Community Development releases new short-term rental statistics

Data shows some parts of Chelan County have reached STR caps

SUBMITTED BY JILL M. FITZSIMMONS, CHELAN COUNTY PIO

WENATCHEE - After reviewing hundreds of short-term rental applications from existing operations, Chelan County Community Development has a better picture of which areas of the county have hit caps set on short-term rentals and which areas still have room for growth.

The Short-Term Rental Code, passed last year, established caps in most areas of the county's unincorporated and urban growth areas (UGA). Most caps are set at 6 percent of the total housing stock. The exception is in the Manson UGA, which has a 9 percent cap. The caps apply only to residential zoning districts.

"The caps were a key discussion point with the Short-Term Rental Task Force, which met in 2021 to help us develop the code. The task force was made up of short-term rental owners and people representing the interests of residential neighborhoods and housing affordability in our county," said Chelan County Commissioner

Tiffany Gering. "The caps were included in the new code to strike a balance between the two interests now and into the future."

By March 15 of every year, Community Development must determine the share of short-term rentals to the overall housing stock and whether any new short-term rental applications will be accepted for the following year in each zip code and urban growth area where the cap is not exceeded, according to the code.

The numbers show that all of the 98826 zip code area (Leavenworth, Lake Wenatchee and Plain) is over the cap as well as the urban growth area of Peshastin. Numbers also show that the Manson and Manson UGA area, which have 6 percent and 9 percent caps respectively, still have room for new short-term rentals.

The current numbers, which will be updated monthly, are posted on the county's website at www.co.chelan.wa.us/community-development/pages/short-term-rental-statistics

Community Development has granted 657 provisional permits so far and has about a dozen more applications from existing businesses that are in the partial phase of being approved for a provisional permit, said Kirsten Ryles, manager of the Short-Term Rental Division for the department.

Tiffany Gering, Chelan County Commissioner

In addition, the department is reviewing about 185 new applications that have been submitted so far, she said.

"By June 30, we expect to have full reviews completed of those provisional permits and the new Tier 1 applications," Ryles said. "The provisional permits are not a guarantee that a business will be permitted, so those numbers in each of the areas may change, potentially opening up spots in some areas."

In those areas where the cap is exceeded, an operation that was classified as "existing" during the provisional phase will continue to be allowed to operate, as long as they meet final permitting criteria.

New applicants who have applied to an area where the cap has been reached can re-apply in 2023 for a 2024 permit if room opens in that area. If room opens in an area that has reached its cap, Community Development will open an application window annually June 1-July 31. Applications from this year will not be rolled over to the new year.

The provisional permits also show that the majority of applicants, more than 80 percent, are categorized as Tier 2. As a reminder:

• Tier 1: These short-term rentals are owner-occupied, are allowed no more than 8 people and do not fall under any caps. They also are not counted in any caps.

• Tier 2: These short-term rentals are non-owner occupied, are allowed no more than 12 people and are subject to the limits set in some areas.

• Tier 3: These short-term rentals can be owner or non-owner occupied, are allowed no more than 16 people and are subject to the limits set some areas.

In other short-term rental news, Community Development recently hired a code enforcement liaison who will work with the Short-Term Rental Division. The new office employee begins April 1.

2020 (used for 2022 application window)

Update: Chelan County to comply with State Board on Short-Term Rental Code

GMB finds error within public process in 2021

BY MEGAN SOKOL, STAFF WRITER

WENATCHEE - Chelan County has been reprimanded by the Washington Growth Management Board after failing to give current short-term rental (STR) owners a yearlong grace period in order to adjust to restrictions made in the 2021.

The Growth Management Board (GMA) ruled that "the County failed to comply with the GMA's public participation requirements" and mistakenly labelled a material revision as a "scrivener's error" and adopted the final ordinance into STR code back in the summer of 2021.

A group of 60 petitioners titled the "Community Lodging Operators of Chelan County" filed a petition for review back in Sep. 29, 2021. The final decision and order was made on March 24, 2022. Chelan County has until September 26 to comply with the GMA's decision.

Chelan County declined to comment at this time, due to this being an ongoing issue.

Regional Port Authority board member Rory Turner announces resignation

District #3 includes Chelan, Manson and Entiat

WENATCHEE - Rory Turner, Commissioner representing Port of Chelan County District #3 and Chelan Douglas Regional Port Authority Board Member, has announced his intention to resign effective April 30.

One of Commissioner Turner's lasting impacts will be his support and leadership in the formation of the Chelan Douglas Regional Port Authority in 2019. Commissioner Turner supported a regional approach to economic development.

