

Heritage Heights completes testing, nine additional cases

SUBMITTED BY AMANDA BALLOU, CEO OF HERITAGE HEIGHTS

CHELAN - Heritage Heights has now completed facility-wide testing of all residents and staff. Results were received from the lab, NW Pathology, today (Dec. 18). We had nine additional confirmed cases, bringing our total to 19. One person is hospitalized at this time.

Every effort is being made to prevent the spread of the virus from resident to resident. The identification of positive cases helps us to appropriately use protective equipment. For each resident with COVID, our staff member wears a disposable gown, N95 mask, visor, and gloves. Then both the gown and the N95 mask are discarded into a special container before leaving the apartment. Symptomatic individuals are also treated as positive when it comes to the use of personal protective equipment (PPE). PPE is being used according to State and local CDHD guidance, following CDC protocols.

For meal service to every apartment all utensils and serving ware are disposable.

Ongoing testing will continue each week until all our tests come back negative for two consecutive weeks. Between testing, all staff are screened daily before starting their shifts. Residents' vital signs are checked at least daily--and more often once they are symptomatic or test positive.

We are coordinating with the primary care providers of Columbia Valley Community Health and our medical director Tobe Harberd, M.D., regarding the care that our residents are receiving. We work closely with them to help our residents stay as comfortable as possible at Heritage and get through this outbreak.

An updated status report will be provided when we complete our weekly round of testing.

Chelan City Council hears annual report from sheriff's department

BY GARY BÉGIN, MANAGING EDITOR

CHELAN (via Zoom) -- The Chelan City Council met Tuesday, Dec. 15 and acted on or discussed the following:

The 2021 Lake Chelan Airport budget was approved.

The 2021 city budget was approved.

Heard from Chelan County Sheriff's Office Sergeant Chris Foreman regarding calls to his office in 2020. Foreman made a point to explain that watercraft collisions were higher than in years past. He surmised that it was possible people with boats and other watercraft perhaps wanted to remove themselves from the western cities and recreate in Lake Chelan. Foreman stated that his contacts in the watercraft rental business community indicated every rental is spoken for and that would have led to far more congestion in the lake and river than previous periods. The City of Chelan has contracted with the Chelan County Sheriff's Office (CCSO) since 2011. Council approved the 2018-2021 CCSO Agreement on September 12, 2017. The Agreement was amended on August 28, 2018 to include a School Resource Officer, and on January 14, 2020 to include additional law enforcement for the annual Winterfest event.

Foreman's quarterly report was part of the contractual agreement.

Approved renewal of the Davis Arneil Law Firm agreement as legal counsel for the city.

Approval of the American Federation of State, County & Municipal Employees (AFSCME) collective bargaining agreement for 2021-2023.

Approved annual agreement with "CJ's on the Course" to operate the restaurant at the city golf course. Discussion was had that a longer contract may be voted on next year to allow for the possibility for CJ's to invest in its own future at the venue.

There was a consensus that CJ's was doing a good job and the food and service was good. It was decided that a $1,000 charge for kitchen vent cleaning to abide by state health laws was in fact, the responsibility of the city and not CJ's.

Approved an agreement with non-bargaining employees for the same period. City Administrator Wade Farris said in a pre-meeting report: "While there is no requirement to mirror the benefits of Union represented employees with non-represented employees, it is good business practice to keep them generally aligned

Chelan Fire District 7 desperate for actively engaged volunteers

STORY AND PHOTOS* BY GARY BÉGIN, MANAGING EDITOR

CHELAN - Despite two years of working assiduously to recruit ... and retain volunteers by Assistant Fire Chief Brandon Asher, the Chelan District 7 volunteer program is still floundering and is in the negative column.

Asher has tried banners and passing the word through various media venues, including social media, but is still at a loss, literally and figuratively, to staff this possible matter of life and death dilemma.

One critical area is to augment the lonely, singular volunteer for Stations 72 and 74. Because of that less than skeleton crew, Asher warns that response to fire emergencies in those areas may be delayed as personnel will have to be dispatched from Station 71 (The main headquarters location near downtown Chelan.).

