Leavenworth native killed in Afghanistan

KABUL, Afghanistan — An Army Ranger assigned to 2nd Battalion, 75th Ranger Regiment was killed in action in Afghanistan on Saturday.

Sgt. Leandro A.S. Jasso, 25, was mortally wounded during a firefight with al-Qaida forces in Nimruz province, military officials in Kabul said Sunday. He was medically evacuated from the combat zone and later died of his injuries at a medical facility in Helmand province, the Pentagon said in a statement.

Jasso, from Leavenworth, was on his third deployment to Afghanistan. He enlisted in the Army in 2012 and became an accomplished soldier, completing the Basic Airborne Course, earning the Combat Infantryman's Badge and the much-sought after Ranger tab, the U.S. Army's Special Operations Command said in a statement.

"Sgt. Jasso was a humble professional who placed the mission first, lived the Ranger Creed and will be deeply missed," said Lt. Col. Rob McChrystal, commander of the 2nd Battalion, 75th Ranger Regiment, as quoted in the statement. Jasso's death raises to 10 the number of U.S. troops killed in Afghanistan this year. Earlier this month, Maj. Brent Taylor of the Army National Guard was killed during an insider attack in Kabul that also injured another U.S. servicemember.

Most of the roughly 14,000 U.S. troops deployed to Afghanistan assist NATO's training and advising mission, while a smaller amount help with the U.S.'s separate counterterrorism mission that targets groups such as al-Qaida and the local Islamic State affiliate.

"The loss of Sgt. Jasso is felt by his family and loved ones, by all who served with him and by all on this mission to protect our country and our allies," said Gen. Scott Miller, Resolute Support and United States Forces - Afghanistan commanding general.

About 2,400 American military personnel have been killed since the war in Afghanistan began in 2001 — fewer than 1,900 of them were killed in

Subaru collides with fruit stand telephone pole

By Kalie Drago Echo Reporter

A green Subaru going eastbound veered off of Highway 2, missed the slight curve to the left and eventually struck a telephone pole in front of Smallwoods Harvest fruit stand on Monday, November 19. The vehicle went through a chain link fence with a pole from the fence entering the car – causing injury – and then collided with the telephone pole by the Peshastin fruit stand.

The driver was Ashley Harvey, a 27 year old Tualatin, Oregon based female and the passenger was 31 year old male, Joshua Jacobs, from Vancouver, Washington. According to State Trooper, John Bryant, Jacobs took the brunt of the injury with part of the chain link fence pole going into the car and impaling his stomach. The accident was reported a little after 12 and the two in the car were taken to the Central Washington Hospital to be checked and treated for injuries.

Cascade Superintendent announces retirement

By KALIE DRAGO Echo Reporter

Despite students and staff having Monday. Nov. 12 off to commemorate Veterans Day, the school board was business as usual and conducted their first November school board meeting. The meeting brought an encouraging presentation of Alpine Lakes Elementary flourishing student body but also a melancholy announcement from the face of Cascade School District, Bill Motsenbocker.

To kick off the meeting, Alpine Lakes Elementary principal, Kenny Renner-Singer, presented some statistics and praises over his young students to both the board and the audience. The information and data from the previous year were extracted from Osborn Elementary due to Alpine Lakes being a fresh asset to the district for this 2018-2019 school year. However, it was the same group of students studied. He talked both about the new building and also data on education development for the students.

"One of the great things about the decision about the school being at that Pine Street location is that we've been able to, a number of times, cross-age learning experiences for kids," said Renner-Singer. "It was a neat experience."

For one particular project, the younger students had the opportunity to intermingle with the nearby

7th graders. The 7th grade team had all science, math, reading and social studies combine to do a project together that the preteens later had to present their learning over the three weeks to the Alpine Lakes students. It was a collision of various learning experiences for the different age groups and was a chance for the students to rub shoulders with their younger and older counterparts.

