Chelan County Jail's narcotics dog to be utilized in some local schools

By JILL FITZSIMMONS, CHELAN COUNTY PIO

WENATCHEE - Chelan County has signed agreements with six area school districts that will allow school resource officers to partner with the county jail's narcotics-detecting dog and her handler.

The interagency agreements allow for school resource officers, who are local law enforcement officers working in the schools, to call the Chelan County Regional Justice Center and request that the dog and her handler come to a school if the officer has reasonable suspicion that a student has brought narcotics onto campus.

The dog, known as K-9 Kait, could be used to walk around lockers, cars, backpacks or school perimeters. If she alerts on a trained odor, the school resource officer and school district will review any finds from the search and handle next steps.

last month between the Board of County Commissioners and the Waterville, Eastmont, Bridgeport, Chelan, Entiat and Manson school districts.

"We are very excited for this new partnership," said Chris Sharp, director of the Chelan County Regional Justice Center, one of two municipal jails in the state that utilizes a narcotics-detecting dog. "For us, this is an opportunity to not only make a difference in our community but to also show young people that a career in corrections can be more than four walls and cells."

More than two years ago, the Regional Justice Center invested in a detection dog and sent Corrections Deputy Jacob Lewis to training to learn how to be a handler. The pair have quickly become a Arts Council artists and Chelan High School student artists gather to interview Heritage Heights' residents for Legacy Project.

SUBMITTED BY WENDY ISENHART, HERITAGE HEIGHTS BOARD MEMBER

CHELAN - Visual artists from the Chelan Arts Council and Chelan High School Art Club have partnered with Heritage Heights Senior Living for the Legacy Project. Monday, March 6, each of the artists paired up with a Heritage Heights' resident with the goal of creating a portrait or other art piece that commemorates that person's legacy.

The gathering was an opportunity for each artist to meet, chat and to get to know the background and personality of their subject. The interview resulted in great stories being told, photographs taken, and ideas for paintings formed for the artists. The artwork will be produced over the next month and the collective display will be shown at Heritage Heights on a date to be announced in April.

Your Place Physical Therapy & Wellness, a new concept for home health care

By NORM MANLY, COMMUNITY VOLUNTEER

MANSON - The Manson Chamber of Commerce is thrilled to highlight one of our newer members, "Your Place Physical Therapy and Wellness", a new concept for home health care in the Lake Chelan Valley that began operation in October 2022. The Your Place team is committed to helping you move better through life, where you are most comfortable at "Your Place".

I recently met with owners, Lauri and Greg King to learn more about the philosophy behind this innovative approach to health care, addressing the physical, pain barriers preventing individuals from accessing and enjoying life to its fullest. Life is challenging, pain and mobility difficulties do not help.

Both Lauri and Greg grew up in Southern California. They met in 1982 in the LA area and married in 1983 in Santa Barbara, California. "We have two sons. Our older son lives in Orange County, California, with his wife and three young children. Our younger son, Ian, moved to Chelan last year and now works as the Cellar Master at Amos Rome Winery," Greg said.

Before moving to Manson, Lauri and Greg lived in the Lynnwood/Edmonds area, north of Seattle. Lauri worked as a Rehab, Pediatric and Home Health Physical Therapist and Greg worked in information technology, specializing in healthcare systems integration.

Lake Chelan has been a favorite vacation spot for the Kings since 1994. "For years we stayed at the Lakeshore RV Park in our travel trailer, or Peterson's Waterfront, and eventually purchased property in 2010. We move to Manson full time in May of 2016. We love the beauty of Lake Chelan, the many recreation opportunities, and the people," Lauri stated.

When asked how she became interested in her profession Lauri said, "I was an athlete and initially I was interested in finding a profession that involved sports. I went to my high school career center and researched Physical Therapy. I like helping people, and a volunteer position at a rehabilitation facility got me hooked."

Lauri graduated from California State University, Northridge with a bachelor's in Health Science in 1982, and a post baccalaureate Certification in Physical Therapy from UCLA Hospitals and Clinics in 1985. In subsequent years Lauri has obtained Board Certification in Pediatrics, certifications as a: Clinical Instructor, Vestibular Therapy, Total Joint Certification, Certified OASIS Specialist, and Executive Certification in Home Modification through the University of Southern California.

