Chelan City Council awards wastewater treatment plant improvements to KRCI

McCardle, Ajax give update regarding TIA

By MATTHEW OCKINGA
CORRESPONDENT

CHELAN - In a June 27 meeting, the Chelan City Council discussed many issues involving areas of improvement to infrastructure and recreation around the city.

Among these items was the first phase of wastewater treatment plant improvements. In a unanimous vote, the Council awarded the project bid to KRCI, LLC. The East Wenatchee company offered the lowest bid for the improvements at $785,157, well below the $936,000 the city had budgeted for the endeavor. The construction project involves installing city-purchased mechanical and electrical equipment as well as purchasing minor mechanical plumbing items at the wastewater treatment plant. The next motion consideration was the City's agreement with Rain for Rent, an equipment rental agency based in Arlington. Travis Denham, City engineer for the Public Works Department, provided history on the matter. In fall of 2021, the Chelan authorized RH2 Engineering to conduct an analysis of the City's water system. The analysis demonstrated the need to install a third pump at Darnell's Booster Pump Station. The City expects the pump to be delivered in September and installed and commissioned by early October. Due to the waiting period and number of customers being served, the Public Works Department opted to have an emergency action plan especially since maximum flow demand typically occurs in late July.

This plan involved an agreement with Rain for Rent which rents trailer-mounted pumps throughout the United States. Chelan would rent the pump on layaway at a 50-percent rate while it waits for the third pump to be officially installed. In case of an emergency, Rain for Rent could deliver the pump from Arlington in about 12 hours. Denham did not anticipate borrowing the pump longer than needed. Renting the pump would cost approximately $33,000 if it's not needed and between $65,000 and $75,000 if it is needed during that time.

"The analogy that we've been using is, you can only roll the dice so many times before you lose the battle. We feel like we're really close," Denham said. "Obviously that [new] pump's going to be here in September or October, but this is just an insurance policy to get us through one more summer." All members of the Council voted for the motion.

The next topic was to finalize an agreement for the design of the Chelan Gorge Community Park. Paul Horne, Parks, Recreation and Community Services Director for

Erin McCardle

Chelan, mentioned Berger Partnership Professional Services and included two sample site master plans from other projects the firm had done. The motion for the agreement passed unanimously.

Horne continued to talk about the SCJ Alliance Professional Services Agreement for the Parks & Recreation System Master Plan Project. The agreement would provide a six-year project that would be GMA (Growth Management Act) compliant and satisfy RCO (Recreation and Conservation Office) compliance which allows the City to continue to be eligible from Grants at their providing. SCJ has a base in Wenatchee and Horne said the firm knows the Chelan area well. "We are hot to trot to finish this park's recreation system master plan," Horne said. "We'd like to get this passed while you're all on the board. Hopefully this can be a good legacy for this Council to set the direction for the parks system as we move forward." The motion passed unanimously.

Councilwoman Erin McCardle and Chelan Community Development Director John Ajax then gave an administrative update regarding the East Chelan Tax Increment Area (TIA). They mentioned that conversations took place with the junior tax districts. Two successful outreach meetings were held with Lake Chelan Health Hospital and Chelan Fire District 7. McCardle described the meetings as "collaborative" and mentioned that Fire Chief Brandon Asher said his department is good from a financial perspective.

"We clearly understand the mechanics of how the TIF works as far as no harm to the junior taxing districts," she said. While acknowledging the project as a main priority for the City, Councilman Tim Hollingsworth emphasized the importance of finding other revenue streams.

"I think the biggest way we can mitigate the financial impact on the junior districts is going to be by finding other sources besides our property tax revenue, however it is collected and so I want to urge that we not put all our eggs in this basket," he said. "I think that's part of the concern of the junior districts that it's just the scale of the project and the amount of property tax revenue that's being consumed by it."

Lake Chelan Community Center kicks off building blocks campaign to raise $250,000 in 90 days

Local community invited to be part of building crucial elements of the Community Center

SUBMITTED BY LAKE CHELAN COMMUNITY CENTER

CHELAN - "I'm so proud of our community. I always felt their support growing up here. There will be a lot of lives that are going to be impacted. All ages. All demographics. We're planning and preparing to be a place for everyone."

