

Tacoma man drowns after inflatable kayak flips

Friend rescued by nearby boat

SUBMITTED BY
SERGEANT KENT SISSON,
CHELAN COUNTY
SHERIFF'S OFFICE

CHELAN - Sheriff Brian Burnett reports a 36 year old male drowned in Lake Chelan on Saturday afternoon April 13 when an inflatable kayak he and another subject were in flipped over. Both subjects were ejected into the cold water. The incident occurred north of the dock area at Lake Chelan State Park.

At 2:49 p.m., RIVERCOM 911 dispatch began receiving calls reference the two subjects in the water. One of the males had not surfaced. Several boaters who were participating in a fishing derby in the area began actively looking for the missing subject. State Park Rangers, Sheriff's Deputies (with a marine vessel), Chelan County Fire District #7 (with rescue swimmers) and Lake Chelan EMS responded to assist in the search.

It was determined that Bonventure Gitau 36 years of age of Tacoma, Wash. had not been wearing a personal flotation device when the two-person inflatable kayak he was in with his friend capsized. Gitau was seen momentarily in the water by witnesses but then disappeared under the surface. His friend, Jackson Njaru 31 years of age of Puyallup, Wash, made it to a nearby boat and was pulled from the water in fair condition.

Just prior to 4 p.m., Gitau's body was spotted on the bottom of the lake at a depth of about 30 feet. A diver from Fire District #7 made the recovery. The body was released to the Chelan County Coroner's Office.

The Sheriff's office would like to remind everyone planning to recreate in lakes and rivers this season, to please utilize personal flotation devices when in any type of vessel.

Earth Day celebrations honoring Mother Earth commences April 19

By DIANA PIÑON STAFF WRITER

CHELAN – Earth Day celebration commences with a city-wide clean-up across Chelan on Friday, April 19. Individuals and groups are encouraged by the City to clean up their neighborhoods, the parks and along the lakeshore. See pages A2 and A4 for more information and how you can volunteer to help.

The festivities will go on into Saturday, April 20 when the 30th Annual Lake Chelan Earth Day Fair kicks off at 10 a.m. in Chelan's Riverwalk Park. To educate people on ways to take care of Earth is the objective behind this event.

"We will have about 95 booths," said Anne Brooks. There will be "food vendors, plant sale, book sale, entertainment all day long, electric vehicles and tools, a kids' area," she added.

Among the educational booths people will be able to find; Chelan County PUD, the Forest Service, Noxious Weed representative and other organizations.

During the celebration, students from the Lake Chelan School of Innovation will be "screening" t-shirts. Brooks encourages all attendees to bring in a light colored t-shirt to have it stamped to honor Mother Earth. Students will also be advertising and selling their cold brew coffee.

Devin Smith and Meagan Clausen of Glass to Sand at Lake Chelan are going to be demonstrating bottle crushing to all who stop by their booth. Also participating this year is the Lake Chelan EMS. They will be holding a Bike Rodeo for the little ones and teach them bike safety.

Brooks hopes for nice weather to help with the day's

Chelan Council hears updates on WSDOT 2020 paving project

By DIANA PIÑON STAFF WRITER

CHELAN - An agenda item to approve food trucks at Lakeshore Marina was included in the April 9, City of Chelan Council meeting which was pulled out of the agenda by Chelan Mayor Mike Cooney.

"Since I brought it up, I am going to take it off of the agenda tonight ... there's a number of reasons for doing that. I know that businesses have had a tough winter to be brutally honest," said Mayor Cooney.

Looking out for the well being of the town and the business owners, Cooney decided to talk about the food trucks at a later date.

Citizen comments followed Cooney's decision, John Olson commented on the same topic. "I am pleased to see you are taking it off the table and I encourage you to really involve all the local business owners," said Olson.

Russ Jones had a similar view. "I am glad you're pulling it off the agenda; I am going to encourage keeping it off the agenda permanently," he said. Jones explained that as a banker he helps out restaurants in town and he knows that many of them "are getting by and that's about it." Jones also mentioned that parking is a big issue at the marina and food trucks would only make it worse. With Jones' comments, Cooney restated that the agenda item was taken off.

The WSDOT 2020 paving project in Chelan has a few updates, informed Jeff Deal and Christopher Shell, representatives of the Wenatchee office of WSDOT during the meeting.

At the beginning of the year, Deal and Shell presented the paving project to the Chelan Council which involves: paving from Lakeside up to Apple Blossom Drive, redoing the ADA ramps through town, replacing the slab from both sides of Dan Gordon Bridge, as well as a shared use path from Lakeside all the way up to the Woodin Ave./ Webster Ave. intersection and bike lanes along the continuation of Hwy 97A up to the SR 150 highway intersection.

