Cascade School District celebrates high school renovation

By KALIE DRAGO

The community congregated to celebrate a $25 million dollar milestone on Tuesday, May 21 - the Cascade High School is not only finishing up the school year, but the multi-phase project on the school has been completed.

"I'd like to start off by thanking the communities of Peshastin, Dryden, Leavenworth, Lake Wenatchee and Plain for their approval of the bond measure that created this amazing space along with the construction of Alpine Lakes Elementary and the soon to be re-opened Peshastin-Dryden Elementary," said Elia Daley, Cascade High School principal.

After a series of improvements and remodeling, a ribbon cutting ceremony at 6 p.m. was the kickstart to the evening dedicated to the glossy new additions to the facility. Following a brief presentation to share words of excitement about the remodel, those attending had an opportunity to mill around to first handedly see the upgrades.

"As you can see this building is a result of the tireless efforts of many people," said Daley. Daley addressed a variety of people that had collaboratively contributed to the project in different forms and thanked each one for their piece of the renovated puzzle - from Lydig Construction to city staff.

"This space replaced a building that had been in disrepair for many years. With improvements in classroom size, HVAC, technology and most importantly, security and safety; we have a building that our community can be proud of for many years to come," said Daley.

Mayor Cheri Farivar also expressed admiration for the building and shared with the crowd the upcoming Pine Street reconstruction project, kicking off in a month. Departing Superintendent Bill Motsenbocker and Cascade School Board Director, Brenda Biebesheimer also shared some words about the hard work that had been directed at the new and improved elements in

The week of May 20 kicked off with several council members and Mayor Farivar gathering at 9 a.m. on Monday, May 20 to approve the Pine Street reconstruction bid to Strider Construction Co., Inc.

With four bids, the city selected the lowest bidder - Strider Construction offered a bid of $1,862,522.25.

According to Joel Walinski, city administrator, the engineer who estimated bids to be between $1.8 million and two million so Strider Construction was on the lower end.

"Strider Construction is a fairly large company. One of the things we will have to do is make sure they put the resources toward the project," said Walinski.

"It's a pretty tight timeline, 44 days. So we'll make sure they put the resources forward and don't spread themselves too thin."

Mayor Farivar stated the goal is to have the project 95% completed for the 2019-2020 school year. According to city documents, the project will start June 17.

This project will include two 11 foot travel lanes, a five foot sidewalk on the south side of Pine Street, upgraded school crossing flashing beacons, replacement of 740 feet of water main, on street parking, ten foot multi use pathway and stormwater treatment and conveyance system.

A little less than a month later, a decision was made after the Adventure Park public hearing that harnessed in hours of community participation with testimony at the Leavenworth Festhalle on April 30.

Andrew Kottkamp, hearing examiner, approved the Mitigated Determination of Non-Significance for the project and affirmed the State Environmental Policy Act. This means that the Adventure Park project has been approved for Conditional Use Permit.

The conclusion to the public hearing is the green light for the Adventure Park developers to begin Phase I of the project - this includes the Alpine Coaster and bungee trampoline that has often been points inserted in arguments from both sides of the controversy.

"The city has not taken a position regarding the Conditional Use Permit, the city's role is to shepherd the process and ensure the applicants and the views of the public are heard," said Walinski.

Appellants argued that parking, traffic, noise, lighting, aesthetics and wetlands weren't properly addressed during the investigation for the Mitigated Determination of Non-Significance.

A majority of those who spoke during the public hearing echoed this sentiment. Kottkamp sifted through each of these issues as presented and in the SEPA appeal decision document stated that these elements were adequately considered by the city of Leavenworth in the MDNS.

"Based upon the findings of fact, the Hearing Examiner cannot find that the issuance of the MDNS was clearly erroneous and instead finds that the issuance of the MDNS by the city was legally sufficient," stated the Hearing Examiner's SEPA appeal's official document.

Cascade School District celebrates high school renovation

the high school.

"I want to thank each and everyone of you for having faith in our school district and putting your dollars where that faith is," said Biebsheimer. "This really was a full community effort and we're thrilled to show it off tonight."

The tweaks – that included a new kitchen, an auditorium that accommodates 500 seats, upgraded gyms and visitor locker rooms and expanding into a new two story academic wing – were paid for via a bond that the community voted on. According to Daley, the district team and NAC Architecture Company linked up to discuss student and staff needs to design the modernization of the high school.

