State Legislature approves capital budget with $1.7 earmarked for The Community Center at Lake Chelan

Rep. Mike Steele plays key role in support funding

SUBMITTED BY THE COMMUNITY CENTER AT LAKE CHELAN

CHELAN - Mike Steele (12th District Representative and ranking member of the Capital Budget Committee) announced the inclusion of $1.723 million to support the continuing construction of The Community Center at Lake Chelan.

The funds will be available to the Seven Acres Foundation – nonprofit developers of the 46,000 square foot facility – in Rep. Mike the com-Steele ing months. They will ensure sustained momentum toward the anticipated opening of the center this fall.

"Thanks to Ben Williams Representative Mike Steele, this grant will enable 100% funding and construction to occupancy of the first phase of the Community Center at Lake Chelan, the core of this project. In addition, the grant will serve as a springboard for the completion of the rest of the project, so this funding is essential to our vision of bringing people together to enhance the quality of life in the Chelan Valley." Fundraising to complete the center continues, focusing on gym finishes, parking lot, and landscaping. The Community Center at Lake Chelan sits on a six-acre campus at 103 Big Horn Way between Chelan and Manson. Amenities and services within the facilities will include a fullsize gym/auditorium, indoor children's play area, meeting and event rooms, workspace center, coffee shop, commercial kitchen, and office spaces, which will be affordable and targeted to nonprofits, start-ups, and local businesses. The campus includes outdoor courts, an event lawn, and a 25-yard multi-lane swimming pool that provides the opportunity for aquatic therapy, fitness, and swimming lessons in the safety of a swimming pool.

Representative Steele said, "I am excited to provide additional funding for the Community Center at Lake Chelan. I want to see this project continue to progress, and I look forward to the community asset it will become' changes in river flow can create hazardous conditions

SUBMITTED BY RACHEL HANSEN, CHELAN COUNTY PUD

CHELAN - Spring runoff has begun as temperatures rise into the 80s this weekend. If you're headed to enjoy local waterways, remember to check river and lake conditions often, and abide by the "no trespassing" signs along Chelan River Gorge.

Snowpack in the Lake Chelan Basin is about 81 percent of average, according to Chelan PUD's April 1 water supply forecast. Forecasts estimate about 18 feet of refill water remains in the snowpack, and there is about 7 feet of room in the lake. Any excess water will run through Lake Chelan Hydro Project for power generation or spilled into the Chelan River.

Chelan River Gorge is a narrow, rocky channel where changes in river flow can create hazardous conditions quickly and unpredictably, including higher water levels, fast currents, and potential entrapment. The area is marked with dozens of "no trespassing" signs.

Other safety reminders:

• Download the Current app free at chelanpud.org/app for the latest river and lake conditions, including Lake Chelan levels, boat launch water depth and real-time water flow.

• If you're out on the Columbia River, check boating conditions every 20-30 minutes as conditions may change quickly.

· When boating, look out for logs and other debris. Remember to stay at least 400 feet away from dams on the river.

· Be aware of your surroundings. The water is cold and swift this time of year. Don't wade out to sandbars as changing river conditions could leave you stranded.

For emergencies on the river or Lake Chelan, call 911.

OBITUARIES

Loren Glessner

Loren Glessner, 95, passed away on Friday, April 21, 2023, in Chelan, Washington, from heart failure. He was born on July 1, 1927, in Lakeside, Washington, to Cecil and Gladys Glessner, the second of four children.

He attended Mansfield grade school and high school. When he finished school, he entered the U.S. Army and was sent to Fort Lewis and then later, to Camp Stoneman in California. From there, he was sent to Camp Hillenmeyer in Kunsan, Korea on January 4, 1947. Loren spent a little more than 13 months in Korea and then, arrived back in the United States on March 4, 1948. He was discharged from the U.S. Army on March 22, 1948. Then, on June 10, 1950, he married Diane Strumski in Mansfield, Washington.

Upon returning home to Mansfield, he started farming with his father on the family farm. In 1977 when his father passed, he took over the family farm and worked it until he retired, in 1995.

Loren will be remembered as a good athlete and was invited to join the Eastern Washington State College basketball team, until he enlisted in the U.S. Army. He spent many evenings playing town team basketball in the winter and in the summer, spent a lot of time playing town team baseball. They traveled all over the states and into Canada for tournaments.

