Reduce, reuse, recycle, and recognition

SEK Recycling honors founder and president

By Antjea Wolff
Morning Sun Staff

PITTSBURG, Kan. — After 30 years of making an impact on the environment and the community, the SEK Recycling Team and Crawford County Commissioner Jeremy Johnson this week recognized James Triplett for his hard work with a plaque and naming the recycling center after him. On Earth Day in 1990, the Pittsburg State University Biology Department, led by Triplett, and the City of Pittsburg met to discuss the need for recycling in the area in order to save space in landfills. Soon after the meeting, the Citizens for Crawford County, a volunteer group, was formed, and developed a partnership with Dillons to use the grocery store's parking lot to collect recyclables the first Saturday of the month. In July 1990 more than nine tons of glass, plastics, and aluminum were collected. The collections quickly outgrew the Dillons parking lot, and the group had to move to the old Aldi parking lot, which is now part of Home Depot, in 1992. As recycling in the area continued to grow, the Citizens for Crawford County decided to rent the east side of the old Hull and Dillon plant, which is now Radell Construction, at 4th Street and the 69 bypass, in 1996. The group obtained official non-profit status in at the end of 2002 thanks to the efforts of Triplett as president of the organization, newly renamed the SEK Recycling Center. In 2003, the SEK Recycling Center broke ground at its current location at Washington and Joplin streets, and held its grand opening on Earth Day in 2004. "The key is persistence," Triplett said. "Sometimes that's the only way you still end up in business is just plain persistence." Over the years, the SEK Recycling Center faced many challenges, such as when it had a few break-ins and had a safe stolen, a forklift stolen, and once, someone set bales of paper on fire.

SEK Recycling Center (SEKRC) Publicist and Membership Chair Janette Mauk, right, announces to President of SEKRC James Triplett, center, that the building would officially be named after him at SEKRC's annual meeting on Thursday. Jeremy Johnson, left, also presented Triplett with a plaque commemorating his 30 years of work for the organization. ANTJEA WOLFF / THE MORNING SUN

The group also struggled many times to be able to pay their employees and keep the lights on. The recycling center also had to deal with people dumping huge amounts of items in front of the doors before the fence was constructed around the facility. See RECYCLE, Page 8A

Brush fire behind Y

The Pittsburg Fire Department was called to a wooded area behind the YMCA after workers for a tree-trimming company who were cutting branches spotted smoke on Friday afternoon. The fire was extinguished within a couple minutes. A worker from the tree-trimming company said he had seen homeless camps set up in the trees in the area. No injuries were reported. ## Stalled truck stops traffic at 4th and Broadway

As a truck hauling an oversized load attempted to turn south at the intersection of 4th and Broadway early Friday afternoon, the rear multi-axel steer-car located at the back end of the trailer suffered a malfunction and began leaking hydraulic fluid. "Due to this malfunction, the trailer was unable to be further utilized and essentially stalled out the haul on the south side of the intersection of 4th St. and Broadway St.," according to the Pittsburg Police Department. The intersection was temporarily closed to traffic while staff with the transport company worked to get replacement parts to fix the trailer. JONATHAN RILEY / THE MORNING SUN

Potential bomb located in Parsons

Staff Reports
news@morningsun.net

PARSONS, Kan. — An explosive device was allegedly found in a residential area of Parsons on Thursday, which happened to be exactly one month after an improvised bomb was allegedly detonated in a dumpster behind the local courthouse. On Thursday, Sept. 15, a citizen called the Parsons Police Department and reported a suspicious object in the 2700 block of Dirr Ave. in Parsons. Officers that arrived on scene tested the device with an explosive field-testing kit and the result was a positive for explosive material. Police called the Kansas Highway Patrol (KHP) Hazardous Device Unit to collect and dispose of the device, according to a press release. The device was classified as an improvised explosive device or (IED), according to the Parsons PD. According to the Department of Homeland Security (DHS), an IED is defined as a "homemade" bomb and/or destructive device to destroy, incapacitate, harass, or distract. The Parsons PD could not be reached for comment, but the incident this week followed another last month when an improvised bomb was allegedly detonated in the dumpster at the Parsons courthouse shortly before 5 a.m. An individual was arrested following that earlier incident, according to the Labette County Sheriff's Office, but further details of the case were not released and it was unclear Friday whether authorities suspected any connection between the two incidents. The investigation into this week's incident is ongoing, and citizens are encouraged to "See It, Hear It, Report It," according to the Parsons PD. If anyone has any further information on this incident or any other criminal activity, they can contact the Parsons Police Department at 620-421-7060 or call the department's tip line at 620-421-7057, or email at tips@parsonspd.com.

Jim's marks one year under new ownership

By Jonathan Riley
Morning Sun Editor

PITTSBURG, Kan. — A year after taking over Jim's Steakhouse (now officially Jim's Steak & Chop House), Frank Caputo says he has had his share of challenges in restoring the business to its former glory, but those are challenges he's been willing to accept. "I want this to be successful," Caputo said in an interview last summer, before Jim's reopened under his management. "Not only do I want it to be successful for me and my family, I want it to be successful for the community." In the year that has passed since then, Caputo has made a few changes, and more are still to come, but he has also purposely stopped short of remaking the restaurant into something that would be unrecognizable to long-time patrons. Some of the changes Caputo has been working towards, in fact, have been to bring back original menu items, such as chicken-fried steak, that he wasn't able to serve at first. "There's a cult of chicken-fried steak people, and this place had them. So when we didn't open up with the chicken-fried steak on the menu, folks were — they were beyond not satisfied," Caputo said in an interview this week. "What everybody didn't know was that the piece of machinery that has been cutting those steaks for all these years, well it was broken." Caputo added that the piece of equipment was over 80 years old. "I needed to find the right person to fix it, to repair it, and finally I did," he said. "And then as soon as I did that, we started running it as a special, and then we did our menu change and it went right on there." See JIMS, Page 8A

Helping businesses help Pittsburg

Economic development director explains role of EDAC

By Dustin R. Strong
Morning Sun Staff

PITTSBURG, Kan. — What, exactly, is the City of Pittsburg's Economic Development Advisory Committee? Better known as the EDAC, its enabling ordinance says the purpose of the committee is "to expand the city's economic base." According to Blake Benson, president of the Pittsburg Area Chamber of Commerce and economic development director for the city, the committee is made up of seven members that are appointed by the city commission for three-year, staggered terms and cannot serve more than two terms. There is no set professional experience criteria to be a member, although some business expertise is helpful. The committee's primary responsibility is to manage the Revolving Loan Fund (RLF), which is funded by a percentage of the city's sales tax revenue, and recommend uses of money in the RLF to the city commission that are focused toward job creation, capital investment, or both. Many of these awards are for infrastructure that ties the business back into the city. This is usually in the form of grants or loans to fix a roof, upgrade electrical and plumbing, curbing and drainage, or other such projects that improve the building and surrounding property. ## Obituaries

Mary Ann Blakemore

Mary Ann Blakemore, 82, of Pittsburg, died at 11:15 a.m. Wednesday, Sept. 14, 2022, at her home following an illness.

Mary was born July 23, 1940, in Frontenac, the daughter of John Thomas Sr. and Ruth Manion. As Mary was growing up, she lived in Chicago, Illinois, and graduated from Calumet High School. She later took college courses in computer science.

On Feb. 17, 1960, Mary Ann married William Lawrence Blakemore in Cook County, Illinois; he preceded her in death on May 10, 2003. She moved back to Pittsburg in 1972. Mary worked as an Auditor at the Townsman Motel in Pittsburg, retiring in 1997.

Mary was of the Christian faith; she loved reading, television, movies, cooking, music, charity, and spending time with her family.

Survivors include her children, William Michael Blakemore of Pittsburg, Linda Marie Brinkmeyer and husband Kurt of Pittsburg, Kenneth John Blakemore and wife Brandy of Mulberry, Scott Thomas Blakemore and wife Lori of Pittsburg, and Allen Anthony Blakemore and wife Dionne of Arma; brother, John T. Manion Jr. and wife Linda of Arma; grandchildren, Christina Shook, Alisha O'Toole, Jill Brinkmeyer, Devon Page, Madison Blakemore, Chase Blakemore, Ashley Strange, Megan Blakemore, Garnet Blakemore, and Vivian Blakemore; and great-grandchildren, Davis Carroll, Alyssa Shook, and Kairi Strange.

Mary was preceded in death by her husband, parents, sister, Sharon Kay Manion, and great-granddaughter, Kylan Shook.

Funeral services will be held at 11 a.m. at the Friskel Funeral Home in Frontenac, with Pastor Duane Elmore officiating. Burial will follow at Mt. Olive Cemetery in Pittsburg. The family will receive friends from 10 to 11 a.m. prior to the service at the funeral home.

In lieu of flowers, the family asks expressions of sympathy to be in the form of memorials to the Lord's Diner in Pittsburg. Memorials may be left at Friskel Funeral Home, 230 E. McKay, Frontenac, KS 66763. Condolences may be left at www.friskelfuneralhome.com.

Carol Ann Simone

Carol Ann Simone, 73, of Pittsburg, died Sept. 15, 2022, at Via-Christi Mt. Carmel Hospital in Pittsburg. She was born Dec. 8, 1948, in West Mineral, Kansas, the daughter of Prosper and Lucille (Hawthorne) Meriaux.

On Sept. 16, 1967, she was united in marriage to Gerald J. Simone at St. Bridget's Catholic Church in Scammon.

Carol worked as a book-keeper and church secretary. She was a member of Our Lady of Lourdes Parish, Pittsburg.

Survivors include a daughter, Kay Lynn (Simone) Gerwert and husband Mike Gerwert of Union, Kentucky; son, Father Mike Simone of Wichita; brother, Richard Meriaux and wife Rae of Columbus, Georgia; sister, Elaine Huntsinger and husband Art of Pittsburg; and two grandchildren, Joseph and Jacob Gerwert of Union, Kentucky.

She was preceded in death by her parents.

Mass of Christian burial will be 10:30 a.m. Monday, Sept. 19, 2022, at Our Lady of Lourdes Catholic Church in Pittsburg with Bishop Carl A. Kemme as celebrant and Fr. Mike Simone as homilist. A private burial will follow in the St. Bridget's Catholic Cemetery, Scammon.

A parish rosary will be recited at 10 a.m. prior to the Mass at the church.

The family will receive friends from 3 to 5 p.m. on Sunday, Sept. 18, 2022, at Bath-Naylor Funeral Home, Pittsburg.

Memorials may be left to the St. Pius Catholic Campus Center and the Priest Retirement Education Fund, Jerry and Carol Simone Seminary Burse. These may be left at or mailed to the funeral home. Condolences may be left at www.bathnaylor.com.

Services and arrangements are under the direction of the Bath-Naylor Funeral Home, 522 S. Broadway, Pittsburg, KS 66762.

Women Helping Women to celebrate milestone

Staff Reports

news@morningsun.net

PITTSBURG, Kan. — Women Helping Women: A Fairy Godmothers' Fund will celebrate a significant milestone in distributing over $100,000 in grants to local women in need. The public is invited to the celebration at 5:15 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 25 at TJ Lelands, with a local trivia game and entertainment by the Wayward Bettys.

In September 2014, a group of like-minded women gathered to create an organization that focuses on the gap in services for women in financial distress. For some, an unexpected medical expense or a sudden car breakdown might lead to unpaid rent or other bills or even homelessness. Women Helping Women is often the last resort for those who cannot find services elsewhere for such things as car repairs, medical issues, or household repairs.

Women Helping Women (WHW) is an idea that grew from several local women who saw the work of similar programs in Salina, Manhattan, and Lawrence, Kansas.

"I am so very grateful to the community and the SEK Community Foundation for supporting Women Helping Women," founding member Sue Horner said in a press release. "Friends of mine in Salina, Kansas, were involved in a WHW group, and were so kind to allow us to model our organization after theirs."

The original members all chipped in $500 over a period of time, and by the end of the year were closing in on raising $10,000. The organization was able to distribute $10,760 in grants in 2015. Members spread the word by hosting house parties among friends and friends' friends to explain the poverty situation in Southeast Kansas, to collect donations, and to raise awareness.

Other fundraising efforts were a huge rummage sale, a Holiday Homes tour, and the on-going yearly Women's Brunch and Silent Auction. With the help of original foundation member Sarah Chenoweth, WHW was able to start an endowment fund, furthering its financial stability, and with a yearly boost on Giving Tuesday in November.

The Fairy Godmothers' Fund works closely with the Southeast Kansas Community Foundation, which maintains the endowment, acts as a fiscal sponsor, and distributes funds to grant recipients. Partner organizations include the Salvation Army, the Community Health Center of Southeast Kansas, Safehouse Crisis Center, and Wesley House. Women in difficult financial circumstances can apply for help through any partner agency.

Through an application process, women needing assistance not already available in the community can receive help from the fund. WHW can help with car repair, dental care, home maintenance, or a host of other possible needs.

"During the pandemic there was a lull in applications, but since the beginning of this year, we have distributed almost $18,000 in 43 grants which have positively affected 92 people's lives," said Lyn Schultze, a founding member of WHW and chair of the applications committee. "We just would not have been able to do this without the help of our generous donors."

Women Helping Women appreciates the generosity of the Pittsburg community and extends an invitation to the $100,000 Celebration at TJ Lelands on Sept. 25, the release said. If you cannot make it to the celebration, you can still donate to the cause at southeastkansas.org/page.cfm/donate-today.

Benson said this is seen as an investment by the city. Should a business succeed in a location with improvements funded by the RLF, it creates jobs and tax revenues for the city. If the business fails, the location is already set up for another business that can generate tax revenue. The improvements stay with the building. While the EDAC focuses on capital investment and job creation, not all businesses fit neatly into this box. As an example, Benson mentioned the Family Resource Center. While the Center does not focus on creating new jobs, it does open job opportunities to others by providing child care, which impacts the city’s economic development. The Plaster Center is another facility that does not create capital itself, but does create residual capital as visitors frequent the city’s hotels and restaurants. Sometimes the EDAC will screen requests and recommend a tax freeze for an expanding business. A tax freeze offers a business a chance to recoup some of the money it invested in expanding and, according to Benson, is often the catalyst that prompts a business to pull the trigger to expand. “This does not mean the business stops paying property taxes,” Benson said. “It just does not pay property tax on the new property for a set period of time, depending on the level of investment, and the city doesn’t lose any tax revenue in the meantime. The additional taxes are just deferred for a while.” Benson said the city has a fixed schedule with a maximum freeze of up to ten years for a $7 million investment.