"I've never seen a school district our size doing three projects at one time. I've never seen a community that came forward to pass a bond and be able to do that," said Motzenbocker. "We have a beautiful school that will last for 50 years. If you have high school students, they're in a state of the art high school that's safe and it's beautiful and it's a fun place to be."

Revamping the high school to improved and high quality condition illuminates the community's support and dedication to the education of Cascade students.

"I want to compliment the school board and what they've gone through in the last few years, three brand spanking new schools," said Bob Stroup at the May 13 School board meeting. "These facilities are fantastic and the only way you can see that are these presentations that are going on paying evidence to you people and your tax money. It goes to these kids that are successful. Just go look at these new schools and you'll be proud."

The Cascade School District has strived to have improvements for their students and approached change – ongoing renovation on Peshastin-Dryden Elementary School that should be completed in July and the addition of Alpine Lakes Elementary last fall – to foster a learning environment that values the highest quality for students.

To amplify the gratitude the school district has for the community's support and patience during the project, the school was dedicated to the commu-

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Thank you

The members of the Washington JF Chapter of P.E.O. would like to say thank you to the Leavenworth Echo for publishing information about our recent Spring Fashion Show and Tea.

The primary focus of this annual fundraising event is to generate funds that enable us to give scholarships to local women to further their education after a lapse in their education.

We would like to thank our local businesses and the many individuals that promote our scholarship program. Our scholarship program continues to grow each year.

We are honored to be part of such a supportive and giving community! We are already looking forward to our 10th Fashion Show and Tea next year!

Sincerely,

Joyce Schiferl

President, Washington Chapter JF P.E.O.

Bad Decision

We are being served by our city administration which is biased towards developers, at the expense of our public safety, our economic interests and our well-being. This administration has exhibited this bias, even when there seems to be no benefit to do so. This is troubling and calls for a change.

To see their bias at work we have only to look at their staunch recommendation in support of the Adventure Park, which presents only negative impacts to our town.

- Until now, Leavenworth has marketed itself as a special place and has deliberately sought to attract a demographic that values the quality experience that we offer. By recommending an amusement park in this iconic location, the city administration has abandoned that approach.

- Recently an article in the Wenatchee World warned Leavenworth that the Adventure Park approval is a tipping point - marking a downward descent towards the raucous, noisy environment typical of amusement parks. How ironic that they see this so clearly but our City planning staff does not!

- This amusement park does not in any way conform to our Old World Bavarian theme which until now, has been rigorously enforced! For example, its mechanical devices will be fully exposed to public view. This is a drastic devaluing of the traditional Bavarian standards imposed by City code, to the detriment of everything we have worked so hard to achieve.

- The Adventure Park which will provide at most 20 low-level jobs that do not provide livable wages in town. How is that helping our economy or residents?

- This project clearly lowers the desirability and value of homes in Leavenworth. Proof is that prospective home buyers delayed purchasing homes pending this decision, realizing that it will affect the entire town's ambiance, safety and livability. All homes at the west end of town will be affected by mechanical noise, brilliant lighting, gridlock traffic and parking and reduced pedestrian safety.

To achieve all these negatives and support this amusement park, the city has manipulated the planning and public input process. It has repeatedly minimized our comments and letters, ignoring the volume of residents' voices that defend the lovely city that we have now. Why would the City actively support this project that will disrupt the safety of our traffic flow, visitors' enjoyment, the Bavarian tourist base, a very large part of our economic revenue, and homeowners' peace in their homes?

Are City planners aware of our values? Or are they looking towards their own professional futures instead? Why are we paying high salaries to these employees who recommended this project, given its substantial negative impacts on all of us except the Adventure Park owners?

And why can't the City Council start to make their own hard decisions, so that our taxes do not pay for a Hearing Examiner who must give substantial weight to City recommendations? Why bother?

BEST CHEF NORTHWEST RETURNS FOR CHEF FEST '19

JAMIE HOWELL

I continue to be stunned by the quality, talent and generosity of the chefs who offer their talents, free of charge, to be with us in Leavenworth to help raise funds for the Arts at CHEF FEST every year.

It's happening again this year, with the announcement that CHEF JOHN SUNDSTROM, named Best Chef Northwest by the James Beard Foundation in 2007, will be here to host Thursday night's SUDS & SLIDERS event at 509 BIERWERKS in Wenatchee.

