Buttercups showing their faces ... again

Courtesy Anne Brooks

The first time buttercups were reported being found in the valley this year, Old Man Winter covered them up with snow. Anne Brooks of Chelan, found these buttercups on Feb. 28, and found more patches of the early spring flower later in the week while hiking in the Chelan Hills/Boyd District area. First day of spring is Saturday, March 20.

NCW Libraries open for in-person visits, curbside pickup continues CHELAN/MANSON/ENTIAT - Customers are once again able to browse the shelves, access computer stations, read the newspaper, or pick out a DVD as NCW Libraries have re-opened as we are now in Phase 2 of the state's re-opening plan. Several safety measures are already in place in the libraries. Customers will be required to wear a mask, practice social distancing, and limit their visit to around 30 minutes. In accordance with state mandated guidelines, all of the library buildings will have a 25 percent occupancy limit. For library patrons who prefer minimal contact service, curbside pickup will continue to be offered at all branches. The library is also working to expand service hours and availability, which it plans to launch in March. NCW Libraries will continue to offer a wide variety of resources and programs online at ncwlibraries.org and on its Facebook page. Upcoming virtual programs include STEM workshops, Book-It-Theater performances, author visits, and more.

Lake Chelan Health Chairman Gleasman abruptly resigns

By GARY BÉGIN,
NCW MEDIA MANAGING EDITOR

CHELAN - According to a late Friday news release by Lake Chelan Health,

"Lake Chelan Health Commissioner Phyllis Gleasman has resigned from her position. The Commissioners and Lake Chelan Health are deeply appreciative of her years of service, dedication, and leadership."

Gleasman was on the board for more than a decade.

According to one reliable source, Gleasman was involved in a "heated" argument during the last Executive Session of the Lake Chelan Health Board of Commissioners and resigned on the spot.

The Lake Chelan Mirror has requested a "reason why" for the abrupt resignation from LCH Commissioner Mary Signorelli, LCH CEO George Rohrich, Gleasman herself and others, but has not received any replies by press deadline.

"Gleasman was a tireless champion for the replacement hospital," concluded the Board statement, which then devolved into a "help wanted" advertisement.

The official news release was headlined and focused on the need to replace Gleasman on the board as opposed to listing her achievements, especially the approval of a new hospital for the Lake Chelan community after years of having the necessary levy rejected.

Gleasman, an orchardist and

winner of the 2013 Washington State Horticultural Association award for Women's Leadership Through Service, was an incumbent candidate in the 2017 election. She was initially appointed to the hospital board in 2010, and then was elected to a six-year term.

At that time, Gleasman said, "From births to emergencies and terminal illnesses, the quality of care at the hospital has been important to her family for many years." She said she would do anything she could to ensure local health needs were met. "If I can help in any way to provide a safe, quality environment for our medical team to work in, that would be my way of giving back to the community for everything they've given me in terms of our medical needs," she said.

Back then, she stated that she welcomed opposing views, and will continue to listen to those who question the hospital's direction.

Gleasman said passing the bond was a long process, and the board listened to the public and reviewed so much financial data, "I'd just like to carry that through to completion" and so she did.

Although the building is far from complete, the process has begun. Keep reading the Lake Chelan Mirror for follow-up articles on this and other LCH news.

CHELAN - The Lake Chelan Lions Club announces that their 2021 golf tournament will be held at Lake Chelan Municipal Golf Course on Friday, May 14. Cost is $125 per person for the four person team scramble format.

The Lions Club has secured some great prizes this year, including: chance to win a $10,000 cash prize for a Hole in One on #18 and a $5,000 cash prize for a Hole in One on #7, two night's accommodation at Lakeside Lodge and Suites, dinner for two at Campbell's Resort, prizes for Best Foursome, Men's and Women's Longest Drive on #12, closest to the Pin on Par 3 holes, Putting Contest, winner takes the Cash Pot and a Raffle Drawing with lots of fun and valuable prizes.

You can register at: lakechelanlionsgolf.golfreg.com

There is still time to register your team before the April 16 registration deadline.

These events do not happen without the help of our local businesses, individual sponsors, and the many amazing volunteers; and they thank everyone for their support they have given the Lions as they put together their biggest fundraiser of the year.

The Lake Chelan Lions Club has been a vital part of the valley since 1935. The overriding purpose of this longstanding group is to serve the community. Through their many fundraising projects, the Lake Chelan Lions have donated funds, goods, and time to numerous organizations and individuals.

Lions sponsor the annual Harvey Cooper Scholarships for high school seniors, provide hearing and vision assistance for children and adults in Chelan and Manson, help fund the local chapter of Guide Dogs for the Blind, support Echo Valley Ski Club, fund fire relief programs and are actively involved in many more community programs and events. The Lions are also responsible for raising the American flags in downtown Chelan for patriotic holidays.

For information about the tournament or to learn more about becoming a Lion, contact Mike Tipton 253-263-9406, patnmike78@comcast.net.

