Commission starts new year

By Scott Pearson
Associate Editor

The Marshall County Commission kicked off 2023 on Monday night with a varied, but brief, agenda.

The commission approved pay grade adjustments for some county positions under the new salary survey guidelines adopted in November.

A budget amendment was approved to cover the change in expenditure.

Additional job descriptions were also approved for the Office of Codes and Zoning.

Commissioners agreed to impose a $50 per month fee on commercial cardboard recycling services in order to cover costs of the program.

Commissioners renewed the agreement with the law firm of Medley and Spivey to serve as the county's delinquent tax attorneys.

Commissioners approved several committee appointments.

Fletcher Cathey, who has been filling an unexpired term on the Board of Zoning Appeals, was appointed to continue in a full term on the board.

Terry Jackson was appointed to the Board of Public Utilities to fill the unexpired term of Donnie Moses, until June, 2023, and Leon Finley was appointed to the Civil Service Board.

The commission also adopted the annual master road list for the county as well.

Historic broadband expansion

Governor Bill Lee joined with United Communications earlier this month to announce the largest single investment in broadband expansion in state history. The $53.4 million state grant is being supplemented by a $14 million investment from United Communications and more than $10 million committed by county governments, resulting in a total infrastructure investment of over $77 million in Bedford, Franklin, Giles, Lincoln, Marshall, Maury, Moore, and Williamson Counties. "What happens in rural Tennessee matters to every Tennessean," said Lee. "This is the largest grant of all the grants that the state has made in our history for the expansion of broadband, and it's a local effort based on local partnerships. We have the number one economy in America, and we need to make sure that is happening in every community across the state. We know that access to technology will make that happen." United Communications, founded 75 years ago in Chapel Hill, will connect approximately 14,000 homes and businesses to broadband during this phase of Project UNITE, including several hundred residents in Marshall County in large swathes from Talley Station to the county line north of Holt's Corner.

Art Sampler Series at Marshall County Art Guild

By Hannah Davis
Tribune Correspondent

With the new year, the Marshall County Art Guild has launched what they are calling their "Art Sampler Series".

Members of the Guild have the opportunity to sign up for ten free classes over the next 5 months and experience some of the new and well-known classes at the Art Guild.

"It allows people a chance to try something new out, but it also lets our instructors try out something new too, if they want to teach something that they haven't before," said volunteer Andrea Wars, who has headed the Sampler Series project.

According to Wars, the Sampler Series was only made possible through a grant that the Guild secure earlier last year, giving the Guild the funds necessary to offer the free classes and ensure that the instructors were still left in the green. The Guild is no stranger to offering classes to the public, but the free offerings are new this year. In the past ten years at the Guild has been operating, they have offered hundreds of classes to the public, but none of them have been to solely benefit the Guild. Instead, they have been offered over the years to support local artists and to offer creative opportunities to the community.

"We're here for the community," said Wars.

The Guild is a Non-Profit Organization and functions strictly off of volunteers on a structural and economic basis, but their classes are offered by the local artists who are also members of the Guild.

They reach out to the Guild and offer their skills and the Guild simply hosts them. This has allowed the Guild to offer a wide variety of classes over the years, including: sewing, pastels, mixed-medium, drawing instruction, and painting classes.

They have several classes that are regular scheduled classes. On the first Saturday of the month, they offer a Kids Paint Night, and a Kids Drawing Instruction on the last Saturday of each month. Similarly, on the third Sunday of each month, they host a Family Fun Paint Night. In addition to these, the pop-up classes help to give all artists an opportunity to share their skills with the community. Each class comes with its own instruction and cost of attendance, but the cost goes directly to the local artists.

One such new class in the Sampler Series includes a sewing class, hosted by local seamstresses Summer and Savanna Cole, who own and operate the local business The Wilted Tulip Costumes. They have offered classes recently on the basics of hand sewing and the basics of using a sewing machine.

Alongside these classes in the free offerings are the Basics of Hand-drawing courses, offered by local artist, Brandie Liggett. For all of the Sampler Series classes, space is limited, but the opportunity to experience what the Guild offers has been a vital part of the success of the Guild and its Gallery.

Since the Art Guild opened in 1977, they have moved forward with only one goal in mind: to prioritize creative opportunities for the community at-large. With their new offerings, they are only prioritizing this further. Reservations for all classes can be made on their website.

