Commission appoints Perryman

By Scott Pearson
Associate Editor

The Marshall County Commission returned to full strength on Monday night.

Commissioners voted to appoint Randy Perryman to the 2nd District seat on the Commission left vacant by the resignation of Joseph Warner.

Mayor Mike Keny said that three residents of the district had submitted letters of interest, with Perryman and Charles Sellars being nominated by a sitting commissioner.

Perryman received 15 out of the 16 possible for the appointment.

The commission voted to appoint Commissioner Nathan Johnson to the vacancy on the county's nominating committee, that had been filled by Warner.

With the fiscal year coming to a close, the agenda was relatively lengthy, with several annual grant applications approved and budget amendments made.

The commission approved the transfer of more than $3.5 million from the school system's fund balance into capital outlay and tech support accounts in order to fund additional security measures at the county's schools. The school budget also added state funds for the Summer Learning Camp as well as additional BEP funds from the state due to higher than expected enrollment for the year.

Two rezoning requests, both moving from agricultural to commercial, were approved. A Rock Crusher Road parcel was rezoned to allow for a wood chipping and wood storage business, and a Nashville Highway parcel switched in order to allow for equipment storage for a local trash hauler.

Commissioners approved a contract with an architectural firm to begin renovation of the former Health Department building. The county plans to refurbish that facility with an eye toward relocating some departments from the current Courthouse Annex.

Budget workshops and public hearings are scheduled for the coming fiscal year, which starts July 1.

The Commission approved the reappointment of Terry Jackson to the Public Utilities Board and of Peggy Burrow to the Board of Equalization.

Another blaze on Brents

Lewisburg was treated to a massive column of dark black smoke on Monday afternoon after a scrap pile at JLH Appliance Recycling on Brents Road caught fire. Lewisburg Fire extinguished the blaze, which started in a pile of debris behind the building, probably due to a discarded capacitor or similar cause. The Office of Emergency Management monitored air quality at the site, which, despite the appearance of the smoke, were all clear. The facility had a similar blaze in the early morning hours of April 20. Lewisburg Fire indicated that discussions had begun with the facility on necessary measures to prevent another occurrence.

Hatchet attack kicks off spree

By Scott Pearson
Associate Editor

Maury County Sheriff's Office deputies arrested a Lewisburg man around 1 p.m. last Thursday after a 24 hour crime spree which began on Bethbirei Road.

Kenneth Sims, 61, is facing multiple charges for a series of alleged crimes, starting Wednesday afternoon on May 17.

Sims' landlord, Doug Doyle, had gone to Sims' residence on Bethbirei Road to give him a ride to a bank in order to cash a check.

According to the Marshall County Sheriff's Office report, Sims told Doyle that he wanted to show him something first, at which point

Sims hit Doyle in the head with a hatchet.

Doyle said that he then ran from Sims, suffering another cut on his side.

Sims then took Doyle's truck and drove off. Doyle was treated at Maury Regional for his injuries.

Warrants were taken out in Marshall County for aggravated assault and theft over $1,000.

Marshall County law enforcement blanketed the county searching for Sims, stopping some vehicles matching the description.

Later in the afternoon, Maury County deputies reported that Sims was on Kedron Road, after carjacking another truck from a resident at gunpoint.

Sims allegedly forced the other man into the truck after handcuffing him.

Initial reports indicated that the hostage was able to escape the vehicle in the area of Exit 46.

No more contact was made with Sims until the next day, when a license plate reading camera alerted police to the stolen truck being driven in Spring Hill.

Officers there performed a felony stop in a theater parking lot without incident.

Sims is facing charges in Maury County as well, including aggravated kidnapping, aggravated burglary, aggravated robbery, carjacking, and aggravated assault.

Deere harvest big bids

By MARK MCGEE
mmcgee@t-g.com

It took a lot of green to buy a green tractor, almost a record amount of cash.

William "Billy" Hopkins was a popular and well-known person in Marshall County, so Emily and Woody Woodruff of Woodruff Realty and Auction Company in Shelbyville expected a big day on May 13, but they got more than they expected.

They knew the John Deere Model 6430 with a loader was a popular model. Emily said they expected it to attract a final bid of between $70,000 and $90,000. The tractor sold new for $81,000 in 2010 at Baker Equipment Company, now Tri-Green Equipment, in Columbia, Tennessee.

Parks and Rec ready for summer

By Scott Pearson
Associate Editor

Memorial Day always marks the unofficial start of summer, symbolized by the opening of the outdoor pool at the Lewisburg Rec Center.

Parks and Recreation Director Cary Whitesell is excited for her department's busiest time of year.

She anticipates being fully staffed for the summer with a bumper crop of lifeguards and seasonal workers, as applications have been up sharply.

The outdoor pool will be open from 11:30 a.m. until 5:30 p.m. on weekdays, 11:30 a.m. to 4:45 p.m. on Saturdays, and 1 p.m. to 4:45 p.m. on Sundays.

The indoor pool features open swimming on weekdays from 7 a.m. until 11 a.m. and on Saturdays from 8 a.m. until noon.

Programs and lap swimming will be held in the evenings after the outdoor pool has closed.

Summer passes are available now. The outdoor pool will be open until July 30.

The pools are not the only attraction at the Rec Center either.

Whitesell said that play at the golf course has been booming, with

A crowd of approximately 160 people braved rainy weather for an auction that featured a prized John Deere Model 6430 tractor and loader.

Tractor

he had maintained it inside and out.

"The Sullivan brothers (Jeff & John) consulted with the Hopkins family. With their knowledge of equipment and their years of experience they were able to recognize the value of the tractor and high demand for an item such as this making the auction such a success."

"When it got to $114,500, we were super surprised," Emily said. "I didn't realize at the time it was the second highest amount paid in the country for a 6430 model."

"It was all about the condition it was in. The Sullivan Brothers with J & J Detail cleaned it up as if it was their own and it looked like it was brand new."

It was the highest amount of any vehicle sold by Woodruff Realty and Auction which has been in existence for more than 10 years.