These are the words of Brooke Isaak, vice-president of the Seven Acres Foundation Board and Marketing Committee Chair, responsible for sharing the story and enlisting support for the all-new 46,000-square-foot Lake Chelan Community Center. Isaak grew up in Manson and understands how people unite to support a community endeavor. "It can be so powerful," said Isaak. "Each person is important. We're all like individual building blocks that, when connected, create something bigger and more rewarding than any of us can be or do alone."

Initially conceived in 2018, The Community Center project moved slowly during the land acquisition and preparation stages. Pandemic and supply chain issues challenged progress from 2019 thru 2021. But work continued, and contributors put more and more building blocks methodically into place. The city of Chelan building permit was issued in January of 2022, and for the last 18 months, step-by-step, the building has quickly emerged. Anyone traveling between Chelan and Manson on Highway 150 can't help but notice the progress.

Phase one of the project, constructed in three phases, is more than 68% complete. And thanks to grants, foundations, and generous contributions from people with a heart for the Lake Chelan community, phase one has been fully funded. According to Isaak, "it's time to rally together and add even more building blocks in the form of local donors."

Phase two funding will provide the necessary furnishings, and finish the gymnasium, parking lot, and landscaping. Phase one and two combined are now 83% funded and 53% complete. Isaak is asking community members to choose the way that's best for them to support the next development phase. A favorite for many people is an engravable stone paver beginning at $250.

Board member Kyle Plew -

a native of Chelan - expressed the outreach for support this way. "Everyone should have an opportunity to participate in, and benefit from, the resources of our valley. No matter what, I'd definitely invite people to be part of that."

MANSON - Nineteen members from our community, including 10 members of the Manson Grange attended a "Digital Navigator" training session on June 12 at the Manson Grange Hall. The Digital Navigator Program is a project of the Department of Commerce's Washington State Broadband Office, our session was facilitated by the Community Health Plan of Washington. Digital Navigators are trusted guides who assist community members to understand the internet, locate affordable internet service and help with the use of computing devices. Digital Navigators can help people navigate the internet, sign up for the Affordable Connectivity Program (federal low-income internet assistance), and connect with government and community services that help people acquire digital literacy skills, and more.

million households in the U.S. do not have broadband infrastructure, such as high-speed fiber internet cables in the neighborhood. In Washington State, 12% of the households do not own a smartphone. In Chelan County 6.7% of households do not have a computer and 13.9% are without broadband internet.

Jerry Perez stated, "Our training team started developing the training in December 2022 and our first test run of the training was in February 2023 and a second test March 2023. Training available to the public didn't begin until May 2023 with the bulk scheduled for the month of June. So far, we have trained about 40 people and we are on track to train about 140 before June 30."

Skills required to be a Digital Navigator include, comfortable with technology, have a desire to learn and teach technology, willingness to communicate across cultures and age ranges, the ability to build trust, patient, compassionate and supportive and be approachable.

Manon Grange Secretary, Christine Olson said, "Besides the resources we received during our training, one of the highlights of the day was learning more about the 19 community members who came to the training. These people have diverse backgrounds and they are passionate about helping our community with their technology needs."

The goal of the training was to inform the group about the digital divide in North Central Washington and give attendees resources to assist community members in obtaining affordable internet and cell service. The Grange is hoping to offer open tech nights once or twice a month. The tech night would either have an area of focus or be open to help community members with a variety of tech needs including email or MyChart setup, Smart phone help, or connecting people with the Link to Care Hotline - <https://www.linktocarewa.org/> for accessing affordable internet and cell service.

