Chelan City Council addresses issues at Don Morse Park

Recruitment of new parks director discussed

By Diana Piñon Staff Writer

CHELAN - After three long weeks of not meeting, the Chelan City Council gathered at Council Chambers on July 9 to get caught up with city's business.

On the evening's agenda was the proposed agreement with Prothman consulting firm for the recruitment of a Chelan Park and Recreation Director. City Administrator Mike Jackson gave a brief report to the council of the proposal. "Prothman has proposed and we have discussed a hybrid process," explained Jackson. Under this process, Prothman will be in charge of advertising and sending out individual letters, make phone calls to candidates and have a Skype interview - with the goal of making top candidate recommendations to the city. "The city will take it from there and schedule interviews and conducting them, plus making the selection," Jackson added. With the hybrid process the cost for the service will be $10,500 plus other fees.

Councilman Tim Hollingsworth expressed his concern with parking at Don Morse during the new skatepark discussion.

Prothman has also worked on revising the job description for the Parks and Rec Director position. "Primarily, we have tried to focus on the fiscal aspect because a lot of it is managing facilities," said Jackson. According to Jackson the ideal candidate will be someone with business and management experience. Councilwoman Erin McCardle shared with Jackson that she would want someone that helps the Parks programs grow and accommodate the needs of the community. "It doesn't seem like we are ever growing with or changing with what the community may need. Whoever we bring in as a Park Director needs a little more elevated strategic visionary capability," she said. From what she said, Jackson agreed and reassured McCardle that they will incorporate that into the job description.

Jackson will report on this same agenda to the Parks Board during their regular meeting Thursday, July 18. He will also bring forward the skatepark/pumptrack issue, which the Council had the opportunity to comment on at the Tuesday meeting after Jackson gave a short recap of the public meeting last June. Since then, Jackson has been in contact with American Ramp Company (ARC). Jackson presented three possible options to move forward with the design concept.

1. Design a pumptrack next to the existing skate park at Don Morse Park - this would include a Phase 2 to incorporate components above ground to the current skate park. However, this

DePaoli, Chelan school superintendent fined by Public Disclosure Commission

Compiled by Diana Piñon, Staff Writer

CHELAN - Lake Chelan School District (LCSD) Superintendent Barry DePaoli was fined $150 by the Public Disclosure Commission (PDC) as a penalty for using LCSD facilities to support a local bond measure, which violates PDC statutes.

The violations were in the form of emails sent to Robert Watson and Jerry Isenhart encouraging their support for Proposition No. 1, an April District bond measure, using his school district computer. In each email, Superintendent DePaoli stated, "I remain committed to this project and I have not given up on your vote," by DePaoli penalty particular tions and the important facilities of School District decide bond measure, using his school district computer.

and acknowledged that in part, his "desire" was to change Mr.Watson's and Mr. Isenhart's "positions or votes to support the bond measure."

PDC completed the investigation after Jim Busey, former LCSD Superintendent, filed a complaint on April 10 against DePaoli. On June 26, PDC received an executed Statement of Understanding (SOU) signed by DePaoli, along with a $150 penalty payment.

DePaoli had no prior violations and was reminded about the importance of not using facilities of the Lake Chelan School District to support any bond measure should the district decide to place another bond measure on the ballot in the future.

SLI board signs agreement with Office of Rural Farmworker Housing

By Diana Piñon Staff Writer

CHELAN – A $52,000 grant from the legislature was received by the Campus of Care Task Force of the Senior Living Initiative program – the monies will be covering "soft costs" of the land purchase such as appraisals, hazardous waste inspections as well as feasibility studies.

Amanda Ballou of the Task Force said that the grant money received was due to the help from Rep. Mike Steele. At the same time, the Task Force board was pursuing a proposal from the Office of Rural Farmworker Housing (ORFH) that offers development services for projects in central Washington. "They do a lot of affordable housing, including some independent living," said Ballou. She said they have a handful of projects in the Yakima area and they consider seniors to be part of their mission. Ballou reported that their proposal was accepted by the board and will start with feasibility work. OFRH will also work with lenders in terms of financing, plus they will negotiate the property acquisition and will move forward into the development of the facility. Manson Parks commits $75,000 to Singleton playground renovation

The playground equipment at Singleton Park will cost anywhere from $120,000 to $125,000.