CHEF SUNDSTROM, who has been featured on the PBS series "Chefs A-Field" and Food Network's "Food Nation," will be teaming up with BREWMASTER GRANT STOEJNER at Wenatchee's hottest new brewery, 509 BIERWERKS, to see just how sophisticated a slider can get. On the menu: Four courses paired with hand-selected craft beers made on the premises, live music and a silent auction.

CHEF SUNDSTROM currently owns and operates two artisan Seattle eateries - LARK for fine dining; and SLAB SANDWICHES + PIE for the lunch crowd.

There are only 75 seats available for this unique dining experience. Individual and All-in Passes for the other three nights of Chef Fest also available at icicle.org, or by calling the box office at (509) 548-6347, x. 1.

Dryden Transfer Station rates increase, effective June 1

By KALIE DRAGO
Echo Reporter

Those who use the Dryden Transfer Station will notice a fee increase starting June 1. In April, Chelan County commissioners passed a resolution for the increase to cover the cost of operation, disposal and future repairs, according to a press release.

"(Some of the repairs for the Dryden Transfer Station) is for the replacement of equipment, the existing pit to be resurfaced, the pump house needing repairs and a second tipping floor, eventually, that is currently in design," said Jill FitzSimmons, public information officer for Chelan County Public Works Department.

Most of the rate jumps are minimal, around a $5 increase. The highest increase is the Municipal Solid Waste per ton which increases from $95 to $113. Used Motor Oil/Antifreeze per gallon is the only item that doesn't have a rate change and remains $1.

Resolution No. 42, regarding the rate increase, also stated that the rates are in need of updating for all wastes to coincide with the increased cost of disposal at the Greater Wenatchee Regional Landfill.

"Unfortunately, the cost of operations and maintenance is increasing. The county's solid waste program relies heavily on funding from the state, which has decreased," said a statement from Brenda Blanchfield, solid waste coordinator for Chelan County Public Works.

Over the Counter Travelers Medicine

Maybe it was from something I ate when I was using up the food in my refrigerator before leaving for 2 weeks, or a stomach bug I caught from a seatmate on the flight from Seattle to London. Whatever it was gave me a sudden attack of diarrhea as I was getting packed for a 3-hour bus ride to the town of Assisi.

Luckily, I had packed a proven diarrhea remedy which came to my rescue that morning, allowing me to enjoy my day taking in some truly amazing Italian art and scenery, instead of sprinting to Italian restrooms!

My secret weapon against traveler's diarrhea was Imodium-AD®, also known by its generic name, loperamide. First introduced as a prescription medicine in 1976, loperamide has been available over the counter (OTC) for many years and has proven to be a VERY effective medicine for acute diarrhea. It could even save your vacation like it did for me in Italy.

Loperamide can stop diarrhea in its tracks.

During digestion, your food eventually turns into a liquid mass of nutrients, ready to be absorbed into your body. There are muscles all along the inside of your intestines designed to work together, squeezing in a coordinated rhythm called peristalsis to move your food inch by inch through your intestines.

This movement of these internal intestinal muscles moves liquid masses of food first through your small intestine, then large intestine and colon, allowing your body to absorb nutrients and water along the way. What is left over is then eliminated as feces. The longer it takes the food to move through your intestine, the more water is absorbed into your body and the firmer your feces or stool becomes. If the food moves too slowly, you'll absorb too much water and your stool will become hard, causing constipation. If the food moves too quickly, your body won't be able to absorb much of the liquid, causing diarrhea.

When I came down with whooping cough some years ago, my doctor put me on a cough syrup containing codeine. It relieved the cough enough to help me sleep but ended up giving me a new problem: constipation.

Constipation is a very common side effect of narcotic pain medicines like codeine, hydrocodone, and oxycodone because they slow down the movement of the muscles that line your intestine. Loperamide is closely related to these powerful painkillers and combats diarrhea the same way, by slowing down the movement of your intestinal muscles.

Loperamide doesn't relieve pain like its narcotic cousins, hydrocodone and oxycodone, but if you take enough of it you can delay the symptoms of narcotic withdrawal or even get "high". The Food and Drug Administration (FDA) has reported several incidences of people who, when taking four times the maximum recommended dose of loperamide experienced euphoria, confusion and heart palpitations.