Managing concerns about falls

Have you turned down a chance to go out with family or friends because you were concerned about falling? Have you cut down on a favorite activity because you might fall? If so, A Matter of Balance: Managing Concerns About Falls is a program for you.

Fear of falling can be just as dangerous as falling itself. People who develop this fear often limit their activities, which can result in severe physical weakness, making the risk of falling even greater. Many older adults also experience increased isolation and depression when they limit their interactions with family and friends. A Matter of Balance can help people improve their quality of life and remain independent.

A Matter of Balance is designed to reduce the fear of falling and increase activity levels among older adults. Participants learn to set realistic goals to increase activity, change their environment to reduce fall risk factors, and learn simple exercises to increase strength and balance.

Led by trained instructors Terri Orr

(University of TN Extension) and Jennifer Witham (Marshall Co. Heath Department), Matter of Balance will be offered on Wednesdays, February 15th – April 5th from 9:30 a.m. – 11:30 a.m. at the Marshall County Senior Center in Lewisburg. This program is free. Advanced registration is required. A workbook and materials will be provided. To register or for more information, visit tiny.utk.edu/MOB or contact Terri Orr at 931-359-1929.

Compassion is our passion.

Not everyone can say they're passionate about their work. We are not everyone. Every day that we're able to help another family make it through a painful loss, is one more day we're proud to be in our profession. Our compassion toward families and enthusiasm for serving the community are what set us apart.

*Caring For Families.
Celebrating Lives. Since 1916.*

MARSHALL COUNTY
DEVOTIONAL PAGE

"And you take unto thee Aaron thy brother... that he may minister unto Me in the priest's office... And you shall make holy garments for Aaron your brother for glory and for beauty. And you shall make the breastplate of judgment with cunning work; And you shall set in it settings of stones, even four rows of stones: the first row shall be a sardius, a topaz, and a carbuncle: this shall be the first row. And the second row shall be an emerald, a sapphire, and a diamond. And the third row a ligure, an agate, and an amethyst. And the fourth row a beryl, and an onyx, and a jasper: they shall be set in gold...

And the stones shall be with the names of the children of Israel, twelve, according to their names..." - Exodus 28:1,2, 15, 17-21

On this day in 1905, the world's largest diamond was discovered. Frederick Wells, a manager at the Premier Number 2 mine in Cullinan, South Africa came across the Cullinan Diamond. This was three times the size of the Excelsior Diamond. The Cullinan Diamond came in measuring approximately 4 inches long, 2.5 inches wide, 2.3 inches deep, and weighing just over 1 pound, which is equivalent to about 3,106 carats.

After its discovery, the diamond went on display at the Standard Bank in Johannesburg before being sent to London. To avoid attempted robberies, guards were put on board the steam-liner, and the diamond was ceremoniously locked in the captain's safe. However, this was a diversion. The real Cullinan Diamond was sent in a box inconspicuously to London by standard delivery. The precious jewel was eventually cut into nine diamonds. The largest was cut into a pear shape and became known as the Great Star of Africa, which is estimated, to be worth over 50 million dollars today.

If we are honest these gems have no value. They are actually just pretty rocks or colorful minerals. That's it. However, the reason they have such value to us is because God gave them value, such as gold in Genesis chapter 2. Therefore, in our opening scriptures, we see God using these jewels in a valuable fashion as He instructed Moses in the way he should make the breastplate for the high-priest Aaron. That is why such gems held a greater significance in the life of the Hebrew people. In the Old Covenant, God purposely had these beautiful and precious gems inserted into the breastplate according to the number of their tribes - representing His love for them. Now fast-forward to the New Covenant where the Lord Jesus Christ is the last and only high-priest of God (Hebrews 3:1; 8:1; 9:11; 10:21). Now, the breastplate was to cover the heart of the high-priest, and the precious jewels set in the gold breastplate of Jesus Christ, pictures His love for His redeemed people. Those whom Jesus Christ the High Priest has died for are near and dear to His heart. They are truly the Jewels of the Lord (Malachi 3:17).

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

FoHH deliver the Duck

The Friends of Henry Horton State Park recently delivered “Discovering the Duck River” booklets to be distributed to all 4th graders in Marshall County along with bookmarks that will be distributed to all 3rd graders.

The Duck River is one of the most biologically diverse rivers in the world and we want the young people in Marshall County to learn how important it is that we keep it clean for future generations to come.