When asked, what was the dream, the passion behind the decision to open her own business Lauri said, "I have been asked many times if there is a private pay option for a therapist to provide physical therapy services at home, and there have been none. Your Place is now able to provide physical and occupational therapy services at home. We are here to serve those that do not qualify for homebound Home Health services and who do not have adequate insurance for outpatient therapy. We are excited to offer a wellness section of our business that can tie into those seeking a healthy lifestyle and need therapy options to help them meet that goal. We are currently collaborating with Lake Chelan Health and Connie Miller at Lake Chelan Physical Therapy as part of a cohesive physical therapy presence here in the valley. I have gone into so many homes, all income and socio-economic levels, there is one thing that stands out: We are totally unprepared for aging in place, or having a disability."

In the Chelan Valley, the need is great for accessible housing, however the greatest resource we have are the existing homes that simply need modifications, or adaptation, and to preplan for adaptations and modifications in the new houses being built.

"Our Home Modification and Adaptation services can help discern what a client needs, how they use their home and their spaces, the modifications and adaptations that would benefit them, researching funding assistance such as grants, loans, tax deductions, and tying into the existing community supports of the Rotary Club, and specific contractors in the region to do the job," Lauri went on.

Lauri has received many positive comments from clients. "They feel like we listen, take the time needed, have the patience, and explain what we are doing, and why they are doing it. They also appreciate that we go out of our way to assist them and include them in all decisions. In addition, they appreciate that we provide resources and have the knowledge to assist them," Lauri proudly stated.

Your Place Physical Therapy and Wellness, is a client, location centered, Physical Therapy and Wellness LLC, offering physical and occupational services. Working where you are most comfortable, and therapy is most effective. Whether it is in your home, pool, place of work, virtually or other beneficial location we can provide effective therapy and strategies to help you achieve your goals. Lauri, and the Your Place team, are committed to helping you move better through life, where you are most comfortable at Your Place. We serve

-Lauri King

Lauri stated, "The Your Place team will increase this summer with the addition of a Physical Therapist, pediatric focused. We are very excited to bring this type of service to the valley with a strong team as well as skilled and seasoned clinicians."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

New tax credit available to families

In my work with Faith Action Network, a multi-faith advocacy coalition, I see faith communities in Chelan and across our state open their doors to their neighbors who need food, transportation, and other emergency assistance. We know one high utility bill or unexpected medical bill can put a family into crisis. That's why it's so important to spread the word about a new tax credit of up to $1,200 available to families across Washington, starting this year. The Working Families Tax Credit goes beyond faithful charity to make sure that people who are working and paying taxes get the boost they need to get beyond crises. Qualifying for up to $1,200 can make such a tangible difference.

People in Chelan, Douglas, and Okanogan Counties who don't know about the new credit might end up missing out on this life-saving cash. Undocumented immigrant workers who have been left out of other programs are eligible for this credit since they work and pay taxes too. I am grateful that this tax credit will help level the playing field in our state, since working people in Washington pay more than our share of taxes that fund schools, roads, and all the things that make our community livable.

Workers who live in our community will also spend the money in our community, supporting our local businesses.

If you're a low-to-moderate-income worker in our community, apply now at WorkingFamiliesCredit.wa.gov or find free application assistance at WaTaxCredit.org.

key component to the jail's narcotics detection program, which aims to stop drugs from getting into the county jail.

K-9 Kait is trained to detect six odors, including marijuana. Mostly recently, she was trained to detect fentanyl.

"Law enforcement agencies in Washington state no longer train their narcotics-detecting dogs on marijuana," Sharp said. "However, you still can't have it in the schools. This is one area where Kait and Deputy Lewis may be able to help the school districts because she is trained to detect marijuana."

In addition, the schools have agreed to allow Lewis to do training sessions in the schools with the dog. Deputy Lewis and Kait are familiar faces at several local schools because they have been doing presentations to school children for a couple of years.

"Much like what we've seen at the jail, just knowing Kait is available and around is a deterrent for people trying to bring drugs into a facility," Sharp said. "I suspect we will see the same results with our partner school districts."