The EDAC also offers business owners advice and critiques of their business plan, and recommends organizations that can offer assistance should they need it. “One of the roles of the EDAC is to make sure it’s a sound project that has been well thought out and well vetted,” Benson said. “We ask they have business plan.” For those who need help developing a business plan, the Small Business Development Center at Block22 offers free services, Benson said. The SBDC will trouble-shoot, critique, and revise business plans. It helps potential business owners understand all of the pieces involved in opening a business — supply, costs, prices, competition, marketing, and so on. “At the end of this,” Benson said, “they either have a strong business plan that will make the city stronger, or they realize opening a business is not for them.” By the time an idea comes before the EDAC, it is a pretty solid idea that has been critiqued, revised, and vetted, according to Benson, who said that such a proposal is generally “a pretty firm project.” In short, the EDAC acts as the last economic development filter before the city commission. It hears ideas, advises the best course of action by the business owner, and makes its recommendations to the commissioners on how best to use the RLF “to expand the city’s economic base.” “Opening a business is hard and it takes a lot of money,” Benson said. “We want to make sure they thought everything through before taking that final step. We want to make sure people are prepared.”

PAYP Family Day event cleans up Schlanger Park

Special to the Morning Sun
news@morningsun.net

PITTSBURG, Kan. — Last Saturday, Sept. 10, the Pittsburg Area Young Professionals held their annual Family Day event. Members brought their children to Schlanger Park for a morning of fun and service. The event started off with a litter cleanup of the creek that runs through Schlanger Park. One of the main things PAYP focuses on is service to area communities. In addition to eating lunch and playing on the playground together, they wanted to be sure to spend some time volunteering. “PAYP is full of our community’s future leaders and many of us are raising children who will be the next generation responsible for ensuring that the Pittsburg area is a great place to live,” according to PAYP President Matt O’Malley. “So cleaning up litter in the park before the kids got the chance to eat and play was a good opportunity for us to set the example that service to others needs to be a part of their lives.” PAYP members and their children picked up enough litter in just an hour's time to fill six trash bags. The group is no stranger to organizing litter cleanups. They host an annual Earth Day Litter Cleanup that brings together several community groups who clean up several locations throughout Pittsburg’s city limits. For more information about the Pittsburg Area Young Professionals, find them on social media or visit their website at pittsbura-reayp.net.

PITTSBURG, Kan. — The City of Pittsburg has chosen Kim Froman to fill the position of community development and housing director. Effective Sept. 26, Froman will lead the city’s housing and community development programs, and oversee the city’s building safety division. “We are excited for Kim to join our team,” City Manager Daron Hall said in a press release. “She is a proven leader with strong roots in Pittsburg. Her team-building, management, networking, and operational expertise will serve our growing community well.” As director, Froman

Kim Froman. COURTESY PHOTO will be responsible for networking and building positive relationships with business leaders, educational institutions, property owners, investors, regulatory and governmental agencies, non-profits, and citizens to promote the future growth of Pittsburg. “I hope to bring perspective from not only a citizen of Pittsburg but a wife, a mother and a business owner,” said Froman. “I am excited to team up with the City of Pittsburg to continue to make Pittsburg a great place to live, shop and do business, but also sell Pittsburg to those who might not know about our incredible community.” Froman holds a Bachelor of Science from Pittsburg State University, and brings with her more than 20 years of experience managing business operations in corporate settings. Froman previously held the position of director of talent at Crossland Construction in Columbus. She and her husband Davey Froman have two children and own local retail store Miners & Monroe in downtown Pittsburg, which they started upon moving back to Pittsburg four years ago. “Supporting this city and contributing to the growth has been a goal of mine since we moved back home,” Froman says. “I can’t wait to get started.”

The family of Joanna Lynn Holmes, wishes to thank all the wonderful people that sent cards, donated food, contributed to the Humane Society, or for masses. She would have been so grateful. If we as a family missed anyone, we are sorry. God bless all.

You Are Your Own Worst Enemy

Most of us are, at least sometimes, our own worst enemies. If we think about all the times that we've made bad decisions, or the many ways in which we have sabotaged our own plans, we are likely to agree. What do all these bad decisions and instances of self-sabotage have in common? Clearly one thing they all have in common is that we are at the center of the decision — after all, we made the bad decision — and likewise we said or did something to sabotage ourselves. Rather than chalk this all up to some unconscious self-hatred, perhaps the real problem is simply that we are often too focused on ourselves. We can try too hard to make a good decision or advance our own self-interest and, in the process, forget about the others in our lives. Being selfish is one way we self-sabotage, because we are social animals, and being selfish is a sure way to alienate others. There are a variety of other ways in which we can self-sabotage. Sometimes it is done with a bad attitude, which colors everything negatively, and can spill over into other areas of our lives. Ask God for guidance in making decisions and in carrying out plans. Prayerfully consider your options and God will guide you.

FROM OUR HISTORY

William Bloomfield, local police officer, was killed in a gunfight with bootleggers

By Phil Burgert
news@morningsun.net

Excerpted stories in Crawford County newspaper archives

100 Years Ago
Sept. 17-19, 1922
William Bloomfield, local police officer, was killed in a gunfight with a gang of bootleggers three miles northeast of Fort Scott early last night. Bloomfield was found wounded beside a road by two farm boys, who started to a hospital but he died in route. Officers later found John Cochran of Rich Hill, Mo., wounded in a nearby pasture with a pistol and three empty shells next to him. Six gallons of liquor were also found in a nearby brush pile.

That it would cost $121,742.50 to install a sewage disposal plant for Pittsburg is the estimate received today from Black & Veach, engineers, of Kansas City. The first estimate, made by the same firm, was $70,000; the second one, made in 1917, was $155,000. The gaps between the estimates are attributed to costs of labor and material. A proposal to vote bonds for the disposal plant will be submitted at the general election Nov. 7.

Swimming was enjoyed at the Country club yesterday for the first time this year. The club's deep well, which has caused deep sorrow for directors and the stockholders committee during the entire summer, has been brought in. Pumping started several days ago and the pool was filled. The quality of the water is practically the same as formerly. Swimmers yesterday said the water was not too chilly.

Manual football stock was quoted at a higher level yesterday with the announcement that George Nettles, University of Kansas tackle in '17, '19 and '20, has been secured to assist Coach Garfield W. Weede in whipping his 1922 eleven into shape. The chief duty of "Doc" Weede's new assistant will be to develop and select from a list of 19 or 20 candidates, seven men for the Manual line.

Bowling enthusiasts in a meeting at the Y. M. C. A. last night, brought out the absolute necessity for an annex large enough to house six bowling alleys, but building of the annex will not be started, probably for several months. It was pointed out that a large number of people still owe on debt pledges to the Y. M. C. A., and that a campaign for funds for bowling might conflict with payment of pledges.

50 Years Ago
Sept. 17-19, 1972
The Kansas Highway Commission said yesterday it has asked the Kansas Congressional delegation to support its legislation to add 10 of the state's highway segments to the interstate highway system. Included in this group is U.S. 69 from I-435 at Kansas City to I-44 near Joplin. Another segment is U.S. 54 and K-96 from I-34W at Wichita to I-44 in the vicinity of Joplin.

Three youngsters – Becky Goold, 11; Nancy Parker, 12; and Jennifer Hagman, 11 – volunteered and took paint brushes in hand to paint a mural on the wall of the "powder room" of the new children's room on the second floor of Pittsburg Public Library. Babar was a favorite elephant of one of the trio, so an elephant was chosen as the central character. With him are a lion and a giant panda.

Annshire Garment Co., 101½ E. Kansas, is anticipating its upcoming 25th anniversary – 25 years in Pittsburg that is. The company began 58 years ago in New York City. National manufacturers of ladies' and men's leather, suede and cloth coats, Annshire sells to stores in 49 states, excluding Hawaii. Annshire moved in 1938 to Paola and on Oct. 1, 1947 they opened in Pittsburg, employing as many as 130 workers.

Nine persons were arrested early yesterday in drug raids at four locations in and around Pittsburg. Between 60 and 65 pounds of marijuana were confiscated along with some amphetamines and drug-related paraphernalia, according to Vernon Grassie, Crawford County Attorney. There were indications that a Southeast Kansas physician, whom he declined to identify, has supplied drug users in the area, Grassie said.

Area high school football maniacs would have had a delight over the weekend as Pittsburg, Colgan and Frontenac combined for an unmerciful 95-0 drubbing of their opponents. The PHS Purple Dragons remain unscored upon as they delivered a 34-0 thrashing to Chanute while Frontenac whitewashed Baxter Springs 40-0 and Colgan evened their season at 1-1 with a 21-0 pasting of Northeast.

25 Years Ago
Sept. 17-19, 1997
In 1982, after managing the JC Penney store in Pittsburg and serving on the YMCA board of directors, Jack Bache applied for and got the job of YMCA executive director. The current building, located at 1100 N. Miles, was only six months old when Bache took on his new challenge. The YMCA in Pittsburg is 110 years old. During the past 15 years the Pittsburg Family YMCA has grown from just under 3,000 to 7,000 members.

Pittsburg High School

will get its landscaping done thanks to a donation of $5,500 from the Bess Spiiva Timmons Foundation and other monies raised locally. Ron Marone, president of the PHS Alumni Association has kept in touch with the foundation about the fundraising in the local community for the project. PHS Key Club raised several hundred dollars and will do planting for the project.

Arma Police Chief Gene Arnold has been asked to join the Crawford County Drug Task Force. The announcement was made during the Arma City Council meeting. Arnold will be the only member of the Arma Police Department on the task force. Council members approved his participation for the next six months and a $100-dollar annual insurance rider because he will need to leave the city for drug raids.

In a tableau older than civilization, as old as culture, 12 people gathered in a circle on the night of the full moon to share wisdom. The gathering was not in a wooded clearing, but in PSU's Overman Student Center. Not around a fire, but a coffee table. The moon was incidental. But Edward Ramon, "author, lecturer, counselor," offered insights. Ramon, a Comanche-Lakota, was guest speaker the first night of a planned series of diversity dialogues.

The Kansas Preservation Alliance has selected those involved with the preservation of the Hotel Stilwell for a 1997 Award of Excellence. The saving of the historic hotel is one of 14 outstanding historic preservation projects across the state that will be recognized with rewards. "This award will honor all those connected with the preservation of the hotel," said Laura Carlson.

TODAY IN HISTORY

In 1947, James Forrestal was sworn in as the first U.S. Secretary of Defense

Associated Press
news@morningsun.net

Today is Saturday, Sept. 17, the 260th day of 2022. There are 105 days left in the year.

Today's Highlight in History:
On Sept. 17, 1978, after meeting at Camp David, Israeli Prime Minister Menachem Begin (men-AH'-kem BAY'-gihn) and Egyptian President Anwar Sadat signed a framework for a peace treaty.

On this date:
In 1787, the Constitution of the United States was completed and signed by a majority of delegates attending the Constitutional Convention in Philadelphia.

In 1862, more than 3,600 men were killed in the Civil War Battle of Antietam (an-TEE'-tum) in Maryland.

In 1908, Lt. Thomas E. Selfridge of the U.S. Army Signal Corps became the first person to die in the crash of a powered aircraft, the Wright Flyer, at Fort Myer, Virginia, just outside Washington, D.C.

In 1920, the American Professional Football Association -- a precursor of the National Football League -- was formed in Canton, Ohio.

In 1937, the likeness of President Abraham Lincoln's head was dedicated at Mount Rushmore.

In 1939, the Soviet Union invaded Poland during World War II, more than two weeks after Nazi Germany had launched its assault.

In 1944, during World War II, Allied paratroopers launched Operation Market Garden, landing behind German lines in the Netherlands. (After initial success, the Allies were beaten back by the Germans.)

In 1947, James V. Forrestal was sworn in as the first U.S. Secretary of Defense.

In 1980, former Nicaraguan president Anastasio Somoza (suh-MOH'-sah) was assassinated in Paraguay.

In 1986, the Senate confirmed the nomination of William H. Rehnquist to become the 16th chief justice of the United States.

In 2001, six days after 9/11, stock prices nosedived but stopped short of collapse in an emotional, flag-waving reopening of Wall Street; the Dow Jones industrial average ended the day down 684.81 at 8,920.70.

In 2011, a demonstration calling itself Occupy Wall Street began in New York, prompting similar protests around the U.S. and the world.

Ten years ago: Republican Mitt Romney tried to head off a new distraction for his presidential campaign after a video surfaced showing him telling wealthy donors that 47 percent of all Americans "believe they are victims" entitled to help from the government that permeated their lives; Romney offered no apologies, but conceded his comments were not "elegantly stated" and were spoken "off the cuff."

Five years ago: British authorities said a second suspect was in custody in connection with a bomb that partially exploded two days earlier on a packed London subway, injuring dozens. The top series prizes at the Emmy Awards went to "The Handmaid's Tale," "Veep" and the ever-topical "Saturday Night Live"; the ceremony took almost nonstop aim at President Donald Trump in awards and speeches.

One year ago: A Los Angeles jury convicted Robert Durst of murdering his best friend 20 years earlier; the a case had taken on new life after the New York real estate heir participated in a documentary that connected him to the slaying linked to his wife's 1982 disappearance. (Durst who was sentenced to life in prison, died in January 2022 at 78.) Retreating from its defense of a drone strike that had killed multiple civilians in Afghanistan in August, the Pentagon announced that a review revealed that only civilians were killed in the attack, and not an Islamic State extremist as first believed. France recalled its ambassador to the United States in an unprecedented show of anger by America's oldest ally; the action came after the U.S., Australia and Britain shunned France in creating a new Indo-Pacific security arrangement, and Australia scrapped a purchase of French submarines in favor of nuclear subs built with U.S. technology.

TRUE STORIES

Losing our stiff upper lip

By J.T. Knoll
Morning Sun Columnist

If you have tears, prepare to shed them now. — Shakespeare, “Julius Caesar”

This morning I suddenly began to cry while watching and listening to Hilary Hahn play a Sibelius violin concerto on a YouTube video.