34 Manson school staff receive vaccine

Courtesy Manson School District

Following a White House directive to the state providers to make all preK-12 educators, school staff and childcare providers, eligible for the COVID-19 vaccine, Gov. Jay Inslee on March 2 announced their immediate eligibility, and on March 3 the Lake Chelan Valley had its first vaccine clinic for educators. Manson School District nurse Michelle Rogge worked with Lake Chelan Health EMS director Ray Eickmeyer and others to put the clinic together in less than a day. Thirty-four staff were vaccinated. The district reports that 70 of the 104 staff members have received the vaccine. LEFT: Staff members wait to receive their vaccine shot. The Interact Club of Chelan made a special outreach to the residents of Heritage Heights to them celebrate Valentines Day. Amberly Guerrero, her friend Cynthia from Interact, and her mother Sintia came loaded with clever decorating ideas to make the front entrance and visiting area warm and festive. After setting that climate, Amberly brought a darling box filled with handmade "valograms" from the members of the Interact Club. Residents were absolutely delighted when they received the greetings on Valentines Day. Other groups contributed to the fun as well. The Living Stone Church and Real Life youth group brought special cards and gifts to let every resident know they are dearly loved. Their youth and vibrancy was invigorating.

LEFT TO RIGHT: Cynthia, Sintia, and Amberly go to work putting together the Valentines decorations at the entrance to Heritage Heights. "I am so glad they loved them. Interact has also started making blankets for Heritage," said Amberly Guerrero. Community members are welcome to bring plastic or metal flowers and lights to keep brightening the space at Heritage Heights.

Lake Chelan Health board invites letters of interest for open position

SUBMITTED BY LAKE CHELAN HEALTH

CHELAN - Lake Chelan Health Commissioner Phyllis Gleason has resigned from her position. The Commissioners and Lake Chelan Health are deeply appreciative of her years of service, dedication, and leadership. Phyllis was a tireless champion for the replacement hospital.

Chelan County Public Hospital District No. 2 Board of Commissioners directly oversee hospital policy and governance and will appoint the new commissioner to fulfill the remaining 2021 term. The appointed member will serve until the next election.

Letters of interest should include candidate's credentials and experience, as well as reasons why they want to serve as a Lake Chelan Health board member.

The Board of Commissioners are looking for an individual who is dedicated to moving healthcare forward in the Lake Chelan Valley and has displayed a commitment to advancing medical services offered by Lake Chelan Health. Candidates must also have time to study, attend meetings, and serve as an advocate for projects supporting Lake Chelan Health.

Candidates must submit letters to Kylie, at PO Box 908, Chelan, WA 98816 or fax to 509-682-2452. Letters of Interest will be accepted until position is filled. A job description is available upon request.

Founded in 1948, Lake Chelan Health hospital is a fully-accredited 25-bed Critical Access Hospital with supporting Express Care and Specialty Care clinics in Chelan, Washington. The health system provides a 24-hour emergency room, surgical center, and inpatient services, as well as physical, speech and occupational rehabilitative therapy.

Ranked-choice voting is a better way to vote

By GEORGE ROHRICH

When making decisions, more options are better. We find this everywhere in our day-to-day life, whether it's hefty decisions such as purchasing a home, or more mundane ones of which wine to choose.

When we have a variety of choices before us, we can make a choice that will best reflect our own desires and preferences. There is less need to go with a "lesser evil" that may compromise our own inclinations, and it actually motivates us to voice our decision. The logic is simple.

So, I often ask myself, why don't we apply this logic to how we choose our elected officials? Let's talk about one of those everyday decisions that exemplifies this type of reasoning clearly.

When we go to visit wineries in our beautiful valley for the first time such as Cairdeas, WineGirl Wine, Succession, or the dozens of others we're blessed to have, did you stick to a preferred habit of red/white? Did you order a flight to sample each one? If you're like me, you probably had a few different preferences. You may have even been able to rank them!

Now to be real, choosing who manages our towns, our school districts, and our county infrastructure isn't as simple as choosing which wine you'll sample at your local winery. We invest in these important choices that affect the whole of our communities and their futures. If we approve of our leaders, we re-elect them. If not, we look for others to do a better job.

But the truth is, we don't have the variety of choices we would like to have when we are undertaking the important civil duty of voting that helps define who we are as Americans and Washingtonians. A winner-take-all system actually pushes us into a scarcity mindset. And this in turn will turn away qualified candidates with whom we may resonate more. We are more equipped to pick out a wine that suits us than an elected official who represents us.

But I think ranked-choice voting can help. Ranked-choice voting (RCV) is a voting process which invites more qualified candidates to run for office, offers a more equitable means of choosing a winner, and gives more power to voters.

Here's how it works. RCV allows voters to rank multiple candidates by preference, with their first choice first, second choice second, etc. When the polls close, all of the first choice votes are added up. If a candidate has over half of the votes, they win!

However, if no candidate has over half of the votes, the lowest candidate, who is sure not to win, is eliminated, and the voters who voted for that candidate instead get to support the candidate they marked second on their ballot. This elimination round continues until a candidate has over half of the votes!