He and his lifelong friend, Darel Branscom, coached our Little League baseball team during the summer. They spent a lot of hours after work helping us learn and better our baseball skills. In our later years through Babe Ruth and American Legion, then some college baseball, he was always there to root us on. Thank you for being there.

In his later years, after retiring, he became an avid golfer and had a regular group he played with three times a week. He enjoyed his golf buddies: Gary, Keven, Ron, Doug, Hal, Ron, and Darel. Thank you for letting him join you for those years of golf. Among several of his golf trips, he was thrilled to get to play Pebble Beach.

> Some highlights of Loren's life were family vacations to Banff, Yellowstone, Ocean Shores, and Disneyland. On a trip to California, we got to watch the Yankees play Oakland and see Mickey Mantle hit one of his final home runs. We traveled often to Spokane, Washington, to watch the Spokane Indians minor league baseball team. We got to watch the Los Angeles Dodgers play there.

Diane and Loren were able to travel to Pennsylvania and see one of his Army buddies, Andy Lelik. They also got to travel to Omaha, Nebraska and watch the 50th anniversary of the NCAA College Baseball World Series, in 1996. Most of all, Loren was happiest being home with Diane in Mansfield.

Loren was preceded in death by his parents; wife; three sisters; and son, Randy Glessner. He is survived by daughter, Debbie Wilson (Bob, deceased); son, Kerry Glessner (Resa); along with six grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

Precht Rose Chapel, Chelan, Washington, is assisting the family with arrangments. Please leave your thoughts and memories at www.prechtrose.com. The family is planning on having a Celebration of Life for both Loren and Diane in mid September.

May 11 - CTL Tourney QUINCY - The CTL converged on Quincy on Thursday for day one of the CTL Championships, which is the initial layer of our postseason. Conditions were difficult, as the heat made fatigue and muscle cramps a factor for many athletes. Effort and focus was high today, so the Goats had one of their strongest tennis days of the season, and set themselves up for some outstanding potential success in Saturday's (May 13) conclusion.

bve, won her quarterfinal over Freya Dronen of Cashmere 6-0 6-1, and won her semifinal 6-0, 6-0 over Ashlyn Reichert of Cashmere. That puts Arden in the championship match on Saturday vs. Faith Kert of (you guessed it) Cashmere. Candice Ducrocq had a strong performance today as well, winning her opener 6-4, 6-0 over Kiana Lopez of Omak. Candice lost her quarterfinal to the aforementioned Kert, and then lost a heartbreaker to #4 seed Sophia Navarro of Quincy 7-6, 5-7, 4-6.

The Chelan girls doubles teams had quite a showing, with all three Chelan teams pushing through to the semifinals. That meant three of the four semi finalists were Lady Goats. First, #2 seed

Liv Strandberg and Caelan Rothlisberger had a 1st round bye, won their quarterfinal over Hansch/Seidensticker of Cashmere 6-4, 6-0, and won their semifinal over teammates Josie Garfoot and Ellie McLemore 6-3, 6-2. They'll play against Richter/Sackman of Omak in the championship match on Saturday, May 13. In that same half of the bracket, Chelan's Garfoot and McLemore defeated Reichlin/ Benson of Cascade 6-2, 6-1 and knocked off the #3 seeds from Cashmere (Young/Westlund) 6-3, 7-6 before falling to Strandberg/Rothlisberger in the semifinal. Ellie and Josie are still alive to place as high as third on Saturday, May 13. On the other half of the bracket, Piper Grossberg and Maya Cowan won their opener 6-0, 6-2 over Eschen/ Baker of Cascade, and won their quarterfinal 6-1, 6-1 over Sheffield/Jenkins of Cascade. Unfortunately Piper and Maya came up short against #1 seeds Richter/Sackman of Omak in the semifinal. However, Piper and Maya can still place as high as second with a strong showing on Saturday, May 13.

In boys singles, #1 seed Rylen Moody had a first round bye, and won his quarterfinal over Cashmere's Zeke Lewis 6-3. 6-2. He'll face Noah Rose of Omak in the semifinals on Saturday. Cray Silva won his opener 6-1, 6-3 over Troy Oliver of Omak, and had a near upset over #2 seed JJ Groner of Cashmere in three sets in the quarterfinal. Cray is still alive in the tournament, and can still place as high as third overall on Saturday (May 13). Ian Garfoot came up just short on Thursday, losing his opening round loser-out match to Quincy in three sets.

