board with concerns regarding decisions for the next school year. Amanda Jett spoke on behalf on MCHS parents, upset over the proposed closure of the school’s wrestling program. She pointed out that the program was the largest, by number of participants, in the county and momentum and parental support for the team was only increasing. She also pointed out TSSAA rules that would bar wrestlers from competing at any school next year if the program was shuttered, short of moving schools or residences entirely. Cory Burns expressed his concerns over some recent administration hirings, going as far as requesting the resignation of Director of Schools Jacob Sorrells. Burns cited “favoritism” in hiring for positions as well as questioning the qualifications of some of those hires. One parent struck a more positive note, as she thanked the school system for their urgency in addressing school safety issues, especially in light of The Covenant shooting incident in Nashville.

They continue to live and participate in organizations in the college’s service area. “This fund reflects how important education is to the Johnsons,” said Bethany Lay, Columbia State vice president for Advancement and executive director of the Columbia State Foundation. “The help provided for students to be successful even when faced with unexpected challenges may be just what they need to complete their educational goals.” The fund is designed to help students who are impacted with an unforeseen life occurrence or emergency that significantly interferes with successful completion of classes. This can be used to assist with such things as books, fees, testing fees or uniforms, as well as, rent, gas, food or car repair. The Columbia State Foundation is a 501(c)(3) organization that supports and partners with the college to positively impact student success and the communities in which it serves.

Shrine paper sale Saturday

The Marshall County Shrine Club will be selling papers to support the Shrine Children’s Hospitals on May 13, 2023. The Shriners will be on the Lewisburg square, in Cornersville and in Chapel Hill. So please come out and make a donation to support these 19 orthopedic and three burns hospitals, focused on children’s care. All the money donated goes to the hospitals and is spent helping the kids. So come on out and support the Shriners who are helping the kids.

trash bins or mailboxes. Aldermen chose an educational solution initially, hoping not to have to resort to an ordinance to address the issue. The board considered a request from the South Marshall Volunteer Fire Department for a $1,000 donation toward fireworks for the department’s 4th of July event. Last year, the town’s event committee donated the funds from the proceeds of their events. Aldermen were not as keen. “I just don’t like burning up taxpayers money like that,” said Arthur. Alderman Mary Johnson’s motion to approve

$500 died from lack of a second. Arthur’s motion of $200 passed the board unanimously. Brandon informed the board that the East Hill and Polk Street improvements were finally out for bid and that details for the town’s new brush pickup service would be mailed out to residents shortly.

A “Bid Bond” or other acceptable bond security in the amount of 5 percent of the bid amount must accompany the submitted bid.

The successful Bidder will be required to furnish a “Performance Bond” and a “Payment Bond”, each for 100 percent of the contract amount, as security for the faithful performance of the work and the payment of all bills and obligations arising from the performance of the work.

All bids, which shall include the costs for payment and performance bonds when required, shall remain binding on the Contractor for a period of 60 days after the bid date and time and the Owner reserves the right to accept any bid or bid alternate, to reject any or all bids, or to waive any informalities in bids received where such acceptance, rejections, or waiver is considered to be in the best interest of the Owner. All alternates requested on the bid form will be considered in the award of the Contract.

All bidders must be licensed contractors as required by the Contractors Licensing Act of 1976 (TCA Title 62, Chapter 6) and State of Tennessee Public Chapter No. 644 Senate Bill No. 1713. No bid will be considered unless the sealed envelope containing the bid provides the following information: the name, license number, expiration date thereof, and license classification of the contractors applying to bid for the prime contract and for the masonry over $100,000, electrical, plumbing, heating, ventilation, and air conditioning contracts, and for each vertical closed loop geothermal heating and cooling project, the company name, Tennessee Department of Environment and Conservation license number, classification (G, L, or GL), and the expiration date, appear on the outside of the envelope containing the bid except when the bid is in an amount less than twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) [masonry over $100,000]. When the bid is less than twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000), the name of the contractor only may appear on the outside of the envelope containing the bid, and upon opening the envelope, if such bid is in excess of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000), the same shall automatically be disqualified. Only one (1) contractor in each classification may be listed. Prime contractor bidders who are to perform the electrical, plumbing, heating, ventilation, and air conditioning or the geothermal heating and cooling must be so designated upon the outside of the envelope. Failure of any bidder to comply therewith shall void such bid and the envelope containing such bid shall not be opened or considered. The failure of any bidder to comply with all of the provisions hereof shall automatically disqualify such bid.

No faxed or electronically transmitted bids will be accepted. All bids must be in a sealed envelope marked “2023 Cornersville Street Improvements”.

Lewisburg approves bonus; continues searches

By Scott Pearson
Associate Editor

The Lewisburg City Council approved a bonus for some employees and made moves toward solving some long standing issues on Tuesday night.

The council approved a one-time bonus payment for city employees not part of the police or fire departments. Full time employees will receive a $1,000 bonus and permanent part time employees will receive $500.

The bonuses, approximately $65,000 in total, will be funded through the city's American Rescue Plan Act funds distributed by the federal government.

Last month, the council approved a $2 per hour raise for the police department's certified officers, using unspent city funds already in the department's current budget.

The council preferred the one-time bonus instead of a raise for other employees until the city's budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1 was better defined.

Council approved $13,680 from ARPA funds, to conduct a traffic study with recommendations for solving the long-standing issues with traffic on Hull Avenue and White Drive.

Motorists have long used the residential streets as a cut through, which one resident who addressed the council described as "increasingly dangerous due to excessive speeding and reckless driving."

Some councilmen asked if a 2018 county wide transportation planning study conducted by the Tennessee Department of Transportation would serve the same purpose, but Councilwoman Vickie Michael pointed out that document was merely a broad planning tool, not an actual study.

Speed bumps were discounted outright due to their interference with road plows during snow events. The possibility of deadending Hull Avenue in order to finally solve the problem was also touched on.

The only resolution drawing an opposing vote at the meeting was a proposal to authorize a request for proposals from search firms to seek candidates for the city's treasurer position.

The Municipal Technical Advisory Service, a University of Tennessee related office which provides consulting services to state municipalities, suggested the measure after several rounds of advertising and interviewing for the position have not been successful in identifying a qualified candidate.

The council has scheduled another round of interviews for the position on Wednesday, after the press time for today's edition.

Councilwoman Patty Parsons voted against the resolution after questioning why the resolution was needed with interviews the next day.

The remaining four council members voted in favor since the authorization was on an "as needed" basis. If Wednesday's interviews result in an offer, the RFP would not need to be issued and if the interviews do not produce a candidate, then the city would gain four weeks to begin the process without having to wait until June to approve the resolution.

The council will also be interviewing candidates for the position of city attorney, later in the month. Tuesday's meeting was the last in the position for Quinn Brandon Stewart, who is resigning from the position she has held since February of last year.

The council agreed to sell an additional acre on East Hill Street to the Marshall County Emergency Communications District. The sale of two acres to ECD was approved last month but after reviewing the site for a planned stand-alone building for 911 services the district decided a further acre was needed. The price per acre was $50,000.

Council voted to extend for another 60 days the sale contract for approximately 94 acres in the I65 Commerce Park. The potential developers of the site presented to the council an outline of the proposed $80 million project to build industrial space. Site planning, prior to seeking capital for the project, has taken longer than anticipated due to the amount of rock that would need to be moved to level the site for development.

Cornersville talks pigs and a penny

By Scott Pearson
Associate Editor

Cornersville moved toward the coming fiscal year and way back in the town ordinances at Thursday's monthly meeting.

Aldermen voted, on first reading, to approve the proposed budget and set the tax rate for the next fiscal year, which begins July 1.

After some discussion, the aldermen agreed to set the town's property tax rate at 70 cents per $100 of assessed value, an increase of one penny from last year's rate.

