BELLINGHAM - Six college students, from Chelan, attending Whatcom Community College and Western Washington University lost their home and all of their belongings in a house fire on Saturday, Sept. 7. There was a power surge in the breaker box which started the fire, during a thunder and lightning storm.

The six, all 2016 and 2017 graduates of Chelan High School are: Maddison Zimmerman, Taryn Shaw, Nora Hollingsworth, Sophie Brownfield, Chris Weathersby and Mason Walters.

A GoFundMe account has been set up for them at: https://www.gofundme.com/f/2824-house-fire-fund?utm\_source=customer&utm\_medium=copy\_link&utm\_campaign=p\_cp+share-sheet

Chelan PUD educates consumers via open house event

NCW MEDIA MANAGING EDITOR

WENATCHEE -- The Chelan Public Utility District held an open house at the Confluence Technology Center, Thursday, Sept. 5 to explain its 2020 - 2024 Strategic Plan.

The event featured subject matter experts from several key PUD departments that were on hand to educate the public with handouts, verbal Q&A and charts.

PUD Commissioner Steve McKenna was present to speak to whatever questions or concerns the general public had to offer.

He was especially proud of one chart in particular which showed how Chelan PUD electric utility rates compared to state and national averages. (See photo)

PUD Managing Director for District Services Justin Erickson said, "The open house is another way for the PUD to get more public interest in the strategic plan and involve the public."

The four-year plan seeks to balance "near and long term" rates so the PUD can maintain its low rates compared to the rest of the state and country, according to talking points previously delivered by McKenna at an earlier meeting.

He reported that 2017 and 2018 as the "best years ever financially" in part due to the $62 million Alcoa paid back to the utility. The PUD also has the most cash on hand in its history and the debt has been reduced more than $500 million since 2010, McKenna pointed out.

Part of the PUD strategy going forward is to continue "asset investment" and identifying the "hydro system capability and distribution system reliability."

"All PUD assets are analyzed to ensure they create the best value for the long-term, including facilities and customer service technology," according to McKenna.

The "strong financial position" is due primarily to wholesale marketing of surplus energy which includes 20 percent of revenue from sales of power to area retail consumers and 80 percent wholesale gleaned from contracts with major industrial users at higher rates than retail.

Grandpas in the Classroom is looking to support classroom and kids in Chelan, Manson

THE GRANDPA PROJECT

CHELAN - The Grandpa Project - the vision and dream of Chelan resident Rod Brooks - is ramping up for a second year of growth and activity that enables more and more children to experience and benefit from a grandpa experience. According to Brooks, "There's a tremendous opportunity for men with a grandpa's heart, and a little time, to make a very real difference in a child's life."

A year ago, Brooks introduced the first-ever "Grandpa Camp" event held at The Ruby Theatre. Children and Grandpas were treated to a free movie and fun activities by The Grandpa Project and local sponsors.

Then, during the 2018/19 school year, The Grandpa Project partnered with Thrive Chelan Valley and Morgen Owings Elementary to introduce "Grandpas In The Classroom." The pilot program ran from February until the end of the school year. During that time, five volunteer grandpas were paired with a third-grade classroom, and each grandpa spent a few hours each month visiting the class, spending time with the kids, and sharing some of their life experiences. "It was a hit," said Brooks. "The kids

Learning by Listening

By SEN. BRAD HAWKINS

Earlier this September, I concluded my third annual district-wide listening tour. We expanded it this year by one additional day which was helpful and much needed. Traveling throughout North Central Washington with my staff has become an annual tradition in the fall, the time of year that legislators traditionally begin planning for the upcoming legislative session.

In past years, I have visited Leavenworth, Cashmere, Wenatchee, East Wenatchee, Chelan, Quincy, Coulee City, Soap Lake, Bridgeport, Paterson, Twisp, Winthrop, and Waterville – all communities in our vast Legislative District 12. This year's tour included many of those same stops along with new additions of Mansfield and Mazama. Despite all of the communities we have visited, there are some still remaining on my list for a future year. The size and diversity of our district can make some decisions more difficult in Olympia, but I try my best to learn the range of issues affecting us and to represent the entirety of our district when making decisions.

