City has had 8 reported burglaries in 8 days

SITTIG

FORT MADISON - In a span of eight days, the Fort Madison Police Department has responded to eight reports of a burglary.

Police Chief Tim Sittig

said Monday most of the burglaries being committed are vehicular in nature and usually from unlocked cars.

Sittig said he hasn't seen a trend or pattern in the burglaries and they don't seem to be happening in the same area of the city. However, three of the burglaries were in the 2600, 2700 and 2800 blocks of Avenues L, M and H, and one was in the 1700 block of Avenue H. Another was in the 1600 block of 20th Street, one was in the 1100 block of 48th Street, one was in the 700 block of 22nd Street. The last was a burglary reported in the 2800 block of Avenue H on Friday.

"Well, it's a couple of things but mostly the weather is really nice right now and people are out later," Sittig said. "But it seems like when we put someone in jail for it, it stops for a while. What we're seeing now are vehicle burglaries and they are targets of opportunity because the vehicles are unlocked. People need

Drug task force gets Keokuk man

The Lee County Narcotics Task Force reports the arrest of a Keokuk, Iowa man on felony and misdemeanor drug charges.

David Alan Londrie,

LONDRIE

54, of 2468 340th Street, Keokuk, Iowa was arrested on February 24, 2017 at his residence on felony and misdemeanor drug charges.

Londrie is charged with Possession Of A Controlled Substance (methamphetamine), a serious misdemeanor, delivery of methamphetamine less than five grams second or subsequent offense, a class C felony with an enhancement, maintaining a drug house, an aggravated misdemeanor, and possession of drug paraphernalia, a simple misdemeanor. If convicted, he faces up to 33 years and 30 days in a state correctional facility.

The arrest of Londrie stems from an investigation by the Lee County Narcotics Task Force into allegations that he was involved in the use and distribution of illegal drugs in the Lee County area. A search warrant was served at Londrie's home in connection with this investigation and items that support the charges were discovered.

Central Lee shines at conference science fair

Hawks take three out of four Grand Champion awards

BY CHUCK

WEST BURLINGTON - In just a couple of hours Monday morning you could have experienced some of the finest in scholastic science inquiries and some of our local talent were among the tops.

HTC Science Fair coordinator Ernie Schiller has been helping the Holy Trinity Catholic students prepare for the exhibit and also coordinated the school fair last week. Holy Trinity was the host school for the event held at Westland Mall Monday from 8:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. featuring seven schools including Central Lee, Danville, HTC, Pekin, Van Buren, New London and Winfield-Mt. Union.

Central Lee came away with three grand champions out of four divisions: Junior High Biological Science, Junior High Physical Science, Senior High Biological and Senior High Physical.

One of Holy Trinity's

projects was by sophomore Emily Box, who was navigating PH levels in saliva of diabetic and non-diabetic people to see if the PH levels had an impact on Hemoglobin A1c numbers, which is an indication of how well diabetes is being managed as well as looking at ways to help with cavities of diabetics who usually have a lower PH level in their saliva, which can lead to cavities.

"I just wanted to see if brushing with a baking soda toothpaste helped people with diabetes because if you're diabetic you tend to have a lower PH level saliva and that allows for cavities to occur," Box said Monday.

"Brushing with baking soda would help with that lower level of PH and help the fight off cavities. But I also wanted to see if they usually have lower or higher levels of PH. Diabetics with a 6.0 - 6.9 A1c will have higher PH levels in their saliva compared to the 8.0 to 8.9 level. The

Time to judge

Holy Trinity Catholic senior Josh Pieper explains his science project to judge Shane Barron at Monday's Southeast Iowa Superconference Science Fair at Westland Mall. At right, HTC's Bella Poppe talks with several judges about the project she and her partner Mya Schmitz did on determining the sugar quantity in soda.

Rollover

Fort Madison Fire Chief Joey Herren talks with a Fort Madison police officer at the scene of a rollover accident in the alley north of the 700 block of Avenue C at around 8 a.m. this morning. According to fire officials no injuries were reported as a result of the accident.

Police Chief tells residents to make sure vehicles are locked to keep their valuables secured and out of their cars. I can't rule out one or two homes, but these have mostly been vehicles."

He said officers are out trying to follow up and establish identities as much as possible, but he said it will probably come down to a rift.

"Typically someone will get mad at someone else and talk and we'll be able to get somewhere."

He also said with burglaries when they make an arrest, they usually can link that suspect to two or three others.

"It could be possibly as many as a dozen, but it gets hard to pin all those down," Sittig said. "When the night guys are out they try to follow up and identify as much as they can."

People need to keep their valuables secured and out of their cars.”
