

CITY OF LEAVENWORTH

Leavenworth council sets public hearing for street vacation

By Al Stover

During the July 23 meeting, the Leavenworth City Council approved several agenda items.

The first action item was a resolution to schedule a public hearing on Sept. 24 at 6:45 p.m. for the proposal to vacate a portion of Commercial Street and an alley located in the Second Addition Leavenworth plat.

Lillith Vespier Development Services Manager noted the property the city acquired and rezoned for public works purposes. The property furthest north that will benefit from the vacation will be Thomas Lin's car wash.

Council also authorized staff to approve an advertisement to bid the wastewater treatment plant PISTA grit system replacement project.

The project includes the removal and disposal of the existing non-functioning PISTA grit removal system and replacement, or an approved alternative. Funding for the project will not be included in the RD funding for the facility's improvements in 2020. There are funds available in the Sewer Capital Reserve Fund to cover the project's cost, which is estimated at $140,000-$175,000.

Public Works Director Herb Amick said staff had hoped the PISTA grit removal system would make it to 2020 for the facility's upgrades, but it ceased to operate. Staff has been operating without a PISTA grit removal system for two months. The PISTA system removes solid materials like gravel, sand and cinder.

"If that's (large bio solids) allowed to get into the system, it causes wear and tear, break downs and all kinds of problems," he added.

Amick confirmed that if staff can replace the system now, the city will not have include the project in the 2020 upgrades.

The council also approved the advertisement for request for proposal (RFP) regarding a solid waste, recycling and organics assessment study for solid waste/garbage collected in the city's commercial districts.

Information obtained from the assessment will be used in managing the city's solid waste and recycling collection services.

City Administrator Joel Walinski said the contractors will build their own program and council will assess them.

The RFP asks firms to develop a process used in measuring and identifying different components within the waste stream, as well identify large waste producers. Staff can use the information to develop strategies for waste reduction or alternatives to handle different components of the stream.

The cost ranges between $10,000-$25,000, the latter is usually for larger systems. The council received an update regarding the auction process of the three properties adjacent to the golf course and front on Icicle Road.

In April, the council voted to surplus the properties and authorized staff to sell them. Mayor Cheri Farivar informed the council that a "For Sale" sign will go up on the lots during the first week of August after Parks Department crews clean up the properties. Each lot will be outlined with survey tape. Farivar said she will attend the local realtors sales meetings and provide them with information and bid packets.

The city will accept closed bids on the properties until the bid opening on Oct. 1 at 2 p.m. Bidders can choose to bid on one, two or all three lots.

In other business, the council approved a motion to cancel the Aug. 13 council and subcommittee meetings. The motion also directed the Finance Director /City Clerk Chantell Steiner to advertise the rescheduling of the Aug. 13 study session to Aug. 27.

Singers Invited: Village Voices Season Opener Picnic

Submitted by Allison M. Bergstrom

The Leavenworth Villages Voices (LVV) invites returning and prospective members to the fifth annual Season Opener Picnic on Monday, Aug. 12, at 6 p.m. at Lions Club Park in Leavenworth.

LVV members will provide the food and beverages, while prospective members are invited to attend as guests – and to bring their singing voices.

The picnic is a great way to enjoy a late summer evening outside and to enable returning members to reconnect before rehearsals start.

The greatest benefit, though, is offering an opportunity for people who are considering joining the group to learn more before coming to the first rehearsal for the 2019 season.

There will be plenty of good food, some entertainment from the LVV Women's Ensemble, and opportunities to mingle and (of course) sing.

The Leavenworth Village Voices is a community choir that performs during the Christmas season.

There are no auditions and formal music training is not required. It is helpful to know how to read music, but not essential. Practice CDs are also provided to help members learn their music by ear.

Larry Henderson, who will embark on his 19th season directing the choir, is dedicated to achieving performance excellence while ensuring the group remains a community choir for those who love to sing.

The only real requirements are committing to regularly attending rehearsals, practicing between rehearsals, memorizing one's music, and being available for concert dates.

In addition to the annual "Christmas in the Mountains" concert series, the choir performs at the Christmas Lighting Festival and carols in small groups downtown to spread holiday cheer.