The group used a workbook and participated in several exercises, individually and as teams. We were made aware of the "digital divide", a term signifying the gulf between those who have ready access to computers and the internet, and those who do not. Over seven million (5.7%) of the 124

Driver seriously injured in semi truck rollover

On June 30 at 2:45 p.m. an auto accident was reported in Orondo two miles up McNeil Canyon Road. On arrival firefighters found a semi and trailer through the guardrail and over a steep embankment. Both the semi tractor and trailer were ripped apart with a load of apples spilling down the canyon. The driver of the semi was extricated from the vehicle and transported to Lake Chelan Health with serious injuries. Fire units on scene secured the vehicle that had an environmental spill and arching electrical components. McNeil Canyon Road was closed for a short time and was also closed at a later time when the semi and trailer were pulled from the canyon. Eleven Emergency Responders were on scene from Orondo Fire, Lake Chelan Health EMS and Douglas County Sheriff's Office. The sheriff is investigating the cause of the accident. The North Cascades is Bear Country!

Did you know: Interior grizzly bears eat more than 100 plant species and get about 80% of their calories from plants and insects.

Tips for recreating in bear country: Avoid bringing food, drinks, or strong-smelling non-food items (e.g. perfumes) into your tent! Always keep these items in plastic sealable bags and store them in a bear safe container or hanging sacks or packs away from your campsite.

Rotary raises over $35,000 with CycleChelan

Courtesy Lake Chelan Rotary/CycleChelan

Lake Chelan Rotary held their CycleChelan 2023 on Saturday, June 24, and it had a route for every one of the 550 registered for the event. Riders started from Chelan PUD River Park, on Farham Street, near the Dan Gordon Bridge, with the following rides: Metric Century Challenge, the 45 mile Lake Loop or the 30 mile Cycle di Vino, all with ferry rides across Lake Chelan, or the 38 mile Butte Blast gravel ride. E-bikes were welcomed. All but approximately 25 experienced a pontoon ferry ride across the lake from one of the seven boats provided and skipped by volunteers. There were over 85 volunteers working hard to assure all riders had a fantastic riding experience. While most volunteers were Rotarians, community members helped out as well. They were successful in raising over $35,000 and had over 20 sponsors this year from major sponsorships to in-kind support of the event. This is Lake Chelan Rotary Club's big fundraiser of the year with proceeds supporting their charitable projects including scholarships, community improvements, youth programs and more. THE WASHINGTON OUTDOOR REPORT

Outdoors roundup

By JOHN KRUSE

Summer Chinook Season Curtailed

The Oregon and Washington Department of Fish and Wildlife announced fishing for adult summer chinook from the mouth of the Columbia River to Priest Rapids Dam was closed on July 1. The reason why? It's because the run is tracking significantly below pre-season expectations. As of June 28, only 52, 572 adult summer Chinook salmon had crossed Bonneville Dam. That's about 12,000 fish less than last year's run at this time and 6500 fish less than the ten-year average.

However, fishing for sockeye salmon, hatchery steelhead and jack chinook salmon remains open from the Astoria-Megler Bridge upstream to the Hwy 395 Bridge in Pasco. The daily adult bag limit is two adult salmonids (only one may be a hatchery steelhead) and five hatchery jack salmon. All sockeye salmon are considered adults. The fall Chinook run on this portion of the Columbia River is still scheduled to open on August 1.

The Wenatchee Salmon Derby

The 10th annual Pete Flohr Memorial Wenatchee Salmon Derby takes place on the Columbia River between Rock Island Dam and Wells Dam on July 14 and 15. There will be over $7500 in cash and prizes given away this year to include a cash prize for the biggest salmon weighed in and for the team who weighs in the heaviest limit of salmon on their boat. There is a mandatory skippers meeting at 6 p.m. on July 13 at the Eagles Aerie in Wenatchee. Weigh-ins will take place both derby days at Beebe Bridge State Park and at Hooked on Toys in Wenatchee. The awards ceremony will commence on Saturday July 15 at 5 p.m. at the Wenatchee Eagles Aerie. Proceeds from the event benefit the Washington state chapter of the Coastal Conservation Association. Tickets are available online at

A reminder - No Fireworks on Public Lands

Fireworks are illegal to use in many places east of the Cascade mountains due to high fire danger and that includes public lands throughout the state such as state parks, national parks, U.S. Forest Service lands as well as property managed by the Bureau of Land Management in both Washington and Oregon. With wildfires already starting in several locations in Chelan, Douglas, and Grant Counties, fireworks bans can help reduce the risk of additional fires starting at this time of year.