In this form of election, people who liked a candidate that didn't do well still get to support a finalist candidate! They can feel comfortable knowing that their vote had an impact on the outcome.

RCV holds the possibility of creating a more civil and friendly election. Negative campaigning happens when a candidate must be your one and only favorite candidate. But what happens when there is a wide field of candidates all vying for your first, second, and third choices?

All of a sudden, candidates can't just focus on tearing each other down, they have to focus on why they think they represent you and have the solutions that your town needs. This is why people who have used RCV report that campaigns in their area are much more about issues and problem solving under this system.

Currently in the state legislature, there is a bill called SHB 1156, also known as the Ranked-Choice Voting Local Options bill. If enacted, this bill would allow local jurisdictions to be able to upgrade to RCV as their election system. County and local governments would have to choose to opt in to such a system, so there is no mandate. Fundamentally, this bill is about letting localities choose the election system that is right for them.

RCV has been growing in popularity over the country in the last few years. Large municipalities such as New York City and San Francisco will begin using it. But it has also struck a chord in more rural areas with Alaska using it at the state level in the next election cycle and suburban areas of Minnesota just adopting it last year. In fact, the City of Gold Bar, with a population of less than 2,000, has joined the throng of jurisdictions across Washington asking the legislature to pass SHB 1156.

Ranked-choice voting doesn't favor any party. Rather, it favors the voters. It's a call for reform that echoes one of the foundations of our society: freedom of choice. And just like your flight of Pinot Gris, Sauvignon, Merlot, and Rieslings, the more options you have, the better the choice.

George is a resident of Chelan, a masters student in political science, an avid hiker in Washington's wilderness and a lover of wine.

COVID -19 worse in minority communities

Immigrant and Latinx Solidarity Group statement

SUBMITTED BY ILSG

Over the last 12 months Covid-19 has highlighted the health disparities that exist in our community. Those disparities were magnified by the pandemic, highlighting how often a significant portion of our community is not meaningfully considered when making decisions. The Immigrant & Latinx Solidarity Group (ILSG) came together to coordinate how we as community members could best support our Latinx and Immigrant community members during the COVID pandemic and beyond. We are educators, community advocates, lawyers, business leaders, healthcare workers, college students, parents, and more, and have been meeting weekly for nearly a year.

The ILSG repeatedly advocated for culturally appropriate COVID-19 prevention and vaccine messaging to be shared in Spanish. In January, for the first time since the pandemic began, the Chelan-Douglas Health District had real time Spanish interpretation at a vaccine related press conference. While real time interpretation is a step in the right direction, we also expect the Chelan-Douglas Health District to consistently communicate health messages to everyone in our community, regardless of their language ability.

We have learned from this experience and see opportunities to improve the local administration of our public health system. Our elected officials are not public health experts, yet they have significant influence on public health related decisions in our community. Our health district's response to COVID-19 was significantly impacted by the local Board of Health, which is comprised of locally elected officials who do not reflect the entire community. Think about it this way, if you need emergency surgery, a doctor shouldn't have to waste time educating an elected official about the merits of the surgery. When we entered into the pandemic, the Latinx community was disproportionately impacted due to their working and living conditions. Yet decisions were made by people who didn't have ties to the Latinx community, nor did they have the health background to lead us through this unprecedented challenge.

Changing the makeup of the health district board extends beyond Chelan and Douglas Counties. For this reason, ILSG supports House Bill 1152 (HB 1152), which is currently under consideration in Olympia. Under HB 1152, we would continue to have elected officials on the board of health. But it would also provide seats for community members and healthcare providers to use their expertise on the board. Implemented correctly, HB1152 would meaningfully include voices from all parts of our community and strengthen the health system that cares for all of us.

We appreciate the hard work the health department staff has been doing over the last year. We know this work has been exceptionally challenging. Our ask is that regardless of HB 1152, the Chelan-Douglas Board of Health puts equity at the forefront of their structure and decision making, truly advocating for the rich and diverse people and sectors of our community. Equity must be part of our practice.

Signed: ILSG members - Vanessa Gutierrez, Karina Vega-Villa, Carrie Kingsley, Krista Herling, Cecilia Anguiano, Xaxira Velasco, Ponce de León, Norma Gallegos, Irene Morrow, Jessica Kendall

The end of the world as we know it, Yetti I feel fine

The headline is a paraphrase from a song by the band R.E.M. (1987) and I'm using it here to illustrate how the insanity of 2020 may become permanently embedded in culture worldwide, not just because of the COVID-19 pandemic, but mainly because of the different ways Earth's 7.2 billion people reacted to it and how changing social dynamics influence politics, health, sports and "patriotism" so much so Americans begin denying America itself just as Peter Denied Christ.

Let's digress for a moment and honor a man who might be the dumbest human ever or, I would hope, incredibly clever.

"Aleksei A. Navalny, the Russian opposition politician, is going to serve his prison sentence in a penal colony notorious for disciplinary measures considered harsh even by Russian standards," according to one website.

