By DIANA PIÑON STAFF WRITER

CHELAN – Mary Signorelli’s term as Chair of the Lake Chelan Community Hospital and Clinic Board concluded last Jan. 22, at their monthly meeting.

Signorelli had a few words to say to those present, before moving on to board elections. “I want to thank all the board members for putting up with me for the last three years and for allowing me to serve. I would also like to thank our care givers and care givers throughout the years, all the departments and everyone for working so hard ... I am not leaving, but I am just stepping down, I want to thank you for the time I have served, your support and trust has meant a lot. I feel like I have learned an awful lot and I am grateful for the opportunities and the challenges,” she stated.

Nominated for Chair of the board by Signorelli was Phyllis Gleasman. Gleasman has worked side by side with

End of the year presentations given at Chelan City Council meeting

By DIANA PIÑON STAFF WRITER

CHELAN – An array of presentations were given to the Chelan City Council on Jan. 22. Councilmembers were able to learn more about Lake Chelan’s water quality samples, PUD’s strategic plan as well as the 2019 budget for Thrive Chelan Valley.

Before the presentations began, during the public comment portion of the meeting, Stan Morse spoke in front of the council.

“Two weeks ago I filed an F-1 declaration with the Public Disclosure Commission, announcing my intent to run for mayor of the City of Chelan ... I may be a good talker. But I promise to be an even better listener,” he said.

His own concerns include fire and fuel load, affordable housing, water rights and soil pollution. “I respect the time and energy each of you commit toward leading this city into what we all hope will be a bright future,” Morse stated.

Councilmembers heard updates on PUD from General Manager Steve Wright. He went over the current strategic plan and the upcoming items PUD will tackle this year.

PUD’s strategic plan was adopted in 2015, the plan focused on three main goals which included; reducing PUD’s debt, investing in assets and people plus initiating a Public Power Benefit program.

Last year, PUD reached its debt target by reducing it by almost half since 2010, because of this Wright stated that debt reduction will no longer be one of strategic objectives in the years ahead.

In terms of the asset program things didn’t look so good, “PUD uncovered a substantial need for investment in refurbishment and maintenance of its existing hydropower, transition and distribution system and buildings.” Wright explained that there’s more work to be done in respect to their assets.

With the initiation of the Public Power Benefit program, PUD was able to expand Fiber broadband access. At the moment, 74 percent of homes have access to Fiber, however PUD is struggling to get to the last 15 percent.

According to Wright, Chelan is the fastest growing area in our County. Due to this, he informed the council on the possibility of needing a new substation on the South Shore.

Currently land has been acquired for the North Shore substation and in the next 12 months construction will be started with one to two years as turnaround of the project.

Wright reported that PUD is following all guidelines of the environmental conservation plan, while also working to-

DUI arrests doubled in Chelan according to 2018 data

By DIANA PIÑON STAFF WRITER

CHELAN – According to Chief of Special Operations Jason Reinfeld in 2018, 92 people were arrested for DUIs in the city of Chelan. That is double the cases from 2017.

Reinfeld presented the Chelan County Sheriff’s Office statistics, differences and similarities between 2017 and 2018 to the Chelan City Council during the Jan. 22 meeting.

He first reported on the self-initiated infractions from the officers patrolling the streets. Speeding infractions in Chelan was one of the most significant increases from 2017 to last year.

The commissioners were assigned to be part of the different hospital committees. It was decided to appoint Signorelli to the Facilities and Community committees, plus credentialing, Gleasman to Facilities, Affiliation/Partnership committees and med staff meetings, Miller will be part of the Finance committee and the Retirement Plan. In the Affiliation/Partnership and Quality committees will be Murphy and LaPorte will be in the Finance and Community committees and will also review warrants.

LaPorte expressed her concerns with the Facilities committee not reporting information in a timely manner back to the board.

It was clarified that the Facilities committee has to report to the board in a quarterly basis, the board will hear from them in February.

LaPorte also raised the question about whether or not someone has met with the architect for the new hospital. CEO Steve Patonai responded, “we meet with the architect last week,” they are working on putting something together to present to the board next month. “We are trying to get the footprint and the square footage that we like,” Patonai added. However, at the moment there is not concrete information to share.

Dr. Jennifer Snyder, took time off from her duties to go over the medical staff report with the board. Snyder highlighted on the success of the UW Residency program. On March 15, Match Day will take place, “we narrowed it down to 40 or 50 that we interviewed and they rank us and we rank them and see where we match.”

If matched, students will start their residency in 2020 in Chelan. “We are excited for the new hospital, for the new residency,” Snyder said.