The first update to the project includes an additional crosswalk at Millard St. Deal also brought up the bike transition on Woodin Ave which will help bicyclists transition from the shared use path to a cycle track on the northern side of Webster Ave. past the Dan Gordon Bridge.

During the initial project presentation in January, council members noted their concern with the intersection on Farnham St. and Webster Ave. The concerns involved sight distance and it was a "hot topic for crossings," said Deal.

Leffler Field purchase, summer school discussed at Manson Parks board meeting

By DIANA PIÑON STAFF WRITER

MANSON – Manson Park's Board of Commissioners met last Thursday, April 11 on what it seemed to be the shortest meeting of the year.

Negotiations for Leffler Field are still ongoing. Rob Campbell mentioned to the board that a letter of intent to purchase the property is ready to be signed by Park's Director Robin Pittman. "The first thing we are going to need to do is to get an appraisal of the property," said Campbell. Then he went ahead and made a motion to authorize Pittman to spend up to $7,500 for the appraisal. With everyone in favor of the authorization, Pittman will move forward with the appraisal and get it done as soon as possible. Other than that, Campbell clarified that the Leffler committee is still waiting to hear back from the state on funds for the property.

Commissioners heard Viki Downey's, Manson Parks's lifeguard, comment on the handrail recently installed at Manson Bay Park swim area. "I would like to see it be kept a light color because those get so hot ... people can't hang on to them during the late afternoon," she said.

Downey suggested a light gray color opposed to a dark color. Commissioner Taylor Quigley doesn't have a preference to color as long as the handrail is visible. Downey will get a hold of Pittman and come up with a favorable color for the railing.

Manson Parks and the Manson Library will be partners to the Manson School District as it is in process of obtaining a grant to hold summer school for kids in second and third grade. "If they are awarded the grant, we will be required to organize some sort of program during the six-week school session," said Campbell. He informed that Pittman is thinking of holding fishing lessons and possibly another ice staking/ roller skating trip.

On March 23, Parks held an ice skating event at Town Toyota Center which was a huge hit. "Everybody there had a really good time," said Campbell. Thirty-five first through fifth-grade kids enjoyed ice skating and snack sack that contained apple slices, apple juice, and other items. "It was probably one of the best little programs we have done in a long time," stated Campbell.

The next regular meeting for Manson Park will be held on May 9, at 4:10 p.m.

Natural Resources Conservation Service local work group meeting in Chelan April 22, Chelan Fire Hall

SUBMITTED BY CHRIS WRIGHT, RESOURCE CONSERVATIONIST

CHELAN - Local working groups provide recommendations for consideration on local natural resource priorities and criteria for USDA Natural Resources Conservation Service (NRCS) conservation activities and programs. At least once per year, the local working group hosts a gathering to discuss natural resource issues, opportunities, and priorities in geographical areas across the state. NRCS considers these recommendations from the local working group discussions, along with technical expertise and national and State program policies, to develop the local NRCS conservation program(s) available both statewide and through local funding allocations. The results of these meetings have potential implications on not only how NRCS spends its dollars as an agency locally, but also on recommended treatments to improve the natural resource conditions of private agricultural lands, forests, and other associated agricultural lands.
The local working group has many responsibilities which include:
1. Assisting NRCS and the conservation districts with public outreach and information efforts and identifying education and producers’ training needs.
2. Identifying priority resource concerns and, as appropriate, high-priority areas needing assistance.
3. Recommending USDA conservation program application and funding criteria and eligible practices.
4. Utilizing the conservation needs assessment to identify priority resource concerns that can be addressed by USDA programs.
Please come ready to discuss and share your input on the resource conditions of the areas below and activities that would make the biggest positive impact on agricultural and non-industrial private forestlands. The data collected at these meetings plays a major role in the agency’s direction at the local level and of the funding received for “Locally Led Conservation.”
This year’s meeting for the following area: Okanogan County, Chelan County, Douglas County, Conservation District Foster Creek, South Douglas, Cascadia, Okanogan Conservation Districts, will be held Monday, April 22, 6-9 p.m. at Chelan Fire & Rescue, 232 E. Wapato Avenue in Chelan, in the large meeting room upstairs. For more information contact Stan Janowicz, at (509) 422-2750, ext. 103.

After a closer look at the intersection, Deal mentioned that WSDOT would want the City of Chelan to partner up with them in order to install a rapid flashing beacon. The estimated cost for the beacon would be of $40,000. Deal presented other options which included tree trimming. However he made it clear that beyond the edge of the curb it is the City’s responsibility to trim.

“One thing you will benefit from on here with the cycle track is that both lanes of traffic will be shifted to the right side of the bridge ... you will actually see oncoming vehicles a lot sooner,” explained Deal.