While each penny in the tax rate brings in approximately $3,000 in taxes, the additional funds will help build the town's fund balance, with several capital road projects on the horizon.

Alderman Doris Arthur raised the issue of pigs being kept within the town limits.

Town Administrator Taylor

Brandon told the board that he did find a town ordinance from 1937 that banned hogs inside the town limits as a nuisance.

Town fathers in 1937 were apparently serious about the issue. Brandon said the ordinance allowed for a $500 fine, the equivalent of more than $10,000 in buying power today.

Brandon told the board that revisions to the original ordinance would be needed, such as the

Have you heard of After School Satan Clubs?

By Danny Tyree

Sometimes it’s difficult to approach news items with the proper balance of bemusement, curiosity and wariness.

(Sometimes it’s difficult to approach news items at all, when there are shouts of “When are you going to carry out the garbage?” and “That lawn isn’t going to mow itself!” But I digress.)

According to a story at thehill.com, After School Satan Clubs have been growing like the Dickens since their establishment at the beginning of 2020.

The clubs are associated with the Satanic Temple (“founded in the Year of Somebody Else’s Lord 2014”) and serve as an alternative to Christian-based extracurricular activities for elementary school students.

Although I authored the 2020 book “Yes, Your Butt Still Belongs in Church,” I don’t feel particularly threatened by the existence of clubs that cater to marginalized atheists, agnostics, pagans and followers of other belief systems; but the naming system does get under my skin.

I mean, most modern Satanists spend an inordinate amount of time dealing with self-inflicted PR problems. They must constantly point out that they don’t believe in a literal Satan and don’t worship evil, so – other than for shock value – I’m not sure why they choose to be the Satanic Temple or the Church of Satan or Beelzebub’s Bungalow to start with.

It’s like Jiffy Lube changing its business model without changing its name. (“No, we specialize in extremely lethargic service, and we would really rather sell you a horse than lubricate your gas-powered vehicle...”)

The press releases paint the clubs as focusing on tolerance, empathy and common-sense science (“There’s a perfectly good reason Grandpa was wearing his cloth mask in the casket, Billy...”), but I hope they don’t devolve into snobbery. You know, like “Yo’ momma is so narrow-minded...” taunts or charitable gestures such as “Here’s a new pair of mittens, because your family probably wears them out knuckle-dragging...”

Some organizers of After School Satan Clubs have faced combative Christian parents or even death threats. The organizers are not rolling over and playing dead (mostly because that would start unproductive arguments over whether death means eternal oblivion or Becoming One with the Universe or drinking mead in Valhalla or being reincarnated as a writer who belatedly realizes he should have trademarked Beelzebub’s Bungalow or...).

No, sir, they are standing their ground, winning lawsuits and defying their opponents with, “Oh, Mythical Realm of Punishment Concocted to Keep Superstitious Believers in Line, No!”

Expansion into high schools would seem a no-brainer for future growth, but the devil is in the details (so to speak). For one thing, faculty sponsors would have to guarantee that the personal demons they’re wrestling with are purely metaphorical.

And secondary school students would need to be willing and able to take on more of the workload. But “Let’s go empathize with endangered cephalopods” has tough competition in a life-phase dominated by raging hormones, driver’s licenses and after-school jobs.

(The seven tenets of the Satanic Temple may be some outstanding prose, but they are no match for an impudent 17-year-old’s “I got your tenets right here!”)

It will be interesting to track how the clubs grow and evolve. If any traditional Christians are truly concerned about them, they will need to up their game in the marketplace of ideas.

“The preacher had the right idea last Christmas. You know, preacher what’s-his-name. Same first name as congressman what’s-his-name...”

POLICE BLOTTER

On April 28, Lewisburg Police and agents of the 17th Judicial District Drug Task Force executed arrest warrants for Eric Armstrong, 51, and Jamaric Armstrong, 18, at the Maple Grove Apartments.

Both men were on bond from an incident on April 26, detailed in last week’s Marshall County Tribune police blotter.

Agents found what appeared to be marijuana, a Schedule VI controlled substance, in both bedrooms of the apartment as well as in the shared bathroom.

Bond conditions prohibit the possession or use of controlled substances and additional warrants were obtained for the violation.

Both men were jailed without bond until their May 22 court date.

THEFTS

• On May 1, a local business owner reported the theft of a laptop computer from their business. The owner was particularly concerned due to the device containing tax, and therefore, identification and banking records.

• On May 2, a resident of Cornersville Highway reported that a Ruger handgun stored at the home had gone missing since he had last seen it three months ago. The handgun was valued at $300.

• On April 27, a convenience store on Fayetteville Highway reported that a counterfeit $100 had been passed the prior evening.

• Thousands of dollars of damage was reported to the Marshall County Sheriff’s Office at a new home under construction on Stegall Road. At some point after April 29, vandals entered the dwelling and kicked several holes in the dry-wall and damaged the kitchen.

Hyacinth Bean Vine: A “one size fits most” plant

UT Gardens’ May Plant of the Month

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. — Truthfully, I laughed when I read an excerpt from historical gardening expert Peggy Cornett’s book, “Jefferson’s Vines of Summer: Beauties and Beasts,” where she wrote, “Ask any of Monticello’s gardeners and they will tell you that enough has been said about the Hyacinth Bean.” Here I am, though, telling you more about it.

The vine’s purple stems, leaf veins, flowers and seed pods place it firmly on my list of purple favorites in the garden.

Hyacinth bean goes by many names including Indian bean and Egyptian bean, which provide clues about its origin. Most of the Lablab purpureus plant is edible when prepared correctly, and it has been utilized as a food crop for centuries in Africa and Asia. It arrived in Europe by the early 1700s and gained popularity. Ever the plantsman, Thomas Jefferson is thought to have grown it in the early 1800s at Monticello.

In the United States, this plant has been primarily used ornamentally since the early 19th century. Climbing trellises or spreading along the ground, this vine is a fast-growing annual in much of the Southeast but can be hardy in zones 10 and 11. The shape of the seed pods and flowers indicate that it is in the Fabaceae family (also known as Leguminosae) and is nitrogen-fixing. In fact, it’s a great cover crop because it provides nitrogen through fixation and leaf decay, and its extensive root system improves the soil’s structure. Farmers may like this plant, too, because it can be used as forage for cattle and goats.

Purple hyacinth bean vine can be easily grown from seed after fear of frost has passed, in full sun and moist, well-draining soil. Protect young plants from deer and provide adequate support for the vines that can be up to 25 feet long. Flowers are white, blue, or purple, and the seed pods can range from white to red or even dark brown depending on the variety chosen. Seeds for purple flowering varieties are easily found in mail order catalogs and in seed displays at garden centers in early spring. Staking against a trellis or archway, similar to what has been displayed in our UT Gardens, Knoxville, Kitchen Garden, makes for a dramatic moment in any garden while also providing shade in the heat of summer. Look for purple hyacinth bean vine growing this summer at the UT Gardens, Knoxville. There, and in your own home landscape, you’ll be mesmerized by the buzz of bees and scent of the flowers in late summer through early fall should you choose to add this purple people pleaser to your garden.

The UT Gardens includes plant collections located in Knoxville, Crossville and Jackson, Tennessee. Designated as the official botanical garden for the State of Tennessee, the UT Gardens are part of the UT Institute of Agriculture. The Gardens’ mission is to foster appreciation, education and stewardship of plants through garden displays, educational programs and research trials. The Gardens are open during all seasons and free to the public.

First blind man to use a seeing-eye dog was a Tennessean

By Bill Carey
Tennessee History for Kids

When you see a blind person with a seeing-eye dog, remember that this practice started with a young man from Nashville.