According to "Pete's Machinery Talk" website, it is the second highest price ever paid for a John Deere 6430 tractor with a loader. The tractor had 1,345 hours of use. The website listed a 2011 model with 1,461 hours as the record holder at $123,000. It was sold Aug. 18, 2022, in Prescott, Iowa. Third place is a 2009 model with 988 hours sold July 8, 2021, in Sleepy Eye, Minnesota for $114,000. All three were listed in excellent condition.

There was so much interest in the tractor that the staff at the auction stayed on the phone with bidders as well as watching those in the crowd.

"We had a guy from Knoxville," Emily said. "I was on the line with a man from Union Springs, Alabama. We had someone working the Internet so people could bid. There was so much interest due to the shortage and wait times on getting new equipment."

Once the bidding passed the $100,000 barrier there was a brief lull in the bidding.

"The last little bit it kind of stalled at $105,00 to $110,00 and then another buyer stepped in late, and it went from there," Emily said. "There were a lot of local people bidding. The successful buyer was from Cullman, Alabama and he was in the audience."

The sale attracted 167 registered bidders despite rain most of the day. She said typically their auctions attract 50 to 100 bidders.

"It was a huge sale over there," Emily said. "He had farmed there for over 50 years."

He was a lifelong member of the community and was very well-respected.

"It couldn't have been a worse day for an auction, due to the weather conditions. However, we are so thankful for a great turn out and the success for the Hopkins Family."

One of the outdoor courts is also lined for Pickleball too.

Whitesell said she is grateful to city government for their support and for the strong turnout from volunteers this year.

Volunteers from Talos, as part of the company's commitment to community service, are working to revitalize the Exploration Station playground at the Rec Center and taking time for other projects like power washing.

It was also a volunteer from Talos who realized that the source of the recurring heater issues for the indoor pool was due to design flaw in the original structure, not providing a large enough heater to handle the volume of water to be heated. Once understood, the department made the necessary structural changes to accommodate a higher capacity heater.

Whitesell said that she is especially grateful to the long-term employees of the department who have persevered over the last few years.

"We are a team and a family," she said.

See what baby names were the most popular last year

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dutton and Wrenlee are on the rise but they're no match for champs Liam and Olivia as the top baby names in the U.S. last year.

The Social Security Administration released the annual list Friday. The agency tracks baby names in each state based on applications for Social Security cards, with names dating to 1880.

It's Liam's sixth straight year as No. 1. Olivia has reigned since the name unseated Emma four years ago. Emma is No. 2.

Coming in third for girls' names is Charlotte, followed by Amelia, Sophia, Isabella, Ava, Mia, Evelyn and Luna. For boys' names, Liam is followed by Noah, Oliver, James, Elijah, William, Henry, Lucas, Benjamin and Theodore.

Luna is the only newcomer in the Top 10, booting Harper.

The agency has been compiling the list since 1997, often revealing the impact pop culture has on baby naming trends. The smash hit "Yellowstone" has clearly influenced new parents. The neo-Western starring Kevin Costner debuted in 2018, with characters surfacing among baby names ever since.

Dutton moved up the Social Security list to 835, a change of 986 spots from 2021. It's the last name of the fictional family featured on the series, and it counts Costner's John Dutton in its ranks. Dutton is the fastest rising name in the Social Security rankings.

Another Dutton name follows actual Dutton as a star with a bullet among baby names. Kayce, as in Kayce John Dutton on the show, moved to the 587th most popular name, up from 1,077 the year before. Luke Grimes plays Kayce.

Rip, also from "Yellowstone," has grabbed some naming attention, but it didn't crack Social Security's top 1,000. Cole Hauser's Rip Wheeler is Dutton adjacent as the son-in-law of John.

Other names rising fast for boys: Chosen, Khaza, Eithan. For girls, Wrenlee is followed by Neriah, Arlet, Georgina and Amiri.

The Social Security Administration's latest data shows 3.64 million babies in the U.S. were issued Social Security cards last year, up slightly from 2021.

Are you a drive-in theater enthusiast?

By Danny Tyree

I still remember one of the houses that my parents ALMOST bought back in 1970.

The domicile was memorable because it was right next door to the Hi-Way 50 Drive-in Theater and filled my young mind with impractical day-dreams of watching free movies from across the fence. Impractical, because (a) I couldn't lip-read and (b) my allowance didn't allow for enough string to run between a speaker and a tin can.

Seven years later, my father did take me to the same drive-in to watch "Star Wars." And I drove myself to watch " Raiders of the Lost Ark" all by my lonesome. I eagerly anticipate watching the upcoming Indiana Jones film about the Dial of Destiny, but I'll admit it may trigger flashbacks. For me back in 1981, the Dial of Destiny involved a rotary phone and meekly mumbling, "Oh, well, if I was the last man on earth, could we at least be friends? Wait - don't roll a boulder at me!"

In 2023, drive-in theaters (including the Hi-Way 50) are gamely hanging on. But barely more than 300 remain in the entire United States (compared to the peak of 4,000 in the late Fifties).

Drive-ins were a ubiquitous slice of Americana in the Truman and Eisenhower eras. I've heard tales of my late uncle participating in the widespread practice of sneaking into "the picture show" in the trunk of a friend's car. (Think "prequel to sharing Netflix passwords.") Of course, this was not a particularly healthy stunt, because the capacious trunks of those old vehicles had room enough for that bad influence the Marlboro Man - and his horse.

Drive-ins were a great summertime getaway from all the "when in the course of human events" and "conceived in liberty" blather from school, although they did generate a plethora of too-much-information "conceived in a Chevy van" anecdotes over the years.

Various factors contributed to the decline in the number of drive-ins. These included the wastefulness of using valuable real estate only part of the year, the explosion of cable TV, the shopping mall craze and the exorbitant cost of modernizing projectors. (And the nation's political junkies inevitably bicker, "It was Trump's fault!" "It was Obama's fault!" "I say it was Tippecanoe and Tyler Too's fault!")