WSDOT will hold an Open House in May to present the public with the project. The Chelan City Council will meet next Tuesday, April 23 at 6 p.m. for a regular meeting. The full agenda could be found at cityofchelan.civicweb.net.

CHELAN HIGH SCHOOL GOLF

Vs. Okanogan
April 9

SUBMITTED BY KIRK EINSPAHR
CHELAN GOLF HEAD COACH

OKANOGAN - Chelan took to the links at Okanogan yesterday (April 9) for their 2nd match of the season (and for most, only their 4th time on an actual golf course this season) and their first league match. The weather turned out grans, partly sunny and slight breeze, but the scores for both teams weren't as grand. Okanogan boys took team honors with a 383 to Chelan's 396, with Chelan's Miles Grossberg (so.) taking individual honors with a 9-over-par 80, followed closely by Okanogan's Billy Norwell with an 82. For the girls, Chelan only had 2 girls playing varsity and Okanogan only had 1, so there were no girls team scores; Chelan's Kaylin Boykin (jr.) took individual honors with a 116.

Vs. Cascade

CHELAN - Chelan golf teams hosted Cascade at the Lake Chelan Municipal Golf Course this Thursday (April 11) under threatening skies that eventually gave way to some light rain on the golfers. The Chelan boys team came through with a 386 to 427 win, with Chelan's Miles Grossberg (so.) taking medalist honors with an 82 (41/41), and scoring nearly 20 strokes better than any of his teammates. Thankfully, though, Chelan's top four scores were enough to garner a win for the boys team today. For the girls, Chelan was not able to post a team score with only 3 varsity girls playing all 18 holes. Cascade's Emma Halseth took girls medalist honors shooting a 108, trailed closely by Chelan's Kaylin Boykin (jr.) with a 110. Kaylin struggled on the first (back) 9, shooting a 61, but came back on the second (front) 9 to shoot a 49. The next outing for the girls is the Wenatchee Valley Girls Invitational on Friday (April 12) at the Highlander Golf Course in East Wenatchee. Next week, Chelan will be hosting their Gamble Sands Invitational at the highly acclaimed Gamble Sands Golf Course in Brewster, with the boys taking to the links on Wednesday (April 17) and the girls following on Thursday (April 18). Teams from across the state and of all sizes (1A up to 4A) will be competing against each other in what has become a very popular high school golf tournament.

LAKE CHELAN LADIES GOLF CLUB TEE TIME

SUBMITTED BY SHERRY FISK

CHELAN - Brrrr, it was a chilly 49-degree morning in Chelan. Once again, a dozen women decided that today (April 11) was a good day to play golf. By hole 5 or 6 we were shedding a few layers as the sun peeked out. Today's competition was Better Nine (best front or back nine less ½ handicap). Division 1: First place: Barb

Rayburn, 35.5 Division 2: First place: Linda Hahn, 32. Second place: Nancy Judson, 34. Division3: First place: Karen Erickson, 38 The only birdie today was made by Barb Rayburn on hole #9. The chip-in girls today were: Candace Farnsworth on hole 4; Jaclyn Starr-Evans on hole 6; Karen Erickson on hole 6. After play, our Assistant

Pro, Mark Lawrence, gave us a class in the new changes in the golf rules for this year. Always confusing when they change the rules on us old dogs. Most of the changes will facilitate the pace of play which we will appreciate in the heat of summer. It was a tough week saying goodbye to our good friend and club member, Gail Bender. Her family held a heartfelt celebration of life for her on Saturday at Northshore Bible Church. She will be greatly missed by our club and everyone who knew her. Next week's competition is Medal Play (low gross and net of field, low net by division). Tee time is 9:30 a.m. (April 18), please check in by 9 a.m. If you would like to join our group, show up at 8:45 a.m. and we will walk you through it.

LAKE CHELAN SENIOR MEN'S GOLF DIVISION

SUBMITTED BY LAKE CHELAN SENIOR MEN'S GOLF DIVISION

Pin on Hole #12 Ray Wilson 5' 9" Mega Par 3 Contest Closest to the Pin on Hole #11 Cliff House (19' 8") The Club thanked Ellis Nierenburg for his work as the 2018 Season Chairman of the Mega Par 3 Competition and for assisting Ray Wilson the 2019 Season Chairman. Ray Wilson was also recognized for volunteering to be the 2019 Photo Committee Chairman. Dan Dedo, Don Mollet and George Nickle the Rules Committee Members reported they are researching if Senior Players can elect to pick-up their balls once the player reaches a maximum stroke count, without being disqualified. This rule is being studied as a possible way to speedup play. Jim Oscarson with the Lake Chelan Golf Course and Darrell Richards the Club's vice-president addressed the Club Members prior to play regarding golf rules and club etiquette. For information about becoming a member of the Senior Men's Golf Club contact Bob Matson at matsonfamily4@aol.com or (509) 888-1554.

