kick was good, giving the Rockets a one point lead with 8:35 to play.

Richland took their time moving the ball up the field. At the Rockets' six yard line, a Raiders fumble was recovered by Forrest, but another penalty against the Rockets gave possession back to Richland. They pounced on the opportunity, scoring on the next play. Richland added the extra two on a pass to Workman, taking the lead 42-35.

A handful of Rockets came together to methodically maneuver the ball into Raiders territory, including a 27-yard pass reception by Grissom. Finally making it to the 11 yard line, Hill dashed into the end zone for the second time of the night, leaving the Raiders with only a one point lead.

Forrest went for it all, setting up for the two-point conversion. But it just wasn't in the cards for the Rockets. The pass fell incomplete, and the Raiders took the win.

The Rockets are on the road this week with a Thursday night meeting with East Robertson (7-1). Kickoff is sched-

 Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Wayne Co. upends Cornersville on Senior Night

By Dennis Holley
Sports Writer

CORNERSVILLE — The Cornersville Bulldogs (2-5, 2-3) find themselves in a must win situation in order to take part in the upcoming TSSAA playoffs, welcomed to Frog Bottom field, the Wayne County Wildcats (4-3, 2-3) also facing a must-win game for their playoff hopes.

On a cool early fall evening the Bulldogs honored their seniors, playing their last game in front of the Cornersville hometown faithful. Seven senior Bulldogs, consisting of Riley Qualls, Khi Canty, Mason Calahan, Blake Estes, John Michael Jeter, Hunter McNeese and David Metcalf played their final home game in a Bulldog uniform.

Despite taking a 12-7 lead into halftime the Bulldogs were subjected to a bruising ground attack by the Wildcats to open the third quarter.

A 16-play drive of over eight minutes that yielded a touchdown to put Wayne County in front 14-12.

Then, to compound the problem the Bulldogs faced, their first possession of the second half resulted in a pick-six interception that extended the Wildcat lead, to 21-12.

Head Coach Shelby Waddell said, "I appreciate the effort from our players. They fought through a lot of adversity. I'm proud of their effort."

The statistics reveal a close game.

Wayne County led in yards gained 228 to 190, Cornersville led in passing yardage, 162 to 50.

Wayne County led in rushing yardage 178 to 28 and third down conversions were Wayne County 3-for-10 and Cornersville 4-for-11.

The game began with Wayne County winning the coin toss and electing to defer to the second half, kicked off to the Bulldogs and Khi Canty received the kick and but was tackled at the Bulldog 15-yard line.

Cornersville's Ben Franklin rushed for two and four yards that brought up a third down and four to go for a first down but a fumble in the back field resulted in a loss and on fourth down Blake Estes punted the ball to mid-field where Wayne County began their first possession.

The Wildcats, with the Bulldog defense gathered up to stymie the run, sent Ryder Butler streaking down the far sideline and once behind the Bulldog defense Dawson Willis lofted a pass that Butler gathered in and raced into the end zone and with Carl Britt kicking the point after, the Wildcats led 7-0 with 10:13 left in the first quarter.

The Bulldogs then received the Wayne County kick-off, fielded at the 18-yard line by Austin Cooper and moved the ball to the Cornersville 40-yard line.

The Bulldogs began the drive with Franklin and Blaine Woodard running the ball for short gains and Cornersville faced a fourth and three at their own 47-yard line.

Woodard then found Khi Canty over the middle for a completion that set Cornersville up with a first down at the Wayne County 40-yard line.

another fourth down and this time Woodard's pass was hauled in by Beau Schilig for a first down at the Wayne County 27-yard line.

The next play by Cornersville, exemplified the play of Franklin this season as he took a swing pass from Woodard to the left side, headed toward the far side-line, made the corner then disappeared into a host of Wildcats, but suddenly emerged unscathed, racing down the sidelines with Wayne County in pursuit, but no one could catch the junior running back as he crossed the goal line, the PAT was no-good and with 4:30 left in the first quarter Cornersville trailed 7-6.

