Wildfire has finally caught the attention of the state

Living in the foothills of the Eastern Cascades we are all keenly aware of the danger and devastation of wildfire. Over the last month I have been inundated with press releases and information about wildfires and their effect on Washington state. The impacts go far beyond the costs of fighting the fires and the loss of private property when homes are destroyed.

As Senator Brad Hawkins has said, "the state has paid hundreds of millions in recent years reimbursing the costs of wildfires. And that does not even factor in the negative long-term economic impact that wildfires have had on communities in our district, including the impact on our all-important tourism or recreational opportunities. There are also emotional costs and losses that cannot be quantified, as courageous firefighters from our area have sadly lost their lives or been severely injured battling these blazes. Finally, there is a qualityof-life impact caused by wildfires, as smoke can blanket a region, making it dangerous for people to be outdoors and difficult for many to breathe."

When fires are active and the valleys are filled with the smell of smoke we all have seen how tourists avoid our area. For communities like Chelan, Entiat, Leavenworth and Brewster the loss of revenue from the summer tourist season can make for a long winter.

According to Hawkins last year the Department of Natural Resources responded to 1640 fires. Those fires burned 813,000 acres, 400,000 of those or nearly half were in in Okanogan and Douglas counties. The Cold Springs and Pearl Hill fires destroyed over 100 homes. Add in the devastating fires in the back to back years of 2014 and 2015 in Chelan, Pateros, Entiat and Brewster and it is undeniable that our region

Commissioner Gering addresses issues of STR's

MANSON – The Manson Community Council (MCC) met via Zoom Tuesday, April 20 and heard from invited guest and Manson resident Chelan County Commissioner Tiffany Gering.

Gering was peppered with questions related to a variety of topics, including the contentious Short Term Rental (STR) situation where some STR residents are causing pushback from permanent residents because of alleged illegal behavior.

According to Gering, Chelan County Community Development Director Jim Brown is desperately trying to hire enough building inspectors to reduce the load of more than 300 registrations to become eligible as STR properties before the tourist season kicks into full swing this coming Memorial Day.

Gering said even the small enclave of Entiat has a record number of properties with owners wanting to become STR eligible.

At stake is a huge financial windfall for the property owners, if their homes are approved, but also a trickle-down economic effect for towns like Entiat, but especially for the Chelan/Manson and Leavenworth/Plain areas of the county.

Owners of STR properties can make hundreds of dollars in just a few days as many Washingtonians from the west coast are eager to have

Retirement Announcement

SUBMITTED BY KIRK ESMOND

PCMAfter 31 years of serving the needs of our community, Ed Womack, DVM has decided to retire from Cascade Veterinary Clinics effective in late December. In the meantime, Dr. Womack will continue seeing patients, within a reduced schedule, for the remainder of this year.

Dr. Womack has cared for generations of pets, and the veterinary needs of individuals and families throughout North Central Washington. In recent years, he contributed to the clinic's growth from one to three locations including Wenatchee, Leavenworth and East Wenatchee. As a legacy, Dr. Womack's reputation has been built on trust and sincere relationships. By prioritizing patient care, investment in new diagnostic capabilities, and continuing education of doctors and staff, he helped shape Cascade Veterinary Clinics' development while staying on the forefront of veterinary medicine for the community.

Dr. Womack's work in the clinic will be certainly missed. However, his presence in the Wenatchee Valley will remain, as he and his wife, Allison, will continue to be an active part of the community.

Obituary & Memorial Policies

NCW Media, Inc.: Leavenworth Echo, Cashmere Valley Record, Lake Chelan Mirror, Quad City Herald

An Obituary is a way for family member(s) to commemorate a loved one's life and to notify the community of the passing of the loved one. Obituaries are also used for historical and ancestral data

Memorials are another way to let the community know about the life and memories of the person who has passed. A Memorial is different from an Obituary. An Obituary is usually current, while a Memorial can be written later.

Obituaries and Memorials need to be typed and emailed as a Word Document. They can be placed in one or more papers - all publish weekly on Wednesday.

Obituaries are priced by the number of words and include one color photo and go online at no extra charge. Memorials are priced per column inch. Please call for cost. *Payment is due at the time of placement. *Exception: Chapels, funeral homes who have an account, can be billed. There is no charge for a Death Notice - information is limited.

Deadline is 4 p.m. on Friday - some exceptions may apply.

The multitude rejoices in thinking that justice has been served and I stand on the outside, not so convinced.

Let's be real, the trial of Derek Chauvin was a sham. He wasn't "innocent until proven guilty" as our judicial system asserts, rather in the court of public opinion, Chauvin was a guilty man and no evidence could prove otherwise.