Now listen up, this man was totally free and getting treatment in the West after being nearly killed by Vlad (the Poisoner) Putin when he was in Russia because he and the Big "P" didn't and don't see potato eye to potato eye.

APPLES TO APPLES
Gary Bégin

Did he have enough sense to stay free? Oh no, he goes back to his homeland and Vlad throws his dumb butt back into prison. Exactly what did Navalny expect, the red carpet treatment? Does Yetti poop in the woods? Can a zebra change its stripes?

Ok, I'll try to be nice and argue the better, more optimistic point. Maybe Navalny is a genius only acting stupid (like Paris Hilton just revealed). Navalny might be thinking that his imprisonment in the Gulag Archipelago* might bring the world's attention to the not-so-nice Putin, but my dear comrades, the world has known Putin's penchant for cruelty for decades now. After all, he was a KGB agent in East Germany. Can you say walls and barbed wire? Cold War intrigue and an extension of Russia's own deliberate silencing of dissent.

I think Navalny is praying for the Russian people to rise up and have another revolution, but Putin's opinion ratings are high - or else. Get it Aleksei?

I don't think all your Facebook likes will be coming to your rescue anytime soon.

Now, back to the bright outlook for 2021 for the rest of us not named Navalny. Picture this, restaurants, bowling alleys, movie theaters and event centers - all open and operating at full steam.

Donald Trump, the former twice-impeached, but never egged, President of these United States, will make millions selling his appearance for huge fees all over the world.

He'll attract massive crowds and the entire year will be pepper (sprayed) with far left and far right hooliganism causing cities to burn and cops to shoot and lives to be lost.

Not to mention all the national guards from a dozen states coming to the "rescue."

For whatever reason I don't see Trump being renominated to run as a GOP nominee in 2024.

I see a possible third party being formed, which will split the Republican vote and allow Kamala Harris to win as "Lunch-pail Joe" won't run again. Harris will basically become the almost-incumbent candidate.

Here's what I think about "Lunch Pail Joe." He spent eight years with Barrack Obama because he was Biden his time. Now that he's in office, he'll hand it over to the left wing and happily retire at the end of his term.

This is another reason midterm elections are so important. Control of both houses of Congress are vital to the survival of any semblance of Conservative thought and action on a federal level.

It won't take too much to have all the ignorance in America become one giant glob of stupid... "We the Sheeple" will be the norm if all the believers in socialist/communist ideology and actions get together and take over the once economically, militarily and righteous mighty American experiment in democracy.

The experiment, the end of the world as we know it, will expire. The reason I still feel fine? I know we will learn from our future mistakes and reason will prevail once the left wing proves its ineptness at running this country.

Ironically, the right wing has always been less tolerant of dissent than conservatives. That's why they protest at colleges when a conservative speaker is selected to actually speak.

Another irony, Aleksandr Solzhenitsyn, he of the beard, the long suffering and the life he ended in Vermont. This guy was made famous because he wrote about and warned the world about what We the Sheeple look like - the U.S.S.R. back in the 30s-80s and Russia since then and currently. Here we have a former slave of communism telling the world to beware. It is up to us to hear that warning and act accordingly. Be sure to vote in 2022 for the Republican of your choice.

If you don't, expect an American gulag to be created - but instead of prison camps, it will be a gulag of conservative islands in a vast sea of liberal waste.

The United States will become so polarized that interstate travel, transportation links, computer communications, voting rights, food supplies, taxes and many other things we take for granted now, good or bad, will only exist in various pockets of states. Washington is currently in the left one.

OBITUARIES

Donald Leslie Metcalf

Donald Leslie Metcalf, former longtime resident of the Chelan Valley, left this life peacefully on March 3, 2021. Don was born in Jerico Springs, Missouri on February 11, 1946, to Arnold and Rose Metcalf, joining his older sister Gracie before moving to the Manson area as a child.

A graduate of Manson High School, Don joined the Army in 1964, proudly serving in the Signal Corps in Germany before returning to the Chelan area. Don spent his adult life working as an apple orchardist, a career he loved and thrived in. Don was a proud father to his daughters, Jennifer and Pamela, and after marrying the love of his life, Susan, in 1985, he gained another daughter, Sareena. Known for his sense of humor, Don spent his off-time fishing, hunting elk with friends, bowling, cooking, and spending time with his cherished family.

Everyone that knew Don was aware of his deep love for his dogs, often having up to five at a time, who spent their days running through the orchard with him as he worked. After retiring in the early 2000s, he moved to St. Helens, Oregon, to be near family.

Don is survived by his beloved wife, Susan, daughters Jennifer (Geno), Pam, and Sareena, and his treasured grandchildren Cameron, Jillian, Ava, Miles, Ryan, Taylor and Andrew.

Per his wishes, no services will be held. In lieu of flowers, please honor Don with a contribution to the Wenatchee Valley Humane Society.