How to create an outdoor living space you can enjoy all year long

How to create the outdoor sanctuary you’ve always wanted

(BPT) - The dream of a perfect outdoor space where homeowners can enjoy the beauty of nature while still being completely comfortable is no longer limited to a specific climate or time of year. A one-of-a-kind, all-seasons deck is possible if the right features are included in the design. The key is to combine features that protect from the elements, and then use the right materials to make it happen.

Whether you’re revamping an existing area, or creating a brand-new outdoor living space to enjoy all year long, the following deck additions can turn any project into an all-seasons oasis to enjoy with family and friends.

Overhead covering on a deck can shield guests from the elements directly, as well as provide a scaffold for features such as a ceiling fan, which can cool the area in the warmer months and improve heated air flow during cooler months. Homeowners can choose from deck shades or awnings in a variety of materials to defend against rain and wind, or to reduce sun exposure and cool the area. A pergola is also a beautiful addition to a custom deck that doesn’t provide full coverage like a roof or awning, but can serve as a solid framework for other features such as climbing vines or hanging plants that both provide cover and add ambiance to the outdoor oasis.

Retractable walls are a high-tech option that allows for free air movement during the mild spring and fall, and protection from sun, wind, rain, snow and even bugs during the extreme summer and winter. Some luxury decks and patios utilize retractable glass walls for a defense against wind or rain that doesn’t obstruct the view. A more common tactic is to install retractable screen walls, which can be motorized, and are meant primarily to keep insects out of the patio area. Retractable privacy walls, usually in the form of canvas or polyester fabric horizontal shades, can provide a respite from weather and enhance the feeling of a private sanctuary.

Beautiful low-maintenance materials are a must for any outdoor living space that homeowners would like to spend time enjoying, rather than performing backbreaking annual maintenance. Taking care of traditional wood decking can be a difficult and frustrating process since it is subject to staining and splintering, and may require annual sanding and painting. Composite decking is growing in popularity across the U.S. not only for its lower maintenance requirements, but also its unparalleled beauty that can emulate anything from the rustic beauty of reclaimed wood to the high-impact look of exotic hardwoods.

“What kind of decking you choose makes a huge impact on the overall look and feel of your outdoor living space,” said Shara Gamble, director of sales and marketing for TAMKO’s Envision Decking. “One of the best things about composite decking is it’s easy to preserve its beautiful appearance throughout the seasons, which means you can spend more time relaxing and enjoying your outdoor spaces with family and friends.”

Incorporate the elements into the deck in a controlled way to boost enjoyment of an outdoor living space regardless of the season. For colder months, adding a fire element can provide a cozy and mesmerizing focal point. Arranging comfortable seating around a fireplace or fire pit provides a great place to gather with friends and family and provide warmth on a cool summer night or fall weekend. During the hotter months, installing a water element to the deck can provide a cooling touch and a visual centerpiece. Fountains, misters, or even a lap pool can provide a welcome respite from the heat during the summer, and a soothing, meditative backdrop for the rest of the year.

Although decks are generally a mild-weather attraction, there are many ways to make an outdoor living space functional and enjoyable during the rest of the year, regardless of the geographic location. Transform a deck into an all-seasons sanctuary through the use of special features and beautiful low-maintenance composite decking to make the most of the beauty of the outdoors without sacrificing the comfort and style of your unique outdoor retreat.

Add beauty to your yard with a wooden bird house. The birds will love it.

Home and garden improvements that will benefit local wildlife (STATEPOINT) - When it comes to changing the world, your own backyard is a great place to start. As you make home improvements, consider their potential to benefit local wildlife that travel in and around your property.

Here are a few important steps you can take.

Plant Native Species

By planning native species exclusively in your garden and yard, you will be promoting a healthy local ecosystem while providing proper nourishment and a natural habitat for visiting wildlife, whether that be insects, birds or furry creatures. Because native plant species are meant to thrive in your local climate, they will require less maintenance, which means a beautiful yard with less stress.

Prevent Bird Strikes

You may not realize it, but your home poses a risk to birds. Window strikes are common among many species of migrating birds, and millions of wild birds are killed annually flying into windows.

However, a simple home improvement project can make your home safer for birds. Birds can see certain light frequencies that humans can’t, so by applying UV decals and UV liquid to your home’s windows and sliding glass doors, you can make windows visible to birds in a way that won’t obstruct your own view.

“Protecting birds adds beauty to your garden, is good for the environment and most importantly, saves lives,” says Spencer Schock, founder of WindowAlert, a company that offers UV decals and UV Liquid.