Wayne County received the kick-off and began a drive at their own 42-yard line, using their deep stable of running backs: Austin Whitson, Butler and Willis and they moved the ball to the Cornersville 32-yard line but a holding penalty pushed the Wildcats back and a fourth down pass fell incomplete resulting in the Bulldogs taking over at their own 42-yard line.

The first quarter ended with WC leading 7-6 and Cornersville facing a second and five from their own 47-yard line.

As the second quarter began the Bulldogs moved to the Wayne County 39-yard line but a holding penalty stalled the drive and Estes again punted to the Wildcats.

The Wildcats would begin their possession but as with the Bulldogs a holding penalty stalled their drive and Wayne County punted to the Bulldog 40-yard line where Cornersville's Austin Cooper, with a full head of steam, fielded the ball and ran straight down field and the Wildcats were only able to drag him down at the Wayne County nine-yard line.

Three plays later Woodard rolled to his right and found Austin King in the end zone with a dart pass, but Woodard was stopped short of the goal line on the two-point conversion try and with 3:48 left until halftime Cornersville led, 12-7.

The Bulldogs defense bowed its back and held the Wildcats as on fourth and seven Wayne County's Whitson fielded a high snap and Cornersville's David Metcalf sacked him with two minutes left until halftime the Bulldogs took over at their own 49-yard line.

A first down pass to Cornersville's Kale Adcox gained nine yards then on third down Woodard gained the first and Wayne County was guilty of a facemask penalty and a first down at the 32-yard line; then passes to Franklin and Schilig moved the ball to the Wayne County four-yard line.

Time was ticking away from the Bulldogs with Franklin and Woodard pounding the Wayne County line and being denied each time.

With three seconds left until halftime Woodard tried the Wayne County line one last time but the Wildcats held, and the Bulldogs stopped, leading 12-7 as the halftime horn sounded, but as it turned out this play was pivotal in the outcome of the game, instead of leading by two scores the Bulldogs led by less than a touchdown.

Austin Cooper takes the handoff and comes up with a short gain for Cornersville.

The third quarter began with the Wildcats receiving the kickoff from Cornersville's Joseph Palma and Wayne County began their bruising power football running attack.

Time after time the Wildcat runners crashed into the Cornersville defensive line taking advantage of their size and strength, chewing up three, four and five yards at a time, converting first downs, on a sixteen-play drive, chewing up time on the clock until with 3:28 left in the third quarter Whitson rumbled over the goal line from the six yards out and Britt kicked the extra point, the Wildcats took the lead 14-12.

The Bulldogs received the kickoff and began play at their own 15-yard line where on first down Woodard's pass was intercepted by Wayne County's Saylor Skelton turning it into a pick-six touchdown and Britt again nailed the PAT, the Wildcats upped their lead to 21-12.

In the space of nineteen seconds the ball game turned in Wayne County's favor.

The Bulldogs would fight and scratch to try and get back into the game but without running back Ben Franklin, injured hip who sat out the second half, and despite a solid effort from quarterback Woodard they could not gain the endzone.

Wayne County would score once more in the fourth quarter with Whitson again gaining the endzone after another time-consuming drive by the Wildcats to make the final score, Wayne County 28, Cornersville 12.

The Bulldogs will travel to Moore County next Friday night to finish the season and now must depend on other teams plus beat MC to gain a playoff berth, a tall order for sure.

"Moore County is a very good team, their quarterback (Dawson White) is a player, we will have to be ready to go," Waddell said.

Waddell also singled out several of his players stating, "David Metcalf is a warrior, he has fought through a lot of injuries, Beau Schilig played well, Austin King grew up tonight making plays on offense and defense."

Vols fans rush the field and tear down the goalposts after beating Alabama in Neyland Stadium on Saturday.

Vols end 15 year drought vs. Alabama

By AL LESAR
Associated Press

KNOXVILLE — After 15 years of being a rival to Alabama in name only, Tennessee snapped a stumbling losing streak, stumped itself a championship contender and celebrated in spectacular fashion.