Lady 'Dawgs stun 9-A leading Huntland

Polk's 28 leads the way for key district win

By Chris Siers
sports@t-g.com

CORNERSVILLE — Coaches want their teams playing their best basketball down the stretch of the regular season district slate and hope to transition that successful play into the postseason.

Cornersville Lady 'Dawg coach Hayden McMahon is starting to see that transition with his team after beating Moore County on Friday night for the first time in 14 years and after upsetting Huntland (17-9, 4-1) on Tuesday in a come-from-behind thriller.

"They (Huntland)

were the No. 1 seed and Moore County was the No. 2 seed, and we beat both of them. It was the first time we beat Moore County in 14 years the other night and they (Huntland) haven't lost a regular season district game in three or four years," McMahon said.

The game got off to a typical Huntland Lady Hornet start by stretching the floor, making the extra pass and knocking down several early triples.

It was a balanced start by Huntland, dispersing 20 first-half points among four players, with Logan McLennan knocking down three triples in the opening half.

But make no mistake, this was Alicia Polk's game.

Polk was virtually unstoppable and accounted for 13 of the Lady 'Dawgs first-half points, with the only other basket coming from Ady Gentry in the first quarter.

Still, Cornersville (10-11, 2-3) trailed 20-15 at the intermission.

Even trailing, Cornersville never panicked and the composure, according to McMahon, was one of the keys to Tuesday night's win.

"When we get behind, or we're tied, we've got to keep that same composure. You just have to keep fighting and keep playing if you get down and that's what they did," he said.

By the end of the third, the Lady Bulldogs had cut the Huntland lead to one point.

Polk and the Lady 'Dawgs put the game out of the reach with a near-perfect fourth quarter, by drawing contact and cashing in at the charity stripe.

As a team, Cornersville shot 11-of-12 attempts from the free throw line in the fourth quarter alone, with Polk making good on 8-of-9 attempts.

While McMahon has come to expect a 20-plus point production night out of Polk over the last several games, it hasn't just been her ability to score that's impacted the game, but also to distribute the ball and find quality shots for positive possessions.

"She's been on a roll the last few games. I think she's had at least 20 in the last three or four games. She's hot right now and she's still facilitating and distributing the ball to other people. She's getting to the bucket and taking good shots. I like quality shots over quantity, every day," McMahon said.

Polk led all scorers with 28 points, while Gentry chipped in 10.

Anna Wood and Katie Powers added eight and three, respectively.

McLennan led Huntland with 22 points.

Cornersville hosts another key District 9-A matchup on Friday night, hosting Fayetteville City.

In their previous meeting, Fayetteville escaped with a thrilling five overtime win against Cornersville.

With all signs pointing towards his team clicking at the right time, McMahon is pleased with the composure and morale of his team as the regular season draws to a close.

"We're coming along at the right time. We had a few lessons we had to learn in the overtime games that I thought we should have won, but it's been a blessing in disguise for us," he said.

Cornersville will host Fayetteville City on Friday night at 6 p.m. in a key District 9-A tilt.

Huntland	10	10	8	12	—	40

Lady Rockets come together for win over Fairview

By Kacy Kincaid
Sports Writer

CHAPEL HILL — The Lady Rockets were all hands on deck in their game at home against the Fairview Lady Jackets Tuesday night, where they walked away with the 51-39 victory.

Although a slow start for both teams, Forrest picked up steam in the latter half of the first quarter.

Eighth-grader Adisyn Howes found fellow eighth-grader Sienna Borba for an easy basket, putting the Lady Rockets up by three.

"I thought our eighth graders came in and gave us a nice little boost right there," Forrest coach Hal Murrell said.

"It gives us some depth that we were struggling with before Christmas."

It was Megan Mealer and Kinslee Inlow coming together late in the first with a pair of threes, with Mealer tacking on a nice move under the basket for an additional two, cushioning the lead at 14-7.

Freshman Kaylin Pope turned on the jets in the second frame, picking up six of her 11 points on the night.

"She's so athletic," Murrell said.

"She's an undersized player. We've been trying to play her in the post and defensively, she struggles guarding a bigger girl in the post because of her size, but she's so athletic that she can pressure the guards. So, I thought she did a really good job of shutting down their guard, No. 12. I can't take her off the floor because she's so athletic. She's still making freshman mistakes, but the energy she brings is relentless. That's one thing I never have to question about her. She's doing a great job."

Josie Brown kept the wheels turning for Forrest going into the half, knocking down the three ball with 30 seconds left, giving the Lady Rockets a 28-17 lead.