Dorothy Marie Kirk-Kline

Brewster, Washington

Dorothy was born in Lockport, Illinois, a small town less than 30 miles SW of downtown Chicago. She grew up with five other siblings, three brothers and two sisters. Her first husband also grew up nearby and they met while in high school. Dorothy was confirmed in the Shepherd of the Hill Lutheran Church in Lockport at the age of 12. Her favorite recreation was roller skating. She went as often as possible.

After graduating her boyfriend, Warren Kirk, joined the Navy and after his basic training, he was sent to Pensacola, Florida, for Navy Pilot training.

Not too long later, Dorothy joined him in Pensacola and they were married in 1944 just before Dad was sent to the Pacific.

Before Dad graduated, WWII started; and upon graduation he was sent to the Pacific as a pilot of a P-38. Years before, my great-grandfather, who owned an ink company in Chicago got the idea that the family needed an apple orchard near Brewster. He purchased the land and sent his son to turn it into a productive orchard. This purchase was later known as the Kirk Orchard, across the Columbia River from Brewster. When my Dad went overseas, he convinced Dorothy to come west and help out in the "mess hall" on the ranch until the war ended. She took the train to Brewster and lived on the ranch, working in the kitchen with Grandma Elsie Kirk.

The war ended in the fall of 1945. Dad was released and didn't waste any time coming home to his wife in Brewster and they began living as a family and celebrating the birth of their first son, Warren III. Dad started his local delivery service (extending up the Methow, Chelan, Bridgeport, and all parts between) his own idea; and Mom was a house wife and mother until my parents divorced when my brother started school.

Dorothy became an office clerk at the Herald Reporter. In addition to being a Mother, Dorothy loved to sew and crochet. In our home there was no such thing as clothes wearing out! In addition to the Herald Reporter, Dorothy was very active in the Brewster Log Church, the Brewster School, as well as the American Legion Auxiliary; frequently holding the office of President or Secretary. She loved the Brewster Grange.

Mom was always Mom, her first priority. She also allowed animals to become part of the family. We had dogs, many rabbits, and a sheep; all within the town of Brewster.

Then in the 1960s, Ray Kline needed another clerk for Kline's and asked Dorothy if she would consider changing jobs. She said yes and started working for Kline's, a great decision. Ray was a widow at that time and the two of them got married in March, 1965. Warren was in college at WSU and Robert was still in High School. They eloped to Coeur d'Alene, Idaho. But, not before driving to WSU and asking for my approval.

Ray was so excited about his new wife and he insisted on building them a new home on the plaza overlooking the Columbia River. I remember Mom was even more excited and became so protective of her new home. "Take your shoes off at the door and NO animals allowed" were just two of many of her rules. Mom and Ray had a wonderful relationship, but unfortunately it only lasted not quite a decade before Ray died.

For years, Mom never traveled very far from Brewster. It was a rare occasion she came to visit her children; we always came to Brewster. One of her trips was in 1979 when the Navy had a dependent cruise from Honolulu to the island of Hawaii on a vessel which my brother was an officer.

Dorothy, Elsie, Warren, his wife and son flew to Honolulu to take part in this cruise. We cruised from Pearl Harbor to the island of Hawaii and stayed on a Navy resort. What an event! When it was time to come home, the winds were so bad that the Navy Commander strongly recommended all dependents fly back to Honolulu. Helen and her son, Dorothy, and Grandma Elsie flew back to Honolulu. She also visited Warren and his wife in England when her youngest Grandson graduated from high school.

In 2006, when Warren graduated from Seminary in Ohio, Mom was not up to making this trip, even with my Brother Bob as her escort. It was on this occasion in 2006 that Bob told me that Mom's dementia was getting bad. She would walk downtown to Brewster and forget the way back to her home on the Plaza. I agreed to come out that fall and develop a plan for Mom's care.

Warren and Helen came to Brewster that fall and agreed with Bob's assessment. We decided to move Mom to an independent care living unit apartment in Wenatchee. It wasn't long before Bob moved in with her to help care for her. Warren and Helen stayed in Washington and I was asked to serve two churches in the Yakima area. Dorothy stayed there for several years and then we moved her into Harmony House and Bob moved back to Brewster. Bob saw her almost every day, when she was in Harmony House, what was a blessing!!

When Bob died in 2019, I insisted Harmony House take her to his funeral. They agreed and when she saw my brother in the casket, she started crying. Although she hadn't spoken for years, she knew it was Bob!! I was so glad I insisted Mom be able to attend Bob's funeral.

There is much that we still do not understand about human life, this is why Jesus came to remind us that it is not ours to understand!!

I thank each of you who is able to come out on this occasion to reflect and to celebrate on the life of Dorothy Kirk-Kline. Clearly, she was never one of the "leaders" of this community, but just kept contributing where she could, behind the scenes. This was her community, her home. And wow, could she bake pies!!!

Dorothy was predeceased by both of her husbands and her youngest son; as well as each of her siblings except her youngest brother. Her eldest son is living in southern Indiana, near Cincinnati. Her eldest grandson, Warren IV, is living in Gardnerville, Nevada, and has two children, Salavin and Warren Aden; and her youngest grandson, Ryan, is living in Lawrenceburg, Indiana with her other two great-grandchildren, Marlee and Mason.