He stated during the Dec. 16 meeting, that part of the recruiting problem is the lack of in-person, face-to-face solicitations he can make because of the pandemic.

To add to the problem, Asher told Fire Commissioners and other Zoom attendees at the meeting that "some of the experienced volunteers are nearing the end of their careers" as volunteers, which means

Brandon Asher

they would also need to be replaced.

"How can we get our locals to step up?" Asher wondered aloud. One possible bright spot may come with future retirees from the westside who decide to remain full-time in what formerly was their summer homes surrounding Lake Chelan, according to Asher.

The "stipend program" was also mentioned as a potential way of getting and keeping volunteers. That program requires a volunteer obligate to a minimum of three full-time shifts in a given period of time to aid staffing issues.

Commissioner Phil Moller told the assembled that after two years, "we need another plan" to recruit and retain volunteers. "We need another direction," Moller continued. He then asked how much money was being spent on the volunteer program and was told $850,000, but that money is from a four-year federal grant and does not come out of district coffers.

Moller stated the district "should bite the bullet and move forward" and hire more firefighters to bridge the gap.

Commissioner Karyl Oules suggested that commissioners, Asher and others involved in the recruitment process should "throw ideas at a white board" and see what ideas might stick.

For an application to become a volunteer, go to Chelan7.com website and click on the employment and volunteer tab. Or contact Assistant Fire Chief Brandon Asher directly by email: Basher@cfr7.org. or by phone: 509-682-4476.

In other business:

• Ladder 71, after being inspected by Underwriter's Laboratory, is out of service until repairs can be made. Fire Chief Mark Donnell said the one year warranty was long past, but the company that sold the apparatus to the district was still very helpful. Brindlee Mountain Fire Apparatus of Union Grove, Alabama was credited by Donnell as being cooperative in looking for solutions to the issue. Donnell said it would cost around $200,000 for the district to send the truck to South Dakota to have it refurbished and returned. Part of the corrosion issue was caused by the truck coming from the eastern side of the country, thus subjecting it to corrosive salt that is used on roads in the winter as a de-icing agent.

• Phil Moller was re-elected as chairman of the commission for another year.

• A discussion was had about the potential to combine fire departments in Orondo, Entiat and Manson with Chelan which would help remove the redundancy of training academies, administrative duties and maintenance operations, but Chief Donnell wondered if any other chiefs are willing to engage in serious talks or are they being territorial or unwilling to “step down from their kingdom.” Commissioner Russ Jones suggested it wasn’t a matter of “empire building” but efficiencies of management. Donnell said, “It’s going to take the community and people at the elected level” to accomplish any changes to the current structures of the four entities. Donnell offered to “step aside” if that’s what it took to get departments merged. It was a general consensus that more “commissioner to commissioner” conversations were needed to possi-

Approximately 12 people were associated with the Zoom meeting at one point or another. Go to Chelan7.com for more information. The next meeting is Wednesday, Jan. 20 at 3 p.m., Station #71, 232 E. Wapato Ave. in Chelan.

Chelan Fire and Rescue (Chelan County Fire Protection District 7) has been in existence since 1926. The agency is a Fire Protection District, organized under Title 52 of the Revised Code of Washington. Chelan Fire and Rescue’s jurisdiction is located in Northeast Chelan County, covering 125 square miles around Lake Chelan and surrounding areas. These areas include: The City of Chelan, Chelan Falls, Union Valley, South Lake Shore, 25 Mile Creek, the north side of Lake Chelan from the City of Chelan to Manson, Chelan Airport, and Howard Flats up to the Chelan/Okanogan County line.

Heritage Heights residents receive Care Bears

Courtesy Lake Chelan Rotary

Lake Chelan Rotary has held the staff and residents at Heritage Heights close to their hearts through this pandemic. During this time of social isolation, they wanted to do something that would bring them a little cheer and let them know they are not forgotten. The Lake Chelan Rotary Club gave each resident a Care Bear to cuddle with. (No one got Grumpy Bear!) With the help of a $1,000 District Grant, the Lake Chelan Rotary Club has contributed $1,400 towards PPE costs at Heritage Heights. from 93%); Spouse, 60% for 2021(same), 65% for 2022 and 70% for 2023. Dependent children 60% (same). • Increase in longevity pay rate by $5 per month for each milestone with increase of $5 for each year of the contract for a total of $15. The financial impact to the city is approximately $8,700 for 2021.

