Mayor hires new city manager

Ana Cortez

By BILL FORHAN

In a rare split vote the city council voted to ratify the decision of Mayor Carl Florea to hire Ms. Ana Cortez as the new city manager.

Cortez received her Masters in Public Administration from the University of Washington and likes to call Washington home although she is originally from California and spent much of her early career in the Bay area.

In 1917 she took a position in Yakima as the Assistant

City Administrator and Finance Director. She left that position to become the City Administrator in Helena, Montana.

Cortez had some difficulty in Helena and left that position with less than a year left on her contract.

Council members were divided on the decision because several believed the community should have had a chance to meet the finalists for the position before the offer was made. There was also some discussion by Council members about the decision given the difficulties Cortez experienced in her position in Montana.

Cortez said she was hired to make changes to the way the city operated and had received good reviews on her performance. But there was resistance from some employees who did not like the changes. She voluntarily resigned her position and received a settlement and letter of recommendation.

In a telephone interview with the Echo on Friday of become another hot spot for last week, Cortez had clearly absorbed the most important issues of Mayor Florea's campaign. She said she had never lived in a resort community that was so heavily dependent on tourism. She said she believed it was important to build our community as a community that all of our people could call home.

People who only come for a weekend are not invested in the community. We must find a way for all of those who work here can afford to live here. That includes the teachers, the nurses, the bus drivers, hotel workers and in their cars. The idea of a waitresses.

She said now we have to find a way to reopen our economy. We must insure our local residents that we are safe. That we do not the infection to spread.

In discussing the issue of "workforce housing" as expressed by Mayor Florea, Cortez said she spent most of her working life in California.

"California is broken," she said.

In San Francisco unless you are a millionaire you cannot afford to live in San Francisco. There is no diversity of housing. So people have to live outside of the city. Many are commuting as much as 3 hours a day. That creates gridlock. People live family unit that sits together and has dinner is out of the question because you are in the car. You pollute. You spend a lot of money on gas. You often don't have the disposable income to take advantage of the other benefits of the local economy.

Cortez did say that commuting in from Cashmere or Wenatchee was not unreasonable. It is about choices.

You just cannot have a community that only has luxury homes or a high percentage of vacation homes without creating the problems like California.

"We must make sure that Leavenworth does not just become a playground for the city of Seattle," said Cortez.

Ana Cortez begins her position on Monday, June 1.

City protests County's action to amend zoning of agricultural land

By BILL FORHAN

At the Tuesday city council meeting the council decided to take legal action to protest Chelan County's decision to amend the zoning of 63 acres of land. The property owned by Riverstone Ranch, LLC had requested the change.

Riverstone acquired the property from a local orchardist and has requested a change in zoning from agriculture resource land to residential. The change has been challenged by former Mayor Cherie Farivar and now by current Mayor Carl Florea. Both have challenged the change as being in violation of the Growth are being stressed financially and Management Act.

To date the County has not responded to the City's challenge to the change. The city is now considering filing a charge with the Growth Management Hearings Board. The problem is that the GMA Hearings Board decision may come too late to change the zoning change decision. Then the cities only recourse is to file their challenge through Superior Court.

Council was involved in a significant dispute about the merits of preserving agricultural land. Versus the challenges of expanding residential. Many orchardists selling land is sometimes a way to stay solvent.

Development of these 63 acres of previously agricultural land could result in up to 102 new residential units. These units would require wells and septic systems that could be harmful to the river. The city is also concerned about increased daily traffic to a stretch of highway that is already experiencing excessive traffic.

Council eventually approved a measure to proceed with the appeal. Council approved the measure by a vote of six to one with Councilwoman Hessburg opposed. Council then approved a measure to engage attorney Andy Lane to represent the city in the appeal for an amount not to exceed $30,000. That measure passed unanimously.

Pool and Festhalle Rental Fees Increased

Although it is unclear if the pool will open this season. Pool use fees were increased to $5 for PRSA residents and $7 for non-residents. Council unanimously approved increases in fees for use of the pool. Senior rates did not change.

Festhalle fee increases were also approved. The daily use fees were generally increased by $25 per day or $75 for Friday and Saturday events. The fee increases were approved unanimously.