The UV decals and liquid from WindowAlert have been proven to effectively alter the flight path of birds to prevent window strikes. The coating will look like etched glass to the human eye, but be very visible to a bird. As UV reflectivity may fade over time, it’s important to replace the decals and liquid every four months. Application techniques can be found by visiting WindowAlert.com.

Build a Bird house

Add beauty to your yard with a wooden bird house. Find a design you love or get creative and craft your own, using your own home’s architecture for inspiration. A strategically placed bird house -- either within three feet of a window or over 30 feet away -- will help avoid bird strikes.

Be a good neighbor -- not just to the other humans. Make improvements to your home that will help protect both local and migratory wildlife.

Know what's below: Call 811 before digging for landscaping and home improvement projects this spring

(BPT) - With spring having officially begun, many eager homeowners and landscape professionals across the country will roll up their sleeves and reach for their shovels to start projects that require digging this season.

During the transition into "digging season," Common Ground Alliance (CGA), the organization dedicated to protecting underground utility lines, people who dig near them and their communities, reminds homeowners and professional diggers that calling 811 is the first step toward protecting you and your community from the risk of unintentionally damaging an underground line.

Every digging project, no matter how large or small, warrants a free call to 811. Installing a mailbox or fence, building a deck and landscaping are all examples of digging projects that should only begin a few days after making a call to 811. Calling this number connects you to your local one call utility notification center.

According to data collected by CGA in a survey in March, millions of American homeowners will likely do DIY projects involving digging this year, but 42 percent of them do not plan to make a free call to 811 before digging.

"Tens of millions of Americans plan to do DIY digging projects this year, but according to our survey, 42 percent of them admit that they will not call 811 beforehand, which puts homeowners and their communities at risk," said CGA President and CEO Sarah Magruder Lyle. "Calling 811 a few days before any planned home improvement projects that require digging - including common landscaping projects like planting trees and shrubs - is critical to preventing incidents like service outages and serious injuries."

CGA's partnership with leading home improvement retailer Lowe's will provide a helpful reminder to the millions of Americans who shop at their stores for projects involving digging.

"During National Safe Digging Month in April and all year round, Lowe's supports 811 by including safe digging information on certain products we sell nationwide - like trees and Kobalt shovels and spades, among others - to help ensure the safety of our Pro and DIY customers who will be outside digging," said Bill Boltz, Lowe's executive vice president of merchandising. "Our customers rely on Lowe's for help completing home and yard improvement projects, and we're committed to providing the critical safety information to help them do it the right way."

A utility line is damaged every few minutes in America because someone decided to dig without making a call to 811 to learn the approximate location of buried utilities in their area. Unintentionally striking one of these lines can result in inconvenient outages for entire neighborhoods, serious harm to yourself or your neighbors, and significant repair costs.

As a result, CGA offers the following tips to make sure you complete your project safely and without any utility service interruptions, so you don't become a statistic.

Here's how the 811 process works:

1. One free, simple phone call to 811 makes it easy for your local one call center to notify appropriate utility companies of your intent to dig. Call a few days prior to digging to ensure enough time for the approximate location of utility lines to be marked with flags or paint.

2. When you call 811, a representative from your local one call center will ask for the location and description of your digging project.

3. Your local one call center will notify affected utility companies, which will then send professional locators to the proposed dig site to mark the approximate location of your lines.

4. Only once all lines have been accurately marked, carefully dig around the marked areas.

There are nearly 20 million miles of underground utility lines in the United States, which equates to more than a football field's length of utilities for every person in the U.S. Your family depends on this buried infrastructure for your everyday needs, including electric, natural gas, water and sewer, cable TV, high-speed Internet and landline telephone. With that much critical infrastructure underground, it's important to know what's below and call 811 before digging.

A manufactured stone veneer project can enhance the aesthetic appeal of any space, indoors or out, and can be customized to suit your needs and style.

Three ways to boost your home's curb appeal

(STATEPOINT) - When it comes to your home, you only get one chance to make a great first impression -- and that takes place before anyone ever steps inside, making curb appeal upgrades an effective way to beautify your home while boosting its value.

Here are some great ways to enhance curb appeal that will give you a great return on investment, according to Remodeling Magazine's 2019 Cost Vs. Value Report.

Garage Door Replacement

Whether you want your garage door to take center stage or provide a demure complement to your home's overall exterior, the right selection will make a great visual impression. Luckily there are a growing number of ways to personalize a garage door. New color options, which include two-tone combinations, are growing in popularity, and an expanding array of panel designs can help you work in harmony with your home's architectural style.

But know that this is not just any cosmetic upgrade. A new garage door has the potential to improve your family's safety and comfort, providing safety features not found in older models, while reducing heat and cold transfer for lower energy bills.

