Supervisors to vote on employee premium bump

BY CHUCK VANDENBERG
PCC EDITOR

MONTROSE - Lee County Supervisors will vote on increasing health insurance premiums in the county's self-funded insurance program at Tuesday's regular meeting.

County employees will be looking at $50 increases in both single and family premium plans, unless the employees participate in the county's wellness program. For employees who sign up for the wellness program administered by Health Solutions, LLC and complete a physical, an online health assessment, and a 30-minute consultation determining their risk level, the $50 increase will be waived and current insurance rates will apply.

The current structure, which expires on June 30, has county employees paying $20 per month for a single policy and $90 for a family. Deductibles on those plans are $750 per person and $1,500 for families.

The Lee County Sheriff's department rates are not exposed to the increase due to union negotiations and that rate is locked in at the $20 for single and $90 for family. Employees of the Public Safety Answering Point (PSAP) are also locked by union contract at a percentage, which in 2019 will amount to $19.60 for a single and $113.05 per month.

The county's portion of regular employees' insurance premiums is $960 for single coverage and $1,520 for a family with employees paying the $20/$90 premiums.

The health insurance premiums have been on the budget chopping block in Lee County budget strategy sessions for the past several years. Supervisor Matt Pflug has repeatedly hinted that at some point this board or future boards were going to have to raise the employee contributions.

At a meeting in April the board approved moving the county's part of the self-insurance plan deductibles from $2,250 to $5,000, increasing the county's share of

Artsy daughter making impact on local art scene

We moved Annie, along with her brother, to Mt. Pleasant from Colorado, completely against their will when they were teenagers. They thought we, the parents, had lost our marbles. They would attend a Christian school rather than public. As native born Coloradans, "What was there to do in Iowa?" they asked. So, being the good parents, we bribed them. For Annie, she could have a futon bed. For our son, I would install the NFL channel so he could watch the Denver Broncos.

It worked. They now thank us for their Christian School education. Annie met Mrs. Peck, the Christian School art teacher and fell in love with art. She received an art scholarship from Wisconsin Lutheran College in Milwaukee and off she went. She hasn't looked back.

Except when it was to return to Mt. Pleasant 16 years later, with her husband, Nils, and two sons, Thorsen and Conan. The two boys, ages four and five, would be enrolled in, yep, the Christian School. Nils had secured employment as a supervisor with Great Prairie AEA. In Annie's words, "Mt. Pleasant is the town God chose for me twice. I think I got the message."

As Annie's father, I couldn't be more pleased. I have both my kids and their kids in Mt. Pleasant to spoil.

And Annie, fresh from art-smart Milwaukee, has sort of taken Mt. Pleasant by storm. (Of course, your realize,

Shutterbugs on display at FMAAA in June

BY BRIAN RIGGS
FMAAA Director

FORT MADISON - The Summer at FMAAA gallery always is ushered in with a flash with the Annual Photography Exhibition. This year features Martha Milligan and Ann Larsen of Montrose, Chris Swed of Ft. Madison, and Kyle Blankenship of Sioux City. Connections Bank is the sponsor for the exhibition. Lunch-ala-Art program will occur on June 29th at noon.

The photography annual is a fan favorite due to it's group show format. With four artists submitting 8-12 pieces of their style, then merging them together for a snapping mosaic of documentation. The show is really a home run when the photographers have differing styles in subject matter. And in the case of this year's edition, get ready for a dinger!

Martha Milligan of Montrose will carry a camera with her at all times. She has been taking photos just shy of 20 years, remembering the days of Kodak glory. She relies on her PentaxK5 digital for capturing the moment. She has been shooting weddings for the last 6 years, looking to capture "just the right moment" to document the event. She utilizes photography for stress relief from mandatory OT at her Pinnacle workplace, as advent of Hurricane season always increases orders.

Ann Larsen was born in Ft. Madison but now resides along the Mighty Mississippi in Montrose. Her magnificent view provides daily access to beautiful sunrises and amazing wildlife of all kinds. Ann comments, "I consider myself a novice of Photography with a never ending desire to continue to learn more, see more, and capture more. After I realized the camera actually fits my hand like a glove and it had stole my heart, it is basically with me at all times." Her camera of choice is a Canon ES 7D Mark 11 with a telephoto lens she calls "My Magic Lens". She credits her mentors: Joe Morgan&Jay Scott of Mississippi Valley Photography in Keokuk and Don Weiss of Burlington. "I am forever grateful for that opportunity. I hope my photos in some small way will inspire you to stop and see the beauty around us and to follow your heart like my teachers have inspired me. As Ansel Adams proclaimed, "Sometimes I arrive just when God's ready to have someone click the shutter."

Chris Swed relates, "I moved to Ft. Madison just over a year ago and immediately fell in love with the town. My wife and I run the Fox Theatre and also started a coffee roasting company

SCC and FMAAA to showcase artists work this year

I'm the proud father.) She is a new member of the Mt. Pleasant Arts Impact Group for Henry County. She has her art on display for the month of June and half of July at Southeastern Community College. There will be a reception for her on Thursday, June 28th at noon. She will also give a gallery talk at this time.

Her work, in oils, reminds me a lot of Vincent Van Gogh, which isn't surprising, as Van Gogh is Annie's hero. (No, she hasn't lopped off an ear.) I would say her art is a cross between Van Gogh and Salvador Dali—especially some of her latest 3D work like, "Room to Think." Check out her art exhibit at Southeastern Community College.

As if that weren't enough, "Chair-ish The Arts" is being held on June 14, in Central Park in Mt. Pleasant, from 5:00-6:30 p.m. A group of artists, including Annie, have hand painted chairs that will be awarded prizes and sold to the highest bidder. There will also be a band concert.