After years of misgivings about inappropriate content, short attention span and drowsiness, my wife and I finally took our son Gideon to the drive-in for the first time on June 14, 2014, to see "How to Train Your Dragon 2." They really need a movie titled "How to Train Your Bladder 2 Wait Until Intermission."

Another memorable occasion was September 4, 2016. We watched "Pete's Dragon" and "Finding Dory," and I even witnessed a shooting star. There's something transcendent about watching cinema under the stars. Ideally, it should inspire you to "reach for the stars," but most of us settle for reaching for the tub of buttered popcorn. ("Pete's Dragon tried to take the tub away from me! No, wait - that was a mosquito.")

I hope this week's column has inspired you to travel however far necessary to foster a sense of community, carry on a time-honored tradition and create priceless family memories.

Heck, I just hope my new way of submitting columns to the syndicate is successful. See, I've been saving up my string and tin can money for 53 years and...

Marshall County Board of Public Utilities Water Quality Report 2022

Is my drinking water safe?

Yes, our water meets all of EPA's health standards. We have conducted numerous tests for over 80 contaminants that may be in drinking water. As you'll see in the chart on the back, we only detected 9 of these contaminants. We found all of these contaminants at safe levels.

What is the source of my water?

Your water, which is surface water, comes from the Duck River. Our goal is to protect our water from contaminants, and we are working with the State to determine the vulnerability of our water source to potential contamination. The Tennessee Department of Environment and Conservation (TDEC) has prepared a Source Water Assessment Program (SWAP) Report for the untreated water sources serving this water system. The SWAP Report assesses the susceptibility of untreated water sources to potential contamination. To ensure safe drinking water, all public water systems treat and routinely test their water. Water sources have been rated as reasonably susceptible, moderately susceptible or slightly susceptible based on geologic factors and human activities in the vicinity of the water source. The Lewisburg Water System sources rated as reasonably susceptible to potential contamination.

An explanation of Tennessee's Source Water Assessment Program, the Source Water Assessment summaries, susceptibility scores and the overall TDEC report to EPA can be viewed online at <https://www.tn.gov/environment/program-areas/wr-water-resources/water-quality/source-water-assessment.html> or you may contact the Water System to obtain copies of specific assessments.

Why are there contaminants in my water?

Drinking water, including bottled water, may reasonably be expected to contain at least small amounts of some contaminants. The presence of contaminants does not necessarily indicate that water poses a health risk. More information about contaminants and potential health effects can be obtained by calling the Environmental Protection Agency's Safe Drinking Water Hotline (800-426-4791).

Este informe contiene informacion muy importante. Traduscalo o hable con alguien que lo entienda bien.

For more information about your drinking water, please call Tim Farlow at 931-359-6905.

How can I get involved?

Our Water Board meets on the third Tuesday each month at the Utility Office at 9:00 AM. Please feel free to participate in these meetings.

Is our water system meeting other rules that govern our operations?

The State and EPA require us to test and report on our water on a regular basis to ensure its safety. We have met all of these requirements. Results of unregulated contaminant analysis are available upon request. We want you to know that we pay attention to all the rules.

Other information

The sources of drinking water (both tap water and bottled water) include rivers, lakes, streams, ponds, reservoirs, springs, and wells. As water travels over the surface of the land or through the ground, it dissolves naturally occurring minerals and, in some cases, radioactive material, and can pick up substances resulting from the presence of animals or from human activity. Contaminants that may be present in source water:

- Microbial contaminants, such as viruses and bacteria, which may come from sewage treatment plants, septic systems, agricultural livestock operations, and wildlife.
- Inorganic contaminants, such as salts and metals, which can be naturally-occurring or result from urban stormwater runoff, industrial, or domestic wastewater discharges, oil and gas production, mining, or farming.

• Pesticides and herbicides, which may come from a variety of sources such as agriculture, urban stormwater runoff, and residential uses.

• Organic chemical contaminants, including synthetic and volatile organic chemicals, which are by-products of industrial processes and petroleum production, and can also come from gas stations, urban stormwater runoff, and septic systems.

• Radioactive contaminants, which can be naturally-occurring or be the result of oil and gas production and mining activities.

In order to ensure that tap water is safe to drink, EPA and the Tennessee Department of Environment and Conservation prescribe regulations which limit the amount of certain contaminants in water provided by public water systems. Lewisburg's water treatment processes are designed to reduce any such substances to levels well below any health concern. FDA regulations establish limits for contaminants in bottled water which must provide the same protection for public health.

Do I Need To Take Special Precautions?

Some people may be more vulnerable to contaminants in drinking water than the general population. Immuno-compromised persons such as persons with cancer undergoing chemotherapy, persons who have under-gone organ transplants, people with HIV/AIDS or other immune system disorders, some elderly, and infants can be particularly at risk from infections. These people should seek advice about not only their drinking water, but food preparation, personal hygiene, and precautions in handling infants and pets from their health care providers. EPA/CDC guidelines on appropriate means to lessen the risk of infection by Cryptosporidium and other microbiological contaminants are available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline (800-426-4791).

Lead in Drinking Water

If present, elevated levels of lead can cause serious health problems, especially for pregnant women and young children. Lead in drinking water is primarily from materials and components associated with service lines and home plumbing. Marshall County Board of Public Utilities is responsible for providing high quality drinking water but cannot control the variety of materials used in plumbing components. When your water has been sitting for several hours, you can minimize the potential for lead exposure by flushing your tap for 30 seconds to 2 minutes before using water for drinking or cooking. If you are concerned about lead in your water, you may wish to have your water tested. Information on lead in drinking water, testing methods, and steps you can take to minimize exposure is available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline 800-426-4791 or at <http://www.epa.gov/safewater/lead>

Water System Security

Following the events of September 2001, we realize that our customers are concerned about the security of their drinking water. We urge the public to report any suspicious activities at any utility facilities, including treatment plants, pumping stations, tanks, fire hydrants, etc. to 931-359-6905

Think before you flush!

