

City will act as lead agency for utility regionalization study

By IAN DUNN
EDITOR

The Leavenworth City Council has approved an inter-local agreement between the city and Chelan County PUD about a utility regionalization study. The PUD has asked the city to be the lead agency and manage the study.

"We'll be the ones to put out the RFQ (request for qualifications). We'll be ones to call the meetings. We'll be the ones to review the invoices from the consultant, once they are selected. We would pay the consultant, then request reimbursement by the PUD," said City Administrator Joel Walinski, at the April 25 city council meeting. "What this inter-local agreement does is assure us the PUD is going to provide the $150,000 funding. It lays out the city's responsibility."

Walinski said he is putting together the scope right now, much in the same way they are putting together the scope for the parking study. He said they are looking for a discussion on merging three or four entities in terms of utilities.

"That is the basic scope of work. I didn't want, in the RFQ, to get into the scope. We're going to put it out there, then the stakeholder's group will meet with the consultant and refine that scope of work so that the issues people feel are important are included in the study," Walinski said.

The focus of the study is on sewer and water. Councilman Elmer Larsen, who has championed the regionalization idea, said one of the key issues is acquiring new water rights.

"One option is to look at the irrigation and line those ditches and free up a lot of water. That would provide enough water," Larsen said. "Cascade (Irrigation District) takes up 12 acre feet and we get three feet for the city. They could cut that in half. There's tremendous amount of water to be gained by the city. If the irrigation isn't part of the thing, I don't think you can do much with the water. We don't have any other source."

That is something for the stakeholder group to bring to the study, Mayor Cheri Kelley Farivar said.

"I do know the city of Entiat has an innovative program where they have acquired water rights from irrigation districts without the changeover. They didn't buy out the water right. They are repurposing the unused water," Farivar said. "There are a lot of unused water rights, especially around Entiat, where orchards are turning into homes, much like Leavenworth. The repurposing of a water right is something we might be able to accomplish."

That is an ideal source for increased water, Larsen said. As the city representative to the stakeholder group, Farivar told Larsen she's leaving it up to him to bring that into the discussion.

Councilwoman Margaret Neighbors asked if it was normal for the PUD to ask a city to be the lead agency on a study. Walinski said he believed the PUD asked this of the city because this is how they want the study to be seen.

"The study was requested by us and the city of Cashmere. The PUD does not want this appear like they are foisting something on us as opposed to us leading the charge," Farivar said.

Larsen said the PUD is the ideal entity to look into this.

"The PUD is a utility district and even though they've taken on the small water systems around the lake and in Peshastin-Dryden, they're focus has always been electrical. The cities are saying, you are a utility, you are the best to deal with the county, city confusion," Larsen said.

Alpine Lakes play field design has room for many sports

By IAN DUNN
EDITOR

After many changes, it appears there might be a final design for the Alpine Lakes play field. Leavenworth Soccer President Aaron Simon said at the April 24 Cascade School Board meeting, that his group has volunteered to help with the field design.

"With the new bond passing, we have a vested interested in making sure we maintain field space for the kids, not just soccer, but for baseball, football, softball, playground," Simon said. "Working with the school district, we volunteered to evaluate different landscape architects and develop a plan that would fit for the school district as well as the different recreational sports."

Simon said they started with the selection process in April of 2016. They did a blind selection with four different landscape architects, two local and two not local. The Leavenworth Soccer Board, after examining examples of other fields they'd done, selected Renton architects, SLA Landscape Architects.

"They've done lots of different fields in the state, as well as nationally and internationally. They were responsible for some project management, gathering data on what we might like to see on the fields," Simon said of SLA Architects. "The school districts, as well as the other rec groups, have provided a cost model, master-plan and site plan."

In May of 2016, a site plan was developed for Alpine Lakes. Simon said they had four different rough drafts of what the field might look like. The first draft included modified soccer fields, tennis courts and a full sized football field. There were also backstops for tee-ball baseball.

Then, a swale or retention pond was added to the play field area.

"That threw a wrench in the design and we didn't have as much space. We then went to this design which was pretty much a final product," Simon said. "We have a one percent grade that flows with the way it is naturally flowing. We can fit two new fields where the tennis courts would have been."

