Traffic revisions coming to two streets this week

Changes should be in place by late Wednesday or Thursday of this week at the intersections of E. Johnson St. and Sanders St. and E. Woodin Ave. The biggest change is a revision to the left lane of eastbound E. Johnson Ave. to include a right turn option onto Sanders St. The above image depicts this new movement. The work started on Monday, May 9 at 7 p.m. and will be completed by Wednesday, May 11 or Thursday, May 12. Crews are working 7 p.m. to 5 a.m. The City of Chelan has contracted Specialized Pavement Marking, Inc. to complete the restriping project. Please be mindful of these traffic revisions while traveling in the area.

LCM Graphic

The changes at the intersection of Woodin Ave. and Sanders St. will be a right turn only lane, from S. Sanders St. onto E. Woodin Ave., and in the 100 block of N. Sanders. In the 100 block of N. Sanders, there will be only 1 lane going north; and will not transition from two lanes down to one. The two south bound lanes of Sanders St., in the 100 block, will be widened to accommodate trucks, busses and other large vehicles turning right from Johnson Ave. onto Sanders St.

Manson Apple Blossom Festival Grand Marshals

By MONA MILLER FERGUSON

Long time residents Gary and Sandy Miller have been named "Grand Marshal's" for the 102nd Manson Apple Blossom Festival.

Both Gary & Sandy have been very active in the local community after moving here in 1960. They bought and operated the family apple orchard in 1963 and sold it in 1982 to Jim Koenig who currently owns "Rootwood Cider".

After the orchard sold, Gary was hired by the U.S. Post Office and became the local mailman for 26 years. Sandy worked at Chelan Valley Mirror, KOZI, Allison's, Lake Chelan Sports and the Manson Building Supply.

When Gary retired, they decided to join the Manson Farmers Market. Gary has always had a green thumb which he inherited from his mom (also a long-time resident of Manson, Wanda Miller). Gary is known for his beautiful tomatoes and dried cinnamon apples while Sandy is world famous for her delicious apple pies. They make a great team after 60 years of marriage! Sandy joined Apple Blossom as secretary in 1966 and has since performed many of the committee jobs including the Chicken Noodle Dinner for many years. Sandy was also named Chairman for the 64th Apple Blossom Festival. Gary and Sandy's three daughters were past royalty, and their son, Tim, was an escort for Princess Jennifer Allison. Gary and Sandy love living in Manson and keep busy with the garden, yard work, travel and grandkids. Sandy has belonged to a group of lady friends that have walked every inch of Manson for around 25 plus years. They have four children, Susie Fox (Manson), Kathy Jackson (Monroe), Mona Ferguson (Chelan) and Tim Miller (Jupiter, FL), eleven grandchildren and 6 great-grandchildren. Thank you Gary and Sandy Miler for all your community support.

OBITUARIES

Michele Boyd

Chelan, Washington
Formerly of
Edmonds, Washington
Mother, grandmother, wife, sister, teacher, soccer coach, and referee, Michele L. Boyd, passed away in her beautiful home at Lake Chelan, Washington, on April 27, 2022. Michele Louise Drake was born in 1943, (she claimed 1944 for years) and was raised in the Portland, Oregon, area with her parents and two sisters. She met the love of her life, Terry Boyd, at Seattle University and they married in 1964. They loved each other deeply for the next 57 years while she raised five children, and loved her 12 grandchildren and 2 great-grandchildren. Other than her family, Michele's greatest love in her life was education. She taught in local school systems where she lived (Edmonds, Washington, Boise, Idaho, and Manson, Washington), loved coaching her daughter's soccer teams (BK girls State Champs 1986 and 1987), and being a National Level soccer referee instructor. Further, she loved teaching herself- how to paint, how to play the guitar and hammered dulcimer, how to quilt and crochet, how to draw, and how to share those gifts with others. She used these gifts as a parishioner of St. Francis de Sales Catholic Church in Chelan, as a member of the women's guild and choir. Most notable to everyone who knew her was her presence. It was amazing how this 5'0 (actually 4'11) bundle of energy was always the biggest presence in the room.