Flushing unused or expired medicines can be harmful to your drinking water. Properly disposing of unused or expired medication helps protect you and the environment. Keep medications out of Tennessee's waterways by disposing them in one of our permanent pharmaceutical take back bins. There are nearly 100 take back bins located across the state, to find a convenient location please visit: <https://tdec.state.tn.gov/rxtakeback/>

What does this chart mean?

Water Quality Data

- MCLG- Maximum Contaminant Level Goal, or the level of a contaminant in drinking water below which there is no known or expected risk to health. MCLGs allow for a margin of safety.
- MCL- Maximum Contaminant Level, or the highest level of a contaminant that is allowed in drinking water. MCLs are set as close to the MCLGs as feasible using the best available treatment technology. To understand the possible health effects described for many regulated constituents, a person would have to drink 2 liters of water everyday at the MCL level for a lifetime to have a one-in-a-million chance of having the described health effect.
- MRDL: Maximum Residual Disinfectant Level or MRDL: The highest level of a disinfectant allowed in drinking water. There is convincing evidence that addition of a disinfectant is necessary for the control of microbial contaminants.
- MRDLG: Maximum residual disinfectant level goal. The level of a drinking water disinfectant below which there is no known or expected risk to health. MRDLGs do not reflect the benefits of the use of disinfectants to control microbial contaminants.
- AL - Action Level, or the concentration of a contaminant which, when exceeded, triggers treatment or other requirements which a water system must follow.
- Below Detection Level (BDL) - laboratory analysis indicates that the contaminant is not present at a level that can be detected.
- Non-Detects (ND) - Laboratory analysis indicates that the contaminant is not present.
- Parts per million (ppm) or Milligrams per liter (mg/l) - explained as a relation to time and money as one part per million corresponds to one minute in two years or a single penny in $10,000.
- Parts per billion (ppb) or Micrograms per liter - explained as a relation to time and money as one part per billion corresponds to one minute in 2,000 years, or a single penny in $10,000,000.
- Million Fibers per Liter (MFL) - million fibers per liter is a measure of the presence of asbestos fibers that are longer than 10 micrometers.
- Nephelometric Turbidity Unit (NTU) - nephelometric turbidity unit is a measure of the clarity of water. Turbidity in excess of 5 NTU is just noticeable to the average person.
- T/T - Treatment Technique, or a required process intended to reduce the level of a contaminant in drinking water.

¹99.4% of our samples were below the turbidity limit, Turbidity is a measure of the cloudiness of the water, We monitor it because it is a good indicator of the effectiveness of our filtration system, ²During the most recent round of Lead and Copper testing, only 0 out of 32 households sampled contained concentrations exceeding the action level.

³Nitrate in drinking water at levels above 10 ppm is a health risk for infants of less than six months of age High nitrate levels in drinking water can cause blue baby syndrome Nitrate levels may rise quickly for short periods of time because of min fall 01 agricultural activity of you are caring for an infant, you should ask advice from your health care provider.

⁴Infants and young children are typically more vulnerable to lead in drinking water than the general population. It is possible that lead level at your home may be higher than at other homes in the community as a result of materials used in your home's plumbing. If you are concerned about elevated lead levels in your home's water, you may wish to have your water tested and flush your tap for, 30 seconds to 2 minutes before using tap water. Additional information is available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline (1-800-426-4791)

⁵While your drinking water meets EPA's standard for trihalomethanes, it does contain low levels. Some people who drink water containing trihalomethanes in excess of the MCL over many years may experience problems with their liver, kidneys, or central nervous systems, and may have an increased risk of getting cancer.

⁶We have met all treatment technique requirements for Total Organic Carbon removal.

Water Quality Data

Health Effects

Microbiological Contaminants:

Total Coliform. Coliforms are bacteria that are naturally present in the environment and are used as an indicator that other, potentially-harmful, bacteria may be present. Coliforms were found in more samples than allowed and this was a warning of potential problems. Turbidity. Turbidity has no health effects. However, turbidity can interfere with disinfection and provide a medium for microbial growth. Turbidity may indicate the presence of disease-causing organisms. These organisms include bacteria, viruses, and parasites that can cause symptoms such as nausea, cramps, diarrhea, and associated headaches.

Inorganic Contaminants:

Arsenic. Some people who drink water containing arsenic in excess of the MCL over many years could experience skin damage or problems with their circulatory system and may have an increased risk of getting cancer. Asbestos. Some people who drink water containing asbestos in excess of the MCL over many years may have an increased risk of developing benign intestinal polyps. Copper. Copper is an essential nutrient, but some people who drink water containing copper in excess of the action level over a relatively short amount of time could experience gastrointestinal distress. Some people who drink water containing copper in excess of the action level over many years could suffer liver or kidney damage. People with Wilson's Disease should consult their personal doctor.

Fluoride. Some people who drink water containing fluoride in excess of the MCL over many years could get bone disease, including pain and tenderness of the bones. Children may get mottled teeth.

Lead. Infants and children who drink water containing lead in excess of the action level could experience delays in their physical or mental development. Children could show light deficits in attention span and learning abilities. Adults who drink this water over many years could develop kidney problems or high blood pressure. Nitrate. Infants below the age of six months who drink water containing nitrate in excess of the MCL could be seriously ill and, if untreated, may die. Symptoms include shortness of breath and blue-baby syndrome.

Synthetic organic contaminants including pesticides and herbicides:

2,4-D. Some people who drink water containing the weed killer 2,4-D in excess of the MCL over many years could experience problems with their kidneys, liver, or adrenal glands.

Atrazine. Some people who drink water containing atrazine in excess of the MCL over many years could experience problems with their cardiovascular system or reproductive difficulties.

Simazine. Some people who drink water containing simazine in excess of the MCL over many years could experience problems with their blood.

Volatile Organic Contaminants:

THMs [Total Trihalomethanes]. Some people who drink water containing trihalomethanes in excess of the MCL over many years may experience problems with their liver, kidneys, or central nervous systems, and may have an increased risk of getting cancer.