Amendment to the USDA Rural Development Loan/Grant

Current cost estimates for the Waste Water System Improvements have increased by $5,566,000 from the original proposal. Bringing the total cost for the project to $19,506,000. Funding for the project came primarily through the USDA Rural Development Loan/ Grant program. The new program is estimated to include a grant in the amount of $7,360,000 and a loan of $12,146,000. This represent an increase in the loan of $1,476,000.

While the paperwork was not complete as of the Tuesday, May 12 the council approved the measure pending final attorney review.

Top Gardening Trends for 2020Blooms and beyond: The top gardening trends for 2020

(BPT) - Whether you have an outdoor oasis or are a nurturing indoor plant parent, gardening offers a multitude of benefits and has the power to brighten up. any space or mood. Spring is the time to plan what plants to grow, and with some expert insight on top trends, you'll be gardening with success and enjoying the results. The team at Ball Horticultural Company shares the top trends for 2020, guiding plant lovers at all levels to confidently grow a garden, big or small.

Indoor Garden Rooms

Mother Nature has made her way indoors with more people planting inside their homes in a variety of ways. Whether it's creating a soothing space by a windowsill filled with houseplants or growing your own edible herbs and microgreens in your kitchen, planting indoors is on the rise. Serious plantlovers are even dedicating entire interior spaces to gardening, creating "garden rooms" or "indoor jungles."

Indoor gardening lets homeowners experience the benefits of plants wherever they live, regardless of the weather outdoors. Easyto-care-for houseplants, such as Dieffenbachia, a strong and sturdy plant that has stunning and unique tropical leaves, makes people feel like they are on vacation in their own homes. Studies show that foliage plants also clean indoor air and lift overall spirits. Finally, don't be afraid of indoor flowering plants like Gerbera or Cyclamen. Their flowers last 3-4 weeks and are available in many eolors to fit your mood or match your seasonal décor. PanAmerican Seed offers the Kitchen Minis collection as an option for gardeners who want to grow and harvest their own vegetables year-round. These potted vegetable plants can thrive on a sunny windowsill or counter. With Kitchen Minis, such as the Siam Edible Potted Tomato, people can pluck ingredients right from the container in their kitchen to use in a recipe. The collection also includes sweet and hot peppers with more options to come.

Gardening for Health and Wellness

It's no secret that consuming fresh vegetables and herbs is beneficial to one's physical health, and gardening at home puts a variety of flavorful produce within arm's reach. The benefits of gardening also extend to mental health, as tending a garden and being close to nature helps reduce stress, calm anxiety and acts as a mood-booster.

Herbs are a simple place to start when growing your own food. You can't go wrong with Everleaf Emerald Towers Basil, which adds flavor to many dishes like fresh Caprese salad. This beautiful, column-like plant not only gives a bountiful harvest, it is also late to flower and can be paired with colorful flowers in a mixed container for month after month of hand-plucked flavor and garden enjoyment.

Mardi Gras Fun Snack Peppers from Burpee Plants are the perfect healthy miniature peppers that add a conversation piece to any garden. They're available in four eye-catching color options that can be grown together in one container for a fun patio display, and kids adore helping to grow, pick and eat these crunchy snacks.

Aromatherapy is also a popular wellness practice, with lavender plants topping the list of must-haves because of its reputation for inspiring relaxation. SuperBlue English Lavender grows rich blue blooms on short flower spikes, providing a calming scent and great garden texture. Alternatively, Primavera Spanish Lavender flowers throughout the summer, displaying great heat with bushy, tolerance scented florets that attract bees and other pollinators.

Bold Colors

Bold colors are planted in gardens across the country and different hues blanket landscapes large and small. Additionally, people with container gardens are planting flowers known for their vivid color for instant impact, making this trend accessible to all, including those who live in a condo or apartment with limited outdoor garden space. Some standout plants that feature the best bold hues include Galaxy Geranium, a brand-new series that is vigorous enough to keep its large, semi-double blooms in-color all season. Look for stunning dark red, pink, purple, salmon, violet. watermelon and white, giving gardeners the option to choose their favorite shade or create a rainbow of flowers.

Another bold option that is wonderful for sunny borders or bright corners is Rose Marvel Salvia, Its mega-large bloom stems result in spectacular displays in spring and summer so you'll enjoy color throughout the warm months. The rose-pink flowers are deer and rabbit resistant, plus they rebloom without being cut back, saving time and minimizing maintenance.