LVV also does private concerts for four groups, churches, and caregiving facilities and performs for charity events. The LVV Women's Ensemble – a subset of the choir that practices year-round – performs in concerts, festivals, and other functions throughout the year, including the Festival of Choirs in the spring.

The Leavenworth Village Voices is a nonprofit organization founded in 1982 by the late Eleanor Culling. She dreamt of forming a community choir of men and women who share a passion for singing.

The LVV is proud to keep Culling's dream alive, with the group commencing its 37th season. Members love to share the joy and peace of Christmas music while contributing to Leavenworth's Bavarian theme and festive atmosphere.

LVV rehearsals take place on Monday evenings from 7 – 9p.m. at the Leavenworth Community United Methodist Church, located at 418 Evans Street in Leavenworth.

Rehearsals begin August 19. For additional information, visit the Leavenworth Village Voices on Facebook or at www.leavenworthvillagevoices.org.

The 2019 "Christmas in the Mountains" concert series will be held at the Leavenworth Church of the Nazarene on Friday, December 6, Friday, December 13, and Sunday, December 15.

Tickets may be purchased at the door or in advance at the Leavenworth Chamber of Commerce by calling (509) 548-5807.

Upper Valley Historical Society: A Museum on the Move

By Marci Muth

The Upper Valley Historical Society (UVHS), which operates the Upper Valley Museum in Leavenworth, continues making progress towards relocating the museum to Leavenworth's vibrant downtown corridor on Front Street.

On May 1st, UVHS announced plans to relocate its museum into a portion of space currently occupied by The Leavenworth Nutcracker Museum.

The Upper Valley Historical Society is looking for volunteers to help out with small projects that do not require a long commitment of time and effort.

It does not matter if you have lived in the Upper Wenatchee Valley your entire life, or if you have only recently moved here, all are welcome.

If you would like to learn about short-term or long-term volunteer opportunities with UVHS, please contact Matt Cade at (509) 548-0728 or UVM@nwi.net.

UVHS recently engaged Chris Erlich, an independent exhibit curator from Gig Harbor, to help the board formulate plans to create a museum experience that appeals to both residents and visitors alike.

Some of Erlich's clients include the Quincy Valley Museum, Mount Rainier Scenic Railroad, Tacoma Historical Society, Cowlitz County Historical Society, Point Defiance Visitor Center, and Klondike Gold Rush National Historical Park, among others.

UVHS plans to engage Erlich to provide various services within her field of expertise. Some of these services will likely include interpretive planning, research, storyline writing, artifact and photo selection, exhibit and graphic design, fabrication, installation, and consulting.

On July 16th, Erlich led a meeting of eleven people, including some from UVHS's board along with community representatives, who had insight and information into the community, tourism, and UVHS's capabilities.

Community representatives included Charlotte Ley, Chris Rader, Don Morse,

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

A Disgruntled LINK Transit Employee

LINK is being debased by one of its own employees! Chris Piepel, why didn't you inform the public that you worked for LINK Transit? "Don't bite the hand that feeds you!"

When you resort to badmouthing your own company, there may be some dire consequences for your disloyalty. I understand that you want the Link Transit Proposal to fail so you would not have to work on weekends or holidays - what a selfish, self-centered reason.

There are many other successful companies' employees such as servicemen/women, law enforcement, firefighters and countless others that must work hours they dislike. LINK provides a wonderful service to those who need to get to work, to the Doctor, get groceries, etc.

LINK Transit drivers are the best on the road and they are thoughtful, friendly, and patient. Although, I have a car, I prefer riding on LINK instead of driving. I no longer have stress factors with traffic since I no longer drive.

For you people that do drive, please just once park your car, and take the time to be a rider on LINK.

It will help you relax, take the cars off the road, and help you provide cleaner air.

Please vote yes on the LINK Transit proposition - help hire more good employees for a great company!

Big changes coming

There are huge changes proposed for our future as the City seeks to allow increased housing density. These changes to the zoning code which will dramatically affect our neighborhoods and all the city's growth areas across our valley.

Right now, very few people know anything about this. The Planning Commission is holding a Workshop next Wednesday, July 31 at 6:30p.m. in City Council chambers. And there will be further chance to comment during their regular meeting there on Wednesday, August 7 at 7 p.m. Below is a sampling of the many questions that we as a community need to decide on before the codes are changed:

- Is it true that proposed high-density rezoning does not require any affordable housing?
- Where will the water come from?
- Is the Planning Commission proposing no limits on building heights in our neighborhoods and new residential areas?
- With no height restrictions, is there any code requirement to preserve access to sunlight or views?
- Where will snow be stacked in winter?
- How will reduced setbacks and increased lot coverage change our neighborhoods?