Michele was predeceased by her parents, Lorne and Sylvaine Drake; sister, Lorene Sheppard; daughter-in-law, Michele Boyd; and daughter, Dana Marie Boyd.
She is survived by her adoring family, husband, Terry Boyd; sister, Pamela Drake; children: Scot Boyd, Kevin Boyd and wife, Kristi, Kellie J. Campbell and husband, Doug, and Daren Boyd and wife, Sandy; grandchildren: Makayla Boyd, Corin Campbell, Rian Boyd, MacGregor Boyd, Drake Campbell, Coleman Boyd, Jamicen Boyd, Brendan Boyd, Griffin Campbell, Keegan Boyd, Chloe Boyd, and Kaiya Boyd; great-grandchildren: Briilynne Tremmel and Delani Boyd; and seven nieces and nephews.

On behalf of Terry, the family is thankful for all of the expressions of caring and love for her and our family.
Services will be held on May 21, 2022, at St. Francis de Sales Catholic Church, 215 W. Allen Ave., Chelan, Washington, at 12 noon. In lieu of flowers, donations in Michele's name to any of the following would be greatly appreciated.
National Scleroderma Foun-

ation at <https://scleroderma.org>, Chelan Valley Hope at <https://chelanvalleyhope.org>, Seattle University at <https://www.seattleu.edu/giving>, and National Philanthropic Educational Organization, PEO Chapter GR, 1196 Bear Mtn. Rd., Chelan, WA, 98816.
Our lasting memories of Michele will be the unending love between Terry and her, especially during these last trying years. Their relationship has been an unforgettable example of love and grace during the difficulties of life. We can all aspire to love as deeply. "Mom", "Grammie", "Ammie", "Nanna", "Michele", and "Wife", you will always be adored.

National Hospital Week
May 8-14 and its "We Are Health Care" theme.

National Hospital Week is an opportunity to highlight our hospitals, health systems, and health care workers and the innovative ways they are supporting and connected to their community.
Hospitals find innovative ways to support the needs of patients and community; this is especially important during surges of COVID-19. During National Hospital Week and all weeks, we recognize the 5,000 hospitals, health care systems, networks, and others who provide care to their community.

Cam Elder's strong dash of whimsy in her depictions of nature is just the right note for the month of May.

Elder is Heritage Heights artist of the month

SUBMITTED BY WENDY ISENHART, HERITAGE HEIGHTS BOARD MEMBER
CHELAN - Lake Chelan Arts Council board member Cam Elder's paintings are now on display at Heritage Heights on their local artists' wall just inside the front door. They will be available to the public for free viewings through the month of May.
Drawing and painting have been a part of Cam's life as long as she can remember. Her talent came naturally as her only formal training was a single semester of watercolor at Wenatchee Valley College in the late 1970's. It's clear she knows her way around a paintbrush as she won several art awards in high school, and not long after, did covers and wrote monthly articles for a regional horse magazine out of the Tri-Cities. Art groups were a place to share her interest and Cam's been a member of several art groups as she moved from Seattle to Hood River to Chelan where she now lives.
Cam's strong dash of whimsy in her depictions of nature is just the right note for May. Please make a courtesy call for a convenient time to visit at 509-682-1998. The art show is free to the public.

Goats finish regular season with 18 wins and 3 losses

The Goats traveled to Quincy on Tuesday to close out the 2022 regular season, coming away with an 8 to 1 victory over the Jacks.

Junior lefty Braiden Boyd got the start on the mound, tossing 6 innings of one hit ball, while striking out 15 opponents in dominating fashion. It was Boyd's 8th win of the season.

The offense saw Ethan Kehl, Colt Funk, Quin McLaren and Noah Loew record multi-hit games for the Goats in a well-balanced attack. Loews hits included a long home run to center field in the 3rd inning that provided the spark for the Goats offense.

Goats Baseball secures 3rd Consecutive League Title

The Chelan Goats baseball team won its 3rd consecutive Caribou Trail League title on Saturday by virtue of two convincing wins over the Cascade Kodiaks at Mountain Goat Field. The day started off in a steady mist, but that couldn't dampen the spirits of the players and fans in attendance who were there to witness the Goats advance their season record to 17 wins against only 3 losses.