Hearing the diversity of voices throughout the region – as is the case each year – helps me do my job better. During this year's listening tour, community members helped me learn more about agriculture, healthcare, wildfire, transportation, education, land use, and clean energy issues just to name a few. Business regulations, tax pressure, outdoor recreation, traffic slowdowns, wildfire response, education funding, water availability, and housing affordability continue to be topics of major interest.

This feedback will certainly be helpful for me when casting key votes in Olympia.

Similar to past listening tours, I concluded my busy week with a community hike, this year up the Chelan Butte Trail overlooking beautiful Lake Chelan. Participants included Chelan Mayor Mike Cooney, Representative Mike Steele, Lake Chelan Trails Alliance, Chelan High School football team, Butte Brand apparel creators, and other individuals and groups.

The hikes provide me with an opportunity to connect with people in a unique and different way – and they have become political “walk and talk” opportunities, which are a fun change of pace from common conference room or office discussions.

As I review my notes from this month's listening sessions and look ahead to the legislative session in January, I will travel to Olympia not only better prepared to represent us but also filled with gratitude for the opportunity to do so. If you were not able to participate in my recent listening tour, please know that you can connect with me year round.

Whether here in the district or in Olympia, please reach out and stay in touch through letters, phone calls, or emails. Thank you for the opportunity to serve as your 12th District state senator. I appreciate your willingness to share your thoughts and ideas with me. I learn by listening.

Meraki Lodge

Coming into Meraki Lodge, visitors are greeted by magnificent views of the Chelan Valley, the surrounding vineyards and orchards, and the lake beyond. The pool, with its cabana and gaily colored umbrellas, sits on a terrace slightly down hill from the lodge itself.

The lodge welcomes us with a towering stone fireplace reaching to the high vaulted ceiling. Light pours into the comfortable Great Room and dining area beyond, highlighting the recurrent patterns, colors, and materials used throughout: black, white, charcoal, wood, and stone. The baths share a black and white checked motif, as does the dining table runner. All interior doors and millwork are knotty alder with honey stain, and the stone vent above the stove echoes the fireplace.

The main elements of this five-bedroom lodge occupy the ground floor, including the master suite with its spacious bath. The guest room features a sliding barn door that cleverly conceals the bath beyond. In the big, open kitchen, modern pendant lights, similar to fixtures in the Great Room, reflect in white quartz countertops. The pantry is handy nearby. Upstairs, two large bedrooms with ensuite baths provide plenty of privacy, and a seating area looks out over the valley. Above the garage, an apartment includes a bedroom, bath, and a separate living area with an efficiency kitchen.

Mother, son exhibit their art at Manson Library

SUBMITTED BY MANSON COMMUNITY LIBRARY

MANSON - Manson Community Library is honored to present an exhibit by mother-and-son professional artists Sandy Strain and Mark Strain, during the months of September and October.

Sandy has loved art since she began kindergarten. She is exhibiting some of her hand-painted shirts, a pottery piece called “Dragon Hatching,” a trapunto painting of a rose and two acrylic paintings.

Sandy's original design shirts are popular at the Manson Farmer's Market.

She paints the floral arrangements with textile paint and heat sets them.

They can be safely washed and dried.

Sandy loves to paint florals and enjoys painting in acrylics and oils.

Sandy is the mother of Mark and Bill, grandmother of two and a great-grandmother.

Mark Strain is well known in Manson for his public metal art as well as the art he sells to businesses and individuals. He designed the Manson Community tree on the wall of the apple shed in downtown Manson and the metal tree on the small island near the Methodist Church.

Mark learned first learned to create art at his mother's knee. After high school he attended graphic design school and worked as a graphic designer for 15 years. Before computers were available to assist him, he was a pen and ink designer and enjoyed architectural drawing. Mark and his wife Barbara also owned Chelan Printing for 14 years.