In 1927, Morris Frank was a 20-year-old student at Vanderbilt University and unhappy about his dependency on others to get around. Frank’s father read him an article in the Saturday Evening Post by Dorothy Eustis, an American woman living in Switzerland. In the article, Eustis talked about how shepherds there were training dogs to help blind people. She speculated that this practice could be perfected to help blind people on a full-time basis.

Excited by the idea, Frank wrote a letter to Eustis and received a receptive response 30 days later from Eustis. Frank then took a ship to Europe, where he trained extensively with a German Shepherd named Buddy. The training was hard. But after weeks with the dog, Frank could get around a nearby Swiss village holding tightly to a harness to which Buddy was strapped.

Frank returned to the United States with a goal of spreading the word about seeing-eye dogs. From the day he got off the ship, he made news. At one point, in front of a group of dumb-founded reporters, Buddy led Frank safely across a busy New York street. “She (Buddy) moved forward into the ear-splitting clangor, stopped, backed up, and started again,” Frank wrote in a 1957 book called First Lady of the Seeing Eye – a book I highly recommend to every Tennessee fifth grader. “I lost all sense of direction and surrendered myself entirely to the dog. I shall never forget the next three minutes, ten-ton trucks rocketing past, cabs blowing their horns in our ears, drivers shouting at us . . . When we finally got to the other side and I realized what a really magnificent job she had done, I leaned over and gave Buddy a great big hug.”

When Frank returned to Nashville, people were amazed at the sight of the blind man and his dog navigating busy sidewalks. “Now strangers spoke freely to me,” Frank wrote. “In the old days, at a streetcar stop, for instance, I often envied two sighted persons, who obviously did not know each other, their ease in striking up a conversation . . . With Buddy there, however, it was the easiest and most natural thing in the world for them to say, ‘What a lovely dog you have!’”

What astonished people the most was that Buddy had an ability best known as “intelligent disobedience,” which meant she would obey Frank except when executing that command would result in harm to her master. For example: if there was a low-hanging branch ahead on the sidewalk, Buddy knew to navigate around it.

Frank co-founded The Seeing Eye, an institution set up to train guide dogs and their blind owners. It operated in Nashville for two years and then moved to Morristown, New Jersey (partly for climate reasons; they found it to be too hot in Tennessee to train German Shepherds year-round.)

As Frank and Buddy traveled the nation, they opened doors for blind people of future generations. In that era there were no laws that required trains, hotels and restaurants to allow seeing-eye dogs to gain entrance. Almost on a daily basis, Frank would go into an establishment and be told that he couldn’t bring his dog in. His canned response: “I’m not bringing her in; she’s bringing me in!” One time, a railroad porter followed Frank and Buddy to their seats and proceeded to try to drag Buddy back out. However, in the words of Frank, Buddy then showed the porter her “beautiful teeth,” convincing him that it was best to leave the dog alone.

When Buddy died in May 1938, she received an obituary in The New York Times. “Buddy had appeared on hundreds of lecture platforms and barked in response to applause; she had been received by Presidents Coolidge and Hoover and other notables; and she had been led into the homes of poor among the blind and had given them hope while they patted her and fingered her harness,” the obituary said.

Today, The Seeing Eye reports on its web site (www.seeingeye.org) that it has trained 17,000 dogs in its 94-year history. If you go to Morristown, New Jersey, you will find a statue of Tennesseans Morris Frank and Buddy – probably the only statue of a blind man and seeing-eye dog in the world.

MARSHALL COUNTY DEVOTIONAL PAGE

"For the law was given by Moses, but grace and truth came by Jesus Christ." John 1:17

Grace is wonderful, but it is sometimes misunderstood. The popular idea about grace is that God overlooks sin just because He is God. However the Bible has a different definition. Now before we get to this wonderful news about grace, understand that John first mentions the law given by Moses. The Law of Moses is summed up in the Ten Commandments. Now don't be mistaken, the Ten Commandments were not given to us as an example, nor was it given to make a way into heaven. Paul writes, "for if there had been a law given which could have given life, verily righteousness should have been by the law" (Galatians 3:21). The Ten Commandments declared the holy character of God and the perfect standard by which God demanded that we all live by without one sin (James 2:10). That's it. No one has ever entered into heaven by keeping the Ten Commandments, simply because no one is without sin. The law shows us that we all come short of God's glory and that we need a savior (Romans 3:23,24).

The law is like a perfectly clean mirror. When we look into it, the mirror shows us all of our defects and blemishes. As we say in the South, "warts and all." So, if the mirror shows me my blemishes should I curse the mirror because it has no power to take away my blemishes?

So it is with the Law of Moses. The law magnifies our sin nature and condemns us. The law has no power to change our nature, and it definitely has no grace to forgive sinners. All the law does is show us our faults and condemn us. That's the law given by Moses.

Grace is the opposite of the law. The very nature of grace tells us that it is something not earned, but rather it is a free gift. This gift of grace came by Jesus Christ. Christ lived the holy and perfect life, according to the law, that I was supposed to and didn't. It was Christ who was punished by the holy law that I broke, while hanging on that cross. There on the cross, He willingly took the sin punishment that I deserved because the law found me to be a guilty sinner and condemned me. However, God's grace in Christ forgave me.

Grace does not depend upon us, but upon Christ and what He did as our substitute. Grace is for the undeserving, while truth is reality as defined by God, and both grace and truth are bound up in the person and work of the Lord Jesus Christ. Understand that, Christ did not come to tell us the truth, but Christ is the truth (John 14:6), and we are only recipients of God's grace by faith. You see, grace without truth dishonors God and does us no good. That is why grace and truth came by Jesus Christ.

Cereal success

Photo submitted by Oak Grove Elementary. Oak Grove Elementary conducted a cereal drive for Hopetown and collected 489 boxes/bags of cereal. Marshall County High School students in the Educators Rising class and Student Council partnered with Oak Grove to collect cereal as well. Walmart, of Lewisburg, also contributed 100 bags of cereal to this effort. The Cubs for Kindness team and all of the students at Oak Grove Elementary worked to make this cereal drive a success. Students, faculty/staff, and Hopetown volunteers celebrated with a "cereal dominoes" event!

Rockets rally, but Champs cap improbable run to 7-AA title

By Will Carter
Sports Writer

CHAPEL HILL — The lights were bright, rally caps were on and tensions were high.

With two outs and a runner on second base in the bottom of the seventh of a tied up district championship game, the moment couldn't have been bigger when Noah McGeary stepped to the plate for the Cascade Champions.

McGeary took the first pitch for ball one.

The next pitch floated his way and he sent a hard line drive to the left-center gap to bring Chance Brown home to beat the Forrest Rockets (19-10) 8-7, and secure the District 7-AA title for the Champions' (13-15) first district championship since 2012.

"Noah got in the box and looked at me, and I just pointed at him and said 'be that dude,'" Cascade head coach Travis Sheffield said.

"You look at him and don't expect him to be one of our better players, but he has so much heart and passion. To see him get that game-winning hit was awesome. He tried to run from me, but I made sure I could catch him for the dogpile. I'm so proud of him and this whole team."

Entering the bottom of the seventh, the Champions were trailing the Rockets 7-6 with the bottom of their lineup coming to the plate.

After two quick outs, it was up to the nine-hole hitter — Logan Green — to keep their hopes alive, and on the third pitch of the at-bat, he took one for the team by taking a pitch off his back for a free base.

Brown stepped to the plate next and ripped a line drive to right field to score Green all the way from first base and tie the game at 7-7 before McGeary's walk-off single.

"Logan Green probably had the biggest at-bat of that inning. Up there with two outs, and he's the nine-hole hitter. I'm sure the whole ballpark was deflated thinking it was over," Sheffield said. "He's not the type of guy to wear a pitch, but he took one for the team in that moment. That gave Chance the opportunity to be the senior and dog that we needed with that double down the line."