Chelan County Fire District 5 works to ensure community has at-home COVID-19 tests

SUBMITTED BY CHELAN COUNTY FIRE DISTRICT 5

MANSON - A new COVID-19 testing resource is now available at Chelan County Fire District 5 (CCFD5). CCFD5 is distributing FREE rapid, at-home COVID-19 tests.

Community members can pick up a box of iHealth Lab COVID-19 tests at the Fire Station at Station 51 in downtown, at 250 Manson Blvd, Manson. The tests allow community members to perform their own COVID-19 test at home and get results within 15 minutes.

"Our community relies on us to keep them safe from hazards like fires, hazardous materials, and the COVID-19 pandemic. As we near the end of the federal public health emergency, we encourage folks to come and pick up a box of FREE COVID-19 tests at CCFD5 to have on hand at home, if and when they are needed," says Fire/EMS Chief Arnold Baker.

"COVID-19 tests are an important tool in our agency's toolbox as we all continue to live with the virus. We aim to ensure all our community members have a test on hand to check their status.

Knowing if you have COVID-19 can help you stay at home, and stop the spread of the virus to neighbors, friends, classmates, and loved ones," says Baker.

Community members who have COVID-19 symptoms, may have been exposed to COVID-19, or are concerned about their COVID-19 status should come to CCFD5 to pick up a FREE box of COVID-19 tests. Knock on the main door at the Fire Station in Manson and staff will provide as many test kits as needed.

The testing service is designed to be easy to access for community members. COVID-19 test kits are available for pickup Monday - Friday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and community members do not need an appointment to pick up tests.

Community members should not call 911 for COVID-19 tests. "We need to keep 911 available for emergencies. If you would like a COVID-19 test, do not call 911. Please come to the station and we will provide them to you," says Chief Baker.

There is no cost to pick up a test kit. Test kits are available to anyone regardless of insurance or immigration status.

You do not need a referral from a healthcare provider to pick up a test kit. Lastly, you do not need to give any personal information to pick up a test kit.

"While our rates are low, COVID-19 does continue to impact the Manson community. Our low-barrier service aims to ensure that our community members are prepared and equipped with testing kits if you should need them," says Baker.

Manson Chamber member leads food drive for 'Feed My Starving Children'

Volunteers needed for March 18 event in Chelan

SUBMITTED BY NORM MANLY, MANSON CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

MANSON - We welcome our newest member to the Manson Chamber of Commerce, "Jet Skis Ahoy", located at 1320 W. Woodin Avenue in Chelan.

"We are a family-owned and operated company. Our family has been living and working in this bountiful valley since the early 1900s. We offer pontoon, speed boats, jet ski and paddle board rentals from our marina on Lake Chelan," stated Payton Stevens, co-owner.

The team at "Jet Skis Ahoy" are taking an active role in supporting a remarkable effort, lead by "Feed My Starving Children", a national, non-profit based in Minnesota. Feed My Starving Children (FMSC) believes hope starts with food. As a Christian nonprofit, FMSC is dedicated to seeing every child whole in body and spirit. FMSC works with food distribution partners that stay with communities for the long haul, empowering them to move from relief to development. Every year, millions of children die from preventable causes such as pneumonia, diarrhea, malaria and undernutrition. Hunger is still causing nearly half of deaths in children under 5 years old.

Payton says, "We are looking for volunteers to help measure, scoop ingredients, seal bags and prepare boxes for shipping. The event takes place on Saturday, March 18 at the Lake Chelan Community Gym. With the help from the community, we will pack over 100,000 meals to feed people in need. We are seeking volunteers to sign up for any or all two-hour time slots starting at 9 a.m. and ending at 5 p.m. (9-11, 12-2, 3-5) there will be a 1-hour break between each session."

This effort in the Chelan valley hopes to raise $30,000. FMSC asks you consider becoming a corporate sponsor, offering a matching grant or other creative fundraising ideas.

To sign up as a volunteer or make a financial contribution, visit their website.