By Diana Piñon Staff Writer

MANSON - With the efforts of moving forward with grant applications, by unanimous decision the Manson Parks Board agreed to commit $75,000 for the Singleton Park playground renovation

The monies will come from the reserve fund that currently has $215,000 set aside for emergency projects. It is estimated that the total cost for the new playground could range from $120,000 up to $125,000.

Parks Director Robin Pittman informed the board that they applied for the Chelan-Douglas Developmental Disabilities Program grant for $20,000. Which is still in the works, however Pittman mentioned that it is looking like they might get $15,000. The potential money from this program will allow the purchase of ADA playground equipment plus other inclusive options. Pittman is working along with Kara Raftery of Pacific Engineering and will be applying for other grants that will help fund the project.

Fourth of July festivities at Manson Bay raised safety concerns which the board addressed at the July 11 meeting. Board chair Rob Campbell reported that his

Kids celebrate Fourth of July by crafting American flag

PHOTOS AND STORY BY DIANA PIÑON, STAFF WRITER

CHELAN - A handful of kids and their parents took a break from the heat, chilled in the Chelan Public Library on July 3, and made something crafty ahead of Fourth of July celebrations. For one hour long, the kiddos had the opportunity to create a beaded American flag. One by one they inserted white, red and blue beads into a safety pin to simulate the stars and stripes of the American flag. After doing so, they were able to pin their creation and wear it proudly around town.

in the afternoon, the Big Chill Ciderfest is an ideal way to quench the thirst and beat the heat. The second annual Big Chill Ciderfest is on July 20 and hosted at the Riverside Center and the Riverside Yard, sponsored by Cascade Farmlands. "Cascade Farmlands, the event sponsor, is dedicated to showcasing artisan food and beverages, especially those crafted from local growers," said Rhona Baron, Executive Director of Cascade Farmlands. "Almost all the 13 cideries in the Big Chill source from local, multi generational family orchards. These orchards grow apples, pears and cherries.'

Anyone who takes a look around North Central Washington can see orchards far and wide - this event is an opportunity to showcase the hard cider producers that surround the local area and highlight the wide and unique variety of ciders Chelan County churns out. "Pear ciders are rare in America. Besides dry to sweet apple ciders, The Big ticipating come from right down the street in Cashmere, neighboring Leavenworth, Wenatchee and East Wenatchee along with Manson and Chelan. Some Yakima cider shops have decided to join in on the fun this year - Independent Cider, Union Hill and Tieton Cider.

"Many of our cider makers are creating fusion flavors including hops, ginger, cherry, vanilla and other natural additional flavors to build variety and complexity. People will be surprised by the variety and complexity of the flavors and the sophistication of tasting high quality hard ciders,' said Baron. Many residents will be familiar with vendors and options at the event, giving those in attendance a chance to get a hands on encounter with local businesses with special offers.

"Another highlight is the one day only hard cider store, set up inside the Riverside Center. Cascade Farmlands is selling over 40 local flavors in one shop for one day. You can't find this anywhere else, all year long,' said Baron.

Along with that, the Cashmere Museum will have an opportunity to get hands on with their display of how cider is made along with local orchard history. Local Yokel, Leavenworth restaurant that has their own large organic garden, will be a food vendor for those that want to pair a bite of food with their cider.

"Come to the Big Chill to be refreshed and to experience the debut of the next wave of local beverages hard ciders, hand made in the heart of the apple capital of the world," said Baron.

SUBMITTED BY Manson Fire Department

MANSON - Chelan County Fire District 5 is pleased to announce the hiring of Karen Sargeant as their Training Officer / Volunteer Coordinator as a part-time position.

Karen has been a volunteer firefighter for Manson for the past three years, after several years of firefighting experience in Montana. Karen has a diverse training background in structural firefighting, wildland firefighting and a certified instructor. Together with leadership skills and organizational skills, she is a good fit to help firefighters move forward with their training requirements.