Cascade was in control for most of the game with a 6-2 lead in hand heading to the top of the sixth inning, but Forrest came through in a big way with five runs on four hits to take a 7-6 lead — their first of the game.

Kason Fuller and Carter Walk started off the half inning with back-to-back singles, and a walk immediately after loaded the bases for the Rockets.

Champion starter Walker Craig struck out the ensuing batter for the first out of the inning, but a walk on the following batter plated a Rockets' run for a 6-3 game.

With the bases still full, Branham Haynes stepped to the plate, and launched a fly ball deep into center field for a bases-clearing triple to tie the game at 6-6.

Two at-bats later, Conner Melson replaced Craig on the mound with runners on the corners and one out.

Melson forced the first batter he faced into a fielder's choice to third basemen, Sawyer Lovvorn, who made the throw to home to get the lead runner out, but the Rockets pushed one more across in the next at-bat as Preston Gentry knocked an RBI-single to center field to take a 7-6 lead heading to the bottom of the sixth.

"We're never out of any ballgame, and that's a testament to our guys," Forrest head coach Andy Burkett said. "If you go back to last week when we were losing 5-1 to the defending single A state champion in Eagleville, and we came back to win that game 9-5. Our guys never give up, and they have a lot of heart."

Entering the championship game, the Rockets were slim on arms in the bullpen having played three

Lady Rockets take down No. 1 Viqueens, reach 7-AA title

By Chris Siers

UNIONVILLE — During their regular season meetings, the Forrest Lady Rockets and Community Viqueens split, each winning a one-run game.

During their winner's bracket final meeting on Tuesday night, Forrest relied on an excellent small ball game plan to advance to the District 7-AA championship with a 7-2 win over the tournament's No. 1 seed.

"We talked about if we could get a run an inning, at the end of the game, that's seven runs. Even in those pressure situations, we're a pretty fast team. Even if they know it's coming, you have to make a good throw, a good catch, a good tag—all of it," Lady Rocket coach Shelby Lightfoot said.

"Just really been working on that small ball game, just in big games and big situations for down the road."

After an error allowed Macyn Kirby to safely reach base in the game's first at-bat, she later scampered around the bases and on sac-bunt by Christa Warren.

From there, the game settled into a pitcher's duel between Lady Rocket starter Ella Chilton and Community starter Annie Prince.

Both pitchers went on to pitch three-straight scoreless innings until Kirby drew a one-out walk in the top of the fifth inning.

She scored in the next at-bat when Taylor Moreland reached on an error in the Viqueen infield.

Warren followed her on base with a single to left and then Chilton called her own number and knocked in two more runs on a single to right, giving Forrest at 4-0 lead.

The Viqueens got a run back in the bottom on a RBI single off the bat of Chloe West to cut the Forrest lead to three runs.

But the game took a scary turn in the top of the sixth inning.

With one out, Viqueen starting pitcher Annie Prince took a comeback-er off her foot and immediately hit the dirt.

She did not return to the game.

Forrest went on to get the run back later in the inning on a sac-bunt by Moreland.

The Lady Rockets got another run off another sac-bunt in the seventh and then Maggie Daugherty stole home on a wild pitch for the final Forrest run of the game.

Chilton was plenty effective in the pitcher's circle, going seven innings and allowing two runs on five hits to go along with two strikeouts.

"We felt like even at the beginning of the year, we had a good staff. We just kept messing up a little bit. Just fine tuning our craft and hitting our spots better so the defense can play behind them. Ella did a better job of attacking. She still walked a few that we would like for her to get together, but overall, she kept the ball down well and kept us in the game," Lightfoot said.

In addition to several sacrifices, the Lady Rockets belted out seven hits and saw Daugherty and Chilton each hammer out a pair of base hits.

"We just have to continue to hit the ball. We feel like moving in that our pitching is throwing well, they keep us in a ball game. In the postseason, keep people under five runs. Offensively, we're expecting to score five runs and when we don't that's on us," Lightfoot said.

Ella Chilton delivers a first-inning pitch against the Viqueens. She went the distance and gave up five hits, but only two runs and struck out two.

The win advances Forrest to the District 7-AA championship, which is scheduled to be held on Thursday night against the winner of Community and Cascade, which was played on Wednesday night.

"Pitching wise, they have to come in and attack. We still have to do a better job of some timely hits in big situations, or even some two-out hits. We'll continue to work on that and hopefully we'll come in and give them a good game," Lightfoot said.

Moreland no hits Lady Champs in 7-AA opener

By Chris Siers
sports@t-g.com

CHAPEL HILL — Hits were far and few between for both Forrest and Cascade in Monday afternoon's District 7-AA tournament opener.

While Cascade starting pitcher Brianna Horn pitched well, it was Forrest's Taylor Moreland who was near perfect from the pitcher's circle.

The Lady Rocket flamethrower kept the base paths clear for the most part and struck out five Cascade batters en route to a 7-0 shutout win to open the 2023 postseason.

While Moreland was spinning a gem from the pitcher's circle, the Lady Rockets made the most of their chances on base.

After Moreland sat the Lady Champs down in order in the first inning, which included two strikeouts, Forrest went on to load the bases in the bottom of the frame after Macyn Kirby was hit by a pitch and Moreland and Ella Chilton drew two-out walks to load the bases.

It was then third-straight walk by Maggie Daughrity that plated the first run of the game.

Carli Warner drew the fifth walk of the first inning for Forrest and plated the second Lady Rocket run for the 2-0 lead.

The game's first hit didn't come until Warner slugged a RBI double to deep center field, scoring Abby Ferguson, in the bottom of the third.

Forrest scored its third run of the game off a bases loaded walk when Kirby drew the base on balls to score a second Lady Rocket run in the third frame.

Cascade threatened in the fourth inning when the first batter of the inning was hit by a pitch to safely reach.

But Moreland answered with a strikeout and the Lady Rocket defense flashed the leather behind her and recorded a double play to end the inning.

Forrest added two more runs in the fourth inning, coming on another bases-loaded situation when Briley Burnham was hit by a pitch and then when Daughrity scored on a passed ball.

Forrest put a cap on the game with a squeeze by Christa Warren that scored Kirby.

Daughrity and Warner recorded the only hits of the game for either team.

The win sets Forrest on a collision course with Community, who Forrest split with in the regular season.

During their first meeting, Community claimed a walk-off win in dramatic fashion, while Forrest claimed Game 2 in a dandy of a 1-0 pitcher's duel.

Spring Hill ends Tigers' season

Tribune Staff Report

An up and down season came to a close for Marshall County in the District 8-AAA tournament last weekend with back-to-back losses to Spring Hill.

SPRING HILL 9, MARSHALL CO. 3

Marshall County grabbed an early lead, but ultimately couldn't overcome four errors as Spring Hill rallied for a 9-3 win over Marshall County in the postseason opener last Thursday.

Trey Warner put the Tigers on the board with a RBI single to left and then John Morgan Thomas scored on a Raider error to give the Tigers a 2-0 lead.

Spring Hill got one run back in the bottom of the first, but it was a three-run third inning and a four-run fourth inning that blew the game open for the Raiders.

Thomas went 2-for-2, with a double, and Trey Warner also went 2-for-4, to lead the Tigers at the plate.

Luttrell went three innings and gave up six runs on six hits with one strikeout.

SPRING HILL 5, MARSHALL CO. 0

A good old fashioned pitcher's duel ultimately gave way to several runs as Spring Hill scored five runs over the last three innings to end Marshall County's season, 5-0.

Grayson Miller got the nod for the Tigers and pitched the complete game.

He gave up five runs on eight hits, while striking out three.

Spring Hill broke a scoreless tie in with a single run in the bottom of the fourth and fifth innings, but it was a three-run sixth that put the game out of reach for the Tigers.