Visitation for Dorothy will be at Barnes Chapel, 510 West Indian Ave., Brewster, from 10 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. on Thursday, March 11, 2020. There will also be visitation from noon at the Brewster Grange on Highway 97 west of Brewster, with a Memorial Service following at 1 p.m., followed immediately by a Graveside Service.

Memorial gifts in memory of Dorothy can be donated to the Brewster Grange, Brewster American Legion, or the Brewster School District.

Please leave any thoughts or memories for the family at www.barneschapel.com. Services are entrusted to Barnes Chapel of Brewster, Washington.

Obituary & Memorial Policies

NCW Media, Inc.: Leavenworth Echo, Cashmere Valley Record, Lake Chelan Mirror, Quad City Herald

An Obituary is a way for family member(s) to commemorate a loved one's life and to notify the community of the passing of the loved one. Obituaries are also used for historical and ancestral data.

Memorials are another way to let the community know about the life and memories of the person who has passed. A Memorial is different from an Obituary. An Obituary is usually current, while a Memorial can be written later.

Obituaries and Memorials need to be typed and emailed as a Word Document. They can be placed in one or more papers - all publish weekly on Wednesday.

Obituaries are priced by the number of words and include one color photo and go online at no extra charge. Memorials are priced per column inch. Please call for cost. *Payment is due at the time of placement. *Exception: Chapels, funeral homes who have an account, can be billed. There is no charge for a Death Notice - information is limited.

Deadline is 4 p.m. on Friday - some exceptions may apply.

Manson opens short season by traveling to Brewster for double-header

Manson Volleyball starts fast with two wins

SUBMITTED BY JEN BYQUIST

BREWSTER - We have waited a long time for volleyball. Manson opened their short season by traveling to Brewster for a double-header on Feb. 27.

Manson began the double header squaring off against Okanogan. The Bulldogs just dropped down from 1A this season and were expected to be a big test for the young Trojan team. Manson won a tightly contested first set 25-21. Okanogan battled back winning the second set 25-18 before Manson won both the 3rd and 4th set to win the match 3-1. Manson was led by Maycee Ward with 10 kills and Freshman Natalee Reyna 10 kills as well. Senior Kendall Petre had 6 kills and 4 blocks.

In the second game of the night Manson played the host team Brewster Bears. Brewster is the reigning CWB league champion and a regular state volleyball participant. Manson came out hot and never looked back winning the first set 25-

6. The Trojans did not let up winning the second set 25-14 and the third set 25-13. Maycee Ward again led the team with 12 kills.

Manson hosted Tonasket and Warden on Saturday, March 6.

The Trojans played aggressive volleyball in both matches, limiting their opponents' offensive options, and were able to adjust defensively to keep the ball in play.

The team served well, passed well and kept the momentum on their side of the court and it was a lot of fun to watch.

Mtn. Goats trounce Kodiaks

SUBMITTED BY COACH TRAVIS DOMSER

CHELAN - Our boys played with great effort and a winning attitude. They deserve all the credit for the win. It was so nice to be back out on the field competing.

Cascade definitely came to play, but our guys stepped up when things didn't go our way and we never looked back. Any time you get five turnovers on defense and don't have any turnovers on offense or special teams you're going to win and that's what we did.

Time to move on to a big, tough and physical Omak team. We are very grateful.

Gov. Inslee adds educators, licensed childcare to Phase 1B-1 for COVID-19 vaccine

SUBMITTED BY OFFICE OF GOV. JAY INSLEE

OLYMPIA - Gov. Jay Inslee issued a statement on March 2 following President Joe Biden's directive that all states must prioritize vaccinations of teachers and childcare workers.

"Like President Biden, I am grateful for the hard work and sacrifice of educators every day, and especially during this pandemic. The president has directed us to add preK-12 educators, school staff and licensed childcare workers to our current vaccine prioritization. This directive will be carried out through existing providers and the Federal Retail Pharmacy Program, which operates through national pharmacies and independent pharmacy chains.

"Therefore, we are adding educators and licensed childcare workers to Washington's Phase 1B-1 immediately. The Washington State Department of Health will have more specific information soon on how those workers can access vaccines. Phase Finder may take time to reflect these changes, but educators and licensed childcare workers can schedule with providers right away.

"The good news is that schools will be able to open and we are pleased that teachers will be back in the classroom very soon. This should give educators more confidence to return to in-person learning and that it can be done with the safety protocols that are being used by 1,400 other schools in our state right now.

"We will continue the current state plans and goals to focus on those most at risk, including older adults and those facing the greatest equity gaps.

"To that end, I will soon be announcing when our state vaccine prioritization will be moving to include critical workers in certain congregate settings including those who work in grocery stores, farmworkers, food processors, bus drivers, corrections workers and others.

"We will continue our progress in getting every Washingtonian vaccinated. I am grateful for the partnership of the federal government and their efforts to help move educators up in the prioritization."