Vote yes on Link Prop 1

I am now in my second 3-year term on the Board of Directors for the Chelan County Housing Authority. I attend once a month meetings in Wenatchee. My most pleasurable method of transportation is a ride on the Link bus.

As a senior, I pay $1.50 to ride from the Lake Chelan Valley to Wenatchee, and the same for the return trip. Driving my car would cost much more.

On the Link bus I read Housing Authority reports and financial statements which I will need to approve, then I sit back with the morning newspaper and the crossword puzzle which experts tell me will help stave off the onset of Alzheimer's.

Sometimes I reflect on what color blue the Columbia River will be today, how many Wenatchee Valley College tech center students will be on the bus, or how many Stemilt or clinic workers will be on board.

Some dark, gloomy winter days, I hop on the Link bus just to go to Wenatchee to window shop, go to lunch, then take in a matinee movie. It's a welcome winter break at times.

Now we are asked to vote on Link Proposition 1, which is on the ballot voters recently received in the mail. An improved and expanded public transportation service like the Link bus system will offer local residents an opportunity to help alleviate the snarl of traffic in the Lake Chelan Valley and Highway 97A.

The cost will be minimal, and help students, agricultural workers, service personnel and others who must live where rents are cheaper, but commute to their jobs. Vote yes!

Ignore the homeless, but they are citizens too

GARY BÉGIN

Managing Editor

Perhaps the only difference is that tourists hang out in hotels, RV's and B 'n' B's, while the homeless are lucky to find a corner out of the wind or a soup kitchen/shelter like Hospitality House. Tourists may stay for a day or a week, but the homeless are in perpetual hell, escaping poverty, physical and mental illness often only through county jail or death.

Even though I love and support the good folks at HH, they run a "sober" shelter for men... and don't allow pets either.

Believe it or not, those three facts eliminates many homeless who can't escape their personal "drug-of-choice" or those with a stray cat or dog as a companion on the lonely streets at night.

Another believe it or not, there are actual husband/wife and even kids that are all homeless together.

It was obvious that this particular music event was mainly for and attended by local residents, but that isn't the point.

The streets of Cashmere, Chelan, Manson, Leavenworth, etc. are more or less free of homeless persons because they all seem to migrate to Wenatchee by default or design.

I will talk to Wenatchee Mayor Frank Kuntz and see what he plans to do about it. Read a future edition of your town's only local community weekly paper to see what he has in mind.

THE ARTS EDUCATION IS THRIVING ON CAMPUS

MASON ELLIOTT

What an incredible three weeks of music! The Icicle Creek Chamber Music Festival and Institute delighted the campus with performances we wish we experience every weekend.

Although we are sad to see the students and faculty of the Chamber Music Festival go, we are excited to welcome in the next batch of students for the Icicle Creek Theater Camps!

Our first week is the Acting Camp where young, aspiring actors will get to work with professional teachers and directors to develop their skills in character development, directing, stage movement and voice, along with much more.

The second week is the Musical Theater Camp where the students will learn acting, singing and dancing. By the end of this camp these young actors will present several scenes, songs and dances from various musicals.

We are so excited to host such amazing educational opportunities of all types here on campus. As always, follow us on Facebook and Instagram for the latest news and information. Also, visit icicle.org for information about future events and camps. We hope to see you soon!

Foot and ankle doctor comes to Cascade Medical

SUBMITTED BY RACHEL HANSEN
CASCADE MEDICAL CENTER

Dr. Kevin Morris wants to help people in the Upper Valley stay on their feet.

Under a new partnership with Cascade Medical, Dr. Morris will schedule appointments twice a month at the Family Practice Clinic to treat patients with a wide range of foot and ankle problems.

Dr. Morris is a mobile podiatrist from Foot and Ankle Clinic of Wenatchee who travels to rural communities such as Quincy, Ephrata and Chelan.

An independent practitioner, he leased space in the clinic starting in January because of the demand for podiatry here.