Game one saw senior Reed Stamps take the mound for his last home start, and he responded with an 11 strikeout no hitter to earn the win, and secure the CTL title for the Goats.

On offense, fellow senior Quin McLaren led the way with two hits, including a clutch bases loaded double that cleared the bases with 3 RBIs.

Game two saw McLaren take the mound earning the win. McLaren and sophomore Lukas Hollenbeck combined to strike out 16 Kodiaks allowing only 4 hits in the ballgame. The Goats potent offense was on full display in game two, with Ethan Strandberg, Noah Loew, Colton Funk, Austin McCardle each getting two hits. Loew smashed a LONG home run to left field in the first inning to get the Goats started. But the star of the day was Quin McLaren, who got the win on the mound, and added three hits, three RBIs, including a line drive laser shot home run over the center field wall.

Goats Lose Non League game to Brewster, Season Record now stands at 15-3

The Goats traveled to Brewster on Thursday to play a determined Bears team in a non-league contest, and came up on the losing end by a score of 5-3. Noah Loew took the mound for the Goats, working hard, and striking out 8 Bears in 4 1/3 innings.

Unfortunately, that wasn't enough to hold off a fired up Bears team that made some great plays, and were on top of their game. The Goat offense was held to just 5 hits, with senior Reed Stamp getting 3 of them, including a long home run over the left center field fence that put the Goats on top by a score of 2 to 0. In the 4th inning. The Bears answered in their half of the inning with one run, and scored again in the 5th inning, adding 3 more runs in the sixth to earn the victory.

Boys tying Wenatchee for team honors, both coming in with 375, and Quincy girls taking team honors for the girls with a 430 score. Medalist for the boys was Chelan senior Joey Gasper with an 81, with teammate Carson Clinton chasing him with an 82. For the girls, Wenatchee's Jaycie Moubray took medalist honors with an 89. Showing some great improvements were Chelan's Kira Sandoval with a personal best 103, and Arabelle Finch getting back in form with a 99.

Tuesday, May 10 we split our varsity teams and sent some to a tournament at Suncadia and sent the rest to a practice round on the Quincy course where we will play our league championship match on May 17 and also determine state qualifiers. The state competition will be held on two courses in the Spokane area, with practice rounds Monday, May 23, and two competition rounds on Tuesday, May 24 and Wednesday, May 25.]

Chelan at Cascade

In one of our better showings for the year, Chelan boys broke the 350 team score mark with a 347 and had 5 of our 6 varsity boys shooting under 100. Leading the pack and medalist for the day was Carson Clinton with a 5-over par 76. His nearest competition was teammate Joey Gasper with an 81. It was a great day to be playing golf with the weather finally seasonably warm, sunny and downright beautiful!

For the girls, Cascade's Zoe Boggs took medalist honors with a 112. Chelan's Arabelle Finch struggled on several holes, but still came in right behind Zoe with a 115 for the day.

Chelan's last home match will be this Thursday when we will have our Senior Recognition and honor our two senior boys and host Wenatchee and Quincy for a match.

These victories secured the regular season CTL titles for both the girls' and boys' squads

Girls: Chelan 3, Cashmere 2
#1 Singles: Lauren Kert (Cash) def Caelan Rothlisberger 6-0, 6-0
#2 Singles: Faith Kert (Cash) def Makayla Griffith 6-0, 6-0
#3 Singles: Maya Cowan (Che) def Reese Westlund 6-1, 6-3
#1 Doubles: Ally Williams/Arden Paglia (Che) def Ashlyn Reichert/Sydney Young 6-0, 6-1
#2 Doubles: Yuly Nunez/Marissa Manda (Che) def Maddy Krieger/Izzy Hansch 6-3, 7-6 (7-5)

This victory capped an undefeated CTL regular season for the girls. If Cashmere had won, Chelan and Cashmere would have shared the CTL championship with equal records of 7-1. I was very, very, very, impressed by the performance of our varsity swing players tonight, who were filling in for some key varsity regulars who were gone. They leveled up, and that was the key to the team victory.