"I thought the first half was a lot of balanced scoring," Murrell said.

"We didn't do a good job of boxing out at times in the first half. We weren't crashing the offensive glass."

Returning from the break, it was a differently played game on both sides, both the Lady Rockets and Lady Jackets struggling to handle the ball and maintain consistency.

Thanks to frequent trips to the foul line, the Lady Jackets hung in through the second half, but had a tough time against the Forrest press, turning the ball over for the Lady Rockets to take advantage.

"We implemented a press, thought it was effective and disrupted what they were doing," Murrell said.

"It was very obvious, too, that we hadn't played in a week. There were a lot of mistakes, especially in the second half. I thought fatigue set in. The game was called a little bit different than it had been throughout the course of the game. We gotta play without fouling. We have a lot of self-inflicted wounds that we need to clean up for the tournament."

Mealer and Pope both led the Rockets with 11 each, Macyn Kirby also picking up double digits with 10.

"Macyn has been that person for us all year that carried it, and we've always said she can't do it by herself, so it was good that we had other people step up," said Murrell.

The Lady Rockets will meet Grundy County on Friday night in Chapel Hill for a district matchup.

Tip-off is scheduled for 6 p.m.

Hornets sting ‘Dawgs with monster 2nd half

By Chris Siers
sports@t-g.com

CORNERVILLE — After hanging with Huntland (13-10, 4-1) through a closely-contested first half, Cornersville (6-14, 0-5) fell behind early in the third quarter and could not match a spectacular night of shooting by the Hornets in a 98-60 District 9-A loss on Tuesday night.

On any other night, scoring 60 points would have the Bulldogs positioned to contend for a win down the stretch, but Huntland erupted for 64 second-half points—a pace which Cornersville was simply unable to slow down.

Huntland jumped out to an early lead in the first quarter and scored 15 points, spread among five players, while the Bulldogs weren’t far behind.

A 19-point effort in the second quarter matched Huntland’s point production, with Hayden Grover and Kel Ford knocking down key shots.

The Bulldog pair combined for 15 points in the period.

Still, Cornersville only trailed by four at the half.

And Grover continued to find open looks into the third quarter, adding six more points to the cause, while Gage Lovell was able to add six of his own.

But the issue wasn’t finding shots, but rather slowing the frantic pace in which Huntland was able to execute.

In the third, Hunt-land caught fire and got nine points from Trace Kilpatrick, seven from Braylen Phillips, and eight from Eli Wiggs, as part of a 30-point quarter.

That successful offensive execution spilled over into the fourth as Huntland went on a 34-12 romp to close the game.

Of Huntland’s eight players who scored, five reached double figures, with Lashawn Kimmons and Phillips com-binning for 46 points in the game.

Wiggs added 19 as well.

Grover made his impact on the game as well and led the hosts with 20, while Ford and Lovell also hit double figures, adding 12 and 11 points, respectively.

Cornersville hopes to get back in the win column and pick up a much-needed District 9-A win on Friday night, hosting Fayetteville City.

During their last meeting, Fayetteville took a 66-42 win against the Bulldogs.

Tip-off is set for 7:30 p.m.

Huntland 15 19 30 34 — 98
Cornersville 11 19 18 12 — 60
Huntland: Lashawn Kimmons 24, Braylen Phillips 22, Eli Wiggs 19, Trace Kilpatrick 13, Kennon Lafever 11, Demetri Reed 5, Jarron Kinslow 2, Avery Petty 2.
Cornersville: Hayden Grover 20, Kel Ford 12, Gage Lovell 11, Ben Franklin 6, Kale Adcox 4, Blaine Woodard 3, Colyn Schilling 2, Charlie Coble 2.
3-Point goals: Huntland (7): Phillips 3, Kimmons, Kilpatrick, Wiggs, Reed; Cornersville (1): Woodard.
Halftime score: Huntland 34, Cornersville 30.

Fairview’s ranged attack too much for Rockets

By Kacy Kincaid
Sports Writer

CHAPEL HILL — It was a battle behind the arc in the first quarter between the Forrest Rockets and Fairview Yellowjackets Tuesday night in Chapel Hill, the Yellow Jackets claiming the 62-44 win.

The Yellow Jackets knocked down three, three-pointers within the first two minutes of the game, ending the quarter with a total of five, outscoring the Rockets 20-12.

Jimmy Bond and Davin Porter chipped in behind the arc for the Rockets, keeping Forrest alive in the first frame.