The court of public opinion is nothing short of mob rule and when you have politicians, and other celebrities, influencers inciting people to "stay on the street" and "get more confrontational" if their desired outcome doesn't happen, then you no longer have a fair legal system. Instead, you have a tampered one and the judicial system dies.

What we all witnessed last week was not a step forward in our country, nor did it advance the cause of combating systemic racism. It was an act of injustice that sets a dangerous precedent for our future. If a mob that holds to a particular ideology can threaten, harass and influence what is supposed to be "impartial" and "fair" then there is no end to what it can do.

And that should concern every one of us.

Please don't misunderstand me, Derek Chauvin was no saint. In fact, there were no saints in this situation nor were there any martyrs. The incident that unfolded a year ago was tragic and could have been prevented. However, in the court of law, every citizen is entitled and guaranteed the right to a fair trial regardless.

More and more lately, I am reminded of the words of Christ in Matthew 5:6 say, "Blessed are those who hunger and thirst for righteousness, for they shall be satisfied." As Christians, righteousness is a constant longing within our hearts. We hunger and thirst for it within our lives and we desire to see it happen in the world around us. Christians endeavor to be a just people because the Bible teaches that the Law of God is good and holy (Rom. 7:12, 1 Tim. 1:8) and applies equally to all people. When God's Law is rejected, denied, or broken by sinful men, it elicits mourning and grief within the soul of the believer. To put it simply, Christians aren't and should never be okay with injustice in any form.

Yet, going back to Matthew 5:6 and the last part of the verse where it says, "...shall be satisfied.", when will that satisfaction happen? It may happen in some part here and there in this world, but ultimately it will occur when Christ makes all things new at the very end of the age. Our world has been broken by sin and that fallenness pervades into every sphere of life, including the American justice system. However, our response to that brokenness is not to take matters into our own hands, burn down buildings, or riot in the street. Rather we are to trust God who judges justly and believe the Bible when It says in Romans 12:19, "Vengeance is mine, I will repay, says the Lord.' Whatever happens hereall the injustice, unfair treatment, corruption, etc.will be dealt with and all accounts will be settled by God. No sin will escape his wrath or remain unpunished but true justice will prevail because God is a just judge.

As we witness the breakdown of our institutions by unjust and unruly mobs, we must remember that mob rule will have an end. Jesus is King and he is putting all things under his feet. Those who perpetrate injustice, corruption, bribery, and those who think they can strongarm and manipulate the system, must repent or face the justice of Christ.

Although the verdict was read and a sentence was given to Derek Chauvin, this is not the end of the matter. The consequences of this trial will play out in the years to come and we should brace ourselves for more hungering and thirsting for righteousness. At the same time, we should eagerly expect and pray for the day when those longings for justice will be satisfied by Christ.

Kokanee catches like these have been hard to come by this year at Lake Roosevelt

Missing Kokanee And Tagged Trout

By John Kruse

Lake Roosevelt Kokanee and More:

Several readers have recently contacted me about the lack of Kokanee at Lake Roosevelt so far this year. This prompted me to reach out to Chris Donley, the regional Fish Program Director for the Washington Dept. of Fish and Wildlife, to ask him about Kokanee and other species found in this impoundment of the Columbia River.

Donley says, "There are some Kokanee in the reservoir this year but by no means as many as we have seen in the past few. Couple the lower abundance with an odd water year and drawdown scenario and it has contributed to tougher fishing for Kokanee. It's important to note that some of our avid Kokanee anglers have had a great late winter/ early spring, which tells me there are some fish there for the taking.

Donley continued stating, "Roosevelt Kokanee fishing is driven off fish that entrain in from other reservoirs. Some years they are abundant and some years they aren't. Water elevation, flows, hydrooperations and predation determine what survives in Lake Roosevelt and also what stays in the reservoir long enough to grow to harvestable size and ultimately get caught. Because there are so many variables impacting the fishery it is always inconsistent in its productivity. This is nothing new.'

Donley is often asked why WDFW doesn't stock Kokanee in Lake Roosevelt. His reply? "We have for many years and saw almost no return on those stocked fish. Most, if not all, were lost to entrainment out of the reservoir or were consumed by predatory warmwater fishes."

As for other fishing, Donley says, "Trout fishing has been good all winter and should be good this spring as water warms. (It's) been a little on and off and I would guess it relates to water elevation and a weird water year", affecting the trout in the same way it's affecting the Kokanee. As for catching those trout Donley suggests, "Sometimes trolling is really effective and sometimes shore fishing in bays and shallow areas has been more productive. I suspect as water warms fish will move off shore and be more consistently available to trollers.'