James Hery and Miller led the Tigers at the plate, both going 2-for-3.

Bulldogs' season ends in 9-A tourney

Tribune Staff Report

EAGLEVILLE — The Cornersville Bulldogs put up a fight in the District 9-A tournament, but ultimately couldn't battle their way to the championship game after seeing their season come to an end against Moore County on Friday afternoon.

CORNERSVILLE 13, FAYETTEVILLE 0

Daniel Sellars and Tanner Pease combined to pitch a one-hitter as the Bulldogs took their postseason opener in convincing fashion against Fayetteville City in a 13-0 blowout.

Pease got the start on the mound and was in total control, allowing just one hit in four innings, while striking out nine Tiger batters.

Sellars worked the final inning in relief and struck out one and gave up one walk.

Pease helped his own effort at the plate, going 1-for-4, but driving in five RBIs.

The Bulldogs grabbed an 8-0 lead in the first inning and never let off the throttle.

Cornersville added four more in the fifth and a 13th run in the fifth inning.

Cornersville's reward for beating Fayetteville in the 9-A opener was getting defending Class 1A state champion and district top-seed Eagleville.

Although the Bulldogs were able to hammer out six hits and drive in three runs, Eagleville blew the game wide open with an eight-run second and an eight-run third inning to take the 19-3 win over Cornersville.

After falling behind 19-0, Cornersville rallied for three runs in the top of the fifth inning when Colyn Schillig ground into a fielder's choice.

Blaine Woodward then scored on an Eagleville error and Daniel Sellars scored Schillig when he ground out to first.

CORNERSVILLE 4, HUNTLAND 2

After falling into the consolation bracket, it took a 10th inning rally to lift Cornersville back within one game of a rematch against Eagleville in the District 9-A tournament as Peyton Cherry drove home two runs in the top of the 10th inning to break a 2-2, extra inning thriller with the Bulldogs' 4-2 win over Huntland.

Beau Schillig pitched a stellar game for the Dawgs, going 8 1/3 innings and giving up just two runs on six hits while striking out eight.

Tanner Pease worked the final 1 2/3 innings in relief to earn the win on the mound.

At the plate, the Bulldogs connected on 11 hits, with Daniel Sellars going 3-for-5 and Pease along with Kale Adcox each going 2-for-5.

MOORE CO. 5, CORNERSVILLE 3

A base-clearing double in the first inning put Moore County in front with a lead the Raiders never gave up as Cornersville's season came to an end with a 5-3 loss in the District 9-A tournament.

After falling behind 3-0, the 'Dawgs generated a bit of a rally in the top of the third with a RBI double by Daniel Sellars to put Cornersville on the board.

Two batters later, Tanner Pease laced a RBI single to right, pulling the Bulldogs within one run.

Moore County responded with a run in the bottom of the third, but Beau Schillig again brought the Bulldogs within one run of Moore County's lead with a RBI fielder's choice in the top of the fifth inning.

However, Moore County plated a final insurance run in the bottom of the fifth inning to end Cornersville's season.

Sellars led the way for Cornersville, going 3-for-4 in the final game for the Bulldogs this season.

Rockets

games since Thursday night, and one earlier in the day on Saturday where they beat Grundy County to advance to the final against Cascade.

Burkett and the Rockets knew it would be a hard-fought game against a streaking Champions squad.

"We knew coming into today that it was an uphill battle with our pitching staff being depleted. So we knew we were going to have to ride Carter Walk, Ryan Meglis, and Tyler Tackett today. They did exactly what they were supposed to do," Burkett said. "Hats off to Cascade. They've been a completely different ball club since the district tournament started, and they're playing with a lot of confidence. Our district being well represented in the region tournament is something I'm really happy with."

Walk tossed the majority of the game for the Rockets, going five innings with five strikeouts while allowing three runs on seven hits.

Cascade came out of the gates hot to take an early 3-0 lead after Jaxon Sheffield launched a ball to the right-field fence for a two-RBI triple, and Lovvorn singled immediately after to score him.

Craig followed it up in a big way by striking out the side in the top of the second to keep their momentum rolling.

He tossed 5 and 1/3 innings on the night with four walks, six strikeouts, and eight hits while allowing seven runs.

"I knew stamina would be a big thing for him tonight having been sick this week, but he gave us what we needed and then some. I told him to get us five good innings, but I left him out there for the sixth. And that's when Forrest had their big inning," Sheffield said. "Then Conner came in in a tough spot. I think we gave up one run in that spot, but then Conner put up a zero for us. He gave us a big opportunity to win the game, and he only started pitching for us late in the season. I kind of decided he was gonna be a guy for us after a few strong outings, and he's been throwing it over the plate."

Forrest found its rhythm in the top of the third inning to put up two runs for a 3-2 game after Gentry doubled to score Haynes and Tyler Baxter who both singled to start the inning.

The Champions answered with a run in the bottom half on a Zach Crosslin double that scored Lovvorn and they manufactured two more in the bottom of the fifth to take a 6-2 lead.

In the inning, Crosslin knocked a lead-off double, and Melson followed it up with a single to give Cascade runners on the corners.

Before the first pitch to Logan Pulley, Sheffield signaled for a delayed double steal between Crosslin and Melson, and they executed it to perfection by forcing the Rockets to throw to second which allowed Crosslin to score, and Melson to slide safely into second.

On the ensuing pitch to Pulley, he placed a bunt down the first baseline, and after a collision at first base, Melson slid into home to score and Pulley was called safe at first.

"I knew we didn't have a big enough lead. A two or three run lead against those guys isn't safe. They can swing it well, one through nine, and even some off the bench," Sheffield said. "I wanted to make sure that anyone that got on base, we made sure to get that run across. That's a tough team over there, so we needed as much as we could get."

The 7-AA title came in Sheffield's first season in charge of the Cascade baseball program, but it was a long and bumpy road to get to the championship game.

"At the start of the season, we were trying to get a feel for each other with me being a brand new coach and some new players coming in. We wanted to establish who we were, and some lumps came along the way," Sheffield said. "When I saw who we had as a staff, some former Champions, I knew those guys were going to bring some passion to the program. It's been great having those guys together this season. To see where we've come from and see these guys believe in themselves has been a joy."

With the win, the Champions will host the first round of the region tournament against the 8-AA runner-up while the Rockets will travel to the 8-AA champion with both games being on Friday at 6 p.m.

And Burkett and the Rockets are hoping for another shot with the Champions down the road.

"We feel confident going into it with the experience we have. Our bullpen will be reset and the lineup will be rested, so we'll be ready to go make some noise," Burkett said. "If we get the chance to see Cascade again, that would be awesome. We would love to have another crack at them, especially in postseason play."

Public Notice

Tennessee Department of Environment and Conservation (TDEC)

Division of Water Resources (DWR)

Notice Requesting Public Comments on Draft

Permit Actions

FILE # NRS22.294

The purpose of this notice is to advise the public of the following proposed permit action and solicit comments and information necessary to evaluate the potential impact of the proposed activities on the aquatic environment.

Pursuant to The Tennessee Water Quality Control Act of 1977, T.C.A. §69-3-108 and Tennessee Rules, Chapter 0400-40-07, the proposed activity described below has been submitted for approval under an Aquatic Resource Alteration Permit and Section 401 Water Quality Certification. Section 401 of the Clean Water Act requires that an applicant obtain a water quality certification from the state when a federal permit is required. This notice is intended to inform interested parties of this permit application and draft permit and rationale, and to ask for comments and information necessary to determine possible impacts to water quality. At the conclusion of the public notice period a final determination will be made whether to issue or deny the permit.