The abstract patinas that Mark is sharing in this exhibit have never before been seen in public. The first abstract patina that Mark created is owned by Mellisoni Winery in Chelan and is displayed over their fireplace.

All of the pieces by both Mark and Sandy are for sale. Ask the librarian for their business cards.

As a result, Erin Morin and Todd Hausman, Principal and Vice-Principal at MOE have encouraged Thrive to expand the program by adding more grandpas, more classrooms, and reaching more kids.

Calling All Volunteer Grandpas

An informational meeting will be held on Thursday, Sept. 26 in the Morgen Owings Elementary library from 5-6 p.m. Men who are interested in learning about Grandpas in the Classroom, and potentially participating, are encouraged to attend. During the meeting, program expectations will be shared, and questions will be answered. Brooks will be joined by Morgen Owings Principal Erin Morin, Vice Principal Todd Hausman, and Thrive Chelan Valley Executive Director, Kayla Helleeson. Guests will get to hear from a few of last years grandpas and teachers as well.

Plans are also underway to introduce an inaugural presence for Grandpas in the Classroom in Manson Elementary.

Culinary Apple is to be sold to JoAnne and Lars Strandberg

SUBMITTED BY MARY AND DAVE WELDY, CULINARY APPLE

CHELAN - Five years ago we made the decision that we wanted to retire from ownership of the Culinary Apple.

What was to happen to the Culinary Apple? Our three options were: Do our children want to acquire the business, do we liquidate, or is there someone within our organization who would want to carry on our legacy?

Our long-time employee JoAnne and her husband Lars Strandberg came forward and thus the succession process began.

As of January 1, 2020, they will become the new owners of the Culinary Apple. JoAnne has worked at the Culinary Apple for over 11 years and is currently our store manager.

We want to thank the community for all their support as friends and their commitment to shopping locally!

Joanne and Lars will continue to carry on our fun events and our customer loyalty program.

We will continue in an advisory position with them until March of 2021.

Edward Joseph Reynolds

September 15, 1945 - June 16, 2019

Edward J. Reynolds passed away peacefully in Wenatchee on June 16, 2019. He was born to Mary Poshka and Edward Joseph Reynolds on September 15, 1945, in New York City. He lived on the Lower East Side until his family moved to Long Island when he was eight years old. Inspired by the film How the West Was Won, Ed moved west to attend the University of Idaho in Moscow and graduated with a BS in electrical engineering in 1971. He was part of the ROTC program at the University of Idaho, and served in both the National Guard and the Army Reserves for many years, achieving the rank of captain. Ed's work as an electrical engineer took him all over the west, including nuclear power plants in Washington, Arizona, and Texas, the Montana Power Company in Missoula, and Chief Joseph and Grand Coulee Dams on the Columbia River. Despite a life of roaming, he considered Chelan his home and served two terms on the Chelan City Council. He achieved a great deal in his leisure time as well: building a house in the mountains of Montana, climbing Mount St. Helens, and rafting the River of No Return in Idaho. He enjoyed boating, camping and hiking on the shores of Lake Chelan, telling ghost stories, skiing, karate, reading about World War II, collecting guns, drinking beer, spoiling his pets, and playing PTO on the Super Nintendo. Edward was preceded in death by his parents and his beloved wife, Elaine. He is survived by his children, Sean, Casey, Jessica, and Alex, his grandsons, Asher and Caleb, and his canine son, Ben. His legacy endures in the western landscapes he so loved. A memorial service will be held at 11 a.m. on September 14, 2019, at Lake Chelan Lutheran Church. Refreshments to follow. In lieu of flowers, the family welcomes donations to the Wenatchee Valley Humane Society.