THE WASHINGTON OUTDOORS REPORT

Humpies, lawsuits and trout

By JOHN KRUSE, THE WASHINGTON OUTDOOR REPORT

PINK SALMON NUMBERS ARE LOOKING GOOD

Odd numbered years are pink salmon years here in Washington State and 2023 is lining up to be a good one for anglers fishing for them in Puget Sound and its tributary streams. The Washington Department of Fish and Wildlife is forecasting a return of nearly four million of these smaller salmon, nicknamed "humpies", for the hump the males develop on their back after entering fresh water to spawn.

The pinks show up in the Strait of Juan De Fuca as early as June and can be caught by both boat and shore anglers in Puget Sound throughout the month of August. By September, most of the pink salmon are entering tributary streams like the Skagit, Snohomish, Skykomish, Green and Puyallup Rivers, providing additional opportunities for anglers who target them with Buzz Bomb lures, jigs with squid bodies and spoons, the key to all of them is that they must be pink in color if you want to catch pinks with them. Humpies are a fun fish to cut your teeth on as a first-time salmon angler and it's not uncommon to catch a good number of them in a day of fishing. While many anglers save them for the smoker, they do taste very good when fresh, especially when grilled over a

BBQ or pellet smoker. LAWSUIT FILED AGAINST WDFW COMMISSIONER

On March 6 the Sportsmen's Alliance Foundation, which is a pro-hunting and fishing organization, filed a lawsuit in Thurston County to prohibit WDFW Commissioner Lorna Smith from participating as a member of the Commission. The basis for the lawsuit is that state law prohibits anyone from holding an additional elected or appointed office while serving on the commission. Smith currently serves on the Jefferson County Planning Commission which the Sportsman's Alliance says is in direct violation of Washington Law.

Todd Adkins with the Sportsman's Alliance says, "We view this lawsuit as the initial step of a long but important process to bring sanity and decency back to wildlife decision-making in Washington. It all starts here, but trust me, it won't end here. The animal extremists are going to see a lot of the same in the coming weeks and months."

Lorna Smith is a controversial appointee to the Fish and Wildlife Commission. Since being appointed in 2021 by Governor Jay Inslee she was an instrumental voice in shutting down Washington's long running spring bear hunt, despite the recommendation of WDFW staff members that it be allowed to take place.

When the Blue Mountain elk herd declined (primarily due to cougar predation), Smith suggested managing the herd as a smaller one instead of addressing the predation issues. She has also introduced the framework of a plan that would limit hunting as a management tool by the agency.

Pink salmon caught on the Snohomish River.

It is worth noting that Smith is not the only commissioner serving in another appointed or elected position. Commissioner Molly Linville (who generally sides with hunters in her decision making), serves on her local school board in Douglas County.

Eli Francovich, writing for the Spokesman Review, contacted both commissioners. Linville told Francovich that she was advised by legal counsel that serving on the school board was not a conflict of interest. Commissioner Smith told Francovich she was serving on the Jefferson County Planning Commission on a volunteer basis and in an advisory role when appointed to the Fish and Wildlife Commission. Smith continued stating she does not believe the statute does not preclude individuals serving in a volunteer position like she has been in Jefferson County.

LAKE LENORE FISHING TRIP

Last but not least, I made it up to Lake Lenore this past week after WDFW fisheries biologist Mike Schmuck told me the fishing there was very good last year, and he expected similar results this season. I picked a cold, cloudy day to visit the north end of the lake which is where many of the Lahontan cutthroat trout tend to mill around in the spring prior to spawning.

Unfortunately, the trout were not yet in this part of the lake in good numbers. Two anglers who were leaving as I arrived said they each only caught one fish that day. While fishing, I did see one angler catch one trout and while I did get one good strike, I was unable to hook up and didn't have any more bites that afternoon.

Lake Lenore is a selective regulation fishery and is primarily a catch and release destination where the trout average two to three pounds and can get up to six pounds in size. Fly anglers in pontoon boats favor fishing chironomids under strike indicators while spin anglers can do well fishing spoons with single, barbless hooks.

The fishing at this scenic, desert lake north of Soap Lake should get better towards the end of March and peak in April. I plan to return to try again and will let you know how I do.