PERMIT COORDINATOR

APPLICANT:

Greg Sachs, Owner The Tennessean Truck Stop LLC
3686 Pulaski Highway, Cornersville, TN 37047
(312) 543-4440

LOCATION:

Highway 46 South, Cornersville, Marshall County
35.311268, -86.879750

To view the proposed location of these impacts and the watershed condition, visit the Division's map viewer at <http://tdeconline.tn.gov/dwr/> and search on the permit number or coordinates listed in this Public Notice.

PROJECT DESCRIPTION/PURPOSE

Fill 0.05 acres of wetland for parking lot expansion. Approximately 0.27 acres of the wetland were impacted prior to the issuance of the permit. The applicant shall compensate for this unauthorized impact under a Notice of Violation (NOV).

The Tennessean Truck Stop, LLC, is proposing to rebuild a new Tennessean Truck Stop venue in Cornersville, Marshall County. The Truck stop will be located off I-65 at exit 22 on an approximately 14 acre site. The development will include expansion of the parking lot to accommodate several additional commercial ventures. The proposed development will fill a total of 0.32 acres of low resource value wetland to achieve the project purpose.

Compensatory wetland mitigation for the impacts authorized by this permit will be purchase of 0.2 acres of credit from the Sequatchie Valley Wetland Mitigation Bank. Compensatory mitigation for the unauthorized impacts is purchase of 1.11 acres of credit from the Sequatchie Valley Wetland Mitigation Bank.

ANTIDEGRADATION STATEMENT

In accordance with the Tennessee Antidegradation Statement (Rule 0400-40-03-.06), the Division has made a preliminary determination that the proposed activities will result in greater than de minimis degradation of waters with available parameters. Any appreciable permanent loss of resource value associated with the proposed impact is proposed to be offset by sufficient mitigation to result in no overall net loss of resource value. Pursuant to Antidegradation Statement, in waters with available parameters for habitat, an activity that would cause degradation of habitat above the level of de minimis will only be authorized if applicant has demonstrated to the Department that there are no practicable alternatives to prevent or lessen degradation associated with the proposed activity and the degradation is necessary to accommodate important economic or social development in the area and will not violate the water quality criteria for uses existing in the receiving waters.

For more information, please reference Tennessee's Antidegradation Statement which is found in Chapter 0400-40-03 of the Rules of the Tennessee Department of Environment and Conservation.

FACTORS CONSIDERED

In deciding whether to issue or deny this permit, the Division will consider all comments of record and the requirements of applicable federal and state laws. The division will consider the nature, scale, and effects of proposed impacts. The Division will consider practicable alternatives to the alteration, loss of waters or habitat, diminishment in biological diversity, cumulative or secondary impacts to the water resource, and adverse impacts to unique, high quality, or impaired waters.

HOW TO COMMENT

TDEC is requesting public comment on this proposed permit action. Obtaining a broad range of facts and opinions on Agency actions is one of the best ways to ensure appropriate decisions. Persons wishing to comment on the proposal are invited to submit written comments to the Division. Written comments must be received within thirty days following distribution of the approved public notice materials (including signage and newspaper ad). Comments will become part of the record and will be considered in the final decision. The applicant's name and permit number should be referenced. Send all written comments to the Division's address listed below to the attention of the permit coordinator. You may also comment via email to water.permits@tn.gov.

After the Division makes a final permit determination, a permit appeal may be filed by the applicant or by any person who participated in the public comment period whose appeal is based on comments given to the Division in writing during the public comment period or in testimony at a formal public hearing. If it is hard for you to read, speak, or understand English, TDEC may be able to provide translation or interpretation services free of charge. Please contact Brian Canada at 615-532-0660 or Brian.Canada@tn.gov for more information.

Si le resulta difícil leer, hablar o comprender inglés, TDEC puede proporcionarle servicios de traducción o interpretación sin cargo comunicándose con Brian Canada al 615-532-0660 o Brian.Canada@tn.gov.

FILE REVIEW

The permit application, supporting documentation, including detailed plans and maps, draft permit and rationale, and related comments are available for review on the internet at the Division's data viewer at [Report on Permits \(tn.gov\)::::](http://Report on Permits (tn.gov)::::) by entering the permit file number listed in the title of this Public Notice. at which time and place they will be publicly opened and read.

PROJECT DESCRIPTION:

This project consists of removal of the existing roof system and installation of a new TPO roof system. The estimated time allowed for completion of the work will be 180 calendar days from date of Notice to Proceed.

A cashier's check or bid bond payable to MARSHALL COUNTY SCHOOLS in an amount not less than five (5) percent of the amount of the bid, but in no event more than $10,000, must accompany the bidder's proposal. Performance and Payment Bonds and evidence of insurance required in the bid documents will be required at the signing of the Contract.

Bids must be submitted on proposal forms furnished by the Architect or copies thereof. All bidders bidding in amounts exceeding that established by the State of Tennessee Licensing Board for General Contractors must be licensed under those provisions and other requirements as set forth by the State of Tennessee and must show evidence of license before bidding or bid will not be received or considered by the Architect. The bidder shall show such evidence by clearly displaying his or her current license number on the outside of the sealed envelope in which the proposal is delivered. The Owner reserves the right to reject any or all proposals and to waive technical errors if, in the Owner's judgment, the best interests of the Owner will thereby be promoted. The successful bidder will provide proof of enrollment in the Federal E-Verify Program and in compliance with all mandates by the State of Tennessee and the Davis-Bacon Act.

PRE-QUALIFICATION PROCEDURE:

Only general contractors who have been approved to bid pursuant to pre-qualification procedures and criteria established by the Owner will be eligible to bid for the Project. Any person or firm wishing to apply for pre-qualification may obtain a copy of the Owner's Prequalification Application Requirements from the Architect. Applications for pre-qualification must be received by the Architect by 12:00 PM CT, May 23rd, 2023, after which no further applications will be considered. The Owner will complete the pre-qualification process and name the general contractors who are approved to bid the Project by 5:00 PM CT, May 24th, 2023. The Owner reserves the right to modify or abandon this pre-qualification process at any time prior to its completion should the interests of the Owner appear to be promoted thereby.

Pre-qualified bidders may obtain Bid Documents from the Architect. Upon request, documents will be available to be viewed online. Drawings and specifications may be examined at the office of the Architect.

A Mandatory Pre-Bid Conference will be held at the project site. The time and date will be announced to the pre-qualified General Contractors at the time of bid document distribution. Attendance is MANDATORY for all pre-qualified General Contractor bidders.

Rockets crush Grundy Co. in postseason opener

By Chris Siers

CHAPEL HILL — All season long, the Forrest Rockets have had their way with the other District 7-AA teams.

Not much changed in Thursday night's tournament opener against Grundy County.

The Rockets got a strong outing from Luke Allen and scored in every inning in the 11-1 run-ruled final score.

Allen had to work around a first-inning jam, but was able to retire the side and prevent a run from scoring.

In the bottom of the inning, Tyler Baxter, Riley Durbin and Preston Gentry all drew walks to lead off the inning and then Kason Fuller stepped to the plate.

Fuller crushed a line drive double to deep left field, scoring Durbin and Gentry.

He eventually scored on an error.

After plating two in the second and one in the third, the Rockets got the offense going again in the fourth with a RBI single by Gentry.

Carter Walk then drew a bases-loaded walk to drive in a second run of the inning before Gentry scored on an error at first base.

Ryan Meglis ground into a fielder's choice in and plated a fourth run of the inning, giving Forrest a 10-1 lead.

Gentry came through again in the bottom of the fifth inning with a walk-off RBI double to reach the 10-run rule limit.

Gentry and Fuller each drove home two runs in the win and both also doubled to lead the Rockets at the plate.

Allen went four innings and gave up one unearned run on two hits while striking out two.

Fuller worked the final inning in relief and didn't give up a hit, while recording a strikeout.