Along with that, the special education teachers are just a hop, skip and a jump away from the preschool. So they've been able to slingshot back and forth between the schools to help out, according to Renner-Singer.

"Those things aren't possible, even if it's only two more blocks, just being able down the soccer field path has been great," said Renner-Singer.

After Renner-Singer also presented the contrast and comparison between the testing scores of English/Language Arts, Math and Science over the last three years. There seemed to be very little variance in terms of performance for English/ Language Arts. While consistency is notable, there was also progress made for a large portion "He'll (Jacobs) is recovering fine, with no vital injuries. No organs were hit, miraculously," said Bryant.

According to Bryant, the accident occurred due to the driver falling asleep at the wheel. Currently, the driver will be charged with 2nd degree Negligent Driving but this could change.

Minute with the Mayo

Hello everyone! There are a few things I want to share with you before the end of the year.

Waste Management Residential Services

On October 23, 2018, the City Council approved a contract with Waste Management to provide weekly garbage pickup and recycling services in the residential neighborhoods of the city limits.

This idea came out of the Residential Advisory Committee (RAC) several months ago; the RAC is made up of residents and members of the City Council. RAC members asked that the City explore providing additional recycling and solid waste container options for our residents, as the City's only current option is a 64-gallon garbage cart. City Staff contacted Waste Management to explore their cart size and service options. Some of the new choices include both smaller and larger sizes of garbage and recyclecarts, bear proof carts, removal of "bulky items", a low-income service provision, and a slightly lower monthly rate.

Additionally, the City will continue to provide the yard waste drop-off site at the Recycle Center and will still manage the Spring and Fall Yard Clean-up programs for homes in the residential zones. Now that the contract has been approved, the education and transition process will begin, so look for communications directly from Waste Management. The transfer will begin on the first Monday in February of 2019.

2018 Christmas Lighting Traffic Control

Earlier this year, I called a meeting of Public Safety agencies to review and improve public safety response during the Christmas Lighting Festival. Agencies represented included the Washington State Patrol, Washington Department of Transportation, Chelan County Public Works, Chelan County Sheriff's Office, Chelan County Fire District #3, City of Leavenworth, and representatives from the Chamber of Commerce. The group discussed many options, which included changes to the festival, remote parking, lane closures, etc. For the 2018 festival, the group decided to focus on a proactive approach to providing better traffic control, (primarily on Hwy 2), and having more personnel available to respond to public safety service calls. This year, traffic control will be managed at 7 specific intersections; from Main Street / Hwy 2 in Peshastin through Hwy 2 / Icicle Road in Leavenworth as well as North Road at Chumstick Highway. Additionally, there will be more signage, temporary lighting, radio support, variable message boards, and one uniformed officer and professional flaggers present at the 7 controlled intersections. The public safety staffing to support the Christmas Lighting Festival will consist of 9 officers on each Saturday and 2 officers each Sunday. These officers will be assigned to assist with traffic control, crowd control, and to respond to emergency service calls in the downtown and residential neighborhoods.

PRSA Levy Request

Thank you, voters, in the Upper Valley Park & Recreation Service

Mayor Cheri Kelley Farivar

Area (PRSA)! The PRSA Six-Year Maintenance & Operations Levy request recently passed with a 63.92% vote.

This levy will provide for the pool to be open next summer but does not address some of the necessary repair issues including resurfacing the pool to prevent further deterioration.

The PRSA is looking into financing options for the most urgent of the necessary repairs and will be reporting further information soon.

Thank you for your support and have a safe and Merry Christmas!

It's not about the midterms Echo-Record November 2018

Although President Trump recently chalked up the weak stock market to the result of the midterms and threat of "Presidential harassment" by Democrats, I think that's old news.

Had the Democrats surprisingly won both the House and the Senate, perhaps the markets would have reacted.However, for months, the expectation was that the Democrats would win the House and we'd be dealing with at least two years of what Trump is calling "Presidential harassment."

