Aquí, en una entrevista exclusiva de NCW Media, la Dra. Price responde algunas preguntas básicas que la mayoría de los padres, maestros, empleados, y especialmente los estudiantes quieren saber:

NCW Media: Dignos, ¿Cuántos distritos escolares maneja NCESD y sobre la inscripción y la diversidad geográfica dentro de los distritos?

Dra. Michelle Price: El North Central Educational Service District (NCESD) es una agencia localizada en Wenatchee y uno de los nueve Distritos de Servicios Educativos sin fines de lucro del estado. Los Distritos de Servicios Educativos están comisionados legislativamente de proporcionar programas y servicios cooperativos a las escuelas públicas y privadas locales, mejorando las oportunidades educativas en áreas que de otra manera no estarían disponibles para las escuelas. Los Distritos de Servicios Educativos también sirven como enlaces regionales entre el Superintendente de Instrucción Pública del Estado (OSPI), la Junta de Educación del Estado, y la Legislatura.

El área de NCESD incluye 12,600 millas cuadradas, o aproximadamente el 20% del área geográfica del estado de Washington. NCESD brinde servicios a 29 distritos escolares en esta región, que incluye los condados de Chelan, Douglas, Grant y Okanogan. of complaints about Slidewaters starting on June 18. The company was contacted to confirm it was open, and to notify them that they were in violation of the governor's order. L&I also sent Slidewaters a letter on June 29 directing the waterpark to cease operations.

"For our state to win the fight against COVID-19, we all need to pull together and do what's right for our communities," said Anne Soiza, assistant director in charge of L&I's Division of Occupational Safety and Health (DOSH). "Businesses are required under the law to protect the health and safety of their employees. This company clearly knows what the Safe Start requirements are, but is choosing to ignore them, putting workers and the community at risk."

NCW Media: What are your feelings about reopening schools for the fall:

Dr. Price: COVID-19 has been a traumatic event with no end time in sight. Schools not only allow for parents to get to work but are fundamental to child development and well-being. When school buildings were closed in March, educators pivoted nearly overnight to adjust nesses that are doing the right thing," Soiza added. Safe Start Approach

The governor's Safe Start proclamation prohibits businesses from operating unless their county is in the appropriate phase of the statewide plan to reopen their economy and other aspects of daily living. Chelan County is in a modified Phase 1 of the four-phase state plan. That means waterparks should not be open.

Operating and serving customers exposes workers at Slidewaters to unacceptable risk of coronavirus exposure. As a result, L&I is citing the company for a Willful General violation and assessing a $9,639 fine. Slidewaters has 15 business days to appeal the L&I action.

The company faces a state Department of Health order as well. On Friday, July 10, the department ordered Slidewaters to take corrective action and immediately stop operating any general use spa, wading pool, spray to remote teaching methods and to provide nutritional services to families. Many students and families were unable, due to their own unique situations, to engage in academic learning. The lack of broadband access and enough devices in homes also made online learning for all impossible. The importance of in-person learning is well-documented. Academic instruction, social and emotional skills, safety, reliable nutrition services, specially designed instruction and therapy, and the ability for human connection is a necessity for resilient, healthy, and productive children. Schools need to reopen safely for students and staff. I believe school re-opening should be a local decision with stakeholder input and guidance from local health district experts. There is no one-size-fits all solution.

pool, and recreational water contact facility regulated under WAC 246-262.

Several chances to comply

By the time L&I receives a Safe Start referral from the state Emergency Operations Center (EOC) team, the business has already been contacted by phone and, when possible, by email to ensure they understand the Safe Start rules. In most cases, businesses comply.

If employers say they won't follow the rules or L&I receives more complaints, the department sends a warning letter that they could be fined if they remain open. Inspectors may later drive by the businesses to make sure they're complying. If they're open, the case is referred to an L&I Division of Occupational Safety and Health investigator, who inspects the work site in person and may issue a citation.

People who believe a business is violating Safe Start rules can report it online.

maintains social distancing and uses hand sanitizer - are those measures good enough to ensure student/ teacher safety from coronavirus?

Dr. Price: I am not a health expert. What we know is the current CDC, Department of Health, and OSPI guidelines have been developed based on what has been learned about the virus from other states and countries. Reopening strategies that are outlined in the guidance have shown to help keep kids and staff safe in other locations throughout the world. The long term traumatic academic and social effects on most kids being home for lengthy periods of time need to be weighed against the risks of using mitigation strategies of masking, social distancing, and good hygiene habits.