Next month’s meeting for the LCCHC Board is scheduled for Feb. 26 starting at 1:30 p.m. in the LCCHC Board Room. To view the meeting’s agenda visit <https://lakechelancommunityhospital.com/about-us/board-of-commissioners/>.

In February of 2018, PUD conducted a survey based on customer satisfaction 97 percent of those customers were “very satisfied” with the service.

The PUD Board of Commissioners have been looking at the mission, vision and values of PUD and had minor updates based on the strategic plan.

During the next four years, PUD will consider the following issues as they move into the next strategic plan; energy, wholesale power marketing, Rock Island relicensing, infrastructure and aesthetics and electric rates. The key issue PUD will focus on is the continuation of the Public Power Benefits program.

In the upcoming months, PUD will meet with different community members to explore key questions regarding the issues, this will lead into a county wide discussion which will conclude Phase 1 of the strategic plan.

That evening, Phil Long and Mike Kaputa presented the 2018 water quality sampling contribution report.

The long term monitoring program helps research water clarity, nutrient levels and temperature of Lake Chelan. With a budget of $50,000 in 2018, water sampling was possible. The contribution from the City of Chelan of $20,000 helped cover staff time, water quality analysis and consultant support.

Some of the monitoring methods utilized were the Secchi Disc, water sample collection, multiparameter probe for depth profiles and Fiber optic cable measurement of temperatures.

Such data is collected every month in three main point of the lake, yet Long explain they focus their attention on the deepest part of the lake.

Based on the data collect in 2017 and 2018, during the Spring, Summer and Fall there was an increase in water quality in the lake.

Long also addressed the concern with total phosphorus levels found last year, which were above the 5.0 grams per liter

Nothing compares to the increase of DUIs in the city, “This is something that is real to our hiring ... our newer Deputies are out there fighting these DUIs,” said Reinfeld. However, DUIs have increased across the region, not only in Chelan. In Chelan County alone DUIs there were 289 last year.

Deputies response calls was another of the categories Reinfeld reported on. Arrests from domestic violence calls decreased by half. “On the other side of it we had almost three times as many regular assaults in fourth degree ... maybe it happened in a bar, or on the street ... this requires a report and a victim who wants to press charges against the suspect,” said Reinfeld. Only 23 shoplifting arrests were made in 2018, which is a decrease from the previous year. Another concern was amount of trespasses, mainly in downtown corridor.

Mayor Mike Cooney asked Reinfeld to give the council updates on the Sherriff’s Office relation with Immigration and ICE. “We partner with Homeland Security and ICE in Wenatchee for investigations, a lot of them on the drug side ... we do not go out and seek immigration violations at all,” clarified Reinfeld.

Marine Patrol Deputy Ryan Moody, went over the Marine

Program. He also reported back on some general statistics.

The Marine Program is run by Moody and another a part-time Deputy during the summer. Sargent Chris Foreman oversees the program. There are five active volunteers that help on day to day stuff. Twenty other Deputies are also Marine Patrol certified.

The unit is responsible for patrolling Lake Chelan, 70 miles of the Columbia River, is combined from water inspections and boat rentals. “We did nine separate visits of rental boat companies last year for a total of hours of 40 hours,” said Moody.

The Unit assisted 32 boats for non-emergencies, and there was three Marine search and rescue protocols with 17 people assisted.

In 2018, there were only six reported boating accident. “To be reported there either has to be an injury that requires hospitalization or over $2,000 in damage.”

However, Moody doesn’t think that number represents what happens on the lake. He said that many of the boat rental companies do not report accidents.

Moody informed the council that he will be working on repositioning the eight water buoys so they are more visible for people to see. Along with that he will be marking each buoy in the GPS system.

The Marine Patrol officers also presented 12 times to the schools, during one of those days they focused on teaching the kids boat safety protocols.

Sculptors worked a few hours during the day to bring the Ice Tower to life.

The public was able to write down their wishes on a piece of paper and drop it inside the Ice Tower which was lit up on Saturday evening.

Despite the lack of snow, competitors were able to race to the end of the competition.

Mike Steele (in red jacket), along with his father Allen, took the public on a spin through downtown Manson as they enjoyed the apple bin train ride.

Lady Goats win two against Lady Kodiaks on the road

SUBMITTED BY ROB HUDDLESTON
CHELAN GIRLS BASKETBALL COACH

LEAVENWORTH - Chelan Lady Goats traveled to Leavenworth to battle the Kodiaks on the hardwood Wednesday night (Jan. 23). Cascade has been playing great lately as they won their first league game last week against Okanogan. They also played Warden on the 22nd and scored 52 points, in a loss, against the 5th ranked team in the state. The first quarter Chelan struggled on defensive close-outs and let the Kodiaks shoot uncontested shots from outside. After the first quarter Chelan was leading 17-14. The second quarter the Lady Goats tightened up their defensive pressure and Lexie Gleasman caught fire on the offensive end as she outscored Cascade by herself 15-10. Chelan ended the second quarter outscoring the Kodiaks 28-10. The Lady Goats went into halftime with a 45-24 lead. After halftime Chelan continued with pressure defense and outscored Cascade 23-9 in the second half. Chelan won the game 68-33. Lexie Gleasman led all scorers with a season high 31 points. Freshman Teegan Silva provided a needed spark in the first quarter to get things rolling and she finished with 11 points. Chelan travels back to Cascade on Friday to play the Kodiaks again.