While sharing something I'd written last Saturday at my son's wedding, I had to stop several times because of the lump in my throat.

In Lincoln Park on Labor Day weekend, I found myself tearing up during a song being played by KOLOGRAD even though I couldn't understand the Slovenian dialect they were singing in.

Not that I haven't always able to feel sensitive emotions, I have. But as I pass 73 it seems they surface much more suddenly. And more intensely.

It's happened when reading a poem, watching a movie, reading the newspaper, looking into the eyes of my dog, and observing a homeless couple push their cart of belongings up Broadway.

Even contemplating a grasshopper in a stand of weeds.

I'm not alone. There's some evidence that hormonal changes (specifically lowered testosterone levels) may make aging men more emotional.

There are also studies that seek to correlate this emotional expression with the effects of depression, social isolation, and dementia.

But, as psychiatrist

James Gordon pointed out in a Washington Post article, these assertions, although plausible in some cases, are not sufficiently documented to explain the phenomena.

They certainly don't do justice to the experience.

Could it be that the more sensitive and fragile emotions have been there inside us all along but, as we age, we don't care so much for being stoic?

To be sure, in our culture, we grow up with a stigma when it comes to men crying (Stop that ... or I'll give you something to cry about!). At the very least, a sense of uncomfortableness when men shed tears (except if they lose a football or basketball game ... then they can weep).

I belong to a group of men who meet weekly to watch a Great Courses video segment followed by discussion. A couple of months ago, one of the members suggested we have a few moments of silence following the video ... and then share our feelings.

As we're now watching a course about the perils of America's indigenous peoples, we share a lot of deep sadness ... sometimes tears. Also anger, not just at their treatment, but that we were not told the truth about American history all the way through our college courses.

There's certainly plenty of current happenings in our country — and across the world — to shed tears about, starting with the crippling poverty and food insecurity that's prevalent here in Crawford County and throughout the nation. Also greed, Covid, racism, inflation, school shootings, fake news, inequality, polarization, climate change, and the war in Ukraine. The list goes on and on.

Getting back to the source of my own crying, I'm certain it's not about depression. (I've been depressed and awakened to a good cry for days on end.)

Nor is it social isolation. I have lots of connections with a variety of friends and social groups, as well as family.

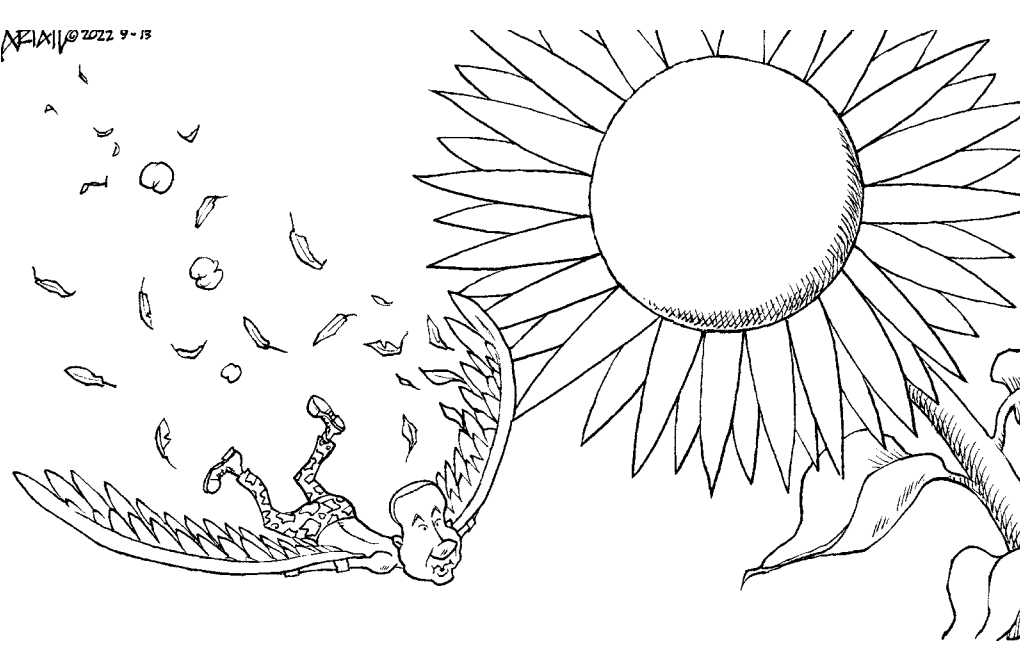

Dementia? Although it sometimes takes a while to recall a name or place on the merry-go-round of my glia, I can still tell the fridge from the microwave and play a decent game of Jeopardy. So, I'm good there.

Whatever it is, it's good to know I'm not alone — that other men are increasingly willing to admit to their sensitive feelings — whether it be in reaction to the agony and disappointment of life or its ecstasy and joy.

Indeed, would that more and more of us men see our crying — and tender emotions in general — not as flaws but as vehicles of wisdom, we would certainly model for other men, young and old, a path to greater compassion, inclusiveness, and healing.

Living at boyfriend's house requires dealing with dad

DEAR ABBY
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I live with my boyfriend and his father. I moved in two years ago to help them pay bills so they could keep living in the house my boyfriend grew up in. But the situation has become unlivable. My boyfriend's father is rude, racist and self-centered. It doesn't matter that we are struggling; he goes out and spends all his money on guns and fancy dinners for other relatives. Then he complains about how he's broke and has no money to help buy things for the house. He has also raised our rent because he has "debt to the IRS," which has literally nothing to do with me or my boyfriend. We can't talk to him without a big argument breaking out, and I'm at the end of my rope. It's too expensive to move, so please, any help or advice would be much appreciated. -- UNHAPPY ROOMMATE

DEAR ROOMMATE: I hope you now realize that your boyfriend's father isn't going to change; his nature is fully formed. This rude, self-centered racist is WHO HE IS. Instead of continuing to buy things for the house, pay the man his rent and start saving for another place to live. If your boyfriend can contribute to that fund, he can move with you. If he's unwilling or unable to do that, leave and find a roommate with whom to share expenses. And be grateful, very grateful, you haven't married into this family and can escape with no entanglements. Move on -- the sooner, the better.

DEAR ABBY: I have been happily married for 22 years. We have three beautiful children. We laugh and love a lot. For the past 10 years, I have been trying to keep a brave face when it comes to my mother-in-law. She makes fun of my looks (and my mother's) often, and puts me down in front of my husband. I'm embarrassed, appalled, angry and sad all at the same time. My husband has told me he talks to her about this, but nothing has changed. It has reached the point that I no longer want to be around her. Tonight at dinner, she grabbed my stomach and told me how fat I was. I adore my husband so, while she has been cruel to me, I have remained kind to her. I recently told him I would begin speaking to her the way she speaks to me. Please help. -- HARD TO STAY KIND IN MARYLAND

DEAR HARD: Stop expecting your husband to run interference for you. You both should have asserted yourselves with the old biddy years ago. The next time she pipes up with a criticism, tell her you don't like her rudeness and will no longer tolerate it. The next time she grabs you or puts her hands on you, point out that what she's doing is committing assault. Your husband should have put a stop to this when it started, by telling her to leave immediately. At the very least, he should back you up now. The longer you continue to silently put up with her abuse, the longer it will continue.

New boutique opens in Pittsburg

By Antjea Wolff
Morning Sun Staff

PITTSBURG, Kan. — The Pittsburg Area Chamber of Commerce and community members celebrated the opening Friday of a new clothing boutique at 810 N. Broadway, 3 Degrees Limited.

The owner of 3 Degrees Limited, Sandra Cobos Schroeder, who is also an assistant instructional professor of psychology and counseling and the director of the school psychology program for Pittsburg State University, grew up in Mexico.

“We moved here to the U.S. when I was 9,” she said. “My dad wanted to give me the one thing no one could ever take away from me and that was an education.”

They settled in Northwest Arkansas, and when she was a high school senior, she chose to attend PSU.

When Cobos Schroeder was working as a school psychologist in the area, she said, she had noticed a lot of kids wearing the same clothes every day and the same pair of shoes all year.

Cobos Schroeder said she enjoys fashion, with a special love for business casual attire, and when remodeling a home a few years ago she converted a small room into a closet.

“I was sitting in that room one afternoon and got a call from a social worker asking if I knew of anyone who would take a kid in for a few nights,” she said. “I remember sitting in that room crying, and I looked up and saw the clothes so neatly displayed, and I had a moment of feeling lucky and selfish at the same time.”

Cobos Schroeder decided to start selling clothing online and then donate some of the profits to help children.

“It sparked something in me to want to give back to the community,” Cobos Schroeder said. “Beyond just selling clothes, the main purpose behind it is to be able to help women and children in need.”

Cobos Schroeder began doing pop-up shops selling business casual outfits, which she purchased wholesale, at places like The Beauty Bar.

“Women who were coming in to see what I have were so happy I was providing this to Pittsburg,” she said.

When Revel Boutique closed its doors at 810 N. Broadway, Cobos Schroeder said she reached out to the previous owners and property manager, and within hours made an agreement.

She said she named the store after her three degrees in psychology, all of which she earned at PSU, and that she wanted to focus her boutique on selling business and business casual attire for women.

“We have a lot of wonderful business women here in the community, and we really wanted to bring some of that clothing here to Pittsburg,” Cobos Schroeder said. She said that this is step one of her dream.

“This is so much more than a store,” she said. “My dream is to be able to give back to the community in bigger ways. And we will partner with a lot of local charities and donate part of our profits back to the community. We really want to focus on spreading mental health awareness and providing resources for students in poverty.”

She said she hopes to establish a non-profit organization someday in the future.

Other items that have been added to the menu and are selling well include fresh fish, Caputo said, as well as the pork chops spotlighted in the new Jim’s Steak & Chop House name, which was also changed partly for legal reasons when Caputo and his father-in-law Chris Pakitsos bought the business from former owner Leroy Castagno.

“So we added chops, and we’re getting ready to start serving bone-in steaks, because we don’t have any bone-in steaks other than the pork chop right now, and Leroy was known for having the porterhouse and the T-bone steaks as well,” Caputo said.

He is also looking to potentially set up something along the lines of a deli counter near the entrance to the restaurant, which would include a refrigerator, scale, packaging and a cash register.

“I’m trying to set up an area up front here where I can start to offer a different variety of steaks that aren’t on our menu. Not necessarily dry aged, but fresh cut steaks. It could be a tomahawk, it could be a 26-oz. ribeye with a bone,” Caputo said. Customers could buy steaks to go, “or they could say that they want to have that for dinner and I’d cook it for them,” he added.

Caputo has begun looking into the possibility of making some other changes to the interior look and setup of Jim’s as well. Earlier this year, Jim’s participated in a project with students majoring in interior design at Pittsburg State University, who proposed renovations to the restaurant ranging from lighting changes to knocking down the wall that separates the lounge area from the dining room.

“We’re going to be making some furniture changes,” Caputo said. “We’re going to be upgrading our chairs, some lighting, and décor.” He added that he also plans to change the restaurant’s tables, as well as the carpet in the lounge and entranceway area. Other changes proposed by the PSU students may be implemented at some point, but Caputo has not made any final decisions on those.

“It was great also to work with students in taking my ideas and some of my thoughts and passing it on to them and seeing how their ideas blossom out of my ‘what-ifs,’” Caputo said.

Since then, Caputo has taken initial steps toward working with another group of students — those involved with the Show Me Youth Ag Academy, a nonprofit based in Lamar, Missouri. Currently, when it comes to its steaks, Caputo said, Jim’s exclusively serves Certified Angus Beef.

“I’ve used it my whole career, mainly because of the consistency of the product,” Caputo said. “It’s way more consistent than any of the other beef that’s out there.”

Show Me Youth Ag Academy students, however, have made a cross between a Red Certified Angus Beef cattle breed and a Japanese, or Wagyu, cattle breed, which caught Caputo’s attention.

“The fat in a Wagyu beef is supposed to be better for us cardiovascularly,” he said. “It has a different type of fat molecule, and the beef is a little bit more intense beef, but it’s good.”

Caputo added that he is looking into potentially serving steaks from this new hybrid cattle breed at the deli counter at Jim’s, once he gets it set up.

Reopening a locally iconic steakhouse in Southeast Kansas may be a new challenge for Caputo, but when it comes to the restaurant business and the hospitality industry, this is not his first rodeo.

Caputo was born into the pizza business when his parents immigrated to the U.S. in the late 1950s, he said. They would buy buildings to rent out apartments upstairs and put storefronts selling pizza below. It was the start of a long career in the restaurant business for Caputo, who went on to graduate from the Culinary Institute of America, and in the years since has cooked for celebrities and U.S. presidents.

“I’ve opened up 30 different operations from the ground floor,” said Caputo, who is originally from Pennsylvania. “I bounced around a lot, but I accomplished a lot.”

That includes involvement in opening The Brass Onion, a popular restaurant in Overland Park’s Prairiefire district, in 2016. He also served as executive chef for the Kansas City Royals at the Crown Club at Kauffman Stadium up until March 2020, when the COVID-19 pandemic disrupted the baseball season.

“I fed about 250 people every single day there was a game,” Caputo said. “They moved me right out of baseball season right into football season, so the year that the Chiefs won the Super Bowl, I cooked for the Chiefs that whole entire year.”

Before that, Caputo spent several years working in restaurants in the exclusive resort areas of Naples, Florida, and Kiawah Island, South Carolina. More recently, before moving to Kansas, from 2008 to 2015 Caputo worked for Cancer Treatment Centers of America in Phoenix, Arizona, where he had an opportunity to become involved not only in preparing and serving food, but growing it, in a unique arrangement that led to Caputo making an appearance on CNN.

“I was able to build a 69-acre certified organic farm right on our property where the hospital sat, and we grew over 80 different types of fruits and vegetables on that 69 acres,” Caputo said.

That experience gave him the idea of doing something similar with Jim’s. Recently, he said, he met with Brad Fourby of Leafy Green Farms, a local indoor micro-farming operation that grows organic vegetables in a shipping container.