Time for a change

Before you fill out your ballot – read this

This year's race for governor of the state of Washington is historic. There are 36 candidates who have filed. That is a record number of candidates vying for the top executive position in our state.

In a couple of weeks voters will reduce the number of candidates to two. Many of those who have filed have no chance of advancing to the general election. Many of them are not even concerned about that. They are running to raise awareness to some issue that they believe needs to be addressed.

Two weeks ago we offered a brief review of the 4 Democrats running against Governor Inslee who is seeking his third term. None of them have a chance of unseating Inslee.

If you are a Democrat but can't stand the way Inslee has allowed our state to deteriorate into a quagmire of insurrection, abandonment of the homeless and mentally ill, or his destruction of the state's economy. You do have a number of choices.

You can choose to not vote.

You can waste your vote on one of the other Democratic candidates You can vote for one of the minority candidates outlined in this issue, or you can choose to support a Republican as a message to the Democrat Party that they have lost their way.

Washington voters have not elected a Republican governor since 1985. It is time. It is time to reject the failed policies of the Seattle machine. A party that has turned the Emerald city into a national disgrace. A party that has caused KOMO News to run an investigative video, "Seattle is Dying". A political machine that has allowed radicals to take over parts of the city, destroy private property and interfere with emergency services resulting in serious injury and death of several individuals.

Of the 15 Republicans running, there are only a handful that have the potential to unseat Governor Inslee. Over the years I have resisted the temptation to tell my readers how to vote. With this year's overwhelming list of possible candidates, however, I think it is vitally important to focus on the few that have potential. Potential to remind Washington Democrats that their first responsibility is to serve the peaceful, law-abiding citizens of this once great state.

First let me say, I am not a Republican. I have had issues with Republicans over the years. Generally, I think there are far too many Mitt Romney's in the party. In other words, politicians who just go along to get along on serious issues. Politicians who want bigger, more intrusive government. I am a conservative who believes capitalism, free enterprise and limited government are the most important concepts that have created this great society.

We are not perfect, but in the last 50 years we have strayed far from the principles that created this great nation. A country where millions around the world still want to become a citizen.

The Democrat party has lost its way. In its effort to be "inclusive" it has fallen for every disgruntled or dissatisfied group that has a cause – real or imagined. It has supported and defended radical candidates who do not understand the basic elements of our Constitution. It has supported the take over of our schools. Creating a monopolized system of education that has brainwashed our youth.

And what has it gotten us? A country and a state that is deeply divided.

Here in Washington, there is a serious movement gaining ground to split the state in two. A movement to abandon the radical agenda of the Seattle political machine.

It is time for a change. That change can only begin if the good citizens of Washington state abandon their fierce loyalty to a party that no longer represents their interests.

Republican voters for their part must come together and support one candidate who can defeat the Seattle machine. There are fifteen Republicans on the ballot. Most are good candidates that would make a better governor than Jay Inslee. But only one strikes real fear in the heart of that machine.

That candidate is Tim Eyman.

It is true that Eyman has some baggage the left will endeavor to exploit. That is true of anyone who will challenge the Democrats for power. They have become the party of negativity. They will stop at nothing to defeat any challenger. If they can't find some real facts to impugn the character of their opponents. They will make it up. Knowing that by the time their deception is revealed the election will be over.

Eyman has statewide name recognition. He is a tireless campaigner. He has a proven track record of success in taking on the Seattle machine. Most importantly, he is realistic about how his election would impact state politics.

At a rally in Wenatchee last week, JoAnne Prusa of Cashmere, asked Eyman an important question.

"If you are elected, how would you work with a Democrat controlled legislature."

Eyman's response was significant. He said he would use his veto power. He went on to point out an important reality.

"A veto doesn't mean a bill is dead. It means the legislature, both Democrats and Republicans, have to come together to override the veto on important bills. Today, the Democrats do not need the Republicans to pass any measures and they know it."

Eyman pointed out that today we have one party rule in Olympia. Eyman said he doesn't believe one party rule is good for the state or the country.

It is time for a change. Vote for Tim Eyman on the August 4 primary ballot.

Minority candidates running for governor

BY BILL FORHAN, PUBLISHER

This year's primary election includes a record number of candidates vying for governor. Thirty-six people registered with the Secretary of State.

Two weeks ago we reviewed the 4 Democrats looking to unseat Jay Inslee. Last week we reviewed 15 Republicans and this week we will review the 16 minority candidates. None of these candidates have any chance of getting elected. We offer them here for those voters who wish to vote in opposition to the major party candidates.

