

CITY OF LEAVENWORTH City Council Meets, Talks of Extra Holiday Patrols on Agenda

By Brandi Charles

The Leavenworth City Council met on Tuesday, September 10, for its study session at 8:30 a.m. and City Council meeting at 6:30 p.m.

At the morning study session Chamber of Commerce president Nancy Smith gave an update on the preparations for the upcoming holiday season, including the need to find a Santa.

Two representatives from Columbia Valley Community Health (CVCH) spoke to implore the council to allow them to bring a mobile clinic to Leavenworth once a month so that people in the area who may not otherwise be able to access medical care may do so at no cost.

The Council was favorable to the idea but asked the representatives from the CVCH to speak with the free clinic in Leavenworth before a final decision is made.

The Parking Advise ment Committee spoke about getting a handle on the parking situation downtown.

The committee cited the need for convenient employee parking so that spaces for visitors that want to make short trips to retailers remain open.

The need for metered parking was addressed. Some on the council expressed their initial hesitancy to put in metered parking, but the consensus was that it was needed because trying to regulate timed parking would be costly, as will signage and enforcement.

“Smart Meters” were discussed as a desirable option due to their ability to allow parkers to pay with options other than cash, also for the ease at which the parking rates can be changed and data can be collected. The committee is working with Brad Magee from Civic Smart.

Pine Street beautification was discussed. Residents are being offered a selection of fire-wise shrubs and/or trees that would be purchased and installed by the city, but would be maintained by the homeowner.

Homeowners will get to choose which plants they would like from a list that was gathered by Herb Amick. Amick consulted with a local nursery about the shrubs and trees on the list.

The PRSA would like to do a recreational needs assessment to find out what residents expect from a community/recreation center.

The council discussed the fact that there is no clear consensus on what residents expect from such an establishment.

This is why the assessment is needed.

The fact that residents of Peshastin feel like they would not benefit from a community center in Leavenworth was brought to the attention of the council.

Some senior members of the council were concerned that a new community center could jeopardize the pool.

The need for more input from the community as far as their expectations was agreed upon by the council.

At the evening meeting Larry Meyer who is a representative from the Mosquito Control Board, gave a report saying the board does no spraying unless absolutely essential and when they do, it is with larvicide.

Pesticide expenditures this year amounted to about $7,000 down from $16,000, meaning the board overbought last year. Since it was a mild year mosquito-wise, they ended up having some pesticide left over.

The Mosquito Control Board meets once a month if there is important business.

Mayor Farivar commented on how she can remember a time when summer nights in Leavenworth were miserable due to all the mosquitos.

Ordinance 1588, Leavenworth Municipal Code Amendment was discussed.

The amendment involved planned development regulations which included a five foot transition between residential and commercial units, a minimum project size of 6000 sq. ft. for affordable housing projects and 24,000 sq. ft. for all other planned developments.

There was concern among the public about height levels of new construction to which it was stated that any new developments would be subject to city codes already in place.

A concern about transient housing amongst residential housing was raised, so language was inserted to ensure that transient housing, such as hotels would not be allowed in residential districts/planned developments. The motion was passed unanimously.

Chaplain Maynard W. Atik

A heartfelt touch even by the youngest who came for the 9/11 dedication.

Chaplain Maynard W. Atik Brings Memories of Tragedy and Message of Hope

By Brandi Charles

Long before he brought the crowd at this year's 9/11 Spirit of America Annual Remembrance Ceremony to its feet, Chaplain Maynard W. Atik was compassionately caring for those brought to their knees by horrific tragedy.

From Oct. 2001 to May 2002, he was a volunteer chaplain with the Red Cross and later at St. Paul's Chapel. Located directly across the street from the World Trade Center site.

St. Paul's Chapel became a place for exhausted police, firefighters, construction crews, rescue workers and numerous others to clean up, rest and eat.

In the days and months immediately following 9/11 the call was made for clergy to come and be of comfort to the weary and Mr. Atik answered the call.

Born and bred in Brooklyn, New York, Mr. Atik graduated from St. Olaf College and Luther Theological Seminary.