Boys: Chelan 5, Cashmere 0

#1 Singles: Nate Harding def JJ Groner 1-6, 6-1, 6-1
#2 Singles: Teagen Moody def Zeke Lewis 6-2, 3-6, 6-4
#3 Singles: Cody Sanderson def Josh Dotson 6-0, 6-1
#1 Doubles: Charlie Bordner/Rylen Moody def Julian Hernandez/Reed Lewis 7-5, 6-4
#2 Doubles: Luke Christopherson/Sam Bordner def Micah Guerin/Eli Lyons 6-2, 6-2

The boys finished 7-1 on the regular season, one game ahead of Cascade. This match was also an improvement over the 4-1 Chelan victory from round one versus Cashmere this season. I love seeing that improvement.

Chelan JV wins:

Ellie McLemore/Josie Garfoot won 8-2
Melissa Gonzalez/Cathy Mercado won 8-4
Aiden Avery/Mason Davis won 8-4
Josh Antonio/Pablo Ramirez won 8-1
Caleb & Tristan Sanderson won 8-2
Oscar Cardenas/Sawyer Jeffries won 8-0

Next up: the CTL Tournament (the qualifier for the district layer of the postseason) will be played in Quincy on Thursday, May 12 and Saturday, May 14.

Illegal immigrants wait to be magistrates on trespassing charges in Kinney County outside the Sheriff's Office in Brackettville, Texas, on Aug. 6, 2021.

Illegal Aliens Sue Texas Officials After Arrests for Trespassing

CHARLOTTE CUTHBERTSON

KINNEY COUNTY, Texas—A group of illegal aliens has filed a lawsuit against Texas officials for alleged constitutional violations within the governor's Operation Lone Star criminal trespass program.

The lawyers for the 15 plaintiffs hope to turn the case into a class action lawsuit on behalf of more than 2,000 illegal immigrants whom they say have been over-incarcerated; arrested based on race, immigration status, or national origin; as well as denied due process.

"In particular, the Plaintiffs and the Class Members have suffered a common cause of injury, namely the violation of their Fourth Amendment and Fourteenth Amendment rights," the lawsuit states.

"Using state criminal law, the state of Texas and participating counties have created, and are carrying out what is, in reality, a system of state immigration enforcement that targets Black and Brown—primarily Latino—individuals for prosecution and enhanced punishment."

The lawyers are seeking $18,000 per day for each inmate that is found to have been unlawfully incarcerated or unlawfully reincarcerated. They also seek an injunction to discontinue the Operation Lone Star program.

The lawsuit was filed in the U.S. District Court for the Western District of Texas, Austin division.

Operation Lone Star (OLS) was launched in March 2021, and Gov. Greg Abbott beefed up the number of Texas state troopers on border roads to inter-

Kinney County Sheriff Brad Coe in Brackettville, Texas, on Jan. 18, 2022.
CHARLOTTE CUTHBERTSON/
THE EPOCH TIMES

[Operation Lone Star] targets only migrants, and only men of brown or black skin.

Lawsuit representing 15 illegal immigrants cept smuggling operations and Texas National Guardsmen to augment security and observation along the border.

The program was expanded in June last year to allow for illegal immigrants trespassing on private or state land to be arrested and prosecuted. The OLS budget funded jail space for alleged illegal immigrant trespassers, defense counsel, and prosecution resources.

Kinney County and neighboring Val Verde County in south Texas were the first to begin the trespass prosecutions under OLS, and since then, seven more counties have joined, including Edwards, Frio, Jim Hogg, Kimble, Maverick, Uvalde, and Zavala.

Kinney County and its sheriff, Brad Coe, are listed as defendants in the lawsuit, along with Abbott, Texas Department of Public Safety (DPS) Director Steve McCraw, and DPS Executive Director Bryan Collier.

"Under the guise of state criminal trespass law but with the explicit, stated goal of punishing migrants based on their immigration status, Texas officials are targeting migrants," the lawsuit alleges. "OLS targets only migrants, and only men of brown or black skin."

"Hundreds of those arrested have waited in jail for weeks or months without a lawyer, or without charges, or without bond, or without a legitimate detention hold or without a court date."

