IOWA NEWS

Million dollar lottery ticket sold in WB

Someone purchased the ticket at MK Mini Mart

CLIVE, Iowa – Someone who bought a Mega Millions ticket at a West Burlington convenience store won a $1 million prize in Friday's drawing. That win came during a very busy week for Mega Millions news: There also were back-to-back jackpot winners in the game's Tuesday and Friday drawings.

The $1 million-winning ticket was purchased at MK Mini Mart, 101 E. Mount Pleasant St. in West Burlington. That ticket came within one number of having a share of Friday's $20 million jackpot, matching the first five numbers but missing the Mega Ball. A ticket sold in Tennessee matched all six numbers in Friday's drawing to win that night's $20 million jackpot.

Friday's big win followed a $20 million jackpot winner in Minnesota in Tuesday's Mega Millions drawing.

Friday's winning numbers were: 4-17-20-46-64 and Mega Ball 23. The Megaplier was 4. With Friday's jackpot being won in Tennessee, the game's big prize remains at an estimated $20 million annuity, $11.9 million lump-sum option, for the next Mega Millions drawing on Tuesday.

The West Burlington prize is the second of at least $1 million won this year in Iowa. In January, a New Hampton couple won a $2 million Powerball prize.

MK Mini Mart will receive a $1,000 bonus from the Iowa Lottery for selling the $1 million-winning Mega Millions ticket.

The $1 million prize must be claimed at Iowa Lottery headquarters in Clive. Lottery offices are open Monday through Friday and prize claims are available by appointment. Winners can call the lottery at 515-725-7900 to make an appointment.

Powerball and Mega Millions are both lotto games with jackpot prizes that have climbed to more than $1 billion. But while Powerball's drawings are on Mondays, Wednesdays and Saturdays, the Mega Millions drawings are on Tuesdays and Fridays.

Bloodhounds take early lead in Southeast Conference

BY CHUCK
VANDENBERG
PCC EDITOR

FORT MADISON – Following Thursday’s 10-0 shutout of Keokuk, Fort Madison Head Coach Kevin Wellman said Monday’s game with 15th-ranked Burlington wasn’t going to be easy.

Whether it was the cold, windy climate, a home field advantage, or the Hounds just playing really good soccer right now, something made Monday’s 10-0 shutout of the Grayhounds seem easy.

“I just have to chalk it up to every one of my players played a great game today. Each player played well individually and the combination of all of them together – they just had really good chemistry. We’re just playing really well right now,” Wellman said following the shutout.

“Burlington’s a better team than they showed today and I’m going to tell my guys when we go to Bracewell, they’ll be a better team than today. So we’ll hopefully be ready for them the next time.”

The two squads played a fairly even match through the first 10 minutes with Fort Madison controlling the field position battle. With the defense pulled up, midfielder Austin Miller sent a ball over to junior forward Xander Wellman who raced down the center and faked out BHS keeper Adrian Salas to the left and buried one in the right side of the net to break open the scoring.

Mitchell Pothitakis, who had four goals on the night, scored just 2:40 later unassisted and then Wellman, who also had four goals in the win, swiped the reset pass and raced in for a 3-0 lead just 11 seconds later.

He would complete the hat-trick less than three minutes later with another goal to make it 4-0, and Fort Madison began to feel the pressure of the matchup between the two Southeast Conference front runners begin to ease.

Burlington came into the match at 4-0 and ranked 15th in Class 3A. Fort Madison just climbed into the rankings at 4-3 in Class 2A at No. 13. The Hounds lost to 10th-ranked Burlington Notre Dame to open the year without Wellman and starting goalie Rieburn Turnbull, who had to sit that game after getting a red card.

Fort Madison then lost to Class 3A No. 2 Iowa City Liberty 7-0 at the Hounds Invitational last Saturday. They also fell to Class 3A No. 10 Davenport North 2-1 in a sudden-death penalty kick session. They won 3-0 over Clear Creek-Amana in the tourney.

The biggest loss may have come when junior Jacob Pothitakis went down with season-ending injuries to his leg on a penalty kick.

Xander Wellman, who has seven goals in the last two games, said it’s a different feel without the second Pothitakis on the field.

“We have to give a lot more. When you take a really helpful player like Jacob out, you have to work to get that position back. Losing him really hurt,” Wellman said.

“We kept the same offense from last year so we have that chemistry. Mitchell and

Fort Madison’s Nathan Bowen battles with Burlington’s Braden Schoen (22) in the first half of Monday’s 10-0 Bloodhound win. The Hounds took over 1st place in the Southeast Conference with the win.

I still have that same connection. But it’s harder to find the paths because Jacob isn’t there.”