“I sat with him and he’s putting together a list of some items that he thinks he might be able to grow that we’ll be able to use here on our menu as well,” Caputo said. “It’s little by little trying to incorporate the community into the business and us into the community.”

Caputo sees more changes coming to Jim’s in the future, as well as more opportunities for community partnerships.

He said he hopes to add a roasted pork item to his menu before long.

“But with that I want to do roasted vegetables, and I would love to find a farmer here that grows the larger squashes — butternut squash, acorn squash — even onions, any of the winter vegetables,” he said. “I just don’t have that connection yet.”

A year into his effort to rebuild Jim’s, despite decades of experience, Caputo said the restaurant has been one of his more challenging projects.

“I’ve gone through this a lot of times in my career. I’m not a young kid who just decided to open up a restaurant,” he said. “This is a bear to handle, physically, mentally and financially. It’s not a cake walk for me.”

Still, even with the bumps in the road that come with opening any business, the greatest unexpected aspect of reopening Jim’s, Caputo said, has been the support he’s received, and continues to receive, from longtime fans of the steakhouse.

“The surprise was the actual response that we got from the community, and it was great. It was great. And it still is, from the very beginning,” Caputo said. “‘Overwhelmed’ is not the word, I wasn’t overwhelmed, I was elated.”

RECYCLE

“I think if you’re going to survive, you’ve got to be able to adapt and roll with the flow,” Triplett said. “Thankfully we’ve been able to do that. Our board has been agreeable working through a lot of these issues.”

Despite the obstacles the SEK Recycling Center had to overcome, it has a lot of accomplishments of which to be proud. The organization has turned part of the facility into a store where it resells items in order to keep them out of the landfill. In 1997, Chuck Delp, one of the first employees of the facility when it was moved to 4th Street and Highway 69 and a current board member, received a plaque from the Kansas Department of Health and Environment (KDHE) for his efforts in keeping the facility open.

According to SEK Recycling Center Publicist and Membership Chair Janette Mauk, Triplett has been one of the driving forces behind SEK Recycling since the first meeting in 1990.

At the annual board meeting on Thursday, Triplett was presented with a plaque commemorating his 30 years of dedication to recycling and sustainability by Johnson with the support of the SEK Recycling Center’s board.

Mauk also announced that the SEK Recycling

Center building would officially be named the James R. Triplett building in his honor. For a brief moment, Triplett was speechless, and Mauk said she had never seen him speechless. Triplett then recognized all the people who had been longtime volunteers and others who have been with the group since the beginning.

“That’s what counts,” he said. “People who are willing to volunteer, put in their time, and show their passion and I think that’s what gets folks in the community excited about. Thank you for everything.”

Raiders rally in second half for 12-10 win

Staff Reports

sports@morningsun.net

KANSAS CITY, Kan. --Frontenac's offense and defense scored midway through the third quarter as the Raiders rallied to beat Bishop Ward 12-10 Friday night in prep football action.

The Raiders (2-1) trailed 10-0 at halftime after gaining just 24 yards. But Mario Menghini's 14-yard gain on an option play on the first play of the third quarter exceeded the Raiders' nine rushing yards in the first half.

Moments later, the Raiders faced fourth down-and-4 from their 42-yard line, and Kal Terlip hit Wyatt Frazier with an 11-yard completion to continue the drive.

Terlip's 14-yard pass to Menghini and Jack Lusker's 29-yard run moved the ball to the 4-yard line, and Menghini scored three plays later from the 1 to make it 10-6 after the missed extra point with 6:20 left in the third period.

Just 75 seconds later, the Raiders' Jack Capehart applied pressure on quarterback Jashaun Holiday, and Trey Cramer intercepted the pass and returned it 22 yards for the touchdown and a 12-10 lead. An errant snap thwarted the extra point.

The Cyclones (2-1) moved into Frontenac territory on the ensuing possession, but a holding penalty stalled the drive, and it ended with a missed 49-yard field goal.

In the fourth quarter, Frontenac's defense forced Ward to punt on one possession, and Menghini's fourth-down pass breakup ended the next drive. The Raider offense then picked up one first down to extinguish the final 2:17 on the clock.

The Raiders made six first downs gained 96 yards in the second half while limiting the Cyclones to 41 yards and four first downs.

"We challenged the kids at halftime to be more physical, tackle better and run harder," Raiders coach Mark Smith said on his postgame radio show. "We needed that good first drive to build some confidence. Trey made a big pick right after, and the defense held on strong."

"I thought we played extremely hard in the second half. We made some big plays on third down to get us off the field and picked up a few key first downs. It was a great team win."

Menghini had 19 carries for 46 yards and three receptions for 42 yards. Terlip hit 6-of-15 passes for 68 yards, and the Raiders netted 52 yards on 30 rushing plays.

Korbin Niegsch led the Raider defense with seven tackles, and Vinny Pyle, Menghini and Lusker all had four.

The Cyclones took a 7-0 lead on Holiday's 33-yard touchdown strike to Jalen Pickens, capping a 13-play, 78-yard drive with 2:05 left in the first half.

Dinero Jones kicked the extra point and later hit a 30-yard field goal with 1:26 to play in the second period for the 10-point halftime lead.

The Raiders are home next Friday night against Girard.

Pittsburg outlasts Grizzlies for homecoming win

By Dashuan Vereen

Overcoming an early 6-0 deficit, Pittsburg tallied four touchdowns in the final three quarters and slowed down the Labette County offense to lead the Purple Dragons to a 28-20 victory over the Grizzlies on Friday at Hutchinson Field.

"The kids kept battling," said Dragons coach Josh Lattimer. "They had each other's backs, and they weren't going to let each other down."

"There are little mistakes that we still have to clean up, but they never gave up. These kids have so much passion and heart. That's how we're going to win games."

In Pittsburg's homecoming game, the Purple Dragons delivered Lattimer his first head coaching win.

"Words can't describe how supportive this community is," said Lattimer. "They love these kids, and what they do for them is astronomical. People bend over backwards for them and take care of them. The kids owe it to them to play lights out for them."

With inside of three minutes remaining in the fourth quarter and Labette County quarterback Kendall Holtzman driving the Grizzlies down the field, Pittsburg's Carsen Nickelson deflected a pass on fourth down-and-long to return the ball to Pittsburg.

Labette County earned one last desperation heave with four seconds remaining, but Nickelson intercepted Holtzman's deep pass to seal the victory.

After falling behind 21-14 earlier in the fourth, the Grizzlies had an opportunity to take the lead following a one-yard touchdown plunge from Holtzman, but a taunting penalty following the score led to Labette County failing to convert the ensuing two-point conversion.

Pittsburg's Stone Peery responded with an 11-yard touchdown run and Jackson McKechnie's kick gave Pittsburg a 28-20 cushion.

In the first half, Holtzman struck first, finding Tray Vinson for a 63-yard touchdown pass on a fly route down the sideline early in the first quarter. Wyatt Rink cut the lead to 7-6 in the second quarter, on a one-yard rushing touchdown.

Conner Proffitt gave Pittsburg its first lead on an eight-yard rushing touchdown in the second. Later in the quarter, Holtzman found Griffin Eaton for a 20-yard touchdown reception as time expired, and Jamaal Jackson rushed for the two-point conversion to tie the score at halftime.

Pittsburg's Webb Fern returned the lead to the Purple Dragons on a 10-yard touchdown run in the third quarter.

Trojans beat Bulldogs

GIRARD, Kan. -- Girard beat Galena on Friday at Frank Jameson Field as senior running back Alex Coester scored three touchdowns, leading the Trojans to a 41-20 win over the Bulldogs.

Tied 20-20 early in the third quarter, the Trojans scored 21 unanswered points to secure their third victory.

"I think there's going to be plenty on film that we can see that we can do better," Girard coach Neal Philpot said. "We did a lot of nice things, too. Our kids talked about having some grit and battling through some adversity, and we saw that early, and our kids responded and stayed with it."

"We fixed some things at halftime, and we played a little bit better ... Our kids played hard and fought through it, and that was good to see. Tough to beat Galena, they have a nice team, don't really want to see them again, but we might."

The Trojans marched

down the field and drew first blood. Several break-away runs by quarterback Luke Niggemann and running back Ethan Davidson powered Girard near the end zone as Niggemann closed the drive with a one-yard touchdown run.

On the ensuing kickoff, Galena's Zane Turner juiced and spun his way through defenders for a 90-yard touchdown. However, the Trojans quickly responded on the next drive when senior running back Beau Harris dove his way into the end zone for an eight-yard touchdown.

The two teams remained scoreless until the midway mark of the second quarter, when Coester pushed the Trojans downfield with his ground game. Coester closed the near 80-yard drive with a five-yard run up the middle.

The Bulldogs did not back down, scoring 14 unanswered points late in the first half and early in the second with the help of Turner. Turner first trimmed the deficit on a 56-yard quarterback keeper, and he tied the game on an eight-yard run through the middle. Then, senior tight end Tyler Little snagged the two-point conversion over two defenders to tie the game at 20.

The Bulldogs were unable to continue their momentum following Turner's two touchdowns. Instead, Girard scored 21 unanswered points, highlighted by two touchdowns from Coester.

The Trojans are on the road for their next matchup at 7 p.m. Friday at Frontenac.

Central Heights blanks Lancers

By Sam Kombrink

CHEROKEE, Kan. -- Southeast football is still looking for its first win after suffering a 48-0 home loss on to Central Heights on Friday night in the Lancers' Senior Night.

"The kids tried and that's all I can ask," said Southeast head coach Nick Cheney. "I love these kids. They bust their butts and give it their best, but we are getting better. We are much better than we were two weeks ago. We just have to keep working."

Running back Carson Wood scored the first touchdown for Central Heights with a two-yard score. The kick by Bryce Velez failed and the Vikings led the Lancers

6-0.

Southeast was forced to punt on its first drive as runs by Deric Mitchell and Landon Cole were kept short by the Central Heights defense.

Wood took off for a 40-yard touchdown run to put Central Heights up by two scores.

Brycen Velez, who took off for a 29-yard touchdown to go up 20-0.

Senior linebacker Kolby Lovel intercepted a pass for the Lancer defense to start the second quarter, but Southeast was forced to punt on its next drive.

Wood ran in a two-yard touchdown and Velez followed with a one-yard run on the next drive as the Vikings went up 34-0 at halftime.

Coming back from half, Wood ran in a 12-yard touchdown for the Vikings, followed by four-yard touchdown run by Velez in the fourth.

The Lancers play at 7 p.m. Friday at St. Mary's Colgan.

Martinez has RBI single in 8th, Red Sox beat Royals 2-1

BOSTON (AP) -- J.D. Martinez had an RBI single in the eighth inning and the Boston Red Sox rallied late to beat the Kansas City Royals 2-1 on Friday night.
Martinez's single to left was just the third hit for Boston, which had just tied it up when reliever Scott Barlow (4-2) walked Jason Verdugo with the bases loaded after Dylan Coleman issued two walks to start the inning.
Garrett Whitlock (4-2) gave up a hit in the eighth and Matt Strahm got the last three outs for his fourth save.
Boston had lost six of eight, including a two-game sweep by the Yankees at home this week and nearly fell to the struggling Royals.
Kansas City, which has lost four straight and eight of 10, led 1-0 after MJ Melendez opened the sixth with a triple and easily scored on a single by Salvador Perez.
The Royals finished with eight hits -- all coming from different players. Only Nicky Lopez, who batted eighth, failed to get a hit.
Jonathan Heasley started and pitched 6 2/3 scoreless innings for the Royals, allowing two hits and striking out five.

Michael Wacha went seven innings for Boston, giving up one run and seven hits while striking out four.
Melendez led off the sixth with a drive deep to center, where Kiké Hernández leaped high at the base of the wall but couldn't quite reach the ball. Melendez was already well around second before Tommy Pham ran over from left and got the ball back to the infield.
Coleman started the eighth for Kansas City and issued back-to-back walks. Barlow loaded the bases by walking Rafael Devers, struck out Xander Bogaerts, but walked Verdugo on four pitches with Hernández trotting home for the tying run.
Martinez was next and lined a single to left that easily scored Abraham Almonte, who pinch-hit for Kevin Plaweck and drew the second walk of the inning.
Boston squandered an opportunity in the fifth after a pair of walks and a single by Arroyo loaded the bases with one out for Hernández, who grounded into a double play.
HOLD UP
Some baserunning mistakes caught both clubs early in the game. Devers singled for Boston with one out in the first, but strayed way too far when Bogaerts hit a soft fly that Bobby Witt Jr. caught and easily made the throw to double-up Devers.

In the third, Dozier led off with a liner off the Green Monster for the Royals' first hit, but attempted to stretch it into a double and was easily caught by Pham's throw from left.
TRAINER'S ROOM
Royals: Witt fouled a ball off the top of his left foot in the sixth and needed a few minutes before stepping back into the batter's box. Manager Mike Matheny and a member of the Royals' training staff came out of the dugout to make sure the star rookie SS was OK.
Red Sox: 2B Trevor Story was out of the lineup for the third straight game since injuring his left heel on a base Sunday at Baltimore. Manager Alex Cora said Story is improving and could return to the lineup this weekend.

Albert Pujols hits 698th homer, helps Cards beat Reds 6-5

By DAVID SOLOMON
AP Sports Editor

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Albert Pujols hit his 698th home run, a tying two-run drive in the sixth inning that sparked the St. Louis Cardinals over the Cincinnati Reds 6-5 on Friday night.
Pujols hit a first-pitch slider from Raynel Espinal 427 feet into the left-field stands for his 19th home run this season, tying the score 4-4. Pujols trails only Barry Bonds (762), Hank Aaron (755) and Babe Ruth (714) on the career list.
With 2,203 RBIs, the 42-year-old Pujols moved within 11 of Ruth for second, behind Aaron's 2,297.
Ryan Helsley struck out Kyle Farmer, Jake Fraley and Donovan Solano on nine pitches for his 18th save in 22 chances, the third immaculate inning in Cardinals history after Bob Gibson in 1969 and Jason Isringhausen in 2002.
Pujols is hitting .324 9 (45 for 139) with 15 homers and 35 RBIs in 47 games since July 10. Five of his last six home runs have come in the sixth inning or later, and his last five homers have tied the game or put St. Louis ahead.