HAA [Halo acetic Acids]. Some people who drink water containing haloacetic acids in excess of the MCL over many years may have an increased risk of getting cancer.

Coliforms are bacteria that are naturally present in the environment and are used as an indicator that other, potentially harmful, waterborne pathogens may be present or that a potential pathway exists through which contamination may enter the drinking water distribution system. We found coliforms indicating the need to look for potential problems in water treatment or distribution. When this occurs, we are required to conduct assessment(s) to identify problems and to correct any problems that were found during these assessments.

The friend of sinners!

"The Son of Man came eating and drinking, and they say, Behold a man gluttonous, and a winebibber, a friend of publicans and sinners..." - Matthew 11:19

One of the greatest sins is that of "misrepresenting" God. Interestingly, that's the very charge that the Pharisees, the religious leaders of Christ's day, brought against Jesus Christ. When Jesus performed His many miracles in public the religious leaders could not explain them away because everyone saw them. Therefore, they claimed that what Jesus did was of the devil (Matthew 12:24). However, the opposite was true. What Jesus Christ taught and did gave evidence to the fact that He brought "grace and truth" (John 1:17), and it was the religious leaders of His day, who were the ones misrepresenting God. Christ boldly said to them, "You are of your father the devil" (John 8:43,44). The evidence to that fact is that they willfully murdered Jesus. Also another great evidence was their attitude toward sinners in their Jewish society.

In our verse, Jesus pointed out that in the false accusations by these religious leaders they actually stumbled upon a truth. The truth that Jesus, the Son of Man, was "a friend of publicans and sinners." This offended these religious leaders because the people also saw Jesus as a master rabbi. So to have Rabbi Jesus befriend such social-outcasts as publicans (tax collectors), thieves, liars, murderers, drunkards, prostitutes, fornicators, and adulterers was an outrage. These religious leaders sought to separate themselves from these kinds of people. However, Christ Jesus came along side of them and even ate with sinners (Matthew 9:10-13). This was way out of bounds for the religionists. They wondered, "Just how far will this Jesus go?" Well, Christ Jesus, the sinless Son of God, went all the way to the cross to die for the self-confessed repentant sinner. "Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends (John 15:13). No matter your background. No matter your skin color. No matter what you have done. No matter what has been done to you. Yes, the Lord Jesus Christ, the Son of God, is the true friend and He knows everything about you. Furthermore, He was still willing to die the sin penalty for the sinner who comes to Him by faith alone.

Dear soul, if you are not a self-confessed sinner then you're not Christ's friend. Understand, those who trust in any part of their goodness do not make it into heaven (Ephesians 2:8,9). The gospel of grace is that the Lord Jesus Christ is a friend of sinners and He is approachable - ready to receive sinners! That means heaven is full of self-confessed sinners who turn from their sins and who turn to the Lord Jesus believing and receiving His blood sacrifice on their behalf for the forgiveness of all their sin-crimes against God. Yes, Jesus Christ is a Greater Savior than you are a sinner - come by simple faith to Christ the friend of sinners for everlasting life.

Lady Rockets' explode over last 2 innings vs. Alcoa in 2-A opener

By Chris Siers
sports@t-g.com

MURFREESBORO — The Forrest Lady Rockets have plenty of recent history with the Alcoa Tornados.

The two teams met last season for the Class 2-A state championship, with Alcoa outlasting Forrest to claim the 2022 championship.

It seems only fitting the two teams would draw each other in the first round of the 2023 state tournament.

On Tuesday afternoon, it was the Lady Rockets getting the upper hand on Alcoa, capitalizing off two big innings to take the state opener, 10-7.

Going into the six-run fifth inning, Forrest coach Shelby Lightfoot

Christa Warren comes up firing after snagging a shot at third base and throws to first for the out.

wanted her team to focus on small ball and putting pressure on the Alcoa defense to make a play. "Going into that inning our adjustment was to swing at pitches in the zone and cut down our swings. Our focus was to make the defense make a play. After the momentum shifted our way we ran with it," Lightfoot said.

Trailing 2-1 entering the fifth, the Lady Rockets took advantage of several Alcoa miscues to put runners on base and with two outs, scored the tying run on a sacrifice bunt by Taylor Moreland.

Abby Ferguson then mashed a two RBI triple and then scored on another Alcoa error to break the game wide open.

Two more Tornado errors set up a fifth Lady Rocket run of the inning before Carli Warner singled home the sixth run of the frame.

By the end of the fifth,

Forrest built a 7-2 lead over Alcoa.

The Tornados got one back off a one-out home run in the top of the second—only to see Forrest get back to work in the bottom of the inning and plate three more runs on an error that scored Parker Wales and a two-RBI single off the bat of senior Macyn Kirby.

While Moreland has been a cornerstone for the Lady Rockets all season long from the pitcher's circle, she had to work around some struggles on Tuesday afternoon.

Even with Moreland not at her sharpest from the circle, the Lady Rocket fireballer was able to do just enough to keep the Alcoa bats from heating up. "She actually struggled today finding the zone. But her ability to get the ball down and mix in her off speed kept the hitters off balanced," Lightfoot said.

She went the distance and gave up three runs on six hits, while striking out two.

Ferguson was the offensive supplier for the Lady Rockets in Game 1 of the state tournament, going 1-for-4, but driving in three runs. Chilton also went 1-for-4 and knocked in a pair of runs for the Lady Rockets.

Heritage outlasts Forrest in marathon 2-A state opener

By Chris Siers
sports@t-g.com

SMYRNA — The standard high school baseball game goes seven innings.

In Tuesday afternoon's Class 2-A state tournament opener between the Forrest and White House Heritage, the game stretched nearly three hours and went 11 innings before the Patriots walked off against the Rockets for the 7-6 win.

Last season, the two teams met in the post-season and it was Heritage, who in similar fashion, knocked the Rockets out of the tournament with an extra-innings walk-off.