Another medicine I always take with me when I travel is Pepto-Bismol® (bismuth subsalicylate) chewable tablets. Although not quite as powerful against diarrhea as loperamide, it helps relieve my nausea, stomach upset and stomach cramps.

Some people recommend taking probiotics for diarrhea, but when traveling, I prefer the immediate relief I can count on with Imodium-AD®. When I travel, I want to meet new people and see new sights, not spend my precious vacation time inside bathrooms.

Here Are 5 Tips on Treating Acute Diarrhea When Traveling:

1. Always pack at least one diarrhea remedy and keep it close at hand. I never travel without taking both Imodium-AD® tablets and Pepto-Bismol® chewable tablets, and I keep them where I can get to them quickly.

2. Pepto-Bismol chewable tablets taste like wintergreen. I prefer the chewable tablets of Pepto-Bismol, but if you hate the taste of wintergreen, buy the non-chewable tablets instead.

3. Pepto-Bismol will turn your stools black. Beware: bismuth subsalicylate will turn your stool a dramatic charcoal-black color, which can be quite alarming if you aren't prepared.

4. Don't go overboard on loperamide. The maximum dose of 8 tablets of Imodium-AD (loperamide) in a 24-hour period should be plenty to do the job. You should start with 2 tablets after your first loose stool and then only one tablet after each loose stool after that. For more relief, you can take both loperamide and Pepto-Bismol® (bismuth subsalicylate) together, but if that doesn't help, seek medical

Obituary

Regina "Ricky" Stroud

April 22, 1924 – December 31, 2018

Regina "Ricky" Stroud passed away on New Year's Eve, surrounded by family.

A remarkably spiritual experience complete with tears and a champagne toast.

It was a poetic acknowledgement of a passionate life full of celebration, adventure, and love of family.

Born in Philadelphia during the roaring 20's, her family moved to the idyllic island of Brigantine, New Jersey when she was seven.

She learned from her parents that love is a verb, and this was something she lived every day of her 94 years.

She had a natural knack for reaching across the boundaries that often separate us, race, religion, status or gender, to make a friend.

After High School, she joined the U.S Navy during WWII and was stationed in Brooklyn.

In the evenings, she would break away to watch Billie Holiday perform at the clubs around Manhattan. In 1946, she married Bill Stroud, a student at Princeton University. As a young mother living on campus, Ricky timed her walks to coincide with Albert Einstein's so she could meet him on his afternoon stroll.

Ricky had four children, Rani Margaret, William "Billy", Christopher and Stevenson.

The family moved to Silver Spring, Maryland in 1959 attention.

5. Some types of diarrhea need immediate medical attention. If you have bloody diarrhea, experience both vomiting and diarrhea for more than 24 hours, or have severe abdominal pain with diarrhea, don't wait; seek medical attention right away.

Dr. Louise Achey, Doctor of Pharmacy is a 39-year veteran of pharmacology and author of Why Dogs Can't Eat Chocolate: How Medicines Work and How YOU Can Take Them Safely. Your questions and comments are always welcome at www.AskDrLouise.com

When her children migrated to Leavenworth, WA. in the mid 1970's, she was all in. She managed the first bookstore in downtown Leavenworth, "Village Books," and became a great friend and mentor to many.

She was always there for us, as only a mother/grandmother can be. Not so much with cookies and a card, but with sleeves rolled up, ready to help pick up the pieces of our life, when life as it does, falls apart.

For many she was and will always remain that 'forever friend'.

Thanks mom.

She is preceded in death by two of her children, Rani Margaret and Christopher. She is survived by her sons, William "Billy" Stroud and Dr. Steve Stroud and grandchildren - Lane, Will, James, Erin, Carrie, Crystal, Mark and Jessica and four great grandchildren.

A celebration to honor the life of Ricky Stroud will be held on June 29 starting at 4 p.m., at 10587 Fox Road, Leavenworth WA.

All are welcome: friends, family, acquaintances. Just bring a good story to share. For questions, contact Steve 509-433-8109 or sstroud@nwi.net.

when her husband joined the founding committee for the creation of NASA.

Ricky raised her children in the idealistic and tumultuous 1950's and 60's of Washington DC. Progressive in policy, engaged in community, active in social causes, she never let the rules or structures interfere with life's adventures.