Sandra Wall

Sandra Wall went home to be with her Lord and Savior Jesus Christ on September 5, 2019 after a lengthy struggle with Alzheimer's disease. Sandra was born Alexandra Cecilia Stamolis to Philip and Phyllis Stamolis on April 18, 1940 in Ellensburg, Washington. The family moved back to Seattle and Sandra graduated from Queen Anne High School in 1958. She continued in her studies at the University of Washington graduating with a degree in political science in 1962. She married the love of her life, John Wall, on December 15, 1961 and they shared a beautiful life together for almost 55 years. After spending the first nine years of their life in the greater Seattle area, they moved to Chelan in 1970. Sandra was involved in all aspects of the family apple orchard beginning in 1976, and she also loved gardening. She could grow almost anything...and did...from tomatoes and cucumbers to raspberries and corn. Sandra's faith and family were the most important parts of her life, as she gave so unselfishly for many years raising her four children. As her children grew older, she served for a number of years on the Lake Chelan School District board of directors, retiring in 1991. Her later years were spent at home with her husband enjoying her children and grandchildren. She was truly the most amazing mother and loving grandmother, as she would literally drop everything to be with her family and help in any way possible. Without a doubt she was greatly loved and will be missed. She was preceded in death by her husband John in 2016, her sister Sylvia in 1970, her father Philip in 1964 and her mother Phyllis in 2000, as well as daughter Kelly in 1991. Survivors include her sons John of Pateros, Washington, David of Wenatchee, Washington, and Scott of New York.

She is also survived by her brother George of Fresno, California, and grandchildren Luke, Emily, Isaac, Ethan, and Tedi, as well as great-grandchildren Gideon, Boaz, Niyah, Eli, and Lydia. A combined celebration of life service for both Sandra and her husband John will be held Saturday, September 21, 2019 at Christ Center Chelan, 204b E. Okanogan Avenue, Chelan, Washington. Precht Rose Chapel of Chelan is entrusted with arrangements.

Lucille Miller Winther

Lucille Miller Winther (Cindy to many of her friends) died August 29, 2019 at her home in Wenatchee, surrounded by her family. She was born September 19, 1925, in Harris, Arkansas, to Oscar and Oma Wilkins. Lucille went to school in Arkansas until her 16th year, when her family came to WA state to look for work in the apple orchards. They settled in Chelan, where she graduated from high school. After school, she was accepted into the Army Nurse Corps and went to nursing school at Whitworth College in Spokane. Lucille loved nursing, but she loved Dan Miller from Chelan more. When he returned from the army at the end of World War II and asked her to marry him a semester before she could finish, she did so. Lucille and Dan settled first in Chelan on his family's orchard at First Creek. There they had two daughters, Susan Diane in 1947 and Rebecca Ruth (Becky) in 1949. Dan had been halfway through college when he went into the army, so they moved back to Western Washington for him to finish his education at the University of Washington. By the time Dan graduated with a degree in architecture, they had three daughters (Carol Ann came along in 1952). They found lasting friendships and architectural opportunities in Edmonds, where they made their home and where they added three more children to their family: Michael Dan in 1957, Heidi Lou in 1958 and James Allen in 1960. Edmonds was a wonderful home for them. Tragedy struck in 1963, when Dan was killed in a hunting accident. Lucille drew on the strength of her faith, family and friends to continue raising her children alone. She missed Dan for the rest of her life. In 1967, she married Melvin Winther, and for a time they continued to live in her home in Edmonds. In 1971, she and her three children who were still at home moved back to Chelan. She made a living for her family from orchards that she owned and managed. Lucille moved her family to a home on Lake Chelan, and for many years she provided a home base there for her growing family. Her children and grandchildren loved visiting her there and playing in the lake. Eventually she left the lake, moving to a condo in Wenatchee, where she lived the last 12 years of her life. Lucille was a legendary cook, spreading a table for family and many, many guests. She loved going crabbing, oyster picking, and clam digging, often coming home with enough to make wonderful crab Louies and clam feeds. She was a fearless Geoduck digger and even brought home octopi she hauled in. Her artistry was in her cooking, in the gardens of flowers and vegetables she cultivated, and in the love she had for her family and friends. She was a voracious reader, especially as her health deteriorated and she was unable to continue with other pursuits. From her children's earliest memories, she passed on a love of reading, appreciation of good humor, and the importance of character and kindness. She was a member of a fellowship of Christians who met in their homes and enjoyed friendship and fellowship throughout the world. Her faith, support and participation in the fellowship was a constant and very important aspect of her life. Her wise council and testimony meant a great deal to her family and friends. "Grandma Lucy" was beloved by her grandchildren and great-grandchildren. She never lost her eager interest in those around her, and she kept up with not only her own family but with the families of her friends and with children she had supported around the world. Proof of that caring relationship was when a young man she had supported in Taiwan brought his wife to meet her on their honeymoon. She was an ardent U of W football fan and also passionate in her politics, supporting those she felt would be of most help to the less fortunate members of our society. Lucille is mourned and survived by her family: daughters Susan (Craig) Adams of Ashburn, VA, Rebecca (Paul) Abernethy of Anacortes, WA, Carol (Doug) Evenson, of Ellensburg, WA, son-in-law Mark Kollmeyer, and sons Michael (Alice) Miller of Chelan and James (Beata) Miller of Ellensburg. She is also survived by her stepchildren Carol Hotchkiss of Orting, WA, Lyle (Bonita) Winther of Palm Bay, FL and Lloyd (Nancy Winther of Mesa, AZ. She was preceded in death by her husbands Dan Miller and Melvin Winther, by her parents, Oma and Oscar (Jim) Wilkins, brothers William, John, and Oscar, Jr., by her youngest daughter Heidi, and by her great-grandchildren Kennedy and Kasper Kollmeyer. Her descendants are