Throughout the competition, Fairview’s Mays McCoy and Nathan Dillingham continued to play the long game, draining four threes a piece.

At the half, the Yellowjackets had a sturdy 14-point lead.

Although the Rockets came out in the second half putting up a fight, Ryan Meglis having a strong fourth quarter scoring six of his seven, the deficit created in the first half was too much to overcome.

Davin Porter led the Rockets with 14 points. McCoy led all scorers with 18.

Forrest will play at home again this Friday against Grundy County in a district matchup.

Tip off is set for 7:30 p.m.

Red Velvet for your Valentine

(Culinary.net) On the sweetest day of the year, a day full of flowers, love and sweets, Valentine's Day is the ultimate opportunity to try a different dessert meant for two.

It's hard to resist a perfectly blended, rose-red, luscious Red Velvet Mug Cake.

It's the perfect size, with just a handful of instructions, and it's easily cooked before your eyes in the microwave. That's right, the microwave.

This mug cake is a simple way to make something delicious and keep the portions small. Whether you have a small party, just you and your loved one or just simply want something easy and small, this quick treat is designed just for you.

Start by mixing all the dry ingredients into a large mug, including flour, sugar, cocoa powder, baking powder and salt.

Then add milk, melted butter, vanilla and red food coloring. Use a spoon and stir the ingredients together until blended.

Mix powdered sugar and cream cheese then drop the mixture into the cake batter and mix once more. Microwave the mug for up to 3 minutes until your cake is baked.

Valentine's Day means sharing with someone how much you care, and it's difficult to find a better way than to share something sweet.

This dessert has Valentine's Day written all over it, however, it can be enjoyed anytime throughout the year and is perfect for a late-night snack if you're craving something sugary-sweet.

Lady Vols looking forward to hosting No. 5 UConn

By TERESA M. WALKER
AP Sports Writer

Tennessee hasn't been to a Final Four since 2008 and last beat UConn a year earlier when Pat Summitt won her seventh of eight national championships.

The Lady Vols also haven't been ranked since late November despite starting the season at No. 5. They can take a step toward ending a couple of those skids Thursday night when No. 5 UConn visits for the latest game in the rivalry between women's basketball's most storied programs. At least 12,000 fans will be in the stands, and ESPN's College Game Day also will be on hand.

Tennessee coach Kellie Harper said she's excited at the opportunity for a great atmosphere to showcase women's basketball at an elite level.

"I know our team is excited," Harper said. "Who would be right? And, you know, everybody wants to play in that kind of environment with that atmosphere and a lot of fans in the stands."

Geno Auriemma is no stranger to big games in Knoxville, Tennessee.

"The size factor you know, the athleticism factor, the crowd factor that's going to be down there, the circus-like atmosphere that surrounds a Connecticut-Tennessee game," he said. "Even though it's not quite at the level, you know, it's not the Beatles."

No, but the two women's programs with the most national championships attract attention from casual fans whenever they play. Summitt set the standard until Auriemma and UConn passed that mark and kept winning, adding an 11th title overall and fourth straight in 2016.

Tennessee (16-6) has won nine straight games since a seven-point loss at then-No. 2 Stanford. That winning streak hasn't been good enough to push the Lady Vols back into the Top 25 where they started the season. Harper was mixing in a handful of new players from the transfer portal and recruiting when Tennessee struggled early on.

Then she lost 6-foot-6 center Tamari Key for the season because of blood clots in early December — before that loss to Stanford.

Harper sees her Lady Vols finally playing much closer to what she expects after that their early eye-opener.

"I'm not going to say we've arrived and we're as good as we can possibly be," Harper said. "We want to keep working every day to get better. I think the early games really challenged us and gave the adversity."

Her Lady Vols will face a depleted UConn team with only eight players available.

Paige Bueckers and freshman Ice Brady are out for the season with injured knees. Azzi Fudd (knee) and Caroline Ducharme (concussion) are both out indefinitely. Ayan-na Patterson returned from a concussion for their rout of DePaul on Monday night.

Auriemma said they will be more taxed by the Lady Vols' depth, athleticism and size.

"They're a really, really good team," Auriemma said. "They were struggling to find their way early on, and they seem to have put together. We have to handle the whole environment. Not an easy place to play, obviously. But our kids are excited about it. They're looking forward to it."

The Lady Vols also will have a home advantage they didn't when UConn lasted visited early in the pandemic when just 3,553 were in the stands for the Huskies' 67-61 win.