It was decided to move the tennis courts to Osborn fields. Those are expected to be constructed sometime this spring or summer. Simon said they are hoping to use the construction equipment on site at the

Nutcracker Day

The Leavenworth Nutcracker Museum announces a contest for students who want to make their own nutcracker. Judging will be held on Nutcracker Day, July 1, the museum's annual celebration honoring the nutcracker. The design must be the student's own, using their own imagination and creativity, and must be strong enough to crack a nut. To encourage students to participate in the contest, Amber Zimmerman of "Leavenworth's Sip and Paint" created this percussion nutcracker as an example of a simple, but decorative nut cracking device using a river rock and block of wood. A drilled indentation in the base keeps the nut from rolling away as it is cracked. More examples of easy to make nutcrackers, and information on the contest can be found on www.nutcrackerday.com

City lines up funding for Pine Street reconstruction

By IAN DUNN
EDITOR

The Leavenworth City Council has approved a local agency agreement and project prospectus between the city and the Washington State Department of Transportation (WSDOT) for the Pine Street project.

"Once this is approved and approved at WSDOT, it obligates the funding. We received federal funding last year. This is the first step is making those funds available to the engineer as this moves forward. Once this was in place, it obligates the bonds, so they can't be taken and put to a different project," said City Administrator Joel Walinski, at the April 25 city council meeting.

The prospectus and local agency agreement covers the initial engineering up to and including documents for bid, Walinski said. An email from Pine Street resident, Craig Hess, was mentioned.

"He has thoughts regarding the potential sidewalk and not wanting to adopt the standards of the bicycle agencies and WSDOT. He also had a question about the trees," Walinski said.

Walinski said, with Pete Olson's Pine Street development, city staff made it clear they did not want trees planted in the swale, but trees planted anywhere behind the 10-foot pathway is recommended. The city currently does not have a requirement that a development plant trees in the front yard or boulevard.

"That might be something the planning commission or council might want to consider going forward, but at this point in time, that is not part of the plan. We do appreciate Pete making the recommendation. We can encourage, but at the end of the day, he wanted to have those trees," Walinski said.

Councilwoman Mia Bretz asked why trees could not be planted in the swale. Walinski said it is a drainage ditch for stormwater. Planting trees there would clog up the ditch and create blockage. Bretz said she thought it was supposed to be a grassy swale that had plants which absorbed water.

"It will eventually have vegetation in it.

Florea presses city on welcoming city resolution

By IAN DUNN
EDITOR

At the April 25 Leavenworth City Council meeting, Carl Florea, representing the local group NCW United, continued to press the council on adopting some sort of welcoming city ordinance.

"It's been controversial and I know it's created a lot of emotion, but let me just say, these people are part of our community," Florea said. "This is about our local community. This is about what already makes us up. A lot of workers that keeps a business going are immigrant, and believe you me, a number of those aren't documented."

If the council had any doubt about the number of undocumented worker in town, Florea said he could have the council meet some of them, not a city hall, but somewhere else.

"I will offer that to any one of you who might doubt they are part of this community. This really should be just about supporting our community. I know it is controversial and I know we're in a divided place in this nation," Florea said. "We should acknowledge we are the victims of a broken immigration system. Everyone of us can agree to that. It is what it is. They are here and they are contributing."

If the council does not like the term, sanctuary city, that's fine, he said.

"Find a way to say we understand their importance, their contribution. They are a part of us.

Quite frankly, they are here because the jobs are here. We have jobs that need to be filled. We have not had, as a nation, a legal way to get them here to fill them," Florea said. "They came without that. They are not the ones in fault. We should have had a system in place and then we wouldn't be in this conundrum."

The immigration issue needs to be solved, Florea said, and it has to include a pathway for citizenship for those that are here. That's the only way it can happen, he said.

"The problem is somebody else has messed with us. It's not about us messing with national politics. National politics has decided what is best for this community is to clean them out. That's not going to work. It's not going to solve anything," Florea said.

Councilman Elmer Larsen said he did not want to debate.

"Until they start solving it at the national level, we are not engaged. We can't do it from the council level. There's a lot of people here upset there is an effort to create a sanctuary city," Larsen said. "I think it is a divisive issue that does not need to be fought about at this level."

Florea said that was fine.

"The thing that is the reality is that somebody else has determined that getting rid of them is the answer. Mass deportations is the answer. If suddenly all the undocumented were lifted out of this county, we'd be in whole heck of hurt economically," Florea said. "The idea that you cannot get involved is just burying your head in the sand. We are involved. If you do nothing, you're saying mass deportations will work. Get rid of them all. Clean them all out."

Florea said he was not about breaking up families. He believed that sometimes a community needs to take a stand on what is right.