MANSON HIGH SCHOOL FOOTBALL

SUBMITTED BY JOEY JOHANSON

Game Recap 9/6/2019 vs. Kettle Falls

Final score:

Manson 20 Kettle Falls 0

MANSON - Manson football opened up the season at home on Friday night. They were able to win in the trenches and gutted out a 20-0 win. The defense played phenomenal all night and didn't allow the Kettle Falls Bulldogs to even sniff the end zone. The defensive and offensive line of Manson set the tone all night.

On offense the Trojans racked up over 250 yards rushing. Caden Beazley and Parker Schoenwald led the rushing charge, Beazley with 181 and Parker with 73. Caden punched in 3 rushing touchdowns as well as a 2-point conversion. The offensive line led by Senior Daniel Frayle and Junior Cody Fitzpatrick absolutely dominated the Kettle Falls defensive line. "Many times there was literally a hole that a truck could have drove through" said Coach Joey Johanson. It was not all smooth though. The Trojans had 12 penalties on offense which hampered their momentum all night. "A lot of young guys playing tonight for the first time ever, but at least it's an area we can improve upon."

The defense shined and made great plays all night. Parker Schoenwald had a spectacular game at Outside Linebacker. He disrupted almost every play and even ended the night with a couple of sacks. The young players on defense pinned their ears back and had fun all 4 quarters. Linebacker Nick Strecker had an interception and defensive lineman Cody Fitzpatrick read plays in the backfield all night. "I was really impressed with this defense. We have a new defensive coordinator (Jerry Lopez) and he had these boys ready to play."

Overall it was a great night, but Coach Johanson pointed out there are a few things they still need to improve upon to be competitive in the big games. "Our discipline was definitely below par. This week I will be looking at getting back to fundamentals and plenty of reps. With all that being said, I'm always proud of these guys and it's huge for our confidence and momentum to start 1-0."

Stats:

Passing: Trenton Stotko, 3 for 11, 32 yards
Rushing: Caden Beazley 17 carries for 181 yards, 3 TDs
Parker Schoenwald 13 carries for 73 yards
Nick Strecker 1 carry for 3 yards
Alan Hernandez 1 carry for 4 yards
Receiving: Caden Beazley, 3 receptions for 32 yards
Defense: Nick Strecker 1 INT
Parker Schoenwald 3 Sacks

THE WASHINGTON OUTDOORS REPORT

By JOHN KRUSE

Green(ling) with envy

It's no secret fishing opportunities in Puget Sound have taken a big hit in recent years. First, rockfish populations plummeted and the opportunity to catch and keep them ended. Lingcod seasons are short in duration (May 1st through June 15th) and salmon seasons open and close in the various marine areas on a continual basis these days due to low abundances of Chinook salmon in much of the Salish Sea.