Engaging in the arts, pulling the children out of school to protest the Vietnam War, or to see the cherry blossoms or Leonard Bernstein conduct "The Mass", were ways that she shared her zest for living life as a great adventure.

Finding liberation in becoming a single parent in the late 1960's, she pursued writing and the arts, self-publishing two books.

We are here to serve families in Leavenworth, Peshastin, Plain and the entire Upper Valley.

Cascade's Raul Mata (right) was named the CTL Player of the Year in boys' soccer.

Cascade freshman Renee Lambert was a first-team selection for softball.

Emma Halseth was named the conference MVP for girls' golf.

Kodiak athletes make CTL All-League teams

By AL STOVER

The Caribou Trail League announced its All-League selections for spring sports and many Cascade athletes received regular season honors.

BOYS SOCCER

The CTL champion Cascade boys soccer team had five athletes make the first-team, one being midfielder Raul Mata, who was named "Player of the Year."

Alongside Mata on the first team are forward Arturo Avila, who recently broke the CHS career scoring record with 67 goals, midfielder Daniel Sandoval, one of the team's leaders, and defenders Julian Alvarez and Ricardo Barragan, who were staples in the backfield.

Midfielders Jose Valdez and Will Piers made the second team and Co-Head Coach Pete Spiegel was named the "Coach of the Year."

SOFTBALL

Truh Merriman was named the "Player of the Year" and a first-team selection after a season where she displayed power at the plate and aggressive base running.

Joining Merriman on the first team are seniors Sarah Paulson and Kaija Lovelady and freshman Renee Lambert.

Paulson was Cascade's starting pitcher and struck out countless batters during her time in the circle. Lovelady showcased solid hitting and spent several innings in the outfield.

Lambert was a utility player and displayed good hitting as well.

Madeline Schiefelbein and Alondra Acevedo were a second-team selection.

Schiefelbein was a staple in Cascade's infield throughout the season as was Acevedo in the outfield. Both players contributed to the team's hit and base running counts.

Kayla Bittle was named an honorable mention. The left-hander played first base for Cascade during the season.

Head Coach Todd Gilbert was named "Coach of the Year," and the Lady Kodiaks earned the Sportsmanship award.

GOLF

First-team selection Emma Halseth was named the CTL's "Player of the Year" in the girls' division.

Emma Nielson also made the first-team. Both athletes qualified for the girls' golf state championship. Teammate Natalie Craig was a second-team selection. Craig has made many strides in her golf game throughout the season.

On the boys' side, Isaac Cortes made the first team. Cortes also qualified for the 1A Boys Golf State Championship.

Cascade was one of two schools to receive the Team Sportsmanship award. Head Coach Randy Alexander was named the conference's "Coach of the Year."

TENNIS

Dorothy Espinosa was a first-team selection for the girls' singles division and Megan Evans and Stella Johnson made the squad for girls' doubles. Hans Schlyer was named to the second team for boys' singles. Molly Wisner made the second team in the girls' singles division.

All five players recently qualified for the District 6 tournament in their respective divisions.

BASEBALL

Senior southpaw Conrad Hasse was named to the first team. Hasse was the Kodiaks' starting pitcher during his final year in a Cascade uniform.

Ben Sunitsch was a second-team selection.

Sunitsch was the main Kodiak behind the plate as the team's catcher.

An encore for hard work – Apple Awards

By KALIE DRAGO
Echo Reporter

There's events like the Oscars, the Emmys, the Grammys dedicated to celebrating performers accomplishments with star studded red carpets and televised performances.

Now for north central Washington high school performers, there's the Apple Awards on June 5 at 7 p.m.

For the first year, the Numerica Performing Arts Center is hosting the Apple Awards to recognize students and programs that deserve an encore along with one student receiving the Numerica Theatre Scholarship. Cascade High School has several different nominations for the upcoming award ceremony.

"A student being nominated means they have worked really hard in their role and deserve recognition, but you can't put on a successful show without every single person taking it seriously. People have this idea that acting and music are these fun, floofy things that students do in their spare time. Like it's not as valuable as sports. Like we just show up for the performance, wear a costume and receive accolades. That couldn't be farther from the truth," said Mandi Wickline, District drama coach.