County Attorney Brent Smith said his small county has struggled to keep up with the volume of prosecutions—he went from about six cases per month to more than 30 per day.

But, he said, the law has safeguards in place to protect alleged criminals.

"For instance, a writ of habeas corpus hearing is triggered when more than 30 days elapses before there's a complaint filed. And when that occurs, they're eligible to get a reduced bond or a PR bond," Smith said in an earlier interview.

Regarding the lawsuit, Smith told The Epoch Times on May 2 that "it reads more like the liberal media propaganda than something based in actual law and fact."

He spurned the racial profiling allegation. "Nowhere in the entire complaint can they point out where we didn't arrest someone because they were white or non-Hispanic or non-Latino. If you're breaking the law, you get arrested," he said.

Coe said he's heard about the lawsuit but hasn't been served or seen it yet.

"It's kind of hard to profile when a) you can't see inside the vehicles, everybody has tinted windows. And b) it's hard to profile when you're sitting there waiting for somebody to show up and a group of 10 shows up and they're all Mexicans. So how is that profiling?" Coe told The Epoch Times on April 29.

"We're protecting citizens, we're protecting landowners, so I don't really see it going anywhere, but we'll see what happens."

Lt. Christopher Olivarez, DPS spokesman for the south Texas region, told The Epoch Times via email that "the department does not discuss pending litigation."

Border Security

The Texas legislature has approved nearly $3.5 billion for OLS since September last year.

Since its inception, the program has been condemned by state Democrats, organizations such as the American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU), and lawyer groups for illegal immigrants.

A group of 50 Democrats in the Texas House of Representatives wrote a letter in January urging the departments of Justice and Homeland Security to investigate the program. The ACLU filed its own 50-page complaint to the Department of Justice in December 2021.

"Operation Lone Star uses state criminal law to target Black and Latino migrants for punishment," the Democrats' Jan. 26 letter to the federal agencies alleges.

"Anti-immigrant hate is on the rise in Texas, and state and local officials are fanning the flames," the ACLU stated in its complaint.

Abbott has defended the program, saying it "continues to fill the dangerous gaps left by the Biden administration's refusal to secure the border."

"Every individual who is apprehended or arrested and every ounce of drugs seized would have otherwise made their way into communities across Texas and the nation due to President Biden's open border policies," Abbott said in a statement on April 29.

Abbott, a Republican, declared a state of disaster on May 31, 2021, as the crisis escalated. This meant most misdemeanor charges of trespassing were elevated from a Class B to a Class A misdemeanor, which carries a higher penalty. The charge is also elevated if the individual has a deadly weapon or is found more than 100 feet past the property line on agricultural land.

The illegal aliens arrested on ranches in Kinney County aren't turning themselves over to Border Patrol and seeking asylum, Smith said.

"They're being smuggled across. And then whenever law enforcement locates them, they're running. They're not trying to surrender at all," Smith told The Epoch Times in an earlier interview.

"If they were trying to claim asylum, they'd be doing that at the port of entry, or the first law enforcement they come to. But instead, they're evading law enforcement—and they're destroying property while they do it."

Kinney County has prosecuted more than 2,885 illegal aliens for trespassing and evading arrest since August last year, as well as several U.S. citizens.

The county only has 14 male-only jail spaces, which are perpetually full. So the aliens are booked and appear before a magistrate at a tent facility in neighboring Val Verde County.

From Val Verde, troopers transport them 100 miles away to the Briscoe Unit in Dilley, Texas, which has been repurposed to detain almost 1,000 illegal aliens who are waiting for their court cases and serving out their sentences. The Segovia Unit in Edinburg, Texas, has also been repurposed for OLS detainees.

Kinney County's first jury trial is scheduled for May 9, after several aliens pleaded not guilty to their trespass charges.

Border Patrol agents made more than 1.3 million apprehensions of illegal aliens in Texas in 2021. An additional half million are estimated to have evaded capture.

With 63 Potential Leakers, Calls Grow to 'Figure Out Who Is Responsible' for SCOTUS Leak

MARK TAPSCOTT

Supreme Court justices should immediately issue their official opinion in Dobbs v. Jackson following the bombshell leak of a draft opinion in the case that would overturn Roe v. Wade, according to a key figure in recent major congressional judicial battles.

