Measuring homelessness in Chelan, Douglas counties to be held Jan. 26

Chelan Valley HOPE in Chelan will cover the Chelan Valley, Northern Douglas County

SUBMITTED BY JILL FITZSIM-MONS, CHELAN COUNTY PIO

CHELAN - Chelan County and community partners will conduct the annual Homeless Point in Time Count from 7 a.m.-2 p.m. on Thursday, Jan. 26, at the YWCA in Wenatchee, 212 First St. The information gathered annually by local municipalities and nonprofits participating in the national event demonstrates the need in communities across the country for homeless housing services, based on the number of people experiencing homelessness on the day of the Point in Time count, explained

Sasha Sleiman, Chelan County housing program coordinator and a coordinator of the outreach event. "That information then will be used to help local policymakers make better informed decisions to help remedy our growing need for affordable housing," Sleiman said. "Doing this event annually gives us the ability to compare our results year over year, potentially giving us an indication of where we are headed as a community." Surveys conducted by outreach teams aim to collect information on individual's living situations, including how long someone has been without a permanent home, where they sleep, where they are from, and whether or not they had been denied access to a shelter or would go to a shelter if available. Demographic questions are also asked, including age, race, gender, veteran status, the number of children under 18 in the household, and if they were fleeing domestic violence. In addition to the centralized event at the YWCA in Wenatchee, staff from various nonprofits who work with the unhoused population will be going out throughout Chelan and Douglas counties to speak to people on the street and provide them resources. Chelan Valley HOPE in Chelan will cover the Chelan Valley and Northern Douglas County and Upper Valley MEND in Leavenworth will cover the Cascade School District service area and Cashmere. Upper Valley MEND will also have a centralized site for people in the upper valley to be interviewed and get connected to services at the Community Cupboard, 219 14th St. in Leavenworth. At this event in 2022, 163 people were interviewed. Of those interviewed, 123 people were unsheltered, meaning they were living out of doors, in a vehicle or RV, in an abandoned building, or in a tent or other outdoor area not meant for habitation. In addition, 275 people were recorded staying in emergency shelters, transitional housing programs or in a hotel through an emergency hotel/motel voucher program. The local event also allows housing services providers and other servicebased non-profits an opportunity to communicate directly with people in need of their services while providing resources, including backpacks, gloves, socks, hand warmers. food and more, to those in need who participated in the survey. The backpacks full of supplies are being provided by Community Action Council, in partnership with Chelan County. The Columbia Valley Community Health Mobile Clinic will be on site at the YWCA to provide access to medical professionals for those who needing medical services and to provide flu and COVID-19 vaccines to those who request them.

Annual Christmas Bird Count held in December

SUBMITTED BY STEPHEN EASLEY

CHELAN – The 34th annual Chelan/Manson Christmas Bird Count, sponsored by National Audubon Society, took place on Saturday, December 17. There were 11 traveling participants, comprised of seven parties covering the 15-mile diameter count circle centered north of the Manson Highway roundabout. Also assisting were three home feeder watchers.

Because of the 8-10 inch snow depth at lower elevations and a depth of up to 30 inches in Union Valley and Purtteman Gulch, we were mostly restricted to traveling by car, but some travel on foot was possible, such as at Beebe Springs Natural Area and Lake Chelan State Park. It was an overcast but mostly calm day, with temperatures in the low 20's.

We found 76 bird species, nearly equal to the 34-year average of 77 species in spite of our limited mobility. Total individual birds tallied were 7,447, which was 24% less than the 34-year average of 9,800, which reflects the downhill trend of birds seen during the past 10 count vears.

Species featured as higher than average were: Common Goldeneye (120), Gray Partridge (5), Chukar (42), American Coot (938), Eurasian Collared-Dove (344), Say's Phoebe (1), American Dipper (7), and Golden-crowned Sparrow (10).

Courtesy Stephen Easley

Those species considerably lower than average were: Pied-billed Grebe (3), Horned Grebe (19), Great Blue Heron (3), Canada Goose (760), Canvasback (0), Sharp-shinned Hawk (1), Cooper's Hawk (4), Golden Eagle (1), Blackcapped Chickadee (1), Redbreasted Nuthatch (2), and Song Sparrow (10).