Rockets advance to 6-A title game with dominant win

By Will Carter

CHAPEL HILL — In the opening round of the District 6-A tournament, the Forrest Rockets got off to a hot start with three goals in the first five minutes of the game, and didn't let up as they cruised to a 9-0 mercy rule victory over the Cannon County Lions on Tuesday night to advance to the 6-A championship game.

Forrest controlled possession throughout the game by applying heavy pressure and passing to open teammates which led to 27 total shots and six first-half goals.

"It feels awesome to be playing in the championship game," Rockets head coach Tony Johnson said. "Since I've been here, Forrest hasn't had the greatest soccer team. So, we've been preaching to these guys all year that this is their chance to make history. They'll be ready to play on Thursday."

Senior Jamie McDaniel opened the scoring with a goal in the first two minutes of the game, and Hugo Pessler added another just a minute later after recovering a corner kick outside the box.

Two minutes later, Chris Davis broke free on a pass from Pessler, and beat Cannon County's keeper for a goal and a 3-0 lead.

Pessler accounted for two goals and one assist on Tuesday night.

Forrest added three more goals before the end of the first half with freshmen Izaiah Haacke and Isaac Vire netting one each, and junior Gavin Grissom scoring one of his own for a 6-0 advantage at halftime.

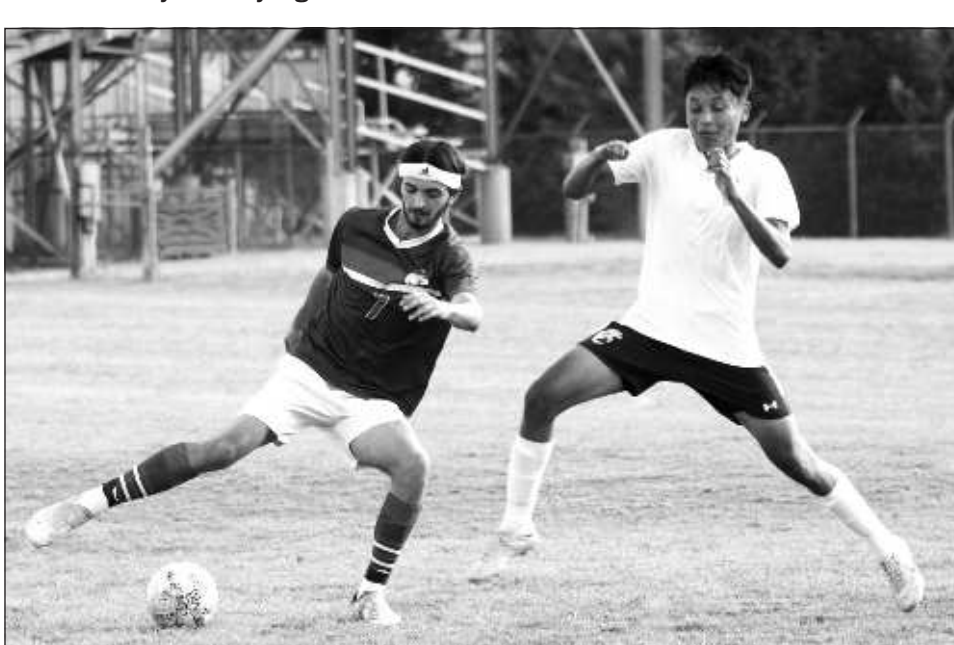

It was much of the same for the Rockets in the second half as they dominated possession to create plenty of chances at goals.

Forrest senior Collin McMillan makes a shifty move to get by his defender in the first half of Tuesday night's opening round.

the second half, Forrest took a 7-0 lead after the ball deflected off a Cannon County defender and landed in the back of the net for a Lions' own goal.

A minute later, Pessler struck for his second goal of the game by navigating through the defense and finding a crease inside the six-yard box to make it 8-0 for the Rockets.

While Forrest played strong defense throughout the contest, the Lions gave them a scare in the final 15 minutes as they sent a shot towards goal, but keeper Josh Rumley was able to snag it off the backline to preserve the shutout.

Shortly after, senior Jeffrey Gaskin went streaking down the middle of the field after the Rockets' stole possession from the Lions, and he played a perfect pass to Vire who scored the final goal of the game to make it a 9-0 finish.

"This was a really good win," Johnson said. "We came out and hustled and played our best game. We've been working on some things over the last week at practice, and our guys came out and executed."

With the huge postseason win, the Rockets aren't short on confidence heading into the district final.

"Our confidence is pretty high right now, especially after winning 9-0 in the first round tonight. Hopefully we can carry this over," Johnson said.

Cannon Co. 0 0 — 0
Forrest 6 3 — 9

Forrest: Jamie McDaniel (38:00 first half), Hugo Pessler 2 (37:00 first half, 24:00 second half), Chris Davis (35:00 first half), Izaiah Haacke (23:00 first half), Gavin Grissom (16:00 first half), Isaac Vire 2 (10:00 first half, 12:00 second half).

Witness: Araiza was not present at time of alleged rape

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Former Buffalo Bills punter Matt Araiza was not present when an alleged gang rape of a minor occurred at an October 2021 party in San Diego nor was he visible in videos recovered after the incident, which led to a police investigation and a lawsuit by the woman who said she was attacked, according to witness testimony.

The testimony was included in evidence that prompted the San Diego District Attorney to not press criminal charges against Araiza last year.

ESPN obtained and reviewed audio from a Dec. 7, 2022, meeting during which the details were discussed. The meeting was attended by San Diego deputy district attorney Trisha Amador and the woman, as well as the woman's attorney, district attorney investigator Ted Mansour and a selected victim advocate.

The purpose of the meeting was largely for Amador to explain why criminal charges could not be filed and answer questions after the San Diego Police Department concluded its investigation in August 2022.

Amador told the woman Araiza left the off-campus party about an hour before the time of the reported rape, according to a witness. Amador said Araiza is "alleged to have left the party at 12:30" and was not "even at the party anymore" when the alleged rape occurred at 1:30 a.m. Pacific, according to video time stamps of the encounter.

Amador also told the woman that nobody outside of her office, including the witness who testified to Araiza's departure from the party, knows about the specific time stamps of the videos recovered from the party.

The Bills released Araiza in August, just days after the woman filed her lawsuit. The accuser alleged in the suit that Araiza, then 21, had sex with her in a side yard at an off-campus residence before bringing her into a bedroom where a group of men took turns raping her. She said she went in and out of consciousness as the men assaulted her for about 90 minutes.

The woman, who was 17 at the time, reported the alleged rape the following day to the San Diego Police Department, which investigated the allegations for nine months before turning over its investigation to prosecutors on Aug. 5, 2022.

The district attorney's office also was unable to prove that there was awareness of her age or her intoxication level. At least two witnesses at the party allegedly heard the girl say she was 18, while others said they didn't recall her age coming up.

"The DA's Sex Crimes and Human Trafficking Division has a team of Deputy District Attorneys, District Attorney Investigators, and Victim Advocates who are trained on how to be trauma-informed when interacting with victims," Tanya Sierra, assistant director of communications for the San Diego County District Attorney's Office, said in a statement. "It's a priority for our office that we treat victims with dignity, respect, courtesy, and sensitivity."

"Even in instances where we cannot file charges because we cannot prove a crime beyond a reasonable doubt, we reach out to the victims so they can meet with us so we can explain why the case cannot be filed and answer their questions."

Araiza was nicknamed the "Punt God" and honored as a consensus All-American for his booming kicks that helped San Diego State to a school-best 12-2 season in his senior year. He was selected by the Bills in the sixth round of the 2022 NFL draft.

Ross Chastain isn't making many friends on the circuit as his aggressive style of racing has rubbed several drivers the wrong way.

