Manson receives $500,000 from Chelan County Commissioners

Funds for acquisition of Leffler Field

By Diana Piñon Staff Writer

MANSON - Chelan County Commissioners approved a fund request for the acquisition of Leffler Field in Manson during their meeting on Feb. 4.

The half a million dollar contribution brings the Manson Chamber of Commerce closer to the $1.3 million needed to secure the property by the end of May. Brian Patterson is working closely with Rep. Mike Steele to obtain another $500,000 from the State Ways and Means committee.

On Feb. 11, the Leffler Field committee got together to formulate a marketing campaign. The campaign will focus on inviting people from all over to donate, not just locals. "There are a lot of people who come to the Lake Chelan Valley, who enjoy the valley and we want to give them the opportunity for them to give as well," said

Manson Chamber Director Jeff Conwell. He believes that a strong community effort could get them to the finish line.

Ideas on what to build in Leffler Field have been floating around. They have included a swimming pool, an amphitheater for concerts, an ice rink, or even a splash pad. Other possibilities include building a community and recreation center. "That might include a gym, a swimming pool, weight room." However, all these options are just ideas and nothing is yet concrete.

As Conwell states, the committee wants to hear from the community. A couple of community meetings will be scheduled in the near future to share the project with the community and to hear development ideas from them.

The field has been part of the Manson community for years. "The Lefflers have been incredibly generous allowing usage of that field ... it's just been used so heavily by the community, it has been a great resource," Conwell

Road work, bulb outs will transform Chelan streets

Construction begins in May 2019, March 2020

By Diana Piñon Staff Writer

CHELAN - WSDOT representatives Jeff Deal and Christopher Shell met with the Chelan City Council on Tuesday (Jan. 5) evening to go over design elements for the 2020 paving project and traffic control project, that includes the roads starting from Lakeside all the way up to Willmorth Drive past WalMart.

The first two months of construction, WSDOT will do work on the south end of Dan Gordon Bridge meaning that a traffic control setup needs to be in place. "We initially looked at potential detour traffic thru town and then another option we have is alternating one-way traffic," said Deal.

WSDOT leaned towards having a detour since this will alleviate the issue of getting people backed up in traffic. Deal mentioned that the detour they planned on would

The only concern about the detour were heavy trucks driving on the Woodin Avenue Bridge and whether or not it could support all the weight. To this, Greg Hess from KPFF Engineers said it would be fine since it is now one lane.

Councilwoman Erin Mc-Cardle liked the idea of having a detour, it is a lot better than alternating the bridge to one way traffic. She mentioned that currently there's a backup during school hours on the Dan Gordon Bridge.

Dobbs drew some attention to the Webster Ave. and Farnham St. intersection. He said that such intersection is a red flag and something needs to be done to it. Deal stated that

A road diet (a DOT term) will bring a lot of benefits to Chelan, including safety improvements. The road diet will run from Woodin Ave./Sanders Ave. north to the intersection of 97A and Hwy 150 (by Les Schwab). The street will have a center turning lane, biking lanes on both sides and a

Chelan High School's Educational Resource Fair attracts more than 200 participants

By Diana Piñon Staff writer

CHELAN - The Migrant Program at Lake Chelan School District hosted a very successful first Educational Resource Fair this past Wednesday (Feb. 6.), which attracted 280 people including parents and students.

Migrant Graduation specialist Dia Galvan and Migrant student advocate Linda Galvan are part of the Migrant team at LCSD. Their jobs are to support those students who have moved with their family or on their own to seek agricultural work in the last three years.

Throughout the school year, the team meets with migrant and bilingual parents during Parent Advisory Committee meetings. "They come together and talk to us about what kind of thing they would like to see happen, what kind of things they would like for us to bring to the table and present to them," said Robledo.

Based on what they hear from the parents, they plan three big events during the school year for parents to attend. Usually, the events are planned for the beginning, middle and the end of the year and they range from brining in guest speakers or university representatives.