The leaked draft indicates that five justices agreed, at least as of the February date of the draft, in deciding Dobbs v. Jackson to undo the 1973 Roe v. Wade decision. Doing so would return the power to decide abortion policy to state governments. The result would be that abortions would become generally available in some states and much less available, or perhaps not at all, in other states.

"Over the past several years, we have watched the radical left become increasingly brazen in their attempts to delegitimize and bully our nation's highest court," Article III Project (A3P) founder and President Mike Davis said. "This unprecedented leak is a stunning, shameful, and likely illegal attempt to obstruct the court's deliberations on a pending case, and it puts the lives of the Justices in danger."

He said in a statement issued shortly after Politico published the draft opinion that "to prevent any further harm, the Court must issue its decision immediately, and an investigation must be launched to determine who is responsible."

Davis was chief counsel for nominations for then-Senate Judiciary Committee Chairman Chuck Grassley (R-Iowa) and led the Republican staff during the Senate confirmation battles for Justice Brett Kavanaugh and a record number of U.S. Circuit Court judges nominated by former President Donald Trump.

He founded A3P as a nonprofit advocate for "constitutionalist judges and the rule of law."

Supreme Court Chief Justice John Roberts shouldn't hesitate to ask the FBI to investigate the leak and to help in an overall assessment of the third branch's internal security management capabilities, Heritage Foundation Senior Legal Fellow Hans von Spakovsky told The Epoch Times.

"The Chief Justice should immediately ask the FBI to investigate this shocking breach of the confidentiality of the work done by the Court. It could not function without that confidentiality, any more than a law firm could function if it had law clerks who leaked the firm's internal communications, work product, and privileged materials," von Spakovsky said.

Asked if the high court should establish a Sensitive Compartmented Information Facility (SCIF), a "safe room" with limited and supervised access for the law clerks who do much of the research and opinion drafting for the nine justices, the constitutional law expert said that "Roberts, as part of his investigation to find out who did this, needs to get recommendations from the Marshal of the Court and the FBI on anything that can be done to strengthen the security protocols of the court. I don't know if they need to go to a SCIF-like safe room, but they clearly need recommendations from their security people on what can be done to prevent this."

Von Spakovsky said he believes that the leak originated from "a very radical, activist clerk who wants to stir up liberal hysteria to intimidate and pressure the justices to uphold the Roe decision and help progressives in the November elections.

Roberts said in a May 3 statement that he's directing the Marshal of the Court to investigate the leak, but the chief justice provided no details on the scope of the effort, the resources that will be available to it, or if the FBI or other executive branch law enforcement agencies will be involved. The Marshal of the Court is separate from the U.S. Marshals Service and oversees the Court's 200 security officers.

Each of the nine Supreme Court justices has four law clerks and three administrative aides, all of whom would have some level of access to draft opinions and other internal documents related to decisions, for a total of 63 potential suspected leakers, as well as an unknown number of information technology people who might have access.

Davis said he has "absolute confidence that Roberts will protect the integrity of the court," but that doing so requires that there be no congressional or executive branch investigative activity, except as requested.

"No, you don't want them sticking their noses in this thing," regardless of which party controls Congress or the executive branch, Davis said. "We have the first constitutionalist majority on the Supreme Court in 90 years. We have to protect that; we don't want either of the political branches to meddle in the internal proceedings of the Supreme Court."

"It's just not practical, you need to have back-and-forth on these decisions every day," he said about the practicality of a court SCIF. "This is the first leaked opinion in the Court's history; this is not the norm."

By contrast, Judicial Watch President Tom Fitton told The Epoch Times that "you should use every tool at your disposal to figure out who is responsible for the leak. Similarly, Congress should as well, because all of the branches of government have an interest in, and a duty to protect, the constitutional structure of our system, so this attack on the court is an attack on the rule of law."

Fitton said, depending on the specifics of the situation once the leaker is identified, there are several laws that may have been broken.

"It's obviously an obstruction of justice," he said. "Think of the laws that are being pursued against the Jan. 6 insurgents for trying to obstruct a congressional proceeding."