Ask for these plants at your favorite garden retailer, and you're on your way to experiencing all that flowers have to offer, To learn more about these plants and the top gardening trends of the year, visit the plant experts at www.ballhort.com.

We promise EXTRA care when you buy or sell with us.

5 Fresh Ways to Frame Your Outdoor Space

determining the look of your outdoor living space, decking is only half of the equation. In many cases, it's the deck railings that are most visible and the design element that makes the first impression.

"Railings serve a necessary safety function, but they also play an important aesthetic role," explains designer Alison Victoria, star of HGTV's "Windy City Rehab" and "Rock the Block," "They frame an outdoor space and define the setting's style and personality."

Following are five fresh ways to frame up your outdoor space for maximum enjoyment and curb appeal:

Industrial inspiration

Industrial styling is all the rage, as homeowners seek to replicate the clean lines and modern looks found in today's hottest hotels, restaurants and craft breweries. In backyards across the country, this commercial-to-residential trend can be seen in the increased use of aluminum railing styles that deliver sleek sophistication. One such example is Trex Signature Railing, which offers a range of designs, including horizontal rods, mesh panels or glass inserts, in addition to traditional spindles - all with the low maintenance and durability of aluminum.

Mixed materials

While railing matched to the decking remains perennially popular, an increasing number of homeowners are taking advantage of customizable design possibilities afforded by new railing materials, styles and finishes. Visual interest can be achieved by juxtaposing materials such as composite, aluminum, glass and brick. For an eyecatching color contrast, consider pairing chunky, white posts with slim, black balusters. Or, mix classic and contemporary looks by using a traditional, wide railing to frame the deck while installing a slimmer railing style on staircases.

View-optimizing options

If you want to enjoy your view, thin balusters finished in black are a great choice as they tend to optically blend into the environment, more visual surroundings. Glass panels are also ideal, of course, as are cable and rod rail designs. Conversely, if you have nosy neighbors or a view you'd rather minimize, opt for railings with thicker posts and more tightly spaced balusters to enhance privacy.

emphasis on the natural

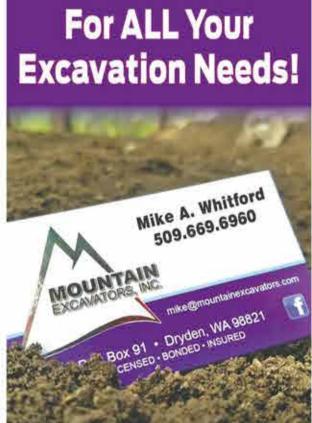

Form and function

In certain cases, deck railings can be as practical as they are pretty. One of the biggest trends is "cocktail railing" or a "drink rail." This approach uses a deck board as a top rail to create a flat ledge at just the right height for holding drinks and plates. This level surface also offers an ideal resting spot for potted plants, candles and other decorative accessories. By using boards that match the decking, you can achieve a look that complements your deck, while making great use of space.

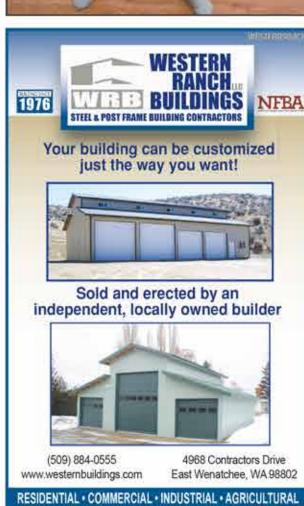

Inviting illumination

Augment the beauty of your railing and lengthen the time you can spend enjoying your deck with discreet outdoor lighting that can be integrated into railing posts and caps. Not only will lighting set the mood, it also adds safety and security. Consider LED dimmable options to maximize energy efficiency, such as Trex Outdoor Lighting, which also are weatherproof and salt-air proof - ensuring they will last for years. people across the country staying put in their homes right now, a fun and functional outdoor space is more important Amusement than ever. parks and concerts are closed or canceled and around the spring is corner, beckoning families outdoors. whether forced or planned, more enjoyable.

Here are three ways a deck can improve the at-home experience.

1. Fewer screens, more fun

When kids are out of school, screen time usually goes up. Whether it's TV. computers, video games, phones or tablets, screen time is usually a sedentary activity.

