BODY FOUND NEAR DM RIVER

PEZLEY: 57-year-old found near railroad bridge after apparent fall

BY CHUCK VANDENBERG
PCC EDITOR

ARGYLE – The body of an Argyle man was recovered by a search team at 9:20 a.m. Saturday morning in southern Lee County.

57 year-old Jacob Pezley was discovered deceased by members of the search party. Preliminary information indicates Pezley had fallen from a 50-foot wall near a bridge, but the official cause of death has not been determined as of this publishing.

PEZLEY

Lee County Sheriff Stacy Weber called for a canvass of the area surrounding the railroad tracks just off the Des Moines River near Belfast Road Saturday at 9 a.m.

About 80 people joined in the search on foot and ATV/UTVs, while deputies manned the railroad tracks to relay information from the search teams.

“Mr. Pezley was located near a Railroad Bridge, nearby the area the vehicle was located this week, and it appears he died from a fall, of which, the height was approximately 45-50 feet,” Weber said.

RELAY FOR LIFE

New event to light up area June 19th

FORT MADISON – The Relay For Life of North Lee County announces a new event, ‘Light Up the Fight’ to raise funds for the American Cancer Society. People are encouraged to purchase luminarias in honor, memory or in support of a loved one and then display them on their porch, deck, neighborhood, or business on Friday June 19, between the hours of 6 and 10 p.m. This will provide community members an opportunity to cruise North Lee County and enjoy the beauty of support displayed with these luminarias.

Luminaria bags are available for purchase by visiting the Relay For Life of North Lee County’s Facebook page or by contacting a committee or team member. Both decorated and plain luminaria bags are available and all bags purchased come with a glow stick to light them up. Discounts will be given based on quantity purchased.

“With COVID-19 we, like so many other organizations, were challenged to think outside of the normal Relay For Life event. We felt this was a great way to get the entire community involved with a visual support of the American Cancer Society. We would love to have our teams, neighborhoods and businesses compete for the biggest, brightest display of lights,” expressed Angie Budnik, Chairperson of the Relay For Life of North Lee County.

“We have a very creative and dedicated committee who have all been personally touched by cancer. They really wanted to keep our event alive in some way, because you can’t quarantine cancer.”

Luminaria bags will be available for purchase through Monday, June 15, 2020 with a personalized label. Plain bags will be available for purchase through Wednesday, June 17, 2020. Bags and glow sticks can be picked up on Wednesday, June 17 from 3-6 p.m. at Central Park or you can have them delivered to your residence or business for a $5.00 delivery fee.

More information is available on the Relay For Life of North Lee County Facebook page or by calling 319-376-2249. Even when we are apart we are together in our fight against cancer.

FM CITY 2020 GRADUATION CRUISE

WP man's He Shed turned into makeshift art studio

Leave it to an artist. Artists usually have many talents, not just one art form. Creative minds are not limited to a single genre.

Such is the case with 61-year old Steve Helling of West Point, Iowa. He has a degree in art from Iowa Wesleyan College (now University), and has painted some pretty fantastic paintings—some of which adorn the walls of our house.

However, paintings, especially large paintings, in particular paintings where the artist slings paint at a canvas, can be pretty messy.

Steve works at WIN Propane in Wever. (Artists must support themselves, you know.) Propane bottles arrive on wooden pallets, so there are a lot of pallets lying around, plus sheeting. Steve has made some classy furniture out of pallet wood. He had been noticing sheds made from pallet wood on the internet. The idea came to him, "Why not build a shed out of pallet wood, and use it for a studio? That way, I can keep the paint mess out of the house."

Voila! The "Pallet Shed He Shed" was born. He

EMPTY NEST

By Curt Swarm

hauled home a pick-up load of pallets and went to work. I should point out that Steve is single, so he doesn't have a wife objecting to a pile of pallets in the backyard.

He started banging pallets together using a circular saw, drill and level. (There are some good examples of pallet buildings on the internet.) He found that for walls, all he had to do was stand a few pallets up, screw them together, and they formed a nice sturdy wall. For the floor, he disassembled the pallets and used the wood for flooring. Pallet wood is ideal for outdoor construction—they're made out of hard wood and are already seasoned—plus, there was no or very little expense involved. The doors and windows were given to him. He did the wiring himself, running an underground wire from his garage. Steve is a pretty handy artist. He's even insulating the walls.