Chase McGrath made a 40-yard field goal as time expired to give No. 6 Tennessee a 52-49 victory over No. 3 Alabama on Saturday.

As soon as the kick knuckle-balled through the uprights, some of the more than 100,000 fans stormed the field to join the party as the Volunteers (6-0, 3-0 Southeastern Conference) ended a 15-game drought to the Crimson Tide (6-1, 3-1).

Fireworks went off over Neyland Stadium and it glowed orange as the song "Dixieland Delight" by the band Alabama — a Crimson Tide favorite — blared over the stadium speakers.

And it didn't take long for the goal posts to go down.

"This is college football at its absolute best," Vols coach Josh Heupel said. "We were the best team on the field tonight. That's all we can control."

"We didn't answer the bell today," Alabama coach Nick Saban said. "We did too many things to help (Tennessee)."

Hendon Hooker drove the Vols 45 yards in 13 seconds to set up the winner. An 18-yard pass to Ramel Keyton and 27-yard hookup with Bru McCoy set the stage for the winner.

"It wasn't my cleanest hit," said McGrath, who missed a PAT earlier. "I didn't have the best contact on the ball."

Jalin Hyatt caught six passes for 207 yards, setting a Tennessee record with five touchdowns and earning a postgame cigar — a long-held tradition in the third Saturday of October rivalry — with former Vols great Peyton Manning.

Bryce Young, a game-time decision because of a sprained right shoulder two weeks ago, completed 35 passes for 455 yards and two TDs for the Tide.

"It was great to be out there with my teammates," the Heisman Trophy winner said. "Shoulder is fine."

Hyatt's fifth TD catch tied it at 49 with 3:26 left in the fourth.

"(This game) just happened," Hyatt said. "It's not just me. It was just the looks we got."

Young drove the Tide into the Tennessee territory in the final minute, but Alabama stalled at the 33 with three straight incomplete passes. Will Reichard's 50-yard field goal attempt for the lead was wide way right.

With only 15 seconds left, overtime seemed likely, but Hooker wasn't done and did the Heisman winner one better.

Hooker finished 21 for 30 for 385 yards and five TDs.

"He played at an unbelievable level," Heupel said. "He's the key to our ignition."

Tennessee had not beaten a Top 10 team since 2006 against Georgia. That was also the last year the Vols beat Alabama.

A season later, Saban became Alabama's coach. While the Tide has become college football's greatest dynasty with six national titles, Tennessee has burned through coaches and been mired in mediocrity.

In his second season in Knoxville, Heupel has pulled the Vols from the muck.

Tennessee looks like a legitimate national title contender behind a transfer quarterback from Virginia Tech who should now be right near the top of those Heisman leaderboards.

"We approach every game the same," Hooker said. "Play 100% for our brothers."

A week after Alabama held Texas A&M out of the end zone on the last play of the game to dodge an upset, the Tide went down. The Vols scored the most points against an Alabama team since Sewanee put 54 on the Tide in 1907.

The Tide also had 17 penalties for 130 yards, the most during the Saban era, according to ESPN.

Tennessee's up-tempo offense jumped out to a 21-7 first-quarter lead and led 28-20 at halftime. All four touchdown drives took over two minutes.

Young threw for 205 yards and a touchdown in the first half, while Hooker had 166 yards and two scores. Young wasn't sacked, but was knocked down five times in the half.

Alabama fumbled Tennessee's only punt. The Vols recovered and scored four plays later.

The takeaway

Alabama: The Tide will lament the final time it had the ball and not being able to just get a few more yards for Reichard, who missed three field goals last week against A&M.

Jahmyr Gibbs dropped a short pass over the middle with room to run on second down and then the Tide threw again incomplete on third. A running play or two could have also forced Tennessee to burn a timeout, which ended up coming in handy when the Vols got the ball back.

Tennessee: Four of Tennessee's six victories have come against teams that were ranked at the time of the game — though none of Pitt, LSU and Florida were ranked coming into this weekend. Still, the Vols resume is as good as any in the country.