"These people are a part of our community and we should defend them. It's a broken system, I agree, but it's not going to get fixed by getting rid of them," Florea said. "We

Pine Street: Multiuse trail a key feature of the Pine Street project

Unfortunately, because of the size of the ditch and the proximity to the trail and street, there is a lot of gravel, but it is vegetative. Over time, it will be," said Herb Amick, city public works director.

The swale is about three feet, said Mayor Cheri Kelley Farivar.

"If many trees were planted in that, imagine what would happen as the root systems grow. It would not be a ditch at all. It would have no runoff capacity. It is inappropriate to put it in the ditch," Farivar said. "We did offer the offer of putting it in the city right-of-way. We suggested that as an option and it was not accepted."

Councilman Elmer Larsen wondered how the city would keep the swale clear, considering the problems the county has had keeping the ditches clear on Pine Street and Ski Hill. Walinski said it will have to be mowed at some point in time.

The ditches that come down Titus and Ski Hill are deep and wide, Farivar said. She said the county uses a special piece of equipment to do it. The Pine Street swale will be mow-able.

"It will be a line trimmer job. Eventually, it will be a maintenance issue. You want some vegetation so it scrubs," Bretz asked if the council were still going to have design discussions on Pine Street. Walinski said that is true.

"What we moved ahead with, and was council approved, was the design section for Pete Olson's property. That is the only thing that has been approved finally. Anything else, we can go back and revisit," Walinski said. "There is some fine tuning that has to be done, I believe from Central over to Titus, where the right-of-way kind of ends. There are discussions about how does the sidewalk fit next to the residential homes."

The question you have to remember, Farivar said, is there are requirements for federal funding.

"To just make a sidewalk narrower because you think it is aesthetically correct is appropriate if you want federal funding, for Safe Routes to School (grant), Bike Paths to School (grant) and regular street funding, there are requirements that we have to meet,"

Farivar said. "They may not be what some of the residents like, but they are what they are and we have to abide by them, if we want that funding."

Amick noted the recently completed Chumstick Trail was built with federal funds. Walinski said, on the Chumstick Trail, the city went through a very lengthy process to get deviation from 10-feet to 8-feet on the trail, but they were unsuccessful.

"Because of the side slope and the pieces around that and we have the roadway tightening things in. That was an excellent spot for getting some type of deviation from a 10-foot trail. We were unsuccessful. I'm not certain about going through a mitigation or deviation process on Pine Street, where you have nice, flat, wide surfaces," Walinski said.

On Pine Street, there is sufficient right-of-way and a flat area, Farivar said. You have to have that, especially for the Safe Route to School grants.

"Those are specific because of the children on the right-of-way. They want a wide right-of-way for strollers and bicycles and everybody to share," Farivar said. "I don't see the 10-feet as being excessive in any fashion. I think most engineers would tell you that."

If there was not a multi-use trail, the city would be pressed to have bike lanes on Pine Street, Councilman Elmer Larsen said.

"What we do is widen our road and put a bike lane there. I think it is lot better, especially with the grade school there, you have kids riding off the road," Larsen said. "The multi-use trail is a real positive thing for protecting the kids. The Chumstick Trail has been well received."

Farivar said no one has complained Chumstick Trail is too wide. As the project gets closer to Titus, Larsen said there are some big pines there that people will not want to give up. That is going to be one of the design configurations, he said.

"I should share with you that you can't go around a pine tree. That is a funding issue. It is a design consideration, but not much of one," Farivar said.

Field design: Removable backstops to be installed at the site

elementary school, which would save a lot of money.

"It is a full sized football field. There are four mod-fields (soccer) that could go there. In the fall, ideally, we would still be at IRMS. The football field will be there in the fall. We would have tee-ball that could be there and coach-pitch. It's all working out well right now with IRMS."