The biggest issue now confronting the Court is whether the internal trust and confidence required to have honest and open legal debates in reaching a decision have been lost as a result of the leak, according to First Liberty Institute President Kelly Shackelford.

Should you take a calcium supplement

Q: Should I be taking calcium pills for my bones? 65-year-old Janet has fallen several times in the past 5 years. Unfortunately, each of those falls caused broken bones. She has broken both her right and left thigh and left wrist, each requiring surgery to put them back together.

Janet has osteoporosis, or "thin bones." She went through menopause at age 40, and ever since, she has been losing bone mass. After her second fracture, Janet's doctor started her on a bone-building medicine and recommended that she take a calcium supplement every day.

Calcium helps keep our bones healthy, but it has other critical jobs: your muscles, nerves, and blood vessels depend on calcium to work properly. Each time your heart beats and you take a breath, your heart and chest muscles are working to keep you alive and well. However, suppose you don't have enough calcium available for your muscles. When that happens, your body will grab for more calcium, taking it from your bones. Your skeleton is like a cash machine, but for calcium, instead of $20 bills. If your body needs to find more calcium frequently, those withdrawals of calcium will eventually weaken your bones. As your bones become thinner, you will be more likely to break your wrist, hip, or other bones when you fall. How much calcium do you need? The Institute of Medicine recommends 1000mg daily of calcium for men and women up to age 50 and 1200mg for all adults over age 50. Most postmenopausal women get only 600-900mg of calcium daily through their food and need an additional 300-600mg of calcium daily from some other source. More calcium is NOT necessarily better. Recent studies have shown that you can actually get TOO MUCH calcium, increasing your risk of heart attack or stroke. It's suspected that taking a calcium supplement may damage blood vessels when concentrated calcium tablets cause your blood calcium level to spike. Taking large doses of calcium supplements can also encourage the formation of painful kidney stones. For best results, get as much of your calcium from your food as possible instead of just from calcium pills. Calcium carbonate is the most concentrated form of calcium supplement available but can cause constipation. Calcium citrate is absorbed better and also a better choice if you take an acid-blocking medicine like Prilosec® (omeprazole) for heartburn. Weight-bearing exercises like walking and eating dried plums also improve your bone strength.

Here are 5 tips on building bones with calcium:

- 1. Eat calcium-rich foods. Most people get about 300mg of calcium daily from non-dairy sources. There is 300mg of calcium per serving of dairy products, including milk, yogurt, and cheese. Green vegetables, oranges, and figs also contain calcium. You also can use the Calcium Calculator, available both as a phone app for iPhone and Android phones and online at The International Osteoporosis Foundation website www.iofbonehealth.org at their Quick Links. 2. If you take a bone-building medicine like Fosamax® (alendronate), Actonel® (risedronate), or Boniva®, you should also take a calcium supplement. Bone-building medicines increase how much bone your body puts into your skeleton. You need enough calcium in your blood for these medicines to work for you. For most women, it means taking a calcium supplement. 3. Avoid taking more than 500mg of calcium supplement at the same time. Your body will absorb calcium better at this lower dose. This limit will also prevent a "spike" in your calcium levels. This helps avoid increasing your risk of heart attack and stroke from elevated calcium levels in your blood. 4. Get 400 IU of Vitamin D every day. Vitamin D is necessary to help your body absorb calcium and may help prevent falls in the elderly. You can get vitamin D from exposing your skin to the sun. Foods rich in calcium include salmon (800 IU per 3 ounces), canned tuna (150 IU per 3 ounces), fortified milk (about 120 IU per 4 ounces), and fortified orange juice (80 IU per 4 ounces). 5. Consider dried plums to build bone. In multiple studies over the past 7 years, postmenopausal women who ate 50 grams of dried plums daily (5-6 large dried plums) had very little bone loss. Despite the extra calories, their weight and blood sugar remained stable, most likely because of the high fiber content of the plums. Janet wanted to add plums (also called prunes) to her diet. Because of their laxative effect, I suggested she start out eating 1-2 plums daily, increasing it by 1-2 plums every week.