"I tell my kids all the time, 'You gotta be tough to do theater.' And whether you're in the chorus or playing a lead, you are working incredibly hard and rehearsing diligently to learn all the aspects of your role. The lead and supporting actors are showing how valuable acting is as a skill and a craft. They are being shown their work has made a positive contribution to the overall production, drama program, and larger community."

"Once Upon A Mattress" was a success and received lots of laughter and applause from the audience - no the musical is receiving recognition along with the cast. Landon Davies, Ellie Camp, and Zane Priebe were nominated. Beyond the individual nominations, Once Upon A Mattress as a whole is up for the award of Outstanding Overall Musical.

"I am very proud of our actors. They are hard workers and really good people. It's great to have a venue to highlight the work they've done in both straight plays and comedies as well as musical productions," said Wickline.

The fresh and creative play 'Dystopia! 3 Comedic One-Acts' also landed several nomination spots for the award ceremony. Nathan Hagan, Kelsea Turner, Tagen Matthew and Emma Skylstad are nominees along with the entirety of 'Dystopia! 3 Comedic One-Acts' being nominated for Outstanding Overall Play.

"I am proud that a small school like ours can be recognized alongside large schools like Wenatchee, and have our work be valued equally," said Wickline.

Volunteer judges, that were selected based on performing arts expertise, measured the performances and performers based on criteria focusing on the unique and creative elements intertwined in the shows. The award ceremony goes beyond recognizing outstanding performances within the valley, but also to use the program as a channel to promote the performing arts in the valley.

"This is the first ever Apple Awards, so they are part of something completely new. The Program Manager spoke with a lot of theater educators (like me) to hear what they wanted in a local awards program, so it was cool to be a part of that process. I voiced my concerns that when we used to do the 5th Avenue Awards (a musical theater adjudication program out of Seattle) we often got lost amongst the big schools. I am impressed that "The evaluation criteria places value on creativity and achievement, taking into account unique resources and production challenges; spectacle or production value will not be emphasized," said Wickline.

The Apple Awards are a reflection of the hard work it takes to be center stage in front of peers, memorize lines on top of memorizing notes for tests and being able to make the character on the script three dimensional on stage.

"Our theater kids have not had the opportunity to dress up and go to an awards ceremony in a beautiful theater before. This is the closest I'll ever get to the Tony Awards," said Wickline.

Tickets for the program are $10 for adults and discounted at $7 for students.

IRMS students head to nationals for tech savvy skills

By KALIE DRAGO
Echo Reporter

Teens, preteens and even kids are known for being digital savvy these days. It's not uncommon to see a kid in a waiting room no longer flipping through a Highlights magazine, but rather prodding an iPad, playing a game. Despite grandma reminding the little ones to play outside, the introduction of technology to younger ages is not a bad thing and arguably a helpful skill as they grow up in a technology obsessed society. A knack for computers has already paid off for some tech enthusiasts at Icicle River Middle School. A few students involved in Washington Technology Student Association (TSA) are heading to Washington D.C. for nationals.

"At the TSA National Conference in Washington, D.C., they will compete in their qualifying events plus events of their choice such as Problem Solving and Technical Design. The kids are excited and felt accomplished in achieving 1st place and eligibility for Nationals," said Jodie Tremberth, TSA advisor.

After taking first at state on April 3, the students returned home triumphant and ready to tackle nationals. Quintin Farrell and Hakkon Scheibler placed first in coding and Alma McKean, Tillie Jane Leroy and Greer Swoboda took first in website design at state.

"Our website design team had been developing their website since October and put many long hours into their project with the goal of qualifying for Nationals and it was very satisfying to see their hard work pay off. Our Coding team had a returning member who earned 1st at state and 2nd at Nationals, but before the competition we heard that the number of students competing in the event had nearly double this year so we knew the event would be very competitive," said Tremberth. "For both teams, a first place standing was definitely well deserved."

The chapter first participated at the regional showcase in February and then headed to Seattle for the state competition. The state competition was hefty competition with 1,200 students from across Washington state. Despite the intimidating number of competitors, the team is ready to embark on the next step.

"Attending nationals is a unique opportunity to see student innovation and creativity on a much larger scale. This trip provides perspective of larger community than just the Pacific Northwest as they meet and work with students from around the world," said Tremberth.

This is the chapter's third year heading to nationals and the program has been so successful within the district that some departing middle schoolers kickstarted a chapter at the high school.