Mayor Bob Goedde, during his comments period, noted that British Columbia (Canada) has about 5 million residents and fewer COVID-19 cases and deaths compared to the state of Washington with a slightly larger population, but exponentially more COVID-19 cases and deaths. His conclusion was that “masks work.”

Council members wished each other holiday cheers as the next meeting will be a workshop on Jan. 5 and the next council meeting is scheduled for Tuesday, Jan. 12.

Approximately 21 people “attended” the Zoom meeting with more than half of that number being city council or staff.

Manson American Legion aids Heritage Heights

SUBMITTED BY NORM MANLY,
AMERICAN LEGION POST 108
SERVICE OFFICER

CHELAN - The Manson American Legion, Post 108 continues its support of our community with a $700 donation to Heritage Heights, the only senior living facility in the Valley. Norm Manly, Post 108's Service Officer and Craig Pittson, Post 108 member and Santa for the day, presented the check to Heritage Heights board member, Timi Starkweather.

Heritage Heights was built in 1996 as a senior living facility and has 32 rooms. Since the pandemic struck earlier this year, the number of residences has decreased to 24. The lack of income and increase in cost, more staff, Covid-19 cleaning expense and higher food prices has dramatically affected their bottom line.

Heritage Heights, our local, non-profit senior living center, is asking you to consider this valuable and essential care center for your gifting this December. You can mail your tax-deductible check to Heritage Heights, 505 E. Highland Avenue - Chelan, WA 98816.

A side note to this story.

Craig also donated $300 to Heritage Heights bringing the total to $1,000, after a customer where he was playing Santa was impressed with his depiction of Santa and said to 'give this ($300) to your favorite charity.'

Craig Pittson plays Santa Clause throughout the Christmas season. Recently, at Wapato Point Cellars one of the customers was so impressed with Craig's depiction of Santa he reached in his wallet and pulled out $300 and told Craig, "Wish my grandchildren where here to enjoy you. Give this to your favorite charity. Craig donated the $300 to Heritage Heights bringing the total to $1,000.

American Legion Commander Clyde McCullough said, "We are very happy we have the ability to financially assist people in our community. Assisting veterans, helping youth and giving back to our community are some of the reasons the American Legion was chartered by the United States Congress in 1919."

St. Andrew's Church on Woodin Ave. is an historic landmark.

St. Andrew's schedules early Christmas Eve Zoom services

SUBMITTED BY ST. ANDREW'S EPISCOPAL CHURCH

CHELAN - In a break with tradition in a decidedly untraditional year, St. Andrew's Episcopal Church has moved Christmas Eve service to 2 p.m. Dec. 24, onto a Zoom internet format to accommodate more people.

"Due to state regulations and an effort to accommodate as many people as possible, we've made some changes," Rev. Cannon Linda Mayer said. "So, to make it easier negotiating in the snow, and to allow our younger extended church families to watch on Zoom, we've broken with history and planned an early afternoon Christmas Eve service online."

"St. Andrew's has been a big part of the celebration of our Savior's birth in Chelan for more than 100 years," Rev. Mayer added. "Although seating in the church is limited to only 25 worshippers, we want as many people to Zoom in as possible for this important event."

Join Christmas Eve services via Zoom at: <https://us02web.zoom.us/j/84574811302>

As in years past, there will be live acoustic and organ music arranged by music director Hannah Hubbard and choral presentations from soloist Marci Hale in the historic log church.

St. Andrew's Church, built more than 110 years ago, is the oldest permanent structure in Chelan. The church became the centerpiece around which the community grew to eventually become a city. Now on the National Register of Historic Places, the authentic log church attracts many visitors. The public is welcome at Sunday services held at 10 a.m. The church is located at 120 E. Woodin Avenue. For more information 509-682-2851, or email: mainbox@standrews-chelan.org

Santa on parade with friends

Santa Claus was joined by some reindeer, elves and The Grinch for the last Santa Parade in downtown Chelan on Dec. 18. Joining them were Chelan Fire and Rescue and Lake Chelan EMS. After the parade they all headed out to visit children for Santa's last neighborhood visit before he makes his around the world trip on Christmas Eve.