WDFW encourages completing hunter education to prepare for spring turkey season

Season opens April 1

SUBMITTED BY WASHINGTON DEPT. OF FISH AND WILDLIFE

OLYMPIA — The Washington Department of Fish and Wildlife (WDFW) urges new, prospective hunters to complete hunter education now before youth turkey hunting season opens on April 1 and the general spring turkey season opens on April 15. "Now is a great time to complete hunter education because we are holding more in-person classes before the spring turkey hunting seasons," said David Whipple, WDFW hunter education section manager. "Completing hunter education early in the year ensures that hunters can participate in turkey season and other hunting seasons throughout the year." WDFW offers both traditional, in-person hunter education classes as well as online options to complete the hunter education requirement. The traditional classroom experience includes direct instruction from certified volunteer instructors, which can be important for younger students. The online course offers the same content but allows the student to complete the course at a time and place convenient for them. "Students 17 years of age and younger who take the online course are still required to complete an in-person field skills evaluation led by certified instructors," added Whipple. Students 18 years of age and older can complete the online class and a virtual "field day" to satisfy the requirements for certification. "Students who complete the online class and virtual field day are encouraged to attend a field skills evaluation for additional in-person training with certified instructors—but it isn't a requirement," said Whipple. Per Washington state law, all hunters born after Jan. 1, 1972 must complete a hunter education course in order to buy a hunting license. A hunter education deferral is available for hunters 10 years of age and older who want to try hunting with an eligible licensed hunter before completing a hunter education course themselves. To learn about hunter education requirements and find an upcoming course near you, please visit the https://wdfw.wa.gov

The Washington Department of Fish and Wildlife works to preserve, protect, and perpetuate fish, wildlife, and ecosystems while providing sustainable fish and wildlife recreational and commercial opportunities.

WDFW invites public comment on rule making for special use permits

Submit comments by April 10

SUBMITTED BY WASHINGTON DEPT. OF FISH AND WILDLIFE

OLYMPIA — The Washington Department of Fish and Wildlife (WDFW) invites the public to submit written comment on a proposed special use permits rule change through Monday, April 10.

The proposed rule would amend and clarify existing rules and establish new rules for accessibility permits for people with disabilities.

"The proposed changes are intended to reduce barriers that may impede participation by people with disabilities by streamlining the administrative processes associated with these common requests," said Larry Delgado, WDFW Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion Manager. "We are seeking your feedback on this proposed rule change."

Director District Boundary Changes Proposed
Entiat Washington – Every ten years, after each U.S. Census is completed, school districts must review the boundaries of their board of director district to ensure equitable geographic representation. Entiat School District is divided into 4 geographic regions or districts. Candidates for school board must run for the seat of the director district they live in. We also have one At-Large director that may live anywhere in the school district. By creating equal director districts, geographic diversity is ensured on the school board. Each position is elected by all district voters, so each of the five directors represents the entire district in their board actions. These boundaries are completely unrelated to school attendance boundaries: this process will not change any neighborhood school boundaries. In 2021, the district contracted with Sammamish Data Systems to develop a proposal for new director district boundaries based on the latest census data. A presentation and public hearing on this proposal will be held at the March 29, 2023 school board meeting, which begins at 7 p.m. The first reading of the proposal is scheduled for the March 29 school board meeting. The second reading of the proposal and potential adoption of the proposal is scheduled for the April 26 school board meeting. ## Middle school girls invited to learn about tech at new event, Tech & Tiaras

SUBMITTED BY NCESD

OMAK/WENATCHEE/MANSON - The Apple STEM Network and the North Central Educational Service District (NCESD), are proud to announce five upcoming events across the region this spring called, "Tech & Tiaras", for 8th grade students who identify as female or non-binary, to explore technology and computer science:

- March 28, 9 a.m.-12:30 p.m., Omak Middle School, Omak
- March 30, 9 a.m.-12:30 p.m., Wenatchee Valley Tech Skills Center, Wenatchee

- April 25, 8:30 a.m. - 12 p.m., Manson High School, Manson

SHB 5088 was passed in 2019, which requires all comprehensive high schools to offer elective computer science courses for high school students by 2022-2023 school year. This means that for the first time across the region, middle school students have the option to take computer science and technology courses beginning in high school.

Despite this expanded access to computer science, young women are significantly underrepresented in these classes. In 2022, approximately 792 students across North Central Washington took a high school computer science course and only 26% of those enrollments were students who identify as female.