"We have a number of patients from the Upper Valley," Dr. Morris said. "Cascade Medical seems very patient- and relationship-oriented, which is in line with my own practice, so I approached them about doing some outreach there so people don't have to drive to Wenatchee as often."

The Foot and Ankle Clinic of Wenatchee has treated more than 1,800 patients from the Upper Valley, including 800 from Cashmere, 700 from Leavenworth and nearly 200

from Peshastin and Dryden.

With 25 years of experience, Dr. Morris treats patients for diabetic complications, podiatric sports medicine, skin and nail deformities and other painful foot conditions.

"I tend to spend a lot of time listening," Dr. Morris said. "It's not just a foot, you're really treating the whole person. I try to educate people about why it's happening and how to treat the cause of it, not just the symptoms."

He completed his undergraduate studies in 1984 at Washington State University and attended medical school at California College of Podiatric Medicine in San Francisco. He served on the board of directors for the Washington State Podiatric Medical Association for over 12 years, and was awarded Washington State Podiatrist of the Year in 2001.

Dr. Jay Jerome, who helped facilitate the partnership, said the new service has been a welcome addition.

"He works collaboratively with the medical staff here to help our patients with foot problems," Dr. Jerome said.

Foot and Ankle Clinic of Wenatchee manages billing and scheduling for Dr. Morris' appointments in Leavenworth. Any related tests or treatment – such as CT scans, X-rays, rehabilitation therapy or lab work – is managed through Cascade Medical.

Cascade Medical Center is a nonprofit, community-owned, critical access hospital that delivers extraordinary healthcare by taking more time with each patient and their families. Centered around primary care, the medical center also provides lab and screening services; physical, occupational and speech therapy; ambulance service; emergency and acute care, and inpatient rehabilitation.

Free MMR Vaccine Now Available for Child Care Workers

OLYMPIA – The Department of Health is collaborating with Safeway Inc. and Albertsons Companies LLC and with the Department of Children, Youth, and Families to offer free measles, mumps, and rubella (MMR) vaccination for uninsured child care workers and volunteers. As of July 28, 2019, Washington state law will require staff and volunteers of licensed child care centers to be immunized against measles.

Fifteen Albertsons and Safeway pharmacies across the state will offer MMR vaccine free of charge through June 2020 to uninsured child care staff and volunteers who need it. The pharmacies will also waive the administration fee. The cost and fees will also be waived for those who are underinsured and cannot afford the vaccine.

Find the list of participating locations on the Department of Health's website.

Child care staff and volunteers who have insurance also have options to get vaccinated. MMR vaccine for those age 19 and older is covered by most insurance companies and by Medicare and Apple Health (Medicaid). Learn more about the cost and coverage of adult vaccines. Washington also provides recommended vaccines at no cost to everyone under the age of 19.

The effort is a collaboration between Safeway and Albertsons; the Department of Health; the Department of Children, Youth, and Families; and the Washington State Pharmacy Association.

Dolly Levi, in the background, watches as her students learn to dance in the hat shop.

Hello, Dolly! Is a musical delight

By Bill Forhan

Hello, Dolly! is a 1964 musical with music and lyrics by Jerry Herman based on a play by Thornton Wilder.

For those unfamiliar with the story Dolly Levi, played by Dorothy Rosenthal Pierce, is a widow who makes her living through matchmaking and other sidelines.

She is currently on a mission to find a wife for “half-a-millionaire” Horace Vandergelder, owner of Vandergelder’s Hay and Feed in Yonkers, New York.

Vandergelder is looking for a wife because in the politically incorrect 1890’s It Takes a Woman to cheerfully do all of the household chores.

Horace, played by John Mausser, is joined by his two miserly paid employees, Cornelius Hackl and Barnaby Tucker, and the male chorus joyfully singing about all of the chores a good 1890’s wife is expected to complete.

Dolly sends Horace ahead to New York where he plans to propose to Irene Molloy, played by Stephanie Etherington, owner of a hat shop.

Cornelius, played by Christopher Puckett, is a 33 year old store clerk that has never been kissed so Dolly convinces him and his assistant Barnaby Tucker, played by Mason Atwood, to take the train to New York and to Irene Molloy’s hat shop.

What becomes clear is that Dolly plans to marry the “half-a-millionaire” herself by asking for a sign of approval from her deceased husband Ephram.