OBITUARIES

Wanda Lea Gallagher

Wanda Lea Gallagher, 93, went home to be with the Lord on December 14, 2020 with family by her side in Manson, Washington. We lost one of the most wonderful old timers of Chelan and Manson.

She was born on November 13, 1927, in Elmore City, Oklahoma to the parents of Edna and James Wright. Wanda and her family moved to California. She met Ozap "Blackie" Scribner in California. Ozap and Wanda married in 1946 in Chelan, Washington. They made their home here in Chelan/Manson area. They were together until he passed in 1969. She later met Larry Gallagher and were married on September 1, 1971. Where she remained in the Chelan/Manson area.

Larry and Wanda owned and operated their own apple orchards and became members of Trout Apples. Wanda worked in the apple warehouse as did many of the orchardist's wives.

Wanda was an active member of the North Shore Bible Church and participated in many church events and activities. She would have bible studies at her house. The most important thing in her life was the Lord Jesus Christ.

Many people would call Wanda grandma and stop by for her famous chocolate chip cookies. Her family would come from all over to eat her biscuits and gravy and chicken pot pie. You were never disappointed. She always welcomed you with open arms. Wanda loved to have people come over and to play the domino game called chicken foot. Anywhere from kids to great-grandchildren to friends would play with her. No one could ever win against her. She remained the chicken foot champion till the day she passed.

Wanda came from a close-knit family. Her older sister Susie would have a huge family gathering for the holidays. This was a tradition that was passed down through the siblings. When it was Wanda's turn people came to enjoy this tradition with her. If you ask anyone who knew her, they will tell you that she was the best cook they ever knew.

Her hobbies included traveling and camping. Wanda and Larry loved to go camping and travelled to many national parks around the country. Lake Conconully was their favorite spot to enjoy a family camp excursion.

Wanda is preceded in death by her 6 siblings Susie, Evelyn, Vernon, Winnie, James, and Oliver, her husband Ozap

"Blackie" Scribner, husband Larry Gallagher, and son Bill Gallagher.

She is survived by her 2 sons and their spouses, Gordon and Jayne Gallagher, Arizona, Jim Scribner and Coni Ryan, Washington; 2 daughters and their spouses, Joyce and Jackie Williams, California, Janice and Mark Shorter, Oklahoma; 7 grandchildren; 9 great-grandchildren.

A Celebration of Life will be on a later date.

John D. Simpson, Jr.

John D. Simpson, Jr, 88, passed away peacefully on Wednesday, December 9, 2020. John was born in Wheeling, West Virginia to John D. and Cecyl (Sanney) Simpson on January 21, 1932. John's early school years, alongside his sister, Jean, were in New Guinea and Australia. After graduating from Knox Grammar School in Sydney, Australia, he moved to Golden, Colorado to attend Colorado School of Mines graduating with a Professional Engineering Degree in Mining in December 1958. He met the love of his life, Carol (Mortimer) Simpson in Golden when he was sent to practice surveying residential land on the outskirts of town as part of his schooling. They were married December 21, 1953.

In January 1954, John was inducted into the United States Army serving in the Korean War, stationed at Fort Zama, Japan, as a Machine Accounting Specialist. John was honorably discharged on December 30, 1955 and transferred to the Army Reserve Colorado Military District for 4 years.

After graduating from CSM in 1959, John began his mining career in San Manuel, Arizona. In 1963, John and Carol with their 3 children moved to Red River, New Mexico, where John worked for Molybdenum Corporation of America in an underground mine. John became known for his fun on the ski hill and doing a pig roast in which he invited the entire town. In 1965, John and Carol decided to move to Fraser Lake, British Columbia where John accepted a position with Placer Development Ltd, at Endako Mines, one of North America's largest molybdenum mines. John helped design and develop the open pit and oversee production as Chief Engineer.