However, I don't think the stock market cares. After all, the stock market soared under Obama, who dealt with plenty of harassment himself. Even if it gets as ugly as an impeachment, I'm not sure why that would matter to the stock market in any significant way.

So, if it's not the midterms giving the stock market heartache, what is it?

The answer is that it's a lot of little things: Interest rates and the dollar are rising, the trade war is lingering, and inflation has shown signs of picking up.

Outside of America, Europe is still dealing with Brexit, and Chinese economic growth is slowing. By themselves, none of those things are incredibly scary. However, they add up to a significant headwind for the stock market.

Another important layer to this is that our economy probably peaked in the 2nd quarter when our GDP reached 4.2%.

In the 3rd quarter, it fell to 3.5%, and estimates for the 4th quarter are closer to 2.8%. That is still a strong economy, but the best times appear to be behind us.

Whatever stimulus we got from the tax cut is fading, and for the next couple years at least, our government will probably do more damage than good. So, I think the markets are looking ahead, and seeing very little to get excited about.

Of course, none of this means we're headed for a crash. The stock market is essentially flat for the year, and we are far away from a recession. However, even if we fall into a recession sometime soon, it's important to remember that not every recession becomes a disaster for the stock market. I worry that recent experiences have trained investors to be constantly looking for the next major crisis. That's because over the last 20 years, we've seen two recessions - and both times, the stock market crashed. However, those were two of the worst stock markets in history. It won't get that bad every time. Of course, that doesn't mean you should be eager for our next recession. But take solace that it won't necessarily be a major crisis.

Back in 1978, Leavenworth candymaker Archie Marlin took to selling caramel apples at local festivals to pay off a sizable loan of $13,000. I'm not at all sure what a caramel apple went for back in 1978, but you could get a gallon of gas for 79 cents. So that tells me old Archie had to sell something like 52,000 caramel apples, if not more, to make good on that loan. And what did all this sticky work get him?

Prior to the turkey and gravy, some community members trailed down to the downtown gazebo to partake in a little cardio before the carbs. On Thursday, November 22, otherwise known as Thanksgiving this year, families and residents participated Fowl Play 5k Fun Run.

"This was the 5th Fowl Play and participation has grown every year," said Marcia Smith, Cascade School District staff member.

It kicked off at 9 a.m., so early birds DVRed the end of the Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade and left behind the stuffed bird in the oven. Despite the forecast for the day predicting rain, 204 participants headed to the Gazebo for a jog.

"The event was a huge success," said Smith. "We had our largest turnout thus far with 204 participants. The day was predicted to have 100% rain and the day was marvelous for a run."

With an open invitation to dogs and allowing even those who can't find their footing yet via stroller - anybody in the community could participate for $15 for adults and $10 for K-12. This was not only an opportunity to engage in some exercise before feasting but also simultaneously giving back to the Cascade High School tennis and pickelball fund.

People are happy to be there, they dress up, bring their kids, extended families and dogs," said Smith. The funds are used for things such as tennis court and pickelball courts. In the past the money was put towards pressure washer brushes to clean the courts and bleachers along with putting on tennis camps for junior tennis players in the summer. According to Smith, this year the funds will funnel into picnic tables and sun canopies.

Christmas Lighting Festival

BY KALIE DRAGO Echo Reporter

With the incoming snowy weather and incoming herd of tourists, it's clear that is about that time again for the city of Leavenworth to host their annual three weekend Christmas Lighting Festival.

Transitioning out of the usual Bavarian Village into a Village of Lights, the city celebrates the upcoming holiday season.

Starting Friday, November 30 and lasting until Sunday, December 16, there will be plenty of time to wander downtown and participate with both locals, outsiders and St. Nickolaus.

Starting Friday evening, despite no Lighting Ceremony, the half a million lights are all on to welcome St. Nickolaus as he heads down to the Front St. Gazebo to share the everyone.