In boys doubles, #4 seeds Luke Christopherson and Sam Bordner were firing on all cylinders with a 6-0, 6-0 win over Guerin/Lewis of Cashmere.

That places them in the semifinals on Saturday (May 13) vs. the #1 seed from Omak. Also, the young doubles team of Tristan and Wade Sanderson also almost pulled off an upset of the #2 seed, losing a nailbiter to Quincy 5-7, 4-6. The Sandersons can still place as high as third on Saturday (May 13).

The Goats were also awarded their regular season league title trophies on May 11.

Next up: CTL Championships, Day Two, beginning at 10am on Saturday in Quincy

In girls singles, #2 seed

THE WASHINGTON OUTDOOR REPORT

Tournament bass fishing

BY JOHN KRUSE, THE WASHINGTON OUTDOOR REPORT

Reservoir this month. Both events were hosted by MarDon Resort and put on by Russ Baker, the man behind Limit Out Performance Marine, a boat dealership specializing in bass boats with locations in Pacific and Spokane Valley. The first event was a two-day Pro-Am tournament that attracted 94 boats, each with a professional angler (the boat owner) and an amateur angler (who fished from the back of the boat). This tournament attracted not only local anglers big names like Luke Clausen, a former Bassmaster Classic champion and current Major League Fishing tournament angler.

I was excited to fish this tournament as an amateur

I got the chance to fish two bass tournaments at Potholes but also anglers from Idaho and Oregon to include some pretty angler. Of course, I wanted to cash a check but the main reason I wanted to fish this tournament was to learn from professional anglers who were more experienced than I was and to get dialed in for the Big Bass tournament taking place immediately after this event.

On day one I was paired with Ray Drinkwine, a relatively new but avid angler who went all in on the sport six years ago. We headed up the Winchester Arm to look for bass and found a good amount of the field had done the same thing. I caught one small bass on a topwater plug in the first five minutes but didn't catch another fish all day. Ray got into some two-to-threepound largemouth bass in flooded timber, boating two fish and losing another before the bite petered out. With no bites in over an hour we decided to head south towards O'Sullivan Dam to fill out our five fish limit with smallmouth bass. Arriving there, Ray quickly caught one but that was all we caught and we spent the next three hours trying in vain to hook up with other fish in this area. Weighing in at the end of the day, we only had a bag of 5.8 pounds with our three bass which put us in second to last place.

The next morning, I was paired with Jeremy LeCaire from Coeur de' Alene, Idaho. Jeremv had a good first day, weighing in over 16 pounds of largemouth bass and he had a pretty good second day as well, catching twelve quality fish while I reeled in a half dozen smaller bass. LeCaire caught a couple of bass casting a weedless frog in the morning but the bulk of his fish were caught using a "wacky worm" rigged Senko. LeCaire taught me to cast from a distance (as opposed to close in) to avoid spooking the bass that were on spawning beds and to look for the bass not only on the flooded timber, but also on submerged sand dunes with exposed willow trees rising above the surface. LeCaire weighed in a limit of five bass weighing 15.3 pounds at the end of the day, putting him just below the cut for a check at the end of the two-day tournament. As for the winners of this event? That would be Luke Clausen on the pro side who weighed in a twoday bag of 40 pounds, earning him a new Phoenix bass boat valued at over $45,000.

The top amateur angler was Abel Gomez from Othello, who took home a $5,000 pay check. Russ Baker with Limit Out Marine was very happy with how this tournament turned out. It is exceedingly rare to have a Pro-Am tournament here in the Pacific Northwest but it was truly a quality event that Russ plans to bring back next year on May 1 and 2. You can find out more about this tournament and others he puts on at www. bigbasstrail.com.

Next week, we'll let you know how my friend Rusty Johnston and I did in the Big Bass tournament, why I love this particular format so much, and why I believe it is much better for the overall bass fishery at any lake you fish at.

Calcium does a lot more than just keeping our bones strong

Q: How much calcium should I take to prevent osteoporosis (thin bones)?

Several years ago, after stepping out of her front door, my 75-year-old neighbor Barbara turned around and, after losing her balance, fell down a flight of stairs, shattering her left ankle and breaking her right arm in 3 places. Barbara then endured 2 surgeries, one to reinforce her arm with a steel rod and pins and a second, grueling 5-hour marathon during which the surgeon collected and fit the multiple pieces of her ankle back together.