The family had many wonderful years together in Fraser Lake hunting, camping, snow and water skiing. John spent many weekends and summers planning and exploring rivers and lakes in the B.C. interior with family and friends. Some of these included traversing the Nation Lakes by boat, Ootsa Lake by boat or float plane, and a summer trip starting at Fraser Lake going down the Nechako River, up Stuart River to Stuart Lake and onto Takla Lake in the Sockitome, his 24-foot river boat. John also had a love for flying and owned a Super Cub that he flew into many lakes in the northern interior of B.C. John was always ready to take anyone and everyone who wanted to join him on his adventures of the wilderness. John persevered to see an indoor recreational complex built in Fraser Lake that brought the community together attending hockey games, figure skating and broomball events.

Because of his expertise in open pit mining, John was invited to spend 6 months in Torrelavega, Spain, to do a feasibility study to transition an underground mine to an open pit mine. Upon returning to North America in 1977, John and Carol moved to Chelan, Washington and started a new venture in Apple Orchard. John and Carol retired from orcharding after 10 years and split their time between Hawaii and Battle Bay on the west coast of Vancouver Island. Together they took up cycling, marathons, kayaking, camping, fishing, and surviving in style on rugged Vancouver Island. After becoming a certified tennis pro in his mid-sixties, John and Carol offered tennis lessons at Wapato Point in Manson and ran a family fun program for many summers. In December 2003, John and Carol with their son, Jay and Myrna, opened Big Pine Winery in Manson. Lots of visitors enjoyed many fun times at Big Pine, overlooking the north shore of Lake Chelan, and John was certainly a dynamic host listening to and telling lifelong stories. After selling the winery in 2007, John returned to his love of the ocean. One of his bucket list items in 2010, was to circumnavigate Vancouver Island on The Other Office, a boat belonging to his 2nd son, Chuck. Rounding Cape Scott was a dream come true for John.

During his last ten years, John enjoyed traveling to nearby states to see the lands and various landmarks. He returned to Colorado School of Mines in 2013 and walked the campus, visiting his old fraternity house and having a beer on the front porch of a neighboring fraternity with some young CSM students. Times had certainly changed but the hospitality of Mines had not!

In his final years, John made the best of declining health by living in Selah, Washington with his daughter, Penny and husband, Doug. That is when he met the DeLoza family. Rachel was a whirlwind of fresh air for John, introducing him to his many friends at the Harmon Center, VFW and American Legion and ensuring John had the utmost happiness in his final years. A heartfelt thank you goes to Rachel, Manuel and the entire DeLoza family!

John is preceded in death by his parents, John and Cecyl Simpson, Vancouver, B.C. and his granddaughter, Marisa Simpson, Victoria, B.C.

John is survived by his wife of 67 years, Carol, 3 children, Jay (Janiece) Simpson, Brewster, Washington, Chuck (Sylvia) Simpson, Victoria, B.C., Penny (Doug) McGrath, Selah, Washington, Myrna Simpson, Chignik Lagoon, Alaska, and his sister, Jean Anderson, Merritt, B.C. Grandchildren Dan (Jamie) Simpson, Jim (Dani) Simpson, Jennie (Dan) Grunert, Kyla (Scott) Rutherford, Travis (Chrissy) Simpson, Josh (Davannah) Simpson, Jordan (Anne) Simpson, Kelsey Simpson, Taylor Simpson, Micaela Simpson, Amanda (Brandon) Folk, Richard McGrath, Joel McGrath, and blessed with 22 great-grandchildren as well as many nieces and nephews.

Per John's wishes there will be no service. There will be a family gathering next summer on Lake Chelan to remember John. Donations may be made to your favorite charity. The Simpson Family also wish to thank Shaw and Sons as well as Brookside Funeral Homes and Crematory in Yakima.