SEC slams Tennessee with $100k fine

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — The Southeastern Conference has fined Tennessee $100,000 for a wild, field-storming celebration after a win over Alabama.

Meanwhile, the school has turned to fans to help pay for new goalposts.

The league announced the fine on Sunday for the school's second violation of the access to competition area policy. The first came after a basketball game against Florida in 2006.

The third-ranked Volunteers knocked off No. 6 Alabama 52-49 on a last-play field goal Saturday at Neyland Stadium. It ended a 15-game losing streak to the Tide.

Fans stormed the field, ripped up one of the goal posts and heaved it into the Tennessee River.

Tennessee turned to crowdsourcing to pay for replacement goalposts. More than $18,000 had been raised as of Sunday afternoon.

Athletic director Danny White tweeted "We had some fun, didn't we?" and asked fans to "help us out."

SEC policy states that "access to competition areas shall be limited to participating student-athletes, coaches, officials, support personnel and properly-credentialed individuals at all times. For the safety of participants and spectators alike, at no time before, during or after a contest shall spectators be permitted to enter the competition area. It is the responsibility of each member institution to implement procedures to ensure compliance with this policy."

A third offense and beyond would cost Tennessee $250,000.

Vols move up to No. 3 in latest poll

Tennessee moved to No. 3 in The Associated Press college football poll behind No. 1 Georgia and No. 2 Ohio State after knocking off Alabama.

The Crimson Tide was one of five unbeaten teams to fall during a wild weekend and dropped three places to No. 6 in the AP Top 25 presented by Regions Bank. Alabama swapped places with the Vols after losing to them 52-49 on a field goal as time expired Saturday.

Georgia remained No. 1 and received 31 first-place votes and Ohio State had 17 first-place votes.

The Vols received 15 first-place votes and have their best ranking since starting the 2005 season at No. 3. The last time Tennessee was ranked this highly in the second half of the season was 2001, reaching the top 10 in late October and headed into the SEC championship at No. 2.

No. 4 Michigan moved up a spot Sunday, switching places with No. 5 Clemson after the Wolverines blew out now-No. 16 Penn State.

No. 7 Mississippi moved up two spots and No. 8 TCU, No. 9 UCLA and No. 10 Oregon all moved into the top 10.

Poll points
The Crimson Tide had its string of 40 straight appearances in the top five snapped. It was the longest such active streak in the country.

Georgia now has the longest run of top-five appearances with 24.

The Tide's latest top-five run is only the third longest of the Saban era. The Tide's 68 straight top-five appearances from 2015-19 is the AP poll record, and a string of 48 consecutive top-five rankings from 2011-13 is tied for fourth.

Explain your vote

Tennessee made a case to be the No. 1 team in the country, and it swayed some voters.

Those who bought in on the Vols cited a resume that includes four victories against teams that were ranked at the time (at Pitt, Florida, at LSU and Alabama).

"I voted Tennessee No. 1 because the Vols' strength of schedule is far superior to UGA and Ohio State," said Ron Counts of the Idaho Statesman in Boise.

For comparison, Georgia has played just one team (Oregon) that has been ranked at any point this season. Ohio State has played three, though only one was ranked at the time (Notre Dame) and all of those opponents have at least three losses.

Plus, beating Alabama doesn't happen often and holds a lot of weight with voters. No team this season has beaten a team with a better ranking at the time the game was played than Tennessee.

"It was a tough call between Tennessee and Georgia for No. 1," said Kellis Robinett of The Wichita (Kansas) Eagle. "I have been voting the Bulldogs ahead of everyone else for several weeks, mostly because their blowout victory over Oregon has aged like a fine wine. But I think beating Alabama is slightly more impressive."

So why only No. 3 for Tennessee?

The ranked-at-the-time argument falls flat for some voters, who were less impressed with victories against Florida and Pitt and give Georgia and Ohio State credit for being more dominant overall.

"I've been high on Tennessee all year, but I don't think ranking them No. 3 is any kind of snub this week," said Mike Barber of the Richmond (Virginia) Times-Dispatch.