The file photo (left) is that of an Anna's Hummingbird (female), two of which were at a heated home feeder on Bear Mountain. Sadly, one of the hummingbirds was found dead under the feeder two days after the count due to increasingly frigid weather. Anyone desiring full count results can email Steve Easley (seasley@nwi.net).

Also, North American count results reaching back to 1900 are available on Audubon's website, www. audubon.org.

Raymond Wesley Goodwin

Raymond Wesley Goodwin, age 76, passed away December 24, 2022 at home surrounded by family.

Ray was born April 17,1946 in Winthrop, Washington to Elmer and Lorna Goodwin. Ray was raised in Chelan and graduated from Chelan High School in 1964. He attended Washington State University and graduated with a BS in Geology. It was there that he met and married Sandy (Hill). Upon graduating, Ray returned to Chelan with Sandy to work and raise their family. He went on to own and operate Lake Chelan Video City for 25 years where he met and established many meaningful friendships.

Ray is survived by his wife, Sandy, daughters, Kamie Kronbauer and Janice Huddleston (Rob), grandchildren, Kaylie Kronbauer Taylor (Brandon), Kara Kronbauer Garcia (Adrian), and Hailee Huddleston. The family takes great comfort knowing that Ray is with his Savior, Jesus Christ.

A "Celebration of Life" is being planned for the spring of 2023.

Duane Walter Swinney

Duane Walter Swinney of East Wenatchee, and formerly of Chelan, Washington, passed away peacefully Friday, January 13 at the age of 84 following a brief illness. Our gentle and kind husband, father and grandfather will be deeply missed and always loved.

Born September 8, 1938 in Caldwell, Idaho to Walter and Myrtle (Lay) Swinney, Duane spent his childhood in Worley, Idaho helping his family on the farm and attending school where he excelled in sports, especially high school baseball and basketball. He joined the Naval Reserve in his junior year of high school and was called to active duty in October of 1956.

In December of 1956, Duane married his high school sweetheart, Gerry Marsh, at her parent's home near Potlatch, Idaho. The newlyweds moved to Long Beach, California where Duane prepared for oversees duty. In January of 1958, Duane shipped out on a minesweeper and served six months on the high seas visiting many countries. While overseas, his first son Jay was born. After his honorable discharge, Duane and his new family moved to Montana to once again farm alongside his father and brother.

In 1961, Duane and his family returned to Idaho where he worked and attended University of Idaho, earning a degree in business administration in 1968. After graduation, the family moved to Portland, Oregon where he began his professional career as an accountant. In 1969, the family moved to Spokane, Washington and Duane joined Morris, Lee & Co. as a CPA and was quickly promoted to manage their office in Chelan, Washington. Duane eventually purchased and successfully operated the Chelan business until his retirement in 2004.

As a long-time resident of Chelan, Duane was active in the community and served on the board of directors for the Chamber of Commerce, the Rotary Club, and the Lake Chelan Hospital Foundation. He also served as president of the Rotary Club. Duane was very active and enjoyed coaching little league baseball and basketball. When he wasn't coaching or attending his children's sporting events, he would often be boating on Lake Chelan or camping in the mountains with his family. He enjoyed any activity that brought his family closer together.

Duane is survived by his wife of 66 years, Gerry Swinney of East Wenatchee, Washington; children Darin (Louise) Swinney of Chelan, Washington, and Kelly (Jason) Hedgepeth of La Grande, Oregon; brother Glenn (Connie) Swinney; grandchildren Allysen, Mandalyn, Katie and Brogan; greatgrandchildren Maysey, Connor, Makenna and Carter. He was preceded in death by his son Jay, his parents, and sister.

There will be a service and interment at a date to be determined in Palouse, Washington beside his son, Jay.

Obituary & Memorial Policies

NCW Media, Inc.: Leavenworth Echo, Cashmere Valley Record, Lake Chelan Mirror, Quad City Herald

An Obituary is a way for family member(s) to commemorate a loved one's life and to notify the community of the passing of the loved one. Obituaries are also used for historical and ancestral data.

Memorials are another way to let the community know about the life and memories of the person who has passed. A Memorial is different from an Obituary. An Obituary is usually current, while a Memorial can be written later.

Obituaries and Memorials need to be typed and emailed as a Word Document. They can be placed in one or more papers - all publish weekly on Wednesday.