The position will be publicly advertised, and the Board will soon approve a timeline and process for appointing a new Commissioner.

Port of Chelan County District #3 encompasses the communities of Chelan, Manson, Entiat and the North portion of the City of Wenatchee. The appointed person will serve until the November 2023 election.

Kenneth Gordon Ross Sr.

December 12, 1929 - March 7, 2022

Kenneth Gordon Ross Sr. passed away March 7, 2022 at the age of 92. Ken was born in Bothell, Washington December 12, 1929 along with a twin brother, Keith, to William and Olga Ross. He lived a full and interesting life.

Ken worked for Boeing for a short period prior to entering the U.S. Army in 1951, where he served for approximately two years. After being discharged he went to work for Pacific Power and Light Company in Seattle. It was there he met the love of his life, Mary. They married in 1955 and lived in Redmond, Washington where they began raising two sons. In the early 60's they moved to Dryden, Washington where Ken worked with his father-in-law in construction. In 1965 they moved to Leavenworth, where he began a long career with the U.S. Forest Service as a wildland firefighter. His career with the Forest Service took him and the family to many locations over the years. From Leavenworth they moved to Glide, Oregon, and later to Walla Walla. In 1981 they moved from Walla Walla to Laurel, Montana, then to Orofino, Idaho where he retired in 1986. After retirement they moved to Chelan, Washington and promptly started a complete remodel/rebuild project on an older home which kept them busy for the next few years. While in Chelan they were involved with recycling groups and the Chelan Museum. In 2015 they sold their home in Chelan and moved to Redmond, Oregon to be closer to family. During his lifetime he and Mary made many lasting friendships.

Ken loved hunting, fishing, hiking, camping, traveling and feeding the birds. He was able to hunt with family until he was 90. He also loved music and enjoyed working on his 1937 Ford pickup that he acquired in the mid 50's.

Ken was preceded in death by his parents, 4 brothers, and 3 sisters.

He is survived by his loving wife Mary, his sons Ken Jr. (Karen), Karl (Traci), three step-grandchildren, 2 brothers, Dick and Jerry, along with many nieces, nephews and close friends who were like family.

Ken was a devoted husband, wonderful father and father-in-law, and friend to many. He will be deeply missed by all.

No services are planned at this time. A Celebration of Life will be planned at a later date.

Manson High School Trojan Baseball

Opening day practice for the 2022 high school baseball season was Monday, February 28.

Last season, Manson Trojan Baseball played only eight games, but now the Trojans are at the beginning of a fully scheduled season for the first time in two years.

The Trojans' home field at Singleton Park and the weather have been dialing in for Spring for weeks now—steadily melting a deep snow pack with warming temperatures, but a cold snap put the brakes on the thaw, and with snow still covering most of the diamond, early season practices will start indoors.

This year's seniors are: Conner Clausen, Alex Solorio, and Cash Walsh.

Conner Clausen, a returning captain, and a 5 year player, will likely hit first in the order and see time at catcher, short stop and pitcher.

Alex Solorio, also a returning captain, and a 5th year player, will man a lefty 1st base and also toe the rubber while looking to add power and RBI's to the lineup.

Cash Walsh is a first year player for the Trojans and is looking to be a wildcard for the Trojans.

Look for returners junior Blake Orton, freshman William Hutchinson, and junior Colton Vivian to add offense and play key roles this season.

Sophomore Carter Lyman looks to be a strong, young pitcher and the early favorite for the opening day starter nod. Watch for defensive contributions from junior Marvin Valdez, and three exciting freshman: Oscar Valdez, Shane Orton and Stephen Bercier. Eighth graders are allowed to play varsity baseball at the 2B level, and the Trojans have a solid group turning out in Colby Schoenwald, Jerry Villasenor, Rock England and Liam Walsh.

Come to Singleton Park in Manson and check out some great high school baseball action this Spring.

Manson High School Trojan Tennis

Coach Joey Johanson comments:

"With 28 student-athletes turned out for tennis we are looking forward to a fun and competitive season. Our boys team is strong again, after only losing one match last year in the shortened season. Sophomores Ben Cullison and Ashton Fretwell will be tough to beat at singles and not too far behind them are Rex Torgesen, Eli Willard and Sam Richmond. We will also have a tough #1 doubles team with Nate Katzer and his potential partner.

