Lake Chelan Rotary awards three honorary Paul Harris Fellowships

SUBMITTED BY GUY EVANS, LAKE CHELAN ROTARY

CHELAN - The Paul Harris Fellow recognition acknowledges individuals who have contributed or had contributions made in their name of $1,000 to The Rotary Foundation. It is awarded in "appreciation of tangible and significant assistance given for the furtherance of better understanding and friendly relations among peoples of the world."

Lake Chelan Rotary Club has selected three community members to be recognized as honorary Paul Harris Fellows: Viki Downey, Dr. Bob Jankelson, and Ray Eickmeyer have each given much to enrich the Lake Chelan Valley. All three have moved beyond just doing their job into serving a passion for that job.

Viki Downey learned to swim at free swim lessons in Lake Coeur d'Alene, Idaho when she was a child. Her love of swimming became a commitment to American Red Cross Water Safety Instructor qualification and to providing free lessons for anyone wherever she lived. Moving from Coeur d'Alene to Wenatchee in 1961, she began visiting Lake Chelan and later began what has become a 25 year history with swimmers at Manson Bay. In 2011, with help from Judy Phelps, co-owner of Hard Row To Hoe Winery, Viki realized her dream and has been offering free swimming lessons for anyone aged four or above through the Manson Parks organization.

The fun side of Viki's passion is seen in her organization of 8k swims and The Polar Bear Splash in the dead of winter. The rumors are true. She does swim in cold Lake Chelan every day of the year, with exceedingly few exceptions.

Dr. Bob Jankelson thought he was a retired dentist, world authority and lecturer in neuromuscular dentistry when he moved to Chelan in 1994. Retired from that portion of his life, maybe. But a passion for Tuscany and wine and a drive to help out at a low point in the Valley apple industry led him to plant grapes and develop an award winning winery Tsillan Cellars. Making quality wine employing local people has proven to be a very worthwhile venture with the winery being awarded 2020 Winery of the Year in competition with 1,000 other wineries. Bob shares credit with his two winemakers Nic Stevens and Garret Grubbs, along with many others.

The 911 Glass Rescue, Lake Chelan Fire Department Advisory Board, and Senior Housing Project are a few of the local projects and activities that have benefited from his quiet support and enthusiasm.

Ray Eickmeyer met Christina Anthony and married into the Chelan valley from his home in Spokane. His position as Director of Emergency Medical Services (EMS), Para-transit, and Safety and Preparedness Director at Lake Chelan Health Hospital began with training as a volunteer firefighter. The medical aspects intrigued him and led to certification as a paramedic.

Though he did not intend to stay long in this small town, he found opportunities here like no

A Note from the Publisher

Dear Community,

It now has been a year since Owner and Publisher Bill Forhan passed away. Though we had a beautiful memorial service last December, the snow was just too much for very many to travel. My family and I still received many cards, donations, and love from you all. Since it is now close to Thanksgiving, and what would have been our 55th wedding anniversary, I wanted to let you know what great, supportive communities we have. Thank you again for your help in getting me through this past year. Thank you to my great staff and volunteers in Leavenworth, Cashmere, Chelan, and Brewster who continue to really step up to get our monthly Wenatchee Business Journal and our weekly newspapers done. To my correspondent writers and others who stepped up to write local articles to keep us informed about what we are doing in our communities. A big thank you to my church family, St. James Episcopal in Cashmere who have blessed me with their continued support and love. To the Leavenworth Rotarians who blessed me in so many ways, food delivery, cards, cleaning my driveway and roof during the snowmageddon we had last year. Cleaning my yard full of leaves and broken tree branches, going to recycling and the dump, multiple times. Help to deliver the newspapers! My wonderful neighbors who were also there with snowplowing and food. My PEO Chapter JF sisters for the many cards, donations, food, and lots of hugs. I just cannot name everything and everyone that I have been so blessed with, but you know who you are. My family, staff and I wish you all the best for the upcoming Thanksgiving and holidays.