Saturday and Sundays, noon will be the arrival of Santa and various holiday characters trailing behind him at the Festhalle.

The Gazebo will host musical performances with sledding inn Front Street Park and carolers roaming around – all leading up to the lighting ceremony.

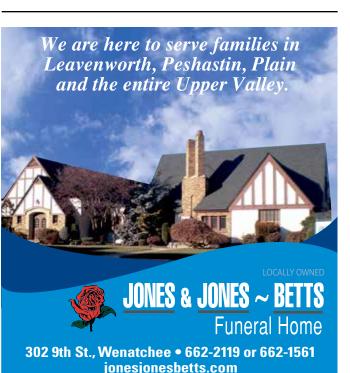

The annual event has little variation from previous years except that the lighting ceremony will begin at 4:45 rather than 4:30.

It will be spread between the weekends of November 30, December 1-2, 7-9, 14-16.

While little has changed in the traditional schedule of this immensely popular event, the Chamber of Commerce, City of Leavenworth and Chelan County Sheriff's department have made significant changes

UPPER VALLEY NEWS SINCE 1904

Be a "Squeaky Wheel"!

Sally is a bubbly, 75-year-old retired teacher and breast cancer survivor who loves to stay active. She lives in a lovely over 55 subdivision and looks forward to her daily morning walks. She walks 3 miles every day, rain or shine.

A couple of months ago, Sally's doctor told her that she was concerned about Sally's "bad cholesterol" and wanted to her to start taking a prescription medicine called Lipitor® (atorvastatin). L ess than a week after starting her new medicine, Sally noticed cramps in her legs that woke her up at night, which she had never experienced before.

A few days later, her thigh muscles started to ache, eventually limiting her to half of her usual walking distance and bothering her the rest of the day, too. Chatting with her on the phone, I asked how things were going with her new medicine. "I'm not sure if it's a coincidence or not, but I've been having these muscle aches in the daytime and leg cramps that wake me up at night. I always had some muscle soreness while taking my breast cancer medicine, but never like this." "Are you still able to do your morning walks?" "Barely. I'm too stubborn to quit, but am only able to walk half my usual distance. Do you think it might be the new medicine?" "How long were you on the new medicine before you noticed the soreness in your legs?" "Oh, about a week." I explained, "That medicine won't help you much if it makes you less physically active.""Should I just stop it?" "Oh no! DON'T stop it abruptly. You need to tell your doctor exactly what's going on, right away." "But, it took me MONTHS to get in to see her."

"You don't have to make an appointment with her to tell her about this. Just call the office and tell them exactly what you just told me, and when you starting noticing it. Sally, if a doctor puts you on a new medicine and they don't hear otherwise, they'll assume that everything is going fine. YOU have to be a "squeaky wheel" and tell them if you're having a problem." When she did that, her doctor advised her to cut the dose in half and see if her muscle aches and cramps got any better. I checked in with her a couple of weeks later, and she reported that she didn't notice any improvement on half the dose. "I'm stubborn," she told me. "I'm making myself walk every day, even though I can't do as much." "Tell your doctor it isn't getting any better. She's not a mind reader!"

Sally's doctor then told her to stop the medicine completely and see what happened. Once she'd been off of it for 3 weeks, she finally stopped waking up with muscle cramps and her muscle pain decreased every week. Eventually she could walk her full 3 miles in the morning again.

What if Sally had accepted her muscle aches as "just getting older" and stopped walking altogether? Instead of helping her AVOID a future heart attack or stroke, taking that medicine would have INCREASED her risk, because it caused her problems that significantly DECREASED her activity level.

Here Are 5 Ways to Prevent A Medicine from Harming You:

1 Whenever you start a new 1 attention to any changes. A symptom Whenever you start a new medicine, pay diary is a great help whenever you start any new treatment so you don't rely just on your memory when tracking any changes, good or bad.