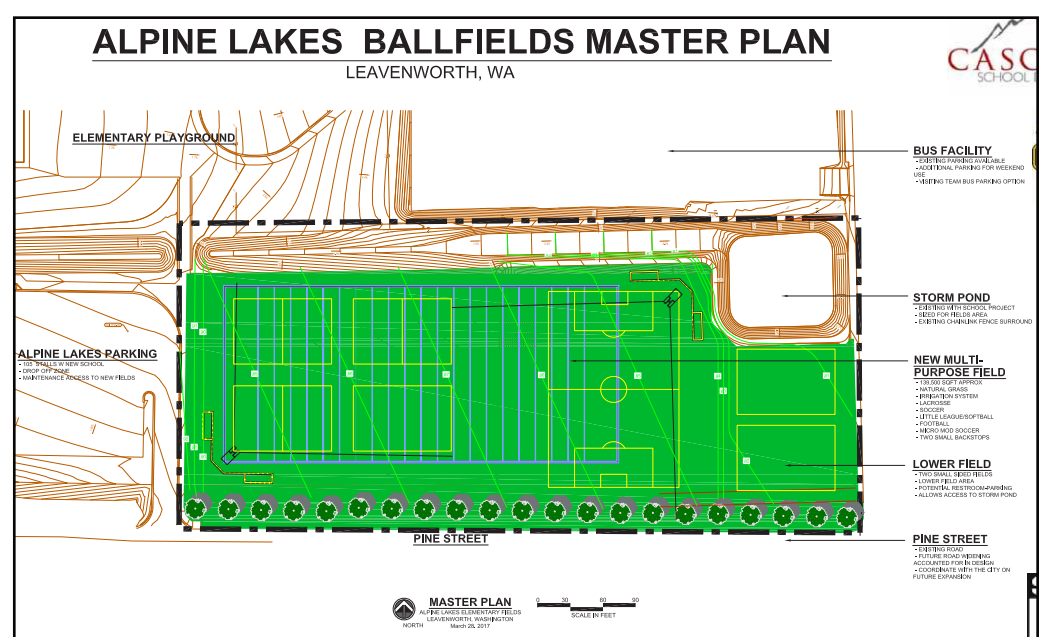

At IRMS, Simon said they have tee-ball on Mondays and Wednesdays, coach-pitch on Tuesdays and Thursdays. Soccer is not there on Tuesday and Thursday because they don't wear helmets. Soccer is there Monday, Wednesday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Board president Carrie Sorensen asked why the soccer players can't use the fields the same time as the baseball players.

"We don't have helmets. The city has not granted us access to Enchantment in the spring. The helmets are for liability for baseballs flying," Simon said.

Superintendent Bill Motsenbocker asked if there was a safety concern having backstops in the corners of the football field. Simon said no has ever brought that up before.

"There's been times where the middle school has had to play games on the practice field. It's rare over the past

This is the final draft proposal for the Alpine Lakes play field includes a practice football field, soccer fields and tee-ball baseball fields.

20 years, but it has happened once or twice. Backstops can be portable and movable," said CHS Principal Elia Ala'ilima-Daley.

The landscape architect specializes in backstops, Simon said. It is a permanent backstop. The only way it would work would be no backstops, Simon said. Motsenbocker asked if those backstops are necessary.

"You would have to talk to baseball about that, Todd McDevitt. I think they are important. Youth baseball is growing in the area," Simon said.

Daley said they do practice at IRMS, where there are backstops. He said they just work around them. If there was a game, it would be a concern, but that has only happened twice in 20 years.

In the bottom right hand corner of the design, Simon said there is a big rock there. He said they could fit two modified soccer fields or provide storage for football gear.

"With soccer growing, any field space we can get would be great. It is considered a storage area right now," Simon said. "For those fall season, more than 350 kids in Leavenworth Soccer Club represent over 60 percent of kids K-5 in the school district. Without extra field space, the lack of practice field availability will become more and more of an issue as sports programs grow. The net gain in field space at Alpine Lakes would remedy this and is critical in facilitating the possibility of a middle school soccer program next spring."

The school district is interested in maintaining the program at Osborn, which includes backstops, Motsenbocker said.

"If there is any way to put in a portable or movable backstop, so we don't have that problem. I think that would be a good idea," Motsenbocker said. "I'm a little surprised the architect designed it like that, in terms of the liability with the backstops there."

should acknowledge that and give them the message we appreciate their efforts. We know they've contributed to our growth. Elmer, you're smart. Find a way to do it without calling it sanctuary."

Larsen said he didn't believe it was real.

"I don't want to get in a big debate. This idea of mass deportation is false news. I can't envision anyone moving in that direction," Larsen said. "What I can see is security at the border and some sort of amnesty program to address immigration, but you can't just open the door to let anyone, bomb in the suitcase, walk in the door."

This is probably not the correct venue to have this discussion, Mayor Cheri Kelley Farivar said. Florea said if the council wanted more discussion, then invite him to a committee meeting.

"Let's talk about what we can do to support these people who are here. There is a lot of fear out there. Maybe some of it is unfounded," Florea said.

Councilwoman Carolyn Wilson asked if those folks are attempting to become legal? Do they know the path?

"That pathway, that is the problem. Most of them legally here now, weren't legal when they came. That's the reality. There is a process they had to go through. The reality is we're depending on them. We should be able to find a way to say thank you and we don't think getting rid of you is the answer," Florea responded to Wilson.