Yet, this time around, the Resource Fair was something many of the parents asked for. Due to this, in November of 2018, both started reaching out to community colleges and universities across the state and inviting them to the fair.

The fair served as a way to educate the parents about the student's education after high school and getting them comfortable with such idea. "We think it's important for both the parents and the students to learn these things together because then the students see that the parent is interested so they feel more motivated to go on into higher education," explained Galvan.

To the event, the communities from Manson and Orondo as well as from Chelan were invited. Students from pre-school all the way to the 12 grade were encouraged to attend. Every student who attended was given a "passport" which served as a way for them to go around and ask questions at each of the booths, they couldn't move from that spot until they got a signature for asking a question.

Once the "passport" was completed with signatures of all representatives, the kids dropped it in the box corresponding to their grade level. The following day, Robledo and Galvan went around to each classroom and did a raffle in each of the grade

Woodin Avenue Bridge update:

A thin layer of cementitious (Ardex) could be the best soution to fix the Woodin Ave Bridge's sidewalk appearance. During the City Council Workshop on Feb. 5, Greg Hess from KPFF Engineers, suggested the councilmembers opt for Ardex as the material to overlay the sidewalks on the bridge. Some of the benefits of Ardex include looking like concrete, thermal compatibility, a life expectancy of 20 years and an installation time 10 work days. To add this thin layer of Ardex, it will cost an estimated $65,000 - $95,000, however, a final price is not yet set. This enhancement will not get done until the Woodin Avenue Bridge project is completed. It was mentioned that the money could come from the City's Street Fund near the future.

Customers and community invited to help share PUD's future

Commissioners prepare to launch strategic planning conversations

SUBMITTED BY KIMBERLEE CRAIG, CHELAN COUNTY PUD

WENATCHEE - Chelan County PUD commissioners Monday reviewed key topics that customer-owners and the community will be asked to weigh in on during strategic planning for 2020-2024.

Commissioners and PUD staff are launching the next round of strategic planning this winter and reaching out to customer-owners, community leaders and other interested parties through public meetings, surveys and various online resources.

Input from customers to develop the plan is vital, said board President Garry Arseneault following the

"Our customers are the heart of public power, and we need their thoughts and ideas to make sure we continue to provide the best quality of life for the most people in Chelan County for the longest time," Arseneault said. "Strategic planning is dynamic and requires vigorous and healthy discussions."

Senior managers and commissioners are seeking feedback to set direction on the following topics:

They invited the community to join the conversation on ourpublicpower.org and at public meetings, by answering surveys and responding to mailed information.

"As a community-owned utility, we value our customers' input to guide us," said General Manager Steve Wright. "Keeping our customers informed and engaged is among our top priorities. We really do want to hear from them.'

In other business, commissioners:

· Heard that energy efficiency programs exceeded conservation goals by nearly 10 percent last year. They are expected to return an estimated value over the life of the measures of nearly $6 million. One program, helping cities install energysaving LED streetlights, is about 70 complete with work finishing in Cashmere and Wenatchee, said Andrew Grassell, energy development and conservation manager. Even with declining market prices net wholesale revenue and other energyrelated revenue was $134.2 million in 2018, $17.8 million above budget. "Specified source" sales for the PUD's carbon-free hydropower was $4.9 million of the total, $1.2 million more than budget. Janet Jaspers, energy planning and trading manager,

OBITUARIES

Jack Randall Payne

June 24, 1937 - January 28, 2019

Jack Payne, beloved husband, father and grandfather, passed away peacefully on Monday, January 28, 2019, after suffering a stroke.

Jack was born in Bellingham to Randall and Velma Payne, their firstborn of two sons. He attended Campus School at WWU and graduated from Bellingham High School in 1955 where he played baseball and basketball and found that being a lefty was a plus. His family had a place on Lake Whatcom and as a young boy and teenager Jack loved to waterski and fish with friends, participate in camping programs at The Firs and explore the outdoors bird hunting, fly fishing, hiking and camping. Jack was also a keen Boy Scout who learned wilderness survival and came just shy of becoming an Eagle Scout.