UConn guard Nika Muhl didn't play then. She said she wasn't on the same page as Auriemma during a bad stretch at practice and wound up benched that game.

"I was very mad, very disappointed," Muhl said. "So I'm definitely excited to go and just, you know, step up the court on that court for the first time. It's gonna be fun."

This is the fourth straight season these teams have played, and Harper favors continuing this rivalry — even with UConn having won all first three since the renewal. She sees both fan bases excited.

"And obviously, there's just a lot of extra noise, extra hype prior to the game with this matchup," Harper said. "I think you can see the national attention that it has drawn. ... The buildup has been probably really good for women's basketball and getting people talking about these two programs."

Lady Bulldogs end losing streak, halt Moore County

By Dennis Holley
Sports Writer

The Cornersville Lady Bulldogs (8-11, 0-3), looking to snap a five-game losing streak and needing a district win, welcomed the Moore County Raiderettes (14-8, 2-1) in a District 9-1A basketball game on Homecoming Friday night.

The Lady 'Dawgs, with senior Alicia Polk playing perhaps her best game of the year with a 26-point effort, grabbed an early lead over Moore County then withstood a third quarter run by the Raiderettes and stood tall with free throws in the fourth quarter to derail Moore County 53-40. Cornersville had not beaten the Lady Bulldogs since 2009.

"I was a little worried that Homecoming might affect the way we played but we came out ready and stayed locked in and on top and we were able to withstand the runs that Moore County made," Lady Bulldog coach Hayden McMahon said.

Polk started her night with a drive to the basket that put Cornersville on the board first, 2-0.

The Raiderettes employed a three-quarter court press that in the past has been a sore spot for the Lady 'Dawgs, but this time Cornersville went to Ady Gentry down low where she was fouled, then sank two free throws.

Cornersville continued breaking the press with crisp ball movement and Polk scored on a short jumper then Gentry on the next possession, grabbed a rebound and put it in for a 10-2 lead after one quarter.

Pork stayed on target as the Lady Bulldogs held off a Moore County run led by two Madison Dinger three-pointers.

Gentry picked up her third foul and went to the bench but freshman Camille Franklin, showing much potential and learning on the fly, came in and contributed a key assist.

"When Gentry picked up her third foul we went from a man-to-man defense to a three-two zone and it helped us," McMahon said.

Dinger for MC then sank a three-pointer and Cornersville called time-out with the score, 17-10.

Annabelle Mulliniks drove a dagger into Moore County with back-to-back threes to make the score 23-10 at the half.

Polk drained a three-pointer for Cornersville, but the Raiderettes then made a seven-point run to cut the lead to 26-1.

Anna Wood hit back-to-back three pointers and the Lady Bulldogs bounced back to a 32-17 lead.

MC's Paisley Logan drained a three-pointer to make the score 32-20, but Jayli Childress for the Lady 'Dawgs popped a short jumper and the lead moved out to fourteen points, 34-20.

Gentry, back in carrying three fouls, sank one of two free-throws to make the score 37-26 after three quarters.

The Raiderettes resorted to fouling as time ran down in the fourth quarter.

The Lady 'Dawgs, showing mental toughness, sank 14-of-17 free-throws with Polk sinking all eight of hers, as they grabbed their first district win of the season.

"This has been a long time coming, the last three or four games, we finally got over the hump, we practiced well and you know every player on my team is important to me. Great win!" McMahon said.

Bulldogs unable to overcome slow start

By Dennis Holley
Sports Writer

A slow start doomed the Cornersville Bulldogs in a 57-40 Homecoming loss Friday night.

The Cornersville Bulldogs (6-12 0-3 District 9-1A) could only tally a single basket in the first quarter against the Raiders (6-9, 1-2). then battled toe-to-toe the rest of the way but could not catch the Raiders as Cornersville fell 57-40.

"The first quarter was detrimental to the end of the ballgame although after the halftime we came out ready to go and cut the lead to ten points. We missed some close-in shots, and we need to work on finishing our shots. We are working hard, and we feel we are on the right path," Cornersville coach Dakota Brown said.

Hayden Grover for Cornersville finally ended the scoring drought with a basket close in, but at the end of the quarter Cornersville trailed 20-2.

Peyton Martin paced the Raiders in the first quarter with eight points, Alex Copeland added five points.