Manson Fire Department's Chief Baker and Commissioners had been in discussion about the need for more firefighter certification. While the Manson volunteers are on the path of great training and experience, each individual firefighter can have a training plan tailored to their specific strengths and weaknesses to achieve their certifications in Structural Firefighting, Haz-Mat, and Wildland Firefighting. Do the right thing

Recently, the Lake Chelan District (LCSD) superintendent of schools was fined and reprimanded for Washington State Public Disclosure Commission (PDC) violations regarding the recent tax bond issue for $75.5M before the Chelan community in April 2019. These violations were specific to his improper use of school district resources and equipment by asking members of the community to change their voting intention and support of this massive bond issue. The PDC levied a fine of $150 and required the superintendent to sign an agreement that admitted to the violations as charged. In addition, the superintendent hired an attorney, paid for by the LCSD, to respond to the PDC complaint, rather than just stating the facts that were obvious. This is a waste of taxpayer resources.

Of greater importance than a small fine is the intentional attempt by the superintendent of schools to persuade members of the community to support a mis-guided and highly misleading proposal that was not needed in our schools. Rather than just presenting information, he created fear about safety, fear about overcrowded conditions, and fear that our students were not receiving 21st Century learning skills and teaching. And, according to the Chelan County Auditor, this special election will cost the Chelan taxpayers approximately $20,000 (to be billed at the end of 2019).

The PDC decided not to pursue an additional violation the superintendent of schools committed by distributing a two-page document that promoted the tax bond issue. The document stated, "The Right Projects - The Right Reasons - The Right Time" from the privately funded vote yes committee. Fortunately, the Chelan community soundly rejected the "projects", understood there were highly misleading "reasons" for the bond proposal, and this was not the "right time".

I ask that the Lake Chelan School District school board seriously review the past year plus of flawed decisionmaking regarding excessive capital expenditures and tax proposals in the community of Chelan. There is no need for massive expenditures; there is always a desire for wants, and our leaders have a fiduciary responsibility to manage the absolute needs for our students and their education. Do the right thing, and provide sound leadership, supervision, and management of community resources now and in the future.

Paragliders populate local skies during U.S. Open

STAFF WRITER

OMAK - Dozens of colored canopies descended on East Omak Park last Thursday, July 11, as pilots in the U.S. Open of Paragliding completed one of several passes from Chelan Butte as part of the five-day competition.

Chelan resident Matt Senior, meet director and organizer, reported from the landing zone that the East Omak leg was the third that the group squeezed in between what he called "weather days."

"We had a great pass out to Wilbur on our first day," Senior said referring to the opening glide on Sunday, July 7.

"The next day was a weather day," said Senior, "then we had a nice pass up to Oroville two days ago (Tuesday, July 9) and yesterday was another weather day."

The Chelan event drew 123 pilots representing 25 countries to the U.S. Hang Gliding & Paragliding Associationsanctioned competition

The competitors registered at the Chelan Senior Center on Saturday, July 6, followed by their first practice day. The launch site is from DNR property on Chelan Butte described by Senior at "the best place in the world for paragliders."

The pilots gathered every morning at the Chelan Falls Park soccer fields at 9 a.m. to load into vans for the trip to the task or route for the day. The competition extended through Saturday, July 13, where awards were presented.

Paragliding competitions are held all over the world with scores listed on the website airtribune.com that posted the daily results of the Chelan leg of the U.S. Open. As for the Open, Chelan was one among eight sanctioned competitions that included sites in Groveland, Fla., Ridgley, Md., Ruch, Ore., Big Spring, Texas., and Casa Grande, Ariz.

A whole new way to experience the Columbia River is coming

SUBMITTED BY CHELAN COUNTY PUD

WENATCHEE Discovery Center at Rocky Reach Dam has amazed and amused our Wenatchee Valley neighbors, and visitors from around the globe, since the 1960s. Hard to believe, but very little has changed there since it opened -- when gas cost 30 cents a gallon and phones hung on the wall.

You're invited to buckle your seatbelt and blast off with us on a journey to a 21st Century learning experience. Changes coming over the next 18 months will make sure this community treasure continues to provide lasting value for the next 50 years. Here's what's coming:

Expanded and updated exhibits in the Discovery Center

• Big new windows in fish viewing

Hands-on displays and exciting new ways to experience the Columbia River

This summer is the time to come out to Rocky Reach before it closes on Oct. 31. We're celebrating the rich history at the center and in the Museum of the Columbia before the transition into a new Discovery Center, which is set to open in spring 2021.