A deck can provide an alternative outdoor play space where kids can be active and stretch their imaginations, enjoy the outdoors and do things like bring their favorite toys like building blocks, action figures or doll houses outdoors

Worried about splinters hurting those little toes and fingers? Composite decking is a beautiful option that makes sanding, staining, sealing and splinters a thing of the past. While composite decking has historically had a higher price tag than traditional wood, boards like Envision Ridge Premium deliver the exotic hardwood beauty and low maintenance of composites at a budget-friendly price.

2. Home office with a side of vitamin D

Millions of Americans have moved to work-fromhome situations recently and are looking for a way to get out of their stuffy home offices in favor of a workspace with natural lighting and a great breeze. Soaking up a safe amount of sun every day can reap big benefits for your health, according to physicians and the World Organization (WHO), including elevating mood, improving sleep, promoting bone growth and strengthening the immune system.

With the right patio furniture, a deck can make a great option for an outdoor workspace to soak up the benefits of the sun's rays. Choose a table of the appropriate height and a comfortable chair for extended work sessions, or a cushioned chaise lounge for shorter periods. Adding a screen or pergola to a deck can provide some protection from the wind (fewer important work papers blowing around). year long

3. Family time all

If there's an upside to the increase in people staying home, it's the ability to connect with the other people living in your home. Life can get so busy with work, friends and other commitments that it's difficult to find time to connect or have a family game night. A deck is a great place to gather the members of your household for a laid-back evening of stargazing or a rowdy game night. And those connections don't have to end due to summer's heat or fall's chill. By adding an outdoor heater, firepit or fans, you can extend your deck's use as a family space to the majority of the year.

As you can see, a deck is a great way to expand the living space of your home and to provide an alternative space for all members of the family to enjoy.

"I cant delay my care.

There are misconceptions around the safety of visiting a clinic, hospital or health center right now - but medical providers want you to know accessing health care is safe. Care is available by phone, video call or in person. In-person care looks a little different right now: There aren't any more crowded waiting rooms, and you'll likely see a lot of people in masks, being asked screening questions, or have your temperature taken. All of these precautions are to keep you safe.

Hoping a medical issue will just get better? Not getting help could mean it will get worse. If you have a physical or emotional health concern, make the call to your care team and let them make the call about your medical needs. Don't put your health care on pause.

Don't delay. Get care. We're here.

New group asserts short-term rentals in county residential zones are illegal

County to hold public hearing May 27

SUBMITTED BY KIRVIL SKINNARLAND

LEAVENWORTH/MAN-SON - Chelan County has seen a rapid growth in the number of shortterm rentals (rentals of less than 30 days) in residential neighborhoods for the last five years. A new group calling itself "Residents United for Neighbors in Chelan County" (RUN) has been organized to advocate for the interests of long-term residents of the Countyresidents who are being negatively affected especially by houses rented to large groups where there is no owner living onsite. There are over 1,300 short term rentals (STRs) in unincorporated Chelan County, the majority of which (868) are in the 98826—Leavenworth zip code.

Residents United for Neighbors released a legal memorandum today from the group's attorney, David Bricklin (Bricklin and Newman LLP). He concludes that except for Manson, "Short-term rentals are currently not allowed in Chelan County's residential zones." The County's zoning code is structured so that unless a use is expressly authorized, it is prohibited. Because short term rentals are not specifically authorized in residential districts, they are prohibited. (The County does allow bed and breakfast lodging in residential zones when it is the owner's principal residence.)

Residents United for Neighbors also asked Mr. Bricklin whether a County ban on STRs would constitute an unlawful taking of property without compensation. The answer is no. The County has the authority to ban short term rentals in residential zones, including banning those already in existence. Citing a November 2019 Washington Supreme Court Case, Yim v. City of Seattle, the legal memorandum states that since property can still be used for traditional residential uses, "the County has no exposure to a takings claim."

Residents United for Neighbors is not seeking to eliminate all short term rentals in Chelan County. "We understand areas such as Leavenworth and Lake Wenatchee are tourist destinations, and short terms rentals are part of the lodging mix for visitors," says Barbara Rossing. However, "absenteeowner short term rentals are commercial tourist facilities, similar to hotels. They are more appropriate in commercial and tourist zones." RUN suggests that such absenteeowner whole house short term rentals not be allowed in residential neighborhoods at all unless they are reduced in number and meet stringent code requirements including a limit on guests. "870 short term rentals in the 98826 zip code is too many," says Rossing. Such a large number worsens our housing affordability crisis and negatively impacts the cohesion of our neighborhoods.