Manufactured Stone Veneer

A manufactured stone veneer project can enhance the aesthetic appeal of any space, indoors or out, and can be customized to suit your needs and style. When applied to a home exterior, this project has an impressively high return on investment at 95 percent, according to the 2019 Cost vs. Value Report.

Maximize this upgrade by opting for high-quality materials that look like authentic stone, even upon careful inspection. For example, the choices available from ProVia are molded and colored to produce a realistic, dramatic effect, mimicking stones from unique geographic regions in a range of cuts. Their online resources, which can be found at provia.com, include design ideas and tools for selecting harmonious color groupings, helping you make the best choices for your home.

Siding Replacement

To add beauty and value to your home, start with curb appeal, selecting projects that offer a great return on investment.

Of all the home updates that will boost your curb appeal, new siding has the third highest return on investment, according to the report. When making this upgrade, consider materials wisely. Thanks to its overall low cost, ease of installation, minimal maintenance required and long-term durability, vinyl is the most popular home siding material. Whether you opt for insulated, traditional or decorative siding, this can be a great way to give your home a high-impact facelift that's well worth the cost.

To add beauty and value to your home, start with curb appeal, selecting projects that offer a great return on investment.

Get more bang for your buck with these spring home improvements (STATEPOINT) - The warmer weather means it's time to start thinking about home improvement projects. Whether you're getting your home in tip-top shape for your own enjoyment, or getting it ready to put on the market, not all home improvement projects are created equal when it comes to return on investment (ROI). Here are top areas on which to focus.

Interiors

The kitchen is the heart of the home and it's one of the best areas to renovate in terms of ROI, according to Remodeling magazine's annual Cost vs. Value Report, which puts the price tag of the average minor kitchen remodel at $22,507, with 80.5 percent of the cost recouped upon resale.

To give the kitchen an updated appearance, replace the flooring, countertops, sink and faucet. A fresh coat of paint in a trendy shade, such as Living Coral, Pantone's Color of the Year, can add a vibrant pop of color to energize any kitchen. Not looking to go that bold? Consider an accent wall, or stick to a classic palate of gray and white in terms of cabinets and countertops. White on white is also a popular new style for kitchens and bathrooms.

Other features home buyers are paying close attention to our laundry rooms and such energy-saving elements as Energy Star appliances and windows, according to the survey "What Home Buyers Want in 2019" by the National Association of Home Builders.

Curb Appeal

The popularity of outdoor projects remains strong and it's for a good reason. According to the Cost vs. Value Report, the biggest bang for your buck in 2019 will come from replacing a garage door. The report says the average price is $3,611, and 97.5 percent of it is recouped when the house is sold.

Other outdoor projects with high ROI include adding manufactured stone veneer to the exterior (94.9 percent), adding a wood deck (75.6 percent) and replacing siding (75.6 percent). Looking for a simpler way to make an impact? Sprucing up the landscape by planting flowers or bushes or even just clearing the yard of debris will make a big statement.

No matter what updates you end up making, it's always a good idea to notify your insurance agent. "Certain upgrades may change the value of a house, so homeowners need to make sure they're properly covered," says Bob Buckel, vice president of product management, Erie Insurance. "There are a few things to look for. Ask your agent about guaranteed replacement cost policies that can cover the cost to rebuild a home in today's dollars following a covered loss."

Some upgrades may also make you eligible for discounts, Buckel adds, especially if they make the home more secure. "For example, Erie Insurance offers certain safety discounts such as for installing smoke alarms or an automatic sprinkler system."

Now you have a checklist of DIY projects to focus on this spring. But before you start, take a moment to assess which ones are worth your time and money.

Are you recycling your plastic beverage containers?

(BPT) - When you place a plastic beverage container in a recycling bin, you are an important part of the product's life cycle, helping that packaging to be used to make something new, over and over again.

An astounding 70 percent of what people toss in the trash is actually recyclable, but very few people recycle as often as they should.

What exactly happens to plastic beverage bottles that you put in a recycling bin?

They are collected, sorted and ground into plastic flakes. Different types of plastic flakes are separated before being washed and dried. Then the processed flakes are used to make things like cups, trays, clothing, carpet fibers and so much more - including new beverage bottles.

Recycling not only reduces waste, it saves energy too. Consider plastic bottled water containers, for example. Making new bottles from old ones uses 84 percent less energy, according to the International Bottled Water Association (IBWA).

Understanding that every person plays a critical role in the recycling process, IBWA launched "Put It In The Bin" - a partner-friendly initiative focused on educating people about the value of always putting recyclables in the bin so they can be made into new and amazing things.