Music at Lake Wenatchee State Park

Lake Wenatchee State Park will come alive with the sound of music this summer. Washington State Parks announced the 2nd Annual Mountain Melodies concert series has been scheduled at Lake Wenatchee State Park's South Park amphitheater.

This year, the concerts will feature music from Eastern Europe, Norway, Mexico and rural America. All of the concerts take place between 8 and 9 p.m. on Saturday evenings in July and August. Here is the concert lineup:

July 15: Radost Ensemble and Dunava (Balkan, Klezmer, Eastern European music, and dance)

July 29: The Eclectic Cloggers (Old-time, bluegrass, Appalachian music, and clogging)

Aug. 12: Leikarringen (Norwegian folk music and dance)

Aug. 26: Mount Vernon School District Mariachi & Folklórico (More than 100 students from Mount Vernon High School's outstanding

Check out an outdoors adventure at your local library

Washington State Parks, along with several other state government agencies, are partnering with several non-profit foundations and the Washington State Employees Credit Union (WSECU) to expand its Check Out Washington Program by providing 500 adventure packs to libraries across the state for individuals to check out much as they would a library book.

Each adventure pack contains a Discover Pass, which provides families with free parking at public lands managed by Parks, Washington Department of Natural Resources and Washington Department of Fish and Wildlife. They also feature educational materials, a set of three laminated pocket guides about

SUBMITTED BY SHERRY FISK, LAKE CHELAN LADIES GOLF CLUB TEE TIME

June 29

CHELAN - The fans and cooling towels came out last Thursday as the temperature got toasty. Twenty ladies played a fun team competition called Foursome Competition where they combined all four-some scores in both gross and net. The winners were:

Low Gross: Linda Reister, Stacy Bjarnason, MaryJo Duruz and Carol Giffin, 419.

Low Net: Barb Rayburn, Elona Teague, Judy Johanson and Jane Storms, 311.

Hole 18 was our KP hole of the day and Carla Bailey was closest at 3'11" and also made the putt for a birdie. Carol Giffin also made a birdie on hole 18. The lone chip-in girl was Joni Dedo on hole 8.

Our AVWGA team traveled to Three Lakes to compete against Yakima Elks on June 20th. Although defeated that day, they are 4th overall and play Leavenworth in July.

This week will be Monthly Medal (low gross and net by division and fewest putts). Please note that our tee time changes to 8 a.m.; please check in by 7:30 a.m.

You could have seen the movie The Sting, starring Paul Newman and Robert Redford. Its soundtrack introduced ragtime music, showcasing Scott Joplin's musical genius. 1974 the Food and Drug Administration approved ibuprofen as a prescription medicine to treat mild to moderate pain and inflammation.

Acetaminophen eases headaches and fever, but ibuprofen is more effective for muscle aches and inflammation. In 1974, doctors could prescribe ibuprofen instead of aspirin for muscle aches, arthritis pain and swelling, and menstrual cramps.

Aspirin and ibuprofen are non-steroidal anti-inflammatory medications or NSAIDs. Ibuprofen is less irritating to the stomach than aspirin, which gives better pain relief and fewer side effects.

One decade later, facing the expiration of its patent, ibuprofen's manufacturer applied to the FDA for approval to sell it without a prescription. In addition to the 400mg, 600mg, and 800mg tablets of prescription-only Motrin®, in 1984, the FDA approved ibuprofen as Motrin-IB® 200mg tablets, available over the counter (OTC).

Years later, naproxen followed the same path: first as a prescription-only anti-inflammatory, then approved for OTC use as Aleve®. The main options for pain relief by mouth without a prescription today include aspirin, acetaminophen, ibuprofen, and naproxen.

Where were you in 1974?

interfere with maintaining the protective gel layer that lines your stomach, protecting it from the acids you secrete to digest your food. Taking ibuprofen or naproxen erodes the gel lining of your stomach, making it thinner, which puts you at risk for stomach pain or bleeding.

When taken at the beginning of menstrual flow, just one dose of ibuprofen or naproxen can head off debilitating abdominal cramps. One dose of an NSAID right before a tooth extraction can avoid suffering from swollen "chipmunk cheeks" afterward.