THE WASHINGTON OUTDOORS REPORT

The Christmas Bird count

BY JOHN KRUSE, THE WASHINGTON OUTDOOR REPORT

It's happened every year for 120 years and it will happen again in 2021, though the Covid-19 pandemic is making things a bit different this year. It's the Audubon Christmas Bird Count and it takes place all over North America and other locales between December 14 and January 5. This is an annual census of birds, taken in designated circles by volunteers who get together to tally what kind of birds they see and how many over the course of one day during this time period. The circles are 15-miles in diameter and remain the same every year. There are circles located throughout Washington State though there are surprisingly none found in Grant or Adams County. As for who catalogs the species of birds seen and counts how many there are, any one is invited to participate. As you might imagine, enthusiastic bird watchers are keen to take part but beginners are also welcome. Beginners will be paired with more experienced birders.

This annual census is a valuable citizen science tool and shows population trends over time regarding different bird species. For example, checking historical data at the Audubon website for Washington State you'll find wild turkey populations have grown nearly 40-fold since 1972 and the number of bald eagles has increased five-fold during this same time frame. Mike Munts, the compiler for the Chewelah area circle, notes the arrival and continuing increase in numbers of the Eurasian collared dove in recent years, something Joe Veverka, the compiler for the Leavenworth circle, noticed as well in Chelan County. On the other hand, some species are not doing very well. One of them is the gray (formerly known as the Hungarian) partridge, which has seen a 75 percent decrease in numbers since 1972.

So where are Christmas Bird Counts taking place this year? Here's a list of circles in the area our readers live in and the status of bird count gatherings during this year of Covid-19 disruptions.

BRIDGEPORT - Was scheduled to occur on December 16.

CHELAN - Compiler Steve Easley says due to the pandemic, participants will not get together at the beginning or end of the count day which is taking place January 2. If you want to participate, call Easley at 509-682-2318 by Christmas Day. You will be on your own to count birds on the 2nd. After the count, participating volunteers can submit their count results to Easley by January 5.

COLVILLE - Compiler Barbara Harding says that due to Covid-19, "We will not be doing our regular CBC COUNT on Dec 19. We are hoping to have our folks do feeder counts that day since many of them live within the count circle."

CHEWELAH - Compiler Mike Munts says the count in this circle is cancelled this year due to Covid-19 concerns.

KLICKITAT VALLEY/COLUMBIA HILLS - The count is scheduled to take place

December 27. Contact Samuel Holman by email at sam4cb@embarqmail.com if you would like to participate this year.

LEAVENWORTH - Joe Veverka, the compiler for this circle, said the bird count took place December 15 though participation was limited due to pandemic related restrictions.

WENATCHEE - The Christmas Bird Count in this circle will take place on December 30. If you would like to be a part of this contact Dan Stephens at 509-682-6752 or by email at dstephens@wvc.edu as soon as possible.

If you would like to find out more about the Audubon Christmas Bird Count (and maybe establish a counting circle in your area if there is not one present), go to <https://www.audubon.org/conservation/science/christmas-bird-count>

Seven reasons to get the COVID vaccine

I hope you have a safe and sacred Christmas. I am very thankful that the COVID vaccine is finally available. Please make sure you get vaccinated against COVID, too.

Here are 7 Reasons I'm getting the COVID Vaccine:

1. I don't want to risk my health.

One of the scariest aspects of COVID is its unpredictability. Although it causes only mild discomfort in most people, COVID can occasionally trigger a severe and potentially fatal reaction. This immune "storm" can create multiple clots in your lungs, heart, or kidneys, threatening your health.

Some people who survive their severe COVID infection still suffer from shortness of breath, and doctors don't know how to make them better. I don't want to gamble that I will have just a mild case of COVID. I'd rather train my body to fight it off by getting vaccinated.

2. The science makes sense.

Having been a pharmacist for over 40 years, I remember the swine flu vaccine disaster and its cause: cutting corners and allowing a product to be used without sufficient testing. Thankfully, we've learned a lot since then.

Much of the science behind the new COVID vaccines have been in use for YEARS in our annual flu vaccine formulations. For example, manufacturing viral-like fragments without growing them in egg culture is faster and perfectly safe for those allergic to eggs or feathers. Our clinic has been using this flu vaccine, Flucelvax®, for the last 3 years with no problems.