"Walk-off fashion in extra innings again—same opponent who put us out last year. It's a pretty bittersweet picture there. But I'm proud of our guys and I'm proud of our resiliency. We fought back from being down 5-1 to get the ball game tied. We had base runners on and executed some good things, we just couldn't get that last hit to drop when we needed it," Rocket coach Andy Burkett said.

The marathon between the Rockets and Patriots saw Heritage grab a 2-1 lead, after Forrest got on the board in the top of the first inning on a sac-fly by Carter Walk, scoring Tyler Baxter.

Heritage rallied for two in the bottom of the inning and that score stood for two innings, until the Patriots connected on a three-run homer to bump the lead to 5-1 by the end of the third.

But if the 2023 Forrest Rockets have proven one thing, it's they're never out of a game.

Branham Haynes got one back for the Rockets when he ground into a double play in the fourth and a second run scored on a Patriot error, cutting the Heritage lead to two.

Another two-run inning tied the game at five in the sixth inning with Haynes again grounding into a fielder's choice, scoring another run and then Tyler Baxter knocked in a fifth Rocket run to tie the game at five.

The rollercoaster back-and-forth between Forrest and Heritage continued into the sixth when the Patriots scored the go-ahead run on a passed ball.

Forrest flashed the leather and worked a double play before forcing a fly out to end the threat in the sixth.

And just as quickly as Heritage struck, the Rockets again answered the bell and tied the game on a Luke Allen sac-fly to tie the game at six.

From there, the game settled into the extra-innings marathon that extended an additional four innings, with neither team being able to consistently string together enough hits to plate another run, until the fateful 11th inning that saw the Patriots connect on four singles, including the one-out, bases-loaded single to walk the game off.

But no matter what, Forrest answered Heritage at every turn. "It's frustrating, but at the same time, I'm extremely proud of them and I'm proud to be able to coach them," Burkett said.

With the state tournament being played out through four days, managing pitch counts becomes one of the biggest components of the long-term strategy.

Forrest saw four pitchers toe the rubber on Tuesday night, but all four were under strict scrutiny for their pitch count limits, which would affect their next outing they can appear.

"We had to kind of play the pitch count game because it's the state tournament," Burkett said.

Durbin got the start and went 3 1/3 innings, giving up five runs on seven hits, before Luke Allen took over and pitched 2 1/3 innings.

He gave up one run on one hit and struck out two.

Carter walk went 2 1/3 innings and gave up just one hit before Preston Gentry took over and pitched an excellent 2 1/3 final innings.

"Hats off to Preston Gentry, who probably only has eight innings on the year for us and just going out there and gutting the rest of it out the rest of the way," Burkett said.

Tyler Baxter led the Rockets, going 5-for-6 on the night.

Rocket keeper Landon Groeneveld dives to make a stop against the Merrol Hyde attack in Saturday's Class A sectional.

Rockets' historic season ends in sectional

HENDERSONVILLE — What's been a remarkable season on the pitch for the Forrest Rockets this season came to an end against perennial state power Merrol Hyde in the Class A state sectional on Saturday afternoon in an 8-1 loss.

"Merrol Hyde is a very good soccer team. Their back line was excellent at reading the ball in the air and playing it so we could not get behind them. They were also excellent at using the width of their field for passing spacing," Rocket coach Jason Ellis said.

After a back and forth battle to open Saturday's sectional, Merrol Hyde jumped on the Rockets with two quick goals nearly 20 minutes into the match.

Forrest was able to get one goal on the board by a penalty kick off the toe of Hugo Pelsser that Damian Hames drew in the box.

But Merrol Hyde was able to close the game and secure its trip to the Class A state tournament.

While Forrest's post-season run ended in the state sectional, the achievements by this club can't be ignored, led by the talented senior class.

"The senior class is a fantastic class. Although they were upset with the outcome I tried to put it in perspective for them. Three years ago, we would have never dreamed of making it this far. Our goal at the beginning of the season was to make it to the district championship. We made it and won it and then made it to the regional championship and then to sectionals. The work they put into the program for the last three years really paid off with the best soccer season in school history. They should hold their heads up and be extremely proud of all that they have accomplished," Ellis said.

Durbin, Walk toss shutouts to advance Rockets back to state tourney

DUNLAP — Backs against the wall, win or go home.

The Forrest Rockets have been in this situation before.

Last year, in the one-game Class 2A sectional against York Institute, the Rockets completed an improbable comeback, rallying from a seven-run deficit and eventually winning on a walk-off in the eighth inning to qualify for the Class 2A state tournament.

Fast forward a year and the Rockets needed every bit of the three games in the new best of three format.

Forrest fell, 3-0, to Sequatchie County in Game 1 of the series, but rebounded with two stellar, shutout pitching performances from Riley Durbin and Carter Walk to sweep the Thursday games and advance to the state tournament for the second-straight year.

Thursday was nothing short of remarkable for Durbin and Walk.

In Game 2 of the series, Durbin got the nod and pitched a complete game shutout, giving up just one hit, while striking out seven.

The Rockets gave Durbin plenty of offense to support him, beginning with a two-run cushion in the bottom of the first inning.

Durbin helped his own cause when he ground into a fielder's choice, but scored Preston Gentry from third.

Ryan Meglis drove in a second run of the inning on a round ball single to left.

Preston Gentry added a third Rocket run in the bottom of the fourth when he scored on a passed ball and then a fourth Forrest run scored on a RBI single off Gentry's bat.

Leading 4-0 and participating as the home team in Game 2, Durbin toed the rubber for the seventh inning and recorded a perfect, 1-2-3 inning, highlighted by two strikeouts to end the game.

Like Durbin in Game 2, Walk toed the rubber for the Rockets in a win-or-go-home Game 3 and delivered the Rockets' second shutout victory of the night in a 2-0 victory.

Walk went the distance for the Rockets and gave up five hits, but preserved the shutout without issuing a single walk.

He also struck out five batters.

All the scoring came in the top of the third inning and when Tyler Baxter led off frame with a walk, Preston Gentry stepped to the plate and drove in the game's first run on a double to center field.