Obituaries are priced by the number of words and include one color photo and go online at no extra charge. Memorials are priced per column inch. Please call for cost. *Payment is due at the time of placement. *Exception: Chapels, funeral homes who have an account, can be billed. There is no charge for a Death Notice - information is limited.

Deadline is 4 p.m. on Friday - some exceptions may apply.

CHELAN - In a battle for first place in the Caribou Trail League, Chelan was able to take a one point lead at halftime 27-26 and showed tough defense all night holding the high flying Jackrabbits to a season low 57.

Specifically, Braiden Boyd was able to shut down the 6-6 Aidan Bews who was coming off a 50 point game vs. Royal in a previous game. Bews finished with just nine points.

Coach Callero pointed out how pleased he was with the defensive focus.

"Our focus on defense was great. We followed a game plan and took away all their best plays and shut down their top scorers."

What the Goats failed to do was keep track of substitute Dominic Trevino who came off the bench to hit five of six three point shots and scored a team high 16 points.

Chelan was led by the 20 points of Dylan Jay and Braiden Boyd added 11.

The two teams have split their two previous meetings. The top two teams from the CTL will play against each other for a District Championship on February 10 while the third and fourth place teams will face off in a loser out playoff game February 11.

Chelan 50, Tonasket 68

Jan. 14

CHELAN - Chelan boys basketball lost a non league game on Saturday, January 14 to Tonasket 68-50.

One night after moving into first place in the Caribou Trail League by beating the #8 team in the state on the road, the Chelan Goats returned home and were looking to keep some momentum going against Tonasket and for one half it looked like Chelan would do just that.

Tonasket's leading scorer Tyler Duchow, a 6' 3" threepoint shooting guard came into the game averaging 20 points and the defense of sophomore guard Jacob Allen held him to zero first half points. As a team, Chelan held Tonasket to 23 first half points.

Offensively Dylan Jay and Braiden Boyd combined for 19 of Chelan's 21 first half points and the Goats found themselves down two points.

The third quarter is when Duchow began to hit some shots as he scored nine points and Tonasket built a 14 point lead heading into the fourth quarter. Chelan made a small run with three minutes to go and cut the lead to ten but Tonasket went 10-10 from the free throw line during the fourth quarter to seal the win.

Coach Callero pointed out that basketball is usually a game of runs and said, "unfortunately tonight during the third quarter Tonasket started to hit some shots at the same time we went cold. It was a a big hole to try to climb out of and we ran out of energy."

Dylan Jay led all scorers with 21 and Braiden Boyd finished with 20.

Chelan 41, Quincy 38

By Coach Nick Longmire, Chelan High School girls basketball

Jan. 19

CHELAN - Tonight was a big matchup for both girls programs in Chelan. The last time the Jackrabbits were in Chelan they defeated the Mountain Goats in overtime by four. The Goats then traveled to Quincy in game two and defeated the Jackrabbits by 14. Tonight's matchup decided who would potentially lock up the third place spot.

The Mountain Goats came out of the gate roaring tonight and took an early 12 point lead before the Jackrabbits started a scoring trend. The Goats put up 21 points in the first quarter but the Jackrabbits were able to finish strong themselves and scored 14.

In the second quarter the Goats held the Jackrabbits to 4 points while putting 9 up themselves bringing the halftime score to 30-18 in favor of the Goats.

The Goats knew that a 12 point lead could evaporate quickly with the outside shooting and inside threat of the Jackrabbits.

Unfortunately the Goats had a slow second half offensively but were able to rely on their defense in key situations. The Jackrabbits outscored the Goats 13-5 in the third quarter and 7-6 in the fourth and even took the lead by one at one point in the fourth quarter. The Goats were able to finish in front of the Jackrabbits 41-38.

The Goats were led by Senior Forward, Kira Sandoval with 11. Junior, Arabelle Finch added 10. Jailyn Reinhart had a pair of three point shots to contribute six. Hughbanks and Perez each had five and Joslynn Simmons had four on the night.

Chelan 36, Tonasket 57

Jan. 14 CHELAN- The Tonasket Tigers visited the Chelan Mountain Goats tonight in a non-league matchup in the Community Gym for retro night.

The game started out as a back and forth match and the Tigers only had the lead by 2, 15-13.

In the second quarter the Goats trailed by 5 after working against Tonaskets tough pressure as they went into the locker rooms.