Submitted graphic

Recycling isn't always convenient, but it's worthwhile to do. When life is busy, it can be easy to forget to recycle. Consider these smart, easy-to-do tips that can help you make recycling a part of your daily life:

Location: Place your recycling bin near your trash bin as a visual reminder that recycling can be just as fast and simple as putting something in the garbage.

Caps included: Enjoy convenience drinks, empty them, replace the cap and recycle. It's important to remember that both the bottle and the cap are made from valuable plastics that are in demand by reclaimers.

Bring recyclables home: Outside of the home it can be difficult to locate recycling bins. Make a conscious decision to bring empty beverage bottles home so they can be recycled properly.

Plan ahead: Make space for empty beverage containers in your bag or car so it's easy to bring them home and place them in your curbside bin.

Set reminders: More than 90 percent of American homes have access to curbside and drop-off recycling programs, according to IBWA. Set an alert on your phone so you remember to bring out the recycling on the designated day.

Reuse: Think about how you can reuse items, such as transforming empty plastic beverage bottles into a beautiful holiday wreath. Watch the video here for details: https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=P_51YHj_4-o&t=2s.

Buy recycled: Purchase goods made from recycled materials to support the ongoing life cycle of products.

There are many things that can be recycled, but bottled water containers are the most common drink item in curbside recycling programs, recycled at a rate of 53.9 percent, according to the "Put It In The Bin" website.

In fact, recycling just one plastic beverage bottle can conserve enough energy to power a 60-watt bulb for up to six hours, notes IBWA. What's more, according to Recycle Across America, five recycled plastic bottles provide enough fiber to produce one square foot of carpet.

With recycling, the possibilities are endless - but it all starts with one small personal choice to recycle. To learn more about how recycling makes a difference, visit putitinthebin.org.

Having the right insurance coverage will provide peace of mind and make that new car ownership experience that much more enjoyable.

New Cars Depreciate Fast: How to Protect Your Investment

(StatePoint)- Buying a new car? Before taking the plunge, it's important to make sure that shiny new ride is fully covered from an insurance standpoint. Why? Most people are familiar with that old adage that a new car drastically depreciates the minute it's driven off the lot. According to Carfax.com, it's true. The vehicle history information database says a new car loses 10 percent of its value the minute it's driven off the lot and another 10 percent by the end of the first year. And cars with lesser brand name appeal and fewer options can depreciate even more, some by as much as 50 percent in a single year. That means if your new ride gets totaled, your insurance payout could be much less than what you paid for the car (or what you owe on your loan, for that matter).

Fortunately, new car buyers can protect themselves from this situation with what's generally known as new car replacement coverage. For example, at Erie Insurance, this coverage comes in the form of an add-on called New Auto Security that can be tacked onto a policy for a modest cost. If an owner has had a car for less than two years and it gets totaled, Erie Insurance would pay the cost to replace it with a car in the newest model year, minus the deductible. And, if the new car is in a crash but is not deemed a total loss, the company would pay to repair the vehicle to brand new condition, without any deduction for depreciation. While new car buyers would be smart to add this coverage before even driving the car off the lot, New Auto Security coverage isn't restricted to when the car is purchased; it can be added later.

"Buyers should be aware of the risks associated with depreciation and take the necessary precautions to protect their investment," says Jon Bloom, vice president of personal auto, Erie Insurance. "We recommend that anyone buying a new car talk with their insurance agent to make sure they would be able to replace it in the event it's totaled, or at least be able to pay off their loan. Having the right coverage will provide peace of mind and make that new car ownership experience that much more enjoyable."

5 tips for your next road trip

(BPT) - Are you planning a classic American road trip? With a tank of gas, the right attitude and some smart supplies, you can explore amazing locales on a budget.

"The great American road trip is still very much alive, and we're not just talking long endurance cross-country trips. Places you can go from your own hometown and return on just one tank of gas," said Peter Greenberg, Emmy-award-winning producer, writer, radio broadcaster and TV correspondent. "If travel can be defined as an experience that is absolutely meant to be shared, then the road trip is still very high on my list. It offers shared adventure, shared experience and shared storytelling."

Start planning your next affordable road trip with these smart tips and tricks:

1) Discover one-tank destinations

You only need one day to get away, so research destinations you can get to on one tank of gas. This keeps fuel costs down, and because you don't need to stay overnight, you won't have to budget for a hotel. People tend to forget the beautiful spots just a few hours away from home, so bring a map and see which direction catches your attention.

2) Fill up the tires

Of course you'll want to check your fluid levels, wiper blades, and spare tire before you leave. One of the best ways to maximize your vehicle's fuel efficiency is to make sure tires are properly inflated. According to the U.S. Department of Energy, you can improve your gas mileage by 0.6 percent on average and up to 3 percent in some cases simply by keeping your tires inflated to the manufacturer's recommended pressure.