Pujols hit a drive to T.J. Friedl at the left-field wall in the seventh. He is in his 22nd major league season and intends to retire at the end of the season.
St. Louis (85-60), which began the night with a 7 1/2-game lead over second-place Milwaukee in the NL Central, has 17 games remaining.
After Farmer homered off JoJo Romero to give Cincinnati a 5-4 lead in the seventh, Brandon Donovan walked against Ian Gibaut (1-2) leading off the bottom half, and Paul Goldschmidt and Nolan Arenado followed with consecutive RBI doubles.
Chris Stratton (9-4) got the final out of the seventh. Cardinals starter Jack Flaherty allowed four runs, six hits, two walks and two hit batters in five innings.
Goldschmidt doubled twice and got his 111th RBI.
Reds starter Fernando Cruz, wearing No. 21 to honor Roberto Clemente, retired his first five batters as an opener before hitting Pujols with a pitch and coming out of the game.

Pitcher Jason Motte of the 2011 champion Cardinals and goaltender Jordan Binnington of the 2019 Stanley Cup champion St. Louis Blues threw out ceremonial first pitches.
TRAINER'S ROOM
Reds: RHP Hunter Greene (right shoulder strain) will be activated off the injured list to start the night game of Saturday's doubleheader, his first start since Aug. 1 at Miami.
Cardinals: OF Dylan Carlson (sprained left thumb) started in center field for Triple-A Memphis Friday night at Iowa and hit a pair of doubles in three at bats. He is expected to start for Memphis Saturday and Sunday and could rejoin the big league club Tuesday.

UP NEXT
RHP Dakota Hudson (7-7, 4.43 ERA) will be recalled from Triple-A Memphis to start Saturday's day game against LHP Mike Minor (4-11, 5.78 ERA) who has not won a start against St. Louis since Aug. 25, 2013 while pitching for Atlanta. LHP José Quintana (5-6, 3.34 ERA), who starts the night game, is 2-1 with a 2.93 ERA in nine starts since he was acquired from Pittsburgh on Aug. 1.

No. 16 Jennies beat Gorillas in four sets

By Jim Henry
Sports Editor

Pittsburg State owned the lead for much of the time in its match against No. 16 Central Missouri, especially in the last three sets.

But the Jennies recovered with strong finishes to spoil the Gorillas' upset bid 3-1 (25-21, 25-22, 22-25, 25-22) in MIAA volleyball action Friday afternoon at John Lance Arena.

For example, the Jennies

- overcame an 18-15 deficit and scored the final four points of the first set, the last three on service aces by libero Rylie Barnum;

- trailed 19-11 and 21-18 in the second set before scoring seven of the final eight points, including four points on blocks;

- trailed 15-11 in the fourth set before another comeback ended with a 5-2 spurt to break a 20-20 deadlock.

"We were right there, and then they popped our bubble at the end," PSU coach Jen Gomez said. "But that's some of the best volleyball I've seen our team play in a long time. We had so many opportunities to close that out. What this team has to learn is when you have your foot on the throat, you just have to finish it."

After the disappointment of dropping the second set, the Gorillas rebounded by winning the third set. Leading 18-15, the Gorillas received three kills from Lexi Miller, two from Bailey Phoenix and one each from Janae Thurston and Meg Auten to close the set.

"This team will battle back," Gomez said. "That's when you have to finish. We're still learning that. We play like that against most teams, we come out on top."

Miller, a graduate student who prepped at Carl Junction, slammed a season-high 17 kills to lead the Gorillas (7-5, 1-2 MIAA).

"By far that was Lexi's best match," Gomez said. "That kid came to play today. She did a great job."

"I thought she and Meg held the outside down really well. Janae coming in and hitting (.412 with eight kills and one error in 17 attacks). She can change the tone of the game."

"I also think we hurt ourselves with our serving. We missed seven serves, and they always seem to come at the wrong time when we're trying to build momentum."

Auten notched a double-double with 14 kills and 13 digs, and Bailey and Thurston contributed nine and eight kills, respectively.

Setter Bri Richard tied her career high with 55 assists, and she served two aces.

Bailey and Seville Bates made five and four total blocks, respectively.

Libero Marissa Bates led the defense with 22 digs, and Josie McCroskey had 11 digs.

Sydney Lierz and Tiffany Little had 11 kills apiece to pace Central Missouri (7-4, 3-0).

Other leaders for the Jennies included Jenna Schulte with six blocks, Chandler Vaughn with 43 assists, Barnum with five aces and Barnum with 20 digs.

The Gorillas play another home conference game against Missouri Western at 2 p.m. Saturday.

Tight end Garrison becomes big part of PSU passing game

Gorillas face RiverHawks on Saturday

By Jim Henry
Sports Editor

Pittsburg State wanted to incorporate the tight end into its passing game more this season.

Through two games, tight end Dylan Garrison shares the team lead with nine receptions entering the Gorillas' Family Day Game on Saturday against Northeastern State. Kickoff is at 7 for the Gorillas' final night game of the regular season.

Garrison, 6-foot-6, 221-pound senior from Elk River, Minn., caught nine passes for 112 yards and two touchdowns in 15 games over the last two seasons.

So far this season, Garrison has nine receptions for 142 yards and two scores. He shares the team lead in catches with wide receivers Bryce Murphy and Christian Carter.

"It all started with work over the summer, getting in here with Chad (Dodson, quarterback) multiple times every week," Garrison said. "Keep building that rapport and keep going on throughout this season."

"With us, I think the sky is the limit. Last year with Mak (Sexton), we had a good connection, but moving on with Chad ... sometimes I know the ball is coming. He knows where I'm going to be. The timing has gotten like crazy this year so far."

Garrison grabbed a career-best six catches for 94 yards, including touchdown receptions of seven and 36 yards, in the Gorillas' 35-28 victory at Nebraska-Kearney.

"I'm the type of guy, I know what I bring to the table, and however the coaches want to use me, I'm game for it," Garrison said.

"He's proven himself over the course of the last year and a half here," Gorillas coach

Dylan Garrison

Brian Wright said. "He's a guy who can get downfield, runs well, has a huge catch radius and understands the offense really well."

"We move him around a lot to a lot of different positions, and he handles that really well. It's great to see him producing on game day now."

The Gorillas' 2-0 start landed them at No. 16 in this week's AFCA Division II poll. It's their first national ranking since beating Central Missouri in the season opener in 2021.

The recognition doesn't produce changes in the Gorillas' plans this week.

"I hope it's another week of preparation and working to get better because that's where it needs to be. That's where the focus needs to be, and our team needs to be dialed in every week. I'm sure we have some confidence coming out of that game, but we've also been told how good we are after two weeks. We need to understand we're nowhere where we need to be or want to be yet. We have work to do."

The RiverHawks are 0-2 after falling at home 30-13 last Saturday night to Missouri Southern. The game was tied 13-13 after three quarters.

"I see an improved football team," Wright said. "I see a group that really in all three phases has a good scheme. Their guys are playing hard. Their guys are executing those schemes. They will be really excited to come in here and play. This is a better football team at Northeastern than they were a year ago when we played them."

week. She deserves it."

Frontenac cross country runner Cera Schenck and Girard football player Alex Coester are the Morning Sun athletes of the week for the week ending Sept. 9.

Cera Schenck

Schenck, a freshman, opened her high school cross country career with a second-place finish at the Girard Rigatoni Run. She claimed runner-up with a time of 20:44.

She helped the Raiders to a second-place team finish as Frontenac placed four runners within the top-12. The Raiders closed the meet beating the St. Mary's Colgan Panthers by eight points.

"Cera had a great high school debut at Girard," head coach Caryn Murray said. "Cera was an undefeated junior high cross country runner and had some pretty incredible two-mile times. We are excited to have this talented freshman as a part of our FHS team."

"She is a strong, natural runner and has the right mindset to have an outstanding career. Cera has worked hard in the offseason and looks stronger each day. We are excited for her to be showcased this

Alex Coester
Coester, a senior, shined in the Trojans' second week 38-12 victory against the St. Mary's Colgan Panthers.

Girard's lead running back rushed the ball for 86 yards on 15 attempts. Coester also provided four touchdowns in the victory, giving him six through two games.

"He's kind of battling some injuries here and the kind of guy who shows up to practice and goes to work," head coach Neal Philpot said. "He understands what we are doing on the field, offense and defense. Those touchdowns don't come without everybody else doing their job too, but he's done a really nice job for us."

"He was a captain last year too, and he has some good experience with that. But he's a guy that comes to practice and works, leads by example and that's the kind of leaders you want."

Selemaea logs career-best 11 tackles against Lopers

By Jim Henry
Sports Editor

Talk about irony.

Pittsburg State linebacker Morgan Selemaea saw his 2021 football season end in the second game because of a knee injury against Nebraska-Kearney. And his season was off to a good start with 10 tackles.

This season in Week 2 against Nebraska-Kearney, Selemaea recorded a career-best 11 tackles as the Gorillas knocked off the nationally ranked Lopers 35-28 on Sept. 8.

"It was good to get back at Nebraska-Kearney," Selemaea said. "But right now it's a new journey, 2022, and I'm excited for what the Gorillas have in store."

"It was really diffi-

cult for me, watching my team (in 2021). Just being taken away from the game like that, but I trusted in God. I trusted in my teammates that they were still going to be there for me."

The Gorillas trailed by 14 points twice against the Lopers during the first half and were behind 21-14 at halftime.

But the Gorillas adjusted from a four-man defensive front to a three-man defensive front for the second half and limited the Lopers to seven points.

"That first half we stopped them one out of the four times," Selemaea said. "So they scored three consecutive drives. We just looked at ourselves on the bench and we were like this isn't who we are. Then coming out the second half, it's a new game."

Selemaea, 5-foot-11, 201-pound senior, was Missouri's Class 4 offensive player player of the year in 2016 as a senior at Harrisonville High School, helping the Wildcats win the state championship.

But it's been strictly defense for him at Pittsburg State. He saw his first action in the third game of his freshman season in 2017, and his 14 tackles this season -- one behind fellow All-American linebacker P.J. Sarwinski -- give him 202 in 40 career games.

Off to a 2-0 start, the Gorillas play host to Northeastern State at 7 p.m. Saturday.

"I really do love this team and what we have to bring to the table," Selemaea said. "I just love my team and love being around them."

And he loves being part of a linebacking corps loaded with talent and depth.

"We have great communication with all 11 on the field," he said. "Even the 2s and 3s, they can come out here and take my job if I'm not on my (game). It's great competition."

Panthers win Galena Invitational

Staff Reports
sports@morningsun.net

JOPLIN, Mo. -- The St. Mary's Colgan girls golf team once again displayed its depth Thursday while winning the Galena Invitational at Schifferdecker Golf Course.

After firing a 178 at last year's nine-hole tournament, the Panthers carded a 175 to cruise to a 28-shot victory over Columbus. Chanute (214), Frontenac (224) and Girard (226) rounded out the top five.

The Panthers placed six golfers within the top 15. Colgan was led by Ali Scripsick, who fired a round of 39 to lead the field.

Ava Scripsick was just three strokes behind, placing second with a 42. Molly Swezey placed fifth with a 47.

The Panthers' Greta Ison (47), Zoey Smith (49) and Audrey Goetting (51) finished sixth, ninth and 13th, respectively.

Frontenac sent four golfers, highlighted by Addie Josephson and Ruth Frederick, who scored a 50 to tie for 10th place. The Raiders' Kayla Hensley tied for 14th (52) and Callie Underwood (72) finished 28th.

Girard's Ashley Sabine placed 16th with a 54. Teammate Karlyn Fisher tied for 18th place, carding a 55. In addition, Ainsley Viets was 21st (56), while Jordan Oplotnik placed 25th (61). Arianna Ramirez finished 27th (66), and Hanna Bailey was 29th (74).

K-State on rise with old-school defensive-minded philosophy

By DAVE SKRETTA
AP Sports Writer

MANHATTAN, Kan. (AP) -- The hallmark of the early Bill Snyder teams at Kansas State was a dominating defense, one so ferocious that highlights of players engulfing a running back or ripping the helmet off a quarterback are still shown in the stadium today.

Turns out that's becoming the hallmark of the early teams under Chris Klieman, too.

The Wildcats opened the season with one of the handful of shutouts across Division I, a 34-0 victory over South Dakota that was even more lopsided than the final score. And they followed up with a 42-12 blowout of former Big 12 rival Missouri in which the only touchdown allowed came on an untimed down to finish the game.

The only team to allow fewer touchdowns is Georgia. Only four other teams are allowing fewer points per game.

"Those guys are flying to the football and that's the kind of tenacity and physicality that we want to have," said Klieman, who has spent the majority of his three-plus decades in college football coaching that side of the ball.

"I think that's so critical to our success," Klieman said. "They run if there are loafs on the field and they get passed up by a teammate in practice. We chart all that stuff, and those guys are excited for each other when they make a play."

Sounds a lot like the Wildcats while Snyder was building them into a perennial power.

With early coordinator Phil Bennett, and later Bob Elliott running the show, the Wildcats consistently had one of the 10 best defenses in the country. And they produced NFL draft picks regularly: Thomas Randolph was a second-round pick in 1994, fellow defensive back Chris Canty was a first-rounder a few years later, linebacker Mark Simoneau helped New Orleans win the Super Bowl and cornerback Terence Newman won the Thorpe Award before a 15-year NFL career.

Some fans began calling them "the lynch mob," a politically incorrect name soon shortened to simply "the mob." And that's exactly what they looked like on the field, flowing to the ball and making life miserable for opposing offenses.

The similarities to the defense Klieman and coordinator Joe Klanderman have fielded this year are striking.

The Wildcats have held their first two opponents to 1 yard or less on 25 plays, frequently spending as much time in the backfield as the opposing quarterback -- who, incidentally, has been sacked five times. And things aren't much better when they have time to throw: The Wildcats have picked off five passes, their most through two games since 2000.

Four of those interceptions, thrown two different Missouri quarterbacks, ended four consecutive drives.

"I started getting a little confused out there, like, 'What's going on?' One after the other after the other," Kansas State defensive tackle Eli Huggins said. "Every time I was about to sit down, I had to stand back up."