At the 20:28 mark Wellman would find freshman Leif Boeding near the goal for a 5-0 lead and then Boeding would pay it forward with an assist to freshman Henry Graham with 17 minutes remaining in the first half and the route was on.

Mitchell Pothitakis would score with 2:43 left on assists from Miller and Phillip Goldie who had pushed all the way up from his defender spot. Pothitakis would get his 3rd goal with 18 seconds left in the half off a free kick at the half circle that he blazed past a 3-man fence and into the right side of the net for an 8-0 halftime lead.

Pothitakis would score five minutes into the 2nd half off assists from Miller, his third of the night, and Phillip Goldie. Wellman would finish things off with a nice steal and forward from Oliver Santiago that was then pushed by Boeding over to Wellman racing up the left side and through the middle to set the 10-goal mercy rule.

Kevin Wellman said Xander, who sat out the Hounds’ first six games after getting his second red card

Lamb becomes FMCS D's 3rd AD in two years

College, where he started his collegiate baseball career after graduating from FMHS.

He played juco ball at Marshalltown, then transferred to Drexel University near Philadelphia. The university dropped the baseball program Lamb's junior year, prompting him to transfer to West Chester University in Pennsylvania where they made the NCAA tourney his senior year.

Lamb was originally courted for the Marshalltown baseball program while at Georgia State, but some shifting of personnel at the community college resulted in him taking over the softball program instead. From there he moved to Clarke University in Dubuque, before taking over at Dubuque University where he's been for the past four years.

Now, he'll follow in his father's footsteps, who was AD from 1997 to 2007. Timm Lamb said there was never any real discussion in the family about Jeff coming back to follow in his footsteps.

"There was never any plan to do that. It was just one of those things where a position opened up," Timm Lamb said.

"One of the things that might have helped him was the idea of stability. In 35 years in Fort Madison I had three ADs, not counting me. As long as he does a good job everything should work out.

Jeff will be Fort Madison's fourth Activities Director in the past six years, with current AD Ben Fry staying for just one year before moving on.

"I've got a lot to learn. This is a whole different mindset," he said. "But we've got an 11-year-old and a 9-year-old and we're looking for them to have the same experiences my wife and I had.

"I'm not looking to move on and I'm so excited to be closer to my parents and for my wife to be closer to her dad.

Fort Madison has always been home for us and this has been easy for the adults. The kids are going to have a bit of a change."

Lamb was also part of the 2000 Fort Madison State Championship baseball team and said he wants to help facilitate that type of success again. But he was quick to add that people are already in place to do just that.

"I can't say enough about Derek Doherty and Ryan Smith, and the rest, and all the things they've done. And they've done them the right way," he said. "Coaches always need more stuff, but they are going about it the right way."

Lamb said he's keenly aware of the migration of events and people to the middle of the state and it's a unique challenge keeping Fort Madison on the map. But he said recent successes of the Bloodhound football, basketball, soccer, and baseball programs, and even a resurgence in the school's music and arts programs, make the district and the community attractive and competitive.

But he said it's Fort Madison's people that are the biggest selling point for the district and the community.

"The biggest thing is connecting with people and getting them to understand what we love about this community, and then having them down to experience that," Lamb said.

"We can't compete with what some others have (in resources), but our people are our biggest selling point. You look at a Ryan Smith, he's incredible and bringing those people to his events will be important. It's like recruiting. You call people and sell them on what is important.

Lamb was also a part of show choir during his time at FMHS and is looking forward to helping those programs and students as well.

"I was in show choir and my wife was, too. I'm super excited to communicate with those groups and find out what I can do to help," he said.

"It was a big part of my teenage years, but when you have Al Chapman as choir director, not many are better than that. I had amazing coaches like Dick Burch and my dad and I'm excited to get involved with anything I can to give kids in the community the opportunity to have those great experiences."

Hounds take on MP Thursday

of the year at Pella's substate last year, gives Fort Madison a deep threat.

"Having that threat opens a lot of things up for us. It's like having a speedy receiver that forces the secondary to play back a bit," he said.

"I think if we play like we did today, we could roll through the conference, but I can't bank on that. Washington was a tough game and when we go to Bracewell it's going to be a tougher game. But if we keep playing like we did today..."

Reiburn Turnbull had one save in preserving the shutout.

The junior varsity squad won 3-0 on two goals by Jar-markus Kline. Conner Gehling had five saves in the win.

The Bloodhounds, 5-3 (4-0 in Southeast Conference play), now have a one-game lead over BHS and Washington in the Southeast Conference and host Mt. Pleasant (2-6, 0-4) Thursday at the Baxter Sports Complex.