Finally, when it comes to the walleye at Lake Roosevelt, Donley states, "If you are where the fish are, it's been good. The Spokane Arm has been good for the last two months and will likely fish well through early June. The bulk of the fish move into the arm in late winter in preparation to spawn in April and then start a northward migration to Kettle Falls beginning in mid-May so anglers will want to follow those fish upstream as they progress."

Statewide Trout Derby:

With all of the lowland lakes open for trout fishing on April 24, you'll want to keep an eye out for any fish you catch with an orange tag attached to their fin. The Washington Department of Fish and Wildlife is once again having a statewide trout derby that runs through October 31 and that tag will

Nobel Prize winning author Gabriel García Márquez was quoted as saying, "All human beings have three lives, public, private and secret."

In our modern world of the Internet search engines and DNA testing, keeping our private and secret lives separate is increasingly difficult. Sometimes they can come crashing in on our public lives when we least expect it.

Father Robert McCarthy is a middle-aged priest who is suddenly and unexpectedly confronted with his secret past. How he deals with the revelation of that past with his family, his congregation and the impacts of that secret life is inspirational. How McCarthy discloses the news of his college indiscretion requires him to take everyone involved on a journey of confession. That journey forces him to deal with issues of homosexuality, judgementalism, divorce and pride.

His pastoring skills and the depth of support from his wife help him bring forgiveness and restoration to many broken relationships.

The bonds of three families are ultimately restored through celebrations of life experiences including fishing, holiday gatherings, the discovery of unknown family connections and a wedding.

My neighbor swears by cod liver oil and says I should try it. Could it improve my health?

Taking cod liver oil may help if you are deficient in vitamin A or vitamin D because it is an excellent source of these two fat-soluble vitamins.

According to the United States Pharmacopeia (USP), the official recipe for Cod Liver Oil is "a thin, oily liquid with a characteristic, slightly fishy odor and a definitely fishy taste." It was made by "steaming the livers of the Atlantic cod, then straining the oil that rises to the top of the vat or kettle."

Cod liver oil didn't start out as a medicine. A byproduct of the Norwegian fishing industry, cod liver oil was initially applied to horse hooves as a conditioner and rubbed into leather goods to soften them.

In the 1800s, rickets was a common childhood disease that caused severe bone deformities. When German physicians discovered that they could cure rickets by giving children cod liver oil internally, it caused a sensation. In older people, swallowing cod liver oil helped relieve joint aches, painful gout, and "obstinate constipation."

By 1851, cod liver oil was declared "one of the most esteemed remedies currently available." Doctors strongly recommended it, but children hated taking it. Suggestions on improving the "fishy" taste of cod liver oil began to show up in the medical and pharmacy references of that period.

The 19th edition of The United States Dispensary, published in 1907, contains this advice about cod liver oil: "It may be taken alone or mixed with some vehicle calculated to conceal its taste and obviate nausea. Peppermint oil has been found to be helpful."

Another suggestion was to "chew a small piece of orange peel before and after taking the medicine." This should be effective in masking the taste of fish oil or just about anything else!

Like other types of fish oil like salmon oil, taking cod liver oil can help ease stiff joints and minor muscle aches.

Cod liver oil may improve your health if your diet is low in either vitamin A or D. Your body requires vitamin D to incorporate calcium into your new bone tissue. A severe nutritional deficiency of vitamin D causes rickets in children and osteomalacia in adults.

New bone is not rigid enough to support the body weight of a growing child without enough vitamin D, creating crooked bones and skeletal deformities. In contrast, in adults, vitamin D deficiency causes weak bones, called osteomalacia. Vitamin A deficiency can cause growth retardation, night blindness, and increased susceptibility to infections.

The official recipe for cod liver oil listed in the United States Pharmacopia (USP) is Cod Liver Oil, USP. Each teaspoonful contains 850 USP units of Vitamin A and 85 USP units of Vitamin D plus approximately 1 gram of Omega-3 essential fatty acids, a concentration similar to that found in salmon oil.

The dose of cod liver oil recommended back in the day was one teaspoonful 3-4 times daily for children and one tablespoonful (3 teaspoonfuls, or 15ml) 3-4 times a day for adults.

The amount of Omega-3 fatty acids in cod liver oil varies, with formulas using Atlantic cod having the most and those from Pacific cod having little to none. Interestingly, cod liver oil was considered helpful in chronic rheumatism (joint or muscle aches). At least one old-time cod liver oil product contained nearly the same concentration of Omega-3 fatty acids as found in today's salmon oil supplements.