'Sick of him': Chastain drawing ire of fellow NASCAR drivers

By DAVE SKRETTA
AP Sports Writer

KANSAS CITY, Kan. — Ross Chastain used to be known primarily as the driver with the family roots in watermelon farming, and whose victory lane celebrations usually involved standing on the roof of his car and smashing a melon to pieces on the pavement.

Now, he's becoming known for an aggressive driving style that is repeatedly rubbing others the wrong way.

The latest incident came Sunday at Kansas Speedway, where Chastain first earned a torrent of expletives over the radio from Kyle Busch, then squeezed Noah Gragson into the wall with about 60 laps to go. The latter dust-up led to a wild scene on pit road, where Chastain threw a haymaker at Gragson and the two had to be pulled apart by security.

"I'm sick and tired of it," Gragson said afterward, while dropping a few expletives of his own. "The guy runs into everyone. When you have guys like Chase Elliott and other guys telling you to beat his ass, everyone is just sick of him."

The incident came six days after the NASCAR Cup Series ran its rain-delayed race at Dover, and Chastain got into the back of Brennan Poole, sending him up the track and taking Kyle Larson out of the race in the process.

Larson vented over his radio about Chastain while Poole was more pointed in his criticism during a televised interview.

"I haven't really seen the replay, but it felt like I just got ran over really for no reason 80 laps into the race," he said. "Doesn't make any sense to me. I guess that's something he's been known to do here recently. Probably needs to get his butt whooped."

Last month, Denny Hamlin had a $50,000 fine and 25-point penalty upheld after he acknowledged on his weekly podcast that he intentionally wrecked Chastain on the last lap of the Phoenix race in March.

"I got no respect from him," said Hamlin, who won Sunday's race at Kansas, "so I chose not to give him any."

Chastain, who was fifth at Kansas and leads the NASCAR Cup Series points standings, was even criticized by Hall of Famer Rusty Wallace, who was a guest analyst on the Fox broadcast at Dover: "He's got a steering wheel in his hand and a brake and a gas (pedal) at his feet. He could have controlled that a little better. That was a little too aggressive, in my opinion."

Back in Wallace's day, it wouldn't have taken long for someone to retaliate. Dale Earnhardt had a reputation for policing the way drivers acted on the track, and many others from NASCAR's heyday did the same thing.

Yet the furor also begs the question: Is Chastain exactly what NASCAR needs these days?

The series has struggled to attract audiences, and sections of empty seats at Kansas Speedway on a bright, sunny Sunday were the latest evidence of it. Many drivers have told The Associated Press that one of the series' problems is the lack of identifiable stars in the Cup Series.

Perhaps Chastain can embrace the role of the villain. There's a fine line to walk between creating drama and creating havoc, though.

Take the incident with Busch on Sunday. Chastain was racing him hard shortly before Busch crashed out of the race — Chastain had nothing to do with that — and the two-time series champion often regarded as something of a villain himself lit into him over the radio.

"He's pissed because I'm pissed that he races like an (expletive)," Busch told his team, "and so I doored him twice down the backstretch like, 'This is your warning, boy.'"

Apparently the warning wasn't heeded. Or at least, not where Gragson was concerned.

"Just got fenced by him," Gragson said in explaining their pit-road altercation. "Nobody else has the balls to at least confront him, at least just grab him and do something. He's going to keep doing it. I'm over it. I'm ready to fight him. I didn't even get a shot in because the security guards got in the middle of it."

Chastain acknowledged racing Gragson hard and defended the swipe he took on pit road.

"Noah and I have a very similar attitude on the race-track, and we train together, we prepare together, we know every little bit about each other," Chastain said. "Definitely crowded him up off of four, and he took a swipe at us in three, and then he came down and grabbed ahold of me, and a very big man once told me we have a no-push policy here at Trackhouse."

That policy will surely be tested in the coming weeks.

Hamlin will put the millions raised into his charity

By THALIA BEATY
Associated Press

NEW YORK — Buffalo Bills safety Damar Hamlin will use the $10 million given to online fundraising campaigns by well-wishers after his on-field collapse to fund his own nonprofit, the Chasing M's Foundation.

The decision, first shared with The Associated Press Monday, begins the 25-year-old's plan for the unprecedented outpouring of support that he received after his heart stopped following a tackle during a "Monday Night Football" game in January.

"We have been very deliberate and intentional about taking our time to set my charity up properly," Hamlin said in a statement. "I'm excited to begin sharing news about programs we are creating to impact a generation of youth and give back to others."

That people continue to give weekly, if not daily, to the fundraiser is just one measure of the emotional power and connection that Hamlin has with so many. So far, they've given more than $9 million to a GoFundMe campaign and nearly a million to a second online fundraiser set up by The Giving Back Fund, a nonprofit which helps athletes and celebrities manage their charitable giving, according to Kelley Denny, a spokesperson for Hamlin's charity.

Hamlin's marketing representative said in January that his family had arranged for The Giving Back Fund to act as a fiscal sponsor for the funds given to GoFundMe, which allowed Hamlin's team to fundraise as a charitable entity. At the time, Hamlin's team said the millions given to the GoFundMe would eventually be transferred to The Giving Back Fund, but they have not been.

Last week, the news outlet Sportico reported on turmoil within The Giving Back Fund in part sparked by the question of whether gifts to Hamlin's GoFundMe are charitable donations. Marc Pollick, CEO of The Giving Back Fund, disputed the accuracy of Sportico's reporting in a statement and said the organization's leadership "has always operated ethically, appropriately, and legally."

"My charity is not connected to the challenges being faced by the leadership of The Giving Back Fund," Hamlin said in the statement, adding, "Donors will have full tax-exempt status."

Hamlin first started Chasing M's Foundation in May 2020 when he was still a student playing with the University of Pittsburgh and applied last month for retroactive tax-exempt status, according to Denny. It was incorporated as a nonprofit in Pennsylvania.

Experts say the question of whether the donors can claim a tax deduction for what they gave to the GoFundMe after his injury may depend on decisions by the IRS. Philadelphia attorney Don Kramer, who edits the website Non-profit Issues, said the IRS has the discretion to retroactively recognize Hamlin's nonprofit as tax exempt. That's despite the fact, Kramer said, the cut off for applying for retroactive status is usually 27 months after an organization is founded.

Few donors to Hamlin's GoFundMe will likely have a significant interest in claiming a tax deduction for their gift. Because of changes in the tax law made in 2017, only those who itemize their taxes, around 11% of filers, may claim deductions for charitable contributions.

"I think the public needs to be educated a little bit more on checking whenever they give money and if they really think they're giving it tax deductible," said Lisa Delpy Neirotti, director of sport management programs at George Washington University School of Business. She encouraged GoFundMe to distinguish more clearly between fundraisers that are set up by tax exempt organizations and those that are not.

GoFundMe confirmed that they continue to hold the funds given to Hamlin's campaign and will do so until Hamlin requests that they be transferred. The company also said that fundraisers specify when they benefit charitable organizations.

Records filed with the Pennsylvania Secretary of State show that Hamlin applied on May 1 to update Chasing M's articles of incorporation, including its mission. Chasing M's Foundation will support "the aspirations of youth and community members through sports, education" and other activities and "promote health and safety in sports through CPR & AED training."

Neirotti usually advises athletes to partner with major organizations that are already working on the causes that they care about, instead of starting their own nonprofit. But she said, the windfall of having millions of dollars all at once is unusual.

"With that amount of money, you really could put it into an endowment that will last forever, long beyond his playing days," she said of Hamlin.

Since being released from the hospital, Hamlin has teamed up with the American Heart Association for a campaign to teach a simple version of CPR. He's also met President Joe Biden at the White House and advocated for access to defibrillators in schools with Congressional leaders. In April, Hamlin announced that he wanted to return to playing and has been cleared to practice with the Bills.