Alex Tsimerman -Prefers StandupAmerica Party

Tsimerman's Statement: Standup! America First! Live Free or Die! Stop and tuition-free college or trade school. Our farmworkers deserve strong workplace protections. Our health care professionals deserve a reporting infrastructure that takes their demands and whistleblower complaints seriously. Finally, Amazon's practices have been anti-competitive and predatory. We need to transform Amazon into a public utility owned by the people.

Winston Wilkes - Prefers Propertarianist Party

Wilkes' Statement: No new taxes. Third party audits on all taxes to find waste or misuse. Better health care for all. Equality of opportunity for all. Term limits. All these policies I am in favor of, but they are just talking points. We expect politicians to lie and cheat. We also expect them to make millions of dollars through corrupt means while in office, and we just accept it. Holding government accountable is something no one in politics will do and I am sick of it. Together with the people we will implement new bills to punish corruption and enact Title 18 Section 241 and 242 of the United States Code to remove the rot in government. Bringing back trust in the government is my goal, and instilling fear of the people into the gov-

I will try to do what is right, because it takes twice as much energy to correct a wrong. ism and chip away at the foundations of our country. Not money, not slavery, not fear, not greed or power. That Every Citizen has the right To Freedom! The colonies did not rebel Because the Time was ripe, the moment opportune! What Great things could possibly come from such virtues less tactics? We Stood up against an everincreasing Tyrannical King and decided the time of being ruled by other's was an inequity we would no longer justify.

David W. Blomstrom -Prefers Fifth Republic Party

Blomstrom's Statement: I'm not afraid to tackle the toughest issues, from sex trafficking to telling Bill Gates to shut up and pay his fair share of taxes. As a former teacher with the corrupt Seattle School District, education reform has always been one of my top issues. Best treatment for athletes foot

Q: What is the best treatment for athlete's foot?

If you suffer from "Athlete's Foot," you have lots of company: nearly 1 out of every 5 Americans have a fungus infecting their skin or nails, called tinea or ringworm. The tinea fungus thrives in warm, moist, and dark places, so people tend to get infections from tinea in areas that are tightly covered and sweaty.

The medical name for infection with tinea depends on which area of your body is affected. For example, if your foot is affected with tinea, it's called tinea pedis, or "athlete's foot." A tinea infection in the groin area is referred to as tinea cruis, or "jock itch."

Tinea organisms infect your feet by finding blisters or cracks in the skin between your toes. Taking good care of your feet and keeping the skin on your feet intact helps prevent you from becoming infected with tinea.

All fungus needs moisture to thrive. Keeping your feet as dry as possible will discourage its growth and lower its ability to infect you. If possible, wear sandals with open toes to encourage air circulation to your feet and reduce sweating. Sunlight shining on your skin also helps retard the growth of tinea fungus.

Some other key strategies to help keep your feet as dry as possible include avoiding tight shoes and frequently changing your socks. Some people wear running socks designed to wick moisture away and reduce friction that can create blisters. Putting powder on your feet before you put on your socks can also help absorb moisture.

Which remedy should you use for your athlete's foot? There are several products to choose from that don't require a prescription. My personal recommendation is terbinafine 1% gel, also known as Lamisil ATÆ gel. Terbinafine is also available as a cream, but I recommend using gel because it is less moisturizing than the cream. Less moisture on your skin is a good thing when treating a fungal infection like tinea.

When selecting an antifungal product from the pharmacy shelf, be careful to LOOK at the label to ensure you are getting the medication you want.

My husband has been fighting "athlete's foot" for decades, applying a nonprescription antifungal lotion on his feet every night. Every time he thinks he's purchasing the same brand, he somehow ends up with different medicine.

The original formulation of Lamisil Æ contains terbinafine. Today the company that owns the LamisilÆ brand sells products containing different antifungal agents under the same name. Lamisil AFÆ cream contains clotrimazole, Lamisil AFÆ powder aerosol contains miconazole, and Lamisil UltraÆ cream contains butenafine.

It's the same with the DesenexÆ brand of antifungal medicines. Although the original DesenexÆ formulations contains undecylenate, Desenex Æ cream contains clotrimazole, and Desenex*Æ* foot powder contains miconazole.

Here are 5 Tips on Treating Athlete's Foot: 1. Keep your feet as dry as possible.

Fungus loves warm, moist, and dark places. Always dry carefully between your toes after bathing or swimming, avoid tight shoes, and change your socks frequently, twice daily, if possible. Wearing sandals instead of shoes whenever possible also helps keep your feet dry.