The second half was a different story however as the Tigers took control of the game and began to pull away.

The Goats were led in scoring by Kira Sandoval and Arabelle Finch who each had 13. Joslynn Simmons (3), Reinhart (3), Hughbanks (2), Jayci Simmons (2).

The Goat's next match is against the Quincy Jackrabbits as they battle for the 3rd place spot in the league. That match will be held on Thursday, January 19th at home.

THE WASHINGTON OUTDOORS REPORT

Outdoor roundup

By John Kruse, The Washington Outdoor Report

SOMETHING FISHY FOR DINNER

TJ's Bar and Grill in Kettle Falls is in hot water after serving seafood they should not have been selling to their patrons. According to Captain Brad Rhoden with the Washington Department of Fish and Wildlife, during the summer of 2019 the owner of the restaurant, Terry Baxter, went on a recreational fishing trip near Bamfield, British Columbia. Baxter then brought the Chinook and coho salmon, as well as the halibut he caught, back home and proceeded to serve these fish to customers at his restaurant.

Captain Rhoden states, "By law, a business selling fish to a consumer, such as a restaurant, is required to state the species of the salmon and whether the fish was formed consumers can be confident the fish they are about to eat is what it says." As for selling recreationally caught fish in a restaurant Captain Rhoden explained, "Washington law does not allow the edible portions of wild animals, game birds and game fish to be sold. Food fish such as salmon and halibut can be commercially sold in Washington as long as the fish were lawfully harvested during an open season/area by commercially licensed fishers. So, no recreationally caught fish can be sold, bartered or traded lawfully in Washington."

The multi-year investigation by the Washington Department of Fish and Wildlife was prosecuted by the Washington State Attorney General's Public Lands and Conservation Division last summer. On January 17, Baxter's business plead guilty to the crime of First-Degree Unlawful Fish Catch in Stevens County Superior Court. He received no jail time but will have to pay a $10,000 fine.

sonal job working in a great outdoors location? If so, apply for a job as a park aide with Washington State Parks. They are hiring 305 seasonal workers to work from April through September at their parks throughout the state.

Duties include everything from registering campers to cleaning campgrounds and maintaining facilities and trails. Aides may also be helping out with interpretive and educational programs at parks around the state. You may be assigned to one specific park or rotate your daily duties amongst several parks in close proximity to one another.

My son, David worked as a park aide for two years in college and really enjoyed his time during the summer months at Lincoln Rock and Daroga State Parks in North Central Washington. However, this isn't just a job for college students trying to make money during the summer. It's also a great opportunity for retired or semiretired individuals who enjoy meeting people and spending time outdoors in the beautiful settings our state parks are set in.

Park aides earn anywhere from $16.61 to $19.09, depending on qualifications and experience. Senior Park Aides (with previous experience) earn more. You can fill out an application at www.governmentjobs.com. Simply type in Park Aide in the Search Bar along with Washington for the location and you'll see what's available.

found natural colors such as black, brown and olive work best.

Bank anglers are having success as well, though it can be hit and miss. Most anglers fishing from shore are using Powerbait to catch their trout. It is worth noting that there is a $20 access fee to use the park near the net pens and also a $10 launch fee. Shore anglers also need to have a Colville Tribal fishing permit. Moser says he does have several openings for anglers in February. To book a trip go to www.austinsnorthwestadventures.com. ### Q: Should I contact my doctor for an antiviral medication?

That can depend on which virus you are trying to protect against and how long you have had the viral illness. Several prescription-only antiviral agents can reduce the length and severity of symptoms of your viral infection. However, these antiviral agents only work against one particular virus, like influenza or COVID-19. Currently, no prescription antiviral drugs work on both influenza AND COVID-19.

This is the middle of the influenza season. The flu season that hit the Southern Hemisphere six months ago was one of the most severe in years. Experts are concerned that our flu season here in the Northern Hemisphere will also be worse than usual.

On top of that, the relaxation in wearing masks has caused a jump in upper respiratory viral infections, including strains of COVID-19, influenza, RSV (Respiratory Syncytial Virus), and the common cold.

Many influenza. COVID-19. and RSV symptoms overlap. Before treatment with an antiviral can start, testing is essential to correctly identify whether your illness is caused by a virus that has a specific antiviral available. like influenza or COVID-19.