And there is also, "Colors of Summer": A group exhibition on July 20, from 5:30-8:30 p.m. at the Iowa Wesleyan University Gallery. It's an evening of Henry County Artists and culture benefiting the Friends of Henry County Health Center. Tickets are available at Browns Shoe Fit in Mt. Pleasant.

Annie will be exhibiting her work in the Mini Gallery of the Burlington Art Center for the month of August. Opening reception will be August 3rd, from 5:00-8:00 p.m.

Last but not least, Annie is the featured artist for the month of November at the Ft. Madison Area Art Association in Ft. Madison. Opening reception will be November 9th, from 5:00-7:00 p.m. Artist talk and Luncheon will be November 30th at noon.

To view Annie's art, visit her website at www.an-nieswarmart.com. She can be found on Facebook and Instagram under "Oil Painter Annie."

Did I mention that she also teaches art in her home studio for ages "tween" through adult? Unlike her father, her good looks are exceeded only by her talent. Have a good story? Call or text Curt Swarm in Mt. Pleasant at 319-217-0526, email him at curtswarm@yahoo.com or find him on Facebook. Curt's stories are also read at 106.3 FM in Farmington.

called Swed&Co. Photography has always been something that I have enjoyed, I bring my camera with me almost everywhere I go and try to photograph what I see. I love shooting architecture, but more than that I enjoy photographing good design: where form meets function."

Kyle Blankenship of Sioux City found FMAAA by geographic location. He was working on behalf of State Senator Rich Taylor ahead of the 2016 election. He describes, "Having just started learning and playing with photography, I would often browse the store (FMAAA) to see some great local artist's work. I showed some of my photographs and received positive feedback. My wife first introduced me to travel, when I was 25, to visit family living in the middle east. After walking the streets of Jerusalem and floating in the Dead Sea, we decided to try to see every continent before we turned 30. I bought my first camera a few months before our first trip to the 7th continent Antarctica." FMAAA gallery located at 825 Avenue G is open for viewing all month with this show from Tuesday-Saturday 10am-5pm. Catch all the updated action at FMAAA's new website at fmaaa.com.

the deductible to $4,250 per employee and $3,500 per family, before the county's Wellmark plan kicks in.

"I think that this board, or any future board, will eventually have to make a decision that this will have to be increased," Pflug said in the April meeting.

"I think we should continue it if we can do that. However you have to be realistic here, too. You go other places, a family plan is $400 or $500 a month."

Last week Justin Pieper of Group Benefit Partners told supervisors, either way, increasing the insurance rates by $50 or getting more employees involved in the wellness plan, the county would save money in the long run.

Also on Tuesday's agenda, the board:

- will conduct a public hearing and consider vacating roads and alleyways in New Boston.
- will review bids and consider replacing culverts on 130th Street and 310th Street.

Bloodhounds drop two in Quad Cities

BY PCC STAFF

DAVENPORT - Fort Madison lost two games on Saturday as part of a day trip to an invitational at Davenport West.

The first game of the day, the Hounds went up against 3-11 Davenport North, who faces some stiff competition out of the Quad Cities and plays all freshmen and sophomores.

The Hounds won home team designation in both Saturday games and, with Cassie Powers pitching, the Hounds jumped out to a 1-0 lead on a two-out RBI single by senior Kamryn Bailey, driving in Sadie Smithburg who singled with one-out and advanced to second on a passed ball.

Neither team put up any runs in the second, but North's Hannah Healey reached on an error to lead off the top of the third. Ivy Wilmington sacrificed Healey to second and Jordan Burch drove her in on a fielder's choice out at first. Powers got the next hitter to ground out to end the inning.

FMHS responded in the bottom of third. Kylie Cashman drew a lead-off walk and Smithburg singled and advanced to the second on the throw to third to try and catch Cashman who was safe. Olivia Williams flew out to right for the first out. Bailey grounded out to short, but Cashman went on the throw and scored to give the Hounds a 2-1 lead. Powers also grounded out to short to end the inning.

North's Molly Freeman and Powers both went unscathed in the fourth and fifth, but Davenport put up a three spot in the top of the 6th. North's Kyleigh Coin opened the top of the inning with a single. Powers got the next hitter to ground back to her for an out, but Coin moved to second. Morgan Newmeyer drew a walk and Rileigh Antle singled to score Coin. Newmeyer and Antle would both come around to score.

In the bottom of the sixth Teryn Parsons reached on an error at second. Logan Johnson popped out to second. Vanessa Golowach singled moving Parson to third, but Allison Helmick struck out for the second out. Smithburg drew a walk to put the game-winning run at the plate in Olivia Williams who flew out to right to end the game under the hour and half time limit.

In the second game, Muscatine's Kaitlyn Bierman threw a five-hit 9-0 shutout over the Hounds. Smithburg had two hits for the Hounds. Williams, Bailey, and Parsons had the other hits for Fort Madison. Katelyn Dennis went the distance for the Hounds in the loss. She gave up nine runs on 12 hits and three strikeouts.

FM Rotary gives $3,000 to area seniors

Submitted article

FORT MADISON - The Ft. Madison Rotary Club is proud to announce the recipients of its annual scholarship awards.

Every year, the Ft. Madison Rotary Club awards three $1,000 scholarships to three senior students that either attend Ft. Madison Community High School, Central Lee High School, or Holy Trinity High School.

Every senior student is given the opportunity to attend two of the club's weekly meetings, give a short bio of their achievements, volunteer efforts, what their career plans are and what makes them unique. They are then asked to write a short essay about the five foundations of Rotary.

This year, the students that were given the scholarships are Noah Sissel, FMHS, Kearstyn Johnson, FMHS, and Maddie Sadler, FMHS. Congrats and best wishes to all three students.