Do you make frequent trips to the bathroom at night? One intriguing side effect of NSAIDs is reducing the frequency of urination. You only need a small dose: one 200mg ibuprofen tablet or Advil® Dual Action tablet at bedtime is enough to make a difference.

Here are 5 Tips to Help Keep Yourself Safe When Taking NSAIDs:

- 1. Keep yourself hydrated. Even young, healthy people can suffer severe kidney damage if they become dehydrated while taking an NSAID medicine. NSAIDs interfere with your body's safety net for your kidneys when you get low on fluid.
- 2. Ask your doctor first. Most people can take low doses of ibuprofen or naproxen without harm. However, NSAIDs can aggravate and accelerate kidney problems. If you have diabetes, take Tylenol® (acetaminophen) for aches and pains instead of an NSAID, and consult your doctor before taking ibuprofen or naproxen.

3. Protect your heart. If you have congestive heart failure, also called CHF, avoid taking any medicine that includes an NSAID. By causing sodium and water retention, ibuprofen and naproxen counteract the beneficial effects of water pills that help to keep fluid out of your lungs and reduce swelling in your hands and feet.

4. Watch your blood pressure. NSAIDs often cause your blood pressure to rise. They can interfere with how medicines keep your blood pressure in a normal range.

5. Don't double up. It's surprisingly easy to take two NSAIDs at the same time. That's because the prescription strengths have different brand names than the OTC versions of the same medicines. Not realizing that you are taking two drugs with the same ingredient puts you at risk for overdose and side effects like stomach pain, bleeding, kidney and heart problems.

Outdoor power equipment helps weather a storm or power outage

Be prepared and keep safety in mind, says the Outdoor Power Equipment Institute

SUBMITTED BY DEBBI MAYSTER

Summer storm season is nearly here, but having the right outdoor power equipment on hand year-round is important, says the Outdoor Power Equipment Institute (OPEI), which advises home and business owners to think ahead before foul weather or a power outage disrupts life. "It's important to be prepared year-round given any season can be storm season. We see more people investing in portable and whole house generators and having other outdoor power equipment on hand such as chainsaws and water pumps to mitigate any damage from felled trees and water damage and floods," says Kris Kiser, President & CEO of OPEI, an international trade association representing manufacturers and suppliers of outdoor power equipment, small engines, battery power systems, portable generators, utility and personal transport vehicles, and golf cars. He notes that outdoor power equipment is becoming faster, lighter, more efficient, and more technologically advanced. "There's a power source for every need

- 1 Plan ahead by making sure you have the equipment you need and it's in good working order
- 2 Always keep the right fuel on hand and check that batteries are charged
- 3 Get everything set by having safety gear at hand and ready to go

- 4 Use safety precautions—keep a firm footing and ALWAYS use two hands on equipment
- 5 Only use portable generators outside and make sure there's plenty of ventilation
- 6 Drive utility vehicles (UTVs) slowly, never on steep grades, slopes, hills, or through standing water