This gender gap translates to the regional workforce; women are significantly underrepresented in technology roles. Labor market data shows that in 2022 there was an average of 21,414 open computing positions across the state each month. These positions posted an average salary of $112,623 yearly. Hispanic women comprise 26% of the population in North Central Washington, but comprise just 2.7% of the local technology workforce.

To encourage more young women to consider taking courses and exploring future career paths in technology, the regional events were designed to inspire middle school girls and teens who identify as female, through a fun and engaging, hands-on experience with technology alongside women in the technology industry.

To further the message, the girls will watch a video featuring local parents, peers and teachers who share their thoughts on the benefits of STEM education and possible career pathways for all students. In this short compilation video produced by NCESD, voices include a Quincy High School graduate who attends the University of Washington, an Othello High School graduate who attended DigiPen Institute of Technology, and other students from Manson High School and Almira Coulee-Hartline High School.

Middle school is a perfect time for students to begin preparing for future careers through experiences that introduce them to new skills and professionals who can help students to identify with potential careers on a personal level. Each event will give students opportunities to code, explore robotics, engineer an LED light up tiara and connect in small groups with local women in technology. All Tech and Tiaras events are free for students to attend but space is limited. Educators are encouraged to register their classes soon.

These events have been sponsored by the NCW Libraries, Microsoft, and NCW Tech Alliance. Educators and administrators, are encouraged to register students at: bit.ly/TECHANDTIARAS.

Hawkins issues statement on passage of Senate's drug possession bill

By LAUDAN ESPINOZA, SENIOR PUBLIC INFORMATION OFFICER, OFFICE OF SEN BRAD HAWKINS

OLYMPIA - The Washington State Senate on March 3 approved Senate Bill 5536, sponsored by Sen. June Robinson, D-Everett. It represents the first major step this legislative session to address a temporary drug possession law that sunsets this July. In 2021, the State Supreme Court's Blake Decision struck down Washington's felony drug possession statute as unconstitutional.

Legislators approved a temporary measure later that year to classify drug possession as a misdemeanor or while working toward a more comprehensive solution. The proposal that was approved March 3 by a vote of 28 to 21 includes a classification of possession offenses, steps to pretrial diversion, prosecution, and resources. Hawkins voted in favor of the proposal, which now moves to the House of Representatives for further consideration.

State Sen. Brad Hawkins issued the following state-

"Many of my legislative colleagues have characterized drug abuse as a 'personal healthcare issue.' I don't necessarily disagree, but our state needs to maintain options in our criminal justice system to protect people from themselves and others. I would have preferred something much stronger, but this is a bipartisan compromise.

"This is one of the most important issues of this session. The Senate's approach isn't a perfect solution, but I believe it strikes the right balance between having a helping hand of compassion and a heavier hand of punishment. One way or another, we need to get people the help they need to get healthy, but we also don't want them endangering themselves or others."

NCW Libraries offers light therapy lamps

Collection of non-traditional items available

By MICHELLE MCNEIL, NCW LIBRARIES

WENATCHEE - NCW Libraries has added a collection of light therapy lamps to its Library of Things.

The HappyLight Touch Plus lamp provides UV-free light with 10,000 lux intensity with adjustable brightness and a timer. The lamps can be checked out for up to 28 days with a library card, and can be picked up and returned to any of the library district's 30 branch libraries in Chelan, Douglas, Grant, Okanogan and Ferry counties.

Sunlight is an essential ingredient for health, and many people don't get enough of it. Not getting enough light each day can affect mental health, mood and sleep. Light therapy

Lamps can be checked out for up to 28 days with a library card, and can be picked up and returned to any of the library district's 30 branch libraries.

lamps are one way to bring the benefits of daylight safely indoors. Bright light therapy has been shown to boost mood, increase energy, enhance mental focus, and improve sleep.

NCW Libraries' Library of Things is a collection of non-traditional items that can be checked out from the library. The collection includes nature backpacks, snowshoes and poles, telescopes, Wifi hotspots, the Washington State Discover Pass, family passes to Ohme Gardens and the Wenatchee Valley Museum & Cultural Center, and more.