In the meantime, don't wait.

Fish viewing will close Oct. 1 so work can start on installing big new windows (and other renovations). So big, you really can look a salmon in the eye as it swims past.

The Museum of the Columbia is permanently closing on Oct. 31. Some of the favorite exhibits including the tule house and ship's wheel will move to new space in the expanded and remodeled Discovery Center. Other items will go to the Wenatchee Valley Museum and Cultural Center and many will be archived and stored.

But, it's not going to be goodbye without a celebration. Stay tuned for

During construction, there still will be powerhouse tours and many of the popular education programs including Summer Science and River Ramble. Some will be held in Rocky Reach Park, which will stay open, and in other Chelan PUD

Solar energy system sales tax exemption now in effect

Exemption extends to installation costs by qualified installers

SUBMITTED BY THE WASHING-TON STATE DEPT. OF REVENUE

OLYMPIA - Customers can now benefit from a sales tax exemption on the purchase and installation of qualified solar energy systems.

The exemption covers all sales tax paid on the purchase and installation of solar energy systems that generate up to 100 kilowatts (kW) AC of electricity. The exemption only applies to purchases made on or after July 1, 2019.

Customers must complete and provide a Buyer's Retail Sales Tax Exemption Certificate to the seller. Sellers must keep the certificate in their records for five years.

To qualify for the exemption on the installation charges, the seller must:

• be registered with the Department of Labor and Industries as a contractor

• possess a current state unified business identifier (UBI) number

• possess proof of industrial insurance coverage

• possess an Employment

Security Department num-

· have no findings of violations of federal or state wage and hour laws and regulations in the past 24 months

Larger systems that generate between 101 and 500 kW AC can qualify for a 50% sales and use tax exemption beginning Jan. 1, 2020. This exemption works as a remittance: sellers will collect sales tax and submit it to the state, and customers will need to request a refund from

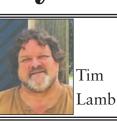

This year, the Legislature passed Engrossed Second Substitute Senate Bill 5116, which promotes the state's clean energy economy. This bill changes how Washington electric utilities generate electricity and provides the sales and use tax exemption on the purchase of renewable energy systems.

The Department of Revenue is Washington state's primary tax agency, nationally recognized for innovation and quality customer service. Revenue administers nearly 60 categories of taxes that help fund education, social services, health care, corrections, public safety, natural resource conservation and other important services counted on by Washington residents.

God, I love you more answered, "The foremost is, 'HEAR, O ISRAEL! THE LORD OUR GOD IS ONE LORD; 30 AND YOU SHALL LOVE THE LORD YOUR GOD WITH ALL YOUR HEART, AND WITH ALL YOUR SOUL, AND WITH ALL YOUR MIND, AND WITH ALL YOUR STRENGTH."

There is a scene in the move "Fire Proof" where Caleb is heavily laden with guilt over his miss-use of his home computer. He has been using it to covet and lust - generally satisfying his human desires - and neglecting his wife in the process. When he finally comes to terms with his weakness he sees only one solution; he takes the computer outside and smashes it to bits with a baseball bat. His neighbor witnesses this and obviously thinks Caleb has lost his mind. But nothing could be further from the truth, he is getting it straight. He is following the example of Matthew 5 in a practical way.

"29 If your right eye causes you to sin, pluck it out and cast it from you; for it is more profitable for you that one of your members perish, than for your whole body to be cast into hell. 30 And if your right hand causes you to sin, cut it off and cast it from you; for it is more profitable for you that one of your members perish, than for your whole body to be cast into hell."

Jesus never intended that we dismember our bodies only that we understand the seriousness of separation from God and be willing to sacrifice our sinful nature to make our place with Him. This is what Caleb does symbolically; in place of the computer he leaves for his wife some flowers and a note that simply says "I Love You More!" He rids his life of the sin habit and starts the reconciliation process with a promise and a commitment "I Love You More". He loved his sin so much he began to despise his wife; he failed at trying to have both. So when faced with the choice, and recognizing what he stands to lose, Caleb knows who he truly loves and sets out to make it right. He doesn't deny he has loved sin, but he repents of it, he turns away; he loathes that which he once loved in order to love that which is good.

