That I have experience is the White Elephant gift exchange one reason I enjoy this is because it is fun to get a present. Another reason is because family is there is I can spend time and have fun with them. The last leason is because it is exciting to be surprised. White elephant exchanges are the best! by yeselin-pmental-lopez

My Favorite Festivity has to be opening presents at midnight.

One reason I like opening presents is because I like supries.

An other reason is that my parents have time to sleech after opening presents.

The third reson I like opening presents at midnight is we don't have to rock when we open presents on the 25th of December. We still celebrate chirismas on the 25th but after my dads Rinthday which is the 24th of December.

These are my favorite holiday festivities.