The Community Center celebrates GivingTuesday on Nov. 29 with raffle, legacy options

SUBMITTED BY THE
AT LAKE CHELAN

CHELAN – This GivingTuesday, The Community Center at Lake Chelan will inspire generosity by sharing the dream and telling our story during the popular Second Cup of Coffee program on KOZI Radio at 9:45 a.m. Ways that people can get involved include calling the show, purchasing “Legacy Pavers,” participating in a raffle, securing naming rights to a room or feature of the center, and joining the teen challenge known as “Leave Your Mark.”

GivingTuesday is a global generosity movement, unleashing the power of people and organizations to transform their communities and their world. GivingTuesday will kick off the generosity season this year by inspiring people to give back on November 29, and throughout the year.

The Seven Acres Foundation - formed as a secular non-profit group in the Lake Chelan Valley - is the engine behind The Community Center at Lake Chelan. To date, the foundation has raised pledges and grants of over $15 million for Progress is moving well on the site of The Community Center, with steel erection well underway. The second floor of the main building is being assembled and starting to take shape. A concrete pour was delayed recently, but rescheduled weather dependent and a plastic covering has gone up around the steel, creating an enclosure. This material acts as a weather-resistant barrier to protect the material and crew from cold and frigid elements. They are still on track to complete the construction of a new 44,100 square foot facility, including a 10,000 square foot auditorium to facilitate a full-size basketball court, two practice courts, or three volleyball courts, four indoor pickleball courts, and a community meeting space. The Community Center at Lake Chelan will also include an indoor children's play structure, affordable office space, a 25-yard competition swimming pool, pickleball, sand volleyball, and MORE! The Seven Acres Foundation is confident in the support of the local community in Manson and Chelan and is looking forward to opening the doors. The goal for GivingTuesday is to raise $100,000.

“We are building a center that adds significant value and benefits to this area. Something that has been needed for many years. What makes me thankful about the Community Center is that it will be a hub for all the wonderful efforts in our valley. Organizations that serve our youth and families. Services that invest in our community. Activities that provide a place where we can all go to do good things for our health and well-being.” said Brooke Isaak, vice-president, Seven Acres Foundation to do good. Over the past ten years, this idea has become a global movement that inspires millions to give, collaborate, and celebrate generosity.

People demonstrate generosity in many ways on GivingTuesday. Whether helping a neighbor or stranger out, showing up for an issue or people we care about, or giving to causes we care about, every act of generosity counts. GivingTuesday has raised billions of dollars for critical causes worldwide and gets 21 billion impressions on social media from people and organizations speaking up for the causes that matter to them and encouraging others to get involved in their communities.

“GivingTuesday inspires people all around the world to embrace their power to drive progress around the causes they care about, not just on one day but throughout the year,” said Asha Curran, GivingTuesday's CEO, and co-founder. “With country and community leaders, millions of organizations, and countless givers of all kinds, GivingTuesday is creating a shared space where we can see the radical implications of a more generous world.” Those who are interested in joining The Community Center at Lake Chelan's GivingTuesday initiative can visit <https://ccatlakechelan.org/>

For more details about the GivingTuesday movement, visit the GivingTuesday website (www.givingtuesday.org), Facebook page (<https://www.facebook.com/GivingTuesday>) or follow @GivingTuesday and #GivingTuesday on Twitter.

About Seven Acres Foundation

The Seven Acres Foundation is the result of people and organizations who concern themselves with meeting the urgent and tangible needs of the Lake Chelan Valley and surrounding communities, coming together with a shared dream for a solution. Believing that making a difference in the Lake Chelan Valley was more important than having a place to meet, the original members of this effort quickly realized that they couldn't do it alone. The Seven Acres Foundation was formed as a secular 501(c)(3) that would be the engine behind the Community Center at Lake Chelan and future projects of a similar nature.

About Leave Your Mark

Leave Your Mark is about stepping into something bigger than yourself. It's about investing in your hometown right now and leaving your mark on our valley. We'll do this by inspiring 100 teenagers to give 100 dollars to the Community Center at Lake Chelan.

About GivingTuesday

GivingTuesday is a global generosity movement unleashing the power of radical generosity to transform communities and the world. GivingTuesday was created in 2012 as a simple idea: a day that encourages people to do good. Over the past ten years, it has grown into a global movement that inspires millions to give, collaborate, and celebrate generosity.