2. Sterilize your socks. Use cotton socks and wash them in HOT water. Tinea can live in your socks. Laundering your socks with scalding water reduces the likelihood of tinea fungus reinfecting your feet.

3. Use an antifungal gel, lotion, cream consistently for at least 2 weeks.

Apply your antifungal treatment twice a day for a minimum of two weeks, or until your symptoms are completely gone.

4. Use antifungal powders for maintenance, not for cure.

Don't use antifungal powder to treat an active infection because it's not powerful enough alone to eradicate the fungus. If your symptoms don't completely resolve in 2 weeks, keep treating your feet twice a day.

5. Treat an additional 2 weeks after your symptoms disappear.

Once your symptoms go away, continue treatment twice a day for another two weeks. This is very important because it helps the fungus get completely shed out of your skin. If you leave tinea fungus on the surface of your feet, they can start multiplying, and you'll be right back where you started.

6. Keep your foot fungus from coming back with a maintenance regimen.

Once your "athlete's foot" symptoms resolve and you've treated it for an additional 2 weeks, switch to a maintenance program to keep it from coming back. Using an antifungal foot powder or spray powder 1-2 times a day helps to control moisture, which helps prevent future infections.

THE WASHINGTON OUTDOORS REPORT

Waterfall Walks

By John Kruse, The WASHINGTON OUTDOOR REPORT

The heat of the summer has finally made an appearance making this a great time to hike a trail to a cold and refreshing waterfall. Looking for suggestions? Here's a few:

Rainbow Falls

Rainbow Falls near Stehekin in the North Cascades National Park Complex is a must visit destination if you are in this area. From the trailhead it's only a ¹/₄-mile round trip walk to enjoy the mist from the 312-foot waterfall. There is one catch though, the normal shuttle bus operated by the National Park Service in Stehekin is not running this year so you'll have to hike or bicycle here from the boat landing.

Silver Falls

Silver Falls is another great option located west of Entiat in Chelan County. Drive 29.5 miles up the Entiat River Road to reach the trailhead. From there you'll have a relatively steep climb of 600 feet for about a mile to reach the top of the falls. The total trail distance is 1.7 miles making this a favorite for families.

Douglas Falls

Douglas Falls can be reached from Douglas Falls Grange Park, a DNR managed property near Colville. A 1.5-mile loop hike which includes travel over a suspension bridge will give you good views of this picturesque waterfall.

Rodney and Hardy Falls Rodney and Hardy Falls don't get the respect they should. You can reach them through a 2.5-mile hike from Beacon Rock State Park in the Columbia River gorge. The 600-foot elevation gain on a hot day will let you truly enjoy the 50-foot waterfalls you'll find here.

Palouse Falls

Finally, you can't talk about waterfalls in Eastern Washington without mentioning Palouse Falls. Located north of Lyons Ferry you can take in views at the State Park here of a dramatic 198-foot drop as the Palouse River spills into a basalt basin below. No hike is required for this view but there are also trails taking you towards the top of the falls. If you go this way be sure to stay on the main path and don't get too close to the cliffs. Several people have fallen from the edge with tragic results.

Lake Wenatchee

Sockeye An unexpectedly strong return of sockeye salmon up the Columbia River this summer (over 330,000 fish as of July 14th) has a lot of anglers wondering if and when the popular Lake Wenatchee sockeye fishery will open up this year.

Checking in with WDFW Biologist Travis Maitland I learned he is, "Cautiously optimistic that there will be enough fish for a modest fishery at the lake. Modest meaning 30 to 40 thousand salmon which would be 7 to 17 thousand over and above the spawning escapement goal of 23.000."

If this forecast holds true, Maitland anticipates the daily limit would be 2 to 4 fish and the season could start as early as the last week of July but probably the first week of August since the run is a bit late this year.

Okanogan Limited Entry Deer Hunts

Eighteen special limited entry deer tags will be issued this summer allowing six bowhunters, six muzzleloader hunters and six modern firearms hunters the opportunity to harvest deer in the 6,000-acre Charles and Mary Eder Unit of the Scotch Creek State Wildlife Area in September and October. Located in Okanogan County, this wildlife area is known for having a healthy amount of both mule and white-tailed deer. The deadline to apply is August 14th and winners, randomly drawn, will be announced at the end of August. You can apply online through the WDFW website or through the WDFW North Central Regional Office in Ephrata.