Walk helped his own cause later in the inning with a line drive single to right, scoring Gentry.

Those two runs were the only offense generated in the Game 3 of the sectional series.

The Rockets opened the Class 2-A state tournament on Tuesday against White House Heritage.

CHAPEL HILL — What a difference a week makes.

After losing twice to the Forrest Lady Rockets by a combined score of 18-3 a week ago in the District 7-AA tournament, the Community Viqueens came off the deck in the Region 4-AA championship game with a five-run fourth inning to take charge and used a complete game performance on the mound by Annie Prince along with a stellar errorless defensive effort to beat the Lady Rockets 5-2 and claim the school's first region softball crown.

"I love it. I absolutely love it," Coach Cam Farrell of the Viqueens said. "From the jump they came out with a we're going to win attitude."

From the outset, it was a pitching duel between Prince and Taylor Moreland of the Lady Rockets as the base runners were few and far between through the first three innings.

The Viqueens could only manage two runners and the Lady Rockets just one before Community (19-11-1) exploded in the top of the fourth.

Abi Brown reached base on an error to start the inning which opened the flood gates for the Viqueens.

Consecutive singles by Abby Murrill and Zoey Dixon loaded the bases with no outs.

Carlie Blanton came through with a two-run single to give the Viqueens the lead. After the first out, the singles kept coming as Haley Mitchell and Chloe West followed with RBI-singles to give the Viqueens a 4-0 advantage.

Alana Tate, the ninth batter in the inning, connected on a two-out single to score the final Viqueen run and give Community a 5-0 lead.

The Lady Rockets put a dent in the score with one run in the bottom of the inning. Moreland led off with a double and scored on a wild pitch to cut the Viqueen lead to 5-1.

Forrest (25-11) challenged again in the bottom of the sixth, but the Viqueen defense came up big.

After one out, Moreland and Christa Warren singled, putting runners on first and second.

An Abby Ferguson single to center looked to score a Lady Rocket run, but center fielder Murrill fielded the ball cleanly and threw a strike to the plate to nab the runner for a key out.

A groundout then ended the inning as the Viqueens were unscathed and took their 5-1 lead to the seventh.

A leadoff triple by Maggie Daugherty and a walk to Sarah King put two Lady Rockets on base to start the bottom of the seventh.

After a fly out, a sacrifice fly scored the second Forrest run, but on the play the throw from the outfield gunned down the Lady Rocket runner at third to complete the game and send the championship hardware to Unionville.

Blanton had two safeties to lead the nine-hit Viqueen attack as eight different Community players had hits.

Moreland had two hits to lead the Lady Rockets.

"We're not making the adjustments we need to make," Coach Shelby Lightfoot of the Lady Rockets said. "At the end, we tried to come alive, but we can't wait until the sixth and seventh to try to put in some runs. That's not our ballgame."

"We've got to find a way to put some runs up early," Lightfoot added.

"People say it's so much mental and so much physical and you have to put it together," Farrell said.

"I told them I don't believe that. I believe it is 100% mental."

"Your mind controls your body and controls everything that you do," Farrell added. "Let your mind make your body work and make your body do what it's supposed to do."

Lightfoot had praise for the Viqueens and their winning effort.

"They brought big energy tonight on every single pitch," Lightfoot said. "Their heart, their hustle was behind everything they did."

"We made a few errors and some timely hits back-to-back got us in a hole," Lightfoot added.

Prince pitched after suffering a leg injury in the district tournament.

"She has a warrior's heart," Farrell said. "She is such a competitor. I am so proud of her."

North Wilkesboro 'definitely has a place' in NASCAR's world

By STEVE REED
AP Sports Writer

NORTH WILKESBORO, N.C. —

Speedway Motorsports CEO Marcus Smith said North Wilkesboro Speedway "definitely has a place in the NASCAR world" moving forward, despite an All-Star race that lacked drama Sunday night.

In what capacity remains to be seen.

Smith was non-committal about how North Wilkesboro might fit into NASCAR's schedule moving forward. There are no guaranteed dates on the Cup Series points race schedule and future All-Star sites haven't been determined.

"That question's on my mind as well," Smith said. "I think when you see a successful week of events like we've had here it's natural to think, 'Boy, maybe we can come back here.' So, I'm definitely thinking that way. ... It's definitely something that we're thinking about."

Smith and Hall of Fame driver Dale Earnhardt Jr. spearheaded the effort to bring Cup Series racing back to the .625-mile track, a monumental task considering the dilapidated track sat mostly dormant since Jeff Gordon won the last Cup race there in 1996.

Hosting a Cup points race likely would mean Speedway Motorsports needing to take a race away from one of its existing tracks on the regular NASCAR schedule. It's unclear if Smith would want to do that.

As for another All-Star race, that remains uncertain after the race fell flat in terms of entertainment value. While fans filled the grandstands at North Wilkesboro on Sunday night creating an electric atmosphere, the result was akin to a 51-3 blowout in football.

After successfully hosting the NASCAR All-Star race for the first NASCAR event in 27 years, there's a demand for the North Wilkesboro Speedway to remain an active component of future races.

There was one lead change in 200 laps, and Kyle Larson dominated the race by leading the final 134 laps. At one point, Larson threatened to lap the entire field after taking an 11-second lead over second-place Bubba Wallace before a competition caution tightened the field after lap 100.

There were no wrecks and the few restarts provided no big moves.

About the only drama came after the race when Wallace appeared to make an obscene gesture on camera before a live interview with Fox Sports.

NASCAR spokesman Mike Forde said Monday there are no plans to penalize Wallace after discussing the matter with the 23XI Racing team. However, NASCAR plans to speak with Wallace about not using the gesture.

Representatives for Wallace's 23XI Racing team had no comment.

Tyler Reddick, who finished third, said the lack of competitive racing is more a result of NASCAR's ongoing issues with short track racing rather than a reflection of the North Wilkesboro worthiness as a track.