The second quarter saw the Bulldogs clawing back as Gage Lovell tallied six points and Kale Adcox added five but the damage had been done in the first quarter. Despite outscoring the Raiders 13-12 in the second quarter, Cornersville still trailed 32-15 at halftime.

Brown's halftime instructions must have motivated the Bulldogs. Cornersville, with the help of three-pointers by Lovell and Carter Neat, cut the lead to 32-

22 midway through the third quarter but could not get closer despite Ben Franklin powering in two baskets.

Moore County kept the Bulldogs at arm's length for the rest of the way and led 43-28 after three quarters.

The fourth quarter saw the Raiders shooting free throws as Dawson White sank 5-of-9 free throws. Cornersville countered with junior Ben Franklin scoring nine points.

Moore County 20 12 11 17 - 57
Cornersville 2 13 13 12 - 40

Braves' Grissom puts in extra work for shortstop competition

By Charles Odum
AP Sports Writer

ATLANTA — The Atlanta Braves' commitment to giving Vaughn Grissom a chance to win the starting job at shortstop can't be questioned.

First, the Braves, who must replace Dansby Swanson, scheduled Grissom for three off-season visits with third base coach Ron Washington for intense fielding drills, each lasting at least one week.

On Saturday, manager Brian Snitker said he hasn't even considered giving Grissom the chance to compete for playing time in left field this spring. Snitker and the Braves want Grissom to spend all his time at shortstop.

Then, Grissom was included with other prominent players made available to reporters at the Braves Fest for fans on Saturday. Projected starters at every position other than left field took turns in the media interview room. Grissom was the only shortstop on the list.

Grissom started 39 games at second base as the fill-in for the injured Ozzie Albies and only one game at shortstop last season. At 6-foot-3 and 210 pounds, Grissom has a big build for a shortstop, and some doubt his defense will be strong enough to hold the job.

Washington, the 70-year-old former Texas Rangers manager respected for his defensive drills, has assured the Braves that he'll have Grissom ready by the start of the season.

"That's probably one of the most valuable pieces I have in my life right now, being able to bounce stuff off him," Grissom said of Washington.

Washington volunteered for the offseason work with Grissom.

"He was like, 'Let me have that kid for three different times,'" Snitker said. "It was great Vaughn took the time out of his winter and went down there and saw the value in it. It will be good. He's definitely going to have a leg up getting to spring training and having all of that."

Grissom pounced on the opportunity.

"I was stoked," he said. "I loved it. I couldn't wait to go for my first time already."

Washington and Grissom already have held two weeklong training sessions in New Orleans. One more week of drills is planned before Braves pitchers and catchers report for spring training in North Port, Florida, on Feb. 13, followed by position players three days later.

The 22-year-old Grissom will compete with Orlando Arcia to replace Swanson, who signed a $177 million, seven-year deal with the Chicago Cubs. Like first baseman Freddie Freeman, who signed with the Dodgers as a free agent before the 2022 season, Swanson was a respected team leader, and his departure leaves a void.

There will be a spotlight on either Grissom or Arcia.

"We're going to be fine," Snitker said. "We'll use the sum of our parts to make it happen."

Snitker left open the possibility that Grissom and Arcia could share the job.

"I think that's two really good options we could probably team up and not abuse either one of those guys and have a really good product," Snitker said.

The five-time defending NL East champion Braves acquired catcher Sean Murphy from Oakland to share time with Travid d'Arnaud and have a long list of possible starters in left field, including Eddie Rosario, Marcell Ozuna and newly sign Kevin Pillar.

Other positions look set entering spring training.

Grissom said he's ignoring speculation that positive reviews from Washington make him the favorite to win the starting job.

"It's reassuring in a sense," Grissom said. "It's cool, but baseball is a crazy sport. It's very humbling. I know you have to keep your head down and grind. ... To me, in my mind the job is not mine. I still have to earn it. I try not to listen to that stuff at all."

Grissom hit .271 with eight homers and 32 RBIs in 251 at-bats last season, exhausting his rookie status.

Notes

RHP Mike Soroka, attempting a comeback from his second torn right Achilles tendon, said he expects to have no restrictions at the start of spring training. He'll compete for the No. 5 spot in the rotation. ... OF Ronald Acuña Jr., who played through knee soreness last season following surgery in 2021, said through a translator: "I think I'm back to feeling normal and healthy, feeling 100%. I definitely don't want to play DH anymore."

Tigerettes can't hold lead vs. Lawrence Co.