In the 1930s, the United States began adding vitamin A and D to milk to reduce the high prevalence of rickets seen in children. Every 8 ounce serving of cow's milk has 25% of the recommended daily intake of vitamin D and 10% of the recommended daily intake of vitamin A. Most ready-to-eat cereals in the US are fortified with 10% of the recommended daily intake of vitamin A and D. Rickets is now very rare in the United States.

Will taking cod liver oil improve your health? It may help you get more Vitamin D and Omega 3 fatty acids. It also contains high concentrations of vitamin A, which you may not need.

Instead of an oily, fishysmelling liquid, today's cod liver oil is available as capsules, similar to fish oil. There are many cod liver oil formulas available in addition to the original USP version. Refer to the vitamins A, D, and Omega 3 fatty acid content listed on each label for best results.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Hesitancy?

Why is it that people today believe it is wrong to have to take a vaccine? These same adults all had to be vaccinated before they could ever go to school as children.

I'll tell you what has happened. We have seen a precipitous slide in the rule of law in America. We saw such an explosion of felony crime in the last half of the twentieth century that misdemeanor crime is no longer even a thing.

We have seen a decline or elimination of laws dealing with personal behavior like adultery, gambling, prostitution, bankruptcy, drug abuse, pornography, and abortion. All that stuff is just fine today.

Prosecution of white-collar crime committed by bankers, insurers, and corporate CEOs has evaporated too, as evidenced by the 2008 recession do-nothing aftermath.

We don't want to impeach public servants for their malfeasance in office either. Today our two main political parties are libertarians Republicans), (former and anarchists (former Democrats).

We don't teach civics in school anymore, and we don't even care what crimes church leaders commit.

Today, if you want it, take it. If you don't want it, don't take it.

Hesitancy? Our hesitancy is not in taking vaccines, but in respecting rule of law.

income Low vs affordable housing

I am responding to your Article April 21st on Affordable Housing and once again on this Merry Go Round, no one is addressing HUD Project Based Housing nor Section 8 Vouchers which would easily address the Housing Crisis in Leavenworth for Local Workers.

Is it because no Developer nor Owner wants to meet the Federal Government Standards for Safe and Stable Housing for the Low Low, or Low Income People, Families, or Disabled in our County or Community to build new Low Income Housing? Thank God for the Wenatchee Housing Authority, Garten Haus, and the few units at Berg Rose up here in Leavenworth or you would have Seniors camping along the River along with your seasonal workers!

Affordable Housing is a misnomer and can be whatever an owner or a person says and depends on what County, City, or State they are in. Call it by name and correctly. Leavenworth needs more Low-income Housing and apartments are the only way a low income person can live and hopefully have a little on the side to put away monthly, for health or emergencies. It starts there or Homes with a MEND like development that provides the Financing for the Low Income, not sending them out to get their own Financing. In turn the Home remains in the Development only available to be sold to another that meets the Low Income Qualifications.

Lets get off this Merry Go Round, call it Low Income Housing, and Address as Such.

HUD Project Based or Section 8, in which a Resident pays only 30 percent of their income after allowed deductions. Work with HUD or Housing Authority to find the best fit for Leavenworth going forward putting those tax dollars to good use. Locals that can invest in this or donate land to an excellent cause, please get involved. Thank you for your time and have a great day!

Johnson & Johnson Covid-19 Vaccine Resumes

SUBMITTED BY VERONICA FARIAS

Chelan Douglas Health District

East Wenatchee - On Friday, April 23, the Federal Drug Administration (FDA) and Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) resumed the use of the Johnson & Johnson (Janssen)

COVID-19 vaccine.

After a thorough safety review, the FDA and CDC made the decision to lift the pause on the Johnson & Johnson vaccine. Read the FDA and CDC's full statement here: https://www.cdc.gov/ media/releases/2021/fda-cdclift-vaccine-use.html.

The pause on the Johnson

& Johnson vaccine was placed on April 13 in an abundance of caution after reports of six cases of rare blood clots were associated with the one-dose vaccine.

Chelan-Douglas Health District will continue to work closely with local providers on vaccine efforts. Please stay tuned for future Johnson & Johnson vaccine clinics throughout Chelan and Douglas counties.

Now more than ever, please wear a mask, wash your hands and watch your distance. To stay informed on current COVID-19 testing and the COVID-19 vaccine, visit www. cdhd.wa.gov and follow CDHD on Facebook and Twitter.

Strategic Consulting Grant Open to NCW Nonprofits

SUBMITTED BY JENNIFER DOLGE

The Nonprofit Practices Institute, a partnership of the Community Foundation of NCW and the Icicle Fund, is now offering capacity-building grants to nonprofits in Chelan, Douglas, Okanogan, and Grant counties.