HOWELL at the MOVIES

WITH
JAMIE HOWELL

Like it or not, we are the products of our parents. North Korean loony tune, Kim Jong-Un, is but another apple that did not fall far from the tree. His pop, Dear Leader Kim Jong-Il, brings his insane grin to the big screen in this week's installment of the Icicle Creek Film Series - THE LOVERS AND THE DESPOT.

In yet another clear case of truth being stranger than fiction, THE LOVERS AND THE DESPOT tells the true story of a young, ambitious South Korean filmmaker who fell in love with a beautiful South Korean actress in the 1950s. They became a celebrity couple in South Korea following a string of successful films they made together. By the 1970s, the glow of their glamour caught the eye of the Dear Leader to the north who, in the spirit of a bona fide crazy person, dispatched North Korean agents to kidnap them and lock them up in Pyongyang until they agreed to become his own personal filmmakers.

So that's what they did, producing 17 feature films for the dictator-aspiring-to-be-a-director before finally gaining enough of his trust to make their escape. THE LOVERS AND THE DESPOT is a cold war thriller that really happened, and it will all unroll before your very eyes this Thursday at 7 p.m. at the Snowy Owl Theater.

Cascade fastpitch softball team are league champs

First league title since 2013

By IAN DUNN
EDITOR

The last time the Cascade Kodiak fastpitch softball team won the Caribou Trail League was 2013, what turned out to be the end of dominant era of Kodiak softball. Back then, the current Kodiaks were young girls admiring those Cascade teams, dreaming of the day they would be winning league and district titles.

It took four years, but once again, the Kodiaks are tops in the CTL. With a sweep of Cashmere last Saturday, the girls secured their first league title since 2013.

"It feels pretty good. We've been working hard all season and the girls have been playing well. It's great to prove we were the better team. They were the one team to beat us in league, on a walk off home run in the seventh inning by Haley Van Lith," said Cascade Head Coach Ken Krous. "I felt like we did a really good job on their one, two, three hitters. We controlled them a little bit. I think that made a big difference in the ball game. We just relaxed, knowing we got this thing."

Krous' first year as head coach was 2013, with group of talented seniors.

"We've been building and building, gradually getting dominant in that circle. That has helped a ton. We have speed at a lot of different spots in our lineup so we can do a lot of different things, bunting, stealing, hit and run. They run ball down. In the past, we didn't have that great speed, so those balls dropped. Now, we have kids that can run those balls down. It's pretty nice."

Krous said they girls are pretty stoked, maybe not realizing their accomplishment.

"They are 9-1 in league with two to play, 16-2 on the season. They've deserved every bit of it. They've worked hard and come out every day and work. They don't play to anyone else, they just play to our standard," Krous said. "As long we play to our standard, I think we can compete with anybody."

Cascade finishes the regular season next Tuesday, May 9, hosting Omak for a double header.

Last Saturday, Cascade played a double header against Cashmere, the only team to beat them in league. In the first game, Sarah Paulson matched up against Cashmere ace Sydney Mongeon.

It was scoreless the first two innings before the Kodiaks scored three runs in the third. Paulson and Kaija Lovelady had base hits. Truh Merriman had a hard shot, that was booted, loading the bases for Cascade's top hitter, Sarah Pickel. Pickel came through with a 2 RBI single.

The Kodiaks made it a 4-0 game in the fourth on two singles and two sacrifice bunts. Olivia Stoddard led off with singles, taking second on an error. Madeline Schiefelbein sacrificed her to third, then Whitney Wilkes had another sac bunt. Stoddard made an excellent head first slide home.

Cashmere scored their only run in the top of the sixth on a single and fielder's choice.

"Meanwhile Paulson was cruising in the circle going the distance for the win. Paulson gave up on run on four hits, eight strikeouts and two walks. Super win for the Kodiaks," Krous said.

Pickel injured her hamstring in the game, and was forced off the field, but she still hit. She was 2-for-3 with an RBI. Merriman did a stellar job spelling Pickel at short. Paulson was 2-for-3.

Paulson pitched 7 innings, giving 1 earned run on 4 hits with 8 strikeouts and 2 walks. Mongeon pitched 6 innings, giving up 2 earned runs on 9 hits with 7 strikeouts and 1 walk.

In the second game, with Merriman in the circle, the Kodiaks rolled to five inning, 11-0 win. Lovelady was 3-for-4 with 2 runs and 2 RBIs. Analia Vasquez was 3-for-3 with a double and 3 RBIs. Stoddard was 2-for-2 with a run and 2 RBIs.