She had been taking prednisone daily to control her lupus, a painful inflammatory condition. After her emergency surgery, her doctor informed her she had osteoporosis, or "thin bones," and prescribed a bone-building medicine, plus a daily calcium and vitamin D supplement.

Calcium does a lot more for us than just keeping our bones strong. Our muscles, nerves, and blood vessels depend on calcium to work properly. For example, every time your heart beats or you breathe, your heart and chest muscles work for you, keeping you alive and well thanks to adequate amounts of calcium in your blood.

If you run low on calcium in your blood, your body will take the calcium it needs out of your bones. It's like an ATM (automated teller machine) but extracting calcium instead of $20 bills.

If you sometimes run low on calcium, your body occasionally must grab some calcium from your bone cells. That's not considered a problem. But consider this: if your body needs to find additional calcium regularly, these withdrawals will eventually weaken your bones, increasing your risk of a hip fracture or worse.

How much calcium do you need?

The Institute of Medicine recommends 1000mg daily of calcium for men and women up to age 50 and 1200mg for adults older than 50. Most postmenopausal women get only 600-900mg of calcium daily through their food. This falls short of the 1000-1200mg daily calcium goal by 100-600mg daily. Some women make up that difference by taking a painful kidney stones. For these reasons, bone and kidney specialists discourage their patients from relying on getting all of their recommended daily calcium by taking a calcium supplement.

Most forms of calcium sold as supplements are calcium carbonate or calcium citrate. Calcium carbonate is the most concentrated form of supplemental calcium. It is available as flavored chewable tablets (Tums) and large pills. Calcium carbonate causes constipation in some people.

You won't absorb calcium carbonate well when taking acid-blocking medicine like omeprazole (Prilosec®) or lansoprazole (Prevacid®). Instead, you should choose calcium citrate. Have trouble swallowing large tablets? Calcium supplements are also available as gummies.

Here are 5 Tips on Getting Enough Calcium:

1. Eat calcium-rich foods. Most people get 300mg of calcium daily from non-dairy sources. You also get 300mg of calcium per serving of dairy products like milk, yogurt, and cheese. Green vegetables, oranges, and figs also contain calcium.

2.Check out the Calcium Calculator app.

This app lets you keep track of your calcium intake. You can also check the lists of calciumrich foods on the International Osteoporosis Foundation website, www.iofbonehealth. org.

3. You need adequate calcium and vitamin D when taking bone-building medicine.

Medicines like alendronate (Fosamax®), risedronate (Actonel®), ibandronate (Boniva®), and teriparatide (Forteo®) strengthen your bones by adding calcium back into them. If you don't have enough calcium in your diet, they won't work.

4.Limit supplements of calcium to 500mg at a time.

Your body absorbs calcium better at lower doses. This avoids a potential "spike" in your calcium level that can increase your risk of heart attack or stroke.

5.Get at least 400 IU of Vitamin D every day. Vitamin D is necessary to help your body absorb calcium. Although you can get vitamin D from sun exposure, salmon (800 IU per 3 ounces), canned tuna (150 IU per 3 ounces), fortified milk (about 120 IU per

4 ounces), and fortified orange juice (80 IU per 4 ounces) are also good sources.

notice of default was posted in a conspicuous place on the real property described in paragraph I above, and the Trustee has possession of proof of such service or posting.

VII. The Trustee whose name and address are set forth below will provide in writing to anyone requesting it, a statement of all costs and fees due at any time prior to the sale.

VIII. The effect of the sale will be to deprive the Grantor and all those who hold by, through or under the Grantor of all their interest in the above-described property.

IX. Anyone having any objection to the sale on any grounds whatsoever will be afforded an opportunity to be heard as to those objections if they bring a lawsuit to restrain the sale pursuant to RCW 61.24.130. Failure to bring such a lawsuit may result in a waiver of any proper grounds for invalidating the Trustee's sale. DATED this 14th day of February, 2023. Rotary takes over Leavenworth with 'Imagine Rotary Reimagined' District Conference - 'a new way to conference'

The general public is invited to participate in a week filled with unique experiences and inspiring presenters.

SUBMITTED BY JAMIE HOWELL HOWELL AT THE MOON PRODUCTIONS

LEAVENWORTH - Rotary District 5060 is excited to unveil a unique, first-of-its-kind conference coming to Leavenworth May 19-21. Designed to provide a transformative experience for all participants, for the first time ever, Rotary is opening the annual district conference and all associated events to the general public this year.