Whether it's making someone smile, helping a neighbor or stranger out, showing up for an issue or people we care about, or giving some of what we have to those who need our help, every act of generosity counts, and everyone has something to give. GivingTuesday strives to build a world in which the catalytic power of generosity is at the heart of the society we build together, unlocking dignity, opportunity, and equity around the globe.

THE WASHINGTON OUTDOORS REPORT

A winter bass fishing primer

By JOHN KRUSE, THE WASHINGTON OUTDOOR REPORT

When it comes to catching bass between Thanksgiving and the end of February in the Pacific Northwest it would be fair to say, "The struggle is real". As a matter of fact, my chances of catching a bass at this time of year are about the same as winning the lottery. I have simply not had success (in either endeavor).

That's why I decided to reach out to Glenn May. He is the man behind BassResource.com, a website he launched in 1996 that is full of articles, how-to videos and an active forum. I have been a big fan of Glenn for several years, especially since he films quite a few of his instructional videos at the place I consider to be my home water, Potholes Reservoir.

BassResource.com attracts anglers from all over the nation but Glenn actually lives in Edmonds, Washington and has been bass fishing for 50 years. In addition to fishing for fun he has fished a number of tournaments in the Western United States and has even been a television guest on Lunkerville and the Hank Parker TV Show. Many with his wealth of knowledge and experience would be close-mouthed but Glenn is very approachable and truly wants others to succeed when it comes to catching bass. Here's some questions I posted to Glenn along with some good advice.

WHERE DO THE BASS GO IN WINTER? Glenn says generally speaking the bass go deep, where water temperatures are warmer and more stable. The bass are also following the baitfish they prey upon that are doing the same thing to survive. Generally speaking, they are deeper than 15 feet and may be as deep as 55 feet, but under certain conditions they may come into the shallows.

A case in point would be a reservoir where water levels are drawn down during the winter months. If crawdads are in the reservoir, they will emerge from the mud to get back into the water. The bass know this and will be waiting in the shallows to feed on them when this occurs. Another time bass may come into shallower water is after several consecutive days of warm weather. That's when the baitfish will head to the shallows and the bass will follow them there.

WHY ARE THEY SO HARD TO CATCH IN THE WINTER? Glenn explained the metabolism of bass really slows down during the winter months. Whereas bass might feed seven times a day in the spring and summer, they may only feed once every seven to ten days in the winter. According to Glenn, that goes a long way towards explaining why bites are few and far between, even when you locate bass during the cold weather months.

SLOW DOWN: The forage base bass feed off of, bait fish, sculpins and crawdads, also lower their metabolism and barely move. That's why you want to slow down your presentation when fishing. A prime example of this, slowly dragging your lure across the bottom, with long pauses in between each dragging movement.

LURES AND TECHNIQUES THAT WORK: Glenn has a number of lures he uses to catch bass in the winter. Try dragging a 1/4 to 1/2 ounce football head jig with a five-inch white grub on it along the bottom. In deep water colors don't show up well but the white contrasts better than a dark color, making it easier for the fish to see on the bottom.

As the water gets really cold the perch will ball up into schools and the bass will sit below them, picking off the perch that are dying off and falling out of the bait ball towards the bottom. You can take advantage of this by dropping a 1/2 ounce hair jig through the baitfish ball to where the bass are.

Try a drop shot rig with a four-inch finesse worm. Fish it on the bottom with a very slow presentation, barely moving the bait at all. As for colors, try using a pink worm which works very well this time of year. The drop shot will also work on suspending bass you locate on our fish finder. Drop the finesse worm to where the bass are and just hold it there. The small finesse worm will move around enough on its own to elicit not only attention, but oftentimes, a bite.

If you follow all of this sage advice from Glenn May you should be able to grind out some bites and bass during the holiday season and well into the winter. If you want to find more information about catching bass through all four seasons of the year, go to www.bassresource.com.

AVHRA Employment Law Summit Dec. 8

SUBMITTED BY ROBIN FOWLER, APPLE VALLEY HUMAN RESOURCES

WENATCHEE - Join us December 8 for Apple Valley Human Resources 2022 Employment Law Summit. Below are session details from the upcoming event.

Managing mental illness at work - speaker Kara Craig
Kara Craig is an Employment Attorney at Vigilant Law Group. She provides strategic day-to-day advice and counsel to Washington and Oregon employers on the entire range of employment and labor law issues. She also drafts workplace policies and employment agreements, represents companies in federal and state enforcement agency investigations, develops learning curricula and speaks publicly about the entire range of employment law issues.