The over-65 flu vaccine has had 2 different formulas for the last 3 years: a "high dose" and an "adjuvanted" version. Our clinic has used the adjuvanted flu vaccine formulation with no problems.

One of the reasons the COVID vaccine has taken less time to create is that many pieces had already been developed. With the FOCUS and FUNDING provided by Operation Warp Speed, these newer science and technology areas could be brought together to target the COVID virus.

3. To preserve healthcare access for everyone.

Our community lost one of its two hospitals in late January 2020 and struggled to weather the COVID pandemic. This week, our remaining hospital has an entire FLOOR plus half of the intensive care beds battling COVID. Although hospital staff has been faithful with wearing personal protective equipment, COVID has begun to spread among them. Having adequate space AND hospital staff available to take care of your illness or surgery is critical.

4. Adjuvants are proven immune boosters.

We have been adding adjuvants to vaccines to increase their effectiveness for years. The old shingles vaccine was a live attenuated virus and provided only 50% protection against shingles. The new shingles vaccine contains viral particles that cannot infect you, plus a compound called an adjuvant to boost its effect. This has given the more recent Shingrix® vaccine well over 90% effectiveness.

Influenza vaccines are notorious for providing only about 50-60% of protection for older adults. There are 2 formulations designed for older adults to trigger a better response to the vaccine: one with a higher concentration and the other with an adjuvant. The "high dose" formula has 4 times the amount found in the standard vaccine or the adjuvanted one. Using an adjuvant instead of manufacturing 4 times the concentration is much faster to create.

5. mRNA vaccines are safer than older live virus vaccines.

Vaccines used to be made by using live but weakened versions of the virus to trigger an immune response. Newer science which allows the use of fragments of a virus that cannot replicate itself is much safer. Unfortunately, your immune system doesn't readily recognize viral fragments as a threat.

Adding an adjuvant to a virus fragment helps get the attention of your immune system, like someone waving at you and yelling, "Over here!" Once the adjuvant gets your immune system's attention, the viral mRNA attached to it provides a blueprint of what your body needs to create effective antibodies against the virus.

6. My experience will help others.

Several clinical trials for the COVID vaccines (my sister-in-law was enrolled in one of those trials) have been completed. Some people may still have concerns about trying something so new.

Fear not, as a whole bunch of doctors, nurses, nurse aides, and other health care workers like pharmacists, paramedics, and emergency medical technicians will be vaccinated against COVID ahead of you. As a bonus, we are plugged into the medical community, and if there are issues, we will report them. By the time you get your first dose, doctors will know even more about what to expect.

7. Feeling crummy for a few days is actually a GOOD thing.

With newer, more effective vaccines like shingles and COVID, your body gets "revved up" to fight off future infection. This is sometimes accompanied by 1-2 days of fatigue, fever, muscle aches, headache, and other symptoms. This is NOT the vaccine giving you the illness, just a temporary reaction associated with getting an excellent immune response from the vaccine.

Very Successful Business for Sale

My wife and I have decided to retire and have chosen to sell our business Your Family Name. Go to our website: www.yfn.net and see some of the products we sell.

Since opening in 2006 with the "Name Store". We have added some new great selling products. Our most popular are the Rhythm Magic Motion clocks, House of Jerky products and Almond Blossom nuts. We have 2 great employees and are great at running the store in our absence.

People come into the store all the time and say "Oh we have been here before, we just like to come in when in town and checkout all your great and new stuff."

We have a lot of repeat customers who love coming in for the Nuts and Jerky. We are not asking any "Blue Sky" payment for the store. We are just asking for someone to purchase the inventory at cost and take over this well-established business. The inventory will run in the area of $20K. As they say, the 3 things important to any business is Location, Location, and Location.

This business is located at 933 Front Street, Suite D. Leavenworth—meaning traffic to our store is excellent. If interested, we can make ourselves available to you for training, or you can take advantage of our already trained employees, who are willing to stay on. Call Duane, 509-423-0553.

Recap of recent COVID-19 news, updates

SUBMITTED BY WASHINGTON STATE DEPT. OF HEALTH

Statewide Response Updates

Newest numbers. The Department of Health reported a total of 209,344 confirmed cases as of 11:59 pm on December 16. There have been 3,117 COVID-19 deaths in Washington.