Merriman pitched 5 innings, giving up no runs, 2 hits, 3 strikeouts and 1 walk. Mongeon pitched 4 innings, giving up 3 earned runs on 10 hits with 3 strikeouts and 1 walk.

"We had a couple different people playing shortstop for us. Sarah pulled that hamstring again. Luckily we don't play for a week-and-a-half so she can be ready to go. Defensively, we played really well. A couple miscues, but for the most part, we were pretty solid," Krous said.

Cascade won a nail biter at home against Okanogan on April 25. Okanogan led off the game with a home run. It remained a 1-0 until the fourth inning when Cascade's Sarah Pickel got a hit off Vivienne Bauer.

The Kodiaks were trailing 1-0 in the sixth before rallying. Lovelady walked, then moved to second on a Merriman groundout. Pickel came through with an RBI single to tie the game 1-1. Vasquez doubled to put runner and second and third with one out.

Sierra Bittle hit a sacrifice fly to scored Pickel as Vasquez moved to third. Bauer balked, which allowed Vasquez to score, to make a 3-1 game. Paulson shut down the Bulldogs in the seventh to preserve the win.

"The Lady Kodiaks continue to come through in the clutch. Having close games like these are good for them to battle through. Another solid win for the Kodiaks," Krous said.

Paulson pitched 7 innings, giving up 1 earned run on 4 hits, with 4 strikeouts and no walks. Bauer pitched 6 innings, giving up 3 earned runs on 4 hits with 2 strikeouts and 4 walks.

One of the big differences this year, he said, was some of the kids figured out the hitting, feeling more confident at the plate.

"Our pitching has been rock solid all year. Last year, Sarah Paulson had her share of strikeouts, but she was more of a contact pitcher," Krous said. "This year, she has been

The special season of the Cascade boys' soccer team continued this past week as the boys secured the Caribou Trail League title with a convincing 4-0 win over Omak. At 7-0 in league and 13-0-2 overall, the Kodiaks are assured of the regular season title even with a game remaining against Chelan.

Following the win over the Pioneers on April 27, the Kodiak coaches were understandably excited.

"You couldn't ask for anything more. It's awesome. The first goal was to be league champs. Now, we take the next step after league champs. Hopefully, districts and go onto state. See how far we can go," said Cascade Co-Head Coach Pete Spiegel.

In terms of the difference this season, Cascade Co-Head Coach Jesus Sandoval said they have a nice group of kids who are willing to play for the team.

"That makes it really special. Every one of these guys are playing for the team. In the past, we had talented kids but we didn't play together as a unit. That is what has made the difference, playing as a unit, playing for the team," Sandoval said. "I'm really happy to coaching this group of kids because it is just fun."

Against Omak, freshman standout Arturo Avila (Cholo) scored first at the 9 minute mark. Raul Mata followed with a goal to make it 2-0 at halftime. In the second half, Jose Valdez scored just two minutes into the second half. Brian Sanchez scored again just two minutes later.

The game was dominated by the Kodiaks. For Spiegel, this stellar season did come as a bit of a surprise.

"I knew we were going to be good, but we didn't know how good we were going to be. It probably did take us a little by surprise, just how good we are. Part of it is that cohesion of working together, and everyone playing off one another. That just makes a huge difference," Spiegel said.

Avila lead the Kodiaks in scoring this season and should be considered for league MVP.

"He's is an important cog, scoring goals like crazy. That is awesome. It's also the guys behind the scenes giving him the pass that springs him as well. Yes, he gets a lot of credit and is doing a great job," Spiegel said. "We have people like Brian Sanchez, who hasn't scored many goals but he is core guy. Raul Mata and Alexis Tovar and Julian Alvarez and Jose Valdez. Without the two of them up there, he's not going to get all those goals. Really, it's him doing that, but we have a really good supporting cast."

On April 24, Cascade hosted a tough Manson team. The Kodiaks prevailed 2-1 against a team they could meet in the district playoffs.

"I thought we played pretty well. They are a strong team. We had some chances, but we were not able to finish as many chances as we're used to finishing. The game was much closer than anticipated," Spiegel said. "We controlled the game, I thought. It was a good lesson for our guys. We are going to be in some difficult games. We're going to get some bad calls. The other team will step it up. We took that as a lesson."

Cascade hosted Chelan on May 2. Results were unavailable before press time. On April 13, Cascade defeated the Goats 3-0, the first victory over Chelan in four years. For Sandoval, beating Chelan in the final regular game would the cherry on the cake.