As 2022 ends, and the aftermath of COVID-19 lingers, mental health is one of the biggest challenges facing employees and their employers. Unlike physical injuries, mental illness can show up as subtle, erratic behavior that is easy to miss or dismiss until it becomes unhealthy or even dangerous. These challenges are amplified at work, where employers have a duty to protect employees, but to also avoid discrimination.

After attending this training, participants will be able to:

- Capture the attention and buy-in of management regarding the liability and impact of mental health issues at work.
- Identify the signs of a mental health issue, including behavior, appearance, and comments from others.
- Ask mental health questions that are narrow, purposeful, and legal; Apply a checklist approach to a fluid and meaningful interactive process.
- Examine complex, real-life mental health issues using the best practices provided and the most effective agency resources available today.

Four unique holiday gifts the recipient will thank you for later

STATEPOINT - The holiday shopping season is here. What do you give a loved one to show them just how much you care? It's time to think outside the box. Here are four presents you can give to special young people in your life now that they may not appreciate in the moment but will thank you for later.

1. Savings bonds. This is the gift that keeps adding in value. Savings bonds can be purchased for as little as $25 and their value grows over time with interest and as the bond matures. Considered one of the most reliable ways to grow wealth over time, you'll be guaranteeing recipients are able to help fund the important things they want later in life, such as that new car, their college education, first house, wedding or honeymoon.

2. Life insurance. This is probably the last thing on a young person's list of wishes but buying a life insurance policy now when they're young and healthy will ensure coverage later in life when they may not be insurable. Having a life insurance policy through Erie Insurance with a Guaranteed Insurability Option rider (GIO) can bring peace of mind that kids, or grandkids, are covered threatening condition. A policy is an affordable way to protect loved ones and help them pay off debts, living expenses and even medical bills. To learn more about life insurance, contact your agent or visit erieinsurance.com/life-insurance.

3. 529 plan. Anyone who wants to save for a child's education can open or gift money to an existing 529 plan account. The best part is the contributions grow tax free and can be used for K-12 tuition, college expenses and even student loan repayments.

4. T-shirt quilt. For more of a sentimental gift, gather all your kids' old sports or other event t-shirts and turn them into a quilt. They may not love it today as much as they would the hottest gadget, but they'll treasure the memories as time goes on.

"As you look for that perfect gift, don't overlook presents that have long-term benefits," said Louis Colaizzo, senior vice president and division officer of Erie Family Life, Erie Insurance. "Life insurance, along with savings bonds and 529 plans, can put your kids on the path to financial security."

Avoid the holiday crowds at the stores this year and channel your money into a gift your loved ones will truly appreciate for years to come.

Six pains of holiday shipping - solved

STATEPOINT - Unlike Santa, most of us don't have elves to take care of properly packing up holiday packages. With shipping deadlines coming up quickly, it's time to start thinking about getting those presents in the mail. If you don't know where to begin with sending gifts across town or around the world, read on for the most common holiday headaches and solutions to help you "get your ship(ping) together" early.

1. Packages arriving after the First Noel. No one wants to be the person whose gifts arrive after the holidays. That's probably why over a third of respondents to a recent survey conducted by Shurtape Technologies said that the biggest aggravation when it comes to holiday shipping is packages arriving at their destination in a timely manner. Avoid this issue by taking note of shipping deadlines. This year's USPS shipping deadline for standard ground shipping for arrival by Christmas Day is December 17.

2. Festive fragile items being damaged. Leg lamps aren't the only "fra-gee-lay" items being delivered during the holidays. Duck brand Original Bubble Wrap Brand Cushioning is the key to items arriving in one piece. Air Lock Technology maintains consistent cushioning and long-lasting protection to keep objects intact. And of course, you'll want to mark the box as fragile.

3. Costs so high, you think you're on the naughty list. Between purchasing materials and paying postage fees, shipping costs can feel sky-high. Prepare to mail presents by factoring these expenses into your holiday budget. To start, create a list of how many gifts you'll need to send, the anticipated size of each and what materials you already have on hand. However, when