"We've turned it inside out," explains conference executive producer Colin Brine. "Thisconference is not about what participants can sit and listen to, it's about what kind of new experience they can create on their own, it's about relationship building, it's about imagining a new future not just for Rotary, but for themselves and the world they live in."

There are so many activities surrounding the conference, in fact, that the City of Leavenworth issued a proclamation officially declaring the week of the conference "Rotary Week in Leavenworth."

In a break from tradition, Rotary is inviting the general public to participate in any and all of its conference events. Here are some of the highlights planned for the upcoming event:

• Prologue Events: A series of social events in the days leading up to the official start of the conference starting Wednesday, May 17.

• Going Green Golf Tournament and Game Olympics - May 17, 9 a.m. - 1 p.m., at the Leavenworth Golf Club with events for golfers and nongolfers alike.

• The Great Leavenworth Geo-Hunt - May 17, 2 - 5 p.m., will send participants on a discovery/scavenger hunt around town.

• Roady Rally for the Environment - May 18, 9:30 a.m. - 1 p.m., takes participants on 2.5-hour journey of discovery by car.

• Tour de Leavenworth Discovery Ride - May 18, 2 - 6 p.m. is two-hour guided bike or e-Bike tour, led by Bavarian E-Bike Tours co-owner Tom Potter.

• U.S. vs. Canada Mini-Golf Tournament - May 19, 12:30 -2:30 p.m., at the Icicle Village Resort features a silent art auction and prizes for the winners.

• Special guests: The conference itself will feature entertaining and inspirational presentations from Olympic gold-medal winning crosscountry skier Kikkan Randall and mountaineering legend Ed Viesturs. In addition, The Paperboys will play a private, live concert in the Leavenworth Festhalle for all attendees and their families. The entire event will be led by Master Facilitator James Carter. • "Build a Dream" Bikes for Tikes program: Conference organizers plan to give away 100 bikes, helmets, locks, and backpacks to youth in need.

• Rotary Causes Expo Village: "Rotary Cause Vendors" will line the blocks around the Leavenworth Festhalle during the three days of the conference, with booths featuring local organizations whose products or missions align with one or more of Rotary's Seven Causes.

• Community Impact Project and Team Challenges: Participants will focus on building together to create a positive impact on the community through guided activities designed in part by the participants themselves.

• Rotary Youth Leadership Awards (RYLA): Rotary is working to provide scholarships for up to 100 high-school age students to participate directly in this year's conference, as part of the annual RYLA Camp taking place at the Lake Wenatchee YMCA Camp.

"Imagine Rotary Reimagined" is the second annual district conference to be held by Rotary District 5060 since before the COVID pandemic. The district conference is hosted in the home of its 2022-23 District Governor, Karl Ruether of Leavenworth.

Rotary International is one of the world's largest nonprofit service organizations, counting more than 1.2 million members in over 32,000 clubs across 200 countries. The Rotary motto, "Service Above Self" guides their efforts to create positive impacts on the communities where they live and work, as well as on a global scale. Welcome-Willkommen to the District Conference

Having the District Conference in Leavenworth is a long time coming. Past District Governor Jim Adamson Senior introduced me to Rotary back in 1994 and the rest is history as they say.

Jim Willems, Tom Boyd, and Bill Forhan and others encouraged me to apply for District Governor and I took over as Assistant District Governor for Area 8 from Carol Adamson and then shortly after I was chosen to be the District Governor for

Karl Ruether, District Governor 5060

Rotary year 2022-2023 and this conference is a culmination of several years of training and serving District 5060. This conference is however very different than any previous one, hence the name "Rotary Reimagined" following this year's Rotary Theme of "Imagine Rotary". If Rotary is to stay relevant and successful far into the future, then we need to tell our story better and often so that everybody understands what Rotary is and more importantly what Rotary does. Come and join us on May 18 to the 21 and see for yourself.

are around 50 Ukrainian refugee families in North Central Washington? They're quietly living among us, practicing, and learning English, going to school, finding their way around new neighborhoods; studying to get a driver's license, finding jobs, paying their rent, and trying to make new friends and new lives.We watch the news and read the paper, shocked by devastating pictures of the war in Ukraine.

Many of us are feeling called to do more, and our words can only go so far. When words fail music speaks. Let's show our compassion and caring, and truly make a difference for the Ukrainian families in our area. Please join us and bring your extended family, friends, and neighbors.