"It's no secret that everybody in the industry and the fans have been vocal about wanting better short track racing, so I think what happened tonight goes along with what that narrative has been lately," Reddick said.

"NASCAR is working on it and we are all going to put our heads together and try to help make short track racing better."

Reddick said racing should "absolutely" return to North Wilkesboro in some capacity. Larson, who won his third All-Star race, said All-Star venues should vary but he'd like to compete again at North Wilkesboro.

"Really, I just want to see us keep coming back here," Larson said. "I think NASCAR has a lot of roots here, so it deserves a spot on our schedule, whether it be a non-points race or a points race, whatever."

Smith will need to determine whether to repave the old track, something that hasn't been done in nearly four decades. He said Sunday night he's leaning toward not doing that right away.

Larson suggested patching the track in certain spots to make it more conducive to passing. Most of the drivers ran at the bottom of the track where some patchwork had been done leading up to the race.

"I don't think they need to pave the whole thing," Larson said. "But just little patches here and there add character to the track and find grip. ... I think if they can introduce some patches in the middle to upper grooves, I think that'll make the racing better."

Tyler Gibbs wasn't a factor in the All-Star race, but enjoyed the track and wants to return.

"It's pretty special to be here," Gibbs said. "I wasn't alive when they raced here, but it's really cool. It's a worn-out race track, but it's fun. Just kind of looking for patches, looking for grip."

So now the question falls on Smith and NASCAR to determine the track's future.

"I think it's a very important place for short track racing, the late model races, the modifieds, you name it. It's a special place," Smith said. "It's like walking into a museum that is active and living and very special for the competitors and the fans."

Lady Rockets get complete game effort to beat Bledsoe in sectional

By Chris Siers
sports@t-g.com

PIKEVILLE — Lady Rocket coach Shelby Lightfoot wants her team to deliver two of the three parts of the game, whether it's hitting and pitching, pitching and fielding, or hitting and fielding—she feels like any combination gives Forrest a good shot to win the game.

In Friday afternoon's Class 2A state sectional at Bledsoe County (21-1), the Lady Rockets (26-11) delivered in all three phases and punched their ticket to the Class 2A state tournament, with a 9-4 win over the Lady Warriors.

"We felt like we've had this team all year. It's just finding a way for them to show up. We always talk about if we can do two of three parts of the game, whether that's fielding and pitching or pitching and hitting, we just need two out of three. Especially with (Taylor) Moreland coming in and throwing a gem. That was big for us," Lightfoot said.

After both teams slotted a scoreless first inning, it was Forrest who got to work in the top of the second inning with a lead-off double off the bat of Ella Chilton.

Forrest then executed the small ball approach to perfection and loaded the bases with back-to-back bunts, with Carli Warner driving home Chilton for the first run of the game.

Briley Burnham then laid down a sacrifice to score a second Lady Rocket run of the inning, bringing Parker Wales to the plate.

Wales laid into a pitch and slammed the shot to center field, scoring Warner, and then advanced to third on a Bledsoe County error.

The final run of the second inning came with a sac fly from Macyn Kirby,

The Lady Rocket dugout empties and swarms pitcher Taylor Moreland after the final out is recorded, securing Forrest's spot in the upcoming Class 2-A state tournament.

Tribune Photos by Chris Siers giving the Lady Rockets a 4-0 lead.

With a 4-0 lead in hand, the momentum shifted entirely to Forrest's side.

But that momentum shift didn't last long.

Bledsoe County responded with back-to-back solo home runs and then proceeded to load the bases, prompting Lightfoot to turn to Moreland, who relieved Chilton in the pitcher's circle.

Bledsoe County then drew two bases-loaded walks to tie the game at four runs apiece.

After a fly out to right field ended the inning, both teams settled into the game and neither was able to push another run across the plate for the next two innings.

It wasn't until an error at first base by Bledsoe

County that Forrest was able to break the stalemate in the fifth inning when courtesy base runner Maddy Ille scored.

Forrest added to its lead in the sixth with another dollop of small ball by Warner, who laid down another perfectly-executed sacrifice bunt, scoring Maggie Daugherty.

The back-breaker came in a three-run seventh inning that Forrest again put pressure on the Lady Warrior infield to make a play with Kirby safely reaching via error and bunt singles by Moreland and Christa Warren to load the bases.

"We feel like that with every team we play. If we can do some small ball, and execute that and run the bases—we're a very speedy team, so that gives us an advantage," Lightfoot said.

Two batters later, Chilton slugged a two RBI double and then Daugherty added another bunt single, scoring Chilton.

Bledsoe County showed a flicker of life in the bottom of the seventh with a lead-off single by Cyla Swafford, but Moreland slammed the door shut on any comeback attempt with a pair of strikeouts and a 4-3 put out to end the game.

Chilton got the start for the Lady Rockets and after a scoreless first inning, Lightfoot turned to Moreland to carry the Lady Rockets the rest of the way.

Moreland pitched the final 5 1/3 innings and gave up just two hits, while striking out 10 batters.

"Those two (Chilton and Moreland) have really complemented each other. When Taylor's been off, Ella's been on and vice versa. Ella, we just couldn't get her off-speed over, so Taylor coming in, they were very aggressive hitters. Our goal was just to keep them in the ballpark. Using that change-up and her getting that change-up over was big," Lightfoot said.

Friday's game marked the first time this season a team was able to defeat Bledsoe County, who entered the sectional matchup with Forrest with a 21-0 record, a Region 3-A championship and a District 5-AA title as well.

For Forrest, the win puts the Lady Rockets back in the Class 2A state tournament, with their sights set on bringing another state title back to Chapel Hill.

Entering the tournament next week, Lightfoot said it's all about digging deep and getting to the team's heart.

"The biggest thing we keep harping on is not play every play like it's your last, but every pitch. We feel like when our momentum is there, our grit is there and our heart comes alive, because when our heart comes alive, we're hard to beat. That's what we have to show and bring to the field," Lightfoot said.

Forrest began its run in the Class 2-A state tournament on Thursday night.