The pandemic has caused many nonprofits to step back, pause, and re-examine their organizational purpose, plans, and capacity. "Strategic Nonprofit Consulting for Success" is an opportunity to make the most of this time of change to strengthen their organizations.

The grant will provide customized consulting services for selected nonprofits in one of three areas: Planning & Engagement, Organizational Culture & Structure, or Partnerships & Collaboration. The grant will cover the cost of the consultant that will guide board and staff leadership over the course of several months to address the specific needs of the organization.

important for our nonprofit organizations right now as they emerge from a difficult year" said Beth Stipe, the Foundation's executive director. "It's a great opportunity to work one on one with a professional consultant that can help them realign their goals, evaluate their processes, and even consider some partnerships that may result in a stronger impact of their mission.'

The grant is open to 501c3 nonprofit organizations in Chelan, Douglas, Okanogan, and Grant counties; fiscallysponsored programs are eligible for the Partnership & Collaboration area only. Awards will be determined by the scope of the project. Application deadline is May 31.

The STR controversy has several elements attached to it, mainly parking, garbage, lewd behavior, dog waste and late night noise for which locals are upset about feeling that their neighborhoods are being denigrated by outsiders who can make a mess and then leave town without suffering any consequences. These citizens and groups are demanding more enforcement of noise, parking and other codes already on the books to quell the out of town visitor's penchant for raucous actions while here on vacations. On the other hand, many homeowners and especially businesses, welcome the influx of millions of dollars into the economy and are especially keen on harvesting these revenues in light of the 2020 economic devastation.

Chelan County Sheriff Brian Burnett, a previous MCC speaker, has recommended residents shoot video or still photos of illegal activities to memorialize any incidents they feel are outside the law.

In his talk earlier this year, Burnett said the policing of STR residents, at this time, would be done during normal working hours Monday through Friday, about 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., but that residents with immediate and emergency issues should still call 911 (Rivercom).

has had more than its share of devastating wildfires.

In 2017, the legislature passed Senate Bill 5546 directing the state DNR to set up a framework for evaluating and treating fire-prone lands. That law sets specific goals for assessing and treating over 1 million acres over 16 years. The process will rely primarily on prescribed burning, previously called controlled burning, and strategic thinning.

Senator Hawkins and DNR Commissioner Hilary Franz admit that the effort to address the problem in high risk counties like Chelan and Okanogan will take more than a state program. They encourage all local residents to become actively engaged in developing Fire Wise programs in their communities.

For her part Franz has initiated a program called "Wildfire Ready Neighbors." This six-week pilot program will have a staggered rollout in three high-risk counties that:

Drives people to assess risks and take action to make their properties more wildfire ready;

Raises awareness and interest in receiving free forest health consultations and home assessments;

Builds understanding of local/state resources and contractors available to assist with risk reduction activities;

Grows and deepens community relationships and partnerships around issues of wildfire and resiliency; and,

Creates a model for replicable future wildfire preparedness and resiliency programs that can be utilized by community partners in addition to their own existing programs or efforts.

To join, community members simply sign up at www. wildfireready.com. At no cost

Burnett requested time to iron out the kinks in the meantime. He suggested evening and weekend shifts might be possible, but that these special deputies, although trained in a police academy like other deputies, are mainly code enforcers. For normal criminal or medical emergency calls, regular patrol deputies would be answering the calls as dispatched by Rivercom.

around the home had been cleared and a defensible space had been created.

Senator Hawkins and Commissioner Franz both admit that fire suppression efforts must become more aggressive. Too often in the past fires were allowed to burn until there was no way to put them out until a heavy rain or even snowfall ended it naturally.

Some of the programs being implemented by DNR provide financial assistance. For example, landowners up the Chumstick and Eagle Creek areas outside of Leavenworth can get financial assistance for approved programs to make their properties less prone to wildland fire. Small Forest landowners should contact the State Department of Natural Resources to see if they are eligible.

to the community member, a wildfire expert will visit their property and develop a detailed action plan for wildfire preparedness. The plan includes steps they can take immediately and information about local resources and contractors to help get them started.

Wildfires often spark fires miles away. Fire officials say 90 percent of homes and buildings are lost as a result of wildfire embers blown by winds. Local residents may remember how fires were started in downtown Wenatchee by flames from a wildfire up in the foothills just a few years ago.

The Department of Natural Resources has encouraged landowners to be Firewise by taking steps to prepare the area around their home making it more defensible in case of a wildland fire. DNR claims studies show that 80 percent of the homes lost, as a result of a wildland fire, could have been saved if brush