A draft code to regulate short term rentals in Chelan County is currently being considered by the Planning Commission. A public hearing is scheduled for May 27.

camping Memorial Day weekend? By John Kruse, The

Can we go

Washington Outdoors REPORT

Memorial Day weekend is heralded as the kick off to the summer camping season but the COVID-19 pandemic will change that this year. In Washington, the majority of state parks (except for several in the Columbia River Gorge and along the Washington Coast) are open for day use but they will not open up for camping until at least June 1st. That's when the majority of the state is poised to move into Phase 2 of our recovery efforts, which includes the resumption of camping.

I contacted Anna Gill with Washington State Parks to ask about whether parks in counties that have already moved to Phase 2 (Columbia, Garfield, Ferry, Lincoln, Stevens, Wahkiakum, Skamania and Pend Oreille) would be open for camping over Memorial Day weekend. She responded by saying camping would not resume at State Parks in those counties until the entire state enters Phase 2.

The same question was poised to Paige DeChambeau with the Washington Department of Natural Resources and Staci Lehman with the the same message.

As for our National Forests? Right now, developed campgrounds, picnic areas and trailheads are closed. Catherine Caruso with the US Forest Service's Pacific Northwest Regional Office says, "Developed day use recreation sites will be opening up gradually throughout the month. These day use sites include developed trailheads and picnic areas. Campgrounds will likely not be opening prior to Memorial Day weekend." the end of May.

Washington Department of Fish and Wildlife. DeChambeau said, "Further direction will be needed from the Governor's Office before any plans can be finalized, but we are hoping to target a June 1st statewide camping reopening.... We want to encourage people to try and stay close to home for a while longer." Lehman with WDFW echoed

In addition to this, visitor centers (such as the ones found at Mount St. Helens) will probably remain closed through May. In Central Washington, there is no firm answer as to whether Icicle River Road near Leavenworth with a number of popular trailheads, campgrounds and developed recreation sites, will open before the end of the month. However, the Forest Service did announce no overnight camping by hikers will be permitted in the popular Enchantments area of the Alpine lake Wilderness through

As far as National Parks go, Mount Rainier remains hard to visit with the main Nisqually entrance and Carbon River entrances closed. All lodges, visitor centers, campgrounds and trailheads also remain closed. At Olympic National Park many of the roads are open, but just about everything else is closed and at North Cascades National Park Denise Schulz, Chief of Visitor Services stated "The entire park complex is closed....It is yet to be determined what, if any, areas of the park complex might be open by Memorial Day weekend.'

Meanwhile, the Lake Roosevelt National Recreation Area does have boat launches open as water levels allow but. campgrounds, toilets and fish cleaning stations are closed. Trash collection is also not taking place.

Moving on to the Bureau of Land Management the developed recreation sites east of the Cascades that were closed due to COVID-19 have reopened, but only for day use activities.

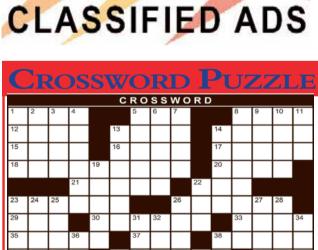

Finally, several private fishing and camping resorts have opened though others remain closed. Some of the ones we found open for business included MarDon Resort at Potholes Reservoir in Grant County, Liar's Cove Resort at Conconully Lake in Okanogan County and the Beaver Lodge Resort on Lake Gillette near Colville. However, every one of these resort owners told me their camping and campground/RV sites are completely booked for Memorial Day weekend. Having said that, it might be worth calling a few other private resorts to see if space is available. It's unlikely, but there's a small chance you can salvage a traditional Memorial Day weekend with camping and time at the lake at a private resort.

For the rest of us though, access and overnight stays at many of our favorite places is not in the cards this Memorial Day. Instead, follow the advice of state health officials and enjoy a day trip to public lands and parks that are open, sticking close to home over the long weekend. After a day at the park, on the water or in the woods head back home. There you can grill up something outside and enjoy some time with family around a fire pit (where allowed). Those marshmallows and hot dogs burn the same whether you are at the campground or in the backyard. John Kruse - www.north-