Having had many different experiences as a member of the clergy, it would be the events of 9/11 that would leave an indelible mark on him.

He was living in Brooklyn at the time and was watching The Today Show when he first saw the news that a plane had hit the north tower.

Working as a volunteer chaplain in the months after 9/11 Mr. Atik remembers the “sad eyes” of the first responders.

He recalls an occasion 10 years after 9/11 when he was visiting the Tower Footprints at the 9/11 Memorial and Museum.

A firefighter and police officer approached him and said “I’m here for my partner who was younger and faster” he says that was all they needed to say.

His is a ministry of presence, often people just need to be heard and to know that there is someone willing to listen.

When discussing the September 11th Victim Compensation Fund, he stresses the need for not only the physical health of the first responders, but also a need for their mental health.

If he were to be able to speak to a person who was there on 9/11 he says what he would ask of them would be “how has this affected you?”

The reverence he has for those who served on that day is clear in his tone and recollection of events.

We all remember where we were that day, but to have been a clergy member at the time, a person who others look to for guidance, must have been on a whole other level of responsibility and grief.

Mr. Atik credits the grief counseling that he has undergone with being of a great help to him in coping with the aftermath of 9/11.

Today Mr. Atik lives in downtown Edmonds with his wife Darleen. He is a proud father of two.

After the 9/11 Dedication Ceremony members of the audience came up for a touch and a prayer.

Cascade High School Competes at Manson Invitational

SUBMITTED BY DAYLE MASSEY

Cascade High School competed in the Manson Invitational

Cross Country Meet on Saturday, September 14. Zoe McDevitt had a dominant race, placing first on the 5k course with a time of 20:39, 26 seconds faster than the 2nd place finisher.

Junior Celeste Villalobos also raced well, placing 6th with a time of 22:38.

Rounding out the 5 scoring varsity runners were freshman Tillie Leroy, Anna Martinez, and Isabel Rodriguez.

Their solid runs earned them 2nd place as a team. Zoe was league champion last year and seeing how hard she's training and how well she's racing, could very well repeat this year.

The fastest boy, sophomore Derek Richardson, had his best race ever by almost 20 seconds, finishing in 4th place with a time of 16:56. Sophomore Owen Bard was close behind, in 5th place at 17:09, followed by sophomore Jacob Redman, sophomore Lien Hagedorn, and senior Avery Jacobson. They combined for 3rd place overall as a team.

This was an excellent result as we were missing Landon Davies, the team's #1 runner and Jerome Jerome, the #4 runner showing that the team has enough depth to do well even if it's not at full strength.

The next race it at the South Whidbey Invitational on Saturday, September 21.

If everyone is healthy and running well, it will be a good test because the team will be racing against some of the better teams in the state.

Chaplain Maynard W. Atik Brings Memories of Tragedy and Message of Hope

His son David is a flight nurse who lives in San Diego and is married with two children.

His daughter Kirsten lives in Seattle working as a communications director at the University of Washington and is married with two children.

Quick to tell anyone who will listen that he is not a Yankees fan, he has ushered at T-Mobile park for the Mariners for the past 15 years. He also enjoys swimming and making Santa's out of clay.

To conclude his speech at the 9/11 Spirit of America Annual Remembrance Ceremony he recited these verses from a hymn by Robert Wadsworth Lowry: "Through all the tumult and the strife, I hear that music ringing. It finds an echo in my soul, how can I keep from singing? No storm can shake my inmost calm, while to that refuge clinging. Since Christ is Lord of Heaven and Earth, how can I keep from singing?"

During this year's 9/11 Spirit of America Remembrance Ceremony Mr. Atik was presented with the Spirit of America Award and it was well deserved.

For a man that has seen so much tumult in the wake of the horror we all felt that day, he is a true testament to the compassion and caring that can come out of tragedy, and to hear his first hand account of the heroism and strength that he witnessed is truly inspiring.

City Council Meets, Talks of Extra Holiday Patrols on Agenda

Resolution 12-2019 for WaterSMART funding grant application was action two on the agenda. Council is asked to pass a resolution for a grant application to be submitted for the amount of $300,000.