Antiviral agents are most likely to reduce symptom severity or length of symptoms when given very early in the illness, as soon as possible from the appearance of symptoms. For influenza, it's best to start antiviral medication no later than 48 hours from the onset of flu-like symptoms. For COVID-19, the time frame of treatment with a prescription antiviral agent is more forgiving. Antivirals active against COVID-19 must be started within 5 days of symptom onset.

In July 2022, the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) revised the emergency for use authorization Paxlovid® (nirmatrelvir and ritonavir). This decision allows pharmacists to prescribe oral antiviral medication to eligible patients if particular criteria are met. These criteria include evaluating the list of drugs you are taking and assessing your liver and kidney health to ensure the appropriate use of Paxlovid®.

The FDA took this action to help prevent severe illness from COVID-19. Paxlovid® must be taken within five days after symptoms begin to be effective. Authorizing licensed pharmacists to prescribe Paxlovid® could help provide more timely treatment for COVID-19 to those eligible to receive it.

Prescription-only antiviral agents can reduce the length, severity of symptoms of viral infections

Suppose you have evidence of a positive home test result from a rapid antigen diagnostic test or a positive PCR test. In that case, you may be eligible for treatment with Paxlovid®. Confirmation of a home rapid antigen diagnostic test with additional direct SARS-CoV-2 viral testing, such as a PCR test, is not required.

Suppose you have tested positive for COVID-19 and want to receive Paxlovid® at a location where prescribing by licensed pharmacists is available. In that case, you will need to bring to the pharmacy certain information to help determine if you are eligible.

The pharmacist needs your electronic or printed health record with recent reports of appropriate laboratory blood work to screen for kidney or liver problems. Another way the pharmacist could also get this information is by consulting with your doctor.

You will also need to provide a current list of all the medicines you currently take, including any over-the-counter medications, to the pharmacist. This is important because several drugs can react with Paxlovid®, with potentially serious consequences.

If the pharmacist does not have the laboratory test information to assess your kidney and liver function, plus a complete list of your medications, they cannot give you Paxlovid® from their pharmacy. You will need to contact your doctor for treatment options.

Paxlovid® is authorized by the FDA to treat mild-tomoderate COVID-19 illness in adults and children 12 years of age and older who weigh at least 88 pounds. They must have a positive test for SARS-CoV-2 and be at high risk for COVID-19 infection to progress to severe symptoms, hospitalization, or death.

Here Are 3 Tips About Prescription Antiviral Drugs:

1.Start antiviral medications as soon as possible.

Antiviral agents for influenza should be started within 2 days of flu-like symptoms and within 5-7 days of signs of COVID-19.

2. Know what virus you are dealing with.

To select the appropriate antiviral, your medical provider needs to know which virus you have. Documentation of a positive COVID test is required to be eligible for a COVID-19 antiviral.

3.An oral antiviral agent for COVID-19 may be available from your local pharmacy.

Several criteria are needed to be eligible for the antiviral Paxlovid® to help fight COVID-19, including a positive COVID-19 test and no more than five days since your symptoms started.

Concerned about flooding? Ensure your home and belongings are protected

STATEPOINT - According to the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA), floods are the most frequently occurring natural disaster in the United States. which is why it is important to understand the risks and costs associated with flooding, and what you can do to protect your home.

Rampant storms and hurricanes are not the only causes of flood damage - leaky pipes can cause just as much water damage and put a huge hole in your wallet, too. According to FEMA, just 1 inch of water in a home can cost more than $25,000 in damage.

What can you do to protect vour home in the event of a flood? First, make sure you have flood insurance. Some people may think they don't need flood insurance because of where they live. Many may also assume that flooding is included in their homeowners insurance policy when in fact, most homeowners policies do not cover flooding.

Why is that?

A string of flood disasters occurred throughout the '40s, '50s and '60s that put financial tremendous strain on private insurers, so in response, the federal government created the National Flood Insurance Program (NFIP) to protect homeowners, renters and businesses.

Talk to your insurance agent about getting flood insurance through NFIP. Some companies offer additional unique options. For example, Erie Insurance recently began offering a coverage called Extended Water that covers damage caused from flash floods, inland flooding, storm surges, snow melt and more. It covers the home and its foundation, electrical and plumbing systems, air conditioning equipment, furnaces and heaters, appliances and personal possessions, such as clothing and furniture. It even offers coverage if you need to temporarily relocate while your home is being repaired.

