City could pass commercial vehicle change Tuesday

BY CHUCK VANDENBERG
PCC EDITOR

FORT MADISON - A final reading of a change to city code that would prevent newly designated commercial vehicles from parking on city streets will be in front of the city officials Tuesday night.

At the regular meeting of the Fort Madison City Council, which will begin at its new time of 5:30 p.m. on Tuesday, a hotly contested change to a city ordinance that will prevent commercial vehicles from being parked on city streets will face its final reading.

Previous readings of the ordinance, which requires three readings in open session, have been approved 6-1 with 2nd Ward Councilman Brian Wright casting the only dissenting vote.

Wright said he thinks the new ordinance is an undue burden on people who make a living driving those trucks, saying some people actually spend a good portion of their lives in the vehicles. Wright questioned at the first reading of the ordinance, recommended out of the city Planning and Zoning Commission, whether or not the city could help find a suitable place for these residents to park their vehicles.

City Councilman Rusty Andrews asked Wright if he was interested in getting the city in the truck stop business. Wright said he was just questioning the legality of it, the logistics could be worked out later.

City Public Works Director Larry Driscoll even had two city vehicles that fit the new commercial truck specs parked outside the city hall on Avenue E on LEE COUNTY - Two large brush fires kept area firefighters from Donnellson, Montrose and Jackson Township busy Saturday.

According to Donnellson Fire Chief Fred Hoyer, about 75 acres of land caught fire south of Hwy. 2 just east of 218th Street and south of Hillcrest Road. Hoyer said he believed it was a controlled burn that got out of hand.

"People don't realize these fires create their own air and the wind picked up a bit," he said.

Firefighters were called back out at around 7:00 p.m. Saturday night to the same location where the fire had gotten out of hand again

Meanwhile, Jackson Township and Montrose fire departments responded to a large brush fire near Bel-

Sheriff's Dept. looks at K-9 options

BY CHUCK VANDENBERG
PCC EDITOR

MONTROSE - Lee County Sheriff Stacy Weber said Saturday the department has looked at two animals that it may choose for a K-9 unit.

The K-9 unit, which has been approved by the Lee County Board of Supervisors, will cost about $14,300 with all training for the dog and the designated officer. The training will take about four weeks. Both dogs are German Shepherds and are imports from Europe as part of North Iowa K-9, the company the sheriff's department is working with on the program.

Although the county has put the cost of the K-9 unit into the budget, Weber was hoping to get the cost of the program offset by private donations. He said Saturday the department currently has about $3,000 donated for the animal. Weber said the dog will be used as a multi-functional part of the department for security and searches. The animal will be assigned to one officer and will reside with that officer.

Any businesses or individuals wishing to donate to help offset the costs of the K-9 units are encouraged to contact the Lee County Sheriff's Department.

Possible K-9 options

Lee County Sheriff Stacy Weber said Saturday he has seen photos of a couple of possible options for the department's K-9 program. The Lee County Board of Supervisors has approved the program in the 2017-2018 fiscal year budget, but Weber is hoping private funds are enough. The other possible dog is pictured on page 1 with the story.