Girls: Our girls team should be competitive this year with a young group of 8th and 9th graders and first year player Josephine Thompson. Josephine is a natural athlete who is picking up the game of tennis quickly. Other impact players are Afton Torgesen, Destiny Lopez and Olivia Smith.

We are very excited to call Harmony Meadows home again and look forward to seeing some fans out at the Meadows."

Chelan High School Soccer

The Chelan Boys Soccer team has high aspirations for the 2022 spring season. The team expects to compete for a CTL title with a talented youthful roster that has four key returning starters, including potential league MVP candidate Miguel Zarate. The team has added a quality group of freshmen players that should be able to make an impact at the varsity level this season.
Head Coach Julio Juarez's comments:
 "We have had some great practices to start and I am excited about the level of focus and commitment from this young team so far. Although young, we have enough returners that care about this program and want to see it back at the top of league standings where we belong. We will continue to improve each day as students and teammates."

 I'm very excited to have quite a number of new players out this year, and hope that our newcomers on the girls side will be able to improve enough to play varsity and give us the chance for a team score on the girls side of things when it comes time for Districts; I think we have a good chance to take the District title for our boys team if we keep improving with all of our younger players."

Are you getting enough sleep?

March is National Sleep Awareness month

March is National Sleep Awareness Month, the same month that we move our clocks forward to Daylight Savings Time. Adjusting to a new time can disrupt our sleep cycle.

Fourteen years ago, my 78-year old father got a knee replacement. In the final year of World War II, Dad injured it serving on an aircraft carrier in the Pacific.

When the doctor confirmed that Dad's left knee needed replacing, he kept putting it off because he took care of my mother as her dementia worsened.

As he lived alone, two of my sisters and I stayed with him around the clock, making sure he took his medicines and did his daily physical therapy.

On his first night home from the hospital, I noticed that he'd slept for only three hours. Pouring him coffee the following morning, I mentioned it.

"Dad, you only slept for 3 hours last night. Are you SURE you're not in pain?"

"The pain pills work just fine, Lulu. Three hours is pretty typical for me; I've had trouble sleeping for years."

"Well, we'll need to do a little better than 3 hours a night, or it will take you a long time to recover from your surgery. People who don't sleep well don't heal well." My father took only two prescription medicines, and at 6 foot one and 270 pounds, he'd never been susceptible to pills.

The following day I found Dad smiling over his morning coffee. "I slept for five hours straight before waking up. It's been years since I've slept that well."

Several non-prescription products can help us go to sleep. These include antihistamines like diphenhydramine and doxylamine and melatonin, a hormone that encourages sleep.

As we age, our body makes less melatonin, a hormone we produce from tryptophan, an amino acid.

Diphenhydramine (Benadryl®) is available in two places in a typical grocery or pharmacy. You'll find 25mg tablets or capsules in the allergy section and 50mg tablets in the sleep aid aisle marketed as Somnexam®, Nytol®, and zzQuil®.

The effects of diphenhydramine last about 6 hours. It is considered safer in older adults than doxylamine, which works longer, up to 10 hours.

Tylenol PM® and Advil PM® contain both diphenhydramine and an analgesic. Tylenol PM® contains extra strength Tylenol (acetaminophen) 500mg in each tablet and Advil PM® contains 200mg of ibuprofen.

The most common side effects of diphenhydramine and doxylamine include dry mouth, dry mouth, constipation, confusion, and urinary retention.

Here are 5 Tips on Taking Non-prescription Sleep Aids:

- 1. Avoid alcohol. Although alcohol may be relaxing, it can interfere with staying asleep. Drinking alcohol while taking narcotic pain medicines, prescription anxiety medicines, or prescription sleeping pills is a dangerous combination and increases the risk of overdose. 2. Try melatonin first. Melatonin has very few side effects compared to other sleep aids. Start with 3mg of melatonin 30-60 minutes before bed. If that's not effective, double it to 6mg before bed. 3. Older adults should use diphenhydramine over doxylamine. The sleepiness from doxy-lamine may last up to 10 hours compared to only 6 hours for diphenhydramine. Longer-acting sleep aids are not always an advantage because you can feel "hungover" if the effects of your sleeping pill haven't worn off by the time you need to wake up.

4. Start low. The effects of sleeping pills can be unpredictable. When trying a new one, use half a dose at first. If you're not sleepy within 30 minutes, go ahead with the other half.

5. Beware of dry mouth side effects. Saliva keeps food from sticking to your teeth and has critical antibacterial properties. A dry mouth from having less saliva is not just annoying; it significantly accelerates tooth decay.