"As the frequency of flooding increases, homeowners need to understand that flood insurance is typically not included in their standard homeowners insurance policy, but there are options available," said Michelle Tennant, vice president of product management, Erie Insurance. "Even if you don't live in an area that you think is flood-prone, if it rains or snows, it can flood. That's why it's so important to talk to your agent about your home and your neighborhood, to make sure you have the coverage that's right for you."

To learn more about flood insurance, contact your agent.

As flooding becomes more frequent, make sure that you have the insurance you need to protect your home and belongings.

State School Superintendent Reykdal shares update on K–12 education system

In his annual address on Jan. 9, Superintendent Chris Reykdal shared information about student learning recoveru, student mental health and well-being, graduation and enrollment data, school funding, and more.

> SUBMITTED BY OFFICE OF SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION

OLYMPIA —As the 2023 Legislative Session began, State Superintendent Chris Reykdal described the state of Washington's K-12 education system in an annual public address from the Office of Superintendent of Public Instruction (OSPI) headquarters in Olympia.

In the address, Reykdal provided updates on several topics that are top-of-mind for policymakers, educators, and families alike.

"I am so proud of the progress we have made over the last year," Reykdal said. "Our schools are leveraging onetime federal funds to support student learning and wellbeing recovery in innovative ways, and their tireless efforts have had a tangible impact. However, our students' needs are profound, and they preceded the pandemic."

"Despite having one of the fastest growing economies in America," Reykdal continued, "the state's investment in our public schools is on a troubling downward trend once again while the national average is increasing. I have put forward a package for legislative consideration that would support continued recovery and acceleration for our students and ensure our state is investing at least at the national average."

Brief descriptions of some of the topics covered by the Superintendent are provided below.

Student Learning and Well-Being Recovery

Like their peers across the nation, Washington's students were impacted by the pandemic in countless ways. However, with diligent efforts by students, educators, community partners, students are recovering.

Using their one-time emergency relief funds, school districts across the state are engaging in innovative, evidencebased practices to support student learning and well-being recovery and acceleration. This includes things like dedicated staffing to support students to graduation, free mental health services, access to higher education in high school at no cost to the student, and much more. Districts are on track to spend down all the funds by the September 2024 deadline.

Student Enrollment Data

Early in the pandemic, our earliest grades saw sharp declines in enrollment. At the same time, enrollment for our high school students has remained very steady through the pandemic, even increasing from pre-pandemic numbers for some grades. While the situation for every student and family is unique, transfers to private schools and homeschool peaked during the height of the pandemic in 2020 and have since returned to their pre-pandemic rates.

2022 Graduation Data

The graduation rate for the Class of 2022 remained steady at 82.3%, a small decline of 0.2 percentage points as compared to the Class of 2021. As an increasing number of students have persisted past their fourth vear to earn their diploma, 2022 continued to see near record-high graduation rates for students in their fifth, sixth, and seventh years.

In addition, nearly every student group saw an increase in their 4-year graduation rate, and many persistent opportunity gaps are closing.

School Funding

From 2020 through 2024, the federal government will have invested $2.9 billion in our schools with emergency relief dollars. School districts have spent these flexible dollars to support health and safety, access to educational technology, mental health, academic interventions and support, and more. The majority of the over 9,000 individuals employed with these dollars are paid to provide direct academic support to our students.

to spend all of these dollars before the final deadline. These one-time federal funds make up an average of less than 5% of our school districts' total budgets statewide.

As these one-time temporary funds are spent down in support of students, we must shift our focus to fixing the core challenges that remain in our state's school funding system.

Further Transformation

To support continued progress in student learning and well-being recovery, Superintendent Reykdal has put forward a package of proposals for legislative consideration this session. This includes priorities like fully funding supports for students with disabilities, providing all students with meals at school at no cost to the student, eliminating financial barriers to dual credit programs, ensuring all of Washington's youngest learners have free access to books at home through their fifth birthday, and much more.