"Their program was so well done at the middle school that when the eighth graders left, they wanted to start a TSA at the high school," said Bill Motzenbocker superintendent of Cascade School District.

The crew will head to nationals June 26 to July 3.

Cascade's Armstrong, Davies win state track championships

By AL STOVER

With a school record and conference and district titles under her belt, Kodiak senior athlete Julia Armstrong captured the final piece of hardware for her trophy case.

During the first day of the 1B/2B/1A Track and Field State Championships, on May 25, Armstrong earned the first state title to the Kodiak track and field team after she won the girls pole vault with a mark of 11 feet and 3 inches.

"For Julia it is the conclusion of four years of hard work and dedication," Head Coach Bill Davies said.

Armstrong was not the only Cascade athlete to take home a state championship during the state competition.

Landon Davies, who also broke a meet record earlier in the season, captured the boys 3,200 title after winning the race in 9 minutes and 50.46 seconds.

Armstrong earned another medal, with teammates Kascia Muscutt, Zoe McDevitt and Lauren Muscutt in the girls 4x400 meter relay. The quartet finished second in the relay with a time of 4:06.03.

The Muscutt sisters recorded a 3-4 finish in the girls 800 meter race. Lauren Muscutt, in her first state competition, clocked in a personal best of 2:18.65. Kascia Muscutt recorded a PR of 2:19.17.

Landon Davies also placed fifth in the boys 1,600 meters with a time of 4 minutes and 29.19 seconds.

Jace Seely took fifth in the 400 meters in 51.35, clinching a PR in the process. Steven Tveten finished seventh in the 300 meter hurdles with 42.39.

"Jace Seely was injured half the season but worked hard and placed fifth in the 400. Steven Tveten was injured last year, but over came those injuries to place this year," Coach Davies said.

Other finishers for Cascade included Josie Brenan, who placed 12th in the 3,200 meters with a time of 12:25.67. Tveten recorded a 17.21 in the 110 meter hurdles.

In team scores, the Cascade boys tied for seventh with 20 points and the Kodiak girls tied for 10th with 21 points.

The state championships ended a solid season for the Cascade boys and girls track teams.

Coach Davies said the year "has been really special" for numerous reasons.

"Having my son (Landon Davies) win state was a true highlight, but there were so many other things that made it a wonderful season," Coach Davies added. "I think what I have enjoyed was the support and closeness the kids are to each other. No other year can I remember such a bond between all the athletes."

One example of this bond was with the 4x400 meter relay team. Prior to state, McDevitt suffered an injury and freshman Avery McKenney ran in her place and helped the team qualify for state.

When the time came, McKenney stepped aside to allow McDevitt to compete in the final race.

"Avery (McKenney) almost had to run again in the finals and when I asked her, she said she would run her hardest for the team," he added. "(She) did not run, but I was proud of her attitude and dedication."

Coach Davies also thanked his assistants, Eric Wulfman and Dan Cassayre, who he referred to as "two of the best coaches in the state."

While the season is over, Coach Davies is already looking ahead.

"Next year should be fun and rewarding," he said. "We are in one of the best 1A districts in the state, so the competition is always good. Hopefully we will continue to have success and offer a rewarding program for the athletes."

Lady Kodiaks softball falls to Colville in crossover

By AL STOVER

The Cascade High softball team ended their 2019 campaign on May 18 with a 6-4 loss to Northeast A League Colville.

The Lady Kodiaks opened with two runs in the first inning, including one off Truh Merriman's solo home run.

After a scoreless second frame, Colville went on a five-run rally to take the lead.

Cascade added one run in the fourth and fifth innings to cut the scoring gap 5-4. The Lady Indians added one more run in the sixth to seal the win.

Sarah Paulson took the loss on the mound, allowing nine hits and six runs and striking out seven batters.

Merriman was 3-for-4 at the plate with a home run, an RBI and two runs scored. Paulson went 2-for-4 with an RBI and a double. Kaija Lovelady, Renee Lambert, Jocelyn Rodriguez and Madison Hardy collected hits.

The loss brings Cascade's overall record to 18-4. After a somewhat slow start, Cascade picked up momentum, winning seven of their first 10 games. The Lady Kodiaks ended their regular season with an 11-game winning streak, capturing the Caribou Trail League championship in the process.

After falling to Okanogan in the District 6 championship game, Cascade bounced back to defeat Chelan advance to the CTL-NEA crossover.