The Wildcats' defense wasn't nearly so ferocious through the first part of last season. But that's when Klieman, who followed Klieman from North Dakota State, made a stunningly ambitious decision to scrap his system for a 3-3-5 setup that would better fit Kansas State's personnel while dealing with the overwhelming speed across the Big 12.

Despite being a work in progress, the Wildcats did not allow anyone to score more than 22 points in their last six games, and an off-season spent tweaking the system has only produced better results this season.

"We still got a long way to go," Klanderman said. "I mean, we're still developing."

That development has a lot to do with incorporating newcomers.

Sure, the Wildcats return All-American candidate Felix Anudike-Uzomah at defensive end, and their defensive front and their linebacker corps are among the best in the Big 12. But questions abounded in the backfield, where hard-hitting junior college safety Kobe Savage has teamed with Virginia transfer Josh Hayes to form an intimidating back-end tandem.

"I think they're phenomenal," Klanderman said. "Kobe, in particular, improved so much from Week 1 to Week 2. I know he had a pretty good game against South Dakota, but he was better against Missouri. And I think Josh, having missed the South Dakota game, will improve quite a bit between what he did against Missouri and what he can do this week."

If there is improvement to be done, it had better happen in a hurry.

The Wildcats face another defense-minded opponent in Tulane on Saturday to wrap up their nonconference schedule, then they head south to face sixth-ranked Oklahoma in one of marquee showdowns of the early Big 12 slate.

"We all know who the opponents are," Klieman said. "It's about us and our preparation and these guys know it. There are no shortcuts to success. If you prepare mentally and physically, it gives you a chance to be successful on Saturday. Do you win? Depends how you execute. But if you don't prepare mentally and physically, anybody can get beat in college football."

No. 8 Oklahoma State looks to stay sharp vs. Arkansas-PB

By CLIFF BRUNT
AP Sports Writer

Oklahoma State has climbed to No. 8 in the AP Top 25, and although the Cowboys have had some rough moments, they are winning. That's more than can be said for many other teams that entered the season with playoff aspirations. Oklahoma State is in a strong position after a 34-17 victory over Arizona State and looks to keep the momentum going in their final non-conference tune-up for Big 12 play.

Oklahoma State wants to use Saturday's game against Arkansas-Pine Bluff as a final tune-up before Big 12 play.

The eighth-ranked Cowboys are in strong position after opening the season with two wins, including a 34-17 victory over Arizona State last Saturday. But they have watched enough college football this season to know better than to overlook an opponent. Last week was littered with upsets, and Oklahoma State coach Mike Gundy doesn't want to be another victim.

"I'm stressing the importance of focus," he said. "I'm stressing the importance of us improving in all three phases and also we understand we always respect whoever we play."

Pine Bluff is coming off a 76-3 win over North American, an NAIA program. It was the fourth-highest scoring total in Golden Lions history and the first time they have scored at least 70 points since 1990.

Pine Bluff's Skyler Perry has passed for 434 yards and three touchdowns in two games. He completed 10 of 11 passes for 212 yards and two touchdowns against North American. He leads an offense that tops the FCS with 62 points per game.

"Sometimes that's hard to do when you're playing air," Gundy said. "Our players are aware of that. They've got some guys that run around and make plays."

Pine Bluff averages 283 yards passing and 248 yards rushing.

"We've been good in each phase of it," Pine Bluff coach Doc Gamble said. "We're running the ball well, and that's what we expect to do. And we're throwing it at a high completion rate, which is always important for us. We're hitting on all cylinders offensively."

Gundy's offense might welcome a shootout. The Cowboys are averaging 46 points and 498 yards through two games. Quarterback Spencer Sanders ranks third nationally in total offense with 392.5 yards per game.

Ex-Oklahoma QB Thompson's son to lead Nebraska vs. Sooners

By CLIFF BRUNT
AP Sports Writer

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) -- Former Oklahoma quarterback Charles Thompson will return to the site of what he calls his greatest college victory but in a very different role.

Thompson, one of masters of Barry Switzer's wishbone offense, led the second-ranked Sooners to a 17-7 win at No. 1 Nebraska back in 1987 in what was dubbed the "Game of the Century II." He will be back at Memorial Stadium in Lincoln, Nebraska on Saturday to cheer as his son, Casey, plays quarterback for Nebraska against No. 6 Oklahoma.

The game has special meaning for Charles because it's a series he grew up watching. Nebraska and Oklahoma were powers in the Big 8 and Big 12 for decades before the Huskers left for the Big Ten, and the programs often played late-season games that affected the national title race.

"To be a part of it in this aspect it's a little bit different for me," Charles said. "Obviously, my son being the quarterback for the University of Nebraska and having a chance to go play against the Sooners is one of those deals -- you can never say never."

Charles had 21 carries for 126 yards in that 1987 game, and Oklahoma clinched the Big 8 title and a chance to play for the national championship in the Orange Bowl. Some old-school Nebraska fans still remember him ruining their Thanksgiving weekend.

"A lot of the fans say, 'Hey, man, we're really glad Casey is here, but I got to be honest, boy, you broke our hearts on that day,'" Charles said.

It's been a strange ride for Charles as a parent. Casey led Texas, Oklahoma's most hated rival, against the Sooners last year. He passed for 388 yards and five touchdowns, but the Sooners won 55-48.

Now, Casey has transferred to Oklahoma's most historically respected rival. Charles said he wouldn't wear Texas' burnt orange last year, but he doesn't mind wearing Nebraska's scarlet and cream.

"Red has always been my favorite color anyway," Charles said with a laugh.

"I never actually wore the burnt orange. I did wear the logo, but it was either solid black or something white but never ever the burnt orange. But I don't have a problem putting on the Nebraska red."

While seeing a Thompson play in the game will bring back memories for some, elements of Saturday's game will be very different. Oklahoma remains a powerhouse as it was in the 1980s, but Nebraska has struggled in recent years.

Nebraska won two national titles in the 1970s and three more in the 1990s, but the Huskers haven't reached that level of greatness the past two decades. The program has been knocking on the door the past two years with a series of close losses, but the latest setback -- a 45-42 loss to Georgia Southern -- cost coach Scott Frost his job.

Now, under interim coach Mickey Joseph, Casey could help launch Nebraska's return to glory. Charles said the Huskers aren't that far from being successful again.

"I think they've played decent and I think they're offensively playing well enough to win games," Charles said. "It's got to be complementary football, though. They (the offense) have to do a little bit more to help the defense and vice versa."

OKLAHOMA

Casey could have been a Sooner. Oklahoma recruited him out of high school before he chose Texas. And when Casey was in the transfer portal, new Oklahoma coach Brent Venables tried to get him.

But Oklahoma also had recruited Dillon Gabriel, who knew offensive coordinator Jeff Lebby from their time together at Central Florida. Charles said the fact that Gabriel knew Lebby's offense already led him to go elsewhere. Casey has fit in quickly at Nebraska. In three games, he has passed for 866 yards and four touchdowns and rushed for four scores. "He's a winner," Venables said. "He's a leader. He believes in himself, so he plays with a lot of confidence. You'd really rather have an athletic, dual-threat guy that's a scatterbrain, you know? He's not like that. He's kind of that stealth bomber mindset, which I love and respect."

Running back Dominic Richardson had 131 yards rushing and 44 yards receiving against Arizona State. "He's a big, physical runner," Gundy said. "He's maturing some, we know that. He actually made some guys miss in space, which was encouraging. Arizona State had skill and so, I was encouraged by that." Overall, the Cowboys will be focused primarily on details and effort. "We need to be held accountable for ourselves as individuals and our three units and then line up and go play hard," Gundy said. MULTIPLE THREATS

Oklahoma State has four receivers with six or more catches so far this season. Braydon Johnson leads the way with 10 catches for 214 yards and a touchdown. Bryson Green has eight catches for 117 yards and two touchdowns, Brennan Presley has nine catches for 106 yards and John Paul Richardson has six catches for 96 yards and a score.

Chiefs defense complementing offense during 2-0 start

By DAVE SKRETTA
AP Sports Writer

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) -- Patrick Mahomes and the Chiefs offense had been struggling all night against a ferocious Chargers pass rush when Jaylen Watson, an unheralded seventh-round draft pick, and the rest of the defense bailed them out.

Watson picked off the Chargers' Justin Herbert early in the fourth quarter Thursday night and returned the interception 99 yards for a go-ahead score that lifted Kansas City to an important 27-24 victory.

It was the second straight week that the Chiefs defense came up big, and an encouraging sign for a franchise that has often leaned far too heavily on Mahomes and his prolific offense to simply outscore opponents in big games.

"I talked to him afterward -- I'm having a little birthday party on Saturday," said Mahomes, who will turn 27 on the same day Watson is turning 23. "I told him it's his birthday party now, the way he played."

It wasn't just that Watson came up with the play of the day; it's that the entire defense rose to the occasion.

The Chargers raced to a 10-0 lead, then carried a 17-7 advantage into halftime, before coordinator Steve Spagnuolo's rebuilt bunch made a couple of tweaks to their game plan. They wound up holding Herbert and the potent Chargers offense off the scoreboard until a touchdown with just over a minute to go, by which point they needed to convert an onside kick.

The Chiefs recovered it and were able to run out the clock on the divisional win.

"We stuck together," Chiefs safety Justin Reid said. "When crunch time came, players made big plays."

It wasn't only Watson, either. Chris Jones had two more sacks -- he has six in three career Thursday night games. Mike Danna put such a lick on Herbert that he knocked the quarterback from the game for a play. Willie Gay led the way with 11 tackles, two for a loss, and added two pass deflections.

Despite gaining 401 yards of total offense, the Chargers finished just 5 for 16 on third downs.

That was enough to keep the Chiefs in the game long enough for their offense to score some points, and to give Watson a chance to play the hero with what tied for the second-longest interception return for a touchdown in franchise history.

"That's the biggest thing: They just kept us in the game," Mahomes said of the defense, which held Arizona to six points until deep into the fourth quarter in Week 1. "With a young defense like that, to see them play that way, that's going to carry us through the rest of the season."

WHAT'S WORKING

It became clear that Kansas City was the fresher team in the second half, a byproduct of the brutally tough training camps that Andy Reid has made his hallmark. The ability to win games in the fourth quarter is an important trait.

WHAT NEEDS HELP

The running game struggled to find space besides one carry by Clyde Edwards-Helaire that went for 52 yards and set up an important fourth-quarter field goal. Otherwise, the Chiefs carried 17 times for just 40 yards in the game.

STOCK UP

Jerick McKinnon only carried four times for 12 yards, but he continued to prove his usefulness in the passing game by hauling in a touchdown pass in the second quarter. It's precisely the kind of versatility that Kansas City expects out of him after deciding to bring McKinnon back this past offseason.

STOCK DOWN

Wide receivers JuJu Smith-Schuster and Mar-

quez Valdes-Scantling signed as free agents to help make up for the trade of Tyreek Hill to Miami. But neither could find much room to work Thursday night. Smith-Schuster finished with three catches for 10 yards while Valdes-Scantling caught just two of his seven targets for 13 yards.

INJURIES

Danna hurt his calf late in the game. Wide receiver Justin Watson hurt his chest during the onside kick. Neither of the injuries is expected to be serious for the Chiefs, who hope to have kicker Harrison Butker (ankle) back for their next game after using Matt Ammendola as a fill-in Thursday night.

KEY NUMBER

0 -- The Chiefs did not commit a turnover, though Mahomes was fortunate to have one overturned by replays that showed the ball hitting the ground, and at least two more that slipped through the fingers of the Chargers defense.

NEXT STEPS

After winning two games in five days, the Chiefs get a well-earned break this weekend. They'll begin preparation Monday for their trip to Indianapolis on Sept. 25, the first of back-to-back road games.

Chargers' Herbert day-to-day with fractured rib cartilage

By JOE REEDY
AP Sports Writer

Los Angeles Chargers quarterback Justin Herbert has fractured rib cartilage after taking a hit during the fourth quarter of Thursday night's 27-24 loss to the Kansas City Chiefs.

Coach Brandon Staley said a CT scan Friday morning confirmed the injury. Staley said the third-year quarterback is day-to-day and that his status will be evaluated again on Monday. The Chargers (1-1) don't return to the practice field until Wednesday, when they will begin preparing to host Jacksonville on Sept. 25.

"I think we got good news in terms of what the CT scan showed. You don't want it to be a fracture of the bone. So the fact that it's cartilage was a good sign," Staley said. "It's going to come down to comfort. Let the weekend calm down and then when we get into game week we'll have a better sense of how he's feeling."

Herbert completed 33 of 48 passes for 334 yards with three touchdowns and an interception. He missed only one play after taking a hard hit from Kansas City defensive lineman Michael Danna on 12-yard completion to Gerald Everett with five minutes to go.

Herbert was 7 of 11 for 79 yards after the injury, despite one play where he was in physical distress and threw the ball away on third-and-1 when he could have run for a first down. That stretch included a fourth-down bullet to DeAndre Carter for 35 yards to the Kansas City 8-yard line and then connecting with Joshua Palmer on fourth-and-goal for a 7-yard TD.

"Nobody cares about Justin more than I do. It's a tough game, and as long as he feels like he can go in that moment, then that's what we're gonna roll with," Staley said. "I think he did a good job of protecting himself. I think what you saw is that he's a really smart player. He's not gonna put himself at risk in that moment, not going to take one more extra hit than he needs to."

Chase Daniel would be in line to start if Herbert could not go. The 13-year veteran has six career starts, most recently in 2019 for the Chicago Bears.

Chastain watching his mirrors in playoff elimination race

By JENNA FRYER
AP Auto Racing Writer

Ross Chastain, the driver with a growing list of enemies, heads into the first elimination race of NASCAR's playoffs in a pretty comfortable position above the cutline.

It's Kyle Busch, and Austin Dillon, Chase Briscoe and Kevin Harvick, who are trying to stave off elimination Saturday night at Bristol Motor Speedway.

And yet Chastain can't relax, even as he sits ninth in the 16-driver field. The bottom four in the standings will be eliminated when the checkered flag falls at the Tennessee short track, and Chastain can't guarantee he won't be knocked below that cutline. He's angered enough fellow drivers this year that any payback headed his way could be delivered at a most inopportune time.