3) Strive for a high mpg

Some cars have better fuel economy than others. With a practical design and impressive fuel efficiency, adventures. Getting up to an EPA-estimated 42 mpg on the highway, you won't have to limit your road trip due to fuel cost concerns.

4) Create comfort

Remember the journey

should be as much fun as the destination. Clean out your car, make sure windows are sparkling clean to take in the views, pack car-friendly snacks and drinks, and bring along cozy pillows or blankets. Technology can create comfort, so charge those digital devices and utilize your vehicle's features.

5) Pack smart

Whether you're on an impromptu or well-planned road trip, you can ease costs and streamline fun by packing wisely. Sunscreen, sunglasses and comfortable shoes are must-haves for any road trip. After all, you never know what adventures will come your way. Consider packing sandwiches - the ultimate road trip food - which are great for eating in the car or on a picnic so you don't have to buy full meals.

"Some of my most amazing travel memories are from one tank road trips," Greenberg said. "I think everyone should make these excursions part of their travel plans. They are fun, affordable and great for people of all ages."

Stunning new styles in flowers and plants for your garden

Striking new trends in flowers and plants for your garden

(BPT) - Today's plant lovers want more than the traditional flowers to enhance their home. Rather, people want to enjoy the experience of getting in touch with nature, while also looking for unique flowers and plants to add a more creative, personal touch of color and inspiration to their yards. This year, gardens will be more visually interesting, environmentally friendly and demonstrate the love and care provided by the families who tend them.

Here are a few of the latest gardening ideas you and your loved ones can enjoy, from Ball Horticultural Company.

Gardening as an experience

Detoxing from our daily dependence on digital distractions and tech gadgets is becoming not just a desire, but a necessity. What better way for you and your loved ones to take a break from screens than to spend time with plants, creating beauty, serenity and even a nutritious lifestyle? Make the process a group effort:

from going to your favorite garden center and choosing your veggies, to caring for them and watching them grow, then harvesting and eating, the full experience is something to enjoy. Plant and grow veggies like the Snackabelle Red Pepper, a mini bell pepper that starts out green, then ripens red, with a rich, sweet flavor - perfect to have at home for snacking as well as cooking.

If you love natural fragrances, Lavender Blue Spear is a wonderful choice. They are easy to grow, and will achieve a height of nearly a foot. You can use the fresh lavender to make infused oil, soap, hand scrubs or bath salts.

New color choices

Look for unexpected colors to help you make a statement with your containers, window boxes or indoor potted plant garden this year. Striking new colors include the 2019 Pantone color of the year, "Living Coral," seen in the Gerbera Revolution Salmon Shades potted flower, also known as the African Daisy. Gerbera plants are easy to care for and provide great indoor decor, which also makes them perfect choices for gift giving.

New Tattoo Vinca looks like a work of art, with gorgeous petals showing modern colors, swirled with soft strokes of black that make each petal look inked. The Tattoo Vinca is not only low-maintenance and heat-tolerant, but will attract pollinators like bees and butterflies to your garden. The Double Zahara Bright Orange Zinnia is another great choice for head-turning color. Its double flowers bloom in vivid orange, and they are suitable for landscaping and container planting. This flower is also a breeze to care for and pollinator-friendly.

Or you can choose a unique plant with warm

New gardeners who want choices beyond traditional flower options have great alternatives this year

tones, like the bright and colorful Ornamental Pepper, with such attractive multi-colored fruits that they are grown just for show. The Ornamental Pepper displays intense shades of yellows, oranges and reds in its fruit.

Other flowers catch the eye with dynamic texture, such as the lovely Double PinkTastic Calibrachoa, a fully double flower with a dark pink eye and lighter pink petals. Its burst of blooms will cover the plant and spill over their containers, window boxes or hanging baskets.

Easy options for beginning gardeners

New gardeners who want choices beyond traditional flower options have great alternatives this year. If you're looking for plants that are durable and colorful, the Echinacea Sombbrero Tres Amigos produces a deer-resistant perennial flower that is highly attractive to butterflies and songbirds. Tres Amigos shows three colors, opening as a peachy-orange color, then aging to rose and fading to burgundy.

A great way to fill large spaces quickly is the attention-getting Big Blue Salvia, with spires that continuously bloom from July into the fall, with little care needed. This flower grows from 24 to 36 inches tall, with beautiful deep blue blooms that are attractive to hummingbirds and bees.

Beginner and experienced gardeners alike can enjoy the newest gardening trends by branching out into plants and flowers to attract pollinators, taking advantage of vivid new color options and involving the whole family in the process. To explore a whole new world of gardening options, visit your favorite local garden center this spring. Share your own style for 2019 by making your garden a personal experience.