Modern patrons will undoubtedly be questioning how the irrepressible Dolly could ever find happiness in the arms of Horace but in the end the sign comes in a surprising way.

Leavenworth Summer Theater’s production of the American classic Hello, Dolly! opened at the Hatchery Park Stage, Leavenworth National Fish Hatchery on July 17. It’s a delightful evening of music, dancing and laughter in the LST tradition. You do not want to miss this wonderful show.

Remaining performances are at 8 p.m. August, 1, 7, 9, 13, 17, 22, 27 and 30. Tickets are available by calling the box office at 509-548-2000.

Dorothy Rosenthal Pierce plays the lead as Dolly Levi, matchmaker and all around busy body. Dorothy is a K-12 drama teacher in from Edmonds, WA where she is a long time member of an interactive improv group and the Broads of Broadway.

Horace Vandergelder is played by long time LST favorite John Mausser whose previous roles included performances in The Drowsy Chaperone, Beauty and the Beast, Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat and It’s a Wonderful Life.

Stephanie Etherington plays Irene Molloy. Stephanie attended the American Musical and Dramatic Academy.

She performed in New York and California before returning to her home stage in the magical Cascades. She previously played Maria in The Sound of Music.

Cornelius Hackl is played by Christopher Puckett. Puckett is a graduate of Seattle Pacific University and the Bard College Conservatory of Music.

He works as a music director and voice teacher in Seattle. His previous performances included Henry Higgins in My Fair Lady and Jesus in Godspell.

The costumes for this show are incredible and the costume changes are nothing short of amazing.

The music is delightfully performed with humor and style. The orchestra is lead by Joel Iwassa, Wenatchee Valley College Music Director.

Stephanie Etherington, portrays Irene Molloy, owner of the local hat shop.

Upper Valley Historical Society: A Museum on the Move

Joe Cannata, Lyman Boyd, and Rhona Baron.

Four UVHS board members also attended plus Ann Ostella, the museum’s coordinator for the past fifteen years.

Matt Cade, president of the UVHS board, who attended the meeting, appreciated the time and effort everyone made to participate in a nearly four-hour meeting.

“It was apparent from the very beginning, that this was a serious, focused group,” Cade said.

“They did not come to socialize; they came to contribute four hours of their busy day to help support an organization that means a lot to our community.”

Cade was encouraged hearing comments and suggestions from those not connected to UVHS, almost all of whom he had not met previously. As Cade explained, “The comments, suggestions, ideas, and observations of others reaffirmed our belief that (the UVHS board) is going in the right direction for the right reasons.”

With regards to plans for possible changes to the exhibits, Erlich explained, “The existing exhibits appear to be in good shape and well thought out.”

That said, Erlich feels the new location, with nearly twice the exhibit space as the previous site, presents an excellent opportunity to expand and refresh the older exhibits.

Cade said UVHS’s next step in the planning process is to hold a museum “refresh” exhibit meeting with UVHS board, staff, or volunteers familiar with existing museum exhibits, along with other community members.

In addition to leading the “refresh” exhibit meeting, Erlich will also conduct a review of materials in the UVHS collection.

An example of questions that will likely be explored include: “What has been most important or interesting to visitors? What hasn’t been and why?”

At the same time as the “refresh” exhibit meeting, UVHS will also identify practical needs (e.g., common tourist questions, school tour group needs, etc.) that all exhibits need to accommodate.

Finally, plans are to meet with other groups that are stakeholders in the history of the Upper Wenatchee Valley.

This area includes the vast stretch from Stevens Pass to Dryden and from Blewett Pass to Plain and Lake Wenatchee.

Some of these stakeholders include the Wenatchi Band of the Colville Indian Tribe, Autumn Leaf Festival Association, and Projekt Bayern.

UVHS believes that visitors to Leavenworth would like to see more information in our museum regarding the ‘Bavarian Transformation’.

Not surprisingly, Cade said that “everyone attending our July 16th meeting felt very deeply that it was important to explain in more detail the ‘Bavarianization’ story with visitors and guests”.

Near the end of the July 16th meeting, Erlich asked participants a straightforward question which was “what do you want visitors to walk away with (i.e., what will the visitor remember most about their visit)?”