So, what's an angler to do? Well, there are always bottomfish. Many anglers immediately think of cabezon, a huge sculpin like fish that is tasty but won't win any beauty contests. The other problem with cabezon is that most of its weight is in its head, leaving not much to fillet unless you have a sizeable fish. And while Cabezon season lasts longer (May 1 through November 30) there are still six months out of the year where you can't fish for these bottom swimmers either.

Fortunately, there are other bottomfish you can target all year long in Puget Sound. There are several species found in our State's waters but in particular, try going after kelp greenling, rock sole, pacific sand dab and starry flounder. The three latter flatfish species are often just referred to as flounder by those who catch them off sandy or gravel bottoms while kelp greenling are found, as the name implies, near kelp beds as well as around piers and rocky structures.

Greenling and flounder are not big fish. Think 12 to 18 inches here, but the daily limit is plentiful. The state record for the kelp greenling and the rock sole is just under 4 ½ pounds and the largest starry flounder taken in our state was caught in 2009 in the waters off of Clallam County; a halibut sized 9 ½ pound fish.

Catching flounder and greenling is a whole bunch of fun, especially on light tackle. It also makes for a great family outing. No fancy rods, reel or tackle are needed here. Simply get out a bass fishing rod and spool the reel with 8 to 12-pound test. After that tie a lure on or bait a plain hook with a small herring or anchovy and drop it towards the bottom. You'll often be fishing in depths of 30 to 50 feet, sometimes as deep as 120 feet for these species, and the bites can come fast and furious on a good day.

Jigging spoons like a one-ounce Mack's Sonic Baitfish or Point Wilson Dart are very effective lures that you work vertically just off the bottom. One to three-ounce lead head jigs with a curly tail plastic grub on them also work very well. As for color? Some guides say it doesn't matter. Tom Burlingame, the owner of Excel Fishing Charters out of Neah Bay, targets bottomfish with unpainted lead jigging spoons. Others, like Bob Loomis with Mack's Lure in Wenatchee, swears by the white Sonic Baitfish with black stripes. Still others use jigging spoons that are blue and chrome or green and chrome to simulate the bait the fish are after. As for curly tail grubs? White and chartreuse are favorite colors for many.

What about the status of these fish as far as numbers go? Robert Pacunski is a groundfish research scientist with the Washington Department of Fish and Wildlife. He says that unlike many other fish species in the Sound, greenling and flatfish populations are stable and they don't receive much fishing pressure.

When it comes to greenling and flatfish, Pacunski says "Get out and enjoy! They are good to eat, fun to catch, and they are a plentiful resource." If you are looking for these species of fish Pacunski suggests Marine Area 7, particularly the west side of San Juan Island which has "super productive habitat". Another part of the Sound to try are in the waters off the Olympic Peninsula, especially where kelp beds are present.

Pacunski does sound a note of caution though when it comes to following the regulations. For example, unless you are fishing off a pier or off shore you'll need to have a rigged descending device with you. This is because there's a good chance you'll catch a rockfish while targeting these other species and a descending device allows you to release the rockfish at depth where they can survive.

You are allowed to keep up to 15 bottomfish (greenling and flounder) a day. The daily limit for lingcod and cabezon is one fish from each species when the season for them is open. Find additional details in the latest published Washington Sport Fishing Rules pamphlet.