Take responsibility for communicating 2. Take responsionity to the value of the va problems that you suspect might be related to your new medicine. Doctors are not mind readers and they're very busy. If they don't know about it, they can't help you!

Call your doctor's office to report your • concerns. You don't have to see the doctor face to face to do this. A phone call to a nurse or message through your patient portal should get this vital information to your doctor quickly.

If your doctor's office is closed, your 4. pharmacy is another resource. They can advise you whether you should keep taking it or hold off until your doctor can contact you with a plan.

Don't stop a medicine on your own un-J. less you're having serious problems like shortness of breath or a rash. Working with your doctor on this helps give you the best care possible.

Be a "Squeaky Wheel"! Tell your doctor if you're having problems with your medicine, so they can help you.

Conflict surrounding Beaver Valley property

BY KALIE DRAGO Echo Reporter

At the Monday, Nov. 12 school board meeting, there were two entities in the audience that seemed to have clashing views on the purchase of land being sold by the Cascade School District.

Before the meeting surged into the formal agenda, a representative for Friends of Rural Plain spoke up about the possibility of the impending sale of 5.5 acres behind Beaver Valley School to the Lake Wenatchee Fire District.

"I'm Laurie Aholt and Friends of Rural Plain LLC. We have consulted with our attorney regarding the offers submitted by the Lake Wenatchee Fire and Rescue to purchase the Cascade School District property behind the elementary school in Plain," said Plain resident, Laurie Afterendlessimprovements and new fixtures made to the Cascade School District - the board passed a resolution that the 5.5 acres behind Beaver Valley School off Hill Street was excess and not needed. This is off Hill Street and is adjacent to the Lake Wenatchee Fire and Rescue.

According to an article submitted to the Echo earlier this year by Mike Lamar, the LWFR and the school district has been discussing this purchase since 2017. However some friction arose in accepting the bids made by the LWFR due to a previous stipulation regarding а portion of the land.

"One of the primary issue that surrounds this bid is as a fire district that cannot use am representing the any of their funding for local community use prompted a second offer of $250,000 for 3.87 acres which means that the 1.5 acre partial that is intended to be a playground will be extracted from the deal.

This opened the door for a qualified non-profit to be deeded by the Lake Wenatchee Fire and Rescue as long as they maintain and operate the play area.

"Our attorney disagrees with the position outlined by the school board attorney, Laura Karassik, and contends that the Cascade School District has no alternative but to re-advertise and seek new bids.

Valley property was decided not be sold to the Lake Wenatchee Fire District.*

"This isn't is on the agenda today because the board is going to go over the bids that the Lake and Wenatchee Fire and Rescue has submitted. And also go over the information we received from the real estate attorney that deals with school districts in Seattle," said Motsenbocker. "The board will give me direction on where to go with this."

* At the time of print, there was no official confirmation or comment from the Cascade School District on how they were going to proceed.

the trust of those folks who did not vote for me. As I mentioned repeatedly in my campaign, my goal is to find common ground for many issues that affect the diversity of people in our county."

Bugert went on to say, "While I have years of experience working with county commissioners on a variety of issues, I recognize that I have much homework to do, much to learn, and people to visit with. I look forward to this opportunity."

Bugert defeated restaurateur Shon Smith by less than 500 votes out a total of 26,890 cast. "Early this December, before I am inducted as a commissioner, I will be attending a threeday training session by the Washington Association of Counties on the specific roles and responsibilities of a county commissioner. The training will have real practical applications, so I am excited to attend this as well," he said.

Regarding becoming an advocate for area tourism, Bugert, in a previous interview said, "I have been working on outdoor recreation for many years.

There is a clear and documented economic benefit of recreation - it brings dollars to our community as people come to boat, fish, bike, hunt, ski, parasail, zipline, golf, and participate in the wide variety of recreational opportunities our county offers. We need to capitalize on the fact we have good access to great recreation!