Matthew 6: 24 "No one can serve two masters; for either he will hate the one and love the other, or he will be devoted to one and despise the other...'

Caleb's story is a human story: we are human. I am human; my heart wanders, my mind wanders, my eye wanders and it is not always practical to destroy what causes me to sin. If we are honest we realize that even with no hands or eyes we would sin the same. If we have a master in our lives that we are serving in place of God we must cast it out. Pornography, addictions, computer, if it causes you to sin remove it from your midst.

We all battle that enemy within. We must, daily, minute by minute, overcome and continue to say to Jesus, "I love you more". Whatever the junk in your life, Love God More; love Him more than yourself, and you will be free!

Philippians 4:8 - "Finally, brethren, whatever is true, whatever is honorable, whatever is right, whatever is pure, whatever is lovely, whatever is of good repute, if there is any excellence and if anything worthy of praise, dwell on these things.

WE ALL HAVE A PLAN ... UNTIL ...

Life goes along and things go badly or well or, for most of us, somewhere always in between.

Eventually life's patterns are realized and people, logical ones that is, begin to plan their futures and start dreaming of better days ahead.

Mother Nature, Father Time or the Devil and his Details come calling one day and it is time to start dancing for your dinner and it better be to their tune.

As Mike Tyson, the former legendary heavyweight boxing champion of the world used to say, "Everybody's got a plan until they get punched in the face."

How true. I'd like to apply that principle to two things in my life beginning with local and expanding upwards towards national issues.

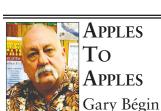

1) I recently came in contact with a Wenatchee single mother of four who was just told by her sympathetic landlord that he had to raise the rent $75 starting August 1. In his own words: "I have to pay for a new school."

That new school was mandated by a property levy. This should be a warning to all the left wing-nuts that those who rent will also suffer from higher taxes on "rich people who own things" (like real property).

The so-called Rich People are just like you and me but, God forbid, they have the nerve to have invested in property and, gadzooks! attempted to make a profit on their investment.

The landlord continued, "My property taxes went up nearly double." Another example of piein-the-sky liberal thinking. Bleed the "rich" and make all others happy.

Check enclosed:

So go right ahead all you youthful and even older renters, vote for the "Bleed the Rich Plan" and then watch it boomerang back in your Middle Class faces.

This crude exercise in capitalism even impacts those who own condos or belong to homeowner associations because the membership, monthly maintenance and fees for the "rainy day fund" will all rise like a gallery for a judge.

Why don't we also add in the cost for those of us who live Mobile Home Parks. They will be paying more for lot rent.

2) Now, for my second shocking revelation: President Trump is right in insisting on a citizenship question on the 2020 Census.

Americans are already over obligated by government mandates to provide services for illegal immigrants in every community.

In both Red and Blue districts, caring for thousands of illegal immigrants will become law. Levies from every special district will rise. Only bad things happen when Uncle Sam gets out in front of his skis as in this promise to care for the world.

Our large and small municipalities will become caretakers for those who, not only broke the law getting here, but are now milking the richest nation in the world for everything America has to offer.

When these illegals get their Green Card and then citizenship, it will add millions of other fish to the safety net that Social Security was meant to be causing it to rip open. The bottom will fall out of the American economy.

We need to know now who our citizens are so we can get rid of the rest. If we don't act, the next depression will be upon us. Only counted citizens should receive benefits from our taxes via government services.

I have great faith that religious and other nongovernmental charitable organizations will help those non-citizens in need.

Ironically, these organizations rely on generous grants from Foundations and Charitable Trusts. Those same groups are established by Rich People and Rich Corporations.

Thus, the left wins again, but Socialism 's ultimate victory depends on the very people attacked every day as the Devil Incarnate, America's successful Capitalists.

I bet there aren't 11 million people living in Russia, China, Canada or Great Britain illegally, sucking the life out of those economies. So, is deportation the only solution? Maybe.