TEE TIME - LADIES GOLF

SUBMITTED BY SHERRY FISK, LAKE CHELAN LADIES CLUB TEE TIME

CHELAN - You don't see many articles about women in golf. Thank you for reading this one. You might have missed the fact that L.P.G.A. player Jin Young Ko shot par or better on 114 consecutive holes flying past Tiger Woods' longest known bogey-free streak in professional golf. They don't give a lot of press to women's golf in general but it's slowly changing. We're hopeful and our little club is doing our best to promote women in golf. This is one reason we give scholarships every year to women athletes from Chelan and Manson. Those scholarships are mostly financed by proceeds from the Lake Chelan Ladies Harvest Invitational Tournament to be held on Thursday, Sept. 12

On Thursday, Sept. 5, our Chelan Team travelled to Leavenworth to play against the strong Wenatchee Golf & Country Club team. Playing for Chelan: Barb Rayburn, April Talley, Jan Artim, Candace Farnsworth, Carol Ferguson and Gail Peterson. They had a beautiful day and the course was in awesome condition. Point wise, they got beat but not badly; especially since they played against the incomparable Pat Terry and her teammates. Chelan remains in the #1 spot for net points and hopes to hold onto that spot for the last match coming up in October. They will play the women from Yakima Elks club and Wenatchee Country Club will host.

Meanwhile, back in Chelan, 14 players competed for Monthly Medal (low gross and net by division and fewest putts). This week's results: Division 1: Low Gross First Place: Jaclyn Starr-Evans, 95. Low Net First Place: Linda Hahn, 75. Fewest Putts: Jaclyn Starr Evans, 31.

Division 2: Low Gross First Place: Joan Pierce, 102. Second Place: Janet Foyle, 104. Low Net First Place: Judy Johanson, 71. Second Place: Sherry Fisk, 77. Fewest Putts: Judy Johanson, 30.

Division 3: Low Gross First Place: Karen Erickson, 106. Low Net First Place: Pam Zent, 75. Fewest Putts: Pam Zent, 31.

Jaclyn Starr-Evans had the only birdie/chip-in on hole #10.

Due to the tournament this week, our next competition will be on Sept. 19. The competition will be Medal Play (Low gross and net of the field, low net by division). Our tee time changes to 9 a.m.. Please check in by 8:30 a.m.

LAKE CHELAN SENIOR MEN'S GOLF DIVISION

SUBMITTED BY BOB MATSON, LAKE CHELAN SENIOR MEN'S GOLF DIVISION

CHELAN - The Lake Chelan Senior Men's Golf Club founded in 1999, a division of the Lake Chelan Men's Golf Club formed in 1954, holds regular club play every Wednesday from April through October at the Lake Chelan Golf Course. The annual cost to join the Men's Golf Club is $65. Membership enables golfers age 55 and over to play with the Senior Men's Golf Club on Wednesdays and with the Men's Golf Club on Sundays.

On Wednesday, Sept. 4, Dr. Darrell Richards filling in as club president kicked off play with a 9 a.m. shotgun start. Prior to play, Darrell reminded members a Field Day Captain volunteer was still needed for the upcoming trip to Leavenworth Golf Course. In addition, he reminded Members that guests and prospective new members are welcome to join the Senior Men's Club on any Wednesday for regular play with no prior notice.

Game competition results from Wednesday, Sep. 4 are as follows:

For the Gross Score Subtract Your Four Worst Holes Less Half Your Handicap contest the winner was Cliff House, Mike Wilson and Phil Stalcup tied for second, and Jerry (Welcome Back) Trettevik took third place. Bob Carleton (6 Putts) was the runaway winner of the Most Putts Longer Than The Flagstick competition and Jim Wisdom and Gary Searle tied for second with 3 Putts. Seven other members recorded at least 2 Putts Longer Than The Flagstick. Curtis Martin won the Closest To The Pin Second Shot On Hole #4 contest (Distance 18' 9") and Ed Ferguson won the Par 3 Closest To The Pin Competition On Hole #18 contest (Distance 10' 10").

The club announced the 2nd Annual Tony Berger Memorial Golf Scramble Tournament will take place on Saturday, Sept. 14, the Men's Golf Club will hold their next club meeting on Sunday, Sept. 22 along with a free lunch, and the Senior Men's Club fall meeting will be held on Wednesday, Sept. 25.

For more membership information, contact Bob Matson at matsonfamily4@aol.com.