School districts are on pace

Students encouraged to enter Radon Poster Contest

Contest aims to raise awareness about radon, its effects. and how to protect your household

SUBMITTED BY WASHINGTON STATE DEPT. OF HEALTH

OLYMPIA - January is Radon Action Month. Students

across the Northwest are encouraged to get creative and raise awareness about the dangers of radon gas by participating in the 2023 Northwest Radon Poster Contest.

Radon is a naturally occurring radioactive gas that can buildup in homes both old and new. Testing is the only way to know if your home has radon because it is colorless, odorless, and tasteless. Long-term radon exposure is the number one cause of lung cancer in nonsmokers and the second-leading cause of lung cancer in smokers.

Contest Information

Youth between the ages of 9 and 14 living in Idaho, Oregon, and Washington are eligible to participate in the poster contest. Students must either be enrolled in a public, private, territorial, tribal, Department of Defense, or home school, or be a member of a sponsoring club, such as scouting, art, computer, science, or 4-H. Only one entry per student is allowed. The contest deadline is March 10 at 11:59 p.m. Winners will be announced by April 17. Find contest submission forms, lesson plans, and rules on the Northwest Radon Poster Contest website: https://healthandwelfare.idaho.gov/northwestradon-poster-contest

First, second, and third place winners will be selected from each state (Idaho, Oregon, and Washington). A regional grand prize will be selected from the winning submissions. First place posters from each state will be submitted to the 2024 National Radon Poster Contest. All participating students will learn about radon and how to reduce their risk of exposure.

The Northwest Radon Poster Contest is sponsored by the Idaho Department of Health and Welfare, Nez Perce Tribe, Oregon Radon Awareness Program, Spokane Tribe of Indians, and Washington Department of Health - Radon Program in collaboration with the Northwest Radon Coalition and U.S. Environmental Protection Agency Region 10.

Boating Program Advisory Council seeks two new members

SUBMITTED BY WASHINGTON STATE PARKS

OLYMPIA - The Washington State Parks and Recreation Commission is seeking two new members to serve on the Boating Program Advisory Council (BPAC). Members of the committee must have experience relevant to the program one from public health and injury prevention, and one from recreational boating education.

The injury prevention specialist is connected to state and national networks in injury prevention and brings expertise in awareness, education, and policy interventions to reduce risk. The second position should be filled by an educator in recreational boating, with experience teaching members of the community in boating safety practices. Focus will be placed on the applicant's expertise in each field - background requirements are flexible.

The deadline for submitting applications will remain open until February 21. The council appointment will be made in the month of March 2023 and the new members will serve a three-year term, with the term ending in February of 2026. Council members are selected from applications and appointed by the Director of the Washington State Parks and Recreation Commission.

The Boating Program Advisory Council is a general advisory committee that assists and advises the Commission on the administration of its Boating Programs, which provides information and education on safe and environmentally sound boating practices to agencies, organizations, and individuals statewide.

The Council meets four times a year at the Washington State Parks Headquarters Office in Tumwater, with a virtual option. Meetings typically occur twice in the spring and twice in the fall and generally run from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Members of the Council may be reimbursed for travel expenses in accordance with State Parks policy.

In addition to the application, candidates are required to submit a letter of interest, a resume, and three references. Interested parties are invited to request an application by contacting Bethany Cram, Boating Program administrative assistant, at (564) 669-0942 or Bethany. Cram@parks.wa.gov

Winter weather recreation safety tips for public lands

SUBMITTED BY U.S. FOREST SERVICE - PACIFIC NORTHWEST REGION, UREAU OF LAND MANAGEMENT - WASHINGTON/ OREGON

PORTLAND, OREGON -The winter recreation season is in full swing, and Bureau of Land Management and U.S. Forest Service officials remind everyone that adventures are better and safer when venturing out well prepared.

Recreation on public lands during winter presents many safety challenges. Recent surges in visitors saw winter travelers put themselves in unsafe situations. Vehicles have been stuck on snow-covered roads and in overcrowded parking areas. Illegal parking has even put public safety at risk by slowing traffic and blocking access routes for emergency vehicles

Carefully plan you expedition, whether it's downhill skiing at a ski area, snowshoeing on open trails, or taking a scenic winter drive along the coast.

How to ensure success? Know before you go. Prepare for adventure and be ready to navigate changing situationsbring the 10 Essentials, pack a winter car kit, and check road and weather conditions before leaving home.