SUBMITTED GRAPHIC: Storm Preparedness infographic

including battery/electric, propane, solar and gasoline," he says, noting each has different maintenance and care requirements. "Always read and follow the manufacturer's manual." To get ready for inclement weather, homeowners should identify which equipment is needed. Chainsaws or pole saws can trim limbs and shrubs ahead of a storm and handle clearing. String trimmers, pruners and chainsaws can also remove combustible material from around your home, making it less vulnerable to wildfires. A portable generator will power key appliances and charge cell phones when utilities go down. Before an outage, plan where the generator will be set up (never in a home or garage, and always away from your home and any air intake) and determine how to secure it if needed. Buy and install a carbon monoxide detector, too. Get outdoor-rated extension cords for portable generators and consider adding an approved cover to your generator for rainy weather. A whole house generator can keep the lights and appliances on and running. Water pumps can help get water and muck out of basements and homes. Be sure you know how to operate the pump. Never pump substances that your equipment is not designed to cope with. Pay attention to avoid overheating and follow all safety precautions. A utility type vehicle can transport people and supplies quickly in an emergency. Keep the vehicle stable and drive slowly. Do not turn mid-slope or while on a hill. Consider taking a safety course. Always read the directions provided by outdoor power equipment manufacturers and be sure to follow all manufacturer's safety and usage recommendations before you need it, not waiting until an emergency. Practice how to operate equipment. Save a digital copy of the owner's manual on your computer if possible, so it can easily be consulted in the future. Make sure to have the right fuel on hand and charge batteries ahead of an outage. Gasoline-powered equipment uses E10 or less fuel and most manufacturers recommend adding a fuel stabilizer. Fuel that is more than 30 days old may phase separate and cause running problems, so it's important to purchase fuel just ahead of a storm. Store fuel safely and only use an approved fuel container. One of the most important things operators can do for safety is to pay attention to energy levels and health. Preparation for bad weather, a power outage and storm cleanup can be taxing on the body and the spirit. Do not operate power equipment when tired or overly fatigued. Drink plenty of water and take regular breaks. Always use safety equipment like chaps, gloves, eye protection or hearing protection.

On October 3, 1931, Clyde Pangborn and Hugh Herndon left Sabishiro Beach in Misawa, Japan, to fly Miss Veedol across the ocean in the first non-stop, transPacific flight. After 41 hours in the air, Miss Veedol crash landed on the bluffs above East Wenatchee. The Wenatchee Valley has been connected to Misawa and the aviation world ever since and Pangborn's Festival of Flight was created to celebrate this historic event.

Washington State Health Care Authority releases first month of Apple Health (Medicaid) renewal data and urges Washingtonians to update their information

SUBMITTED BY WASHINGTON STATE HEALTH CARE AUTHORITY

OLYMPIA - The Washington State Health Care Authority (HCA), in partnership with the Washington Health Benefit Exchange (Exchange) and the Department of Social and Health Services (DSHS), released initial data from May 2023, the first month of Apple Health (Medicaid) renewals.

During the COVID-19 pandemic, Apple Health clients did not need to provide renewal information to maintain their health care coverage. With the ending of the public health emergency, federal law requires states to resume eligibility verification over the next year.

More than 2.3 million Washington State residents are covered by Apple Health. The state is engaging in extensive outreach efforts to make sure Apple Health clients update their eligibility information to avoid losing coverage they might still be eligible for.

"Our goal is that every Washingtonian who is eligible for Apple Health stays on Apple Health," said Sue Birch, HCA executive director. "We urge people to make sure their information is up to date. If you have a friend or family member on Apple Health, please encourage them to reach out to us and update their information."

After extensive outreach, in the month of May, HCA conducted eligibility reviews for 230,000 clients.

- HCA automatically renewed coverage for about half of those clients using available information from DSHS programs like the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP) and cash assistance programs, employment and income data, and other available data sources.

- HCA, the Exchange, DSHS, managed care organizations, providers, and many other community partners have actively assisted clients through multiple outreach opportunities to help people to update their information and maintain Apple Health coverage.
- Roughly 116,000 people, representing approximately 5 percent of the overall Apple Health covered population, were disenrolled from coverage due to various reasons: About 83,000 people were disenrolled after automatic eligibility checks were completed and the person did not respond to multiple requests to update their information. Clients are given at least 45 days to complete a renewal. This is a large initial proportion, but it is consistent with expectations. Disenrollment numbers are expected to decrease over the next 12 months, likely meaning that many people who needed Apple Health during the pandemic have regained employer-sponsored insurance or found coverage through Washington Healthplanfinder or now qualified for Medicare.

If an Apple Health client's coverage is terminated for not renewing, they have a 90-day reconsideration period, which allows them to reenroll and return to coverage. If they are determined eligible for Apple Health, their coverage will be reinstated back to the day they were disenrolled, leading to no gap in coverage. Clients who miss their 90-day reconsideration period can still reapply for coverage at any time.

HCA and the Exchange will work with clients who are no longer eligible for Apple Health to ensure they are provided information on how to enroll for other affordable coverage options through the Washington Healthplanfinder. If they are over 65, they will receive information about applying for programs that help pay for Medicare.