"I have also been working with the Greater Wenatchee Chamber of Commerce and Port of Chelan County to strengthen our outdoor recreation economy.

This has direct benefits to restaurants, motels, and other services in our communities.

I am currently on the Board of Wenatchee Valley TREAD, the newly-formed nonprofit to promote outdoor recreation and tourism in Chelan and Douglas counties.

Our work is done with the financial support and partnership of the Chamber of Commerce and Port of Chelan County, and many recreation businesses and nonprofits in the area, said Bugert.

"Our goal is to promote recreation to improve the quality of life and health in the region, and to develop recreation-based jobs as part of a strong and diverse economic mix that supports this region," Bugert said.

"As a County Commissioner, I will continue to work with the chambers of commerce, port districts, and our cities to strengthen that approach.

My goal is to bring all stakeholders together (motorized, non-motorized, water, snow and land) to provide the best outdoor recreation experiences in our communities, improving the quality of life for everyone who lives in or visits the region," he concluded.

Bugert is the former executive director of the Chelan-Douglas Land Trust. Several other winning candidates were solicited for comments after the election results were announced, but as of press deadline only Bugert and Steele have replied.

Cascade Superintendent announces retirement

of the elementary students as well.

"One thing exciting thing to share, is our current 5th graders, had enormous gains. The 34 out of the 97 moved towards standards, only seven moved backwards. This was a group that was extremely large and so they were overloaded. So from kindergarten to second grade, probably the most important years to be in small classes, they were in large classes," said Renner-Singer. "This group is kind of steadily improved as they've gone through, so this was exciting to see their huge jump between 3rd grade performance and 4th grade."

The data was evidence that the Alpine Lakes Elementary students are only improving as they continue their growth over the course of their years in the Cascade School District. Renner-Singer, a self proclaimed competitive principal, compared the schools to other schools in the state with the same population of students. It was apparent by the flat line in the sample versus the constant increase of Cascade School District students meeting state standards, that things are literally looking up for Cascade students for state testing.

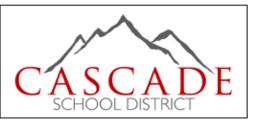

"Our schools are moving in the direction of becoming an AVID elementary school. Teaching those skills that for kids to be successful at this level, but then beyond, getting them college ready with organization skills and academic skills that can transfer all the way up through," said Renner-Singer.

He informed the board that they have begun the steps, such as a staff training, to ferment the professional development to prepare teachers for teaching these skills. Lastly, he shared that when English Language Learning students pass the state test and consequently exit the ELL program, the students have a solely Spanish speaking celebration.

"It's not an easy test and it's a really fun event," said Renner-Singer. "It's the only event that's entirely done in Spanish. The only word I understand is Renner-Singer."

Overlapping, there will be a possible fixture in the Cascade School District is responsive to possible cultural clashes for staff and students. Policy 3241 is under Classroom Management, Discipline and Corrective Action and recently have added culturally responsive action under this. Motsenbocker noted that there is a strong Hispanic speaking population and this policy would be a great asset to be implemented within the district.

After sharing the endless good news regarding to Alpine Lakes, the board then had to approve a more melancholy resignation and retirement of Superintendent Bill Motsenbocker.

"The work we've accomplished together has been joyful and productive," said an excerpt from Motsenbocker's resignation letter. "My career has spanned over 30 years and five school districts, but none have compared to my years here at Cascade."

After the acknowledgement of Motsenbocker's impressive list of accomplishments for the Cascade School District in the five year window of his employment here, the board addressed the upcoming timeline.

Motsenbocker's retirement would be effective June 30, 2019 and the interviews for his replacement would began officially in March.

Other various business attended to during the meeting:

• The approval of Policy 1400: Meeting Conduct, Order of Business and Quorum.

• The approval of Policy and Procedure 2190: Highly Capable

• The approval of Policy and Procedure 3413: Student Immunization and Life-Threatening Health Conditions).