By applying for the grant the city agrees to follow all the regulations put in place by the Bureau of Reclamations and it also agrees to use the grant money toward the project and pay off the balance.

The council passed the resolution unanimously.

An action to approve traffic/foot patrols needed for Oktoberfest was action three on the agenda. A total of $7,500 is being requested for extra patrols.

The question as to whether the vendors should shoulder some of the responsibility and costs for this, Mr. Walinski responded by saying that it is a safety issue, therefore it is the responsibility of the city. The motion passed unanimously.

An action to approve a traffic control contract for Christmas lighting was action four on the agenda.

A total of $125,000 is being requested to help ease the congestion during the festivities, the funds would come from the lodging tax.

Citing that traffic control is a safety issue and that the flaggers in place last year helped, but were not organized, these funds are being requested to hire a state patrol officer to keep order.

It was mentioned that $125,000 seemed to be a very large sum. Ms. Bretz said that "her chin hit the floor" when she heard the sum of $90,000 last year and that it didn't seem to have that much of an effect to which Mr. Walinski and Mayor Farivar replied that the first responders noticed the difference and were able to navigate traffic easier.

The funds would come from the lodging tax, therefore the locals would not be footing the bill. The motion passed unanimously.

The final item on the agenda was the action to approve computer/server purchases for the water and wastewater plants.

This is an issue that has been discussed thoroughly in the past and was agreed upon unanimously.

Before the meeting adjourned Mayor Farivar reminded the council and members of the public that the Mayor's annual breakfast will be held on Tuesday September 17, from 7-9 a.m. at Wild Huckleberry.

We are here to serve families in Leavenworth, Peshastin, Plain and the entire Upper Valley.

Welcome to the 29th Annual Salmon Festival!

Executive Directors, Corky Broaddus (right) and Hailey Croci welcome everyone to the 29th Wenatchee River Salmon Festival "Catch The Salmon Fest Fever".

By BRANDI CHARLES

This year marks the 29th anniversary of the Salmon Festival at the Leavenworth National Fish Hatchery. Corky Broaddus has been a part of the festival for 22 years and talks with pride about what it stands for and how much it has grown. It was one of the first nature festivals in the country and serves as a model for programs nationwide. What is unique about Salmon Festival is it promotes outdoor recreation while providing high quality natural resource education in a fun, family-friendly environment.

The first two days of Salmon Festival are dedicated to the students. Over 2,500 children from more than 85 classrooms are expected to visit on Thursday and Friday. For many schools this will be the only field trip they take all year long so the staff aims to make their experience extra special. Salmon Festival is expanding this year and one of the highlights will be representatives from 20 Native American tribes; including the local Wenatchis, on hand to share a wide variety of knowledge and skills. Salmon preparation, drumming, dancing, basket making, canoeing and storytelling are just a few of the areas that will be covered by the tribal representatives. The participation of the Native American community is of the utmost importance as the fish hatchery is located on traditional Aboriginal lands.

As a part of the local community since 1991 locals are well aware of the value of the of the Salmon Festival but the word has spread far and wide. The event has been the recipient of several awards over the years including the International Festival and Events Association's "Best Children's Program" award. Staff and volunteers work tirelessly year-round to make the festival happen. Corky Broaddus says that without the help of the volunteers the Salmon Festival would not happen. She made special mention of the high school students that are eager to come and get their hands dirty every year to help out. This year Cascade High School will be receiving the Volunteer of the Year award, having worked to make the festival a success since it's inception. Broaddus says that every year she sees a number of visitors who came to the festival as children and high schoolers back to visit with their own families and that's one of the many reasons why she volunteers year after year.

There are many organizations that partner with the Fish Hatchery to make Salmon Festival successful. The Chelan County PUD and their River Ramble activities will be available for students on September 19-20, with some also available on the free family day on Saturday. A few of these activities include the 30 foot long Salmon Storytelling Tent and a traditional drumming demonstration. The curators of the Salmon Festival want it to be an inter-generational experience where grandparents can come with the little ones and learn and play together. With so many distractions for young people that encourage them to sit and stare at a screen, Salmon Festival is a rare free opportunity for the whole family to have fun and learn new things while enjoying the great outdoors.