Most mothers can tell you the moment their child was born. It's not the same for fathers. But I can tell you precisely the moment I met my daughters. It was 2:46 on a Sunday afternoon in October.

I had rushed back from church and just sat down to watch the game of the week. My Denver Broncos were playing their most despised of opponents - the Oakland Raiders. My game was interrupted by a knock on my front door.

My wife had taken our two sons to help her with grocery shopping. So I had to get up from my game to respond to that irritating knock.

I opened the door to two attractive young women. They seemed surprised. "You're a priest?" one queried.

In my rush to watch the game I had not removed my clerical collar.

"Well, yes I am," I responded. Fully expecting they were a couple of young evangelists looking to tell me about the gospel.

There was a sudden and distinctly deafening pause. "Can I help you?" I finally said. They looked at each other. Then almost in unison burst out, "We think you're our father!"

In an instant twenty-three years of guilt and remorse overcame me. I could not help it. Tears poured out like a river. My heart began to pound and I could not hear a sound.

We looked at each other for what seemed like an eternity. None of us knowing what to say next, but I knew in my heart they were correct.

THE WASHINGTON OUTDOORS REPORT

Outdoors round-up

BY JOHN KRUSE, THE WASHINGTON OUTDOORS REPORT

Preseason salmon forecasts, news from Washington State Parks, a new watercraft inspection station and fishing reports are all part of this week's outdoors round-up.

Salmon

The salmon forecasts are in from the Washington Department of Fish and Wildlife and it's a bit of a mixed bag. Starting off with the good news, a great run of 1.6 million coho salmon should be coming up the Columbia River this year. Compare that to some 121,600 coho that returned last year and you've got a lot of reasons to smile as an angler. An increased number of coho are also expected for Puget Sound with 615,000 silvers returning to area rivers, an increase of 110,000 fish from last year.

The Chinook salmon forecast is not as dramatic but it is an improvement with 354,000 fish expected to head up the Columbia and Snake Rivers. This is 50,000 more salmon than last year but still below the 10-year average. This is also a pink salmon year and 2.9 million of these fish are expected back in the Sound...way better than the 604,000 fish forecast for 2019. Puget Sound Chinook and chum salmon are once again expected to have a rough year and some stocks heading for the Stillaguamish River and mid-Hood Canal could be very low.

The Columbia River sockeye run is forecast to be just 155,000 fish with an estimated 27,300 heading to Lake Wenatchee. The overall forecast is less than half of last year's return but it's worth noting that biologists are often off with the sockeye run and they tend to forecast lower returns than what actually comes back. Last year was a good example where the Columbia River forecast was for 246,300 sockeye while the actual number over Bonneville Dam was closer to 342,000 fish.

Courtesy John Kruse

State Parks

The Washington State Parks and Recreation Commission has hired a new director after Don Hoch retired earlier this month. Peter Mayer, who currently serves as the Deputy Executive Director for Metro Parks Tacoma, has been chosen to lead Washington State Parks and will be responsible for the operation of 124 parks and a staff of over 1,000 personnel.

Mayer's first day at the helm will be March 15.

In other news, all of Washington's State Parks that are open for free day-use admission on March 19 in honor of the Washington State Parks 108th birthday. The next free entry day at Washington State Parks is April 3, just in time for spring break.

Boating

The Washington Department of Fish and Wildlife is opening a new watercraft inspection station off Exit 80 on Interstate 90 west of Cle Elum this month. All watercraft (from powerboats to canoes to stand-up paddleboards) must stop for inspection if they are entering Washington State from another state or country. Employees manning the inspection site will be looking for aquatic invasive species such as zebra mussels, milfoil, and more which can be introduced into waterways by watercraft carrying them.

March Fishing Reports

Early season trout anglers

at the Tucannon and Quincy Lakes were treated to open waters on March 1, as were anglers in year-round waters in much of Eastern Washington. WDFW Fisheries Biologist Mike Schmuck said Quincy Lake fished really well with lots of holdover trout caught that measured up to 18 inches. Burke lake also fished well on the opener putting out 11 to 13-inch rainbows. Caliche Lake near George gave up limits of 12 to 13 inches for patient anglers while nearby Martha Lake, usually an opening day hot spot, fished very slow.

At Lake Roosevelt, the bite is picking up for both rainbow trout and walleye. The walleye aren't huge, but they do provide some delicious table fare. Check out the latest reports at northwestfishingreports.com for further details.

How deprescribing helps you

An elderly woman called up her doctor in tears. When the doctor got on the phone, she asked him, "Is there something you're not telling me? Do I need to review my will?"

Her doctor exclaimed, "No, not at all! Why?"

She wailed, "You told me I needed to take this medicine for the rest of my life. When I picked up my prescription today, the bottle said, No Refills!"

This is an old joke, but taking your medications appropriately can be a very serious challenge.

Medications are by far the most common treatment for most medical conditions. Before COVID, whether at a doctor's office or at an Urgent Care Center, over 70% of physician visits end in a prescription.

That's because doctors want to treat you with something and patients expect something to be done. And that something is often a prescription medicine. As people age, they pick up more and more health conditions and drugs to treat them.