LEWISBURG — The Marshall County Tigerettes held the Lawrence County Lady Wildcats scoreless for seven minutes and used a 7-0 run to maintain the lead midway through the second quarter, but the Lady Wildcats warmed up with success from 3-point land and never looked back as the Tigerettes fell 61-34 in a District 8-AAA basketball contest Friday night.

Lawrence County (15-5, 2-2) jumped out to a 7-4 lead in the opening quarter before the Tigerette combination of Demiya Blackman and Mashawna Ridley took over on the offensive end.

Blackman finished with six points while Ridley added five as Marshall County (12-6, 1-3) scored the final seven points and took an 11-7 lead to the second quarter.

Points were scarce in the quarter for the Tigerettes, but Marshall County still led before the Lady Wildcats got hot with five treys and took the lead for good at 13-11 on a field goal with 3:59 left.

The Lady Wildcats outscored the Tigerettes 22-2 and took a 29-13 lead into the intermission.

The scoring struggles continued for Marshall County in the third quarter as the Lady Wildcats continued to find success from the outside.

Lawrence County added to its lead with three treys and outscored the Tigerettes 17-4 to take a 46-17 lead to the final quarter.

The Tigerettes got untracked and outscored the Lady Wildcats 17-15 in the quarter as Blackman led the way with eight points while Ridley added six free throws.

It was too much of a hill to climb for the Tigerettes as Lawrence County took the district win.

"I'm proud of us. We played hard," Coach David Steely of the Tigerettes said. "It's been awhile since against a good, high quality team we've come out and been able to compete and be winning for a quarter and a half."

"That was progress," Steely added. "Now we've got to learn when they answer, to take a deep breath and answer again and hang right there with them."

"We're a lot better than we were a year ago."

the Lady Wildcats.

Blackman led the Tigerettes with 20 points while Ridley netted 11.

The Lady Wildcats were 7-of-10 from the free throw line while Marshall County was 13-of-19.

But the big stat was from outside the arc as Lawrence County connected on 12 treys while the Tigerettes made just one.

"They did get red hot," Steely said. "We didn't go into the game thinking we were going to give them 3s."

Tigers can't get over the hump in loss to Wildcats

By Rickey Clardy
Sports Writer

LEWISBURG — The Marshall County Tigers battled back from deficits in the first two quarters and pulled within two points of the Lawrence County Wildcats midway through the third quarter, but the Tigers could not get closer as the Wildcats extended their lead and finished with a 62-46 win in a District 8-AAA basketball game Friday night.

Lawrence County (19-3, 3-1) jumped out to an 11-6 lead in the first quarter before consecutive treys by Jamal Gentry gave Marshall County (12-9, 3-1) its only lead at 12-11 with 55 seconds remaining.

A late field goal gave the Wildcats a 13-12 lead heading to the second quarter.

Similarly to the opening quarter, the Wildcats took a lead in the second before the Tigers fought back.

Lawrence County led 27-18 with 3:05 left before the Tigers used a three-pointer by Aja Jones and back-to-back treys by Marcus O'Neal and Gentry to tie the game at 29-29 with 1:15 remaining.

The Wildcats scored the final five points to take a 34-29 lead into halftime.

Lawrence County took a 41-31 lead with 5:22 left in the third quarter before the Tigers returned to script.

Once again, it was Gentry providing the theatrics with two straight treys as Marshall County used an 8-0 run to get within two at 41-39 with 4:09 left.

The Wildcats responded with seven consecutive points and took a 50-41 lead to the fourth quarter.

"He (Gentry) shot the ball well," Coach Lavon King of the Tigers said.

"They did a good of crashing the offensive boards," King added. "That's some of the things we need to do more of just to try to get second and third-chance shots."

The well ran dry in the final quarter as the Tigers could only manage five points while the Wildcats increase their advantage.

Lawrence County scored the first six points to take a 56-41 advantage en route to the district win.

Alex Bedford scored 21 points to lead three

Wildcats in double figures.

T.J. Gobble added 14 points while Jakabri Stevenson netted 11.

Gentry connected on five treys and led the Tigers with 17 points while Jones added 11.

The Wildcats were 10-of-14 at the charity stripe while Marshall County missed its only free throw attempt.

"They did a good job of making some big shots down the stretch and we struggled as far as scoring," King said. "We couldn't find the basket consistently enough to stay with them."

"Even when we thought we were putting pressure on them, we'd have to slide over to help and they would kick it out," King added.

"It's good that we saw this now so hopefully it won't happen later in the season."