THE WASHINGTON OUTDOORS REPORT

By JOHN KRUISE

THE PERFECT TIME OF YEAR FOR A HIKE

There's something about September if you like to hike the mountains and forests of our state. Perhaps it's the crisp feel of the air in the morning in the lowlands and in the mountains throughout the day. Maybe it's the softer light that shows off the pastel of changing colors of the foliage to yellow and scarlet. Or maybe it's just the fact that hordes of summer hikers are by and large off the trails after Labor Day.

Whatever the reason, it's a good month to go hiking. One great destination this time of year is found at Stuart Lake in the Alpine Lakes Wilderness. The trailhead to Stuart and Colchuck Lake southeast of Leavenworth is a popular one, so much so the U.S. Forest Service had to institute a no-parking policy along the side of the gravel road leading to the parking lot. Having said that, if you can visit mid-week, you'll still find quite a few cars at the trailhead but surprisingly few hikers heading towards Stuart Lake as their destination. The reason? Most hikers are heading up the trail 2 1/4 miles to Mountaineer Creek and taking a left on a trail that takes them to Colchuck Lake. This lake is a beautiful destination in its own right and also the gateway, via Aasgard Pass on the far side of the lake, to the Upper Enchantments that draw thousands of hardy visitors every year.

Of the hikers that stay straight on the trail to Stuart Lake you'll find many of them are climbers, not interested in spending time at the lake but instead, interesting in testing themselves on the granite rock face of nearby Mount Stuart. That's why, even with a parking lot full of cars, you may find yourself alone or with very little company along the shoreline of Stuart Lake.

Take the time and linger over the picnic lunch you hopefully brought along to enjoy after the 4 1/2 mile hike in with a 1,665-foot elevation gain from the trailhead. The views of the lake and towering mountains are amazing and at this time of year you'll see the changing colors of the larch trees turning from green to bright yellow to gold.

The fishing for cutthroat trout can be good too. Try casting a 1/8-ounce Roostertail, Mepps or Promise Keeper spinner or if fly fishing, an attractor fly like a Royal Wulff to draw strikes. The trout population is healthy but not endless so if you want to keep a couple for a shore lunch over a gas stove that's fine but otherwise consider catching and releasing these fish that measure anywhere from 7 to 13 inches in size.

A Forest Service Recreation Pass is required in your vehicle for the Stuart Lake trailhead. You'll also need an overnight permit (available but in high demand) from the Leavenworth Ranger District Office or through an online lottery since Stuart Lake lies within the Enchantment Zone of the Alpine Lakes Wilderness. On the other hand, you only need to fill out a free permit at the trailhead and deposit the stub into the box there for a day hike.

Looking for other fall hiking opportunities? We reached out to Anna Roth with the Washington Trails Association to learn about some of her favorites which include:

NE WASHINGTON - WHISTLER CANYON TRAIL - This little-known destination is located near Oroville. You'll burn some calories as you gain up to 3,000 feet of elevation along this 12-mile long trail which is part of the Pacific Northwest Trail. Its open to hikers and horses and offers stunning views of the Okanogan Valley and Osoyoos Lake along with a chance to see a variety of wildlife species from wild turkey to mule deer to mountain goats.

OLYMPIC PENINSULA - QUINAUT NATIONAL RECREATION TRAILS

Located near Lake Quinault, enjoy a 4.25-mile round trip hike that takes you along an interpretive nature loop amongst giant Sitka spruce and western hemlock. Other parts of the trail follow the shore of Lake Quinault and alongside Falls Creek. This is a family friendly hike with only 350 feet of elevation gain.

If you go hiking this September remember there are several hunting seasons underway in our National Forests so hot pink and blaze orange are not only fashionable, but smart choices for hikers to wear. If you want other ideas about where to go hiking this fall, check out the online hiking guide at www.wta.org