BTW: A 40-mph wind came up while the "He Shed" was under construction, and it held up remarkably well.

Steve also made the shake siding from pallet wood. Presto-change-o. Steve now has a fairly respectable outdoor "studio" he can sling paint in to his heart's content. If he wants, he can add a hot plate, dormitory refrigerator, coffee pot, window air conditioner, what have you. He already has a stereo for creative-inspirational music.

The classy touch came when he made the shake siding. He simply cut shake siding from, yep, you guessed it—pallet boards, and nailed them to the side of his 10' x 12' x 8' "He Shed," giving it that rustic look.

Steve is 61 years old. He wants to retire at 62, but knows he will need a supplemental income. He already does landscaping work on the side, sells artwork, and is considering building these "He Sheds" for other people. But wait. My wife, Ginnie, wants a "She Shed" for garden tools and potting soil, or just a place to get away (from me). Steve is also thinking about making garages out of pallet wood. The possibilities are palatable.

Steve likes "repurposed" art. He gets it from his dad, a farmer, the consummate repurposer. Steve's phone number is 319-470-7371, his email address is stevehelling59@gmail.com. He's taking orders.

WB gets Test Iowa testing site

WEST BURLINGTON – In partnership with the State of Iowa, Great River Health will provide the only Test Iowa drive-thru coronavirus test site in the southeast region of the state. It will open Wednesday, May 27.

The Test Iowa Initiative began April 21 in an effort to expand testing capacity to limit the spread of COVID-19 in Iowa.

“Having a Test Iowa location in West Burlington will help save lives,” said Matt Wenzel, president and CEO, Great River Health. “Protecting the health of our region is in the forefront of everything we do as a health system, which makes our partnership with the state so beneficial. We’re both demonstrating our passion and dedication to the lives and livelihood of people in our region.”

People who have appointments will be tested for COVID-19 – coronavirus – while remaining in their cars. The test site is at the Des Moines county Fairgrounds on the campus of Southeastern Community College. The entrance to the drive-thru testing area is on Gear Avenue.

Gov. Kim Reynolds announced Thursday that anyone who wants a test can now get one. To do so, Iowans must take the online health assessment at TestIowa.com. Developed in coordination with the Iowa Department of Public Health, assessment questions include symptoms, exposure to COVID-19, occupation and travel.

Following the assessment, people who are interested in a test will be directed to make an appointment. They will receive a confirmation email from Test Iowa with instructions. Appointments for the Great River Health drive-thru testing site will be made by telephone.

Testing, which includes taking a nasal swab, takes a couple of minutes. Swabs are sent to the State Hygienic Laboratory. Results usually are available in 48 to 72 hours.

After providing the swab, people should go home and self-quarantine until results are received by email from Test Iowa. Continued quarantine will be required for those with positive results. Those who have severe symptoms at the test site may be advised to go to Great River Medical Center’s Emergency Department, which is across the street from the fairgrounds.

For more information, visit TestIowa.com, coronavirus.iowa.gov or GreatRiverHealth.org

More than 70 show up to look for Pezley Saturday

Pezley had been missing for about six days after family reported to the sheriff's department they hadn't seen Pezley since Monday.

According to sheriff's reports, the former owner of One-Eyed Jake's tavern in Argyle, had parked a white 2003 Pontiac Vibe in a gravel parking area just off Belfast Road at a railroad crossing about seven miles southwest of Argyle.

Weber said it appears Pezley parked the car, locked it and then started out on foot sometime between Monday and Wednesday, when deputies received a call of a suspicious vehicle.

Upon investigation, authorities were able to link the car to Pezley and made contact with his family. Weber said Pezley had a history of being gone for a couple days on occasion, but the family said this was something beyond normal.

Since Wednesday, the sheriff's department had deployed K9 units, a thermal scanning drone and conducted foot searches. When Pezley still hadn't shown up Friday, Weber called for the canvass and asked for volunteers to help in the search.

The Sheriff's office was assisted by the following agencies: Lee County Emergency Management, Lee County Ambulance Service, Iowa State Patrol, Farmington Fire and Rescue, Des Moines Township Fire and Rescue, Donnellson and West Point Police Departments, Iowa Department of Transportation, BNSF Police Department and the Lee County Reserve Unit.

Pezley's death and subsequent investigation will be conducted by the Lee County Sheriff's Criminal Investigations Division with the assistance of the Lee County Medical Investigator.