After high school Jack attended the University of Washington, joined the Delta Tau Delta Fraternity, and played basketball for the Huskies. He was in the Army ROTC throughout university and graduated with a degree in Business Administration in 1959. After university he served active duty as an Officer in the Transportation Corps at Fort Eustis, Virginia where he learned how to run a locomotive. He continued his military service as a Reservist Officer in the 448 Civil Affairs Unit in Bellingham earning the rank of Captain. Upon completing his active duty service, Jack moved back to Bellingham and joined his father as a life insurance agent for Northwestern Mutual Life of Milwaukee where he worked until he retired.

Jack met his wife, Marlene, at The Firs where they were both on summer staff in 1959. They were married in 1961 and made their home in Bellingham on Lake Whatcom where they raised their three children.

As a young man Jack remained active as an athlete and outdoorsman. He played competitive volleyball and church league basketball, went on alpine hikes with Marlene and other couples, and climbed Mt. Baker by moonlight. He was such an avid outdoorsman that he was one of the first 500 members of REI. He spent every family holiday outdoors teaching his children to hunt, fly fish, and alpine hike.

Jack was a committed long-term volunteer in the community. He was a Rotarian for over 50 years and served on the St. Luke's Hospital Foundation Board and the Downtown Development Committee. He was also a member of Birchwood Presbyterian Church and served on the Firs Council.

As Jack neared retirement, fly fishing became his main passion. He never turned down an invitation to go fishing! He made beautiful custom fly rods for friends and family, tied his own flies, and taught many people, including all of his seven grandchildren, how to fly fish. Through fishing he connected with people, created lasting friendships, enjoyed the beauty of nature, and caught lots of fish - most of which he released again after noting their size and appreciating their beauty.

Two years ago, Jack and Marlene moved to Lake Chelan. They had built a summer home on Hanna and Walter Blessin's (Marlene's parents) orchard property in Mill Bay.

Jack was a quiet and gentle man: committed, loyal, helpful and kind. He loved hosting family and friends, always getting up early to make a big breakfast. He was a wonderful man and will be greatly missed. He is predeceased by his parents Randall and Velma and grandson Colin. Jack will forever be cherished and remembered by his wife Marlene, brother David (Diane), children Scott (Claudia), Laura (Walt), and Randall, and by his grandchildren Romy, Jonathan and Aaron, Chad, Andrew and Charlie.

A celebration of life was held in Bellingham on Saturday. Later the family and fishing friends will gather for a weekend celebration of Jack's life at Lake Chopoka, Jack's favorite fly fishing lake.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

How our elected officials represent our community

To the Chelan City Council and Mayor

How do you, our elected officials, represent our local community and beautiful Lake Chelan?

The following observations of the City of Chelan's diligence in supporting Big Development and Tourism while ignoring the well being of citizens:

large Allowing development on orchard land known to be contaminated with lead and arsenic (ignoring Department of Ecology's recommendation of soil testing), thus polluting our Lake and exposing young children to more toxins than occurred in Flint Michigan.

2. When hundreds of peopleasked (via signed petitions) that our City opt out of Smart Meter installation, you disregarded requests to protect our health, security, safety and environment.

3. Failure to be proactive with Signage and required Boat Washes to protect our lake from the threat of invasive species, a common requirement in other areas. Boat safety is also a concern.

4. Purchasing airport land at high-price-for-low-use potential begs the question: Is this the best use of city's funds when the community has been asking for public access to our lake?

5. Even though the Friends of the Lake, Chelan Basin Conservancy and concerned citizens have repeatedly pleaded to the Council that the Three Fingers be preserved for the public, a recent announcement indicates negotiations to designate that property to have residents with possible accommodating boat slips.

If so, will the existing public access be maintained for actual use of the public?

So, again, how you representing

Community and Lake?

It feels to us that the local community is being overlooked.