For the most recent tally of cases by county, demographics, and more, visit the Department of Health's dashboard and the state's COVID-19 risk assessment dashboard.

Over 1,000 COVID-19 vaccine doses given to high-risk health workers in Washington state as federal changes reduce statewide allocation. As of December 16 at midnight, providers in Washington state had reported giving a total of 1,159 COVID-19 vaccine doses to high-risk health workers. Vaccination began this week for Phase 1A groups, which include frontline health workers and long-term care residents and staff.

Updated vaccine allocation numbers. The Department of Health was contacted by Operation Warp Speed yesterday evening and told that Washington's Pfizer-BioNTech COVID-19 vaccine allocation will be 44,850 doses rather than the 74,100 doses we were expecting to receive.

We were not given an explanation as to why our allocation was reduced, and we do not currently have allocation numbers beyond next week. We still expect to receive the remaining Pfizer-BioNTech doses we ordered for this first week (62,400 total doses). Read the full news release here.

Inslee announces updated school guidance for in-person instruction. Gov. Jay Inslee and Superintendent of Public Instruction Chris Reykdal today announced an update in the metrics used to inform local school district decisions for in-person learning. They also announced $3 million from set aside funds to be distributed to implement health and safety protocols.

The update to the school health and safety toolkit comes after recent data showed limited COVID-19 transmission in school environments when state health and safety protocols are implemented.

A new back-to-school plan:

State releases updated guidance around in-person learning. The Department of Health (DOH) released updated metrics to help local leaders and school officials make decisions about in-person learning and the risk of transmission of COVID-19 in the school environment.

Changes to the metrics include revisions to the COVID-19 incidence rates to consider when making decisions about who to prioritize for in-person learning. We've also included further clarification that local leaders also should consider test positivity and trends in cases and hospitalizations to inform decisions about expansion of in-person learning.

In addition to the updated metrics, DOH announced an increased focus on the health and safety measures that are required by law for the provision of any in-person learning in private or public K-12 schools. Read the full news release here.

Governor Inslee Press Conference on COVID-19 on December 16, 2020.

Governor Jay Inslee held a press conference at the State Capitol to give an update on the state's response to the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic and provide new guidance around schools. Recording available from TVW here.

December 16 COVID-19 response update media briefing recording available. A recording of this week's COVID-19 response update media briefing with leaders from the state COVID-19 response is available from TVW here.

Antigen positive tests results now included in DOH dashboards. The Washington State Department of Health began including antigen-positive COVID-19 cases in the COVID-19 Data Dashboard and the COVID-19 Risk Assessment Dashboard. Since September 30, antigen-positive testing data have been included in a separate weekly report because at the time, we were not able to roll these results into the main dashboards for reporting. With this inclusion, reporting antigen-positive test results will provide a more accurate picture of community transmission and help guide efforts to respond to COVID-19.

Coping with COVID: Healthy communication. During the December holidays in the COVID-19 pandemic, there are many opportunities for tough conversations with family and friends. We may have differing opinions on how to celebrate the holidays while keeping ourselves and our families safe, and it can be hard to share those opinions when you want to keep the peace. In this episode of DOH's Coping with COVID podcast series, Kira Mauseth, PhD and Doug Dicharry, MD discuss what's happening with our emotions and behaviors, and skills for having challenging conversations during stressful times.

Job search requirements currently optional. Job search requirements are currently suspended for regular and extended unemployment benefits. When the requirements are reinstated, you will need to comply with the job search requirements specific to Extended Benefits. When claiming extended benefits, one must contact at least four employers each week.

Inslee issues proclamation on prison commitments.

Gov. Jay Inslee issued a proclamation today prohibiting unapproved transportation of individuals to state correctional facilities.

This proclamation prohibits all public agencies from transporting any individual to a state correctional facility without the advance permission of the Department of Corrections, and waives relevant statutory obligations for DOC to accept those transfers. This effort will assist the DOC in mitigating the spread of the COVID-19 virus. This order is effective immediately and expires January 3, 2021.