"I can't speak for what other people are thinking," Chastain said before Friday's practice and qualifying at Bristol. "I just know that I hit the wall nice and hard at Pocono."

Pocono is where Denney Hamlin refused to give Chastain even an inch of room on the track on a late restart because of previous incidents between the two. Hamlin had already declared "I've reached my peak" with Chastain before his aggressive retaliation forced Chastain into the wall.

Since then, Busch has made "Chastained" a verb in reference to when a driver gets hit by the eighth-generation Florida watermelon farmer, who has had a breakout first season with Trackhouse Racing. An anti-Chastain sentiment has developed and it wasn't helped last week when hard racing between Chastain, Harvick and Bubba Wallace caused Harvick to crash and lodge the first three-race DNF streak of Harvick's career.

Chastain acknowledged he "didn't lift in time, didn't leave him enough room, forced him into the wall" and that Harvick's crash "was still my fault."

Chastain even apologized to the 2014 NASCAR champion, who heads into Saturday night last in the 16-driver field because of Harvick's terrible opening two playoff races. Harvick is essentially in a must-win situation Saturday night for any shot at advancing into the second round.

Because non-playoff drivers Erik Jones and Wallace won the first two playoff races, only Christopher Bell of Joe Gibbs Racing has locked himself into the second round via points. And Bristol, a .533-mile bullring, has a long history of bumping and banging and heated tempers after the checkered flag.

BEETLE BAILEY

ASTROGRAPH by Eugenia Last

Take on something new and exciting, and let go of the things you have no control over. If you want to get ahead, you must be open and responsive to opportunities that come your way. There is no time to waste, and plenty you can accomplish if you are ready, willing and able to make a move on command.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) -- Leave nothing undone or in someone else's hands. Look at the price tag before you part with your cash, and consider the stress that comes with debt before you embark on a big commitment.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) -- Socializing will be informative. Ask questions and be a part of the conversation, and you'll meet people who encourage you to add to your knowledge, skills and experience.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) -- Take a physical approach to whatever you pursue. Be the one to enforce change if that's what you want. Refuse to let anyone stand in your way. Discuss opportunities with a like-minded colleague.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) -- Rely on intelligence to get you through your day. Refuse to let emotional matters take precedence over what's important to you. Walk away from negativity and lies. Finish what you start.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) -- Think before you spend. Pay attention to detail and gather information before deciding what to do next. Be prepared to retrace your steps. A change at home will benefit you.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) -- Not everyone will agree with you. Don't hesitate to head in a direction that suits your needs. You can't please everyone, but you can offer your blessing and get the same in return.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) -- Don't take anything or anyone for granted. Look at what you are up against, and take steps to deal with any obstacles. A reserved attitude is favored. Positive change begins with you.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) -- Travel about, ask questions and wrap your head around your objective. You can make a difference if you draw on people who can deliver the goods and complement what you offer.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) -- A joint venture will lead to emotional mayhem. Pay attention to how you present yourself to others, and you will receive compliments and interest in your work. Carry out your plan yourself.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) -- Be realistic and promise only what's feasible. Taking on too much will leave you in a compromising position. Put your heart and soul into something that matters to you.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) -- You'll come up with unique solutions that result in unexpected opportunities. Dig deep, gather information and prepare to dazzle onlookers. Heed the lessons of your personal experience.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) -- Stay focused on what's important. Don't let anyone sidetrack you or coerce you into something that benefits them instead of you. Gather information and pick up skills that will boost your income.

WHAT'S NEW ON DISNEY+

"Andor" - Season 1

The Star Wars franchise returns with a brand-new perspective in the new spinoff series "Andor," premiering Wednesday, Sept. 21, on Disney+. Set five years before the events of "Rogue One: A Star Wars Story" (2016), "Andor" tells the origin story of rebel spy Cassian Andor (Diego Luna, "The Book of Life," 2014) in an era filled with danger, deception and intrigue amid the burgeoning rebellion against the Empire. Heading down a dangerous path to stick up for what he believes is right, Andor embarks on the kind of journey destined to make him a rebel hero. Created by Tony Gilroy ("The Bourne Identity," 2002), "Andor" is directed by Benjamin Caron ("The Crown"), Toby Haynes ("Doctor Who") and new director Susanna White. Genevieve O'Reilly ("Tin Star"), Alex Ferns ("Wrath of Man," 2021), Wilf Scolding ("The One"), Noof Ousellam ("Guilt"), Adria Arjona ("Morbis," 2022), Clemens Schick ("Casino Royale," 2006), Anton Valensi ("Luther") and Fiona Shaw ("Killing Eve") also star.

WHAT'S NEW ON PRIME

"Raven's Hollow" (2022)

As the leaves begin to change and a month of spooky frights and delights looms just around the corner, Shudder treats fans to a slate of new original films and series. Setting the tone for the season is the new thriller "Raven's Hollow," premiering Thursday, Sept. 22, on Amazon Prime via Shudder. Following West Point cadet Edgar Allan Poe (William Moseley, "The Royals") and four other cadets on a training exercise in upstate New York, the story unfolds as they are drawn in by a gruesome discovery. When they happen upon a forgotten community, the young cadets find a mysterious township that appears to be guarding a frightening secret. Directed by Christopher Hatton ("Battle of the Damned," 2013) and co-written by Hatton and Chuck Reeves ("Ogre," 2008), "Raven's Hollow" comes from executive producers Mark Andrews ("The Fallout," 2021), Stephanie Denton ("War," 2007), Patrick Fischer ("Sea Fever," 2019), Emily Gotto ("Host," 2020), Richard Kondal ("Boundless"), Christina Lundbohm ("The Last Son," 2021) and new producer Alexander Hilton. The film also stars Melanie Zanetti ("Love and Monsters," 2020), Kate Dickie ("The Green Knight," 2021), David Hayman ("The Nest"), Callum Woodhouse ("All Creatures Great and Small"), Mathis

Landwehr ("V for Vendetta," 2005), Calum McGowan ("Jamestown"), Oberon K.A. Adjepong ("The Many Saints of Newark," 2021) and Kyle Rowe ("The Brothers Grimsby," 2016).

WHAT'S NEW ON HULU

"Reboot"

Get ready to deal with the past when the new Hulu original sitcom "Reboot" premieres Tuesday, Sept. 20, on the streamer. Once the stars of a hit (fictional) family sitcom called "Step Right Up," the dysfunctional cast has struggled for years to move forward in their careers and their lives. But when their series is picked back up for a reboot starring the original cast, they must all come together once more, resolve their issues and try to grasp their second chance at fame. Starring Keegan-Michael Key ("Schmigadoon!"), Judy Greer ("Arrested Development"), Calum Worthy ("American Vandal") and Johnny Knoxville ("Jackass: The Movie," 2002) as the sitcom's core cast, "Reboot" also stars Fred Melamed ("A Serious Man," 2009), Rose Abdoo ("Hacks"), Luke Millington-Drake ("Loot"), Bob Clendenin ("Cougar Town"), Kristian Flores ("Me Little Me," 2022), Mauricio Mendoza ("After School," 2014), Kenneth Mosley ("Kenan"), Michelle J. Costello ("East Los High"), Rachel Bloom ("Crazy Ex-Girlfriend"), Paul Reiser ("Stranger Things"), Izabella Miko ("Coyote Ugly," 2000), Krista Marie Yu ("Last Man Standing") and Dana Donnelly ("Everything's Gonna Be Okay").

"The Kardashians" - Season 2

The first family of reality TV welcomes viewers back into their glamorous lives when Season 2 of "The Kardashians" premieres Thursday, Sept. 22, on Hulu. An intimate journey into the next chapter of the famous family's lives after 14 years and 20 seasons on air in "Keeping Up With the Kardashians," this relatively new series follows mom Kris and sisters Kim, Kourtney, Khloe, Kylie and Kendall through their lives as they grapple with motherhood, sisterhood, romantic relationships and ever-growing career goals. As they work through their biggest triumphs and personal struggles on screen, fans can expect to see more of Kourtney and her new husband, Blink-182 drummer Travis Barker's, PDA-heavy relationship, as well as a peak into Kim's relationship with her former beau and "Saturday Night Live" star Pete Davidson. The series is executive produced by the family in collaboration with Ryan Seacrest, who, in addition to his tenure hosting "American Idol," was a longtime executive producer of "Keeping Up With the Kardashians."

WHAT'S NEW ON PARAMOUNT+ "SEAL Team" - Season 6

March back into the lives of ViacomCBS's brave Navy SEALs when Season 6 of "SEAL Team" premieres Sunday, Sept. 18, on Paramount+. The remainder of the season's 10 episodes air weekly on Sundays thereafter. As they train, plan and execute the most dangerous, high-stakes missions the United States of America can ask of them, Bravo Team, the most elite unit of the Navy SEALs, undertakes daring missions all over the world in the name of their country and its citizens. As team members Jason Hayes (David Boreanaz, "Bones"), Clay Spenser (Max Thieriot, "Bates Motel"), Mandy Ellis (Jessica Paré, "Mad Men"), Ray Perry (Neil Brown Jr., "Insecure"), Sonny Quinn (A.J. Buckley, "CSI: NY") and Lisa Davis (Toni Trucks, "The Twilight Saga: Breaking Dawn - Part 2," 2012) do their best to stay on top of their jobs, they must also deal with the intense burden their careers put on their respective families. After Season 5 ended on an explosive cliffhanger with a fiery ambush during the team's Mali operation, Season 6 opens with the team grappling with the aftermath of the attack. Survival is the name of the game as they now try to pick up the pieces and move forward with tactical and personal plans. From creator Benjamin Cavell ("Justified"), "SEAL Team" is directed by Christopher Chulack ("Longmire") and Ruben Garcia ("Shameless"). The series also stars Justin Melnick ("Five Hacks," 2012), Judd Lormand ("The Call," 2020), Scott Foxx ("Only the Brave," 2017), Parisa Fakhri ("What We Do in the Shadows"), Alona Tal ("Broken City," 2013), Kerri Medders ("Promised Land"), Kaliyah Rhambo ("Good Session," 2015), Mike Wade ("Jupiter's Legacy") and Michaela McManus ("The Orville").

WHAT'S NEW ON NETFLIX

"Thai Cave Rescue"

Immerse yourself in the inspiring true story of Thailand's Tham Luang cave rescue in the new drama miniseries "Thai Cave Rescue," premiering Thursday, Sept. 22, on Netflix. In 2018, 12 junior football players and their coach saw a fun day of exploration turn into an unimaginable nightmare in the blink of an eye when they suddenly became trapped in northern Thailand's Tham Luang cave. Having entered the cave without worry or incident, sudden heavy rainfall partially flooded the cave system, trapping the group deep inside for 18 days. As the world watched with bated breath, the rescue effort — which made international headlines and involved more than 10,000 volunteers, rescue workers, divers, law enforcement officers, soldiers and government representatives — worked tirelessly to free them. This new six-episode series focuses on the young athletes' experience as they anxiously await a way out. From showrunners and creators Michael Russell Gunn and Dana Ledoux Miller (both of "Designated Survivor"), "Thai Cave Rescue" is directed by Baz Poonpiriya ("Bad Genius," 2017), Kevin Tancharoen ("Fame," 2009) and Jon M. Chu ("Crazy Rich Asians," 2018). The series stars Thaneth Warakulnukroh ("Bad Genius," 2017), Papangkorn Lerkchaleampote ("The Stranded"), Manatsanun Panlertwongsakul ("Don't Touch My Dad"), Aisara Wongchalee ("The Love Proposal") and Urassaya Sperbund ("Brother of the Year," 2018). New talents Pratyapa-tong, Songpon Kantawong, Chakapat Srisat, Thanawut Chetuku, Teeraphat Somkaew, Thanaphong Kanthawong, Thanapat Phungpumkaew, Apisit Yukam, Watcharaphol Pongsawan and Rataphumi Nakisatit also star in the series.

Safe seas: Agents chase down naval crime in 'NCIS' crossover premiere

By Sarah Passingham
TV Media

Crime never sleeps and neither do the agents who make up the Naval Criminal Investigative Service. Returning for its Season 20 premiere Monday, Sept. 19, "NCIS" debuts a crossover event with its sister series, "NCIS: Hawai'i," which follows with its own Season 2 premiere. The two-part crossover premiere airs on CBS.

The long-running police procedural currently stars "The Ranch" actor Wilmer Valderrama as Special Agent Nick Torres, Brian Dietzen ("Congratulations," 2012) as Dr. Jimmy Palmer and "Arrow" star Katrina Law as Special Agent Jessica Knight. Together they make up part of the Major Case Response Team for NCIS, the organization that investigates crimes involving members of the U.S. Navy and Marine Corps.

The original "NCIS" series is set in Washington, D.C., and has elicited spinoffs in several other Navy hubs, including Los Angeles, New Orleans and, of course, Hawaii.

The Pearl Harbor-set series is led by Vanessa Lachey ("BH90210") as Special Agent Jane Tennant. "Claws" actor Jason Antoon stars as cyber specialist Ernie Malik, Noah Mills ("The Falcon and the Winter Soldier") as Tennant's second-in-command, Special Agent Jesse Boone, and Alex Tarrant ("The Lord of the Rings: The Rings of Power") as new recruit Kai Holman.

"NCIS" also recently said goodbye to original cast member Mark Harmon ("Chicago Hope"), who had portrayed NCIS Supervisory Special Agent Leroy Jethro Gibbs since the very first episode of the series 18 years ago. Harmon revealed why he left the show after wrapping up Gibbs' story in Season 19, Episode 4, saying, "What has always drawn me here is the character I play and to keep it fresh and to keep it challenging."

Gibbs' final appearance saw the special agent find peace in Alaska after he and his team were sent there on a case. Whether Gibbs has hung up his blue NCIS cap for good, however, is up in the air.

"I'm not retired," Harmon stated in the same DVD extra features interview. "The character is living in Alaska as far as I know."

In the same series of featurettes, executive producer Chas. Floyd Johnson ("JAG") noted that they deliberately left his plotline open.

"We left it to the fact that we didn't know if Gibbs could return," Johnson said. "He didn't say, 'I'll never come back.' There was sort of a hope that if there was ever a need, we might see Gibbs again."