HCA, DSHS, and the Exchange are taking proactive steps to ensure eligible individuals are not terminated from coverage due to procedural reasons, including:

- Spreading renewals out over 12 months, which provides time to run a smooth process and prevent systems from getting backlogged. This reduces burden not only on individuals and families, but also on state eligibility systems. Taking the time to do the process correctly will ensure those eligible for continued coverage do not experience a gap in care and those no longer eligible can transition to other sources of coverage.

- Partnering with managed care plans and using data available from the United States Postal Service to update people's contact information so that they receive the renewal forms.

- Enhanced outreach using text messages, phone calls, social media, radio and TV ads to clients who have not completed a renewal prior to coverage termination.

- HCA's volunteer ambassador program was launched within communities to help people stay informed on renewal processes. This adds to a robust network of Washington Healthplanfinder's navigators and brokers who assist people across the state in obtaining and maintaining coverage.

- Maximizing the use of data sources, such as income information from the Employment Security Department, and renewing individuals based on their eligibility for other programs, such as SNAP and Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF). This helps reduce the need for some individuals to fill out and return a renewal form.

"We want to ensure all Washingtonians stay covered, whether it is a new qualified health plan, Apple Health, or employer sponsored," said Ingrid Ulrey, CEO at Washington Health Benefit Exchange powering Washington Healthplanfinder. "For those who are now above income eligibility, they will have the opportunity to enroll in high-value, low-cost Cascade Care plans, now available for as low as $10 or less per month."

Apple Health clients and Washington Healthplanfinder customers are encouraged to update their contact information to ensure they receive their renewal notice over the next year to maintain their health coverage. Enrollment data will be published monthly at www.hca.wa.gov/phe.

Newhouse stops Biden Administration from banning gas stoves

SUBMITTED BY MIKE MARINELLA, OFFICE OF REP. DAN NEWHOUSE

WASHINGTON, D.C. - Rep. Dan Newhouse (R-WA) introduced an amendment to the Energy and Water Development Appropriations bill on June 22, that will prohibit funds for the Department of Energy (DOE) to finalize, implement, or enforce an energy standard on gas stoves. The amendment was adopted by voice vote.

"Chairman Fleischmann and Ranking Member Kaptur, I rise today in support of my amendment to the Energy and Water Appropriations bill."

"This amendment would prohibit the Department of Energy from implementing a February 2023 proposed rule which would require, for the first time ever, an energy performance standard for residential cooktops."

"If this draconian rule were carried out, it would eliminate anywhere between 50-95% of today's gas appliances. This is unacceptable given the serious negative impacts it could have on American households, restaurants, and communities across Central Washington and rural America. Gas appliances are at the center of American households. They power our stoves, furnaces, water heaters, and fireplaces. Approximately 187 million Americans use natural gas because it is affordable, reliable, and safe. It is time for the federal government to stop overregulating our lives and focus on creating solutions that will actually benefit the American people and our energy future. I respectfully urge my colleagues on both sides of the aisle to vote in support of my amendment. I yield back." -Rep. Newhouse

The Contract
Unveiling the healing power of forgiveness
A novel by local writer William E. Forhan.

Nobel Prize winning author Gabriel Garcia Márquez was quoted as saying, "All human beings have three lives, public, private and secret."
In our modern world of the Internet search engines and DNA testing, keeping our private and secret lives separate is increasingly difficult. Sometimes they can come crashing in on our public lives when we least expect it.
Father Robert McCarthy is a middle-aged priest who is suddenly and unexpectedly confronted with his secret past. How he deals with the revelation of that past with his family, his congregation and the impacts of that secret life is inspirational. How McCarthy discloses the news of his college indiscretion requires him to take everyone involved on a journey of confession. That journey forces him to deal with issues of homosexuality, judgmentalism, divorce and pride.
His pastoring skills and the depth of support from his wife help him bring forgiveness and restoration to many broken relationships.
The bonds of three families are ultimately restored through celebrations of life experiences including fishing, holiday gatherings, the discovery of unknown family connections and a wedding.