On Friday night (Jan. 25),

Chelan Lady Goats traveled to Leavenworth again to finish the regular season series with them. After visiting Cascade Wednesday night, the girls appeared to be accustomed to that gym. Chelan started the game strong with great defensive pressure. Matea Ivory led the offensive charge with one of the best quarters in recent memory with Chelan Girls basketball. Ivory found herself open at the top of the key and buried 6 treys in the first quarter before Cascade even new what happened. When Ivory did miss, which wasn't often, Lexie Gleasman was able to clean up the boards and finish under the basket. Chelan ended the quarter with a 28-7 lead. Chelan continued to pressure Cascade and started to get into foul trouble. For much of the second quarter Chelan was able to get great playing time from its bench and went into halftime leading 40-17. The second half Chelan outscored Cascade 32-24 and headed to the bus with a 72-41 win. Gleasman led all scorers with 22 points while Ivory added 20. Chelan finishes the regular season next week with a non-league road game at Tonasket on Thursday 31st. Chelan will then host Omak for Senior night on February 1st. Please come out and support our lone Senior, Lexie Gleasman. Chelan will need a big crowd for Omak as a win will secure 2nd place in the CTL.

LEAVENWORTH - The Chelan Goats defeated the Cascade Kodiaks 69-42 Wednesday night (Jan. 23) at Cascade High School. Chelan jumped out early using their defense to create transition baskets. The Goats came out strong after halftime and never looked back.

The Goats were led by Quinn Stamp's 12 points. Connor Wilson had 11pts, Bert Mendivil also chipped in 10.

"I thought our guys did a good job of creating turnovers and kicking it ahead. We did a better job of rebounding and not giving up offensive boards," said Coach Pearl.

The Chelan Goats defeated the Cascade Kodiaks 75-60 Friday night (Jan. 25) at Cascade High School.

This was the Goats second trip down to face the Kodiaks in three days. Chelan was able to hold off Cascade's runs to eventually secure the victory.

The Goats were paced by a big game from Quinn Stamps who poured in 27 points. Cade Christopherson has 16 and Connor Wilson added 12.

Coach Pearl said, "We had success when we were aggressive attacking the rim, but we didn't commit to do that as often as we should have. It's hard to play a team twice in three days, but I thought our intensity was lacking this evening. We're happy to leave with a win, but we know we're capable of playing better."

The Goats will travel to Tonasket on Thursday, Jan. 31 to take on the Tigers.

MANSON SCHOOL DISTRICT

MANSON - On Wednesday Jan. 9, Manson High School hosted their annual Knowledge Bowl (KB) Tournament. “Typically, we have the northern region teams (e.g. Liberty Bell, Chelan, Okanogan, etc.) coming down to participate in the competition, but this year we had a huge turn out from the south too,” said Manson coach Phil Fournier. With the southern tournament being cancelled last minute at Wahluke High School, there was a convergence of the southern and northern teams onto the Manson campus, a veritable North Central Washington (NCW) Knowledge Bowl Tournament. There were 11 schools and 29 teams, ranging from 4A to 2B battling it out.

With the strong reputation of the intellectual acumen and friendly competitiveness of the NCW region and teams, the battles were intense and well fought. Liberty Bell, a perennial favorite at State, took 1st place honors while Moses Lake, another juggernaut in State competition, took 2nd place. Manson took 13th place overall in this highly competitive field.

Manson High School captain Ty Charlton enjoyed the competition and organization of the event. “It was bigger than previous years. It ran smoothly and everyone had a good time.” In between rounds, the various teams congregated to the student hub to check their results and fill up on some snacks and small conversation while a nice warm fire crackled in the background.

The Manson High School Knowledge Bowl team would like to thank the school district and community for the great success of this tournament: the use of teachers’ classrooms, the technological assistance and equipment, the dedication of our incredible readers and timers, and the gracious donations from Manson Red Apple and Manson Growers. Coach Fournier added, “It was wonderful having Knowledge Bowl coaches from the various schools share with me about how great the tournament was and also about the amazing commitment of all community and staff members involved in this huge endeavor. It was a blast.”