New data shows sharp decline in students moving directly from high school to college

SUBMITTED BY WASHINGTON STUDENT ACHIEVEMENT COUNCIL

OLYMPIA - Over the past decade, Washington's high school graduation rate has steadily increased, but the proportion of the state's graduates who enroll directly in college has not. The direct enrollment rate that once hovered around 60 percent dropped to 50 percent during the COVID-19 pandemic. Declines in the direct enrollment rate varied by race, which could further exacerbate existing racial inequities in postsecondary enrollment.

Washington's direct enrollment rate is lower than the national average, and the decline in direct enrollment was more significant than the national trend. In 2020, the national direct enrollment rate fell by 3 percentage points (from 66 percent in 2019 to 63 percent in 2020), compared to a decline of 8 percentage points in Washington (from 59 percent to 51 percent).

Other nearby states also experienced enrollment decline during the pandemic. California's direct enrollment rate fell by about 2 percentage points in 2020 (from 65 percent in 2019 to 63 percent in 2020) and Idaho's direct enrollment rate fell by 7 percentage points (from 46 percent to 39 percent). (Note: national data and state data for California and Idaho define "direct enrollment" as occurring by the fall following high school graduation. Washington's direct enrollment rate includes enrollment within one year of high school graduation.)

A new Research Spotlight from the Washington

Student Achievement Council (WSAC) describes how the pandemic took a significant toll on direct enrollment in the state. Key findings include:

- Washington's direct enrollment rate dropped 9 percentage points between 2019 and 2021, a sharp departure from the previous decade of stagnant direct postsecondary enrollment in the state.

- Direct enrollment in two-year institutions declined more than direct enrollment in four-year institutions.

- Hispanic or Latino students experienced the largest decline in direct enrollment, from 54 percent in 2019 to 40 percent in 2021.

The full Research Spotlight can be found on the Washington Student Achievement Center website at <https://wsac.wa.gov/>.

Statewide 'Move Over, Slow Down' campaign has begun

SUBMITTED BY WASHINGTON STATE PATROL

OLYMPIA - The Washington State Patrol (WSP) is partnering with the Washington State Department of Transportation (WSDOT), the Towing and Recovery Association of Washington (TRAW), and the Washington Traffic Safety Commission (WTSC) to conduct a "Move Over, Slow Down" campaign through April. Emphasis patrols will be conducted throughout the state during the next two months focused on educating drivers on the importance of RCW 46.61.212 - a law which requires motorists to move over or slow down when approaching emergency or work zones.

"Our emergency responders and highway workers need your help to keep them safe," said WSP Chief John Batiste. "Choosing to move over or slow down allows them to do their job of helping others in need and continuing their work ensuring our roadways are safe for the great people of our state."

Per state law, motorists approaching an emergency zone or a work zone are required to move over one lane, if possible, or slow down by at least 10 miles per hour (mph) below the posted speed limit. An emergency or work zone includes the 200 feet of roadway prior to and after the incident or area of work.

"All of our emergency responders, from those who assist disabled vehicles to those who provide life-saving care to crash victims, risk their lives on the side of our roads every day," said WTSC Director Shelly Baldwin. "They deserve to be protected, too. It's easy for drivers to move over or slow down when approaching people or flashing lights on the road ahead. You can prevent another tragedy when you do."

The majority of drivers understand the law requires motorists to move over or slow down for police, fire, and ambulance crews, but the law also includes tow trucks and work crews who have vehicles with audible or visual signals - such as a tow truck's flashing red lights.

"As tow truck operators, we have dedicated our life to serving the public and motorists in need of assistance, and the unfortunate truth is that can cost us our life," said TRAW Administrative Director Emily Wade. "When your office is roadside with drivers traveling past at high speeds, every inch counts, and even a small reduction in speed can make a lifesaving difference. Weigh the risk and you will find that slowing down and moving over is not a choice, it's a law, and an obligation that we all need to abide by."

The same rules apply for work crews performing emergency maintenance, incident response, or other roadside work, such as the employees of WSDOT. "Our crews work to make emergency repairs, keep travelers safe, and help traffic keep moving everyday, but they need space to do that work safely," said Secretary of Transportation Roger Millar. "We want everyone to return home at the end of the day." Areas throughout the state will be participating in the Move Over, Slow Down emphasis events during the next two months.