As we age, our body becomes slower in detoxifying and removing medications of all types. This means that over time, our body retains our medicines longer, which increases the "dose" we take. It often takes a crisis or an adverse event such as a fall or hospitalization to jumpstart the conversation to reevaluate medicines and their doses.

Evaluating and making sure that you are taking only the medications you truly need at the best doses for you is called deprescribing. It involves balancing the potential for adverse outcomes with the potential benefit of your medicines.

Unfortunately, doctors are not always proactive or enthusiastic about deprescribing.

One reason is that our health care system is geared towards starting medications, not stopping them. Most guidelines that describe the optimal care for a particular condition include recommendations for initiating medications but not discontinuing them.

Another reason is concern about interfering with what another doctor put in place.

Patient reluctance is another barrier to deprescribing. Patients or their families may feel that decreasing their medicine decreases their level of care or that their doctor is "writing them off" or abandoning them.

A third reason doctors can be reluctant to initiate a discussion about reducing medications is lack of time. Introducing the concept and discussing how best to do it doesn't fit inside a typical doctor visit.

There are 4 steps to deprescribing:

Step 1: Identify drugs that could be adjusted or stopped, focusing on medications known to be affected by changes in our bodies as we age. Doses easily tolerated 10-15 years ago should be reevaluated and possibly adjusted.

Step 2: Engage the patient, family, and other healthcare providers in the process.

Step 3: Develop a plan for tapering or discontinuation.

Step 4: Monitor for and document any adverse outcomes and benefits.

5 ways to take only the medicines you truly need

1. Take the initiative.

If you are over 70 years old and take five or more prescription medications, schedule a "deprescribing" conversation with your doctor. Let the office know ahead of time that you are interested in evaluating your medication list, reducing or eliminating anything that is no longer necessary.

2. Avoid duplication.

Whenever you are prescribed a new medicine, ask how it will affect your other medications. Is it being ADDED to the rest of your pills, or does it REPLACE one of them? If it is supposed to replace a medicine, which one do you stop? This way, when the new one arrives in the mail a week later, you make the switch instead of piling on another drug you don't need anymore.

3. Don't stop medications "cold turkey."

The higher the dose and the longer you have been on it, the more slowly certain medicines should be tapered down or discontinued. With some drugs, stopping abruptly or running out of them can put you in the hospital for several days. It's best to plan out exactly how to transition down from your current dose of prescription medicine with your doctor's input.

4. Be a "Squeaky Wheel."

When you notice a new problem, ask yourself, "Could this be from one of my medicines?" If you started a new medication recently, inform your doctor of any new symptoms, in case it needs to be adjusted or stopped.

5. Keep a List.

Keep an updated list of everything you take, including what you take it for and any allergies or adverse reactions to medications. Bringing it to all your medical and dental appointments helps prevent getting medications that can interfere or interact poorly with each other.

General Interest

Trump must have a second four years!!! He accomplished so much during his first term in office. The list is long, the best being the development and approval the covid 19 vaccine. This saved many lives, not only in the US, but also around the world. But in my mind, his good works are not the reason for a come-back; items he was not able to complete are. Here are some projects needing more work: first, completion of the southern border wall. Illegal immigration was well under control until he was ousted. out, President Biden has negated all the good work accomplished; a second Trump term is needed to complete the wall and work out other troubling immigration policies. Next, draining the swamp was started, but curtailed because of his loss. The corruption within the Department of Justice, including the FBI, is much deeper than anyone thought and, most likely, will get worse under Biden. The upper echelon of culprits have been identified and are being investigated, but have yet to be brought to justice. those remaining must be identified and fired. A second Trump term could go a long way to correct this. Third, Trump made great strides in changing attitudes of people not-so-fond of our country. He brought many Blacks and Latinos into the Republican party, mainly because of his successful economic policies. But, work is still needed to change the minds of socialist-minded Democrats and the main stream press. Finally, we need new leadership in our education system. The NEA is too powerful and is too bent on working on teacher problems while ignoring poor results with student education. For the next four years "Think Trump". Wallace Aunun

Public Notices

COUNTY OF CHELAN Estate of
WANDA L. GALLAGHER, Deceased.
NO. 21-4-00055-04
PROBATE NOTICE TO CREDITORS
RCW 11.40.030

The personal representative named below has been appointed as personal representative of this estate. Any person having a claim against the decedent must, before the time the claim would be barred by any otherwise applicable statute of limitations, present the claim in the manner as provided in RCW 11.40.070 by serving on or mailing to the personal representative or the personal representative's attorney at the address stated below a copy of the claim and filing the original of the claim with the court. The claim must be presented within the later of: (1) Thirty days after the personal representative served or mailed the notice to the creditor as provided under RCW 11.40.020(3); or (2) four months after the date of first publication of the notice. If the claim is not presented within this time frame, the claim is forever barred, except as otherwise provided in RCW 11.40.051 and 11.40.060. This bar is effective as to claims against both the decedent's probate and nonprobate assets.