There are currently Referendum Citizens movements (Yellow Vests) springing up all around the world.

This is happening because people feel it is time they and our environment get authentic representation, including Chelan.

Alzheimer's Act has been signed into law

The Building Our Largest Dementia (BOLD) Infrastructure for Alzheimer's Act has just been signed into law, and I want to thank Congressman Dan Newhouse for having been a co-sponsor of this meaningful legislation.

The BOLD Act will allow effective Alzheimer's public health interventions to be implemented across the country.

This is important to me because I lost my father to Alzheimer's disease. Our family has worked tirelessly since that time to do our part so that this disease can be eradicated. My daughter and I founded the Omak Miss Forget Me Not pageant for young girls in 2018 to raise money for the Alzheimer's Association. This year's pageant will be held in Riverside on April 27, 2019.

Every 65 seconds someone develops Alzheimer's disease which is why Congress must remain committed to action on the devastating disease.

By applying a public health approach to reduce risk, detect early symptoms, and advance care, Congressman Dan Newhouse is helping to change the trajectory of this terrible disease.

Sincerely, Valerie Halvorson

Why our children are mostly clueless

Our children are clueless in regards to the harsh realities of life in the greatest country that ever existed. Why?

I have a simple and maybe overly naive answer: Too much of the wrong kind of love. While we all love our kids, we don't always know how to show them that hard knocks are the only way to get up off the ground again with a lesson learned.

We are overly protective and go to great lengths to make absolutely sure our "babies" never feel any pain of any sort as if that actual feeling will immediately kill of your own Think grandparents and their grandparents. Hard scrabble lives were the order of the day, which meant farming, hunting, fishing, bartering, begging and sometimes whatever else was necessary --- even theft and other felonious actions.

That's right. Momma and her great mommas before her had to make do with onion soup or dandelion salad or boiled squirrel if that was the necessity of allowing lives to go on.

Now we coddle, coddle, coddle our kin to such a state of unreality that they don't understand the coddling must end some day. When that day comes we have suicides, welfare, food stamps, prison time, shacking up with Leroy because he has a few bucks or even, God forbid, they sink so low as to join the military.

Anyone who knows me will realize I am joking about the latter, as I think all youngsters ought to join the military for a variety of reasons. I am not a war hawk or someone who wants constantly larger and larger Defense Department budgets, but it is the best way to get rid of that constant codling syndrome and cause the kid to mature.

Let's now revisit the beginning of this syndrome. After World War II, those who survived and thrived wanted never to see those horrors or suffer those deprivations ever again and they certainly never wanted their kids or grandkids to even come close that kind of trauma.

Korea happened and patriotic folks responded, but when Vietnam came on the scene it caused a backlash as we all got sick of this democratic imperative to rule the world simply because we are always right.

A bunch of kids went to Canada and a much greater bunch served in the war. Americans never learned a darn thing because Iraq and Afghanistan kept the war machine well oiled and chugging along with a variety of justifications.

Once again all the loving parents and grandparents didn't want any angst causing their peeps to die from selfinflicted wounds and thus the coddling generation was born and they continue to live in your basement or their friend's basement or Aunt Sally's ... whatever.

I think the kids are afraid of failure, as if that was the actual end of the world. The kids are also shellshocked that their college degrees are mostly worthless unless and until they are given a break by God or one of his angels.

They just obligated themselves to $100k+ of debt for a piece of paper that states they might be fairly competent in a certain area of life, but maybe not, please give me a try. Clue the "puppy eyes" and offer to work nearly for free just to get your foot in the door.

Sometimes God intercedes out of pity for the helpless, but on many occasions these hapless puppies get run over by cars or thrown into the abyss of a boiling pot operated by supervisor number one or foreman number two or principal number three or sergeants and unbearable roommates.

I only have one thing left to say about this bleak picture. Let it stay dark and keep your hands off the turmoil and chaos of what everyone needs to mature and that's a bit of hard knocks.

After not too long, a new day will dawn and new flowers will spread their petals and life will go on. Chirp, chirp I hear the birds of spring.