"That would be a really great way of finishing the season. Coming back and showing them we are the true league champions would be great," Sandoval said.

To advance in the playoffs, Sandoval said they need to stay consistent with the style of play they have been developing.

"That is what is giving us wins, so we want to continue to play that way, playing as a unit, playing for the team," Sandoval said. "If we just continue to play the way we are playing, we can get very far in the playoffs. Just stick to our style. Even when things aren't going well, we have to stay true to how we've been practicing because good things will happen."

District playoffs start next week. Cascade plays in the Apple Bowl in Wenatchee on May 9 against the winner of the game between the CTL#3 and Central Washington B League#2. If they win, they would play for the district title on May 11, also in the Apple Bowl.

Cascade tennis team competes against Cashmere, Okanogan, Quincy

By IAN DUNN
EDITOR

It was another busy week for Cascade tennis team. Certainly, it has been a challenging season, particularly lacking home courts, which should be constructed in the coming months.

The Kodiaks played Okanogan on April 25. The girls lost a close match 3-2. Boys lost 4-1. On April 26, Cascade played Cashmere. The girls won 3-2. Kodiak standout, Taylor Kelly lost her first match of the year, 6-2, 6-0 to Aleah Kert. Number two singles, Alexandra Barragan defeated Skylar Streaan 6-0, 6-2. Number three singles Kolby Hunt lost to Anna Van Elst 6-1, 6-2. In doubles, Schiefelbein/McDevitt defeated Larson/Covarrubias 6-3, 7-6(7-2) and Espinosa/Herrera defeated Gonzalez/Jagla 6-4, 6-3.

Cascade Head Coach Joey Johanson said the girls that won had lost the last time they played Cashmere.

"It shows how much better we're getting that those girls won this time around. I understand that if Paiton were there the outcome would most likely be different, but I believe our team showed grit and came out firing," Johanson said. "Alexandra Barragan at number 2 singles is improving immensely and has really impressed me over the last few weeks. This win comes a night after we almost beat Okanogan by way of a number 3 singles match that went to a tie breaker in the 3rd set."

Next time Kert and Kelly meet, Johanson said it should be a very exciting match.

"Taylor had a tough time with the wind, but Aleah Kert played great. I was very impressed with Aleah's play, but Taylor is determined to work hard and I look for a fun match at the league/district tournament," Johanson said.

The Cascade boys lost 4-1 to Cashmere. The only win came in number 2 doubles, Espinosa/Whaley defeated McCabe/Powell 6-0, 6-3. In number 1 singles, Finn Johnson lost to Tyler Kert 6-0, 6-1. In number 2 singles, Thales Nunes lost to Jason Kenoyer 6-0, 6-1. In number 3 singles, Dan Paulson lost to Lukas Qualtier 6-0, 6-0. In number 1 doubles, Keziah/Schlyer lost to Cooper/Farias 6-2, 6-1.

Johanson said the match of the day was number 2 doubles.

"Emman Espinosa and Wyatt Whaley played great at the net and their serves were consistent. This was improvement for the boys as well because last time we were swept by Cashmere 5-0. Both sides (boys and girls) are really taking the idea of getting better everyday to heart. I am excited to see what we will do in the league and district tournaments," Johanson said.

On April 28, the Kodiaks played at Quincy. The boys lost 5-0. The girls lost 4-1. On Thursday, the Kodiaks play the Wenatchee JV at Wenatchee. On Friday, they play Lincoln at Cashmere. On Saturday, they host Omak at Cashmere.

OBITUARY & MEMORIAL POLICIES

An obituary is a way for family member(s) to commemorate a loved one's life and to notify the larger community of the deceased. Obituaries are also used for historical and ancestral data. Memorials are another way of letting the community know about the life and memories of the person who has died. A Memorial is different from an obituary. An obituary is usually current while a memorial can be written later. Obituaries and memorials need to be typed and emailed no later than Friday by 4:00 p.m. to be placed in the next available issue(s). Please call for cost of an obituary and which NCW paper(s) that it will be placed in to. Cost of the obituary/memorial is due at the time of placement. Funeral homes and chapels can submit obituaries by Noon on Monday, unless a holiday. For information 509-548-5286. Or contact editor@leavenworthecho.com

Parkinson's Disease: No cure but treatment is progressing

SUBMITTED BY WILL YOUNG

April was national Parkinson's month. And April 11 was World Parkinson's day, being the birthday of Dr. J Parkinson, who first wrote about this neurological disease that affects over 10 million people worldwide, with 200,000 new cases diagnosed in the U.S. each year. Men are 1.5 times more affected than women. And onset occurs most frequently after age 60.