Gibbs' departure left a gap in leadership in the NCIS Major Case Response Team that had to be filled. Last season of "NCIS" saw Special Agent Alden Parker, played by TV veteran Gary Cole ("The Good Fight"), take on the supervisory role for the team — a man whose work for the FBI initially connected him with Gibbs.

In a PaleyFest interview with Entertainment Tonight Canada, Cole spoke about Parker becoming the new supervisory agent, saying, "I just look at it as another character; I don't think it's a substitution or anything like that. The way they had my character enter was, I think, very smart writing because they had him involved with them first."

When asked about the prospect of another 20 seasons of "NCIS," Cole had a good laugh before joking, "That would take some special writing now, wouldn't it? Ten years from now, let's see. I don't know who I'd be chasing, but they'd better not be very fast."

If you're looking for a little sneak peek into the "NCIS" season premiere, CBS released a breakdown for the new episode, titled "A Family Matter." Parker and his ex-wife, Vivian (Teri Polo, "Good Trouble"), are still evading a threatening figure known as "The Raven," and with Special Agent Tennant and technology specialist Malik in D.C. for training, the "NCIS" team enlists their Hawaiian counterparts to crack the case.

In the "NCIS: Hawai'i" season premiere that follows, the agents follow leads to Oahu and collect intelligence on The Raven's disastrous plans.

In speaking to Entertainment Tonight this past May, Lachey expressed the relief and excitement that came with landing her dream gig as the "NCIS: Hawai'i" lead.

"I'm in my 40s," Lachey noted, continuing, "I have worked my whole life doing what I love, and now it's come to a place where it gets to be what I love in a place I love — Hawaii — with the people I love."

Lachey went on to say that spending time with her family in the 50th state and getting to write her book "all just feels very surreal but like all the hard work has come to fruition."

Fans of the franchise can also look ahead to an exciting new venture scheduled to make waves in 2023: "NCIS" welcomes its first international spinoff. As announced earlier this year, "NCIS: Sydney" will feature an Australian cast and stories about agents chasing nautical threats Down Under.

Don't miss the two-part crossover event when "NCIS" premieres its 20th season Monday, Sept. 19, on CBS, followed by the first episode of "NCIS: Hawai'i" Season 2.

Maureen Maher of "48 Hours" Wonder Woman

Gal Gadot stars as the legendary superheroine in this action hit. When U.S. Army pilot Steve Trevor (Chris Pine) crashes near the mythical island she calls home, Diana decides to accompany him back to the outside world to help put an end to World War I.

American Pickers

The pickers hit the road as they continue their hunt for hidden treasures. Mike and Danielle scour a sensory overload attic in Detroit in this new episode, while Jersey and Robbie follow a random lead to one late collector's mighty stockpile.

Masters of Illusion

Magicians Farrell Dillon, My Uyen, Stuart MacDonald, Johnny Ace Palmer, Levent, Ran D' Shine, Eric Jones and Ed Alonzo wow live audiences as they perform amazing feats, from sleight-of-hand and seemingly impossible escapes to interactive mind magic.

48 Hours

Season 36 of this multi award-winning TV newsmagazine kicks off as correspondents Erin Moriarty, Peter Van Sant and Maureen Maher join their colleagues to investigate some of the most incredible and shocking cases involving the American justice system.

First Home Fix

Raisa and Austin pull double duty with two renovations in this new episode from the show's freshman season. Mark and Michael want a fun, relaxing space to reflect their dynamic, while Bethany and Dave need storage and functionality for their family.

Sunday bestbets

Lesley Stahl of "60 Minutes"

60 Minutes

7 KOAM 6:30 p.m.

Season 55 of this landmark series begins tonight as correspondents ask the tough questions about some of today's most pressing events and concerns. Having first aired in 1968, this news magazine stars journalists Lesley Stahl and Anderson Cooper.

The $100,000 Pyramid

12 KODE 8:00 p.m.

Host Michael Strahan guides the action as celebrity guests Nico Santos, Lauren Ash, Nicole Byer and Jermaine Fowler team up with contestants who want a shot at the grand prize. The celebs give and receive clues as players try to guess mystery words.

Tales of the Walking Dead

AMC 8:00 p.m.

This new episode dives into a haunting tale of an apocalypse-traumatized couple who may or may not be tormented by a haunted house. Frightening memories and inexplicable phenomena in the house take a toll on their psyche and their relationship.

Halloween Wars

FOOD 8:00 p.m.

Host Zak Bagans ushers in spooky season with the Season 12 premiere of this fun Halloween baking competition. In the first of three qualifying rounds, three teams head to New Orleans where they must cast a sweet spell with the voodoo queen, Marie Laveau.

House of the Dragon

HBO 8:00 p.m.

The Targaryen family saga continues in a new episode of this "Game of Thrones" spinoff set 200 years before the original series. Starring Paddy Considine and Emma D'Arcy, more of the family's fiery history comes to light as the drama unfolds.

Rolling in the 'Dough': Streamers shift food focus to pizza

By Michelle Rose
TV Media

After years of food competitions aimed at creating a top-notch artisanal dining experience, streamers are finally focusing on a humbler food item that seems to be universally loved: pizza.

Hulu debuts its newest cooking competition series, "Best in Dough," this week, and pizza lovers/food fans won't want to watch this one on an empty stomach. Three 30-minute episodes see top pizza-slingers battle it out for a $10,000 prize beginning Monday, Sep. 19, before three more episodes drop next week (Sept. 26) and the final four on Oct. 3.

"Best in Dough" is hosted by "The Bachelorette" star Wells Adams, who is no longer a bachelor after marrying "Modern Family" star Sarah Hyland last month. Winners will be selected by head judge and chef Daniele Uditi ("The Chef Show") as well as chef Millie Peartree ("Chopped"), baker Bryan Ford ("The Artisan's Kitchen") and comedian/influencer Eunji Kim ("Bong Zombies").

If you've seen Jon Stewart's Chicago pizza rant from his "Daily Show" days, you'll know that people have strong feelings about their preferred pizza style, from classic Neapolitan to the square and crunchy Detroit style or the foldable New York slices seen in the opening scene of "Saturday Night Fever" (1977). Viewers are likely to see them all in "Best in Dough."

The Hulu competition isn't the only pizza-themed show to hit the airwaves this month, however. Netflix rolled out its latest installment of "Chef's Table" Wednesday, Sept. 7, featuring six 45-minute episodes exclusively devoted to pizza.

Now available for streaming, "Chef's Table: Pizza" marks the series' return after a two-year break.

Why pizza? In an interview with Entertainment Weekly, executive producer Brian McGinn explained: "Pizza is sort of the ultimate canvas.

You roll out some dough and then whatever you put on top and how you make it — that can be a perfect way of expressing who you are. And in a lot of ways, that's what 'Chef's Table' is about: people finding their voices, finding a way to express themselves, to express their cultures."

Check out "Chef's Table: Pizza" on Netflix now and don't miss "Best in Dough" when it premieres Monday, Sept. 19, on Hulu.

Night on the (Chi-)town

Chicago series return to NBC

By Joshua Amy
TV Media

Chicago may not have the stature of New York City or the glitz and glamour of Los Angeles, but the Windy City is no slouch in its flair for drama and excitement. NBC has made this clear to audiences for nearly a decade through its ever-growing One Chicago franchise.

Get ready to return to Chi-town when "Chicago Fire," "Chicago P.D." and "Chicago Med" begin their new seasons Wednesday, Sept. 21, on NBC.

Whether you prefer excitement to come from the pursuit of justice, the fight against the elements or the race against the clock to save a life, One Chicago has you covered.

Created by the unofficial king of police procedurals, Dick Wolf ("Law & Order"), NBC's Chicago block of programming began with "Chicago Fire" in 2012. Since then, the series has expanded into a sort of "Chicago-verse" of interconnected spinoffs. Following a backdoor pilot (an episode intended to lay the groundwork for a new series) for each of them, "Chicago P.D." premiered in 2014, followed by "Chicago Med" in 2015.

The eldest series, "Chicago Fire," follows the dramatic lives of the Chicago Fire Department's bravest firefighters, rescue workers and paramedics. For the crews of Firehouse 51 — which include, among others, Gallo (Alberto Rosende, "Shadowhunters"), Cruz (Joe Minoso, "Boss"), Ritter (Daniel Kyri, "The T"), Lt. Severide (Taylor Kinney, "The Forest," 2016) and District 4 Deputy Chief Boden (Eamonn Walker, "Oz") — the drama of responding to the city's emergencies may be the underlying structure of each episode, but the real draw for viewers is the strong cast of characters and their relationships.

Last season saw quite the shakeup to Firehouse 51's operations when Lt. Matthew Casey (Jesse Spencer, "House") surprised everyone with a move to Portland, Ore. His sudden departure called into question whether chief paramedic — and Casey's girlfriend — Sylvie Brett (Kara Killmer, "Beyond the Mask," 2015) would stick around for Season 11.

The Season 10 finale reassured fans of both Brett's commitment to the service and to Casey (whose guest appearance leaves the door open for potential future drop-ins). Only time will tell if fans will see more of Casey (or other former favorites) this season.

Guest appearances by former stars aren't unheard of for the series. Audiences have already seen former chief paramedic Gabby Dawson (Monica Raymund, "Hightown") make a crowd-pleasing appearance since departing "Fire" at the end of Season 6. The interconnectedness of the One Chicago series means familiar faces can pop up in any of its three shows.

"Chicago P.D." frequently sees its officers enlist the help of characters from "Fire" and "Med."

"P.D." follows Det. Sgt. Hank Voight (Jason Beghe, "Californication") as he leads the CPD's Intelligence Unit to investigate the most serious crimes in the city. Voight's morally dubious past leaves him with a somewhat ruthless reputation that may help him professionally but causes strife in his personal life.

The ninth season of "P.D." saw the Intelligence Unit investigating a drug-running cartel. As the case escalated, detectives Jay Halstead (Jesse Lee Soffer, "The Brady Bunch Movie," 1995), Hailey

The cast of "Chicago Fire"

Upton (Tracy Spiridakos, "Bates Motel") and Voight found themselves in a tense standoff resulting in the death of a trusted criminal informant.

The big question for Season 10 is how Voight and the team manage the fallout of a death they worked so hard to avoid.

Where "P.D." and "Fire" have more action-packed set pieces to drive their stories, "Chicago Med" leans harder into the interpersonal drama of Gaffney Chicago Medical Center's emergency staff. The drama/trauma pairing is a tried-and-true television staple and "Med" nails the combination.

Headed by former plastic surgeon Dr. Will Halstead (Nick Gehlfuss, "Shameless"), the emergency department is the kind of high-stress environment that leads to fast friendships and faster fallouts among staff, two of whom are Dr. Ethan Choi (Brian Tee, "Jurassic World," 2015) and RN Maggie Lockwood (Marlyne Barrett, "The Wire").

Wolf's connected universe allows for a much stronger sense of world-building between the shows. Favorite characters from one show often appear in another, be it "Fire's" Violet Mikami (Hanako Greensmith, "Bull") and Brett dropping off a patient in "Med" or Voight and the "P.D." team aiding senior firefighters Christopher Herrmann (David Eigenberg, "Sex and the City") and Mouch McHolland (Christian Stolte, "Public Enemies," 2009) as Firehouse 51 is targeted by a serial bomber.

The ability to carry plotlines between series can raise the stakes without needing to introduce new characters. The shared universe expands past the Windy City, however, as Wolf's interconnected prime-time empire stretches as far as the Law & Order and FBI franchises — both of which have had crossovers of their own with One Chicago.

Speaking with Variety, Wolf hinted at his strategy for keeping things fresh on so many series.

"There is the possibility of interconnectivity between the brands," said Wolf. "In the fall, characters on any of the shows could appear in the other eight. The potential is algorithmic."

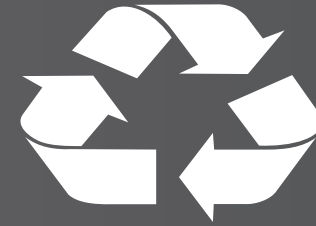

The runaway success of the Chicago franchise (not to mention the other two) suggests that Wolf's bet on "algorithmic potential" is certainly paying off. Despite a short-lived "Chicago Justice" spinoff that lasted one season, the One Chicago family is going strong.

Don't miss the newest seasons of "Chicago Fire," "Chicago P.D." and "Chicago Med" when they premiere back to back Wednesday, Sept. 21, on NBC.

Lost Illusions

In 1821, young idealistic poet Lucien de Rubempre (Voisin) left his hometown for Paris in order to pursue his dream of becoming a novelist. Instead of working on his masterpiece, however, he finds himself entangled in the broad world of journalism, which has become a booming industry, thanks to the widely available printing press. Under the mentorship of his cynical editor Etienne Lousteau (Lacoste), Lucien agrees to write rave theater reviews for various bribes. Now struggling with his own conscience, Lucien must face the fact that this new rise in popularity could also lead to his downfall.

Director: Xavier Giannoli. Stars: Benjamin Voisin, Xavier Dolan, Vincent Lacoste, Cécile de France, Gérard De-

pardieu, Jeanne Balibar, André Marcon. 2021. 141 mins. Drama.

Vengeance

When New York journalist Ben Manalowitz (Novak) receives a call from Ty Shaw (Holbrook) informing him that his former paramour, Abby Shaw (Tipton), has died of a drug overdose, Ben is told to go straight to Texas. Upon his arrival, Ben is informed that it's unlikely Abby died of an overdose, considering she didn't use drugs. The mystery begins to evolve as Ben tries to understand the circumstances behind Abby's death, ultimately leading him and his friend Ty to avenge her.

The Reef: Stalked

After witnessing the horrific and sudden death of her sister, Nic (Liane) takes a healing trip to a tropical resort with their mutual friends. Determined to have a bit of relaxing fun kayaking, diving and spearfishing like they used to as a group, the settling, natural atmosphere soon turns to horror when the women realize they are being stalked by a great white shark. As the menacing creature picks them off one by one, Nic has to focus on overcoming her post-traumatic stress and face her fears if there's any hope for her and her friends to survive.

Director: Andrew Traucki. Stars: Teresa Liane, Ann Truong, Saskia Archer, Kate Lister, Bridget Burt, Tim Ross. 2022. 93 mins. Thriller. Horror.