That's it. Leave some of the situations exactly as they are. Human kind is far more durable then one may think. Losing car keys or being behind on rent or having children "accidentally" are not comparable in magnitude of importance, but all do happen to even the most disciplined.

Sometimes those we love deserve our love delivered in a formula part bitter, part sweet. If little Johnny doesn't get his butt back to work within a few days or weeks after moving onto your couch then personally drive him to the Marine Corps Recruiting office in East Wenatchee.

Guaranteed he will never be the same after trying a bit of tough love.

In the end he will thank you ... or maybe curse you, but it is all up to him.

What has happened to the Democrat Party?

President Trump's State of the Union Speech was immensely popular with the viewers of some of the most liberal media in the country. According to a CBS poll 76 percent of those watching approved of the speech, including 30 percent of those who call themselves Democrats. CNN similarly reported 76 percent of watchers approved of the speech.

Once again media coverage the American people and the not believe his speech would was a reminder of the things media covering the President. CNN dismissed the poll saying the audience was largely partisan Trump supporters shows the disconnect between and 53 percent of viewers did increase bipartisanship in the future. However in making their claim of an audience of largely Trump supporters, CNN did not define that claim.

CBS reported that the viewers were 43 percent Republicans, 24 percent Democrats and 30 percent More Independents. importantly CBS reported that 30 percent of the Democrats that viewed the speech rated is that make America great. A strong economy, honoring success and highlighting the sacrifice of Americans who have made personal sacrifices to make the world a better

Finding themselves in the minority the Democrats refuse to celebrate the success of this President and have become even more radical in their opposition.

Despite the historic evidence of the failures of socialism leading Democrats continue to call for socialized medicine and increasing taxes on the rich.

Leading the charge today is Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez. AOC is a 28 year old Democrat activist from New York. She is the youngest person ever elected to Congress. Her latest program is the "Green New Deal." It calls for economic security for everyone including those who are either unwilling or unable to work. AOC claims that unless her program is implemented the planet will die in 12 years because of our failure to address climate change. She calls for elimination of all airplane travel and replacement of every building in America in the next ten years. We could dismiss this as naïve youthful meanderings but many of our youth today are calling for a guaranteed national income and massive government programs to overcome the evils of capitalism.

another travesty, Democrats across the country are moving to expand abortion rights to even include infanticide. Concerned that Republican appointments to the Supreme Court might result in the reversal of Roe v. Wade, Democrats are clearly pushing to build support from women voters by expanding their support of abortion rights. But few are questioning when our concerns for the health of a mother conflict with our concerns for protecting human

We should all be concerned about the extremes the Democrats are willing to go to in order to regain their political influence.

While some conservatives are rejoicing at the seeming implosion of the Democrat party, I am not. I am concerned about their apparent need to grab onto fringe political concepts in the hope that they can cobble together a majority to regain their lost political influence.

We need a viable opposition party. I am not for a one party system whether that be a Republican one or a Democrat one. Part of our system of checks and balances calls for free and open debate on big political issues.

When you try to be all things to all people you often become of no real value to anyone. Democrats for decades have proclaimed they are the party of the big tent. Everybody is welcome. While they describe Republicans as racist, sexist,

The Democrat party has now become the party where anything goes. There are no limits to what is considered acceptable policy or behavior.

While they engage in the politics of personal destruction many of their own are now coming under fire for the same transgressions that they used to try and derail Brett Kavanaugh's nomination.

Today's Democrat Party has no soul. No moral compass with which to make important decisions.

We need a party that stands for something not just a party that stands against the things that have made America great.

President Trump has called on Americans to remember what has made us great. He is calling on all of us to come together and remember that while we are not perfect we are still the envy of the world.

It is time for the Democrats to remember that they lost the election because they put up a flawed candidate. If they want to return to being a substantial player in the political arena they must abandon their flawed agenda of demonizing their opponents and offer real substantive debate on the issues of the day.