Be in the know for snow:

"Take the time to put together a kit of extra gear, including water, food, warm gloves and clothes, headlamps or flashlights, sleeping bag, and a fire starter," said Shawnee Hinman, the recreation special uses program manager for the Forest Service's Pacific Northwest Region.

Research how to get to a specific location, don't rely on GPS alone.

"Navigation apps may take you on unmaintained roads in the winter." said David Ballenger, BLM Oregon-Washington recreation lead. "Call ahead if you're unfamiliar with road conditions, and always carry a paper map since many areas don't have cell reception."

Remember that travel conditions can vary between your house and your destination. It may be warm in Portland or Seattle, but cold and icy in nearby mountains.

"Have more gear than you are likely to need in case you have to wait out a storm or get stuck in the snow," Hinman said.

DESTINATIONS: Winter recreation sites abound on public lands in the Pacific Northwest:

· Forest Service: Manages 24 million acres of public lands in the region with more than 3,000 outdoor recreation areas, facilities, and programs. View an interactive recreation opportunity map with links to the 11 national forests and grasslands in Oregon; five national forests in Washington, and the Columbia River Gorge National Scenic Area along the border of both states. Find more winter travel tips on the Pacific Northwest Winter Recreation Safety Tips webpage.

Bureau of Land Management: Manages 16 million acres of public lands in Oregon and Washington. Outdoor winter recreation opportunities are plentiful across BLM, with great access to snow at higher elevations. Learn more by visiting https://www.blm.gov/visit.

Sno-Parks in Oregon and Washington: Provide opportunities for general snow play like snowtubing and sledding, nonmotorized activities like crosscountry skiing and snowshoeing, and motorized activities like snowmobiling. Sno-Parks may be located on state or federal land, but a state-issued permit is required, which pays for snow removal and winter facilities maintenance.

· Sno-Park Parking Permits: One-day or seasonal parking permits can be purchased online or through authorized vendors in Oregon and Washington (you must purchase a pass valid for the state you plan to use it in; Oregon and Washington passes are not interchangeable). Display your pass on your vehicle dashboard, visible through the lower-left corner of your windshield.

SAFETY GUIDANCE:Gauge your winter safety awareness and learn how to #RecreateResponsibly.

Preparations, for Weather and More

Research the weather forecast prior to your trip. Weather conditions can vary greatly, especially in the mountain passes. The National Weather Service website is a good place to start. Also check NOAA. Use SNOTEL to view daily and seasonal snow data, by station or basin.

Ensure your snow play activity is permitted at your destination. Remember that snow play is not allowed adjacent to freeway overpasses, exits, and onramps.

• Plan to arrive early to your destination and avoid peak hours, as parking lots fill up quickly. Consider arriving in the afternoon when the first wave of visitors may be leaving. If your destination is unavailable, have a plan B and a plan C.

· Let someone who isn't traveling with you or your group know where you're going and when you expect to return.

Traveling

· Check road conditions before to heading to your destination. Review Oregon's tripcheck.com with live webcams or Washington's real-time travel data.

Check for avalanche conditions through the Northwest Avalanche Center.

Equip your vehicle for winter travel—with tire chains, shovel, first aid kit, blankets, and flashlights. Traveling through mountain passes may require tire chains; make sure your chains fit your vehicle.

• Travel on a full tank of gas and stop frequently for fill-ups; keep your tank at least halffilled as you travel. Fuel stations can be few and far between in some areas. Plan your next stop before you leave your current one.

Most BLM and Forest Service roads are not maintained for winter travel. Many roads close for the season upon the first significant snowfall or on Dec. 1-whichever comes first.

If you find yourself stranded, stay in your car, put on your flashers, call for help, and wait until help arrives.

· Park in authorized areas, only. Do not park along highways! Illegally parked vehicles block emergency vehicle access and interfere with snow removal.

Gear

Dress in layers of warm, waterproof clothing, and pack extra lavers.

Make sure you have the right gear in your car, including an emergency kit with extra food and water in case you become stranded. If going into the backcountry, carry avalanche beacons.

Bring a paper map. Don't rely on your phone for navigation as coverage may be unavailable. Online services, such as Google Maps and Apple Maps, may suggest a route that's closed by snow. You can download USGS and USFS maps to your electronic device using an app, such as Avenza, but you may not be able to recharge your device if you are stranded.