The attendees worked together and put together the following:

“Leavenworth’s miracle was accomplished by people with vision and grit, who worked together to transform a struggling railroad town into a vibrant community that is a unique destination for many.”

Difference between antiperspirant, deodorant

Q: What's the difference between an underarm antiperspirant and a deodorant?

In 1984, the Gillette Company launched one of the most successful advertising campaigns ever created, making its Dry Idea® antiperspirant a household name. Using popular celebrities including a fashion designer, actress, comedian and NFL football head coach, each advertisement featured an individual who shared three pieces of "advice" with their audience, each one starting with the word "Never..." The first two "neverisms" were related to their profession, and the third one was always the same, a tag line created just for Gillette's Dry Idea® marketing: "Never Let Them See You Sweat".

Sweat happens. The average adult makes between 0.5 and 1.5 liters of sweat every day. Created inside special glands called sweat glands, sweat is delivered to the skin through tiny tubes called sweat ducts. Humans have 2 types of sweat glands: eccrine glands that are active from birth, and apocrine glands, which don't become active until puberty. The sweat from eccrine glands is odorless and nearly 100% water, while apocrine glands secrete a thicker, oily substance with a musky scent.

Sweat glands concentrate in certain areas, including your forehead and temples, your armpits, the palms of your hands and the soles of your feet. Although you have far more eccrine sweat glands than scent-producing apocrine glands, both can be triggered by either excessive body temperature or the stress of anxiety, fear, or pain.

Although the sweat from your eccrine glands is odorless when secreted, it creates an odor when the bacteria that live on your skin digest it. Eccrine sweat also makes the smellier sweat from your apocrine glands much more noticeable.

There are 4 ways you can combat the body odor and wetness created by sweating. The first way is by using good hygiene like showering or bathing regularly, which removes both types of sweat deposited on your skin before it can be digested by bacteria, and also reduces the number of bacteria on your skin available to digest it.

You can also block perspiration from landing on your skin by applying an antiperspirant product to the areas that have the most sweat glands, like your underarms.

Two other ways to prevent development of body odor from sweat include inhibiting bacterial digestion of the sweat already on your skin by applying an antimicrobial, and by using a fragrance to offset body odor.

All topical antiperspirants are compounds called astringents. When applied to the skin, astringents cause proteins on your skin cells to clump up. This clumping action blocks the sweat ducts on your skin, keeping that particular area of skin more dry. Since astringents also work as antimicrobials by interfering with the bacteria living on your skin, all antiperspirants also work as deodorants.

Most antiperspirants contain salts of aluminum, either alone or in combination with zinc. The most desirable antiperspirants keep skin dry without caking or flaking off, damaging fabrics, or causing skin irritation. The most common antiperspirant ingredients used today are aluminum zirconium, aluminum chloride, and aluminum sulfate, also called alum.

Because of the increased concentration of aluminum in the brains of people with Alzheimer's dementia, there is concern that daily use of antiperspirants containing aluminum could increase your risk of developing Alzheimer's. You can minimize your exposure to aluminum by using a deodorant-only product or a "natural" antiperspirant that does not contain alum or aluminum salts.

Underarm deodorants without antiperspirants are antimicrobial compounds capable of interfering with the digestion of sweat by bacteria on your skin. Vitamin E and benzalkonium chloride are the most common antimicrobials used in underarm deodorants.

Benzalkonium chloride is a mild astringent and antimicrobial agent widely used in products for skin and mucous membranes and also as a preservative commonly used in contact lens solutions and nonprescription eye drops.

Here are 3 Tips for Choosing an Underarm Antiperspirant and Deodorant:

1. Choose between an antiperspirant/deodorant or deodorant only product.

I often use just a deodorant because while antiperspirants keep my armpits dry, it sometimes backfires with my entire back becoming totally soaked in sweat.

2. Make your choice based on what scent you like, not by your gender.

The strength and chemical composition of underarm antiperspirant/deodorant products is identical for those marketed for men and women. The only difference between them is the fragrance used.

3. There are stronger antiperspirant products available without a prescription.

You can use a "clinical strength" antiperspirant product which contains 20% aluminum zirconium instead of the typical 15%, or try the non-prescription antiperspirant Drysol®, which contains 20% aluminum chloride hexahydrate in concentrated ethyl alcohol.