Head Coach Todd Gilbert felt the team had a good season and improved in several areas throughout the season, especially when it came to offense. Although the Lady Kodiaks did not return to the state tournament, Gilbert said the team can hold "their heads up with pride."

"An 18 win season including a league championship is something to take pride in," he added. "This group of young ladies worked very hard to continue a very successful tradition of Cascade Fastpitch and did so."

The Lady Kodiaks lose several seniors to graduation - Lovelady, Paulson, Madeline Schiefelbein, Nicole Dunn, Kayla Bittle and Alondra Acevedo.

Several players are set to return net season, including power hitter Merriman, Lambert, who spent some time on the mound, Autumn West and Madison Hardy.

"While this group of seniors will be missed and leave some big shoes to fill, we are looking forward to the future and the challenge of continued excellence," Gilbert said.

Adventure Park MDNS approved by Hearing Examiner

A MDNS being issued doesn't necessarily mean that the environment impacts are eliminated. As long as the potential impacts are adequately reviewed by the city and mitigation measures are in place to minimize the degree of impact, then the city is in compliance with the State Environmental Protection Act.

"From my perspective, the city's role in this process has been to guide a fair process and be diligent. The upholding of the SEPA, does support that perspective."

"The Hearing Examiner's decision regarding the SEPA Determination supports the thoroughness of the work done - the due diligence, the process, and the SEPA Determination - completed by the Development Services Department and Ms. Lilith Vespier, Development Services Manager," said Joel Walinski, city administrator.

The conflict to the Adventure Park saga started long before Friends of Leavenworth filed the appeal, but came to a peak during the hearing.

A staggering influx, 73 total, of public comment were made at the public hearing.

This decision weighing on Kottkamp seemed to be the climax of the town controversy.

The potential addition to the Bavarian Village has caused a rift, dividing citizens on the proposed theme park.

Those that find the decision incorrect have 21 days to file an appeal for the Superior Court.

LEAVENWORTH ROTARY NEWS
ROTARIAN OF THE MONTH
Rotarian President, Penny Carpenter presents Shawna Alexander with certificate in recognition as May "Rotarian of the Month" for Leavenworth Rotary Club. Shawna has been a member of Leavenworth Rotary since 2006. Shawna has been Treasurer for Club since 2007. She is a native of Leavenworth and she and husband Randy have three children and four grandchildren. She attended Cascade High School, Business School in Seattle and Wenatchee Valley College. She has a certification in Human Relations and is a longtime employee of Cashmere Valley Bank. She is very active in her church and participates in many activities of the club. When members were asked what they thought of Shawna...the answer was "She is always there for us!" Shawna is indeed an asset to Leavenworth Rotary and this is a well-deserved honor.

A history of salmon decline in the Columbia River to be presented May 29

SUBMITTED BY WENATCHEE RIVER INSTITUTE

LEAVENWORTH - On Wed., May 29 in the Wenatchee River Institute's Red Barn, Cascade Columbia Fisheries Enhancement Group's (CCFEG) Executive Director Jason Lundgren, will present A History of Salmon Decline in the Columbia River. Doors will open at 6:30 p.m. for community social and no-host refreshments, with the presentation beginning at 7 p.m.

Human activities, including salmon canneries operating along the Columbia during the last half of the 1800's and the construction of large dams during the 1900's, as well as environmental factors such as climate change, have all contributed to the massive decline in salmon populations.

Lundgren's presentation will include a slideshow and offer ideas for how salmon in the Columbia River can be protected, how to mitigate the fish's population loss and how healthy populations can be restored.

A graduate of the Evergreen State College in Olympia, Jason has been involved in fisheries and natural resources for many years. An avid angler, Jason previously worked for the South Puget Sound Salmon Enhancement Group, CCFEG's counterpart in Olympia, before moving on to a role with the Salmon Recovery Funding Board. As the Executive Director of CCFEG, Jason is very excited to be involved in salmon recovery in such a vibrant area. He is also on the board of directors for Trout Unlimited. Lundgren lives in Leavenworth with his wife, three children and George, the family dog.

This Red Barn Event speaker event is co-sponsored by Wenatchee River Institute, Trout Unlimited, and CCFEG.

Wenatchee River Institute is located at 347 Division St. in Leavenworth, (509)548-0181, www.wenatcheeriverinstitute.org