A 2010 Washington University study found most cases in the U.S. occur in the midwest and northeast, coinciding with agricultural and metal processing areas. Rates for our region are also noted to be higher than elsewhere in Washington, per the study, consistent with those eastern U.S. agricultural areas.

Parkinson's causes part of the midbrain to produce less dopamine, a neurotransmitter. Common effects include tremor, slower movements, quieter speech, stiffness, balance deficits, and "freezing" in place.

There is no cure, but treatments include taking dopamine, and/or meds to help the brain utilize the neurotransmitter more effectively.

Locally, we are fortunate to have a few resources. Leavenworth has a support group, the Leavenworth Parkies (on FB), that meets the second Tuesday of each month at Kristall's at noon.

Other treatments available locally focus on the speech and movement aspects, and have shown encouraging results in improving function. In battling Parkinson's, people often claim their "world feels smaller", as their movement and speech diminish. Approaches such as Rock Steady, and Big and Loud help to "recalibrate," so that their world grows again, as people relearn speaking and moving more normally.

Rock Steady is a gym-based program where participants perform boxing workouts and bouts, which assists with footwork, trunk mobility, and conditioning. Rich Pratt conducts workouts in Wenatchee at his facility.

(Disclaimer, the author is a certified Big therapist.)

Big and Loud is another, evidence-based, program, that focuses on specific exercises to increase speech volume and clarity (Loud), and gait, balance, and body movement (Big). Medicare covers treatments, which consists of 16 sessions in-clinic, and development of a home program to perpetuate gains. Our valley has nine certified BIG therapists, and four certified LOUD speech therapists, at multiple sites. Www.LSVTglobal.com has therapists listed on their website, and a referral from your neurologist or physician is the starting point to begin therapy.

Parkinson's is a life-changing condition, but research and treatment continues to progress. While there is no cure, people can take encouragement that there is help and support locally.

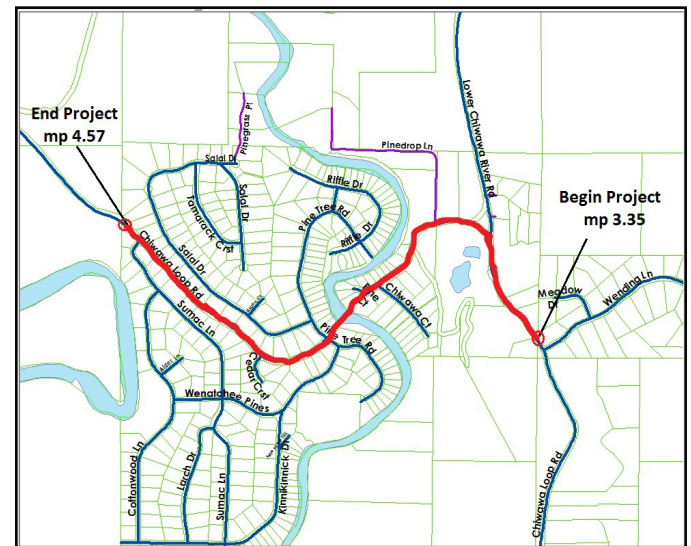

Chiwawa Loop Road Phase III project set to begin in June

SUBMITTED BY JILL FITZSIMMONS

Beginning in early June, construction begins on the Chiwawa Loop Road Phase III project, a 1.44-mile stretch along Chiwawa Loop Road from Wending Lane to Sumac Lane.

The project is expected to take about 85 working days, with construction completed in early October. The road will be down to one lane during the day, with flaggers and pilot cars controlling traffic at times. Motorists should plan for up to 20-minute delays at times. In mid-summer, a five-day road closure is expected as a crew installs a box culvert. More details about the detour will be available at the open house.

The project's primary purpose is to reconstruct the roadway from Wending Lane to Sumac Lane. The project will address a deteriorating pavement and roadway base by upgrading its structural integrity. In addition to a new roadway base and surfacing, this project will also widen the road from 22 feet to 30 feet, examine the need for drainage, replace or add guard-rail, construct a fish passable drainage structure, improve roadway geometrics and make improvements to the roadside and clear zone. The project is being paid for with a variety of grants and matching county dollars.

On Thursday, May 4, Chelan

County Public Works will host an informational open house for residents and other interested parties who want to learn about the project and ask questions of the design team. This will not be a presentation, so attendees are welcome to stop by Thousand Trails Resort (follow the "Public Meeting" signs) between 4 p.m. and 6 p.m.
